VICTORY FOR BIRMINGHAM.

Unofficial Figures Give Her Lead in Coal Economy Test.

Unofficial figures of the performance of the scout cruisers Birmingham, Salem and Chester in their second competitive test of coal economy, indicate a victory for the engines of the Birmingham, which are of the reciprocating type. The test was a run of 50 hours at 15 knots speed. According to the unofficial figures given out, the Birmingham in 24 hours consumed 70.2 tons of coal, 23.3 tons of water.

The record of the Chester which has turbines of English make, was 83.8 tons of coal, 23.3 tons of water each 24 hours; while the Salem which has turbine engines of American pattern used 105.6 tons of coal, and 12.68 tons of water each 24 hours.

The next trial is to be a run of 2000 miles at 20 knot speed.

PRESENTED WELL FILLED PURSE

Mrs. Maria Guston Tendered a Surprise Party.

A large number of the friends of Mrs. Maria Guston gathered at her home 53 Edison street Wednesday evening and surprised her by presenting her with a purse of money. Miss Jeanette McMillan made the presentation speech and the recipient responded befittingly, although taken completely by surprise.

After the presentation the company started in to have a good time. Games of all kinds were played, intermingled with vocal and instrumental music, Gilbert Booth presided at the piano and William Pratt played several violin solos. During the evening refreshments were served. Miss Mary McGowan and Miss Jeanette McMillan composed the committee in charge of the party.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE

Choral Society Closes Up Work Of Season.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD AT COLONIAL HALL.

Effort To Put Society On Good Financial Basis Meets With Success.

During the season just passed, an effort has been made to establish this society on a firm financial basis, as a great musical and educational movement for the study, principally, of complete works by the best composers and to present these to the public in the best possible manner and at prices which shall debar no music lover from hearing them. This definite work, which will be of great value to local singers, should be backed year after year by the prominent men and women of our city as guarantors and an occasional call for help from them in unfortunate years should not cause any to withdraw who understand the aim and object of the work.

That this will prove effectual in the future is well assured, for although many of the guarantors for this year were among the busiest of professional and business men to whom time is money, many of them in authorizing the use of their names for the season 1909-10 have taken time to write words of appreciation of the year's work and of congratulations upon the artistic as well as financial success of the society.

The annual business meeting held at Colonial hall Wednesday evening closed the society's work for this season. There was a large attendance and all were interested in the officers' reports, which gave the members a better understanding of the amount of work done and of the personal interest which has been taken in that work by everyone of the executive board.

President Pollard read a lengthy paper referring to the year's work and the outlook for next season which was all too short for his listeners, brightened as it was by many personal touches which called forth laughter and applause. In it he returned hearty thanks to all the executive board members who had assisted him in his year's work and also to every member of the society and to those outside who had contributed to the success of the concert. A motion by one of the members to return thanks to President Pollard, met the ready response and applause it deserved.

Treasurer Hunt announced all bills for the past season paid without help from the guarantors and a small sum in the treasury to begin next year's work.

The election of officers resulted in a unanimous reelection of the former board, Thomas B. Pollard, president; Dr. George H. Ryder, vice-president; John F. Hunt, treasurer; Mrs. Irene C. Tirrell secretary, and three directors, Mrs. Edith Cary Page, Dr. D. B. Reardon and Albert L. Hayden.

A social hour followed the business meeting when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Wonson of Gloucester were special guests thus giving every member a chance to exchange greetings with their conductor who, although he came to the society an entire stranger to its members, has won for himself a warm place in the hearts of all.

Dainty refreshments were served by a committee of ladies under the direction of Mrs. George H. Ryder, Mrs Edith Cary Page and Mrs. Henry Tirrell.

HALL CROWDED TO DOORS.

Pine Tree Club Dance Draws Large Attendance.

The annual dancing party of the Pine Tree State association Wednesday evening drew an attendance of nearly 150 couples and was a very enjoyable affair. Faxon hall was the scene of the festivities and the hall was rather small for so large a party. The Bukley orchestra furnished the musical accompaniment and dancing was in order from 8 to 12 o'clock.

PEACE ASSURED IN GRANITE INDUSTRY

New Working Agreement Signed With G. C. N. A. at Boston

Peace is assured for two more years at least in the granite cutting industry in Boston.

Yesterday the granite manufacturers' association and all the employers who are not members of the association signed a new working agreement with the Boston branch of the granite cutters' international association, the agreement to go into effect today and to continue for two years, and for a longer period if no desire to change is expressed by either side at the end of two years.

An increase of 11 cents an hour in the minimum wage for the general line of work is the main wage change the new minimum being established at $3.36 a day. There are a number of changes in the rules, etc., the desires of the union in that respect being granted.

The main features of the new agreement and regulations for the government of the trade are as follows:

"The minimum wage for granite cutters shall be $3.36 a day, which is 42 cents an hour for granite cutters working under the jurisdiction of the Boston branch. Outdoor work to be paid for at the rate of 43 3-8 cents per hour where the members lose no time. Where men are compelled to work outdoors for a period not exceeding an hour each day, or when sent jobbing on contract work, they shall be paid at the same rate as when employed in the shed. They shall be paid 50 cents an hour where men lose time and by all who are not regular employers of granite cutters.

"Eight hours shall constitute a day's work, with the Saturday half holiday during June, July and August.

"Tool sharpeners are to be paid the same wages as cutters, and when not actually engaged in sharpening tools are to do such work pertaining to the business as their employers may wish.

"A gang will consist of 12 cutters and one driller, or 13 cutters. Where no power stone is provided 14 men will constitute a gang. One surface machine and 10 men will constitute a gang. Each apprentice is to count as a cutter. Jobbing, making or drawing tools to be done when the full quota of cutters are not working.

"All work done outside of the regular working hours shall be counted as overtime and paid for once and a half. The clause in this agreement regarding overtime does not mean that overtime shall be worked at any time but that when circumstance arise where overtime work is justifiable the extra rate is to be paid. Double time is to be paid for Sunday and all holiday work, the following holidays to be observed; Washington's birthday, April 19, Memorial day, June 17, July 4, Labor day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

"Wages shall be paid weekly before the close of the regular working hours. All workmen discharged shall be paid at once and in cash.

"An apprentice shall serve three years with one employer, provided he gets fairly steady employment. No improvers allowed. Two apprentices to one gang of men.

"All men who by reason of old age or other disability are not able to earn the minimum rate of wages, may work for a lower rate of wages, provided they first receive the written consent of the joint grievance committee of the Boston branch of the granite cutters' international association and the granite manufacturers' association, and nothing in this agreement shall be so construed as to prevent these men from earning a living.

"Refusal to work with nonunion men or suspension of work for nonpayment of wages shall not be considered a violation of this agreement.

"Any dispute arising between employers and employes shall be submitted to a committee representing employers and employes, said committee to be known as the joint grievance committee; pending such settlement there shall be no strike, lockout or suspension of work.

"Suitable sheds shall be provided for cutters for shelter from sun, rain or snow.

"All workmen of granite cutting machines to be members of the granite cutters' international association.

"The above agreement to take effect April 1, 1909, and to continue to April 1, 1911. After that date should either party desire a change, three months' notice shall be given prior to April 1 of any year. Should no such notice be given, this agreement shall continue from year to year."

COURT DISCHARGES YOUNG WICKSTROM

Atlantic Youth Arrested For Robbery Given Freedom.

THREE COMPANIONS HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Men Were Arrested On Complaint of Chinese Laundryman.

A hearing was held before Judge Avery this morning in the cases of George Wickstrom, P. J. Duggan, John J. D. Gillon and Arthur C. Setterland for robbing George Yee a chinese laundry man at Norfolk Downs.

According to the chinaman story the men pitched into him and beat him and robbed him of $15 in money. The story told by the defendants was practically the same.

They claimed they stood in front of the chinaman's laundry kicking their heels against the building when the Chinaman started to come out. Some of them caught hold of the door and held it. Then the Chinaman ran out of the back door and rushed at them. At this time Wickstrom and a sailor friend crossed to the opposite side of the street. The others observing that the Chinaman had a piece of gas pipe in his hand grabbed him and a tussle ensued.

They admitted taking the piece of pipe away and of punching the Chinaman but denied emphatically that they had taken any of his money.

The Chinaman declared that he could have lost his money in no other way.

On the evidence the court discharged Wickstrom but held the others in $200 bonds for the grand jury.

CHURCH RECEPTION LARGELY ATTENDED

Members of Park and Downs Parish Pass Pleasant Evening

A reception was held at the Park and Downs Congregational church on Wednesday evening which was largely attended by members and friends of the parish.

In the receiving line were: Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Megathlin, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dingwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Banks, Mrs. L. A. Shay, representing the missionary society and Miss Geraldine Scott, president of the Christian Endeavor.

The church was attractively decorated with ferns and other potted plants. Punch and fancy crackers were served by Miss Ruth Page and Miss Marion Smith.

In the course of the evening Rev. H. G. Megathlin spoke of the offer made a year ago by the Congregational Church Union.

The offer was that if the church raised any amount up to $1,000 within a year toward the erection of a new church the Union would put forward a like sum.

This offer expires tonight, Mr. Megathlin said, and the church has raised the sum of $1,011 and there is about fifty or seventy-five dollars outstanding which will make the total amount raised about eleven hundred dollars. The result was received with great applause.

Throughout the evening instrumental selections were rendered by the Merrymount orchestra consisting of. Messrs. Myron R. Stebbins, Lucien H. Thayer, Ernest V. Pletsch and Warren Humphrey.

Miss Nettie Gram and Miss Freda Klingenhagen rendered several pleasing piano duets which received well-merited applause.

The Excellsus Class quartet composed of Messrs. Eugene Smith, Carl Mansfield, Fred Sass and Guy Sass sang several of the Chapman gospel hymns, accompanied by William C. Northrop.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of: Mrs. T. C. Gram, Mrs. Seth Crocker and Mrs. Reginald F. Shaw.

The ushers were: Miss Lillian Collier, Miss Pearl Patten, Miss Hazel Jones, Miss Gertrude Sass, Miss Angie Rose, Miss Clara Mansfield and Messrs. William C. Northrop, Guy Sass, Ralph Green and Fred Sass.

March was quite lamb- like in its exit.

And yet still another snow storm is predicted.

Isn't it about time the special commission appointed by the supreme court to consider the matter of abolishing the grade crossings in this city, made a report of their findings?

To the world outside of New England Quincy is most generally known by its granite, and as this is at present the chief business of the city, everything should be done to keep it up to the highest standard possible.

To do this the granite manufacturers have many things to combat. The chief obstacle at the present time is the rate of transportation.

Barre, which every one knows as our greatest competitor, is fixed far better in respect to low rates for transportation, and therefore has a better chance of increasing its output, and making better sales than Quincy.

If, as Mr. Richards suggested in a letter to the editor, a water route was maintained from Quincy to New York, the price of transportation would be greatly reduced, and a serious handicap to local manufacturers would be done away with.

The present outlook in the granite industry is bright, as can be seen by an article which recently appeared in the Monumental News.

"Orders for the finished product in the granite industry of this city are being placed with due regularity, and the prediction in last month's News letter for a busy spring in the year 1909 does not go far away as the year progresses. A special feature of the trade's development is the present and future conditions of the quarrying end of the industry. Not for years back has this important adjunct of the city's staple industry shown such improvement.

"Special mention is called for in the quarrying field and your correspondent, with this end in view, confined his monthly canvass for trade notes almost entirely to this department of the trade, and found on all sides rosy reports and conditions to warrant same for the new era that has dawned on this important and vital adjunct to Quincy's immense granite industry. Nor have these health-giving conditions fallen short in the manufacturing field Already the change is noticed for trade betterment in early development, and the year 1909 is bound to be a record-breaker both in quantity and quality of the manufactured product.

"From personal contact with dealers and traveling men who are in position to know the tendency of the retail trade, J. S. Swingle is unqualifiedly of the opinion that Quincy will be back in her old stronghold before long. He has spared no expense in equipping his quarry and doing everything possible to boost his Extra Dark Quincy granite in the trade journals and otherwise through the mails. 'There is no granite like Quincy and in my opinion none so good,' says Mr. Swingle, and he added: 'If quarrymen interested would take hold of the rope and pull or put their shoulders to the wheel and push the Quincy granite dust would fly. We can no longer lay back and say when the people want Quincy granite they will come or ask for it. We have got to hustle just as others do and in just that proportion will Quincy begin to see results.'"

The writer evidently knew what he was talking about, and if only the citizens would put their shoulders to the wheel, in fact rather than in theory, Quincy would awaken to the fact that she can be a real power in the granite industry, a power that not even Barre could outrival.

Quincy granite is the best there is, and with reduced transportation rates the future would be assured

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The effort of members of the Norfolk District Medical Society to have the smoking cars cut off the "L" roads, which move might be followed by an attempt to cut off smokers on the steam roads, is not likely to be received with loud cheers in all sections. The idea is that the smoking and the expectoration is likely to lead to the spread of tuberculosis, and there is, of course, ground for that belief. However, the average man who has a little time to himself and who is making a journey occasionally likes to while away the time smoking, and he is aggrieved and affronted if the privilege is not allowed him. If the tuberculosis men had no smoker in which to ride they would have to ride somewhere, and they would bestow themselves in some car where humans were riding, and these would run some risk at least of infection just the same—if infection is so swift, sure and deadly as some perhaps slightly rattled citizens would have us believe. And what would happen in midnight trains if there was no smoking car, and the celebrators were kept in with the women and children in the regular cars? Think of that alone, and shudder at the thought of cutting off the smokers! —Brockton Enterprise.

It is possibly significant that, of all the close friends of Charles W. Eliot at Cambridge, not one believes that he will accept the offer of the post of American ambassador to the court of Great Britain. There is no question that President Eliot possesses all the qualities necessary to fill such a post acceptably and with credit to his country. But the point is made that position of ambassador is not one of a very exacting nature, and that it does not call for the exercise of great intellectual powers. The real negotiations between the United States and Great Britain are now carried on by the foreign office at London and the department of state at Washington. The ambassador's duties require merely that he shall be able to make good after dinner speeches or public addresses of an interesting and intellectual type; and the friends of President Eliot believes that he still has more important work to do in the United States than may be required by the duties of an ambassador under modern conditions. If President Eliot accepts then, the general public will be less surprised than his closest friends will be.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

Editor of the Ledger:—

Allow me space for comment on current affairs.

The death of the Curry child at South Quincy emphasizes anew the importance of depressing the railroad tracks, let the expense be what it may. The death toll from accidents on the tracks is altogether too frequent and large.

The letter of Elisha Packard in Monday's Ledger contains sound sense. If our citizens want gas in their houses, common justice, as well as public policy, demands that the city permit mains to be laid to effect the purpose. The company's policy in regard to hiring labor has nothing whatever to do with this question of extending its mains, and the sooner our councilmen pause and reflect on this fact the better. We can never induce new corporations to locate here unless we treat our public service companies fairly and squarely.

Isn't it time for Quincy to have building restrictions that mean something?

DANGER IN DELAY.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Quincy.

Nicholas Albanese, living at 16 Gilmore street, Quincy, Mass., says: "I was annoyed by a dull backache for some time and often while at work, sharp shooting pains would dart through my loins and cause me great misery. I also had dizzy spells and my eyesight seemed to be affected. I tried many remedies but did not receive relief and as a last resort, decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store, began their use and was instantly relieved. I have no hesitancy in giving Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for my cure and I highly endorse them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo. New York, sole agents for the United States.

WITH LIABILITIES OVER $1,500,000

Pastor of Cleveland Church Declares Himself Bankrupt

ASSETS AGGREGATE $75,000

Insolvency Grows Out of Failure of Fidelity Funding Company, Promoted by Kieran, With Whom He Was Closely Identified—Priest a Director of the Company and Endorsed Many of Its Notes

Cleveland, April 1.—Rev. William McMahon, pastor of St. Bridget's Catholic church in this city and editor of The Catholic Universe, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States court here. In the petition his total liabilities are stated to be $1,594,142, with assets aggregating $75,207, of which $71,300 is real estate.

Father McMahon was a director of the Fidelity Funding company of New York, founded by P. J. Kieran, which now is in the hands of receivers. Thus it came about that his name was signed to many of the papers issued by the company and for those he now is held liable by the receivers.

The petition enumerates many notes signed by McMahon. They are held mostly by New York, Pittsburg and Cleveland banks. Included in the secured claims as filed by the petitioner are liabilities held by almost every banking institution of prominence in Cleveland and similar institutions in Boston, New York, Pittsburg, Syracuse and Buffalo.

The petition enumerates a score or more of notes signed by McMahon which are the basis of claims. The dates of many of these are not given, but the petitioner admits his responsibility both as maker and endorser and includes them in his inventory of legal liabilities.

The filing of the petition by Attorney Sutphen was not entirely a surprise, either to financial circles here or to the parishioners of St. Bridgets, who had known for some time past that the financial affairs of McMahon were in a badly tangled state, owing to his connection with the Kieran enterprises.

Late in 1905 McMahon first came into close contact with Kieran. The latter was then the moving spirit in the Reliance Life Insurance company and the Fidenity Insurance company, both of which were operated from Buffalo. The priest borrowed a small amount of money in 1905 from Kieran, who is said to have offered him a lower rate of interest than charged by other companies engaged in a similar line of business.

The friendship between the priest and the financier grew to such an extent that the former signed or endorsed the notes which now are held against him and at the time of the failure of the Fidelity Funding company was one of the board of directors.

When Kieran's troubles came last December McMahon's dealings were supposed to extend only to the reorganization of the Euclid Avenue Trust company of Cleveland, in which he signed notes for $35,000. His assets were then said not to exceed $20,000.

It is announced by a priest closely identified with the affairs of the Cleveland diocese that the liability set forth in the petition in voluntary bankruptcy made by McMahon is personal, and that the Catholic church property is not involved in a way that the church can lose.

The title to all Catholic church property, it is explained, in all parts of the world is vested in the archbishop of the diocese in which it is located, and mortgages must be sanctioned by the prelate in charge.

It was after Kieran had explained to McMahon that it was his purpose to make the Fidelity Funding company the chief financial agent of the Catholic church in the matter of loans and mortgages that the priest became involved.

FOR PREACHING HOLY WAR

Priest Is Subjected to Barbarous Treatment In Moroccan Capital

Fez, Morocco, April 1.—Priest Kittani, who was captured and brought into Fez this week, was dragged through the streets of Fez bareheaded and in chains.

Kittani's offense is that he preached a "holy war" in support of the pretender to the Moroccan throne.

The ecclesiasts who interceded with Sultan Mulai Hafid on Kuttani's behalf were promptly whipped.

Baltimore, April 1.—In a race up the coast, the steam colliers Malden and Melrose sailed from Baltimore, each with 7500 tons of coal bound for Everett, Mass. They passed Cape Henry side by side. The vessels are sister ships.

AMERICAN TROOPS SAIL FROM CUBA

Republic Has Shown Its Capacity to Govern Itself

Havana, April 1.—For the first time in more than two years Cuba is free today from the presence of American soldiers. The last of the troops who have been occupying the island sailed away this morning on the transports Sumner and McClellan.

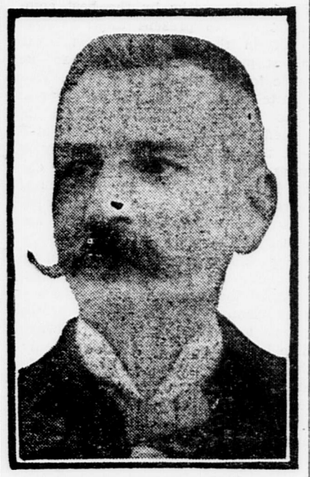

The withdrawal of the American troops is the final fulfillment of the promise of the Washington authorities that the soldiers would be sent home from Cuba when the republic showed its capacity to govern itself. The evacuation began at the time of the inauguration of President Gomez in January and has proceeded steadily. April 1 was the date fixed as the time of final evacuation.

KING PETER MAY STEP OUT

Servian Assembly Bows to the Will of the Powers

London, April 1.—Circumstantial reports continue to emanate from Vienna concerning the probable fall of the Servian dynasty.

It is alleged that King Peter has informed the British minister at Belgrade of his intention to abdicate if he is guaranteed a yearly allowance of $50,000.

KING PETER OF SERVIA.

The final act in Servia's submission occurred in the national assembly at Belgrade Wednesday when, amid a painful silence, M. Milovanovics, the foreign minister, read the text of the note to Austria.

In this note, Servia, bowing to the powers, withdrew all opposition to Austria-Hungary's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina and promised to maintain peace.

Not a single deputy rose to speak when the reading was ended and the president declared the sitting closed.

BAD FEELING EXISTS

Bout Between Rogers and Mahmout Expected to Be Fast and Furious

Cleveland, April 1.—Two of the world's best and biggest wrestlers will meet tonight in this city. They are Yussiff Mahmout, the Bulgarian, who has been taking falls out of some of the best American grapplers, and Joe Rogers, the American, whom Frank Gotch, champion of the world, failed to defeat in a handicap match. Rogers lost to Hackenschmidt in Europe.

Rogers says he gained a clean fall from Mahmout in practice in a New York gymnasium and has been chasing the Bulgarian for some time. There is considerable bad feeling between the two men, and their match should be fast and furious.

TWELVE FELINE "APOSTLES"

They Figure In a Contest Over a Rich Spinster's Will

Newark, N. J., April 1.—Because she kept twelve cats named after the twelve apostles, including one drab favorite named St. Judas, an effort is being made to have the will of the late Miss Anna Burnett of Hilton, who left an estate valued at $300,000, set aside on the ground that she was incompetent.

Her nearest relatives, who are cousins, have begun the action. One third of the estate was left to charity and the remainder to relatives and friends.

Fourteen Perished In Harbor

Havana, April 1.—The bodies of fourteen men missing from the Hamburg-American steamer Altenburg, which was destroyed by fire Monday, were found in the harbor Wednesday. All evidently were drowned while attempting to escape from the burning ship.

Calhoun Jury Not Complte

San Francisco, April 1.—After twelve weeks of wearisome effort, the jury that will try Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, on an indictment charging attempted bribery, still lacks two members to be complete.

Five Miners Entombed

Charleston, W. Va., April 1.—Five men are entombed as a result of an explosion at Echo mine in Fayette county. All are believed to be dead. Two other men, slightly injured, were rescued.

A Tonic or a Stimulant?
Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic. It does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic. Ask your doctor all about this. Trust him fully, and always do as he says.

BOWLING.

A very exciting bowling match was pulled off Wednesday evening at the Granite street alleys when the Quincy five met the Houghs Neck quintet. The latter won by six pins on totals, but Quincy took two strings out of three. The first string was the closest of the evening Quincy winning by one pin.

Carrigan of Quincy was high man for three strings with a total of 259, Hammond of Houghs Neck being a close second with 258. These two men took the single string honors as well, Carrigan getting a high single of 99, Hammond standing second with 93. Morey of Houghs Neck was tied with Hammond for second. Tonight the Quincy team plays Norfolk Downs. The summary:

CITY REGISTER'S ACCOUNTS SHORT

Baltimore Clerk Supposed to Have Stolen $67,000

Baltimore, April 1.—Examination of the books of the office of the city register show a shortage of more than $67,000 in the funds of that office.

William F. Downs, stock clerk in the office named, is under arrest after having been twice released on bail. His first bail was fixed at $5000 and later it was doubled. He was arrested late last night after the magnitude of the shortage was discovered.

Downs was bonded for only $4000 and it is understood that City Register Thomas is responsible for whatever the shortage is shown to be in excess of that amount. Downs has been living in expensive style and has been known as a patron of sports of various sorts.

KENT CONFESSED MURDER

Testimony to That Effect Given by Two Witnesses In Congdon Case

Rutland, Vt., April 1.—Elroy Kent admitted that he killed Miss Delia B. Congdon at East Wallingford on July 24, 1908, according to the testimony given in court by Allen A. Leonard, a deputy sheriff, in the trial of Kent on the charge of murdering the woman.

Leonard said that Kent's admission was made after he had been taken to the house of correction in Rutland from Pittsfield, Mass., where he was arrested. Herbert D. Savery corroborated the testimony.

According to these witnesses Kent told of his reason for going to the house of Miss Congdon, who was a deaf mute and lived alone, and when asked why he killed her, replied that she made a noise and he was afraid other people would hear her. Much of the testimony of the alleged confession was unprintable.

CONVICTS ALL SAVED

Leavenworth, Kan., April 1.—The military prison at Fort Leavenworth, containing hundreds of prisoners, was burned Thursday.

The blacksmith shops, clothing department, tailor shops and machine shops burned first and the main buildings soon followed.

The prison was surrounded by a guard line of armed troops. The Thirteenth infantry removed the prisoners to a stockade, the sick being taken to a hospital.

Shortly after the last prisoner had been removed, and while the cordon of troops were at a safe distance, the walls fell with a great crash.

The fire started among some rubbish carelessly left in the paint shop.

LIONS TERRIFY NATIVES

They Expect Relief When the Great American Hunter Arrives

Mombasa, British East Africa, April 1.—Packages addressed to Theodore Roosevelt are arriving on every steamer from London. They come principally from British firms in the export business.

Since the advent of the rains lions have been terrifying the natives within four miles of Kilindini. An elephant that evident had strayed from a herd made its way yesterday into the bazaar at Masingi and played havoc.

The natives at Masingi have been assured that they need have no further fear, as Mr. Roosevelt is on his way to the protectorate to hunt. They are awaiting Roosevelt's arrival contentedly.

THE MANCHURIAN MUDDLE

United States Has Not Been Asked to Exercise Good Offices

Washington, April 1.—The United States has not been approached by the government of China with a view to securing its good offices to bring about arbitration of complicated questions in Manchuria, which are understood to have been the subject of negotiations for nearly three years between the governments at Pekin and Tokio.

A statement to this effect was issued by the state department as a reply to the various reports that have been circulated.

FAIR TREATMENT AND SAFETY

Guaranteed Chief Crazy Snake If He Will Surrender

HIDING IN TIGER MOUNTAINS

Troops and Deputies Continue on His Trail Despite Unfavorable Weather and Short Rations—Fugitives Have Taken to Cover In a Most Thorough Manner—Supply Wagons Cannot Travel Over Rough Roads

Pierce, Okla., April 1.—Reports that Chitti Harjo (Crazy Snake) is hiding in some secluded gulch in the Tiger mountains about six miles from Pierce are confirmed. His surrender, it is said, may be expected at any time.

It is learned that Crazy Snake's inquiry as to protection in case of surrender was not official, but was communicated in a roundabout way. Monday night an Indian went to the home of Dr. M. K. McIlhenny at Brush Hill, six miles from Pierce. The boy said the old chief suffered a slight gunshot wound in the calf of his leg last Sunday, but was able to move. The lad declared that the fugitive wished to surrender if McIlhenny would give fair treatment.

Then the messenger disappeared, leaving the physician, an old resident and friend of the Creek leader, to wonder how to reach the latter with an answer.

The inability of Colonel Hoffman to find where to deliver his assurance of safety has prevented the surrender of Crazy Snake. Hoffman has authorized a respected Creek of Chechotah to promise his friend, Chitti Harjo, safety and a fair trial if he would surrender.

Detachments of troops and squads of deputies searched the country in every direction Wdnesday for Crazy Snake, despite rain and short rations. A further food supply is expected today from Chechotah, for it is almost impossible to bring heavy wagons across the rocky, rutted trail of the Tiger mountains over which the soldiers reached.

So thoroughly have the fugitive followers of Crazy Snake taken to cover that the scene would suggest anything but warfare, were it not for the scurrying posses of mounted citizens and the khaki clad Oklahoma guardsmen.

Pierce is now the base of operations. Pierce consists of a general store, the storekeeper's cottage and the storekeeper's barn. The store and the barn offered the militiamen their only shelter Wednesday and tinned goods were their only food.

Belief that the Indian lad's message to Dr. McIlhenny is authentic is based not only on the friendship of the chief and the physician, but on a friendship which existed between the red man and the physician's father, who was a missionary among the Creeks of an earlier generation for many years.

TAX OFFICIALS SLAIN

Mexico Has an Indian Uprising of Serious Proportions

El Paso, Texas, April 1.—Rebellious at the attempt of the authorities to collect taxes and confiscate property, the Temosachic Indians, in the state of Chihuahua, broke into open warfare late Wednesday, killing several tax officials, terrorizing the town of San Andreas and cutting the telegraph wires.

The officers were killed when they tried to confiscate property because of the non-payment of taxes.

Regular troops and rurales were rushed to the scene when the news first reached Chihuahua and since then reinforcements have gone out on special trains.

The country is thinly populated with descendants of Temosachic Indians. The ranchers in the region are known as the "sharpshooters of Chihuahua," and they are feared by state officers. The Indians and half-breeds always go armed and are skilled in warfare.

A few years ago seventy Temosachic Indians in open battle stood off a whole regiment, killing more than 900 men. They were then forced back to a church, which was stormed with artillery before they were subdued.

HONORED BY MIKADO

Order of the Rising Sun to Be Bestowed Upon President Eliot

Washington, April 1.—President Eliot of Harvard university is to be decorated by the Mikado of Japan.

This announcement was made to President Eliot by Ambassador Takahira of Japan. The decoration is now on its way to this country and will be conferred with appropriate ceremonies as soon as it arrives.

Confidence In Italy's Cabinet

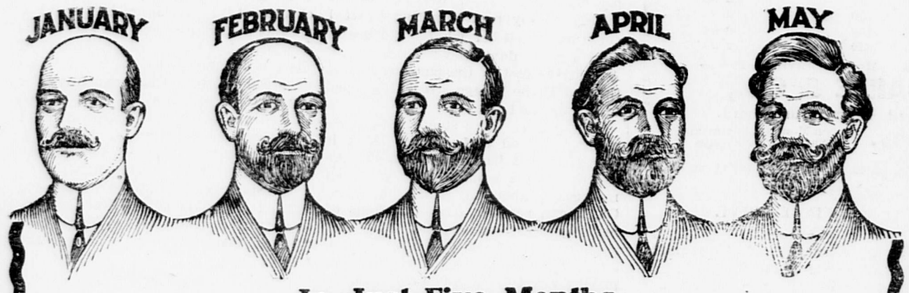

Rome, April 1.—Premier Giolitti, in the chamber of deputies, asked for a vote of confidence in answer to the speech from the throne. The vote was carried by 270 to 102, at the end of a stormy session.

Sealers Fast In Ice

St. John's, April 1.—Seven sealing steamers are imprisoned in the icefields of the northern coast. The vessels were sighted from land, but did not communicate with the shore.

WYETH'S
SAGE AND SULPHUR
HAIR RESTORER

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

AMERICAN METHODS BEST.

Another prominent representative of foreign industry who came to this country to study the American way of doing things, has returned home filled with wonder and admiration at American methods, energy and cleverness.

The latest case is that of Mr. Farranda, a Director of the Telephone Company of Rome, Italy. He came here during the latter part of last year to study telephone conditions in the more important cities of this country. The interesting results of his investigation have made the easy-going Romans well-night incredulous.

Rome had about 8,000 telephone subscribers, so when Mr. Farranda reported New York as having 310,000 subscribers, and telephone calls averaging 1,250,00 daily, these being sent through 53 exchanges, which are operated directly or indirectly by 12,000 employees, it was quite beyond the understanding of the Romans. Many of these exchanges in New York, he finds, have more subscribers than there are in the whole city of Rome.

In an interview in a leading Italian newspaper Mr. Farranda stated that many reasons could be advanced for the high degree of perfection reached by the telephone service in the United States, among them being:—

"The number of employees is not the sole cause for the regularity of service. It is to discipline that the good results must be attributed, and which makes the system so perfect. Fines are imposed on those employees who break the rules the first time, and they are dismissed from the service for the second offense.

Mr. Farranda caused great astonishment by the statement that New York and Chicago, separated by a distance of something like 1600 kilometres, are connected by telephone, and that for a three minutes' conversation between the two cities a charge of four dollars is made. "It is a good deal," said Mr. Farranda, "but I assure you transmission is marvelous, as I made the experiment myself and was astounded."

WEYMOUTH

The grand fair of the Ladies Cemetery association closed Wednesday evening. The entertainment consisted of the cantata "A Garden of Singing Flowers" with Joseph W. Blanchard as the gardener and the following, rose, F. Adelaide McCarthy; daisy, Alice Crocker; sun flower, Helen Loud; buttercup, Adeline Bicknell; lily, Helen Pierce; tulip, Ralph Loud, pansy, Carl Raymond; man-in-the-moon, Russell G. P. Niles. Miss Emma L. Clapp, accompanist, William H. Baldwin, violinist.

The alarm from box 57 at one o'clock Wednesday morning was for a fire at the stable on the old White homestead corner of Reed's avenue and Union street and occupied by H. B. Slack.

The fire which is supposed to have been of incendiary origin destroyed the barn together with its contents, consisting of a horse, wagon, mowing machine and other farming implements and causing a loss of $1000, partly covered by insurance. The horse was taken from the barn but in its frenzy rushed back again and was burned to death.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Davis celebrated their crystal wedding at their home on Washington street, Tuesday evening and many of the friends of the couple called and extended their congratulations. The members of the Men's class and choir of the First Baptist church presented the couple a handsome cut glass water set.

They also received many other handsome gifts.

Misses Margaret Helen and Alice Dwyer and Olive J. Dowd of this place, Margaret Kellerher of Randolph and Margaret Brennan and Margaret Nolan of Boston were the guests of representative John F. Dwyer at the State House Wednesday.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

PRESIDENT'S AID IS SOUGHT

Payne Tariff Bill Threatened by Action of Insurgents

BREAKING VERBAL AGREEMENT

Said to Be Opposing the Bill as Well as Making Combinations With Democrats—Cannon, Payne and Dalzell Urge Chief Executive to Use His Influence Toward Getting Obstructionists Into Line

Washington, April 1.—The situation with which the house of representatives finds themselves confronted in dealing with the Payne tariff bill continues to give the greatest concern at the White House. It is said that President Taft was directly appealed to by Speaker Cannon and Messrs. Payne and Dalzell Tuesday, when they spent more than and hour and a half with the chief executive at the White House.

The tactics of the "insurgents" are worrying the leaders to even a greater degree than they are willing to admit, and it is to bring these "recalcitrants" into line that the president's aid has been sought.

It has been reported to Taft, according to current report, that the "insurgents" are not living up to the letter of the verbal agreement they made with him at the time of the fight against the house rules at the beginning of the present session. At that time the "insurgents" are said to have pledged themselves not to oppose the tariff bill if the president would agree to keep his hands off the fight to revise the rules. This arrangement was agreeable to Taft.

Now, the house leaders contend, the "insurgents" are not only opposing the bill, but are making combinations with the Democrats to the extent of threatening the measure. They say they cannot put the bill through in satisfactory shape until the "insurgents" are whipped into line.

It is said that the president has been appealed to to use his influence to persuade the Republicans who are helping to endanger the bill to abandon their attitude. It is declared that only in this way can a definite arrangement be made or a limitation be placed upon debate and amendments. The president is considering the matter.

According to opinions expressed at the White House, the president will find conditions more favorable in the senate than in the house. He is said to have received the assurance of the leaders there that they are in sympathy with him and will uphold his policy to the best of their ability. The president himself said a day or two ago that he had been assured that the senate was agreeable to the maximum and minimum principle of the Payne bill.

ARMENIANS IN COURT

Alleged Shooters and Stabbers Held Under Heavy Bonds

Boston, April 1.—Half a dozen Armenians with damaged heads and as many more otherwise injured were in the Brighton court because of a fracas in a Western avenue restaurant.

It was charged that Manoog Dermovavresia was chairman of a meeting of Hunchagists, and that he shot Karekin Esslan through the back when the latter objected to the remarks of Moses Shacnian. Essian is at the City hospital.

Judge Barnard held Manoog Dermovavreshia and Karekin Dagadarin in $10,000. Five others were held in $1000 each. The cases were continued to Monday.

AN INFLUX OF SETTLERS

Canada Expects 70,000 Americans to Cross Border This Year

Winnipeg, Man., April 1.—"Seventy thousand American settlers will come to Canada this year," said Commissioner Walker of the immigration department. "They will settle on 21,000 homesteads, an increase of 100 percent over last year."

On account of the rush at present, extra agents have been sent to Emerson and North Portal. Nearly all of these settlers are going into northern Saskatchewan.

Funeral of Admiral Converse

Washington, April 1.—President Taft and many other high officials attended the funeral at St. John's Episcopal church of Rear Admiral Converse, who died suddenly at his home here last Monday. With full military honors the body was laid to rest in Arlington cemetery.

Gotch to Meet Russian Giant

Chicago, April 1.—Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world, has signed articles to meet George Hackenschmidt in January at Melbourne. Gotch accepted an offer of $13,000, win, lose or draw, to meet Hackenschmidt, whom he defeated here last year.

A Christmas Restoration

By FRANK H. SWEET.

Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.

It was a most disheartening trick of the brain—so John Loftus told himself—a trick of the memory, a way it had of dropping into that old rut and going over and over again the same awful road of misery and desolation.

What he saw was a rocky hillside pasture, with myriads of Canada thistles and a barefooted boy picking his way among them at the heels of a straggling little line of home going cows.

"O-u-u-oo, but I can feel those thistles yet. How like sin they did punish my bare, brown feet! Mother was not feeling well when I went after the cows—my blessed, darling mamma. She had heart trouble, I heard one neighbor tell another, and would go suddenly some day when we least expected it. I had hardly let her out of my sight after that, although in the misery of my poor, bursting heart I could never tell her what I had heard. How I raced down the hill that night! And at the foot of the pasture, just at the end of the village street, I stopped to put up the bars.

"As I turned there stood that—that—vision. Blessed if I did not think it was a fairy. I had never seen the like before. For a moment I forgot even my anxiety about my dearest mamma. Oh, I can see her now—the folds of her filmy white dress, the little blue slippers with the straps over the ankles, the long golden curls and the pitying violet eyes. And the poor little devil of a kid in a faded shirt and blue jeans—how he winced and felt ashamed!

"And then the vision spoke. She came to me shyly and held out a rose.

"'I wish you would take this,' she said, holding it out, far out, and I saw then that tears were running down her pink cheeks. I did not take the rose, but the birch switch dropped from my hand, and my heart turned to ice. Poor little kid! Poor kid!

"'My mamma sent me to meet you,' she said and sobbed, brushing the palm of her hand across the track of her tears. 'I wish you'd take the rose. I came to stay all day wif you. Maybe I can stay all day tomorrow. I—I've got a white kittie. We brought it from our former charge. I'm the new minister's little girl, you see, and you may have my kittie, and—and I know how to string red berries into booful strings of beads, and—and'—

"She pushed the rose into my hand and then turned away, and I saw her bare white shoulders toss up and down in a tumult of sobbing.

"'What awful, horrible hurts there can be in this little life of ours! I knew, I knew.

"'I threw the rose as far as I could dash it and flung myself into the sand by the roadway.

"'I did not cry out. I beat the earth with my clinched fists and my bare face. The sand filled my mouth and blinded my wet eyes, and the blood oozed out and clotted across my throbbing temples.

"'Then people came and wiped away the sand and the blood, and the shaking voice of a woman kept saying, 'Poor boy, poor little boy!'

"'A team drove along the road and crept out into the grass in order to pass me. Then I heard a neighbor say: 'Let me take the little shaver into the waggin. Poor little feller! It is dretful suddent for 'im, but still Mis' Loftus haz hed the heart disorder fur a good spell back.'

"'Oh, yes, I knew. I knew the awful truth as soon as I saw the tears in the eyes of the little strange girl. The dreadful blow had fallen.

"'They carried me into the house, full now of sad faced, whispering women, that very room where I had kissed my mother a merry goodby not more than half an hour ago. Away in the darkened bedroom they had laid her and spread a white sheet over her face. Mother!

"'But the great wheel of the years kept turning. The old life was a thing of the past. The boy was homeless, friendless. But the years did not stop, and as they turned I grew out of my blue jeans and no longer went barefoot. And now I was in love with the minister's daughter, just the same angel that stood that night at the bars, the beautiful vision with a woman's tender heart. And then came ambition, that great, swelling sea that swallows up all else of life."

He swept his hands out and in the gesture included all the magnificence that wealth could give, all that his surroundings implied.

"'I'll give you my white kittie.' Dear little heart, what was she not ready to sacrifice for me always? And I, brute, the beast of selfishness and ambition clothed over with the garments of a man, I—yes, it was the old story. In my selfish sorrow I threw her rose in the dust. At first I said: 'There is not enough for two. I can have just what I want at the club if I am alone.' I broke her heart and drifted away from her, waiting till I should have enough for two to live in the style I desired.

"'Oh, never for an instant did I intend to lose her, only just to make her wait till we could begin life in the style that would give us just the social position I desired.

"'I did not think she realized my selfishness. I did not myself. And then the unexpected happened. Her father died, and she took a position as companion for a wealthy invalid, and they went to Europe.

"'She may be married for all I know and have forgotten me, and I—well, I am perfectly happy, I am sure. Hanged if I know what has got into me that I can't think of anything else tonight. I don't want to think of her—of course I don't. I am perfectly content as I am. Yes, her 'white kitten' was as the apple of her eye. Beryl—a pretty name—Beryl Bayswinter. I wonder if she did marry. I saw Teddy bears and woolly dogs and cotton cats in the shop windows tonight, and I thought of the Christmas trees mother used to make for me—red apples and striped candy and popcorn, with tallow dips for candles. It's the old memories that have got into my brain tonight. Confound the holiday season anyway! But I believe I'll take a turn down by the shops and shake them off. I can make a lot of little duffers happy with a handful of Christmas pennies. It is not that I want a home—with Beryl in it—no—certainly not. I'll just go to—to—I am perfectly satisfied as I am. But I'll take a look around to—to—well, to pass the time away."

The stores were ablaze with light, and the windows twinkle with tinsel and toys, and the tired shopgirls were behind their counters until 10 o'clock at night. John had spent a pocketful of dimes, and there was but one left—that is, but one dime left of the ten dollar bill that he broke when he stood treat to Christmas toys for the first ragamuffin he met as he started out to do the Santa Claus act on a small personal scale.

As he turned to take the car he stumbled over a ragged little mite, who was pressing a bit of a blue face against the plate glass of a big window and cooing in broken English to a sprawling yellow Teddy bear in the toy window.

"Want a Teddy bear?" he asked. And the child grinned hungrily. "Well, come on in, then. I'll get you one."

The bear bore the price tag, "Seventy-five cents." John must go in to change a bill. Crowds were thinning in the store, and he dragged the ragged mite after him through the long aisles, up the elevator and down among the rows of toys.

"Toy animals? Oh, yes. Down that aisle at post 10," so the floorwalker said, and John led the child hastily along.

"Have you toy"— he began. The clerk was putting a box on the shelf. She turned a weary white face to attend to her late customer.

"Beryl!"

The cry rang across an ocean of cotton cats and paper elephants heaped on a dozen counters. A little rattling crash followed, and then the voice of a clerk crying, "Oh, Mr. Headman, Miss Bayswinter has fainted again!"

The manager hurried up. Miss Bayswinter lay very white and limp across the arms of the tall customer.

No one noticed the little German waif scudding away with two white cotton cats and a Teddy bear in her pinafore.

"Send for the ambulance, some of you! Miss Bayswinter will get her discharge in the morning. This fainting is getting altogether too frequent," the manager said sharply.

"Where does this lady live?" John Loftus asked. "I will take her home in a carriage."

* * * * * * *

The marriage occurred on Christmas day, and now the fellows are all wondering who the mischief Miss Bayswinter was, whether she was some English girl or simply an American heiress.

Aesop Up to Date.

A Hare, meeting a Tortoise one day, remarked as he looked at the Tortoise's heavy shell and short feet, "I think I could beat you in a race."

At the hour appointed for the contest the Hare soon left the Tortoise out of sight and, feeling sure of winning, lay down by the roadside to take a nap. After a half hour's sleep and rest he resumed the race. But the Tortoise had turned into a wayside garage and hired an automobile, and so he soon overtook the fleet footed Hare.

The Hare was going at the limit of his speed, but the Tortoise was going at the speed limit and won the race by three miles and seven laps.

When the Hare, in the course of time, arrived at the post he said, with a sigh, "You'll never catch me in an endurance race again."

Neighborly Advice.

I am not one of those who insist that everybody should mind his own business; that is too harsh a doctrine. One of the rights and privileges of a good neighbor is to give neighborly advice. But there is a corresponding right on the part of the advisee, and that is to take no more of the advice than he thinks is good for him. There is one thing that a man knows about his own business better than any outsider, and that is how hard it is for him to do it. The adviser is always telling him how to do it in the finest possible way, while he, poor fellow, knows that the paramount issue is whether he can do it at all. It requires some grace on the part of a person who is doing the best he can under extremely difficult circumstances to accept cheerfully the remarks of the intelligent critic.—S. M. Crothers in Atlantic.

MANUAL TRAINING FOR THE BOYS

Useful Facts Gathered From Large Manufacturers.

EXPERT TELLS OF BENEFITS OF INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION.

Sloyd Becoming An Important Factor In Public Schools.

Much is being said about industrial education and manual training at the present time. Questions have arisen as to effects and qualities developed by the present system of motor training. We learn useful facts from recent investigation of manufacturers and business men, made by Mr. Gustaf Larsson, Principal, Sloyd Training School, Boston, Mass.

Several letters were sent to manufacturers and business men in various states to ascertain the special qualities of prime importance of employees ;and what training was best for the boy under the age of fifteen.

It is surprising how few required skilled and rapid workers. The following are some of the special qualities:—honesty, self reliance, gumption, application, manliness, alertness, industry, health, enthusiasm, ambition, capacity to carry out work to completeness, obey orders, natural inclination for the work. Honesty, application, health and industry seem to receive the unanimous attention as being of importance.

In our present system of education what brings out these qualities or inculcates them, better than educational manual training or Sloyd? Boys between the ages of eleven and fourteen should receive this vauable training that they may be more efficient, and better fitted for life's duties.

Sloyd is no fad imported from some foreign country. It is the result in the change of conditions in living. An attempt on part of school to provide training which was formerly provided in the home. Nights in Scandinavian countries are long and dark. Facilities for lighting were poor, thus the evenings were spent in doing some kind of manual work. Wooden spoons, forks, farm implements were made, also sewing and weaving done. This corresponds in many ways to the work done on the old New England farms.

Manufactories and labor saving machines came and so farm implements etc, were no longer made but bought. This change brought about a change in the condition of children, mentally and physically.

This was not noticed in a short time but in years. Government appointed commission to see or find out the cause in existing conditions of children. Their decision was lack of home sloyd. As a result Sloyd was recommended as a part of the real school work.

The aim of sloyd is to better fit the boy for life's duties. To so train that what ever profession he may take up, he will have acquired a certain training which will make him more efficient whether he be a lawyer, doctor, mechanic or teacher. The boy should be taught to be neat, accurate, and orderly in his work. To respect honest work in all its forms; to judge his work and thus to better judge the work of others. To discover for himself when an object is made carelessly and when it is made in a thorough "workman ship" fashion. To really enjoy a thing that has beauty, and to cultivate that taste for things that are simple and artistic. To be patient, to rely upon oneself and have that sense of honor for honest careful work.

Take a boy and let him have a course of Sloyd, passing through the various grades. If he has been taught to be neat, orderly and patient; has been industrious, carefully judged his work, has had respect for honest rough work, then the boy has been developed mentally and morally and in a way that will have an ever lasting influence upon him in whatever profession or trade he may take up.

This training together with the skillful use of tools and careful direction on part of teacher along moral and physical lines, will surely develop the boy into a true, clean man making a better citizen of him, and fitting him in the best way possible to meet the demands of the present day.

NEW BUILDING OR NONE AT ALL

Resident Of Houghs Neck Don't Want Old Schoolhouse

The residents of Houghs Neck are wondering whether the story is true that the city intends to move the old wooden building now on the Coddington lot to Houghs Neck to be used as a school house.

Evidently they expect a new brick schoolhouse. The officers of the Houghs Neck Associates are up in arms and intend to fight the moving of the old building if the story is true. They claim that it would be cheaper in the long run to build a brick school house. They think that on account of the condition of the old Coddington building it would be impossible to take it apart and remodel it so that it would be suitable for a school house.

It is expected that the Associates will take action on the matter at their next meeting.

TOM PAINE'S HOUSE.

An Effort to Save Home Given by State of New York.

The Huguenot Association of New Rochelle has started a movement to preserve the old Thomas Paine house, which was built by a French Huguenot refugee; confiscated after the revolution, and given by the State of New York to Thomas Paine in recognition of his patriotic services. Here it was that Paine died, and nearby stands the old Paine monument which has been visited by thousands of tourists from this country and abroad. A year ago the owner of the property on which the house stood decided to erect a mansion for his own use which would necessitate the razing of the Paine house. The Huguenot Association secured the house and moved it to a plot of ground which was purchased for the purpose. About $2,700 has already been expended, but $10,000 more will be needed to properly equip and restore the building. While larger sums will be needed, it is planned to make this a popular subscription and sums from $1 up will be welcomed.

Remittances may be sent to the treasurer, George F. Flandreaux, National City Bank, New Rochelle, N. Y.

FLAG ALL RIGHT AS IT IS.

The proposal to recast the pattern of the United States flag, says the New York Tribune, is a good one to send to limbo. The scheme as now laid before congress is to rearrange the stars in the union into a pattern resembling perhaps a winged gyascutus more than anything else in the earth, the heavens above or the waters beneath. Here is the prescription:

"The stars shall be arranged uniform in distance from one another, in five arcs in combination, the centres of the arcs to be the apices of a regular pentagon. The radius of the arcs shall be equal to one side of the pentagon, and the radius of the stars shall be equal to one-fourth the distance from centre to centre."

Isn't that lovely? Likewise, isn't it clearer than mud? Everybody, from that lucid word-painting, can see exactly how it would look, and every schoolboy can instantly draw it upon the slate. It really is a wonder that we have been able to worry along for so many years without such a combination. Why, there isn't a problem in Euclid that can touch it for sheer joyousness.

The flag as we have had it for more than fourscore years is good enough to keep.

—Bucksport's famous April fool joke made its 40th annual appearance Thursday. In 1869 Indlord James F. Moses of the famous old tavern moved the box-like storm entrance to the door leading from the wide piazza to the door leading from the wide piazza to the office to one side so that, instead of leading into the office it made a box against the dead wall.

eVry few people would notice the change in position that would open the storm door as usual and land against the side of the house and nothing to do but back out as gracefully as possible amid the remarks of the inhabitants gathered at convenient points to watch the results of landlord Moses' "April fool trap."

At the death of Mr. Moses about 15 years ago his successor, P. H. Wardwell, kept up the time-honored custom. Landlord H. Rufus Googins set the trap bright and early Thursday morning with the inevitable results.

TRIES TO JUMP OFF FERRY BOAT

Wollaston Man Makes Vain Attempt at Suicide.

H. G. KINGMAN SAVED BY DECK HAND'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

Ill Health Caused By Overwork Believed to be Responsible For Act.

Howard G. Kingman, of 168 Arlington street, Wollaston, made an attempt to end his life early this morning by jumping off an East Boston Ferry. The presence of mind of a deck hand, who was standing near by, was the thing that probably saved Mr. Kingman's life.

Mr. Kingman has been in ill health for some time and the only reason given for his rash act was despondency. He was for a good many years principal of the Wollaston Grammar school, resigning on account of ill health in 1896. He has been teaching night school in the Quincy school on Tyler street, Boston.

He is married and has a seven-year-old daughter Gladys, a pupil in the Wollaston school.

Mrs. Kingman was called to Boston early this morning to see her husband, who was carried to the Relief hospital.

TEN STUDENTS EXAMINED.

Ten members of the Y. M. C. A. evening school took the annual international examination Thursday evening from 7 to 10 o'clock. The subjects taken were mechanical drawing, elementary and advanced, and architecural drawing, elementary and advanced. The students found the question rather more difficult than in previous years but it is expected that a good percentage will pass.

These examinations are participated in throughout this entire country at the same hour and night and under the some rigid rules. The papers with this work are sent to New York for marking and certificates are granted for passing.

CHILDREN HAVE MERRY TIME

Easter Party at Wollaston Church Largely Attended

A children's party was held for the members of the Sunday school of the Wollaston Unitarian church in the vestry on Thursday evening.

Supper was served at six o'clock and at each place the child found some favor of Easter significance in the form of chickens, rabbits, etc. Whistles were attached to some of these and in a few minutes the vestry was anything but quiet.

The tables were prettily set, the chief decorations consisting of vases of daffodils.

The remainder of the evening was taken up with games, among which were, drop-the-handkerchief, winkum, jogging along and kindred games.

The committee in charge of the affair was: Mrs. F. C. Merrill, chairman; Mrs. George Weston, Mrs. George Bennett, Mrs. David Whiton and Mrs. C. E. White.

HARDING—CHRISTENSEN.

A wedding that has been looked forward to and aroused quite a good deal of curiosity as to when and where it was to occur, took place Wednesday evening at the home of Rev. Dr. E. N. Hardy, Quincy. Mr. Ernest Harding of Farrington street, Norfolk Downs married Miss Stella Christensen of Old Colony street, Atlantic. Although Miss Christensen is but nineteen she feels safe in her step into matrimony and Mr. Harding at twenty-seven is sure of success for his future.

Mr. Harding was attended by his cousin Mr. William R. Harding of Botolph street, Atlantic and Mrs. Harding by Miss Gardner of Atlantic street.

Mr. Harding is better known in Quincy than in Atlantic, especially in connection with the Quincy Y. M. C. A. where he is considered the best runner that they have had since its organization.

The young couple will reside at 36 Farrington street where a furnished house has been got in readiness for them.

SATURDAY EXPRESS TRAIN.

Present and prospective residents of the South Shore will be interested to learn that commencing Saturday, May 8th, (two weeks earlier than last year) the 1.10 P. M. train from Boston on Saturdays will run express to Hingham and Cohasset, stopping at stations beyond Cohasset through to Plymouth.

An additional train will leave Boston Saturdays at 12.45 P. M., express to Quincy and Braintree, stopping beyond Braintree at stations to Cohasset, and connecting at Nantasket Junction for the Nantasket Beach Branch.

ENTERTAINMENT AT POINT CHURCH

Pleasing Program Arranged By Christian Endeavor Society.

CLEVER YOUNG READER GIVES ENJOYABLE RECITATIONS

The reading of Miss Minette Zuver, of the Emerson school of oratory, was the leading feature of a very pleasing entertainment given Thursday evening at the Washington Street Congregational church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society. Besides Miss Zuver's readings, there were also piano solos by Irving Hayden and selections by the French brothers' orchestra.

Miss Zuver is very well-known and very popular at the Point having appeared here a short while ago at a concert given by the Ladies Aid Society. Her readings were so pleasing at her former appearance that she was secured again for the C. E. entertainment, and the reception she received Thursday night would seem to indicate that this would not be her last visit to Quincy.

Miss Zuver's readings were so selected that everyone was pleased, there being something to appeal to the small boy and girl as well as to the older people. The reading which seemed to make the biggest hit was entitled "Aunt Abbie's escort. Miss Zuber's audience was convulsed with laughter at the funny incidents related in this recitation. "That ain't the worst of it Neither "was the title of one which appealed to the children.

By request Miss Zuver gave "Aunt Peggie on High Art." Some of her other selections were ones which she had given here before but which she repeated by request. As a closing number Miss Zuver recited the following stanza as a very good motto:

"So many Gods, so many creeds,
So many paths that wind and wind,
When only the art of being loved,
Is all this old world needs."

After the entertainment was over there was a social hour during which time ice cream and cake were served. Miss Nan E. Carter was awarded the "blue ribbon" for the best "April First" cake. There were several loaves of "April fool" cake which caused lots of fun.

The committee in charge of the affair was: Miss Helen Sherburne, chairman, Miss Nan E. Carter, Miss Lillian Eaton, Thomas Skinner, Frank Crowder and William Artis.

The following program was rendered.

By the prompt action of J. L. Ames in causing the arrest of two amateur black hand artists who had threatened to dynamite his residence, it will probably be a long time before any more boys attempt to try the black hand game and wealthy Bay State folk can rest in peace.

Consideration of amendments to the Payne tariff bill by the Ways and Means Committee began this week and it is reported from an authoritative source, that the committee expects to report not less than two hundred amendments to the bill. This is about fifty less than were carried in the Dingley bill when it was considered for the second time by the committee. Doubtless the great majority of these amendments will be merely formal and of no importance so far as the country is concerned.

President Taft has made it clear to the leaders of Congress that he will engage in no controversies over specific duties in the tariff bill, though he adheres in his position that he will deem it to be his duty to veto the Payne bill if the Senate deprives it of its revisionary features. The President, also, has let it become known that if the tariff bill gives promise of inadequate revenue, Congress may hear from him with a forceful recommendation of some form of income tax. He has already gone to the length of having the Attorney General prepare a bill providing for a tax of two per cent. on the dividends of certain corporations. Evidently Mr. Taft takes seriously his pledge and that of the Republican platform to revise the schedules in the interest of the whole people and will see to it that there is an equitable readjustment in accordance with changed conditions.

If some method could be devised by the city in regard to the naming of streets it would be a good thing and save much confusion especially to strangers. Under the present method when a new tract of land is laid out the owner selects his own names for the streets laid out through the property without regard to how many other streets there are in the city of the same name. While there is no ordinance in the city at the present time to prevent this it would be a grand good thing if one could be framed making it necessary to procure an application to name a new street from the Commissioner of Public Works.

Then the Commissioner could refuse to allow a name to be given a new street that had already been given to a street, and thus much confusion would be avoided.

Some weeks ago the Commissioner upon request of the City Council submitted a list of streets and ways bearing the same name and it is surprising what large list there is, in some cases there being as many as four, as in the case of the name Winthrop for there is a Winthrop avenue, park place, terrace and street. These are not all in one ward as three are in Ward one, one in Ward two and one in Ward five. Then there is a Wilson street, court and two Wilson avenues. Baxter is also a popular name for there is a Baxter avenue, place, street and lane all located in Ward Two. Others are Bryant avenue, place and street; Elm avenue, place and street; three Everett streets, a Faxon avenue, lane, road and park road; Franklin avenue, place and street; three Highland avenues, three bearing the name Hillside; three Madison, three Linden, three Johnson, three Newcomb an Oak avenue, road and two Oak streets and so on through the whole list. A complete list of the streets bearing the some name will be published in these columns in a few days.

The April issue of Woodland and Roadside, the official bulletin of the Massachusetts Forestry Association contains an editorial on the highway boundary question.

This question is one that has caused much dispute, and always will until the present law is amended.

Commenting on this subject the Forestry Association says "numerous cases that have from time to time been called to the attention of officers of the Massachusetts Forestry Association have indicated that one great difficulty met with in enforcing the laws against interference with roadside shade trees is found in the uncertainty concerning the actual boundaries to the highway. A woodlot owner cuts down to the roadway, taking a line of trees along the highway without permission of the tree warden. He defies the latter to prove that he is within the highway lines. These rest upon an ancient layout that perhaps was never accurately surveyed. The public interest in roadside trees is subordinated to the individual greed of gain, which takes the last tree that can be turned into dollars, without regard to the public welfare.

The only remedy is in an expensive prosecution in which the people must prove their right to the trees taken. Believing that this was wrong and that the individual who seeks his own profit, against the warning of a public officer charged with the people's interests, should be forced to exercise care lest he invade the public domain, the association had introduced in the present general court a bill requiring the person so cutting trees to show his title as against the people, in other words shifting to the individually interested party the burden of proof.

"On this bill the committee on legal affairs reported "leave to withdraw." A chief reason for this is understood to be that the committee doubted the need of such an act. Tree wardens or others having knowledge of cases involving this question are earnestly requested to communicate all the facts to the association, so that another year we may be fortified with definite data to prove to the committee that there is need for such a law or for a thoroughly survey of every highway in Massachusetts."

Had the bill passed it would have undoubtedly done much to stop the destruction of many fine trees that really belonged on the highways.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The protest of Congressman O'Connell in the House Wednesday, against the taxation of women in the Payne bill, will strr up eager support. To say nothing of tea and coffee and cocoa, which concern the mothers of households, there is the discrimination against hosiery and gloves which cuts into the pocket money of the daughters as well.

No tariff can stand approved which touches so closely our women. Better tax the men on their peculiar needs and their favorite luxuries, for they will endure it with expletives to express their condemnation; but the influence of overtaxed women as a political force is to be counted among the most formidable.—Boston Posts.

Cuba is free from the last bonds attaching her to the United States, unless exception is made of those intangible bonds which, it is to be hoped, will not be severed by either nation. The last American soldier leaves the island, and the course of the republic is absolutely in the hands of the new Cuban government. It is to be a trying period of stress and temptation for many. Cuba has its share of self-seeking politicians—possibly more than its share, for the history of Cuba has not been such as to discourage these pests. But there are strong men in Cuba, and the strong men are in control. The slight disorder of a few days ago scared a few well-wishers and stimulated a few otherwise inclined, for the moment, but President Gomez's government showed its promptness and strength in dealing with the situation. All that the present Cuban government needs, to judge from existing conditions, is to be let alone. Governor Magoon has faith in the ability of the Cubans to govern their own country, though he does not minimize the dangers. His faith is based on the best knowledge anyone could have.—Boston Advertiser.

HAS ELUDED HIS PURSUERS

No Prospect of the Immediate Capture of Crazy Snake

TROOPS MAKE MANY ARRESTS

Colonel Hoffman Visits Chief's Home and Interviews His Sister, but Fails to Get Desired Information—Indian Leader Undoubtedly Being Supplied With Food In His Hiding Place—Not Likely to Give Himself Up

Pierce, Okla., April 2.—What a Muskogee newspaper calls the "smoked beef rebellion" is all but over. In a day or two the militia, it is expected, will be withdrawn. McIntosh county will feed nearly a hundred prisoners, not one of whom resisted arrest, and Chitti Harjo, otherwise Crazy Snake, will exercise all due caution about appearing in public.

He has not been captured, neither has he responded to a widely distributed invitation to surrender. The picturesque posses have quitted the hunt, leaving the field to the first regiment, Oklahoma National Guard.

Colonel Hoffman sent squads through the river bottoms and previously unexplored gulches in this vicinity, while Major Barrett, spreading his men, advanced like a comb through the Hickory woods. Crazy Snake, however, was elsewhere.

Meanwhile Hoffman held a long pow-wow with the fugitive's sister. The interview took place at Crazy Snake's former home on a swell of prairie which the Creek leader disdained to cultivate. The Snake place is a one-room shanty with a rickety porch and big chimney, like those of southern negro huts. The ground around it has never been ploughed and lean dogs yelp amid the weeds.

The Indian leader's sister and the militia chief met on the porch informally, but the former succeeded in convincing her questioner that she knew nothing of her brother's whereabouts.

"Very well," responded the colonel, "it is up to him. He has twenty-four hours in which to put himself under our protection. He should do it, as the next step probably will be the offering of a reward for him, dead or alive."

Colonel Hoffman admitted that he did not know whether his ultimatum would ever reach its real objective point. But he had his suspicions, as somebody undoubtedly is taking food to the old chief, along with the news of the day.

It is admitted that the wily red man has eluded his pursuers. He controls his own destinies so long as he chooses to remain hidden. The territory in which he may roam is too large for the military to cover thoroughly, which both pursuer and pursued know well.

Crazy Snake may conclude at the last moment of military occupancy to give himself up, but it is the general belief that the old warrior will do nothing of the kind. It is regarded as more likely that he will wait until public excitement has subsided and then emerge from his hiding.

Brolley Has a Pass to Any Baseball Game In the Country

Indianapolis, April 2.—Thomas W. Brolley of North Vernon, who, as a member of the recent legislature, introduced the bill which permits Sunday baseball in Indiana, was asked: "Have you got a pass?"

In reply Brolley pulled from an inside pocket a neat little case containing a card which Brolley said would admit him to any baseball game in the United States.

The card bore the names of the presidents of more than one hundred professional baseball organizations.

BOY MARRIES OLD WOMAN

Latter Gives Up Housekeeping Job and Pension to Wed

Columbia, Mo., April 2.—Mrs. Sarah Montamat, a widow, 64 years old, gave up a pension of $15 a month and a salary of $20 a month as housekeeper to be married to Turner Acton, 19 years old, who worked at the same house with her.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Pasly of this city, the boy's mother giving consent to the marriage of her son.

REFUSED TO PAY ALIMONY OF $1000

Sculptor Perry Prefers to Spend Six Months In Jail

New York, April 2.—Because he refused to pay his first wife's alimony to the amount of $1000, Roland H. Perry, a sculptor and painter, was committed to jail for a six months' term.

By going to prison Perry is relieved of the alimony obligation, or at least of the imprisonment, as the penalty for failure to pay, as the state laws provide that six months is the limit of jail confinement for the delinquency.

In 1906 Perry was divorced from Irma H. Perry and later married Mrs. May H. Fisher. He claimed inability to pay alimony as the divorce court ordered.

POPULAR PRESIDENT DIAZ

He Is Urged to Remain at Head of the Mexican Government

Mexico City, April 2.—Delegates came from all parts of the republic of Mexico to express today to President Porfirio Diaz their loyalty to his administration and to request him not to give up the presidential office at the close of his present term.

PRESIDENT DIAZ.

Today's demonstration was the greatest and most brilliant affair of the kind ever held in Mexico. In the grand parade appeared thousands of men representing the various states of the republic, all dressed in the distinctive garb of their parts of the country. An interesting and striking feature of the parade was the division of aged veterans of the war with France for independence.

The parade ended at the national palace, where it was reviewed by President Diaz. The aged ruler received a delegation of well known men and expressed to them his pleasure at the demonstration. He declared that while health and strength remained to him they would be placed at the service of the republic.

A THOUSAND YEARS OLD

Methuselah, Famous Toad of The Bronx Zoo, Cashes In His Checks

New York, April 2.—Methuselah died here at his home in The Bronx Zoo. He was 1000 years old. His death is ascribed to ills incident to old age.

Methuselah, also known as Rameses II, was a toad who was discovered in a rock pocket in a mine 500 feet below the surface at Butte, Mont., two years ago. He was sent to the Zoo here, where his age was carefully computed by the zoologists and geologists.

For a time he appeared to thrive in his new home, but later he seemed to become disheartened and for the past few weeks has been steadily sinking. His remains will be preserved in alcohol.

Plan to Prevent Keeping Children Out of Apartment Houses

Albany, April 2.—Landlords may no longer refuse to let apartments because tenants applying have children without being subjected to a fine for committing a misdemeanor, if a bill introduced by Assemblyman Goldberg becomes a law.

The bill also prohibits a provision in a lease that such lease shall terminate on the birth of a child in such house or apartment. The measure applies only to first class cities.

Encouraging to Footpads

San Antonio, Tex., April 2.—Justice Fiske, in a local court, ruled that a holdup with a revolver is not a robbery, unless the footpad secures money from his victims. Two men arrested for holding up a man on the street here were released.

DOWNS HELD IN $50,000 BAIL

Accounts Already Show Shortages Amounting to $67,126

BOOKS ARE TO BE AUDITED

Belief That Worst Is Not Yet Known Regarding Affairs In Baltimore City Hall—Alleged Embezzler Had Small Salary, but Spent Money In a Manner That Indicated He Possessed Quite a Fortune

Baltimore, April 2.—William F. Downs, the clerk in the office of the city register, is still under arrest, charged with embezzlement of funds belonging to the city, and further probing appears to reveal an even worse state of affairs in the city hall than had been expected.

It is charged that on numerous occasions when Downs went to make deposits in the several banks in which the city has accounts he made out deposit slips for sums ranging from $300 to $2000 less than the deposits should have been, afterward changing the bank tellers' figures in the bank books to show that the full deposits had been made.

Investigation of the various accounts already shows shortages amounting to $67,126. Mayor Mahool has engaged an audit company to make a thorough examination of the books of the office of the city register.

After having been released on $10,000 bail Wednesday, Downs was again arrested late Wednesday night and a warrant was sworn out Thursday charging him with the larceny of $2600. At the conclusion of this hearing he was held in $50,000.

Downs is 26 years old and has been twice married, his first wife having died. He has been living in a style very far beyond the means of a $900 a year clerk, which he was until recently, when he was promoted to a $1400 clerkship, much against his will.

His alleged peculations appear to run back to July 1, 1907. He has been known widely as a lavish spender. He kept a couple of race horses, had a quartet of prize fighters regularly in his pay, spent much money on prize fights and horse races, sporting trips out of town and dressed in expensive style. His home is beautifully furnished.

To some of those in whose company he spent large sums of money he is reported to have said that his first wife left him a large fortune, and to others that he won heavily on horse races.

His manner of living is said to have been well known to the police and detectives of the city and to many others, and Mayor Mahool is much exercised because no one has ever told him of it. Others of Downs' superiors in the city hall profess themselves as ignorant as was the mayor.

Downs is bonded in a local bonding company to the extent of $3000 and City Register Thomas is bonded to the amount of $50,000. The latter bond, it is claimed, covers any defalcations in the city register's office, but this appears to be in some doubt.

Downs is still in custody, bondsmen for the $50,000 fixed by Judge Stockbridge not having been secured. It is understood that should they be another warrant will at once be issued and Downs will be held under it.

STOLE TYPOS' FUNDS

Secretary of New Orleans Union Pleads Guilty of Embezzlement

New Orleans, April 2.—Samuel T. Stevenson, former financial secretary of Typographical union No. 17 of New Orleans, pleaded guilty to embezzling the funds of that organization in court here. Sentence was deferred. It is claimed that the defalcations amounted to about $10,000.

Henry S. Rudspeth, who was president of the union at the same time Stevenson was secretary, is under indictment charging him with fraudulently obtaining money from the union.

New Trial For Renard

Paris, April 2.—The court of cassation has ordered a new trial in the case of Renard, who was found guilty of August Remy's murder and sentenced to imprisonment for life. The ground for the retrial is that the original jury was selected illegally.

Sweden Honors Edison

Stockholm, April 2.—The Royal Academy has presented Thomas A. Edison with the Adelskiold gold medal for his inventions in connection with the phonograph and the incandescent light. This medal is conferred only once in ten years.

King to Meet Roosevelt

Rome, April 2.—The Tribuna publishes a rumor that King Victor Emmanuel will either meet Theodore Roosevelt in the straits of Messina or take Roosevelt to Sicily on board an Italian battleship.

Congo Legislation

Brussels, April 2.—The chamber of deputies adopted a resolution to reduce the number of natives employed by the Congo administration, to increase salaries and to pay all salaries in money.

GOVERNMENT JOBS ARE RELINQUISHED

Heads of Canadian Marine Officials Come Off

St. John, April 2.—As the result of an inquiry into the affairs of the Canadian department of marine and fisheries, nine officials have been dismissed from the service at various points, on the ground that they had accepted money to which they had no right.

Among those dismissed are Commander Spain, wreck commissioner; J. F. Frazer, commissioner of lights; George D. O'Farrell, inspector of lights; C. Thompson-Schmidt, inspector of government steamers; Captain Koenin of the government steamer Druin; A. E. Bruchmin, inspector of dredging; Agent Gregory of Quebec and several lesser officials.

In addition twelve engineers on government steamers are dismissed. It appears it has been the general custom for engineers to accept gratuities from contractors and supply dealers.

READERS OF CHEAP NOVELS

Three Youngsters Wanted to Go West to Tackle Indians

Boston, April 2.—Open windows of dwelling houses in villages along the Boston and Albany railroad were used as targets by three Brighton youths, who, armed with a rifle, boarded a freight train on their way to the west, where, as they described it, they intended to help run Crazy Snake to earth.

The Natick police, upon receipt of a telephone message that someone on a freight train had shot at a citizen of Wellesley, flagged the engineer. Two lads jumped from the train, but were arrested.

After the train had started the conductor found a third boy hiding in a coal car. The boy had a rifle in his hands and was turned over to the police when the train reached Framingham.

The boys were John O'Connell, aged 13; Davis Blanchard, 14, and Frank Mannix, 14. They admitted that they had been reading cheap novels.

SAVED BY CLEVER SISTER

How an Army Deserter Escaped Sleuths of the Secret Service

Niagara Falls, April 2.—Frank Easley, an army deserter, was at his home here when two secret service men appeared. They were met by Miss Nellie Easley, the deserter's sister, who was entertaining Ray Schnieder, her sweetheart. She burst into tears, embraced Schnieder, calling him "Frank," and cried out that she could not let them take him away.

Easley was in the next room and overheard all that was said. Schnieder was led away and the sister followed him to the front gate, sobbing. Over three miles of rough country road the officers led Schnieder to the East Alton, Ills., jail and locked him up.

When he thought there had been sufficient time for his sweetheart's brother to escape he told them who he was and proved his identity. The officers trudged back to the Easley home and found that Frank had fled.

AIRSHIP IN HURRICANE

But Zeppelin Managed to Remain In Air For Eleven Hours

Munich, April 2.—The Zeppelin airship made an attempt to fly from Friedrichshafen to this city and back. It encountered a storm and was driven far out of its original course, and, after eleven hours in the air, landed safely at Dingolfing, sixty-five miles northeast of Munich.

The airship will remain at the landing place at Dingolfing until the wind abates. It was not damaged in the hurricane and no one was injured.

It is understood that Count Zeppelin will make the return voyage to Friedrichshafen by way of Munich.

CLOUDS ALL DISPELLED

Sevria and Austria-Hungary Are Once More on Good Terms

Belgrade, April 2.—The final step in the conclusion of the difficulty between Austria-Hungary and Servia was taken when Count Forgach, the Austro-Hungarian minister here, delivered to the foreign office his government's acknowledgement of the Servian note accepting the solution of the trouble as proposed by the powers.

WEYMOUTH

The alarm from box 34 at shortly after eleven o'clock Wednesday night was for a fire in the woods back of the residence of Henry A. Richards on Front street. There was about 50 cords of cut wood stacked up and it was feared that the fire would destroy it. The fire department responded quickly and soon had the fire extinguished with a trifling loss. Box 34 was pulled instead of 32 which is located nearer the fire, to save the steamer from responding.

The alarm from box 57 Thursday afternoon was for a fire in the woods off Union street and quite a large tract was burned over before the fire was extinguished.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew P. Gloster of Bryant avenue are receiving the congratulation of their friends on the birth of a daughter, Saturday March 27.

Mrs. John M. Nash has been visiting her daughter Mrs Frank H. Walsh of Upland road, Quincy.

Miss Doris Taylor is spending the week with her aunt Mrs. Mabel Totman in Somerville where the latter is a teacher in the public schools.

The public schools will open again next Monday after the spring vacation of one week.

Col. Oliver Houghton of the staff of the National Commander G. A. R. is confined to the house the result of being thrown from an electric car Monday evening. He was leaving the car and it started up suddenly throwing him to the ground. He received a bad cut over the left eye.

The many friends of Rev. Robert H. Cochrane pastor of the Union Congregational church are pleased to see him about again after a severe attack of the grip.

What is believed to be the greatest musical congress ever attempted in the vicinity of Boston is at present under preparation by a vast chorus of more than 400 mixed voices, which on the night of Patriots' Day, April 19, in Mechanic's building, Huntington avenue, Boston, will render a two hour program that is bound to attract considerable attention from all parts of Greater Boston. The event is being arranged by the Young Men's Catholic association of that city and is to be conducted in aid of Boston College, the proceeds to be turned over to Rev. Fr. Thomas I. Gasson, S. J., the president.

Those interested in education in the greater city and the Catholic clergy and laity of the archdiocese of Boston are familiar with the work that Fr. Gasson has undertaken, namely, the extension of the present college to become a university with a series of finely equipped buildings to be erected on the land in Newton, and already named and known as University Heights.

A band of 75 pieces will furnish the accompaniment to the great chorus and then the extensive program of a peace conference, carried out in music will commence. There will be elaborate and extensive calcium and electrical features that will add an artistic element to the event which will be most pleasing as a scenic production. Catholic associations and individuals all over the Boston archdiocese have taken hold to aid the Boston organization.

CONVICTS WILL SERVE STATE

No Longer to Be Sold to Taskmasters In Georgia

LEASE SYSTEM IS ABANDONED

Traffic In Hundreds of Whites as Well as Blacks Has Sometimes Resulted In Collection of Last Ounce of Human Flesh and Its Final Drop of Blood—Negroes Join In an Impromptu Praise Service

Atlanta, Ga., April 2.—The last rag of Georgia's convict system was shaken off Thursday. Throughout the state hundreds of human beings were led from the depths of mines, from choking kilns, from whirring, dark factories—out into good sunlight; from the contral of harsh and often brutal taskmasters into the service of the state.

Georgia has no state penitentiary. For years her convicts have been sold into the mines, into the brick-kilns, into the factories, where private greed sometimes demanded and collected its last ounce of human flesh and its final drop of human blood.

But the state decided to abolish this traffic in whites as well as blacks, so, instead of selling its 1600 prisoners, it will work them on the public roads.

The change went into effect yesterday, when the convicts were returned to the counties in which their crimes had been committed. Most of the unfortunates are blacks of a low order of intelligence, sentenced for every conceivable crime.

Though shackled and ironed, the convicts greeted the change with shouts of joy and weird hymns of thanksgiving. Negro preachers were at most of the stockades and led the blacks in their impromptu praise service. Special trains were waiting and the prisoners transferred as rapidly as possible to their new quarters.

Strangely enough, some of the convicts cried on leaving scenes which had been a part of the daily life of some of them for many years.

The new system, it is believed, will not only improve the health of the convicts, but will assure Georgia the finest turnpikes in the south.

A SUBJECT OF COMMENT

Scant Courtesy Shown by Cubans Toward American Troops

Havana, April 2.—Not a ripple of public interest attended the final evacuation of Cuba by the last detachment of American troops. As the transports McClellan and Sumner steamed down the harbor the only recognition of their departure was by the German cruiser Bremen, which dipped her ensign, and by the American merchant steamships, which sounded their whistles.

The sea walls around Havana, which were thronged with 100,000 persons to witness the departure last year of a small Spanish training ship, were deserted yesterday, except for a small group of Americans gathered at Punta Castle.

The complete apathy of the Cubans on such an important occasion is the subject of much comment.

MINERS RESENT ARREST

Riot Follows and One of Them Is Shot to Death

Pittsburg, April 2.—One man was killed and another probably fatally injured in a riot between a crowd of miners formerly employed in the Harwick mines at Cheswick, near here, and two deputy constables at that place.

The dead man is Mike Strenyard, aged 20. Horwalk Bulterage, aged 24, has two bullets in his back, and his recovery is said to be doubtful.

The trouble started when the crowd of miners attempted to rescue a comrade who had been arrested. The shooting followed.

THREE BOYS AND TWO GIRLS

Stork's Generous Contribution to a North Carolina Woman

Winston Salem, N. C., April 2.—The wife of James Turner, a farmer living in Forsythe county, yesterday gave birth to five children, three boys and two girls.

The weight of the babies ranges from four to six pounds. All are thriving and the mother is doing nicely.

Mishap on French Liner

New York, April 2.—The French transatlantic liner La Touraine was crippled by the bursting of the main steam pipe of her port boiler and was compelled to abandon her voyage to Havre. Two of her oilers were frightfully scalded, but it is said that they will recover.

Oil Fields to Shut Down

Tulsa, Okla., April 2.—A four months' shut down on the Oklahoma oil field has been agreed upon by the mid-continent oil producers associations. Over-production and adverse state legislation are the reasons given.

No Revolution In Brazil

Rio Janeiro, April 2.—Reports of a revolutionary movement in Brazil are without the slightest foundation in fact. The situation is peaceful.

BRIEFS

W. R. Lofgren is building a house at Braintree for Walter E. Loud.

The store at the head of Granite street used for so many years for the post office, reopens on Saturday as a millinery store.

Rail Red Base ball Jrs., wish to play any 12 or 13 year old team in the State. Hunter, catcher; Little, pitcher; captain, Joseph Duggan, Grove street, West Quincy.

Mrs. Lewis P. Webber, wife of the late ex-chief of the Boston Fire Department, has sold her house on Independence avenue and will reside at 11 Russell park with her daughter Mrs. E. J. Murphy.

Sunday morning, at 10.45; the services at the Wollaston M. E. Church will be devoted to the work of the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Charles A. Fish, a Boston business man, who knows the work thoroughly, will be the speaker. No plea for funds will be made. Some new and interesting phases of this arm of the church will be presented. Please plan to attend this interesting service.

Mrs. C. P. Gould entertained sixteen tables at whist at her home on Adams street Thursday evening. A very enjoyable time was had by all in attendance, souvenirs were presented to the following: aWlter E. Howes, J. G. Bavin, M. A. Belyea, Mrs. M. Pitts, Miss L. J. Davidson, Mrs. Cora Carmen. At the close refreshments was served by the genial hostess.

—How to live on six cents a day has been solved in Chicago, if charges made by the Citizen's Association against the sheriff prove to be true. The association is seeking to force the sheriff to expend a little more of the 20 1-2 cents a day he receives for each prisoner on food.

"We found," says the association, "after thorough investigation ,that the grade of beef plates of briskets used in feeding the prisoners could be bought for four cents a pound or less. This indicates clearly that the cost of the meat fed to the prisoners does not exceed two cents a day a man. The mid-day meal, in addition to the meat, consists only of a piece of bread and a vegetable. The total cost of this meal, according to the estimates given the association, does not much exceed three cents. For breakfast and supper the prisoners are given only a piece of bread and a tin cup of coffee. The cost of these meals certainly does not exceed 1 1-2 cents each."—Boston Transcript.

—Congressman Moore of Pennsylvania, president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association, maintains that it is possible to travel, in a launch, all the way from Boston to Beaufort, N. C., in protected waterways, with the single exception of Cape Cod and Point Judi It has been done, he says, and he intends to do it over again this summer.

The Lady and the Sheep.

Some of the members of the British legation were talking about the late shah of Persia.

"When the shah was in London," said a young man, "he amused himself at a dinner party at a ducal residence in Park lane by appraising the beauty of the ladies present in number of sheep. Thus for a blond countess he said he would give 1,200 sheep; for a tall, slim baroness he said he would give 2,000 sheep; for a peeress of middle age he said he would give 250 sheep, and so on.

"Finally the shah came to the beautiful Mrs. Willie James. Everybody waited in anxious silence to hear the old heathen state her value in sheep, for she was thought to be the most beautiful woman in London.

"The shah looked at Mrs. James tenderly. He shook his head and sighed.

"'This lady,' he said, 'is out of the question. Neither I nor any other man in the world owns as many sheep as she is worth.'"

A Deliberate Native.

In a certain section of the country, where the natives take life easy, a young man and his sister were one day sitting on the porch when a funeral passed. The boy, who was whittling in a chair tilted comfortably back against the side of the house on its hind legs, remarked:

"I reckon ol' man Johnson's got about the biggest funeral that's ever been held around hyear."

"You betcher!" the boy answered.

"I would like to see it," replied the girl. "What a pity I ain't facin' that way!"

A Change of Tune.

"Mamma, I'm tired of going to school."

"What's the matter, Willie?"

"The teacher"—

"Now, don't you say a word against your teacher, Willie. I've no doubt you annoy her dreadfully, and she seems like a very nice sort of person."

"Well, she said this mornin' that she didn't think I had much of a bringin' up at home, an' "—

"Wait! Did she say that? Well, of all the coarse impudence! You shan't go back there another day!"

Exit Willie, grinning.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Qualified.

Parke—I don't know what I am ever going to do with that boy of mine. He is careless and absolutely reckless of consequences, and he doesn't seem to care for any one. Lane—Good! You can make a taxicab driver out of him. —Life.

A Precaution.

"Dickey," said his mother, "when you divided those five caramels with your sister did you give her three?"

"No, ma. I thought they wouldn't come out even, so I ate one 'fore I began to divide."—United Presbyterian.

Kicking A Goal

By LITTELL M'CLUNG.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Though it was only an hour before the great football game between Clinton and Darnall, their conversation was not of the gridiron as they walked down Main street bound for Clinton oval.

"There's only one thing that keeps me from becoming engaged to you right now, Thornton," said the girl after a serious pause.

"You'll have to tell me, Leta; I can't guess it," answered the stalwart quarterback of the Clinton eleven.

"Just this," she said. "I am not altogether sure that you really need me in your life. You are a strong, self reliant boy, capable of fighting your own way over the obstacles that will confront you.

"More than all else put together, I want to know that without my encouragement you would be accomplishing less—that I will always be an inspiration to you, no matter what your alms may be."

For a moment the young man did not reply. Then he looked at his companion, his gaze sincere.

"Leta, you're right," he agreed quietly. "That's the way I want you to feel about it. Deep down in my heart I know that you would always inspire me to strive for the best in life. But I must convince you of this, and I'll do it, too, dear girl, if I get the chance!"

"Maybe you will, Thornton," she replied, "and I hope that you will more than you can guess. Why—why not begin at the game today?"

"That's what I intend to do, Leta!" was his prompt response. "I expect to play as I never played before, just because you are wearing Clinton's colors and wearing my pennant. It's a pretty one, isn't it?

"The gold and brown stripes harmonize beautifully with that bright brown gown you are wearing. Your ticket calls for a seat back on the north goal, and I know I'll see you clearly despite the crowds."

"It certainly is fine," she declared, "that little me may be an inspiration to a Clinton boy to play at his best! But it seems almost a pity that you are not one of the halfbacks or in the line, though I know everything depends on the quarterback. He gives the signals and delivers the ball, doesn't he?"

"I know what you mean, Leta," he said. "You would like to see me in a position where I could run with the ball instead of handing it out to somebody else?"

The girl nodded.

"Well, that's because I weigh only 145 instead of 200 pounds," he continued. "After all, it takes sheer weight in the line, and that naturally slides me into the quarterback's place.

"But you mustn't forget that Clinton depends upon me to kick the goals, and a goal kicked or missed often wins or loses a big game like this."

They were now on the college grounds amid shouting hundreds and fluttering flags and pennants. Thornton assisted Leta to her seat high up in that part of the semicircular grand stand that stretched around behind the north goal.

"I hope Clinton gets the south end of the field," he said as he started off toward the clubhouse.

"Why?" she asked.

"Because then I'll be able to see the orange and brown magnet that's drawing me north toward Darnall's goal!" he said earnestly.

Soon the rival elevens trotted out on the field, and from the thousand tongued grand stand rose a mighty shout, while pennants, ribbons, handkerchiefs and flags mingled in a waving, varicolored mass.

It was the great wind-up game of the year, and there was a chance for any player to win a glory crown by making the deciding touchdown. Both elevens, it was evident, were steeled for the contest.

But, as fate would have it, Clinton got the north end of the field, and a savage quarterback waited for the umpire's signal with his back to the girl in orange who was waving a pennant —for him.

But despite this disappointment he gathered his strength for the charge, and as the shrill whistle struck his ears he leaped forward straight for the ball that lay on the line twenty yards in front of him. Biff! The oval went whirling through the air in a sixty yard parabola, with the whole Clinton team in pursuit.

The ball landed in the arms of Darnall's fullback, and the big fellow came back up the field in a series of lunges. But before a dozen yells had split the air he was down, with every Clinton man piling over him.

Then the shoulder to shoulder battle began. In three downs Darnall lost the ball. Then Thornton's opportunity came. To test Darnall's line he gave at the risk of having his own neck twisted a series of center rush signals.

Three times the heavy backs charged over him, and he felt his breath going fast as Darnall hurled back the plungers. End runs were tried with but little better success. Seeing that line rushes were hopeless, he gave the signal for a kick, and Clinton's fullback sent the ball far down the field.

But Darnall hurled it back with another kick. There were more close formation plays, followed by two more long distance kicks, while the air was filled with the cries of the spectators and the sharp, quick shriek of the umpire's whistle.

The time of the first half was almost up when suddenly out of a scrimmage rolled the ball. For a second nobody excepting Clinton's quarterback knew what had become of it.

Directly in front of him, not twenty yards distant, was Darnall's goal. Even a halfway drop kick might win the game. Thornton dropped the ball to the ground and swung his right foot. A great cheer went up, which died away suddenly in a groan. The ball flew high, but it didn't go within fifty feet of either post.

Thornton felt that all Clinton was disappointed beyond expression and deeply ashamed of the showing he had made after the college had boasted of his prowess as a drop kicker. He remained in dejected seclusion during the intermission.

But when the whistle sounded again he was like another man. Clinton had the south goal this time, and clearly the quarterback saw a girl in orange swinging a pennant in the grand stand. Already the throngs had forgotten his fluke in the hope of victory in the second half.

At the kick-off Thornton sent the pigskin seventy yards down the field and then plunged into the game with ferocious energy. He determined to redeem himself or perish in the attempt.

Neither eleven seemed able to break down the defense of the other until toward the end of the half, when Clinton began to come up the field steadily.

Thornton, his head clear as a bell, was playing at frightful pace, giving Darnall no time to catch its breath after each attack. But thirty yards from the goal line! Darnall braced itself heroically and stood like a stone wall.

"Only one more minute to play!" called the umpire, and the crowds took up the shout.

Thornton realized that in so short a time line plunges would be futile. There was only one hope of victory, another drop kick for a goal. While only twenty yards away, the goal posts were off to the left at an oblique angle.

There was about one chance in a dozen of putting the ball between them, but Thornton took it. He stood back of the line ready to call the signal, and the Darnall eleven, seeing it was to be kick, got ready to plunge through and break up the play.

Then suddenly the quarterback, looking directly between the goal posts, saw Leta in the grand stand in an attitude of breathless expectancy, and he knew more than the game depended upon his quickness and skill.

He stepped back a few yards, and with his eye riveted on the figure in orange he gave the signal in clear, sharp tones, "Three, double two, eleven!"

The ball struck his outstretched hands, and as he dropped it he shot out his right foot. The next second a big Darnall guard leaped over the line and struck Thornton head-on, sending him reeling senseless twenty feet from the spot where he was hit.

But the big man was half a second too late, for Thornton's toe had caught the ball squarely, and it went flying straight as a bullet between the goal posts and up into the grand stand, falling almost at Leta's feet!

A wild, deafening yell of joy broke over the field, but the quarterback did not hear it. Ten minutes later, when he came to, a girl was bathing his forehead, and he caught the glow of her bright brown dress. The crowd fell back respectfully.

"Don't worry, Thornton, dear boy," she whispered. "I saw you looking at me when you made that wonderful kick, and I know now how much I mean to you!"

Some Odd Animals.

Many curious animals haunt the marshy parts of South America north of the pampas. Frogs, big and ferocious (the ceratophyrs), given to making vicious springs when closely approached; the capybara, a cavy "contented with the bulk of a sheep;" the huge coypu rat and the swarthy, piglike tapir are frequently seen.

Along the forest margins troops of peccaries are often met with, occasionally the jaguar, sometimes the puma, likewise that toothless curiosity, the great ant bear, long in claw, long nosed and remarkably long tongued. Very plentiful, too, are those "little knights in scaly armor," the quaint, waddling armadillos. Long toed jacanas pace about upon the floating leaves.

A familiar object is the great jabiru, a stork with a preference for the desolate lagoons, where it may often be observed statuesque on one leg and wrapped in prospection.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Strenuous Methods of Healing.

Papuan medicine men are regarded with great respect by the natives. Those I have met certainly seemed energetic and hardworking. They sit close to the patient, massaging the seat of pain with much vigor, and, while they are thus rubbing, make a noise with their lips rather like that which a groom makes when rubbing down a horse. The process is a tiring one, and the medicine man stops at intervals to drink hot water in which taro has been boiled. His object is to extract some mysterious foreign substance from the sick man's body, and if he succeeds in this he receives a fee; otherwise he gets nothing. "No cure, no pay," is apparently the Papuan sufferer's motto. — Wide World Magazine.

The Social Realm

Have we not all, amid life's petty strife,
Some pure ideal of a nobler life
That once seemed possible? Did we not hear
The flutter of its wings and feel it near
And just within our reach? It was. And yet
We lost it in this daily jar and fret.
But still our place is kept and it will wait,
Ready for us to fill it, soon or late.
No star is ever lost we once have seen;
We always may be what we might have been.
--Adelaide A. Proctor.

MANY INTERESTING PAPERS READ

Wollaston Unity Club Holds Last Meeting of Season

The Wollaston Unity club held its last meeting of the season in the Unitarian vestry on Friday evening.

"Short studies in human nature" was the title of the evening's program, under the direction of Willard E. Keyes, and a very interesting subject it proved.

Mr. Keyes read the first paper on "Bores." He related the instance of a friend of his who said there were two kinds of bores, animal and mineral. The latter were useful in subways etc but the animal variety were simply an ornament.

He mentioned some of the famous bores, citing the cases of Columbus and Grant as examples.

Mr. Keyes defined a bore as a serious person in the company of the frivolous or a frivolous person in the company of owls.

Miss Gertrude Green treated the subject of "Difficult people" in story form in a most interesting manner.

She said that women formed the majority of the class of difficult people and she aptly described each variety.

A clever poem full of alliterative phrases was included in the story.

H. Houghton Schumacker ably presented the "Young person" quoting varied authorities and illustrating his subject with many personal anecdotes.

One may go through life without being good, great, famous or notorious, said Mr. Schumacher, but everyone must be young.

The young he said, as a rule, are curious, easily taken in, fond of pleasure and full of vanity.

Mr. Schumacher went on to show how these proclivities in later life under proper guidance, form some of the elements which go to make up success.

When she was a small child, she said there were three things she looked forward to: being able to control her temper, stay up as late as she desired, and have all the candy she wanted.

When one reaches the great divide of life, or middle age, one realizes, she said, the minor importance of the little things of life.

Some of the signs which tell of the approach of this period in a person's life are when one begins to think a hat is too young for them or doesn't care whether one's sleeves are in style or not.

But, after all, she said, it is not the wind-fall or the early greening which is relished to most but the ripe apple mellowed through a winter's keeping.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Mrs. I. H. Greene, president; Rev. Carl G. Horst, first vice president; Mrs. Edward A. Pean, second vice president; Mrs. C. R. Taylor, secretary. Executive board: Mrs. R. E. Park, Frederick H. Bishop, Willard E. Keyes.

It was voted to leave the matter of the annual banquet in the hands of a committee with Mrs. R. E. Park as chairman.

REGULATIONS

BOARD OF HEALTH

At a meeting held Mar. 19, 1909, the Board of Health of the City of Quincy, revised and adopted, and do hereby publish the following regulations:

Regulation 1. No person shall collect, remove, or carry in or through any of the streets, lanes, avenues, places or alleys within the City of Quincy, the contents of any cesspool, vault, privy, or privy well, the drainage of any stable, dwelling house, slaughter house or other building in the city, unless expressly licensed therefor by the Board of Health, upon such terms and conditions and by such methods as the Board may deem that the public health requires, and upon failure to comply therewith, the license shall be forthwith revoked and cancelled. No privy-vault or cesspool shall be cleaned between 6 P. M. and sunrise.

Reg. 2. No person shall deposit the contents of any privy-vault or cesspool, or any other filth, upon any premises within the limits of the city, without first having obtained a permit to do so from the Board of Health. Nor shall any cesspool for the retention of waste water be within ten feet of any house, unless otherwise permitted by the Board of Health. No privy vault or cesspool that is not water-tight, shall be maintained within two rods of any well, spring, or other source of water supply used for drinking purposes.

Reg. 3. No person shall keep swill or other house offal except in a closely covered receptacle.

Reg. 4. No person, unless expressly licensed therefor by the Board of Health, shall collect, transport or convey swill, fat, grease, bones, or any decaying, putrifying or offensive animal matter or vegetable substance through any of the public streets or ways of the city. All vehicles and vessels for the transportation of the above named substances shall be made and kept in such condition as will prevent the escape of any of their contents, or the odor thereof, and each wagon shall in addition, be covered with a clean and sound, heavy canvas, fastened securely to the wagon so as to entirely conceal the same from view. Every vehicle so used shall have the initials of the owner, and number of the wagon, in letters and figures three inches in size, painted on the outside of each side thereof.

Any violation of this regulation will be punished by a fine not exceeding $100.

Reg. 5. All persons licensed by the Board to remove the contents of privy-vaults and cesspools, and all who collect and transport swill, refuse and offensive animal or vegetable substances, shall keep all carts, equipments and implements used therefor, disinfected and free from all obnoxious or offensive odors when not in immediate use, and shall not allow the same to become obnoxious or offensive to the public or to the owners or occupants of premises adjoining those where the same are kept or stored.

Reg. 6. No person shall place, or cause to be placed, or empty, or cause to be emptied, upon any street, way, lane or sidewalk, any house dirt, offal or rubbish, any sewage, or the draining of any sink or stable, or the contents of any cesspool, vault, privy or privy well. No person shall cast any decayed vegetable or dead animal substance, house dirt, offal, or rubbish, ashes or cans, into any cesspool, privy-vault, or into any well, cistern, reservoir, pond or waters within the city, nor drown, nor cause to be drowned, any animal in any of said waters. And the carcasses of animals dead of disease or killed for any cause, shall be buried at such distance from dwellings, or wells, or other source of water supply, that no danger or nuisance can result; and no person shall establish or maintain any stable, swine pen, privy, or privy-vault, cesspool or sink drain within ten feet of any stream, watercourse or pond, or to allow any overflow from such stables, swine pen, privy-well, cesspool or sink drain to enter any stream, watercourse or pond in this city. Nor shall any person obstruct or cause to be obstructed any water course, with any substance whatsoever.

Reg. 7. The keeping of swine, goats, cows, or poultry in any part of the city where such keeping shall be held by the Board of Health detrimental to the public health or offensive to the neighborhood, is hereby prohibited, and after due notice by said Board to the owner or person in charge, he shall forthwith remove the same or cause the same to be removed, from any place at which the keeping thereof shall be prohibited by the Board.

Reg. 8. No person shall burn, boil, try or decompose any refuse substances, either animal or vegetable, in such a manner that the same shall evolve odors or gases obnoxious or offensive to the public or to the owners or occupants of adjoining premises.

Reg. 9. The Board of Health hereby adjudges that the deposit of sputum in public places is a nuisance, source of filth and cause of sickness, and it is hereby Ordered that spitting upon the floor, platform or steps of any railroad or railway station, car, public building, hall, church, theatre, market, or any sidewalk, be and hereby is prohibited.

Reg. 10. Every occupant or owner of any dwelling house, tenement or other building in this city, shall keep such house or building, and the yard belonging to the same, free from all filth and from all substances having offensive odors.

Whenever a vault, cesspool, barn or cellar or any building on premises of any description, becomes offensive the same shall be satisfactorily cleaned, ventilated and disinfected, by the occupant or owner within such reasonable time as the Board of Health may in a notice thereof prescribe.

Whenever the Board of Health is satisfied on due examination that a cellar, tenement or building within the city occupied as a dwelling house, has become, by reason of the number of occupants, want of cleanliness, or other cause, unfit for such purpose, the occupants shall remove therefrom within forty-eight hours after written notice has been given them.

Reg. 11. No rags, old paper or other refuse material collected from dumping grounds, streets, or recovered from any source, shall be brought into or allowed to remain within any building used as a dwelling.

Reg. 12. No person shall store or keep, or allow to be stored or kept in any living rooms in house of which he is the owner or occupant, any fruit for merchandise.

Reg. 13. The waste pipe of every sink now in use shall be furnished with a four inch round trap unless there is already some trap connected thereto, approved by the Board of Health.

Reg. 14. No privy vault shall hereafter be constructed on any premises which can be connected with the city water.

Whoever violates any provisions of any kind of these regulations shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offence.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Reg. 15. The Board of Health considers the following diseases as dangerous to the public health within the meaning of the statute: Actinomycosis, asiatic cholera, cerebro-spinal meningitis, diphtheria, glanders, leprosy, malignant pustule, measles, scarlet fever, smallpox, tetanus, trichinosis, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, typhus fever, chicken-pox, whooping-cough, yellow fever and ophthalmia neonatorum.

Reg. 16. If a physician knows that a person whom he is called to visit, is infected with small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof in writing over his own signature to the Selectmen or Board of Health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice he shall forfeit not less than fifty or more than two hundred dollars for each offence. Revised Laws,—Chapter 75, Section 50.

QUARANTINE.

Reg. 17. Any person sick with any disease dangerous to the public health and all articles infected by the same, shall be immediately separated from all persons liable to contract or communicate such disease, and none but nurses and physicians shall have access to persons sick with said disease. No person sick with any of said diseases shall be removed at any time except by permission and under the direction of the Board of Health.

Reg. 18. Any home in which any of the above diseases shall occur, may be declared in quarantine by the Board of Health, or its authorized agent or agents. When a house has been declared in quarantine, all persons residing therein shall be subject to the Rules of the Board of Health relating to quarantine.

Reg. 19. All persons residing in a house that has been declared in quarantine shall confine themselves to said house or its immediate grounds, and shall not hold communication with well persons. Communication with said house shall be limited to physicians, nurses, and undertakers, and such persons as may be needed to supply its inmates with the necessaries of life and in such manner as the Board of Health may direct.

Reg. 20. When in the opinion of the Board of Health, or its agent, the necessity for quarantine has passed, it shall declare the quarantine raised, and disinfect the house.

See Chap. 75, Sec. 42 Revised Laws, as amended by Chap. 445, section 36 of the Acts of 1907. "If a disease which is dangerous to the public health breaks out in a town, or if a person is infected or lately has been infected with such disease, the Board of Health shall immediately provide such hospital or place of reception, and such nurses and other assistance and necessaries, as is judged best for his accommodation and for the safety of the inhabitants and the same shall be subject to the regulations of the board. The board may cause any sick or infected person to be removed to such hospital or place, if it can be done without danger to his health; otherwise the house or place in which he remains shall be considered as a hospital, and all persons residing in or in any way connected therewith shall be subject to the regulations of the said board and if necessary, persons in the neighborhood may be removed. When the board of health of a city or town shall deem it necessary in the interest of the public health to require a resident wage-earner to remain within such house or place, or otherwise to interfere with the following of his employment, he shall receive from such city or town during the period of his restraint compensation to the extent of three fourths of his regular wages: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that the amount so received shall not exceed two dollars for each working day.

Reg. 21. Every dwelling where diphtheria, scarlet fever, cerebro-spinal meningitis and small-pox is known to exist shall be conspicuously labelled at its entrance with a card properly specifying the disease; such card there to remain until removed by the Board or its agent, or by permission of said Board.

See Revised Laws, Chapter 75, Section 43. "Whoever obstructs the Selectmen, Board of Health or its agents in using such means, or wilfully removes, obliterates, defaces or handles such red flags or other signals shall forfeit not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

Reg. 22. No child shall be allowed to attend the public schools while any member of the family to which said child belongs is sick with cholera, yellow fever, small-pox diphtheria, membraneous croup, scarlet fever, measles, chicken-pox, mumps, whooping cough. German measles, typhus fever and epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, or during a period of two weeks after the death, recovery or removal of such sick person; and any pupil coming from such family shall be required to present to the teacher of the school the pupil desires to attend a certificate from the attending physician and endorsed by a member of the Board of Health, of the facts necessary to entitle such child to admission in accordance with the above regulation. No child or person living or boarding in a family in which any of the above diseases exist, shall be allowed to remove or cause to be removed from such family until all danger from contagion has passed and the house has been relieved from quarantine.

Reg. 23. No person from any dwelling wherein a disease dangerous to the public health exists; shall take any book or magazine to or from the Public Library without a permit from the Board of Health. The Board will inform the librarian of all cases of said diseases, and until a written permit is given, the librarian shall allow neither books nor magazines to be taken to or returned from the dwellings where such cases exist.

Reg. 24. No house shall be disinfected less than four weeks after the reporting to this Board of a case of scarlet fever.

Reg. 25. All bedding and personal clothing or property exposed to contagion or infection by any of the diseases dangerous to the public health, shall be at once properly cleansed, fumigated or destroyed, as the Board of Health may direct.

Reg. 26. No patient affected with any contagious disease will be considered well and free from quarantine until the attending physician, or a physician employed by the Board of Health, certifies that he has personally inspected the patient and found that he is no longer a source of danger. No such certificate will be received by the Board of Health, in case of scarlet fever, until at least four weeks have elapsed from the reporting of the illness, and desquamation is complete. No certificate of recovery, unless endorsed by the secretary of the Board of Health will admit said patient to attend any school in the city.

Reg. 27. When a person who has been sick with any of the diseases specified in Regulation 14 has recovered or died, the Board of Health, upon notification in writing by the physicians in attendance, that the house is ready for disinfection, shall proceed to disinfect said house in such a manner as it shall deem proper, provided that in case of scarlet fever at least four weeks have elapsed since the reporting of the sickness.

Reg. 28. Every person engaged in the production, storage, transportation, sale, delivery, or distribution of milk, shall immediately on the occurrence of any case or cases of disease dangerous to the public health, either in himself, or in his family, or amongst his employees, or within the building or premises, where milk is stored, sold, or distributed, notify the Board of Health, and may be made to suspend the sale and distribution of milk until authorized to resume the same by the Board of Health. No vessels which have been handled by persons suffering from such diseases shall be used to hold or convey milk until they have been thoroughly sterilized.

Reg. 29. Any undertaker or other person having in his care or possession the body of a person who has died of Cholera, Yellow Fever, Small-pox, Diphtheria, Membraneous croup, Scarlet fever, Measles, Typhus fever or epidemic, cerebro spinal meningitis, shall give immediate notice to the Board of Health, and shall cause such body, including the face to be wrapped in a sheet saturated with a solution of Corrosive Sublimate not less than 1-500 in strength, or a 40-100 solution of Formaldehyde, and shall immediately place it in a sealed coffin, which shall not thereafter be opened. He shall notify the said Board or its agent, of time when body is to be removed, and shall sign a certificate containing a true statement of the fact that he has complied with the foregoing provision of this section, and he, and every person having charge or custody, or right of disposal of the body, shall cause the burial to take place immediately, and in all cases within eight hours after the time of death, unless further time shall be allowed by the Board of Health. A private funeral shall be held, at which none but the immediate adult relatives and clergymen shall be present. The body shall, in no case be removed in any carriage used in conveying passengers.

Reg. 30. The use of "wall draperies" in any room or place used for the preparation or retention of any human body before a funeral, is hereby forbidden.

VACCINATION.

Revised Laws Chapter 75, Section 136. A parent or guardian who neglects to cause his child or ward to be vaccinated before the child or ward attains the age of two years, except as provided in Section one hundred and thirty-nine, shall forfeit five dollars for every year during which such neglect continues.

Section 137, as amended by Acts of 1902, Chap. 190 Sec. 1. The Board of Health of a city or town if, in its opinion, it is necessary for the public health or safety, shall require and enforce the vaccination and re-vaccination of all inhabitants thereof and shall provide them with the means of free vaccination. Whoever refuses or neglects to comply with such requirements shall forfeit five dollars.

Section 139, as amended by Acts of 1902, Chap. 190. Section 2, further amended by Acts of 1902 Chap. 544, Section 10. Any person over twenty-one years of age who presents a certificate signed by the Register of a Probate Court that he is under guardianship shall not be subject to the provisions of Section one hundred and thirty-seven; and any child who presents a certificate signed by a registered physician designated by the parent or guardian, that the physician has at the time of giving the certificate personally examined the child and that he is of the opinion that the physical condition of the child is such that his health will be endangered by vaccination shall not, while such condition continues, be subject to the provisions of the three preceding sections of this chapter; and the parent or guardian of such child shall not be liable to penalties imposed by Section one hundred and thirty-six of this chapter.

Section six of chapter forty-four of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapted three hundred and seventy-one of the Acts of the year 1906 as further amended by Chapter 215 of the Acts of the year 1907. A child who has not been vaccinated shall not be admitted to a public school except upon presentation of a certificate granted for cause stated therein, signed by a regular practising physician that he is not a fit subject for vaccination.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES AMONG DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

Reg. 31. Whoever has knowledge of, or has good reason to suspect, the existence of a contagious disease among any species of domestic animals, whether such knowledge is obtained by personal examination or otherwise, shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Board of Health.

Reg. 32. No person, except as ordered or directed by the Board of Health, shall drive or cause to pass through said city, from place to place or from place to place therein, animals diseased or infected with pleuro-pneumonia, farcy, or glanders, or rabies or any other contagious or infectious disease.

Reg. 33. Persons having the care and custody of animals diseased or infected with pleuro-pneumonia farcy, glanders, or rabies, or any other contagious or infectious disease, whether their own property or otherwise, and having received an order for their isolation, shall neither sell, swap, trade, give nor in any way dispose of such animals; nor drive, nor work, nor move, nor allow them to be moved away from the place of isolation, nor allow other animals, not already exposed, to come in contact with them until otherwise ordered by the Board of Health, of the City of Quincy, or the State Cattle Commissioners.

Whoever violates any of the provisions of the foregoing regulations(31, 32 and 33) shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year.

ABANDONED CESSPOOLS AND VAULTS.

Reg. 34. When vaults, privies or cesspools are hereafter abandoned they shall within ten days (unless otherwise permitted) be thoroughly cleaned, disinfected and filled with earth or other suitable material and left in a proper condition satisfactory to the Board of Health.

Whoever shall violate the provisions of this Section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred (100) dollars for each and every offence.

Reg. 35. All complaints to this Board must be made in writing over complainant's signature.

MILK.

ARTICLE 1.

Section 1. All persons in the city of Quincy engaged in the production of milk for sale, or in the conveyance in carriages for the purpose of selling, delivering or distributing milk, in said city, shall, annually, on the first day of May, or within thirty days thereafter, make written application to the Inspector of Milk, on farms prescribed by the Milk Inspector, for a license. All persons in the city of Quincy before selling milk, or offering it for sale in a store, booth, stand or market place, shall make written application to the Inspector of Milk, on forms prescribed by the Inspector of Milk, for a license.

Section 2. No person in said city shall engage in the business of producing milk for sale, or in the sale or distribution of milk in the city of Quincy, without a license, so to do, under these regulations; said license to be revoked if the licensee fails to comply with the conditions of his license.

Section 3. No milk shall be sold, offered for sale or distributed in the city of Quincy which was drawn from cows within fifteen days before or five days after parturition, nor from cows suffering from retained placenta, nor unless the cows from which it was derived, have within one year, been examined by a competent authority, and shown to be free from diseases dangerous to the public health.

Section 4. Every person having a license to sell, deliver or distribute milk in the city of Quincy, shall keep a copy of the same constantly posted in a conspicuous place on his premises, and shall have his name, the number of his license and his place of business marked in plain, uncondensed Gothic letters, not less than one inch in height, on all vehicles used by him in the conveyance and sale of milk.

Section 1. No milk kept for sale or distribution shall be stored in any portion of a building which is used for the stabling of horses, cows or other animals, or for the storing of manure, or in any room used in whole or in part for domestic or sleeping purposes, unless the storage room for milk is separated from other parts of the building to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Milk.

Section 2. No person engaged in the business of producing milk for sale, or in the business of storing, selling or delivering milk in said city, shall store, cool, strain or mix said milk in any room which is occupied by horses, cows or other animals. All rooms in which milk is stored, cooled, strained or mixed, shall be provided with tight walls and floor and kept constantly clean. The walls and floors of said rooms shall be of such construction as to allow easy and thorough cleansing. The room or rooms aforesaid shall contain proper appliances for washing or sterilizing all utensils actually employed in the storage, mixing or cooling, sale or distribution of milk, and all such apparatus and utensils shall be washed with boiling water or sterilized with steam regularly after being so used.

Section 3. No urinal, water closet or privy shall be located in the rooms called for in the preceding section, or so situated as to pollute the atmosphere of said rooms.

ELLS OF BENEFITS GAINED FROM APPRENTICE SYSTEM

W. Alexander Gives Practical Talk To Fore River Boys.

An interesting and practical talk as given to the 165 apprentices of he Fore River Ship Building Co., Friday, by Magnus W. Alexander of he General Electric Co., Lynn. The ecture was one of a series that has been arranged for by the company or its apprentices.

After expressing his pleasure at being given the priviledge to address he apprentices Mr. Alexander said: It is a serious business in which ou are engaged as learners, and that in which I and my colleagues are engaged as teachers. It would be somewhat of a little joke if I should ell you that a trade can be learned by taking it up haphazardly here and here. It would be somewhat of a ittle joke if I should tell you that ou could learn a trade by attending ome industrial school where they each so-called arithmetic and industrial trigonometry. That would ot make a trade, that would not make a mechanic, nor enable him to learn a trade. You have to practice it. And in order to learn it well ou have to practice it under proper guidance, in a systematic manner. That is what an apprenticeship system is installed for.

Having talked with Mr. Smith in the last two hours about this feature of the Fore River Ship Yard, and having learned in a general way what you are doing here, I presume that you all are not only all learning a trade in a most systematic and up-to-date fashion, but also are acquiring an industrial intelligence through the class-room work such as will elevate you from the lower level of men solely schooled in the handling of their tools in doing his manual work, to the higher plane of the one who at the same time has proper perspective of all this work, who has the ability to conduct the work that he is doing at the same time,—and, in other words, to develop in him the power of imagination, the ability to look ahead, the ability to reason from facts of the moment to the consequences of the next moment—or the next year.

As soon as you have learned to do that you have qualified yourselves for responsible positions, to leadership. Leadership to a large extent consists in the ability to take the conditions of now and to consider the probable obligations as to the consequences later on.

I confess that while I have spoken quite frequently to manufacturers and told them their faults in not developing apprenticeship systems. While I have spoken quite frequently to teachers and told them of their faults in not giving the boys in the public schools the kind of training that will develop certain characteristics essential to one of your reasoning, and as I have spoken to citizens at large and pointed out to them their faults in being somewhat inert in this whole movement, I have never spoken especially to apprentice boys, and if I should attempt to point out to you your faults I do not know whether or not it is more deserved than in other instances.

An apprenticeship such as is developed here and which to my mind is one worthy of the name, must be based on this broad principle. It must teach a trade and it must develop the industrial intelligence to which I have already referred. The trade will be learned in the shop wherein the work is actually done under the conditions that exist in industrial work. The philosophy that the best training for industrial life is in industrial life is fully borne out. Instead of being taught a trade by demonstration, there you are drawn constantly into the real conditions of life, with all the black shadows that of necessity must exist, there you are drawn into an apprenticeship in the actual conditions of the calling for which you are fitting yourselves, and you simply follow step by step until after 4 years you have come to a point,(an imaginary point), where we say to you, "We have done the best we could by you."

There is no line of demarkation. It is an imaginary point of the time you have allowed the firm. I am sure that you will recognize the enormous advantage of such a training.

I am not sure that you will see the enormous advantage of the training in the class-rooms. Many of you no doubt have left school, the public schools, and have come here or gone into other industrial pursuits because you got tired and sick, (as the plain language is), of books and of study. And the moment you come in here you are asked to go into the class-rooms for two hours a day and take up the books again and study. You are therefore careless and feel the indifference which you developed in the public school and which, more than anything else, is responsible for your coming away from the public schools, unless you open your eyes wide and see the vast difference between what you have had and what you are getting now.

The class-room instruction which you are getting now is of genuine importance just as much as if you were working on a shaper or a planer or any other kind of tool to perform a certain line of work. It is one and part of the manual work.

In these class-rooms we are trying to give you an understanding of all those things that you are doing in the shop. We are trying to train your functions to give you that power to think, to perceive, to reason, which is the all-important thing.

Knowledge alone is not education. Knowledge is only the means to the end, and the aim of education must be to develop that end. You know just as well as I do that there are many men who have studied books all their lives and have acquired a vast amount of knowledge, and yet have not succeeded. But there are other men who cannot boast of the mastery of any one particular science and yet have mastered success. Why? Because they have learned to look ahead and see clearly, reason clearly, to do, to do well. This is what we are aiming to do with you. To develop the essential characteristics for success in you both in a practical field in short, and in what you may call the theoretical field in the class-room,—the equipment to fit you for leadership.

It is not the intention of the management of the Fore River Company, or the management of any concern where a well developed apprenticeship system is established to make mechanics only. The aim is to make mechanics of such a type that from them a good many may be selected for positions as assistant foremen, foremen, master mechanics, superintendents, factory engineers, managers and what not. I advisedly say we are not trying to make foremen. No that is a fallacy which will never survive. We must try to instruct them and make them intelligent mechanics of such equipment that they themselves may make foremen out of themselves. Andf you will realize that in the struggle for existence which is growing keener every day you must have more than the ability of the hand, you must have an intelligence that is being taught—that we are trying to develop by the class-room instruction. Now if you look at it in that light you will get a different view of education from that which you might have had in the grammar schools, and if you have that different view then I am sure you will begin to put your heart and soul into it, and in proportion to which you put your heart and soul into it will you succeed.

It is simple as can be the arithmetic that you are being taught, the geometry, the mechanics. It is just as simple as can be. It is so simple that everybody can master it and show his efficiency by a 100 per cent. mark, and you will get a 100 per cent mark, or you will approximate it just as soon as you put the right attitude into that work.

I want to discuss just those instructions and education which you are getting now here, which you may have gotten somewhere if you didn't come here—with all due respect to the public school system; which you might have gotten from the high school, and the enormous value of which is usually overlooked and ignored not only by you young people, but by a good many, entirely too many, of the grown up people, who might know better.

The work of life consists of these two parts,—the work period when you have to earn the money with which to pay for the necessities of life, and the leisure period between the work period. It is just as essential to employ the work period in a proper manner, and to do your work in the right spirit, as you do in regard to the leisure period, and if you would only employ both to the best advantage, in the best manner, you would have the full happiness of living.

Let me explain to you. Take one who does not consider the leisure period of life in a serious manner and has not learned something in the night school, or at any school, or done some useful studying,—because in the long run studying never is satisfactory except what is useful,—he who has not done that studying is he employing his leisure time? He goes home in the evening after a day's work, he has not particular interest except perhaps a game of cards, a game of pool or billiards and the like. For a while that amuses him but soon the novelty of it wears off, and then he has that feeling that I am sure most of you have had too often, who have had the time drag heavily on their hands, and not know what to do with themselves, and who get into a feeling that is almost a disgruntled feeling, and you go to bed with that disgruntled feeling and you wake with that disgruntled feeling, and you go to work with that disgruntled feeling, and your work shows it. Now take the other type of man. The man who has learned to enjoy good reading, not trashy novels or newspapers that have no intrinsic and inherent value, who has learned to enjoy music or art, what will he do when he comes home in the evening. Very likely after supper he will take up a good book and read it with understanding and enjoyment, or he may take up the History of Napoleon not to glory in the battles he fought, but to glory in the constructive policy that has resulted in the greatest nation that the world has ever seen. And the time will go, and you will keep on reading until 10, 11, 12 o'clock, until your eyelids drop heavily, and you go to bed with a smile, and you wake up with a smile, and you go to your work with a smile. And your work will show it.

There is the difference between a man who has taken his education, whatever it may be, seriously, and in his leisure time of life, and between the one who has taken whatever education he has taken as a matter that must be taken just like medicine. Now I should like you to give a few moments in your own mind to this thought and try to recall instances in your young life, and am sure that you will agree with me. Perhaps not to the full extent,—you are young yet, but if you agree with me to some extent there is hope that you will go further in that direction and benefit by what I have to say to you today.

I could go into details of the work in the shop and in the class room that you all have to do in your apprenticeship work, but there is neither time to do it, nor do I think that would be of principal importance. Let me rather in a very brief manner outline to you what has come under my own observation.

One is this. Whatever work you do, do with full intention of doing it right and as well as it can be done. Realize that you are not doing it any more to pass an examination. You have reached another life,—the industrial life as wage earners. And as you make your bed so will you rest in it.

In school, and I was as bad as the average bad boy when I was your age or younger,—in school we have the idea that the main thing is the passing of the examination in order that we may pass to a higher grade. Now that is passed, while you are given examinations in order to test your efficiency, you must take it not that you are here to satisfy the teacher just by that one examination, but that you are helping yourselves by forging ahead steadily all the time in the right direction.

If a man says something that is not true and sticks to it, then for some external or internal reason he is found to be untruthful, elect him a member of the Ananias club. Now if you do some work in the shop, if you drill a hole which ought to be 1 inch and no longer, and you drill it a trifle larger and try to pass that along in the hope that no one will see it you are in exactly the same boat as the other man whom I have just mentioned. You have told a manual lie, and it is just as bad as if you had told a lie of any other nature.

This thought came to me as I came down on the train, reading the morning paper. I found a little article which I cut out, which struck me. President Faunce of Brown University made the following statement;—

That there is much truth in the old saying that "murder will out" is proved by the arrest of the alleged murderer of Annie Mullins at Arlington in March 1908.

Many people will be disappointed and many people will be pleased by Mr. Hammerstein's announcement that Salome will not be presented in Boston. Had Mr. Hammerstein chosen any other week than Holy week, it is doubtful if such a storm of protest would have been raised.

By the appointment of Mrs. Emma E. Thomas as attendant for the lepers of Penikese Island, the state board of charities has granted the mother's prayer to be near her son, and has also provided her with a way to care for herself in her voluntary exile. An attendant was needed as there are ten lepers living on the island, and as it was Mrs. Thomas' desire to be there the appointment was the logical thing to do.

President Eliot's refusal to accept the ambassadorship to Great Britain will cause very little surprise, among his friends, or the public at large.

While Dr. Eliot had all the necessary qualifications for the office, it was thought that his desire to remain in this country, enjoying a much needed and well-earned rest would keep him from accepting the appointment.

Who will be appointed in his place is hard to determine, although rumor has it that Dr. Hill the present ambassador to Germany will receive the appointment.

While the President will make no statement, it is apparent that our next representative to the court of St. James will be a man noted for his studious qualities rather than for his wealth.

As many of our readers have undoubtedly noticed, the merchants of Quincy are making unusual preparations for a busy spring trade.

Each day new and attractive advertisments are being printed in the Ledger, which clearly illustrates the value of the Ledger as a "business getter."

There are many advertising schemes worked every day, but in the long run, there is no scheme quite as good as plain newspaper advertising.

Women are especially fond of noting the bargains and other attractions listed in the newspaper advertisments. Men too, although they rarely acknowledge it, scan the advertisments and note the prices of different articles for future use.

Ask any normal, every day person what kind of advertisments they like best and in nearly every case they will say "newspaper advertising."

The old way of advertising namely sending out fliers or circulars is fast disappearing. In the first place such advertising cheapens a store in the eyes of the public, and in the second place no clean and tidy housekeeper likes to see her front piazza or her yard covered with fliers.

Evidently most of the merchants realize this and also that if they want to get the best line of customers, the way to do it is to advertise in a live and up-to-date manner and not depend on cheap and unsightly fliers that are rarely read and are considered only good for the waste paper basket or to light the fire with.

DR. HAWKINS TO SPEAK.

The Mothers' Association of Bethany church has secured the Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins of Jamaica Plain for the speaker at the public meeting next Wednesday evening. Dr. Hawkins is one of the very best authorities on Psychotherapy, having studied the subject thoroughly in this country and abroad, he is a prolific writer, and the author of "The Quest of Health and Happiness." His subject for the Quincy address is "The Power of Suggestion in the Home and School." Miss Alice Gertrude Coe of Atlantic will be the soloist of the evening. The public is cordially invited to this meeting.

☞A free lecture on Christian Science will be given Sunday afternoon, April 4, at 3.30 o'clock in Science hall, at Braintree, opposite the depot. The lecturer, Mrs. Mims is from Atlanta, Ga., and well qualified to explain the subject.

CRUCIFIXION AT FIRST CHURCH

Lenten Cantata To Be Sung By Quincy Singers.

The musical critic of the churchman has the following to say about the Lenten cantata, "The Crucifixion" by Sir John Stainer which will be sung by a chorus of Quincy singers under the direction of E. Landis Snyder in the Stone Temple Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, to which all are invited; there will be no tickets of admission as the church will be free to all who care to come to hear this beautiful composition.

"An awakened interest in the observance of Lent is manifesting itself throughout Christendom, and nowhere is this more noticeable than in the realm of church music. When the late Sir John Stainer gave to the world his setting of "The Crucifixion," he became the pioneer of the Lenten cantata. The great Passions of Bach, and other musical giants were impractical for ordinary church use. Large choral and instrumental forces and the most highly trained professional soloists were and are required for their fitting presentation."

"The Crucifixion," with its appropriate and reverent atmosphere, with its obvious and direct appeal, at once became the medium through which countless multitudes joined in "Meditation on the Sacred Passion of the Holy Redeemer."

"Following the lead of Stainer, other composers have endeavored to emulate his work, but so far without much success. For the most part the results of their labor are but imitations, with little or no sincerity."

FIRST CHURCH VESPER SERVICE.

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at First church the "Crucifixion" by Sir John Strainer will be sung by soloists and chorus under the direction of Mr. E. Landis Snyder with the following program:

Recitative: "And they came to a place named Gethsemane"
Processional: "Fling wide the Gates."
Hymn: "O mysterious condescending"
Recitative: "He made Himself of no reputation."
Quartet: "God so loved the world."
Hymn: "Holy Jesu, by the Passion."
Recitative. "Jesus said 'Father Forgive them.'"
Duet: "So thou liftest they divine petition"
Hymn: "Lord, I have left Thee, I have denied."
Recitative: "And one of the malefactors."
Hymn: "I adore Thee I adore Thee"
Recitative: "When Jesus therefore saw his mother."
"Is it nothing to you."
"After this, Jesus knowing that all things were accomplished."

DANGER IN DELAY.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Quincy.

Nicholas Albanese, living at 16 Gilmore street, Quincy, Mass., says: "I was annoyed by a dull backache for some time and often while at work, sharp shooting pains would dart through my loins and cause me great misery. I also had dizzy spells and my eyesight seemed to be affected. I tried many remedies but did not receive relief and as a last resort, decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store, began their use and was instantly relieved. I have no hesitancy in giving Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for my cure and I highly endorse them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo. New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BRIEFS

The regular weekly whist party of the Washington Social club was held last night and the scores were high and close.

The monthly prizes for March at the Granite City club whist tournament were captured by Henry F. Tilden, George W. Jones and W. W. Mitchell.

Mrs. Edward Ryan of number 4 Walnut street, returned from St. Elizabeth's hospital, Brookline street, Boston, on April first. She is the happy mother of an eight pound baby girl two weeks old.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held Monday evening and as the matter of a school lot for Houghs Neck will probably come up, there will no doubt be a large attendance of citizens.

Lenten services were held yesterday afternoon in the Bethany Congregational church. Rev. E. A. Chase of the Wollaston church gave a Bible reading on "A wise head and a young heart."

Miss Viola Bicknell, Miss Frances Cannon and Miss Anna Lang, three Washington school teachers, left last night on a week's trip to Washington, D. C. Besides the National Capitol stops will also be made in New York and Philadelphia.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. John B. McCormick of Emden, Ill., formerly of West Quincy, because of the death of their second oldest son, Samuel E., after a few days' illness of pneumonia. He was thirty years of age and leaves a widow and three children.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the West Quincy M. E. church were entertained Wednesday evening by Mrs. F. L. Badger, Crescent street. After the regular business, plans were made for an entertainment and supper to be held in the vestry, April fourteenth. During the social hour ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Robert S. Sturgis of Bay State road, Boston, gave an interesting talk to the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostoms church Friday afternoon on what the Woman's Auxiliary were doing in China, Japan and Liberia. Mrs. Sturgis had many souvenirs of forign lands which the ladies enjoyed seeing. Light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Rev. Edward A. Chase of the Wollaston Congregational church gave the third in his series of Lenten addresses at Bethany church yesterday afternoon. The attendance at these meetings has been large and the services most helpful in every respect. The adresses are carefully thought out, beautifully expressed and exceedingly practical. The last address in the series will be given Good Friday afternoon.

BRAINTREE.

Mrs. Adelbert A. Palmer of Highland avenue entertained the members of the matrons' whist club at her home, Monday evening.

The students at the Thayer Acadmy have been enjoying their spring vacation this week. The school will reopen next Monday.

The sale of the entire estate of Fred A. Powdrell near the Braintree-Randolph line is reported, the purchaser being the Shipman Realty Co. who will develop it. Mr. Powbrell will continue to occupy the house.

Many of our young people are home from college this week, and the Smith-Dartmouth dance takes place this evening at Cochato hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton L. Emerson of 135 West street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby daughter on Wednesday, March 31.

The Elmwood Whist Club of Weymouth was entertained at the home of Mrs. S. A. Neale on Washington street, Friday afternoon. A dainty lunch was served.

The health lectures of W A. Spinney which begin next Tuesday evening are not on the New Thought, but the result of seven years personal investigation on physiological, psychological and philosophical lines, which convince him that law underlies health of body, mind and soul. He is able to give much practical help on daily health.

Mrs. Harry Snow of Washington street is making an extended visit with relatives in Rockland.

Mrs. Brainerd Dyer of Salem was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Dyer of Washington street.

B. F. Dyer of Washington street has been a victim of siatic rheumatism for the past two weeks.

Miss Elizabeth Thompson of Washington street is making an extended visit with her friend, Mrs. Mary Wilkins Freeman of Metuchen, N. J.

Mrs. Lilla Dunham and son of Brooklyn, New York, spent the early part of the week with her father Lawrence Dyer of Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Holder of Crescent avenue are receiving congratulations because of the birth of a son, who came to them on Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. William Heath, who have been living the past fourteen years in Cochesett are now making their home with their son, William H. Heath of Hobart avenue.

Mrs. James H. Kilbrith of Washington street entertained at bridge, Thursday afternoon. After the game a dainty lunch was generously served and sociability added to a most pleasant afternoon.

H. W. Mansfield, who has been housed for an extended period because of illness is able to get to his store daily to oversee his business. His many friends are glad to see him about again.

Mrs. Scott Haseltine, of French avenue, passed away suddenly early Thursday morning, in her 30th year. She was born in North Easton, and previous to her marriage lived in Holbrook. She was graduated at Thayer Academy. About two months ago Mr. and Mrs. Haseltine moved into their new home and were very pleasantly located, and death came as a great shock. Mrs. Haseltine was a member of the Philergians and regular in attendance. The interment will be at Randolph today.

At the weekly shoot of the New England Kennell club last Saturday, I. R. Thomas gave his rivals a handicap but secured a leg for the Club cup. He was also tied with W. O. Gay for the Season cup.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stedman returned Monday from Washington, D. C. In an automobile accident while out riding at the capital, Mrs. Stedman sustained a painful cut over one of her eyes from a piece of broken glass, and was also somewhat shaken up. She has almost recovered from the injury at present, however. The accident was due to slippery pavements. While in Washintgon Mr. Stedman appeared before the Massachusetts Senators, in reference to some of the schedules in the Payne tariff bill.

On Tuesday evening Rev. Mr. Cochrane addressed the Kappa Alpha Kappa fraternity in the Union church of South Weymouth on "Camping and tramping experiences in the White Mountains."

The fourth of the series of vesper services on "Great Hymns and Noble Hymn Writers" will be given at the Union church Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The subject will be "John and Charles Wesley." All are cordially invited.

Special Union services of the Union church and the Universalist parish will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week at 7.30 commemorating the last events in the earthly life of our Lord before the crucifixion. Rev. M. S. Nash will be responsible for the services on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, preaching once and providing a speaker for one evening. Mr. Cochrane will preach on Thursday evening and Rev. C. F. H. Crathern on Friday evening. All the members of the parish and the public in general are cordially invited.

The annual dancing school ball connected with Miss Hayward's two dancing classes passed off very successfully last Saturday afternoon at Braintree. Miss Hayward looked charming in her white empire gown. The grand march was lead by two little four-year-olds, followed by about forty couples. The matrons were Mrs. F. A. Brown, Mrs. George S. Young, Mrs. Walter Thompson and Mrs. Richards of Wollaston. Every available seat was filled with interested guests. Ices were served. The brilliant decorations and the large gathering made a very festive occasion.

Walter B. Gage, principal of the Hackley School for Boys, Tarrytown, N. Y., accompanied by Mrs. Gage, were the guests of his brother Harold M. Gage, Cedar and Washington streets the past week.

Mrs. Edward Holmes of Middle street passed away on Thursday in her 65th year. She leaves a husband, two sons and a daughter. The body was taken to Methuen today for interment.

About 10 A. M. on Thursday, James McSweeney left the home of his daughter, Mrs. John O'Connell of Pearl street, to go to his cobbler shop on Hancock street. When he did not return at noon, a search was instigated and he was found dead at his shop, probably from heart failure. He was 73 years of age and leaves two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Long of Leominster and Mrs. O'Connell. The burial will be at East Weymouth on Monday.

HOLD SECOND ANNUAL REUNION

Members of M. F. S. Make Merry at Poland Hall.

The class of 1907 of the Massachusetts Fields school held its second annual reunion in Poland hall on Friday evening.

Among those present were C. Ralph Taylor, principal of the school and Miss Ruth Taylor, teacher of the eighth grade.

The evening opened with a grand march led by Mr. Taylor and Miss Taylor followed by Arthur Robinson and Miss Olive Fay.

The program of the evening followed this, Arthur Robinson acting as master of ceremonies.

The class prophecy ,a bright and spicy article redundant with hits on the various pupils, was read by Miss Jessie French.

It contained a forecast of the members of the class as they would be in the year 1917 and each line called forth new bursts of merriment.

Mr. Taylor and Miss Taylor were called on for speeches and responded gracefully.

A permanent committee of five was chosen to take charge of all future reunions and meetings of the class.

This consists of: Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Florence Luhman, Edwin Finnegan, Donald Welsh and Edward Carlson.

The remainder of the evening was taken up with games and dancing with Miss Florence Luhman at the piano. Refreshments were served.

The committee in charge of the evening were.

Executive Committee, Arthur Robinson, Edwin Finnegan, Edna Marr, Saphronia Rose, Harry Wilson, Donald Welsh.

MILTON.

Dr. Robert Edson of Boston is to locate on Bates road, East Milton.

The Philippine exhibit at the public library will continue until the middle of the month.

The body of Curtis Gould was recovered Friday from the Neponset river. The boy disappeared Dec. 28 and although the river had been dragged and dynamited there was no trace of the child.

The family of G. S. Hamlin have moved from Washington to Eaton street.

W. H. Moores has returned from a several weeks' trip to Florida.

The fire department has been called out nearly every day of late on still alarms to extinguish grass fires.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sheldon have returned from a six weeks' trip to California.

Work on the new freight depot at East Milton is progressing very slowly. The post foundations for the structure were put in some weeks ago and the lumber for the building is on the ground but the carpenters, however, have failed to put in an appearance up to date.

A Mr. Edison of Boston has purchased the Hammond estate on Bates road and will occupy at once.

COMMITTEE INSPECT LOTS.

The members of the School Committee made a visit to Houghs Neck Friday afternoon to look over the several sites that have been proposed for a school lot. The Committee looked at the Norteman, Cavanagh, Peterson and other lots. The Committee however took no action whatever in the matter as it did not desire to interfere with the City Council. As there has been so much talk about the different lots the Committee simply desired to see for itself what had been offered.

☞A Free Lecture on Christian Science, will be given Sunday afternoon, at 3.30 o'clock in the Science hall, at Braintree, opposite the depot. The lecturer Mrs. Mims is from Atlanta, Ga., and well qualified to explain the subject.

—In England, the House of Commons, after a long debate, voted 157 to 122 in favor of extending full Parliamentary suffrage to all women. The House has several times before voted for suffrage for women with a property qualification, but this is the first time it has recorded itself as in favor of the ballot for all women. The bill has never yet got through the House of Lords.

John O. Hall, Jr., who is in town for a couple of days after visiting Washington with the pupils of his senior class, was present at the annual dinner of the Washington Harvard club on Tuesday of this week. It was a most interesting occasion, the guests of the club being the president of the United States, President Eliot, Senator Root and other men of national prominence. Among them our former citizen, Hon. Charles Francis Adams. There were 250 present. Mr. Hall reports a most interesting and profitable excursion. His party was received with several hundred others by President Taft on Monday afternoon and had a very pleasant meeting with Speaker Cannon, in the Speaker's room of the House of Representatives.

COCHATO CLUB BOWLING.

Team 8 wins the Cochato bowling tournament by one and one-half points, scoring 97 out of a possible 120. Team 7 has been a very close rival throughout and had a lead of seven and one-half points Wednesday night, but Team 8 made nine and are the champions. This team is composed of G. A. Arnold, Dr. H. A. Jones, W. C. Harrison, Dr. E. Bent and Dr. W. S. Davis. On totals this team lead team 7 only 30 pins.

The standing to date:

Tuesday Night.

Team 9 made a glorions ending this week, being the victorious team on Tuesday, when they scored 7 points. They had made but 13 points in the previous eleven nights. Team 4 added 6 and team 1 was second best twice.

COMMITTEE CONCESSIONS

No Tariff on Tea and Proposed Duty on Coffee Abandoned

NO OTHER GREAT CHANGES

High Protection Forces Gaining Strength and Expect to Win—Cannon Organization Almost Ready to Put Through Rule Cutting Off Amendments—Coffee, Charts and Sections of Trees Are Used

Washington, April 3.—The ways and means committee has finally decided that the essentials of the Payne bill shall not be changed in committee. The glove, hosiery, linoleum, millinery and other schedules in which the women of the land are particularly interested will stand as they are.

The high protectionists have been rallying the past two or three days and they believe they have won their fight. Two concessions, and two only, have been made by the committee. The duty on tea will come off and the countervailing duty on coffee will be abandoned as a result of the representations made by Brazil. Possibly a separate vote will be permitted on lumber and hides.

Every possible influence is being exerted to bring insurgent Republicans into line for the bill with the minor amendements the committee agrees to accept. And yet in spite of the work that has been done, many Republicans, chiefly from the middle west, are still unwilling to support a rule which will cut off amendments other than those named in the rule.

But the Republican machine is all-powerful and the prospect is that the Cannon organization will be able to put through a rule not later than next Monday. Every Republican has been asked to be in his seat on that day, and the Democrats have likewise been asked to be on hand.

President Taft is still doing what he can to bring about a situation in the house which will permit a vote. He is exceedingly anxious that the bill shall be hurried along. Business interests in every section of the country are appealing to him to speed the legislation. The bill may be put on passage next Wednesday, but there is division of opinion on that point.

The determination of the organization not to permit a separate vote on a proposition to increase the internal revenue tax on beer is causing much comment. Here again there is the insinuation that the liquor interest was tangled up in the fight over the rules. The demand for an increased tax on beer has been coming strong from the west and the south the last few days.

To illustrate their arguments on the tariff, members and delegates have brought into the lobby of the house, just back of the speaker's desk, hundreds of exhibits. Representative Mann of Illinois, who spoke on the duty on print paper and wood pulp, displayed in the lobby sections of trees from Maine to California with the age rings carefully counted and noted. Every process of the wood in the making of paper was shown by the exhibition of specimens in sticks, boxes, bottles or sheets.

Commissioner Larrinaga of Porto Rico is interested in the duty on coffee and he brought in an assortment from every country in the world that produces the berry. The samples are displayed in elegantly finished boxes.

Mr. Cole of Ohio made a speech on wool. He brought on to the floor of the house unwashed wool off the back of a sheep.

When Mr. Cushman of Washington defended the duty on lumber he displayed a score or more of charts which he has arranged in the corridor so they will continue to argue with the members.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming has resorted to the same method of driving home his argument for coal duties.

WON'T BE AMBASSADOR

Eliot Cannot Accept Position Offered by President Taft

Washington, April 3.—Both at the state department and the White House it is officially announced that Dr. Charles W. Eliot, the retiring president of Harvard university, has definitely and finally decided that he cannot accept the tender of the ambassadorship to Great Britain.

President Taft is considering no one for the place at this time, as no change is contemplated for some time to come.

Death of Emily Hazard

Newport, R. I., April 3.—Death has ended the 100-year journey through life of Miss Emily L. Hazard, member of a well known New England family noted for its numbers and longevity. Miss Hazard was the oldest of a family of nine children, her death depleting the number of living members to five.

Penobscot River Open

Bangor, Me., April 3.—Two large fields of ice that jammed at points one and two miles below Bangor passed down to the bay Friday afternoon and the port of Bangor is now open to navigation for the first time since Dec. 10.

CHAMPION TRAVERS SAILS

Our Best Amateur Golfer Goes Abroad to Try For British Honors

New York, April 3.—Sailing today on the Caledonian for Scotland was Jerome D. Travers, amateur golf champion of the United States, who is going abroad to test his skill against the best British players of the "royal game" on the historic links of Scotland and England.

JEROME D. TRAVERS.

Travers is entered in the British amateur championships, which will begin at Muirfield on May 24, and will practice on the British links before the championship games begin. He is modest in his hopes of success abroad.

BOSTONIANS WILL NOT SEE "SALOME"

Clergy and Leading Citizens Raised Strong Objections

Boston, April 3.—The opera "Salome," which the Manhattan Opera company intended to present at the Boston theatre next Thursday afternoon, will not be given because of protests from Governor Draper, Mayor Hibbard, Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church, Vicar General Patterson of the Roman Catholic church, Rev. George A. Gordon of the Congregational Trinitarian body, former Governor Guild and other leading citizens.

The clergy object to the opera on moral grounds and many of them consider that a presentation of "Salome" next Thursday would be a profanation of Holy Week.

Mayor Hibbard notified the lesses of the Boston theatre that if the Manhattan company persisted in its intention of producing "Salome," he would invoke such power as he possessed to stop the presentation.

As a result of the numerous protests Manager Hammerstein decided not to present the objectionable opera.

CLEARED BY GRAND JURY

New Yorker Killed Policeman Whom He Mistook For a Burglar

New York, April 3.—The grand jury refused to indict Edward J. Byrnes, who shot and killed Police Sergeant John B. Goldhammer as the latter was forcing an entrance into Byrnes' apartment in search of evidence for use in certain policy prosecutions then under way.

The case has attracted wide public attention because of Byrnes' plea that Goldhammer had no warrant and he believed the officer was a burglar. Byrnes appears to have convinced the grand jury of the truth of this contention.

WILL BE SAFE IN AFRICA

No Danger Likely to Occur to a Husky Man Like Roosevelt

Stamford, Conn., April 3.—Bishop Hartzell of Africa, who is in attendance at the Methodist conference in this city, ridicules the story that Theodore Roosevelt would incur danger to himself during his trip to Africa.

The bishop said that after leaving the steamer the party would travel 300 miles on a good railroad, and with an up-to-date outfit there was absolutely no danger for a husky man of 50, as Roosevelt is.

Queen Helena Gets a Medal

Rome, April 3.—M. Barrere, the French ambassador, presented to Queen Helena the French Red Cross medal in recognition of her courageous conduct in visiting Messina at the time of the earthquake and ministering to the sufferers.

Hay and Straw Ban Remains

London, April 3.—The board of agriculture has revoked the order of Nov. 20 declaring a quarantine against cattle shipped from New York and New Jersey. The ban prohibiting the importation also of hay and straw remains unchanged.

THE
(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries

LETTER CARRIERS' ANNUAL BALL

Affair This Year Expected To Surpass All Previous Balls.

The annual concert, reunion, and dance of the Letter Carriers' Mutual Benefit Association, will be held in Mechanics building, Boston, Thursday evening, April 15. The letter carriers of Quincy are united and most enthusiastic in making this reunion a social and financial success. Daily the boys in gray can be seen while patrolling their routes with a pleasing smile, in anticipation of the coming event, which promises to be an evening of pleasure and merry making.

Arrangements for the affair have been in progress for the past two months and reports from all parts of the postal district, indicate that this reunion will be the greatest affair in the history of the organization. A corps of 40 fashionably gowned matrons and young ladies, will assist the officers and reception committee in receiving and entertaining their guests. Every provision is being made for the comfort and pleasure of the many thousands of friends, who will undoubtedly be in attendance, and to accommodate this great throng both Mechanics and Exhibition halls have been secured. These spacious halls will be handsomely decorated, with national colors, works of art, ferns, palms, and potted plants in profusion. One of the features of the evening will be a musical program arranged by the Boston Letter Carriers Band of 40 pieces from 8 till 9.15. This will be in Mechanics hall, which will be reserved for dancing, to continue until 2 o'clock. Exhibition hall, will be used for a promenade, and for serving refreshments, and here an orchestra of 30 pieces will play promenade music throughout the evening. Young women will serve light lunch, ice cream, cake, and coffee until the close of the reunion.

Quincy being just admitted to the Boston postal district, the carriers of this city have become members of the Letter Carriers Mutual Benefit Association. This association is one of the largest of its kind in New England. It is organized on business principles with a charter from the state, it pays in sickness, a weekly benefit, and time of death $1,000 to the widow or orphans. When carriers become disabled, or unable to perform their duty, through sickness, accident or old age, their pay at once ceases, the government makes no provisions for them. It is to supply the lack of government aid in cases of sickness or death, that the carriers have united to establish a permanent benefit fund. Every dollar realized from these reunions is used in paying sick and death benefits, as according to the charter, none of the Association money can be used for any other purpose.

The lists of invited guests includes the names of men prominent in national, state and city affairs. Among whom are the following: Postmaster E. C. Mansfield, Assistant Post-master Frank H. Haynes, Governor Edwin S. Draper, Lieutenant Governor L. A. Frothingham, Superintendent Hammond of the Quincy branch and several of our city officials.

FREE LECTURE.

At Science hall in Braintree, (which is situated opposite the depot,) a public lecture will be given free to those interested, at 3.30, Sunday afternoon. The lecturer is Mrs. Sue Harper Mims, of Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Mims is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First church of Christ Scientist, Boston, and is abundantly qualified to authoritatively explain the subject of Christian Science, which is occupying so much of the public thought, at the present time, on account of what it has accomplished. Mrs. Mims has been in the lecture field for a good many years and is a pleasing speaker.

This lecture is given under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Braintree, the public is cordially invited, and no tickets are required. This church holds meetings in their hall every Sunday at 10.45 A. M. and on Wednesday evening, at 7.45, testimonial meeting is held, at the same place.

A free reading room is maintained in this building, to which all people interested in the subject are invited to call. All Science Literature can be read in the room or purchased if desired. It is kept open every day, except Sunday and legal holidays, as well as on Tuesday evenings.

COCHATO CLUB.

The candle pin tournament for men was concluded this week, having been in process since Jan. 12.

Bowling teams representing the ladies of the Cochato club and ladies of the Allston club met at Braintree on Tuesday afternoon, and close games resulted. Cochato lost the first string by 8 pins ,the second by 14 pins, and the third by 19 pins. The totals were:

Cochato	347	383	397	1127

The Cochato team included Mrs. Wilder, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Barbour, Mrs. Crocker and Mrs. Lefavor.

A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the Strube Orchestral Club last night in the closing number of the winter's program. The twelve musicians were assisted by Mrs. Marie Sundelius, soprano and Miss Elsie Livermore in original monologues. Messrs. George O. Wales and George E. Williams were the committee in charge.

STATE HOUSE LETTER.

Robert Luce made a point in his speech at the Congregational club Monday night well worth the attention of the legislature. He gave instances regarding social and sanitary legislation for the benefit of poor people and the general health and public welfare wherein European nations are outstripping us in progress by legislation, and said that, in spite of our supposed pre-eminence, we have such hostility to new legislation that genuine progress is hindered. Committees are hostile to petitions, as a matter of principle. Senate and House would rather kill than make alive, and the public suffer accordingly.

Mr. Luce also said that he did not believe in constitutional prohabition, and that brings up the liquor record of the club which he addressed, though doubtless a majority of the members would vote for constitutional probition. Some eight or ten years ago, when the club met in Horticultural hall, a written protest against liquor in the frozen pudding, though opposed by some ministers as well as laymen when privately circulated, had such support that the management said the practice should cease. Over and over again there were lapses, always followed by promises of observance. As the good name of the club was constantly injured, finally a new rule was proposed that no alcoholic flavoring, or semblances of it, be used in any refreshment served by the club. The executive committee who passed upon it turned it down unanimously. The president of the club presented the matter to the club with such ridicule that an outburst of laughter followed and had to be faced by the member who presented the rule. Yet it was adopted by over-whelming vote. Last Monday night there was the alcoholic flavoring again, as if the rule had never been adopted. At the previous meeting, since the uplift of the Chapman revival, two ministers, at the club, ridiculed the rule. Yet, in spite of the proportion of liquor Congregationalists in the club, and the violation of their rule, Mr. Luce made a great hit and is evidently regarded as the conspicuous republican leader upon moral issues. Considering that the machine has slated Frothingham and Lawrence for the governorship before he runs, the attitude of the mass of the party becomes important.

Quite a movement is in progress for a constitutional amendment to permit the classification of property for taxation. Only by such an amendment will it ever be possible to pass such a law as was recommended by the recent recess committee on taxation, but found by the supreme court to be unconstitutional. But such a law is in force in some other states, in substance, and it has worked very well for the equalization of taxation and bringing into the tax lists a large amount of property which runs to cover away from the assessors under our system of taxation. Nothing can be done by the present legislature, for the subject has not been formally presented, and it is not to be supposed that the branches would suspend their rules at this stage of the session in order to admit it. But the proposition has strong backing and if the education of the people is pushed during the interval before the meeting of the next legislature, strong support could be made possible in 1010. Taxation reform remains practically at a deadlock, in spite of constant efforts and one student of the situation has told me this year that the personal property which escapes taxation in this state is about $2,000,000,000. But this is double the estimate which the men gave not long ago who were fighting the tax-dodgers and it seems to be incredibly high. But there is not the slightest doubt that an enormous amount of personal property escapes the assessors, nor that the adoption of the proposed amendment, followed by the desired legislation, would reduce taxes materially all over the state. It is equally certain that if the law is not changed the present tax-dodging will continue.

The Senate vote against turning half of the liquor license fees into the state treasury was just what was expected and the vote will be repeated indefinitely unless the temperance workers can bring more moral suasion upon the legislators. Any change to their views is not in sight as far as can be seen ahead.

Gov. Draper and President Treadway are in a serious dilemma in consequence of their position that the legislature ought not to address any resolutions to Congress. The state has always done it whever it chose and it is now well known that these leaders opposed the resolutions in question because they might seem to be out of sympathy with a large navy. But, since that stand was taken and the arbitration resolutions were defeated, has come up the matter of passing a resolution against a national inheritance tax. That tax is a part of the Payne tariff bill and, if it becomes law, it will be very serious for Massachusetts. A conference was held by Gov. Draper, President Treadway and Speaker Walker to see what should be done, and they favored adopting a resolution of protest, but without anything to show that it is for effect upon Congress. But such a position merely makes the state stand up and holler without sending the resolution where it will do good. All the force is taken away by this supposed necessity of saving the face of the officials in a course in contarst with the historic course of the state. Some of the members of the legislature are strongly of opinion that the distinguished leaders are wrong that they will try to secure the adoption of an additional resolution to transmit the protest to Congress(according to immemorial practice, where it may have some effect.

The committee on legal affairs is unanimous against the petitions for change of the Sunday laws by permitting the clearing of public skating surfaces on Sunday, and the playing of base ball, golf and tennis.

State Treasurer Chapin got the bank commissionership plum from Gov. Draper's hand this afternoon at the meeting of the executive council.

Councillor Bemis, who is a frequenter of the republican state committee rooms in common with A. P. Lantry of the Springfield Union, a candidate for Chapin's chair as state treasurer, promptly moved that the rules be suspended that Mr. Chapin be confirmed. This was done. Of course Chapin's resignation as treasurer will come at once, and his qualification to be bank commissioner. There would thus seem to be no reason on the surface of affairs why the republican legislative caucus should not be held at once and the agony be ended for Candidates Langtry and Senator Stevens, who are in fear that a dark horse enter the field, though none is in sight yet.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL

Washington, March 27, 1909.

The leaders in the House have formulated tentative plans for the passage of the Payne tariff bill and unless these plans miscarry the measure will be voted on about April 15th. Mr. Payne's hopes are that the general debate will be allowed to run until next Wednesday, when a rule will be presented providing for ten days' debate under the five-minute rule; then three days to be consumed in the consideration of and votes upon amendments. Republican leaders realize of course that the rule must contain some restrictions upon amendments if the bill is to be disposed of before the late summer. The present indications are that there will be no united opposition to the bill as a whole.

President Taft has told the members of his cabinet that he expects each to assume all responsibility for and exercise supreme control over his department, and that each head of a department will be held responsible for the conduct of that department. He has emphasized the fact that he wants results and has assured the members of his official family that they are free to select their own assistants without personal or political assistance from the White House. Mr. Taft thinks it would be unjust for him to hold his cabinet officers responsible for results should he, for political reasons, dictate the men on whose assistance they must rely for the success of their respective departments. While assistant secretary and similar officers are "Presidential officers," the President has indicated his intention of exercising this prerogative only in appointing men desired by the department heads. As a result of this policy, Members of Congress and that portion of the public which has to deal with federal appointments, will soon find that they must deal directly with the department heads, if they wish things accomplished, instead of carrying every request and every complaint to the White House. In this way the President hopes to find more time for the important affairs of the government.

The one question constantly asked at the Capital, in every informal discussionof the tariff is, "Will the Payne bill raise a sufficient amount of revenue?" and the question of additional revenue is causing the leaders in both Houses of Congress no little uneasiness. The Inheritance tax, a possible income tax and the duty on tea are all criticised and objected to. There seems to be a strong sentiment in the House for the removal of the duty on tea and its replacement by an additional fifty cents a barrel on beer. A number of representatives are endeavoring to organize a movement to demand a vote on this question, and doubtless all representatives from prohibition districts will join in such a movement. The suggestion is frequently made, and meets with favor, that the best way to increase the Treasury balance is to cut down the annual expenditures.

At his own request President Taft has been elected a member of the Legal Aid Society. Ex-President Roosevelt has been one of the vice-presidents for many years, and among others are Governor Hughes, Andrew Carnegie, Joseph H. Choate, Seth Low, Elihu Root, Jacob H. Schiff, Robert De Forest, William B. Hornblower and Mrs. Douglas Robinson one of Colonel Roosevelt's sisters. This society was organized in New York City many years ago, and its chief purpose is to provide attorneys free of charge for poor persons under arrest or indictment who prove after a careful investigation to be in need of counsel.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma has three measures in the Senate, which are considered typical of political and economic thought in that State. One is a bill to authorize national banks to conform to the laws of any state where deposits in state banks are guaranteed; another is a joint resolution to provide by constitutional amendment for the popular election of United States Senators, while the third provides for an amendment to the constitution to authorize the national government to levy an income tax.

At the request of the Maritime League of New York, Senator Depew has introduced an interesting resolution. It calls for the Secretary of State to send to the Senate all correspondence between the State Department and the Republic of Cuba relating to the question of recognizing coffee roasted in the United States.

Again President Taft has expressed to Colonel Goethals his earnest desire to see the Panama canal completed by 1913, and while the Chief Engineer cannot promise this accomplishment before 1915, he told the President that every force would be put to work to hustle things. Some of the President's friends think that this desire to see the canal completed in January 1913 means that Judge Taft expects to serve his country as President only four years.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Keith's Theatre.

The week of April 5th at Keith's Theatre will see one of the biggest vaudeville bills in the history of the house. At the head of it will be Karno's English comedy company in "A Night in an English Music Hall," probably the greatest laughing show that has ever appeared in this country. This is the production in which a stage is shown on a stage, with the boxes filled with people and the English singers and performers of different kinds do their turns, while those in the boxes take a most prominent part. The inebriated swell, who expresses his approval and disapproval of the different performers, is one of the greatest bits of comedy introduced in years. The company is a large one, including the originals who appeared in the London production. Others will be Charles Leonard Fletcher, who has just returned from a successful season in London with some new impersonations; Edward Davis & Company, in a sketch called "All Rivers Meet At Sea;" the Mangean Troupe; Lancton, Lucier & Company; Arthur Huston; Alexander and Scott; Sansone and Delilah and others.

Boston Theatre.

Monday evening, April 12, the Boston theatre returns to its former high estate as the house of big productions when the huge melodramatic success of the theatrical season—"Via Wireless"—will be produced with the original company of the long runs at the Liberty theatre, New York City, the Chestnut Street Opera house in Philadelphia and the Opera house in Chicago This is Frederic Thompson's latest production of the dramatization by Paul Armstrong and Winchell Smith. "Via Wireless" is a remarkable production because of two massive, realistic and spectacular scenes, declared to be the most notable ever staged in these respects. One shows the forging room of a steel plant at Pittsburg with work in full blast and another depicts a thrilling wreck and rescue at sea during the action of which a complete wireless plant is seen in practical operation. The company of players has many local favorites.

Park Theatre.

"Father and the Boys," by George Ade, and W. H. Crane, dean of the American comedy stage, and the very best of native comedians, giving his finest art and delightful personality to the leading part, is the attraction at the Park theatre. It must be seen to be appreciated. In "Father and the Boys" Mr. Ade has demonstrated that he is now in the front rank of native playwrights, a past-master of fun in all its phases. And his fun is so clean, healthy, wholesome and contagious. This new piece fairly bristles with laugh-compelling dialogue. There is a riot of it from start to finish, and Mr. Crane gets every iota of fun out of every line given him to speak. Nothing is overdone, nothing underdone. No one who likes comedy at its best, no one who likes drama of any kind whatever, should fail to see Mr. Crane at the Park theatre. He is a delight, a real joy. And he is not the whole show by any means. There are a number of pretty girls, clever girls, beautifully gowned girls, and some clever and handsome men, and they all have clever things to do, and they do them cleverly. And "Father and the Boys" has a capital story to tell—a story that makes you laugh immoderately and makes you think also.

Castle Square Theatre.

Nothing better than "The Little Princess" could have been chosen for the coming holiday week at the Castle Square. it is a play to delight the children, and as they will have a rest from school and school duties, they will have plenty of opportunity for an afternoon's or evening's recreation at the theatre. "The Little Princess" is an adaptation by Frances Hodgson Burnett from her own story of "Sara Crewe," and it brings to the stage a group of children and pictures of child life that are sure to interest both young and old. The play brings to the stage the little Sara Crewe of Miss Minchin's school, and it tells the story of her experiences there with other children, and her final escape therefrom. The many who remember Mrs. Burnett's "Little Lord Fauntleroy," both as a story and as a play, will readily foresee the enjoyment to be derived from "The Little Princess." Best of all in the production of "The Little Princess" at the Castle Square the title character of Sara Crewe is to be acted by Mary Young. The role exactly suits her, and she will bring to it a petite quality and a charming simplicity of manner that is bound to captivate.

Orpheum Theatre.

No more welcome announcement to Boston theatregoers has ever been made by any vaudeville manager than that of William Morris (Inc.) to the effect that Julien Eltinge, Boston's own star will head the unusually strong bill at the Orpheum theatre next week. Mr. Eltinge is so well known in Boston, this being his home town, that it seems hardly necessary for any comment on him. His success throughout the theatrical world, both in America and Europe has been so phenomenal that Bostonians have been delighted to lay claim to him. His dainty feminine characterizations have been at all times the envy of the women and have excited the admiration of the men. During the past season his improvement has been wonderful, considering the fact he has had no peer in his particular line of work for several seasons past. An operatic sensation is promised in the appearance of Henry Helme the singer from the Alps. Gifted with a wonderful tenor voice this singer has created a furore in every European capital in which he has appeared, and his reception in New York seems to prove that he will be equally as successful during his present tour. A curiously funny farce "My Wife Won't Let Me" will be presented in an inimitable way by Wilson Franklyn and a capable company.

POLICE MAKE FOUR RAIDS SUNDAY

Wagon Load of "Wet Goods" and "Empties" Seized

There was quite a little excitement in the vicinity of Water street Sunday afternoon when a wagon load of police officers drove up and began a series of raids. In the raiding party were Inspector Goodhue, Officers Hinchin, Johnson, Broberg, Olson, Crooker, Duane, Farrell and Avery.

The places visited were those of Carmini Caurso at 83 Water street; Guiseppi Marinelli at 31 Water street and Pasquali Romoni at 87 Water street.

At the Romoni place 10 quarts of mixed liquor was seized and a lot of empty bottles etc.

In each of these cases the occupant of the premises was arrested.

As soon as the articles seized had been transported to the police station the officers started out again.

This time they visited the place of Marguerita Luca at 152 Summer street. Here the officers found a gang of men seated about a table drinking beer.

They seized 75 bottles of ale and 210 empty bottles. Mrs. Luca was also arrested.

All four defendants were in court this morning.

QUINCY WOMAN INTERESTED.

Women are certainly making themselves felt in new directions each day in Massachusetts. For several days the homestead act which is pending before the legislature passed unnoticed by the women in public life, until Mrs. Charlotte Smith discovered that by it heads of families could receive from the state small lots of land near the cities for farms, where poultry and vegetables may be raised within easy transportation distance of the markets.

When Mrs. Smith saw this bill she wondered why women who are working in the cities, many of whom were born and bred on farms, should not have the opportunity to share this privilege and, fearing that the clause "heads of families" would limit the opportunity to the male heads, notwithstanding the fact that the majority of working women have from one to five or six dependent upon them, she got together a company of influential women of the state and drew up an additional clause or two which would make sure that the men should not have this chance to the exclusion of women.

These women have organized and elected the following officers: Mrs. Charlotte Smith, president; Miss Mary Griffin first vice president; Miss Isabelle A. Holland, second vice president; Mrs. John S. Lockaway, third vice president; Miss Henrietta Farrar, treasurer; Miss Julia T. Moynihan, secretary; Mrs. William Ward Whicher of Quincy chairman board of directors.

"THE PASSOVER."

Solem Eight Day Feast to be Observed By Hebrews.

Today at sun-down the one hundred Hebrew families of Quincy will usher in the solemn eight-day feast of the Passover. The feast will be opened with services in the synagogue, to be followed by a sedar in every Hebrew home. The deliverance of the Israelites from the bondage of the Egyptians will be observed for the next eight days in the synagogue by Rev. Julius Sandolavitz.

Strict fasting continues during the entire feast. No bread of any kind will be brought into a Jewish home for the next eight days, except the unleavened bread, namely the Matzoz, which are baked under the special supervision of the Rabbis.

WILL FIGHT FOR CHILD.

Boston Woman Alleged to Have Abducted Own Daughter.

A Boston paper reports that Mrs. Edward Myatt of 96 Appleton street, Boston came to Quincy last week and abducted her own daughter from the Coddington school.

The article states that Mr. and Mrs. Myatt separated some time ago and that Mrs. Myatt had been given the custody of her youngest daughter and the oldest daughter was to remain with the father.

Mrs. Myatt is reported as saying that she had trouble in seeing her daughter and was determined to have them both. Now she had accomplished this and was ready to fight any attempt to take the child away from her.

NO TRACE FOUND.

Braintree Police Search Woods For Missing Man.

A crowd of men under the direction of officer John Shay searched the woods around South Braintree Sunday looking for Edgar Hayden, who has been missing since Thursday. No trace was found of the missing man. Mr. Hayden was visiting at David Collins', Railroad avenue, and left Braintree to visit a part of Braintree near the Randolph line.

Hayden got a transfer check from a street railway conductor for the Randolph line, but did not get off at South Braintree square, where he should have changed. His mistake was discovered by the conductor at the turnout at the Holbrook line, where Mr. Hayden left the car. That was about 6.30 P. M., and he has not been seen since.

Mr. Hayden was about 50 years old and was slightly stooped. He wore a light overcoat over a dark suit.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Ellen Gregory.

Mrs. Ellen Gregory, widow of William Gregory of 941 Hancock street passed away Sunday, after a lingering illness of about two years. She was 81 years old and was one of Quincy's best known residents. She is survived by a son and three daughters. The funeral will take place tomorrow from her late home, with a requiem high mass in St. John's church at 9 o'clock.

Charles H. Grignon.

Charles H. Grignon, aged 43, formerly of Lynn, died this morning at the home of his sister, 36 Common street, West Quincy. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning from his sister's home. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church.

Freeman A. Robbins.

The funeral of Freeman A. Robbins was held Saturday afternoon in the Sailors' Snug Harbor chapel. Rev. Alfred R. Atwood of the Washington Street Congregational church, chaplain of the Home, conducted the services. Burial was in the cemetery connected with the home.

TO OBSERVE HOLY WEEK.

Holy week will see many religious services at the Wollaston Congregational church. Tuesday evening a service will be held at which the events of Tuesday in the Passion Week of Jesus' life will be discussed. Rev. E. A. Chase will also speak on "The unanswerable question." On Wednesday afternoon at four a bible reading, "The quiet hours in the stormy life of Jesus" will be held. The celebration of the sacrament of the Last Supper will be held on Thursday evening. On the evening of Good Friday, a prayer meeting will be held in the church, the topic for which will be "The events of the holiest day in all history."

MORE ABOUT GAS.

Editor of the Ledger:

Fifty years ago the method of lighting was principally by whale or lard oil, the large cities only being lighted by gas. Quincy was then but sparsely settled. Some thirty or more citizens desirous of a more convenient and brilliant light procured a charter and laid small pipes through the central part of the town, inviting the citizens generally on the line to connect therewith. As the expense of construction and cost of production were very large at that time the price per thousand was fixed at $5.00 which was afterwards increased. Soon afterwards kerosene oil came into general use. This, on account of its cheapness caused a great falling off in even the few takers that they had. The company changed hands several times and as they never declared a dividend stockholders became discouraged and would have probably wound up the concern only that they were aware that they had an extremely valuable franchise. Very few extensions of mains were laid and as they gave very poor service at times we would occasionally hear that a new company was about to start, but, always when looking up the situation they struck a snag in the existing company. Finally, the old company was actually compelled by the state to sell to the so-called gas trust who, (I am informed, are perfectly competent to run things,) and while having a monopoly, are also obliged to extend the service to any part of Quincy desired by the inhabitants, provided the net income thereof will exceed the expense. That practically puts it right into the hands of the gas company to determine, as they can make the expense as large as they wish. And I think they are pretty good people, to ask permission to lay any new pipe, for a man might agree to take gas for a while and then shift onto something else. It is quite a risk, and I am positive that the gas company are not worrying much over this holdup to lay pipe into the outskirts at the present time.

Just as quick as the obstructionists get their eyes open they will fall over themselves to grant every location In fact, they will be even asked by their constituents in the near future to use their influence for still further extensions.

Having heard some criticism of my statement that light would soon be so cheap that it would not pay to turn it off in the day-time, I have since ascertained that that is a fact already in some parts of Switzerland and that the State of New York has 1,500,000 acres in the Adriondack Mountains where enough water can be collected to supply the whole state with light, heat and power. Already in Maine and New Hampshire the natural water supplies of those states are being considered. The project already underway in Massachusetts at the Metropolitan Reservoir at Clinton, where power equal to Niagara Falls can be utilized sufficient for all this state. Our reservoir at Braintree, the source of Town Brook, is among the possibilities also.

In the modern method of manufacturing gas the value of the tar, coke, ammonia, etc., is so valuable that the gas itself is practically of no account and really becomes a by-product. It makes me think of a story I once heard of a colored preacher who was met after service by one of his flock who said, "Parson, in your sermon you kept saying that salvation is free. When you got through you took up a collection." "That is all right, "said the Parson. "You see that big pond. well the water is all free but if you want it piped into your kitchen, you've got to pay." They will give you all the gas you can carry off, but if you want it piped into your kitchen you've got to pay.

Elisha Packard.

WEYMOUTH

The funeral of Ernest M. Libby took place from his late residence 181 Pearl street North Weymouth Saturafternoon. The young man was 18 years old a graduate of Weymouth high school 1907 and had been ill but a short time. Interment was at Old North cemetery.

The school committee will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening when the applications of the half a hundred condidates for the position of superintendent of schools will be considered.

Miss Beth Battles returned to Smith college today after spending her vacation with her parents.

LENTEN CANTATA FINELY PRESENTED

Large Audience Enjoyed "The Crucifixion" At First Church

There was a very large number present at the vesper series at the First church Sunday afternoon. An unusual and attractive program was given in the presentation of Sir John Stainer's Lenten cantata, "The Crucifixion," under the direction of E. Landis Snyder.

"The Crucifixion," with its appropriate and reverent atmosphere, is the one Lenten cantata that is presented in churches where large choral and musical farces are impracticable.

The presentation Sunday was an admirable one and was greatly enjoyed by an audience representing all sections of the city.

Mr. Snyder was assisted by a chorus of well known local singers of talent and the result was a production such as has seldom been heard in Quincy.

Many who listened to the cantata Sunday hope to hear it repeated.

The program was as follows:

Recitative: "And they came to a place named Gethsemane."
Processional: "Fling wide the Gates."
Hymn: "O mysterious condescending."
Recitative: "He made Himself of no reputation."
Quartet: "God so loved the world."
Hymn: "Holy Jesu, by the Passion"
Recitative, "Jesus said 'Father Forgive them."
Duet: "So thou liftest they divine petition."
Hymn. "Lord, I have left Thee, I have denied."
Recitative: "And one of the malefactors."
Hymn: "I adore Thee I adore Thee."
Recitative: "When Jesus therefore saw his mother."
"Is it nothing to you."
"After this, Jesus knowing that all things were accomplished."

GYMNASIUM NOTES.

Every effort is being made to close the season's work in the gymnasium in a fitting manner. Three exhibitions are to be given by various classes.

On Wednesday evening this week, the employed boys' class will give their first annual exhibition. Free tickets may be secured at the association office.

On April 15, the senior class, assisted by some outside talent will give an evening of gymnastics and sport which we believe will be a credit to all.

Parents' night on April 20 will be given by the junior class, when the little fellows can show papa and mamma what they have learned this year.

The basket ball games Saturday morning resulted in victories for Harvard, Capt. S. Prout, and Springfield T. S., Capt. W. Morrison.

A hare and hound chase this A. M. was won by the hares. Start and finish at South Quincy Y. M. C. A. club.

Several councilmen visited Houghs Neck Sunday to look over the proposed schoolhouse sites.

Either the stories regarding the smoking of cigarettes by high school boys are greatly exaggerated or else there is an epidemic of cigarette smoking sweeping the country from Maine to California.

Persons who promenade the Wollaston Parkway will be surprised to see the "spite" fence which the Metropolitan Park Commissioners have erected in front of William M. Chase's beautiful new residence. It seems increditable that an august public commission should stoop to such childishness in order to spite an honored citizen.

The Boston Advertiser is sure that we are going to enjoy a greater period of prosperity, than ever. To prove this the Advertiser says "the sure signs of returning prosperity keep piling up. From the report of the appraiser for the port of New York it appears that the appraised value of merchandise imported there last month was $21,000,000 greater than the apraised value of merchandise imported in February, and reached a total of $87,997,387, the largest on record, the next largest being the total for March, 1907. The gross receipts of the New York postoffice in March were nearly $300,000 larger than the gross receipts for March 1908. The gain was 16.9 p. c. The conclusion is unmistakable."

The Advertiser is usually pretty reliable on industrial news and therefore its prophecy can probably be accepted in whole.

During the discussion that has developed over the purchase of a school lot at Houghs Neck the fact that there is great need of school accommodations in other sections seems to have been lost sight of. There are several school buildings that are in a crowded condition among which are the Coddington and Washington schools particularly the latter.

The Washington building is situated in the Fore River district which is growing more rapidly than any other section and something must be done soon to relieve the situation. While the attention of this district has not directly been called to the City Council it is known that the school committee are seriously considering asking for a new school building in what is known as the Dublin district.

Should a building be erected there it would immediately relieve the pressure at the Coddington and Washington schools.

It would not be surprising therefore that should any complication arise over the purchase of a school lot at Houghs Neck this section would be set aside for a time and a building erected in the Dublin district first.

Although Houghs Neck people came out in good numbers at the public hearing last week for the Cavanagh lot it is a fact that many believe that some other lot is just as desirable. Just how the City Council stand on the question is not known but it would not be surprising that if a satisfactory price can not be agreed upon with Mr. Cavanagh, Houghs Neck will lose its school building at the present time.

SALVATION ARMY.

Evangelistic services were opened Saturday night at the Swedish Salvation Army hall on Granite street and will continue for about two weeks. Staffcaptain, Mrs. Carl Bergh of New York, has charge of the services and will make the addresses. She is one of the most powerful and winning speakers in the Army. Music was by the Corps String Band, which play at all the services.

Mrs. Addie Perkins of Dorchester, formerly of Washington street this city, announces the marriage April third of her daughter, Clara Elizabeth, to Mr. Arthur Jesse Atwood of Somerville. Mr. and Mrs. Atwood will be at home after June first at 9 Pearl street, Somerville.

—The California club, the largest civic club of women in San Francisco, has succeeded in securing a Bird and Arbor Day law for California. Henceforward Luther Burbank's birthday will be celebrated in the schools, not by a holiday, but by exercises showing the value of birds and trees, and the importance of protecting them.

AMENDMENT TO STATE CONSTITUTION URGED

Boston Merchant Association Wants Present Tax Laws Modified

A fairer distribution of the burden of taxation is the object of an amendment to the state constitution which has been recommended by the Boston Merchants' Association. The amendment desired would make possible certain changes in the present Massachusetts laws such as have been made by other states within a few years.

At an early hearing before the legislative committee on Taxation, Prof. Charles J. Bullock of Harvard University will present the Association's amendement providing that the legislature be given power to classify property for the purpose of taxation. This would be substituted for the word "proportional," now in the constitution.

The position of the Merchants' Association on taxation has been awaited with interest since it become known that the organization had a committee at the work on the subject. This committee has submitted the following statement of the situation:

"The existing system of taxation in Massachusetts has for the last 40 years been the source of constant dissatisfaction and complaint. In that period no less than five special commissions have been appointed by the state to investigate the working of the system and report plans for the improvement, but their reports have resulted in no substantial change of the tax laws of the Commonwealth. Meanwhile it has become increasingly apparent that our tax laws operate injuriously to the best interests of the Commonwealth, especially to the City of Boston, and that the existing system is satisfactory to no one.

The Merchants' Association finds that the methods of taxation must be changed in various particulars if Massachusetts is to prosper as she should. In the first place, it appears that some of our manufacturing industries are subject to much heavier taxation than other states impose upon competing industries. Machinery, for example, is practically exempt from taxation in Pennsylvania, and is very lightly taxed in leading manufacturing states. In Massachusetts it is subject to heavy taxation upon a high valuation in many of our manufacturing cities and towns. The Commission of 1896 and the Commission of 1907 called attention to the desirability of doing something to lighten the burden on the manufacturing industries of the Commonwealth, but nothing has as yet been accomplished.

The second question of importance is the taxation of intangible property. The existing law upon the subject is ineffective in producing revenue and highly unjust in its operation upon individual taxpayers. It has been well called confiscation tempered with favoritism. The City of Boston has been a special sufferer on account of the removal of personal property to a few wealthy towns where tax rates are low and the enforcement of the lay decidedly lax. In view of this and other facts, the Commission on Taxation of 1907 recommended a change in the taxation of intangible property. It was found, however, when the question was submitted to the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth, that no change in the law is possible under the present Constitution.

Another question of interest is the subject of the taxation of forest property. Massachusetts has considerable areas of land which are of little value for agricultural purposes, but might be advantageously used in scientific forest culture. Afforestation on any extensive scale is practically impossible under our present tax laws. The Legislature has granted exemption in certain cases for a limited period of years, but this applies only to the early years in the growth of forests, when the timber is of little value and the taxes would in any case be light. After the period of exemption the growing crop of timber is subject to taxation at its full value in each year at the full local rate. Since the crop requires 40, 50, or 60 years to grow, it follows that if the present laws are enforced, timber would have to pay 30, 40, or 50 taxes before it is brought to market. The interest on the tazes paid in the early years of the growth of the crop amounts to almost as much as the taxes themselves. On growing crops farmers are not subject to taxation in Massachusetts, since the assessments are made on the first day of May; while on the other hand a growing crop of timber would be subject, if the law were strictly enforced, to a tax almost equal to the value of the crop at maturity. The Forest Service of the United States has, for the last two years, been investigating the taxation of forests, and it has come to the conclusion that existing laws encourage the destruction of forests when enforced, and discourage reforestation of lands once devoted to timber or afforestation of lands that might well be devoted to that purpose.

The Commission on Taxation of 1907 recommended that if the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth decided that the Legislature did not have the power to classify property for the purpose of taxation, the Constitution of the Commonwealth should be amended in such a way as to confer that power upon the Legislature. An amendment providing for the classification of property was introduced in the Legislature ,and came within a few votes of receiving the two-thirds vote required in the House of Representatives. The amendment gave the Legislature power to classify property for taxation in a reasonable manner. It would have made possible the taxation of intangible property, machinery, etc., by methods suited to the condition and nature of each class of property. The existing Constitutional requirement, that all property must be taxed at a uniform rate, makes it impossible to adjust taxation in any such manner; and the Merchants' Association is of the opinion that an amendement must be secured before any substantial reform can be effected in our system of taxation.

At the present time nearly one-third of the states place no restrictions on the power of the Legislature to classify property for taxation. In Rhode Island, Connecticut, Vermont, New York, and Maryland, no restriction has ever existed. In eight other states express provisions have been made for the classification of property by providing that the tax shall be uniform upon all property "of the same class." These states are Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, Oklahoma, Penn. and Virginia, in one other state, New Jersey, the Constitution has been so construed by the Supreme Court as to permit of classification. It will be observed that most of the states in the Northeastern part of the country permit the Legislature to classify property ,the list of such states, including Rhode Island, Connecticut, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. It should further be noted that the tendency is to abolish the old rule requiring absolute uniformity in taxation and to amend constitutions so as to permit classification. Pennsylvania amended her Constitution to this effect in 1873, Delaware in 1897, Virginia in 1902, and Minnesota in 1906. Colorado, Idaho, Montana and Oklahoma placed this provision in their first constitutions.

The justice and necessity of the reasonable classification of property for the purpose of taxation has been repeatedly recognized by the Supreme Court of the United States. The clearest expression of opinion is to be found in the case of Pacific Express Co., vs. Seibert (142 U. S. 351):

"This court has repeatedly laid down the doctrine that diversity of taxation, both with respect to the amount imposed and the various species of property selected either for bearing its burdens or for being exempt from them, is not inconsistent with a perfect uniformity and equality of taxation in the proper sense of those terms ;and that the system which imposes the same tax upon every species of property, irrespective of its nature or conditions or class, will be destructive of the principle of uniformity and equality in taxation and of a just adaptation of property to its burdens."

The requirement of the Massachussetts Constitution, that taxes must be "proportional," that is, levied at the same rate upon all property, goes back to the Province Charter of 1691, and was transferred almost literally from the Province Charter to the Constitution adopted by the state in 1780. It had its origin in restrictions which the British crown placed upon the Province in 1691, and should be modified if the welfare of the Commonwealth today requires such a change. All modern tax systems are based upon the principle that it is necessary to classify property for taxation, and to apply to each class such methods and rates as the circumstances require. The reasonableness and justice of such action has been recognized by the Supreme Court of the United States ,and by nearly one-third of the states of the American union, the constitutions of which now permit classification. The Merchants' Association hopes that the present Legislature will see the wisdom and the necessity for such an amendment to the Constitution of Massachusetts."

A large attendance was present at the annual fair held Friday and Saturdy nights in Electa hall under the auspices of the Swedish Socialist Labor Federation of America. The fair was held for the benefit of the Swedish weekly publication the "Arbetaren."

There were four tables, artistically decorated with flags and bunting to correspond with the decorations of the rest of the hall.

Table one was called the married men's table and was in charge of John Frederickson and Swan Stenberg. Table two was the bachelors' table and was in charge of Andrew Wallen and Charles Dalby.

The Sewing Circle table was in charge of Mrs. Martha Stenberg, Mrs. John Frederickson, Mrs. John Marsten and Mrs. Harry Nelson. The last table was called the Verdandi stand and was presided over by Miss Lucy Bramberg, John Hedin, Axel Hendrickson and John Thoren.

Besides these four tables there were various other amusements including a shooting gallery, in charge of Miss Hilda Hillstron and Hjalma Nelson; ring throwing in charge of Carl Gran; fish pond, Charles Hanson; post office, Miss Anna Haglund and Hjalma Stenberg.

The whole affair was under the personal management of Swan Hellstrom, who deserves great credit by the way it was carried out.

During the evening there was dancing for those who desired it, Jacobsen's orchestra furnishing the music. Refreshments of all kinds were on sale also all through the evening.

The fair was a success in every way and quite a sum was netted from the various tables.

TUNGSTEN LAMPS.

The policy of the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co., is to bring to the attention of its customers whether large or small, the most up-to-date electrical appliances for illumination. Carrying out this policy they are today calling attention to the new Tungsten lamp which gives 100 per cent. more light and consumes less current than the old 16 candle power lamps now in general use. In order that customers may avail themselves of the opportunity of improving this service, the company will install one of these new lamps in the residence of every consumer free of charge.

Those customers who desire to install more than one of these lights may obtain additional Tungstens of the company.

Since the introduction of these lamps some weeks ago Superintendent Austin has installed a very large number of them and in every case they have proved all that is claimed for them.

DELIVERS LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mrs. S. H. Mims Outlines Work and Teachings At Braintree

A large number of people attended the lecture on Christian Science by Mrs. Sue Harper Mims of Atlanta, Georgia, at Science hall, Braintree Sunday.

Mrs. Mims who is a member of the Christian Science board of lectureship of First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston has a pleasing presence and had her audience with her from the start. The speaker said in part:

The message of Christian Science to humanity is one of hope, joy, blessedness, longevity, harmony and immortality, here and now. It is a message of universal love and peace, it knows no section nor clime nor sect, it is the science of universal being for universal man, ministering to universal human need. Nothing else on earth offers so much and proves so much. It proffers to you the very key that inlocks the gates of paradise, that it may be regained ;it offers to you the elixir of eternal life, if you will but drink its spiritual draughts; it reveals to you the divine alchemy of spirit, by which a mortal, sinning and discordant consciousness may be transmitted into an harmonious, immortal and spiritual consciousness. Through this divine process Christian Science is establishing the kingdom of heaven on earth, the reign of individual and universal righteousness, that righteousness which is based on the right apprehension of right thought of God and man.

It would be as impossible to tell the all of Christian Science, its teachings and infinite meanings, in one brief hour as it would be to count the stars in illimitable space, or to number the waves on the shore of limitless ocean. This science of infinity whose principle is God, the science of God's eternal laws of good, of health, harmony, prosperity, perfection, omnipresent and omnipotent, whose phenomena constitute the reality of being.

POWER OF THOUGHT.

Mrs. Eddy has aroused the world to grasp the power of thought, and this is restoring to Christianity that lost healing element through the power of spirit. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." She reveals that mind, or thought, is creative, or causation, and that phenomena must correspond to thought s cause to effect. Christian Scientists have already proved enough to know that when the preponderance of thoughts in human consciousness is on the side of God—of spirituality, love, health, life, immortality—then sin, disease and death will melt as vapors before the light—will disappear for lack of a cause.

Christian Scientists feel that Mrs. Eddy's great revelation has taught them to think more intelligently, logically and practically about God. She says God is to be adored, understood, and demonstrated." (Science and Health), and the intelligent utilization and application of this true thought of God is the divine power and presence that is today leaving thought, healing the sick, redeeming and uplifting humanity. To know this God is not only "health to thy bones," but is eternal life. All Christians unite on the same sublime definition of God as infinite spirit, incorporated soul, mind—mind of Christ—as life, our eternal life—as God—supreme, spiritual being all presence, power, wisdom—omnipresent, omnipotent, omniscient, "besides whom there is naught else"—who is also truth, life, love.

We see that Christianity as Jesus taught and lived it is simply the demonstration of God's perfect spiritual law, or will, and as all science is a demonstrable law or truth, Christianity can but be scientific Christianity. Paul evidently had also this understanding or Christianity, for he said, "My speech and my preaching are not in enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the spirit and signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds."

THEORECTICAL CHRISTIANITY.

For centuries the theological world has held on to a theoretical religion founded on Jesus words—irrespective almost entirely, of his wondrous work. Christian Science throwing on these works and words the lens of soul, reveals them as divinely corelated, and brings in a practical Christianity, meeting human needs absolutely in every direction. It calls humanity to judge Jesus and His teachings by the fruits, the works ,as Jesus desired To the doubting and unbelieveing of His day He said. "The works that I do in my Father's name ,they bear witness of me." (John 10-25) "If i do not the works of my Father believe me not, but if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works."

It is sometimes said Christian Science is a very beautiful religion, "but it is too transcendental for me." Is it not something that transcends this poor, fleeting ,material existence, that humanity longs for and needs? Christian Science is transcendental because never was such a transcendentalist as Jesus—His every act was transcending material laws and limitations. When he said, "Before Abraham was, I am. * * The Father and I are one * * * Glorify thou me with thine own self, oh, my Father, with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was," He uttered the very acme of transcendentalism. Jesus brought His transcendentalism down to sad humanity to raise the dead, and indeed, to transcend every sense of Love's limitations.

Christian Science is Jesus' transcendentalism made practical, as He made it.

Jesus' sublime logic is equally simple and powerful. He reasoned absolutely from the basis of one Spirit—Father, Mother, Cause, Creator, Principle. He applied His divine logic of perfect cause and perfect effect; perfect God, and perfect man, to all error. He knew that the fountain can rise no higher than its source ,that from God, the divine Father, emanates all good. He knew that evil, disease and discord can no more come from the Infinite and Holy One than light can emit darkness, or Truth express a lie.

He planted His followers on this basic Truth, and said, "Call no man your father upon the earth; for one is your Father which is in heaven." And his prayer for universal man has this same bsais, "Our Father which art in heaven." We know that man cannot reach his perfect spiritual being on the false basis of material origin or evolution any more than discord could express harmony or flesh express Spirit, with which it is ever at war. On a spiritual basis only could His followers be really followers or imitators of Him. He came to reveal man's infinite possibilities when endowed with a true knowledge of God, and man's own individual Being as a son of God.

SPIRITUAL PRACTICALITY.

Humanity has sadly fallen into the belief that the only material force (so-called) is practical, therefore material sense has constantly reviled and persecuted the dreamer.

We have not made the great truths practical because we have not grasped the metaphysics of it by understanding the power of the right thought of God, as the infinite source that clothes, feeds and sustains man, holding him ever in the rhythmic round of harmonies and who never stops giving—or radiating His own blessedness any more than the sun stops shining Jesus' own practical philanthropy, which was purely spiritual, illustrates these great truisms. Nothing but the Christianity of Jesus can ever harmoniously solve the world's great financial problem.

JESUS' WORK OF PHILANTHROFY.

It s conceded by all Christians that the historical Jesus lived and did His mighty works, that this divinely natural God-like man really came, the Son of God, and the Son of the Virgin, the Mediator between flesh and Spirit, between God and men, as the apostle declares there is "One Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus." Jesus left the rich legacy of His transcendent life an example for mortals to follow—"deny self and follow me." In His short ministry he transcended all human limitations, he healed all manner of sickness, the naked lunatic was "clothed and in his right mind," he cast out sin and disease by the power of Spirit, he fed the multitude, the 5,000 and the 7,000, he stilled the tempest, he walked over the waves and reproached Peter because he had not sufficient faith to do.

He raised the dead and spiritualized humanity. He made the blind to see, the deaf to hear ,the dumb to speak, the lame to walk—the repentant Magdalena became a deeply spiritual woman, the tribute money was found in the fish's mouth, and all this without material means as aid, as not only the Scripture teaches, but as even the historian, Gibbons, declares was the accepted belief about the early Christians.

CORRECT VIEW OF MAN.

Mrs Eddy tells us very simply how Jesus healed (Science and Health, page 476-23): Jesus beheld in science the perfect man, who appeared to Him where sinning, mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Savior saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick. Thus Jesus taught that the Kingdom of God is intact, universal and that man is pure and holy.

STANDPOINT OF SPIRIT.

Jesus viewed man from the standpoint of spirit, not matter ;soul, not sense ;and that is the secret of Jesus and of Christian Science. The very basis of Christianity is faith, which the apostle describes as "the substance, cause, causation ;it is the evidence of things not seen, or better, the conviction unseen realities. Paul tells us of t. wonders wrought by this mental condition. The dead were raised, the lame, the maimed were restored, the mouths of lions were stopped, fire was quenched, victories were won, the walls of Jericho fell down, Elijah was translated that he should not see death.

Now, remember that you can have this mental condition as well as Jesus, Peter and Paul, and the ancient worthies ,and it should and will bring about the same results; it is a universal law of cause and effect But in order to do this you must deny the physical or visible evidence and steadfastly persistently hold on to what you do not see.

This is Christianity in its eternal, primitive purity, perfection and power. This is what Jesus and Peter and Paul and the ancient prophets did—they held on in thought to the unseen, eternal verities of being, in spite of and in reversal of, material evidence, and in that consists the sublimity and simplicity of their methods and works.

Mrs. Eddy is the God-appointed revelator of Christian Science. She is the revelator and discoverer, because she could not help it. The infinite, all encompassing eternal truth—that is God—is also the infinite wisdom that is the infinite light of being. This light reaches human experience through that consciousness which offers the clearest transparency for its expression. Because Mrs. Eddy's consciousness was freer from the dross of matter than any other on earth, because she was divinely qualified, this flood-tide of truth has shone through her and is crystalized in her book, "Science and Health, With Key to the Scriptures"

This light is irradiating consciousness, with its unspeakable brightness, and is flooding the universe with God's only glory.

In this light the evil human mind is analyzed to its deepest depths and is therefore ready for destruction. Its fruits are seen to be the dead sea fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil ;eating which brought death in the world.

While in Christian Science the Christ mind is enthroned bringing to light life and immortality.

More and more as we see the tireless light of this beloved woman, as she lovingly keeps watch over a world that is even now budding and burgeoning into the flowers and fruitage of a spiritual and practical Christianity, as we see the matchless wisdom that guides the great Christian Science movement, we recognize that prophecy and poetry have foretold this marvelous hour, when in the grand refrain of Goethe's "Woman-Soul Leadeth Us On."

CAPE CAT BOAT ASSOCIATION

Annual Dinner in Boston Largely Attended.

The annual dinner of the Cape Cat Boat Association of Massachusetts was held Friday evening at the City club No. 9 Beacon street, Boston. The dinner was very largely attended, more Cape Cat men being present than at any previous event of a similar nature. The President Frank Fessenden Crane acted as toast master.

C. C. Hanley the celebrated boat builder was the guest of the club and told of a thrilling experience which occurred while delivering one of his famous cats at Galveston, Texas.

Speeches were made by Commodore Robbins of the Quincy Yacht club, H. C. Nickerson, Wallace W. Arnold, Ira M. Whittemore and others.

A lively racing season is assured, new boats are coming into the class and the enthusiasm is unabated. This association is five years old this spring and in the past four years its boats have won over fifteen hundred dollars in prizes beside many pennants and other trophies.

NEW S. OF V. CAMP.

There was a largely attended meeting in G. A. R. hall April 2 in the interest of the Sons of Veterans in forming a camp. George W. Gragg called the meeting to order and introduced James T. Wellington, division organizer, and Frank H. White, press agent. George L. Phillips, commander of Post 88, G. A. R., spoke in favor of the new camp.

The camp will be installed April 15, and all those who are eligible and desire to join, should send their names to George F. Phillips, 49 Union street.

Mortgagees' Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Henrietta B. Pratt and E. Granville Pratt to the Quincy Savings Bank dated November 1, 1890, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk book 645, page 309, for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the first mentioned lot of the hereinafter described premises, on TUESDAY, the thirteenth day of April 1909, at two o'clock, in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—The following parcels of land, viz:

A certain lot of land, containing about 23,740 square feet, with all the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, and being the homestead estate of the late Seth Spear, and bounded Northeasterly on Spear street, Southeasterly on land of Franklin Hardwick and of F. P. Loud, southwesterly on land of N. B. Furnald and of Nash; northwesterly on land of Prescott.

Also a strip of land bounded southeasterly on lot 3 on plan of Orchard Lot, estate of Seth Spear, four (4) feet; southwesterly on said private way twenty-six (26) feet; northwesterly on said land now or late of C. A. Spear, five (5) feet; northeasterly on land of Kemp about twenty-six (26) feet. For my title to said premises, reference may be made to a deed or the record thereof, of Edwin W. Marsh, Executor of the last will of Seth Spear, of even date and record herewith.

Also another lot of land containing about 41,120 square feet, situated in said Quincy and bounded and described as follows:—Southwesterly on Spear street two hundred (200) feet; northwesterly on land of Tupper and of Hersey, two hundred and twelve (212) feet; northeasterly on land of N. B. Furnald and of C. A. Spear, one hundred and ninety-one (191) feet; southeasterly on said lot No. 4, above described being land now or late of C. A. Spear and on lot No. 5, hereinbefore conveyed, two hundred and eight (208) feet. Be all these measurements more or less. Being the premises bequeathed to me, said Henrietta, by my father, the late Seth Spear, by his will, duly proved and allowed by the Probate Court for Norfolk County, May 9, 1888, and the same conveyed to him by S. Henry Spear by his deed dated December 17, 1868 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds in Libro 974, folio 175.

The above described premises comprise the property conveyed by said mortgage except those parcels which have been released by partial releases duly recorded. This property will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles and assessments if any.

$500.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

Balance cash in ten days from said sale on delivery of deed.

SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATED.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones Go Through Marriage Ceremony Again.

A novel 25th wedding anniversary was celebrated Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones of 26 Verchild street, went through the marri-ge ceremony again after twenty-five years of married life.

During the first part of the evening several selections, both vocal and instrumental, were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Matthews (nee Jones.)

There were also readings by Mrs. Edward Jones of Lynn and monologues by Rev. Rufus Davis, Mrs. Davis accompanying the latter on the piano.

Later in the evening the marriage ceremony was performed, Mrs. Matthews, playing Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride, who was becomingly gowned in soft white material, was given away by her brother, John McDonald. The maid of honor was Miss Ada McDonald, while Jack Knight of Boston, the bride's cousin, acted as best man. Miss Marion Bolster was the flower girl.

After the ceremony was over an informal reception was held, the guests then adjourning to the dining room, where a dainty lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones received many handsome gifts of silver and cut glass.

A Story of Development.
There are over 310,000 telephones connected with the system of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in the four northern New England States; to be exact, the figures as of Feb. 27, 1909, showed 310,440 of which 42,533 were sub-licenses.
This tremendous growth here in northern New England shows:
That this section of the country is a unit in its closely interwoven business and social interests;
That there is a necessary interdependence of city and country;
That the Telephone Company has anticipated the needs and desires of all classes of users—the large manufacturer and the small dealer—the metropolitan merchant and the country storekeeper—the office and the home;
That its foresight has been approved, that its service is efficient and that its rates are equitable; this is manifest from the mere recapitulation—310,000 telephones.
This is a business argument, not a contented retrospect. We want the business man to picture a possible customer at every telephone. We want the residence subscriber to appreciate the telephone's potential value to the home.
We will send a contract agent to explain different classes of rates and their cost, and to advise the subscriber as to the kind best adapted to his individual needs. A word to the Local Manager will suffice.

GAS COMPANY GRANTED PERMITS TO LAY MAINS

Order Passed By City Council at Monday Night's Meeting.

There was quite a display of sky-rockets and red fire at Monday night's meeting of the City Council occasioned by the order granting the Gas Company permission to lay mains. J. L. Richards president of the Gas company appeared before the council and struck right out from the shoulder, ending by requesting permission to withdraw the petition to lay mains.

A large number of citizens were present, including a delegation from Houghs Neck. There was not one word of debate however on the school lot question.

Councilman Bryant, Gardner and Gilson were absent.

Jurors.

The following jurors were drawn George C. Coleman, George F. Tarbox, Francis O'Reiley, Dennis Shugrue, Alex Souter.

WATER METERS.

From the Mayor with inclosure from the Commissioner of Public Works stating that the number of water services unmetered Dec. 31, 1907 was 4586. Number of services metered during the year 1908 358, number of new services during the year 1908 was 312 of which 75 have been metered. To Committee on Water Supply.

Also from the Commissioner stating that the cost of retaining wall on Willard street would cost $450 and with the necessary fencing $525 and to build two catch basins $150. Placed on file.

From the Mayor calling attention relative to the establishment of the office of Dock and Water Front Commissioner without salary. To Committee on Ordinances.

From the Mayor inclosing letter from Zenas Arnold stating that with the present cost of labor and material it would cost $6,500 to duplicate the house outside of the land. He however did not set any price at which he would sell the land and building. To Finance Committee.

From the Mayor appointing Michael B. Geary a registrar of voters for three years. Confirmed.

A communication was received from the Commissioner of Public Works giving cost of constructing cement sidewalks on Whitwell and Liberty streets. To Finance Committee.

HOT SHOT FROM GAS CO.

From the Mayor with inclosure from the Citizens' Gas Light Co. The letter states that when the company took the plant the price was $2 per 1000 feet which was voluntarily reduced to $1.50. They have laid 252,345 feet of new mains, about 48 miles built a new holder, meter house and other improvements amounting to $379,420.82. The present company has paid no dividends and has not earned enough to pay expenses, the net loss from July 1, 1906 to March 1, 1909 being $14,456.97. From the above figures the letter says that it will be seen that it will be impossible to reduce the price of gas at the present time, or until such time as the buisness is developed sufficiently to pay not only the expenses but a reasonable return on the capital invested.

The improvements made have been in order that the company would be in a position to serve the citizens of Quincy properly, realizing that it meant an immediate loss to the company, but that ultimately the business would increase sufficiently, so that the company would not only receive a fair return on its investment but be in a position to reduce the price of gas.

In speaking of the petition for extensions that has been tabled in the City Council the letter says: "Allow me to state that it is absolutely immaterial to this company whether our recent petition referred to, and on which there was a hearing May 15, is granted or not. If it should be granted it would necessitate the investment of a very substantial sum, on which we would not get a sufficient return to pay expense for several years and the only reason that we had for filing the petition, or would have to lay the mains, had the petition been granted, was to render better service to a portion of the citizens of Quincy."

In closing the letter states that the company now pays $4,000 in taxes against $675.18 when the old company owned it. The letter was signed by J. L. Richards, president of the company.

A public hearing was held at 7.45 petition of the Telephone Co., to lay mains.

Mr. Hyland appeared for the company in reply to questions by Councilman Moir, stated that arrangements had been made to complete the work trimmings trees.

A large number of petitions for minor licenses were received and referred.

A petition was received for a fire alarm box on the corner of Upland road and Dimmock street. To Committee on Fire Department.

A petition was received for an arc light at the corner of Upland road and Dimmock street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

PETITIONS.

Petitions were received from the New England Telephone Co. for attachments on Prospect avenue, Pine street, East Elm avenue, Highland avenue and Sumner street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

A petition was received favoring the purchase of the Norteman lot at Houghs Neck for a school building. Referred to Committee on Public Buildings.

A petition was received for the acceptance of Eustis street, Ward Five. Referred to Committee on Streets.

The Committee on Licenses reported orders granting minor licenses which were adopted.

The Committee on Ordinances reported an order approving the incorporation of the Wollaston Tennis club. Adopted.

The Committee on Ordinances reported an amendment ought to pass on the order amending the building ordinances. Rules suspended and order passed.

HOUGHS NECK SCHOOL LOT,

The joint Committee on Finances and Public Buildings reported a substitute order for the order appropriating $6,000 for the purchase of the upland of William Norteman for a school lot at Houghs Neck. The substitute order appropriated $6,000 for the purchase of 50,000 feet of the Cavanagh lot. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported an order authorizing the Mayor to sell the old Coddington school building and furnishings at auction. Order recommitted.

MOTIONS, ORDERS, ETC.

Upon motion of Councilman Freeman rule one was suspended and it was voted when the Council adjourn it be until Tuesday April 20.

Councilman McDevitt offered an order for $600 for building a retaining wall on Willard street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

STREET WATERING.

Councilman Moir offered an order for watering or oiling the streets. Ordered to a second reading.

Councilman Nelson offered an order for a light on Huckings avenue. Referred to the Executive.

Councilman Free man offered a resolve for a special committee of three to act in conjunction with the President of the Council, Mayor and City Solicitor to inquire into this city's situation in relation to driveways, boulevards and reservations under control of the Metropolitan Park Commission and report the result of their investigation covering the following material points:

What amount has been expended for land takings?

What amount has been expended for construction?

What amount has Quincy paid in assessments?

What amount has Quincy lost in taxes on account of the land taken?

What effect has the construction, non-construction and kind of construction had on taxable values of

FIFTH LECTURE ON COOKING

Frozen Desserts Subject Treated By Mrs. J. M. Hill.

The fifth of Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill's demonstration lectures on cooking under the auspices of the Wollaston Kindergarten committee was given Monday afternoon in Brasee hall, Wollaston. Mrs. Hill began her lectures by a short talk on ice cream, sherbets and parfaits, saying frozen desserts are the finest that can be had, but it depends on how and when you eat them. Eaten slowly and allowed to melt in the mouth, they are all right for they are only digestable at a certain temperature and it is bad to delay digestion, for cold depresses the flow of saliva.

It is a mistake to use flour and starch in making ice cream and she told just how to use junket for a thickening and why more wholesome than corn starch.

Mrs. Hill made a caramel ice cream with junket which was inexpensive and very nice, telling just how long to cook the sugar, the method of freezing, etc.

Frozen apricots was a delicious frozen ice and so easy to make, and as it contained no cream made a wholesome dish for summer use.

Blood orange Bombe Glace was a handsome dish and tasted just as good as it looked. After freezing it was packed in a melon mold and the centre filled with a charlotte russe mixture.

Mrs. Hill explained how to properly pack all these frozen things so that they would unmould perfectly.

Banana parfait contined citron, candied apricots, maraschino cherries and Mrs. Hill explained how to prepare these fruits so that they would not be like bullets when frozen, as is so often the case when made at home.

Caramel ice cream panache, served in individual cases decorted with whipped cream sweetened and flavored with vanilla, macaroons and candied cherries, or sliced nuts could be used.

Cup St. Jacques. Sherbet cups half filled with a mixture of pineapple, orange, and peach, slightly sweetened and chilled with lemon sherbet above the fruit, which though not on the list, she told how to make. Mrs. Hill also explained the use of gelatine in making ice cream and gave some of the reasons why the making of ices at home was not a success, the amount of sweetening being one. She gave the amount of salt petre to be used to hasten the freezing, etc, and some who thought it too much work to make ices were thoroughly convinced that there is not as much labor to it if done Mrs. Hill's way, as there is in making and baking a pie. The next lecture, April 12th is on "How to serve a luncheon." A table will be laid and the luncheon served in the best approved manner. The committee is expecting a full hall and extra provisions will be made for seating all.

As many ladies have expressed a desire for a lecture on pastry, the committee has arranged with Mrs. Hill to give this lecture April 26th, when she will tell how to make plain pastry, prune filling for pie, lemon fanchonettes, meringue, strawberry tarts, chou passe, chocolate eclairs, English bream, chocolate frosting for e'clairs, orange strips and orange curd.

EVERY SOCIETY REPRESENTED

East Norfolk C. E. Union Holds Meeting At Wollaston.

The largest meeting in the history of the East Norfolk Union of Christian Endeavor societies was held in the Wollaston Congregational church on Monday evening.

Delegates to the number of 325, representing the twelve Christian Endeavor societies in Quincy and Milton, were present beside many other visitors.

The meeting was opened with the congregational singing of Alexander's gospel hymns, led by Rev. Mr. Hardy

Following this a short devotional service was read by Rev. Thomas W. Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church.

The important feature of the evening consisted of a debate on the question: "Resolved that the Sunday school has done more for the young people of the church than the Christian Endeavor society."

G. Clifton Bestick of Braintree and Carl R. Hyde of Quincy spoke for the affirmative. Eugene G. Smith of Wollaston, in the absence of the fourth speaker was sole debater for the negative.

Rev. H. G. Megathlin of the Park and Downs Congregational church acted as moderator and Rev. A. R. Atwood of the Quincy Point church, Rev. Joseph Walther of the Wollaston Baptist church and Rev. A. M. Thompson of the Quincy Presbyterian church as judges.

Mr. Bestick opened the argument for the affirmative by saying that both the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor were allies of the church and related to one another but each having special work to do.

The Sunday school does more good for the young people for as its name implies, it is an organization of people gathered together to study the Bible.

Young people obtain more good in the Sunday school said Mr. Bestick, where in classes of ten or twelve of the same age under the guidance of a competent teacher the lives of the Bible characters are quietly talked over and their examples taken to heart.

At meetings of the Christian Endeavor composed of forty or fifty of all ages from ten to ninety people are reticent in expressing themselves and the benefit of the quiet discussion of the Sunday schol is lost.

The Sunday school, he said, does more toward strengthening the character of a young person than any other agent.

Eugene G. Smith of Wollaston in speaking for the Christian Endeavor told of its organization and marvelous growth.

Started in Portland, Me., by Dr. Clark in 1881 it has spread so rapidly that it now numbers over 70,000 societies including a large number of the countries of the civilized world.

The individual trained in the Christian Endeavor is made to rely on himself and in this way is made more efficient for his future duties in the church.

All of the officers of the Sunday school, said Mr. Smith, come from the Christian Endeavor. It is easily seen that members of the Christian Endeavor are the ones which are chosen to lead.

Carl R. Hayward of Quincy said one should first grant that both were necessary then see which the church could lose with the least loss of efficiency to itself.

One could see, he said, that the Christian Endeavor could be done away with much better than the Sunday school.

The teaching function of the Christian Endeavor does not compare with that of the Sunday school and its benefits are vague. The Sunday school covers a wider range of usefulness.

All of the members of the Christian Endeavor come from the Sunday school but all of the Sunday school scholars do not belong to the Christian Endeavor.

An open discussion from the floor closed the debate and Rev. Mr. Atwood announced that the judges had decided in favor of the affirmative.

ACCIDENT AT SOUTH QUINCY

Teamster Killed By Horse Running Away.

A fatal runaway accident happened shortly after noon Monday when James J. Corbett of 131 Norfolk avenue was run over by his own horse receiving serious injuries which later caused his death. The accident happened on Brooks avenue, near the Lincoln school.

Mr. Corbett was driving one of the Blacker & Sheppard lumber company's teams and had stopped to feed his horse. The horse became frightened at something and started to run. The driver in his attempt to stop him was run over, breaking his left arm in two places, and receiving internal injuries.

He was removed to the City Hospital where he died about 6.30.

Mr. Corbett is survived by a wife and four children. His body was removed to his home in Roxbury this afternoon.

MRS. ELLEN GREGORY.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Gregory, one of Quincy's oldest and most respected residents, widow of William Gregory and mother of Sister Joseph Joseph Stanislaus of the Notre Dame order, took place this morning from her late home, 941 Hancock street.

A requiem high mass for the soul of the deceased, was celebrated in St. John's church at 9 o'clock by Rev. John J. Coan, the pastor. The regular choir sang the Gregorian mass, Miss Mary McConarty singing the "Pie Jesu" at the Offertory. John Mahon presided at the organ. The bearers were William Hayes, Joseph Hayes, John McCormick and Bernard Cullen.

There was a beautiful display of flowers from relatives and friends of the deceased. Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy.

Mrs. Gregory was a native of County Tipperary, Ireland, and came to Quincy sixty-one years ago. She was a woman of sterling character, one of her chief characteristics being loyalty to friends. She was charitable to all and the affection in which she was held was evidenced by the large number that attended the funeral. Mrs. Gregory leaves three daughters, one son and four grandchildren.

"Thou art gone to the grave,
To thy God, purely given,
Thy prayers were all pleasing
And pure was thy love.
And the God that thou lov'sd so well
Took thee to Heaven
To join in his praise
With the spirits above."

All the details for the annual Knights of Columbus ball have been attended to, and everything is now in readiness to make next Monday's affair the most brilliant in the history of the Council.

Col. Roosevelt seems to be as popular in big Italy as he was in little Italy.

It is reported that the U. S. Government has determined to dissolve the Standard oil trust. Here's luck to the government.

The American Humane Education Society, of which the late George T. Angell was the founder and life-long president, has arranged through its state organizer, A. Judson Leach, with the superintendens of schools throughout Massachusetts for the general observance of April 13 as Band of Mercy Day. This will be the fourth time in the schools of Boston, and the third in the schools throughout the state, that a special day has been set aside for humane teaching. While the immediate object is to teach kindness to animals, in harmony with the work of the M. S. P. C. A., the broad platform of the Society includes "Kindness, justice, and mercy to every living creature."

The action of the Council Monday night in passing the order, granting the Citizens Gas Light Company permission to lay mains was the most sensible if not the only thing to do, under present conditions. If the company fail to make a proper reduction after extending their service, the Citizens can appeal to the Gas Commissioners for relief. Then again it is generally believed, that under the old charter the Gas company can lay mains where and when they please regardless of the City Council or anybody else. If this is true then their petition to the council was more of an act of courtesy than anything else. At any rate now that the order has been passed, the company can commence work or their mains, with a better feeling, than if they had used their right to do so under the old charter.

Shall the press be restricted? Evidently the Brockton Enterprise thinks so and wisely too. In commenting on the length some papers will go in search of the sensational it says "there can be no argument over the shocking lack of judgment and decency which caused a certain "metropolitan" newspaper to attempt to make a last sensation over the recent suicide of the unfortunate Mrs. Pierre Lorillard of New York by trying to take a snapshot of the burial proceedings. The picture if printed would not have gratified any canons of art, would not have been an addition to the beauty page on which it was printed, and would have been a shocking exhibition from any standpoint. There are times and occasions, as newspaper men themselves freely admit, when it is best for them and for the public to remove themselves and allow matters to go on quietly and without publicity. It may be permissible to take pictures of a great military funeral or something of that nature, but to try to get a last picture of the last earthly episode in the career of an unfortunate woman is degrading the newspaper business beyond all reason."

SPECIAL ORGANIZER WANTED.

Charles W. Hanscom of the Quincy electrical workers' union will go to Washington on Friday as the special representative of the Quincy C. L. U. to the A. F. of L. executive board meeting. Quincy has requested a special organizer. The request has been indorsed by both the Massachusetts state branch, A. F. of L., and the A. F. of L. conventions. Pres. Gompers sent word Sunday that the question would come up for decision at this week's meeting of the national executive board.

—Margaret Anglin, having terminated her season in Australia, is now on a pleasure trip around the world and will be shortly heading for home. It is not her intention to appear on the stage again until Sept., when she will present the dramatic version of Mrs. Deland's novel "The Awakening of Helena Richie," for a run at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston. Miss Anglin has purchased a cottage in the neighborhood of Manchester, where, with her sister, she proposes spending the summer months. In order to avoid going to New York during the hot months, she will invite her company to Manchester and rehearse them in a local hall.

MAKES SHORT STOP AT NAPLES

Roosevelt Receives Evidence of His Personal Popularity

SURPRISED AT THE ENTHUSIASM

Former President Welcomed In Royal Manner Afloat and Ashore—His Quarters on the Admiral Filled With Flowers as He Sails For Mombasa—Rome and Berlin May Receive a Visit From Him Later

Naples, April 6.—Ex-President Roosevelt spent several hours in Naples Monday, and during the time was given many evidences of his personal popularity with the Italian people and of the admiration which they have for his distinguished services to his country.

The steamer Hamburg, on which Roosevelt was a passenger, coming in soon after noon, was greeted on her way to her anchorage with the blowing of whistles, the fluttering of many flags and the playing of bands. Italian warships in the harbor, steamers of various nationalities, private yachts and craft of all kinds, dressed in bunting and signal flags from stem to stern, added to the picturesqueness of the scene which Roosevelt characterized as magnificent.

Great crowds waited for his appearance on the streets, and when he rode along in an automobile he was greeted with an enthusiasm that astonished him.

Mr. Roosevelt met various official delegations at the Hotel Excelsior, where apartments had been reserved for him, and to them all he expressed his warmest thanks for the welcome which he had received. He visited the Duke and Duchess of Aosta at Capedimonte and later dined in private at the hotel, going on board the steamer Admiral at 10 o'clock last evening.

The Admiral, which will convey Roosevelt to Mombasa, sailed early this morning. The ex-president's quarters aboard were filled with flowers, which had come from admiring friends. Chief among them were bunches of red, white and black carnations from the German emperor and a great cluster of fragrant blossoms from the empress.

Emperor William showed particular interest in the former president. The German consul general, in the name of the emperor, carried to Roosevelt the warmest greetings and a letter in which the emperor expressed the hope that he would see Roosevelt in Berlin on his return. In reply to this Roosevelt told the consul general to inform the emperor that he would certainly go to the German capital, and would tell his majesty "how the white man can live and fight in Africa."

The emperor closed his letter with "Hail to the successful huntsman." Roosevelt was particularly touched by this and in expressing his thanks for the gracious thought, said: "In a year from now you will be in a position to see whether I deserve such a wish."

A letter was received by Roosevelt during the afternoon from a prominent American prelate who lately was in Rome. The writer stated that he had gained the impression that the Vatican would have great pleasure in receiving Roosevelt because of the admiration and high esteem in which he was held there. Later Roosevelt told the American ambassador that he should assuredly go to the Vatican to see the pope if he visited Rome.

Three hours elapsed between the arrival of the Hamburg and the landing of the ex-president, as Roosevelt wished personally to superintend the handling of his baggage, of which he had a very large quantity. Meanwhile he was the object of a continual ovation from Italian emigrants who broke ont into cheers every time they caught a glimpse of him, from the moment the Hamburg dropped anchor.

CRUSHED HIS SKULL

New Canaan, Conn., April 6.—Defending himself against the attacks of Wallace Spencer, a discharged farmhand, William Lynes crushed Spencer's skull with a pitchfork, killing him instantly.

Lynes, who is 50 years old, gave himself up to the authorities and is being held, pending the coroner's inquest.

Spencer was 41 years old and had no relatives.

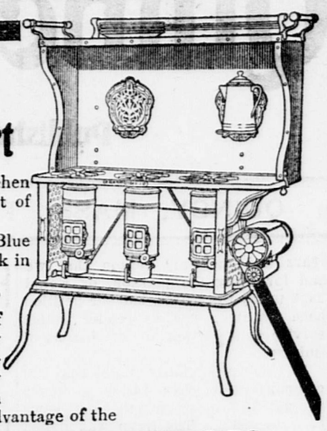

Girl Killed by Automobile

Pawtucket, R. I., April 6.—In dodging to escape an automobile, Katherine J. Creamer, aged 11, was struck by another machine going in the opposite direction and was fatally injured, dying in a few minutes. Bernard Cabisius is held, pending the action of the medical examiner.

"COME IN, JOHN; DINNER IS READY"

Tactful Wife's Greeting to Her Long Missing Husband

Chicago, April 6.—After an absence of twenty years, during which his wife and son did not know his whereabouts or whether he was dead or alive, John Alles has returned to his home in Wilmette, brought back by his son Frank, who was 10 years old when his father vanished.

Mrs. Alles saw them coming and stood in the doorway to welcome her husband. He was ever a peculiar and sullen man, betraying little emotion himself and disliking it in others. She remembered this.

"Come in, John," she said, "dinner is ready."

"I'm awful hungry," said Alles.

LILLEY EXTREMELY ILL

Governor's Friends Beginning to Fear as to the Outcome

Hartford, April 6.—The illness of Governor Lilley from nervous exhaustion has assumed a serious aspect and his condition is a matter of much uneasiness. The affection of the nerves, which has been most pronounced in his stomach, appears to have gone to his heart and kidneys.

GEORGE L. LILLEY.

The change in his condition comes as a surprise, and to those close to him it has brought a sudden realization of his serious condition. It is stated that while he is extremely ill, there is no immediate danger of death.

RIBS WERE BROKEN

Boston Printer Met Death While a Patient In State Hospital

Boston, April 6.—After learning that Richard F. Mitchell, a printer of this city, entered the Boston state hospital at Pierce Farm last month in fairly good condition, and that several ribs were found broken after his death from paralysis of the brain, Judge Perrin, in the district court, held two nurses, M. C. McGregor and F. G. McKenzie, for manslaughter and bound them over to the grand jury.

Dr. Noyes, superintendent at the farm, told about Mitchell being received at the hospital March 12 and being placed in ward 8 in charge of McKenzie and McGregor.

AT ODDS WITH GOVERNOR

Porto Ricans May Receive Unexpected Visit From General Wood

New York, April 6.—According to a report current here General Wood sailed for Porto Rico on the Coamo, presumably in connection with the recent trouble between the islanders and Governor Post. He was put on board the Coamo at the last moment, it is said, by a war department tug from Governor's Island.

The officer in charge at headquarters on Governor's Island refused either to confirm or deny the report. "All that I know about it is what I read in my newspaper," he said. Wood, if he was still there, could not be reached.

DOOM IS SEALED

Thousands of Persons Must Die Either by Masascre or Starvation

London, April 6.—A special dispatch from Teheran to The Times, describing the situation at Tabriz, says there is no doubt that a great tragedy is close at hand.

If Tabriz holds out against the invaders the dispatch says, thousands must die of starvation. If Tabriz falls probably tens of thousands will be massacred.

Mrs. Andrew Gibb, living at 22½ Washington St., Quincy, Mass. says: "My husband suffered a great deal from Kidney trouble. He had severe pains in the small of his back and had but little strength or energy to do his work. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, he procured a box at the Cox Drug Store and began taking them as directed. He was surprised and gratified at the quick relief he obtained from the first and when he had taken the contents of two boxes he was cured. Doan's Kidney Pills will always have our hightest recommendation."

NICARAGUA MAY COME TO TERMS

Expresses Desire to Settle Long-Standing Emery Claim

SECRETARY KNOX IS PLEASED

Receives Notice That a Special Commissioner Is Coming to Pave the Way For Settlement of Dispute by Compromise or Arbitration—Delay Was Becoming Intolerable—Some Question Sincerity of Zelaya

Washington, April 6.—The gratifying information was conveyed to Secretary Knox that the Nicaraguan government would make an early effort to settle either by compromise or by arbitration the claim for damages of the G. D. Emery company, whose concession for cutting mahogany was cancelled about two years and a half ago for an alleged violation of the terms of the concession.

Through Mr. Espinoza, the Nicaraguan minister, the secretary was told that a special commissioner would leave the Central American capital immediately for this city, carrying full instructions for the minister, which would empower him to reach a settlement whereby the whole controversy would be adjusted. If a compromise is not reached, the minister will sign a protocol submitting the case to arbitration.

Diplomacy has well nigh exhausted itself in the efforts to reach a settlement of this case and the temper of the state department was such that longer delay was becoming intolerable. The last communication from Secretary Knox to the Nicaraguan minister was in the nature of an ultimatum.

There is a disposition in some unofficial quarters to question the sincerity of President Zelaya's latest move, the argument being made that it merely constitutes a play for time and more delay in the final settlement of the issues involved. At the state department, however, satisfaction is expressed over the outcome, while a hope for a prompt settlement is expressed.

SMALL, BUT HUSKY

Training In Jiu Jitsu Proves Useful to a Chicago Nurse

Chicago, April 6.—Miss Wilma Berger, 20, a probation nurse, saved herself by quick wit and knowledge of jiu jitsu when attacked in Ontario street, near the lake.

Miss Berger stands about five feet and weighs 110 pounds. From her description her assailant was about five feet and eight inches in height and weighed about 180 pounds. She struck his foot off the ground and grabbed him by the arm and gave a quick twist that landed him on his back, and then ran.

At the police station Miss Berger gave an exhibition of jiu jitsu, nearly flooring a detective, a six-footer, weighing 200 pounds.

CROKER AT WHITE HOUSE

Golf Discussed by Former Tammanyite and the President

Washington, April 6.—Richard Croker, the former Tammany chieftain, called on President Taft at the White House Monday afternoon. He is returning from a winter spent in the south.

His call on the president was purely a social one. The two chatted together for quite a while, principally on the topic of horses and golf.

Mr. Croker is an inveterate golf player and on this subject he and the president talked quite freely. Croker will be in the city for a couple of days.

CONFISCATED BOOZE

Citizens of Kentucky Town Stirred to Action by Two Tragedies

Mayfield, Ky., April 6.—Nearly 100 citizens, headed by county officers and all the preachers of Mayfield, marched on an alleged blind tiger last night, broke down the doors, confiscated twelve gallons of whisky, offered prayer and then marched through the streets to a second resort, where the program was repeated.

Medals For Scientists

London, April 6.—The Geographical society has awarded the Victoria research medal to Professor Alexander Agassiz of Cambridge, Mass. The society has also awarded a special medal to Lieutenant Ernest H. Shackleton, who recently returned from an expedition to the south pole.

Woman Burned to Death

New York, April 6.—Too much concerned for the safety of her two children to try and save herself, Mrs. Grazia Pettinato was burned to death, following the explosion of a can of kerosene with which she had attempted to quicken the kitchen fire.

OLD COLONY LEAGUE SCHEDULE

Local Baseball Fans Promised Some Fast Games

The Old Colony baseball league, which includes Quincy, Weymouth, Randolph, Rockland, Stoughton and Taunton, has arranged its schedule for the coming season. It will be seen that Quincy has got its share of good dates and that everything seems favorable for a successful season for the local team.

Quincy opens its league season the morning of May 30, with the Taunton champions as a Memorial Day attraction. On the afternoon of the same day they meet the Rockland team at Rockland. July 5th finds Quincy at Taunton in the morning, while in the afternoon they entertain the Deweys of Weymouth. Whenever these two teams meet there will always be a record crowd, as a natural rivalry exists between the two towns.

On Labor Day the local nine plays the Deweys at Garfield park, Weymouth Landing, and in the afternoon will have as guests the Taunton aggregation. Thus it will be seen that some fast games are in store for the local fans during the coming season. The complete schedule is as follows.

June 9—Randolph at Quincy, Rockland at Taunton, Weymouth at Stoughton.

June 12—Taunton at Randolph, Stoughton at Rockland, Quincy at Weymouth.

July 31—Stoughton at Weymouth, Rockland at Randolph, Quincy at Taunton.

Aug. 7—Taunton at Randolph, Stoughton at Rockland, Weymouth at Quincy.

Aug. 14—Randolph at Rockland, Quincy at Stoughton, Taunton at Weymouth.

Aug. 21—Weymouth at Taunton, Rockland at Stoughton, Quincy at Randolph.

Aug. 23—Stoughton at Quincy, Weymouth at Randolph, Taunton at Rockland.

—As one of the closing events of an exceptionally brilliant art season in Boston the Copley society on April 20 will open an exhibition of about 200 works by the Spanish painter Sorolla. This is the first time the society has had two large loan exhibitions in a single year. It was felt that the opportunity to secure the much discussed Sorolla canvases was one which should not be lost. The pictures are now at the Albright Art Gallery, Buffalo. The Sorolla exhibition, it is believed by the exhibition committee of the Copley society, will be a revelation and delight to people of Boston and New England, none of whom should miss seeing the pictures.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

La France

SHOE for WOMEN

Foot Ease and Style While Shopping

Do your feet tire when you go shopping? And do you object to the awkward and unsightly affairs called "walking shoes?"

The makers of the celebrated La France Shoe for Women ($3, $3.50 and $4) have perfected a shoe which you ought to get acquainted with, it is so different from the ordinary, so-called, "flexible welt" shoes. It is the La France Flexible Welt, and the illustration herewith shows that the name is a good one. It feels as comfortable as a slipper. It yields to every movement of the foot and instantly adapts itself to all positions.

Yet it loses none of the style and grace which have made La France shoes Famous—a shoe to be proud of and to give long, satisfactory service. We had rather show it than describe it.

Manager Sydney Patterson of the Quincy team of the Old Colony league, is arranging a schedule for April and May, prior to the opening of the league season. In these games the manager can try out the candidates for the various positions and pick his team on the showing made.

Mrs. Warren T. Arnold who lost her watch on Sunday and advertised it in Monday's Ledger reports today that it fell into honest hands at Braintree and she is delighted to have it again in her possession. It is understood a liberal reward was paid for its return.

At Electa hall, Johnson building Monday evening John A. Boyd Camp, U. S. W. V., held a whist party at which fourteen tables were in play, and souvenirs were awarded as follows. T. B. Crane, Mrs. G. Anderson, Mrs Mary Jones, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. B. Porterfield, Mrs. E. E. Field, Mrs. Cora Carman and HarryE. Glover.

Monday's Ledger could almost be called a legal as well as a commercial advertising sheet as there were about a dozen citation notices and two mortgagees' sales. When a saving of time is necessary there is no other medium in the County that can give the desired number of insertions required by law in so short a time.

On account of the regular meeting of the Quincy Catholic Club, which meets in the Knights of Columbus clubhouse the first Monday of the month, the Quincy-Weymouth tournament was not held last night. Also on account of the K. of C. ball coming Easter Monday night and as the Monday following is a holiday, the next tournament in the series will be held Tuesday, April 20.

Mrs. Leavitt presided at the organ accompanied by Theodore H. Corey on the violin and Alexander Clark on the cornet.

The ushers were. George Brown, William Bullock, Ralph Blake, Kleland Brooks, and Carleton Fish.

On invitation of Mr. Poore, vice president of the local Christian Endeavor the audience descended to the vestry for a social hour and roll-call.

Refreshments were served by a committee of young ladies in charge of Miss Lucy Chase, consisting of Miss Frances Jones, Miss Edith Chapman, Miss Sally Baker, Miss Anna Gould, Miss Louise Nash, Miss Bertha Given and Miss Thomas.

The award of the banner for highest percentage of attendance at the meeting was hotly contested between the Quincy Point and Park and Downs societies, the honors being nearly even.

It was finally decided that the former should keep it the first month and the latter the next.

Owing to illness Rev. E. A. Chase the pastor of the church was unable to attend.

WOLLASTON

"Our duty and responsibility in the matter of evangelizing the world" is the subject at the mid-week prayer meeting at the Wollaston Baptist church on Friday evening.

ELIZABETH COLLINS.

Elizabeth Collins, the three-year-old daughter of Timothy J. Collins, of the Boston Globe staff and Mrs. Margaret Falvey Collins died early this morning at the home of her parents 199 South street. The little girl who has been sick about a week fought a hard battle against death, but to no avail. Her parents had strong hopes for her recovery, especially during the last few days, but a bad turn came Monday evening and before dawn she had passed away.

Elizabeth was a robust and healthy child and never had been seriously ill before. She was a general favorite with everyone in the neighborhood and all were filled with sorrow when they learned of her death this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Collins have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their bereavement at this holy Easter time.

Weather permitting the yard clerks' baseball team will play the office clerks' team of the Fore River on Saturday afternoon at the Fore River field. There is considerable rivalry between the two teams and some fun is expected.

HAD SIXTEEN VOTES TO SPARE

Rule Limiting Amendments to Tariff Bill Adopted

VOTE TO BE TAKEN ON FRIDAY

Full and Free Opportunity to Alter Lumber and Hides Schedules Provided For—Florida Democrat Denounces Bryan and Populists, Bids Defiance to Democrats, and Says He Will Support the Payne Bill

Washington, April 6.—At 3 p. m., April 9, was the time set by the house for a final vote on the Payne tariff bill. The long expected resolution from the committee on rules closing general debate, providing for certain committee amendments and a full and free opportunity to alter the lumber and hides schedules, was reported late Monday and adopted with sixteen votes to spare, notwithstanding the desertion of twenty Republicans.

Four of the sixteen votes came from the Louisiana delegation, who likewise broke away from their party. Previously to the adoption of the resolution there was some severe criticism of it from the Democratic side.

Aside from the interest which attached to this proceeding was the speech of Mr. Clark (Fla.), who denounced Bryan and Bryanism, Populists and Populism, and who declared that he would support the Payne bill if it contained what his constituents wanted—a duty on Sea Island cotton and protection for citrous fruits, pineapples, etc.

His remarks led him into an exciting colloquy with Mr. Randall (Tex.) and other Democrats, but he declared that, having been instructed by the legislature of his state and his constituents as to the stand he should take on the articles mentioned, he would not violate his solemn obligation to them. His whole attitude was one of defiance to the Democrats.

Mr. Clark, in a passionate speech, declared that it was time for Democrats to abandon the "peerless leader." He said he had followed him to defeat three times and was tired. He hoped the Democrats of the south would stop prating about the poor man and do something to make the poor man scarcer.

Each time a heated Bryan Democrat rose to question Clark he was floored with a quick retort and when he concluded with the declaration that Mr. Bryan's great mistake had been that he had turned his back to the east and united with the Populists of Nebraska, and that the next Democratic national convention would be led by conservatives and not by Populists, the speaker received great applause.

Before the rule was reported there were numerous speeches on the bill. An interested spectator throughout almost the entire session was Mrs. Taft, who was accompanied by her two sons and Captain Archibald Butt, U. S. A., one of the president's aides.

The bill can be before the senate on Saturday next. It can be reported back to the senate with the amendments of the senate finance committee on Monday or Tuesday of next week, and probably will be reported on Monday.

Unless public opinion has lost its old time force, the senate is likely to pass the bill within six weeks, and the measure, allowing for long conferences, ought to go to the president by June 1.

Protest Against Payne Bill

Protests against the Payne tariff bill were prominent in the proceedings of the senate. Senator Smith read a vigorous declaration of some of the iron ore interests of Michigan against placing that product on the free list, and Senator Clapp presented an equally strong petition from his constituents of Minnesota, objecting to taking the protection tax from barley.

The secretary of state and the secretary of commerce and labor were directed by a senate resolution introduced by Senator Daniel to furnish to that body information concerning the selling of goods made in America cheaper in foreign countries than in the United States.

Calhoun Trial Still Drags

San Francisco, April 6.—Twenty citizens from a special venire, the thirty-first summoned in the case, were examined Monday in the trial of Patrick Calhoun, charged with bribery, without filling the twelfth seat in the jury box.

Woods Set Ablaze by Spark

Marshfield, Mass., April 6.—A spark from the engine of a train leaving here for Boston started a stubborn forest fire. It swept over a tract between 500 and 600 acres in extent and was fought for hours by more than 200 volunteers.

Fines by Trade Unions

Boston, April 6.—After a spirited debate the house of representatives voted, 106 to 84, to substitute for an adverse report of the committee the bill to permit trade unions and other associations to impose fines.

Sutton Challenges Slosson

New York, April 6.—George Sutton has challenged George Slosson for the 18.2 inch one shot in balk line billiard championship. He has deposited $250 to bind the match.

Do Children Need Alcohol?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

WEYMOUTH

Holy week will be observed at Union Congregational church as follows: On Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings there will be union services with the Universalist church. Rev. Melvin S. Nash of the Universalist church will have charge Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, preaching one evening and providing the speaker for the next evening. Rev. R. H. Cochrane pastor of Union church will preach Thursday evening and Rev. C. F. H. Crathern of South Braintree will close the series Friday evening.

A farmers institute will be held at Clapp's hall this evening under the auspices of the South Weymouth Grange and Agricultural Society. Prof. John W. Clarke will speak on small fruits.

George Jones a popular conductor on the Braintree-Weymouth line of the street railway who has been dangerously ill with typhoid pneumonia is now reported as improving.

The monthly supper of the social club of Union church has been postponed to April 14.

Miss Louise Humphrey has been on a weeks trip to Washington, D. C., and Virgina.

William F. Hunt and family of Weymouth Heights have moved to New York.

Miss Gwendolene Hamlin has been spending a few days with friends in Malden.

Chief of police Thomas Fitzgerald and night patrolman John M. Walsh have been appointed special police officers of Braintree by the selectmen of that town.

The rite of baptism will be administered to ten candidates at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Mullen have gone to Sandwich, N. H., on a visit.

adjacent property to the so-called Furnace Brook and Quincy Shore reservation?

What benefits or injuries have resulted in Quincy tax payers?

What remedial action is recommended?

Order adopted.

President Hobbs appointed as the Committee, Councilmen Freeman, Hadlock and Abele,.

GAS MAINS.

Councilman Moir moved that the order relating to the Gas Co. be taken from the table.

Councilman McDevitt opposed. He said the communication received was a disappointment. He hoped the Council would make no concessions. In Milton there was 15 2-10 miles of main and from 350 to 400 meters and the price was 80 cents. In Quincy there were 50 miles of main 2000 takers and the price $1.50.

In Quincy the profit is 233 per cent. Some improper influence had caused some members to change their mind. He hoped the matter would lay on the table until the company reduced the price.

Councilman Richards agreed with the last speaker. He did not see why any member should change his views. The company calls for a show down. Let us give it to them.

Councilman Whiton said he should change his vote but no under influence had been used on him. He said we are on the wrong track to get a reduction. The point is to extend the mains so that our constituents can get gas. We can stop them laying any more mains but that only helps them.

Councilman Abele said he voted to lay on the table so that the Gas Co., might be heard from.

The motion to take from the table was voted.

Councilman Moir stated that President Richards of the Gas Co. was present and he asked the unanimous consent for him to appear before the Council. It was so voted.

President Richards said he believed there was a gross misunderstanding. He had heard little about the Citizens' Gas Co. but much about the Boston Consolidated. They were very much different. The Boston Consolidated Company was composed of eight companies and Milton was fortunate in being one of these companies. The Boston Consolidated has 800 miles of mains and sells over four billion feet. The Quincy company has 55 miles of mains and sells 29 million feet.

Mr. Richrds then took up the history of the gas situation in Quincy. He spoke of the hearings before the Gas Commission in 1906 and what he had agreed to do in Quincy.

The Boston Consolidated Gas Co., has not one cent invested in Quincy. Continuing Mr. Richards said we have done all we have agreed to and more We have expended $379,000 and have not paid a dividend and have not paid expenses.

This Council said Mr. Richards may select an auditor to audit the books of the Quincy Co. and if my statement is not correct he would personally contribute $2,500 to any charity in Quincy.

Mr. Richrds said in East Boston there was 32 miles of mains, 186 customers per mile and consumes per mile 5,368,231 feet. In Quincy there are 55 miles of mains, 33 customers per mile and the consumption per mile is 466,387.

Quincy ranks 5 in number of miles laid to give good service and in consumption is three times poorer than the next company to it. Quincy should not be expected to sell as cheap as other places where the consumption is much greater. As soon as consumption increases the price will go down. At this point Mr. Richards said he did not ask to be granted the petition but did ask permission to withdraw it. His company had no desire to make further investment if the company was to be received in the same spirit as in the immediate past.

Councilman McDevitt said if the figures he had given were not right he would resign and do three months in jail.

Several Councilmen asked President Richards questions.

Councilman Richards said. Your company has expended $379,000 and made no profit up to date and you are capable of doing ten times the business you are now doing? President Richards replied yes.

Councilman Richards then said. It seems to me this company has built up a good plant at the expense of the City of Quincy. It seems to me that while you say you have lost $14,000 the people of Quincy have lost more while you have been building up the plant.

Councilman Cherrington asked about the authority of Mr. Richards to reduce the price of gas to which the latter replied if he recommended it the directors would doubtless approve bue he should not recommend it in Quincy at the present time.

President Richards then retired.

The question was then on accepting the report of the Committee.

Councilman Richards said he hoped the report of the committee would not be accepted and an order offered giving the petitioners leave to withdraw.

Councilman Nowland said people who want gas ought not to be punished that the Council might get back at the company. It was very short sightedness. Like cutting off the nose to spite the face.

The report was accepted on a roll call vote 12 voting yes and 7 no.

The order then took its second reading and the rules were suspended on a rising vote of 13 yes and 6 no.

The order was then passed to be ordained by the following vote:

YES—Abele, Beale, Bean, Bishop, Carey, Cherrington, Freeman, Hadlock, Moir, Nelson, Nowland, Smith, Whitón—13.

ABSENT—Bryant, Gardner, Gilson.

NOT VOTING—President Hobbs.

Councilman McDevitt offered an order appropriating $400 to drain Picketts pond. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Councilman Fylnn offered an ordinance that no public street should be named until acted upon by the City Council. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

Upon motion of Councilman Moir the order granting the Telephone Co. attachments was taken from the table and passed.

Councilmn McDevitt asked the Mayor about the pay of city laborers.

Mayor Shea said that there are 45 men working on the streets. Of this number 35 receive $2 and over. Of the others six are paid $1.75 one of these is over 82 years of age and the others 75 years. Men doing manual labor are paid from $2 to $2.50.

Councilman Richards offered an order that the special committee on charter revision be increased from three to seven and that the chairman of this committee appoint the new members of it.

Councilman Freeman said there never had been a time in the twenty years Quincy had been a city that the right had been given a chairman of a committee to appoint his own committee.

Councilman Richards said that when he saw the committee named he recognized that they were opposed to the object of the committee.

Councilman Smith said that was not half as bad as for the chairman to knock his own committee.

President Hobbs stated that in appointing the committee he had thought it wise to have one who was opposed. Councilman Freeman was appointed because of his long service in the Council and experience and Councilman Richards because he offered the original order.

Councilman Richards said he did not think the Council was rightly represented on a committee of that kind. "If I did not favor it I would not stand on such a committee, I would feel it my duty to stay off."

The motion was lost on a rising vote of 9 in favor and 9 against.

Adjourned at 10.12 until April 20.

Clubhouse and Yachts Being Made Ready For Season.

The Metropolitan Park Commission has advised the Wollaston Yacht club that it is willing to continue the club as a tenant at its present location at the same rental and on the same terms and conditions as are contained in the lease which expired March 1.

Work on changing over the trimmings on the club house and wharf from white to green has been in progress the past week. The change is a pleasing one, the green harmonizing with the dull grey of the shingles giving the building and wharf a more substantial look.

New locks were put on the gate and doors last week. The new keys are being issued by Janitor Pitts upon the personal application of the members.

Dr. F. C. Merrill's Pocahontah is expected to be at her moorings off the club house the latter part of this week. Capt. Josiah A. Fenno will be her chief mate this season and also her sailing master during the Doctor's absence at his country home.

The water pipes will be run to the club house this week and the service connected. During the few remaining cool weeks the water will be shut off every night. As the pipes this year will be self draining there will be little danger of a freeze up as in past years.

The Wollaston Yacht club Channel bill carrying an appropriation of $7500, was signed by Governor Draper last Saturday. It will be but a short time before dredging commences.

John T. Manning was sentenced to six months in the house of correction for drunkenness at Randolph.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SOCIAL

Pleasing Program By Children Of Universalist Church.

A very pleasing entertainment was given Tuesday evening at the Universalist church to raise funds for the Easter decorations of the church. The concert was in charge of Mrs. Irving Condon, the program being carried out wholly by children. Mrs. Condon is deserving of great credit for the way everything was done, the children appearing to be right at home on the stage.

The feature of the evening was "A Tom Thumb Wedding," the ceremonies of a real wedding being carried out to the letter. Prof. Chester French made a hit when he played Lohengrin's wedding march for the bridal procession. After the ceremony was performed Master Herbert Read sang "I'm Married Now," which was quite appropriate. Miss Maud Dyer accompanied him on the piano.

After the concert there was a social hour, during which various things were on sale. Those in charge of the sale were: ice-cream, Miss Martha Holton; cake, Miss Bertha Newcomb; candy, The Murray Club; lemonade, Miss Harriet Lombard; flower garden, Miss Dorothy Hale.

The concert program was as follows:

Piano solo	Bessie Grant
Teddy Bear song	Elizabeth Wheeler
Recitation	Katherine Reed
Song	Annie Wright
Mandolin solo	Marion Wright

"A Tom Thumb Wedding," with the following cast of characters:

Organist	Prof. Chester French

LIVELY TIMES AT Y. M. C. A.

Boys Play Good Joke On Their Director.

These are great days for the boys and incidentally for the Boys' work director. Yesterday he ran with the hounds in a hare and hound chase. Coming back exhausted after an eight mile run you can imagine his feelings when he learned that the hares had gone over the course in carriages and bicycles. The hares returned fresh as daisies while the poor hounds were worn to a frazzle.

Yesterday's basket ball games resulted in victories for the teams captained by S. Prout and W. Morrison. Tomorrow the victors and losers face each other.

This morning twenty-five happy boys accompanied by full lunch boxes set out for a hike to Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. with Mr. Clee in charge.

Tonight the Employed Boys give their first gymnasium exhibition. Over three hundred invitations are out. With a full attendance of the class the success of the exhibtion is assured.

Tomorrow at 8 P. M. will come the Indoor championship meet for the season. Champions will be picked in nine different events. Handsome sups and medals now on exhibtion are offered for prizes. In addition the best athlete in each event will have his name and record placed on the record board.

More interest seems to be taken in the City Council by citizens this year than ever before. For several years past the regular meetings of the City Council have been but slimly attended by citizens who apparently took no interest whatever in the doings of this body. This year however there has been a marked change. There has been no meeting of the council that was not well attended by citizens. On several nights every seat reserved for spectators in the body of the council chambers has been taken as well as many seats in the gallery.

Many of these doubtless came from personal interest in some measure before the council. There are others however who came from idle curiosity for it has gone forth that the meetings of this administrative body are to be interesting. Up to date the most of the meetings have been interesting. From the experience of the last three months it is pretty safe to say that no measure will be railroaded through without a general understanding of the subject.

One of the important matters acted upon at last Monday night's meeting of the City Council was the passing of the order amending the so-called building ordinance. The original ordinance was passed near the end of the year 1906. The matter of such an ordinance had been before the Council for several years. Each year the committee having it in charge delayed action until late in the season and then realizing it was too late to complete it, the order was willed to the incoming body.

The committee of 1906 finally drafted the ordinance and it was passed. At that time it was generally understood that the ordinance was crude and defective in several ways but it was a beginning and it gave the city something in the way of a building ordinance, which was sadly needed. The original ordinance placed no restrictions whatever on the class of buildings that could be erected at Houghs Neck and as a result many of the recent buildings have been no credit to that section or to the city.

The ordinance as amended by the order passed Monday night places Houghs Neck in the restricted district and will do much toward improving the class of buildings erected there in the future.

There were also a number of other sections in the ordinance that the Inspector of Buildings had found it advisable to change.

All of these matters were gone over carefully by the Ordinance committee with the assistance of the Inspector and City Solicitor so that while not perfect the amendments do much toward perfecting this important ordinance.

The ordinances are all being revised this season by the committee. This committee is holding meetings every week and is putting in a great deal of time revising the ordinance which at present conflict with each other in many instances.

☞For the first time since Keith's theatre was opened continuous performance will be done away with and instead two shows will be given each day, the intention being to carry out this policy during the spring and summer. Keith's has been the home of continuous. It was Mr. Keith's original idea and was for many years confined exclusively to vaudeville. Since the moving picture craze was started continuous has got an even wider popularity. Whereas originally it was confined to Mr. Keith's house in Boston, there is hardly a city or town in the entire United States that does not have its continuous performance. Mr. Keith still carries out his policy in his extensive circuit of moving picture houses and in Boston the continuous, according to the Keith ideas, is a feature of the Bijou Dream next door to his big theatre.

WEYMOUTH

Officer Thomas F. Mulligan of East Braintree, who is equally well known in police and base ball circles, has received a very flattering offer from one of the western leagues to officiate as umpire the coming season. Mr. Mulligan comes from a family of ball players he being one of the famous Tildens, who were champions of this locality a number of years ago, and brother of Luke Mulligan of Randolph the well known ball player and umpire.

A pair of horses attached to one of Bourke's express wagons started yesterday morning and ran from Washington square to Norfolk square bringing up against an electric light pole and breaking the back of one of the horses, who was later shot by officer John D. Walsh. The horse was valued at $350. A letter box attached to the pole was put out of commission. The wagon and driver escaped injury.

A farmers' institute was held at Clapp hall last evening under the auspices of the Weymouth Agricultural Society and the South Weymouth Grange. Prof. John W. Clarke gave a talk on "Small Fruits."

Miss Margery Hempstead is the new bookeeper at the Loraine Glove Company's factory.

Ex-Chief of police Oliver Houghton, who was quite badly injured some days ago by being thrown from an electric car, is able to be out again.

Mrs. H. Franklin Perry has been visiting friends in Boston.

On account of its being Holy week the regular meeting of the Puritana Whist club has been postponed from this eevning until next Wednesday evening when the club will meet with Mrs. Frank J. A. Perry of Sumner street.

Vagaries of a Cold.

You can never be quite sure where a cold is going to hit you. In the fall and winter it may settle in the bowels, producing severe pain. In the summer it may give you colic with diarrhoea or summer complaint. Do not be alarmed nor torment yourself with fears of appendicitis or inflammation of the bowels. At the first sign of the pain or cramp take Perry Davis' Painkiller in warm, sweetened water and relief will come at once. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. It is now put up in a large 35c size as well as the regular 50c.

GREAT BRITAIN CHANGES POLICY

Will Not Allow Castro to Land at Port of Spain

LIKELY TO CREATE TROUBLE

Venezuela's New Government Shows That It Fears Dethroned Dictator, Who Would Have Been Free to Plot Against His Native Country Had He Landed in Trinidad—United States Especially Concerned

Port of Spain, Trinidad, April 7.—At the urgent request of the state department at Washington, communicated to the London foreign office, the British government has decided not to permit Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, to land at Trinidad.

Castro's Plans

Paris, April 7.—A dispatch to The Journal from Basse-Terre, Gaudeloupe, says that General Castro, learning that he will not be allowed to land at Trinidad, has decided to leave the ship at Fort De France, Martinique.

Will Not Let Castro Interfere

London, April 7.—Great Britain's change from a policy of non-interference in the situation that threatens in the Caribbean in a decision not to allow Cipriano Castro to land at Port of Spain, Trinidad, is a friendly act to America and the other powers more directly interested in Venezuela.

It did not occur to Great Briatin when the continental powers decided not to allow the former president of Venezuela to land at their West Indian ports that he might make use of British ports as a base in a campaign which possibly would end in unsettling the present pacific conditions in Venezuela.

As soon as the state department at Washington pointed out, however, that the dethroned dictator of Venezuela would probably cause trouble, the foreign office, after consultation with the law officers of the crown, decided to take action and instructed the officials at Port of Spain to prevent Castro from landing.

Cipriano Castro is returning to the West Indies from Europe with the avowed purpose of recovering the presidency of Venezuela. He left France March 26, on board the steamer Gaudeloupe. Where he purposes to land in the West Indies is not definitely known. The Gaudeloupe is due at Trinidad April 10 and at Colon April 15.

The latest advices from Caracas intimated that Juan V. Gomez, the present president of Venezuela, contemplated resigning in favor of one of the vice presidents of the republic. It is evident that Venezuela's new government is afraid of him. Its vacillation in attitude toward him since he started on his trip from Europe shows that it fears him more than it is willing to let the world know.

From a base in Trinidad he would have been free to plot against the existing government in his own country, so long as he refrained from committing any overt act. Trinidad is next to Jamaica, the largest of England's West India islands. It is near enough to the Caribbean to be within the circle of the influences which affect life and politics in that quarter.

Wherever he lands the sovereign power is likely to keep a sharp watch on Castro, so that he cannot organize any expeditions to Venezuela. But there is a limit to the vigilance which any country can exert over residents within its territory, as we discovered not only during the old days of the filibusters against Spain in Cuba, but as late as 1897, just previous to the war by which Cuba was freed by the intervention of the United States.

Holland, France and Venezuela will also be interested in Castro's doings. But for various reasons the United States will have an especial concern in his movements and plottings.

HAD FORTUNE OF $10,000,000

Suicide of One of the Quaker City's Most Wealthy Man

Philadelphia, April 7.—Charles E. Ellis, president of the Citizens' Passenger Railway company and one of the wealthiest men in Philadelphia, shot himself at his home in this city. He was discovered lying in a pool of blood in his bedroom by his wife.

Ellis was 74 years of age and had been a sufferer from neuralgia and rheumatism for some time. His wealth was reputed to be about $10,000,000.

Given Ample Time to Repent

Philadelphia, April 7.—Twenty-five years' imprisonment and a $2000 fine was the sentence imposed by Judge Barrett here upon George Washington, a negro, who was convicted of holding Mrs. Ella Curtin, white, a prisoner in his room and ill-treating and robbing her.

Ferguson Whips Barry

Boston, April 7.—Sandy Ferguson of Chelsea had Jim Barry of Chicago whipped to a standstill in the tenth round of a scheduled twelve-round bout here last night and was only prevented from a straight victory by an apparently deliberate foul on the part of Barry.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST S. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries

OUR HOSPITAL
(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)
INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000 but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

HE PRAYED TOO MUCH

Religious Man Disturbed His Wife, So She Left Him

New York, April 7.—If Henry E. Bedell, who dispensed bread, pies, cakes and other products of the baker's art at Hempstead, L. I., had not exhibited so much religious fervor he probably might now have the companionship of his wife, who, with her two children, has left him and gone to live with her married daughter in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Bedell did not object to his erecting an altar in the parlor, nor did she object to his praying for what she considered a reasonable length of time. But about a year ago he is said to have remained such a long while on his knees, intoning hymns and praying loudly, that the wife and children moved to an upper story of the house.

There was a reconciliation. But the second break came a short time ago, when Bedell resumed his fervor.

SUGGESTION HAS MERIT

Women and Children to Have Reserved Cars on Gotham Subway

New York, April 7.—Cars for women and children in the subway will probably come now as the result of a letter from Chairman Wilcox of the public service commission to Frank Redley, general manager of the line, in which the latter was told that the "commission is of the opinion that the experiment of reserving cars for women and children should be tried."

The letter was in reply to a query made to the commission by Redley regarding the matter.

"The experiment of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad company with these cars," Wilcox says, "seems to prove that the suggestion has merit, and therefore it would be wise to have a similar trial on the subway."

INCLINED TO MAKE SOME CONCESSIONS

Miners Willing to Waive Recognition of Their Union

Philadelphia, April 7.—President Lewis of the United Mine Workers and his committee from the three anthracite districts were in consultation here last night to arrange the preliminaries for their conference with the coal operators over the renewal of the wage agreement.

It is understood that practically all the demands made at the first conference will be withdrawn and that of the new demands the principal one will be for a method by which grievances can be settled quicker than by the present conciliation board. It is admitted that recognition of the union will be waived, provided certain other demands are granted by the operators.

A WEEK'S CONFERENCE

Gathering of Methodists Opens With a Temperance Meeting

Baltimore, April 7.—The Methodist Protestant Church of the United States began today a week's conference in this city. As a preliminary to the conference a public temperance meeting was held, at which William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-saloon league, told of the progress of the movement.

The program of the conference includes addresses by leaders of the church and others interested in religious work. It is regarded as certain that Rev. J. M. Sheridan, president of the conference, will be re-elected.

TO HAVE GASOLENE ENGINE

New Experiment In the Running of New York Street Cars

New York, April 7.—A street car run by means of a gasolene engine similar to that used in high powered automobiles is one of the traction novelties promised to New Yorkers shortly.

One of the cars has been ordered by the management of the Third Avenue road and will be used experimentally for a short time. If it proves successful it will replace horse cars on all lines where they are still in use here.

LIABILITIES OF $12,000

Theatrical Manager Teal Files Petition In Bankruptcy at New York

New York, April 7.—Ben Teal, the theatrical manager, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, stating that his liabilities are about $12,000 and his assets $200.

Teal's wife was recently sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary for attempted subornation of perjury in the divorce case of Mrs. Frank J. Gould. In Teal's list of creditors were several items for legal services.

MADE DEMAND FOR $35,000

Atlanta Youth Wrote Threatening Letters to Rich Man

AT INSTIGATION OF OTHERS

Failed to Appear For Supposed Package First Time—Second Demand by Telephone Complied With, When Youngster Is Taken Into Custody by Detectives Who Were Lying In Wait For Him

Atlanta, April 7.—Charged with attempting to blackmail Asa G. Candler, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, banker and reputed to be Atlanta's wealthiest citizen, out of $35,000 by "Black Hand" methods, Daniel W. Johnson, Jr., 18 years of age, was arrested last night at the instance of postoffice inspectors and lodged in jail.

Johnson admits writing the letters, but declares he was the cat's paw of three strangers, who, he claims, forced him to write the demands for money under penalty of death. He furnished the officers with a description of the three men.

Last Friday Candler received a letter in which he was asked to place $35,000 under the steps of a church on Monday night, April 5, "or you and your family will meet a horrible death at our hands." Sunday he received a second letter warning him to comply with the demands.

Candler called Postoffice Inspector Sutton in consultation and it was decided to trap the blackmailer. Candler drew $35,000 in cash from the bank of which he is president, so as to guard against any possible betrayal of his plans. Monday night he made up a package and placed it at the point designated, the real money in the meantime remaining at his residence, guarded by detectives. Two detectives kept watch near where the fake package was put, but no one appeared during the night for the package.

On Tuesday Candler received a telephone message demanding that he place $10,000 at a secluded spot on Moreland avenue, between Annabel street and Walker alley. Again a fake package was prepared and placed at the spot designated last night, and Johnson appeared out of the darkness, grabbed up the package and started to run, but he was in the grasp of two detectives before he was aware that he had been observed.

After a gruelling examination he made a confession, admitting having written the two letters. The first letter, dated April 1, warned Candler that if he failed to put the sum at the spot indicated "you alone shall meet death. Tell anyone of it and you and your house—that is all that live with you—shall meet the most horrible death at our hands. Pony up with the sum and keep your face closed about it and all will be well. Fail to put the sum there or blab and hell will be to pay, nothing more or less than death."

The second letter advised Candler to "slide in close up to the side of the steps and put it under them and then '23' as hard as you can. Do not fail or you will be blown to 'kingdom come' before day Tuesday, April 6."

LILLEY'S SICKNESS

Governor Must Be Taken Away Before Health Is Restored

Hartford, April 7. — Governor George L. Lilley, who lies seriously ill at the executive mansion, will recover unless untoward conditions not now anticipated intervene. This was the conclusion reached by his physicians in consultation with Dr. Janeway of New York. To bring about the governor's complete restoration to health it will be necessary to take him away.

Dr. Graves says that the illness of the governor is not accompanied in any way by hysteria. On the contrary, the governor is mentally alert and in excellent spirits.

PASSES INTO OBLIVION

Closing of Plant For Making Liquid Glue From Fish Skins

Gloucester, Mass., April 7.—After thirty-three years of continuous business, the Gloucester Isinglass and Glue company, with a plant in this city, has closed its works and will not probably reopen.

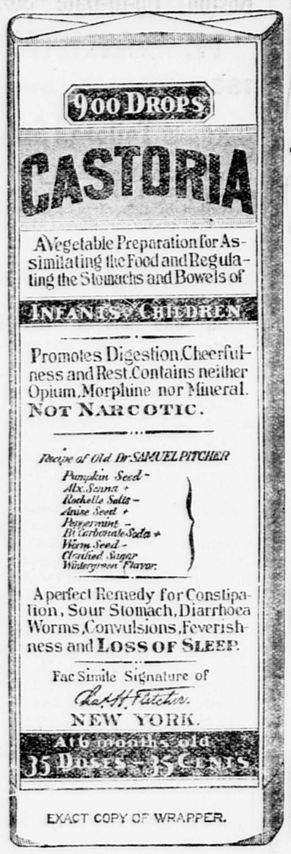

John S. Rogers invented the process of making liquid glue from fish skins in 1873. The company was subsequently formed, and was the first to send liquid fish glue to Europe to compete with the Russian product.

LONG-DRAWN OUT CASE

District Attorney May Again Try to Convict Bank Director Dickinson

Boston, April 7.—That John W. Dickinson of Newton, twice tried and once convicted of aiding and abetting in the misapplication of the funds of the South Danvers National bank and whose conviction was set aside by the supreme court, may be tried again if there is still available evidence to warrant a conviction is the statement made by United States District Attorney French.

The bank failed nearly ten years ago, and its cashier, George M. Foster, and Dickinson, one of the directors, were indicted. While Foster was convicted and sent to prison, Dickinson's trial was declared illegal. His second trial resulted in a conviction and he was sentenced to prison on April 10, 1906. It was this second verdict which the supreme court practically set aside by its decision this week in dismissing the government's writ of certiorari.

DIN CALLS FIREMEN

"Good-by" Screech of Whistles Was Taken For an Alarm

Boston, April 7.—Fourteen locomotives on the Boston and Albany system at the East Boston yards made such a din in giving J. L. Truden, superintendent at Springfield, a send-off when he left on the Ivernia for Liverpool that the fire apparatus was called out.

Towboat whistles screeched, the skippers hearing the locomotives at it and thinking that another great wharf conflagration had broken out. The fireboat dashed out of her dock on the city side and made for the Cunard dock, while the apparatus on the East Boston side also responded when an excited person turned in an alarm.

Then it was all explained and the firemen went back to their quarters.

TARGET PRACTICE DID MUCH DAMAGE

Protest of Hull Citizens Is Heeded by War Department

Hull, Mass., April 7.—The war department at Washington has issued orders that there will be no more great gun practice at Fort Revere, owing to complaints of damage and annoyance from citizens of this town at the lower end of Boston harbor.

In the past when it has been announced that the 12-inch disappearing guns were to open target practice the women of the town safely packed their crockery and glassware, dressed up their children and left town until the work of the battery was over. They would then return home to open sessions with plasterers and glaziers to repair the damage done.

A YERKES RECEIVER

London Railway Company Wants Claim of $800,000 Settled

New York, April 7.—A receiver was appointed by Judge Ware for the estate of Charles T. Yerkes, the Chicago traction financier, as a result of an action brought by the London Underground Railway company.

The claim on which the action of the London company is based is one for $800,000, said to represent what Yerkes owed on his stock holdings at the time of his death.

The receiver, who is appointed to administer the property belonging to the estate in New York city, is empowered to sell all of this property in order to meet the claim advanced by the petitioning creditors.

"A MORAL IMBECILE"

Asylum Superintendent Gives His Opinion of Leroy Kent

Rutland, Vt., April 7.—The state rested its case Tuesday in the trial of Elroy Kent for the murder of Miss Delia B. Congdon, a deaf mute, at East Wallingford.

As the first of its witnesses, the defense called to the stand Dr. Grout, superintendent of the state insane hospital at Waterbury, from which Kent escaped prior to the murder. Grout, giving his opinion as to Kent's mental condition, classed him as "a moral imbecile or demi-fool."

Shah's Commander-In-Chief Killed

St. Petersburg, April 7.—Persian dispatches state that a revolutionary soldier has assassinated the Shah's commander-in-chief, Ain Ed Dowleh, near Tabriz, with a bomb. Ain Ed Dowleh was formerly grand vizier.

St. Louis Goes Republican

St. Louis, April 7.—Early returns indicate that St. Louis went Republican after eight years of Democratic rule. It is predicted the entire Republican city ticket, with possibly one exception, was elected.

Hartford's Election

Hartford, April 7.—Interest in the license and other questions brought out a large vote at Tuesday's annual election. License was voted by a majority of 4669. The Republicans carried the city.

ON AN ITALIAN BATTLESHIP

Theodore Roosevelt and Victor Emmanuel Exchange Greetings

MEETING IN MESSINA HARBOR

Ruler of Italy Personally Thanks Ex-President For Part Americans Took In Assisting Earthquake Sufferers—Monarch Is Assured That We Only Tried to Do Our Duty—Conversation on the Trip to Africa

Messina, April 7.—Theodore Roosevelt and King Victor Emmanuel met on the Italian battleship Re Umberto in Messina harbor. The meeting was characterized by the utmost cordiality, and the king took the occasion to express the gratitude of himself and the Italian people for the generous assistance of the American people to the earthquake sufferers.

KING OF ITALY.

The Admiral arrived at Messina about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and was saluted by the Re Umberto, with the king on board, which reached here in the morning. Almost immediately Captain Pfister, the former Italian military attache at Washington and now aide to Admiral Mirabello, was taken to the Admiral in a launch, and inquired for Roosevelt. To him he said the king sent his compliments, and would have great pleasure in receiving the former President of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt's face lit up with a pleased smile, and, accompanied by Kermit and Ambassador Griscom, he proceeded at once to the battleship. The king met the party at the head of the gangway and he greeted the ex-president effusively, shaking him warmly by the hand. He did not wish, he said, to allow the opportunity to pass of making the personal acquaintance of so distinguished a man. Above all, he wanted personally to thank the ex-president for the help extended by America at the time of the earthquake.

Mr. Roosevelt replied, thanking the sovereign for the compliment paid him in inviting him to come aboard the Re Umberta. He said that the American people did not wish thanks for what they had done, as they had merely tried to do their duty, and knew no better way to confront the immense need than by their work and contributions.

The conversation then turned to the hunting trip to Africa, the king saying that his tastes also ran in that direction. He mentioned the expedition of the Count of Turin in Africa and, similarly with the Duke of Aosta, expressed the hope that Roosevelt would meet the count there. After more than half an hour's conversation, the king accompanied his guest ashore, where a photograph was made of a group consisting of the king, ex-president, Kermit and the American ambassador.

At the close of the interview Roosevelt went ashore and inspected the ruins of the city, the desolation of which moved him strongly. He then boarded the steamer Admiral, which, just at sunset, hoisted her anchors and proceeded on her way to Mombasa.

Suspicious of German Balloons

Paris, April 7.—As a result of the frequent landing of German balloons in France the government has decided to collect in the future a duty of $120 on every balloon of the average size coming down in French territory. The aeronauts will be held, pending a satisfactory explanation of their presence.

Bloodhounds After Murderer

Wilmington, N. C., April 7.—John Long, a constable and storekeeper, was killed near Whiteville, N. C., by Sam Watson, a negro, whom he had under arrest and with whom he was on the way to jail. Sheriff Richardson with bloodhounds has gone in pursuit of the negro.

Five Killed In Tornado

Aberdeen, Miss., April 7.—Five persons are known to have been killed, four others injured and still others are buried under the debris of the Illinois Central depot, which was demolished by a tornado which swept through the city of Aberdeen last night.

CITY BRIEFS.

The first consignment of Taunton herrings arrived in Quincy this morning.

The City Council committee on Streets are to go on a view about the city Saturday.

The Quincy Savings Bank has declared its regular semi-annual dividend at the rate of four per cent.

There will be no Lenten services tonight in the Catholic churches. On Friday evening the regular Good Friday services will be held.

Carriage drivers at the Quincy depot now have to stand back of a line drawn on the platform and are not permitted to go everywhere to solicit passengers.

A Lenten service was held Tuesday evening at the Wollaston Congregational church. Rev. E. A. Chase, the pastor, delivered an address on "The Day of the Controversy."

Miss Lucy Jane Mitchell and Miss Mary Dinnie, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Jewett of Salem are spending a week in Orleans, Cape Cod, at the home of Miss Mitchell's uncle, Mr. John Shaw.

The Students' Recitals are to be resumed at Colonial hall next Tuesday evening, when the program will be music by Grieg and miscellaneous selections.

Special Holy Thursday services will be held in all the Catholic churches tomorrow. Solemn high mass will be celebrated in St. John's church at 9 o'clock, followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament.

Tonight a Lenten Musicale is to be given in First Church chapel by one of Boston's best known contralto singers, Mrs. Bertha Cushing Child, who will be assisted by a violinist. Prominent local people are interested and a large audience is assured.

The semi-annual convention of Norfolk County King's Daughters and Sons is to be held Thursday in the Congregational church of East Weymouth. Morning session at 9.45. Lunch at noon followed by an afternoon session. An interesting program has been prepared with able speakers.

Men are to be entertained this evening at Bethany chapel by the Mothers association. It is a public meeting to which any one interested will be welcome. Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins an interesting speaker will speak of "The power of suggestion in the home," and Miss Coe of Atlantic will sing.

Children of First church Sunday school are looking forward to the party to be held Thursday afternoon at four o'clock in the chapel. After games, supper and entertainment, an hour's dancing will be enjoyed from 7 until 8 at Colonial hall followed by another dance until eleven o'clock for the older classes.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. George Eliott of Marlboro street was a week-end guest of her sister in Medford.

George H. York and family are about to move from the house on Phillips street, which they have occupied for fourteen years, to the Faunce estate on Newport avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Wilcutt, nee Harriet Ross, of Ashmont will live in the house vacated by the Yorks.

It may be of interest to Wollaston people to know that they have in their midst a "Pansy king" W. C. Ward, the florist of Adams street, sends from ten to twelve thousand pansies every day to Boston markets.

Wollaston Young People's Religious union will return to scheduled time and enjoy next Sunday an Easter service in charge of the minister, Rev. Mr. Horst.

Dr. W. G. Curtis, who recently moved to Bedford, has sold his practice there to a Quincy physician, and it is rumored that he will return to Wollaston.

WARM WEATHER.

The temperature at noon today had climbed well up in the seventies and the day is therefore the warmest of the season. The weather this morning was very summer like and top coats were quickly laid aside. The weather is very welcome after the raw days of March.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Ellen Gregory wish to thank their many friends for all the sympathy and courtesy shown in the illness, death and burial of their beloved mother. Their deep appreciation can never be spoken in words.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

the meeting on April 13. Anna Seaton Schmidt an authority on arts and crafts and an interesting speaker will lecture on "William Morris and applied decorative art." Mrs. Arthur S. Wonson of Gloucester will sing and there will be a social tea during which members are invited to visit the arts and crafts rooms and inspect the exhibition of some forty book plates by E. B. Bird of Wollaston and a hammered brass exhibit by Mrs. Capen.

Ballots have gone out this week to be filled in by members with their preference for officers of the club for the next two years. The ballots are to be returned to Mrs. Francis Abele, Jr., chairman of the Election committee before April 15, so that the regular official ballot may be compiled ready for the annual meeting in May.

Club dues according to the by-laws must be paid before May 1st or the member not paying loses her membership. As a hunderd are on the waiting list anxious to become members it behooves members to pay promptly.

Mystery afternoon April 27th will have such a varied program the Program committee has decided to hold the meeting in Faxon hall which has a good stage as well as seating capacity.

Members of the Education committee are busily at work preparing for the Children's Festival at Music hall on the afternoon of Saturday, April 24. There will be an entertainment and dancing for the children as well as quantities of May baskets home-made candy, etc. Prizes will be awarded in the sewing and sloyd contests and the work exhibited. Children can also secure seeds for the summer flower and vegetable gardens. A grand good time is promised the children. The proceeds go for maintaining summer schools, etc.

ADAMS CHAPTER D. R.

Members of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution, enjoy meeting at Braintree for their Braintree members are always most hospitable hostesses ,and the meeting on Monday of this week proved no exception to the rule for Mrs. Charles H. Sprague at whose home the meeting was held, gave all a cordial welcome as did also her committee Mrs. F. Eugene Dyer and Mrs. Susan J. Wilde.

A brief business meeting was held with the usual reports and marking revolutionary soldiers graves was discussed at some length to be again considered at the May meeting.

For entertainment there were groups of songs by Mrs. Albert E. Avery, president of the Philergians and recently regent of the Abigail Smith chapter, D. R., of Weymouth Mrs. Avery accompanied herself on the piano, the informality and sweetness of her singing giving much pleasure. The paper of the afternoon was by Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern of the South church. His subject "Browning" was treated in a scholarly way showing the love and appreciation of the speaker for the poet and his works, several passages being quoted with fine interpretation.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered the speaker and soloist after which a social hour was enjoyed during which the hostesses served ices and cake.

Mrs. Crathern and Mrs. Harding presided at the daintily appointed table which was decorated with little bouquets of Marquerites and daffies.

The May meeting will be at the Adams house with Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Piper as hostesses.

NEIGHBORING.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the General Federation of Women's clubs held last week at San Antonio, resolutions were adopted declaring against billboard advertising and against the Christmas tree, inasmuch as the use of Christmas trees "threaten to annihilate the forests of cedar trees." Legislation providing for the replanting of the cedar forests is proposed. The board also formally indorsed the work of Dr. Harvey Wiley, in his efforts in the interest of pure foods.

Considerable interest was shown in the arts and crafts exhibit Tuesday afternoon in Cochato hall by the Philergians of Braintree and it was not only largely attended by club members but by non-members and from Quincy and Weymouth. The Shakespearean play will be given April 20.

Split Sky at Washington

CHIEF OF THE KICKAPOOS SHOWN THE SIGHTS OF THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

The beauty of the Buildings entranced him ; the height of the Monument surprised him ; the mysterious Trolly Cars bewitched him ; but what astonished and appalled him were the many sudden deaths in civilization. Impure blood, liver and kidney troubles responsible for many being so stricken.

Split Sky, the Kickapoo Chief, who will be at E. J. Murphy Drug Store some time during the demonstration now being, made, when on a visit to Washington recently to see the Great White Chief, as the red men call the President, was paid many attentions and shown the sights at the Nation's Capital. When asked what surprised him most about Head Chief of civilization, the the Kickapoos startled his questioners by replying: "The appalling number of sudden deaths among you ,pale faces.'"

The truth of Split Sky's assertion cannot be denied. Statistics show that yearly thousands of people are suddenly stricken on the street, in public places, at their desks, and in their homes. Their deaths are attributed to "heart failure," but if the truth were known, impure blood, liver and stomach disorders are what sever so quickly the thread of life.

How unlike are the people of today from the Indians who kept well, strong, and able to endure the most terrible hardships and privations' They were noted for their health and longevity, due to the fact that they took no medicine that contained poisonous ingredients and depneded upon roots, herbs, barks, and berries the same as Kickapoo Sagwa is made from, to keep their stomachs and livers in a perfectly healthy condition and their blood pure.

If you are "off the hooks," lack the activity and ambition that you usually have, are irritable and nervous, have a poor appetite, suffer the terrors of sleeplessness, or get up in the morning feeling more tired than when you went to bed, or if your skin is dry and hard, and distressing eruptions break out over your body, your system is run down and your blood needs toning up and purifying or your liver and kidneys demand attention ;if you want to be well and strong again, do as the Indians did —take Kickapoo Sagwa. Don't delay buy a bottle at once, you won't be well until you do. Stop on the crest of the steep hill of failing health while you can, once on a downward course means suffering, despair—death.

Sagwa saves. It has saved thousands, it can save you. Many a sufferer has said, "I began to get well from the first dose of Sagwa." Some get better quickly, some slowly, but they all get better. It costs you nothing to try it. If you wish to test Sagwa before buying call at Edward J. Murphy's Store and our representative will give you a free trial bottle.

ENTERTAINS GENTLEMEN

Many Present at Meeting of Mothers' Association

Mothers' Association held their April meeting in Bethany chapel, on the evening of April 7. Invitations had been sent to friends of the association and a large audience including many men were present.

Mrs. W. H. Doble in her usual pleasing manner, spoke words of welcome and introduced the Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins of Jamaica Plain, who spoke on "The Powers of Suggestion in the Home and School." Mr. Hawkins is a well-known authority on the subject having made a special study of it not only in this country but also abroad.

He defined suggestion, as the getting of an idea in one's mind so it would dominate life itself. This wonderful power plays an important part unconsciously in the every day life influencing it for good or evil.

As a curative in the hands of skilled physicians, in overcoming functional diseases its power is invaluable.

Mr. Hawkins is a masterful speaker and his lecture was enjoyed by all.

The soloist Miss Alice Gertrude Coe of Atlantic was accompanied by Mrs. John F. Hunt. Miss Coe sang five songs most charmingly. Her selections were received with much enthusiasm, which she kindly responded to by encores.

An informal reception was held at the close of the evening and light refreshments were served. Miss Dula Miller and Miss Helen Kingman poured assisted by the Misses Kingman, Witherell and Webb.

SUPERIOR COURT.

In the jury waived session of the Norfolk Superior court held Wednesday at Dedham before Judge Sherman, the following uncontested libels for divorce, among others, were heard and granted:

670. Ellen M. Lamphere of Quincy vs. Charles A. Lamphere of parts unknown. Nisi for desertion with $150 alimony and custody of minor child. C. H. Hardwick for libellant.

703. Charles E. Brown vs. Sarah J. Brown, both of Braintree. Nisi for a statutory offense. William H. Osborne for libellant.

737. Pippini Pettrizzi of Weymouth vs. Ermanno Pettrizzi of Rockland. Contested libel on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and non-support. Taken under advisement by the court. E. C. Clark for libellant and Carmine Garofalo for libellee.

MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE

Lively Discussion on Matters of Local Interest

A regular meeting of the Quincy Board of Trade was held at its rooms in the Adams building Wednesday evening President Richards presiding.

The soliciting committee having in charge the raising of the sum of $3,300 pledged by the Board to get the Couch Telephone Appliance Co., to locate in Quincy, reported that the land for the buildings had been purchased at Norfolk Downs and that work erecting the building would be commenced immediately. The committee also reported that it was meeting with good success in raising the necessary amount and that there was no question but what it would all be subscribed in the time specified.

The committee on the annual banquet made its report which was that the affair was a great success both financially and otherwise.

Matters of general local interest were then taken up and discussed. Among these matters was that of street numbering. It was claimed that while the city had a street numbering ordinance it was not being lived up to and that on many streets the old numbers still remained on houses causing considerable confusion. The matter of street signs was also touched upon and it was brought out that there were many streets that were minus signs.

Another subject was the nuisance at the fountain in City Square and the attention of the proper authorities will doubtless be called to it.

It was announced that a public meeting would be held at an early date to be addressed by Mr. Ritchie of the Chamber of Commerce.

Two were admitted to membership.

GRANITE CITY WHIST.

There was a good attendance Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. Some good scores were recorded although it remained for Mark Read, Jr., and Dr. H. A. Jones to carry off the honors of the evening. Mr. Read was very fortunate and secured over 75 percent.

As a mark of his skill as a whist player he carried home a beautiful Cast iron spoon, the nickel plating of which was worn off in a number of places. It will come in handy this summer in his garden work.

MUSICALE AT FIRST CHURCH

Mrs. Child and Assistants Give Fine Program

A very pleasing Lenten musicale was given Wednesday evening in the First Church chapel, by Mrs. Bertha Cushing Child, contralto. Mrs. Child was assisted by Miss Josephine Durrell, violinist and J. Arthur Colburn, accompanist.

There were six numbers on the program, but as each had two or more parts the concert lasted about two hours. The feature of the evening was the very last number, when Mrs. Child sang by request Bizet's "Agnus Dei," with violin obligato by Miss Durrell. All the other numbers were excellent as well, the three musicians giving a concert that insures their reappearance in the near future.

The committee in charge of the musicale was: Mrs. Chandler Smith, Mrs. George E. Pfaffman, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Ross K. Whiton, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. N. S. Hunting, Miss Charlotte Burgess, Miss Beatrice Tisdale, Miss Georgiana C. Lane, and Miss Flora Underwood.

The following is the complete program:

(a) Aria from Sampson and Delilah — Saint-Saens
(b) Berceuse de Province — Gideon
Mrs. Child

(a) Melodrame — Guiraud
(b) Caprice — Wieniawski
Miss Durrell

(a) Saint Bride's Lullaby
(b) Love unto my Heart is Near — Hopekirk
(c) Le Nile—violin obligato — Leroux
Mrs. Child and Miss Durrell

Prelude in D minor — Chaminade
Mr. Colburn

Polonaise in D major — Wieniawski
Miss Durrell

(a) Bisesa's Song
(b) I'm wearin' awa' — Foote
(c) Melodie—violin obligato — Spohr
(d) Agnus Dei—violin obligato — Bizet
By request
Mrs. Child and Miss Durrell

TRIPLE LAUNCH AT FORE RIVER

Three Submarines Sent Overboard this Noon

A triple launching took place at the Fore River shipyard this noon, when three Holland submarine boats, built for the United States navy, took their maiden dip in the waters of the Fore River. The boats launched were the Tarpon, Stringray and Narwhal, and they took the water in the order named.

The first-named boat went off at 11.45, the second followed fifteen minutes later at high noon, and the third was christened at 12.15. The sponsor for the Stringray was Miss Elizabeth Stevens, daughter of Asst. Naval Constructor W. B. Ferguson, stationed at the Fore River works. Miss Katherine E. Theiss christened the Tarpon. Miss Theiss is the daughter of Capt. Emil Theiss, inspector of machinery at the yard.

The bottle of champagne was broken over the bow of the Narwhal by Mrs. G. C. Davison, wife of Vice President G. C. Davison of the Electric Boat Company stationed at Quincy.

Unlike the usual launching at the yard, those of today were strictly informal, being witnessed only by officers of the company and friends of the sponsors.

The Stringray and Tarpon are each 105 feet in length and are practically duplicates of the Octopus, which is known all over the world for the wonderful records it has made. The Narwhal is longer than its two sister ships, being 135 feet overall. All three boats are of the Holland type.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Still the good things continue at the Y. M. C. A. The twenty-five boys returned tired but happy from the hike to Hyde Park. The trip was made in two hours and a half by the majority of the boys but a few wouldbe marathon runners completed the distance in an hour and a half. After having lunch and seeing the town a swim in the tank of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. was enjoyed by all present.

Swimming under water, sprints and races of all kinds were on the program.

The return trip was made by trolley and everybody pronounced it the "best ever."

The bicycle trip to Lynn is the event for Friday. The start will be made at 9.30 A. M. Every boy with a wheel should join in. Baseball, swimming ets., will be enjoyed at the other end of the trip.

A debate on "Resolved that Washington was a greater man than Lincoln" was the program for the South Quincy branch of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. Every member of the club was on hand and also a delegation from the G. A. R. Post. Three Grand Army men acted as judges. The speakers on the affirmative side were Walter Morrison and Russell Farquarhson. Charles Bishop and A. Robertson spoke on the negative. The arguments by both sides showed hard study and thought, and much credit is due the boys who took part. Light refreshments were served by the social committee of the club.

A meeting of the American Benefit society was held in Wollaston hall on Tuesday evening.

WHAT IS HEM-ROID?

A Tablet, Taken Internally, That Cures Piles.

Piles (hemorrhoids) are getting more common ever yday, because we live unnaturally, overeating, overworking, taking little exercise, gradually causing a deadening of veins and tissues in the lower bowel. Blood stagnation is the cause of piles, and a condition that can't be permanently cured with ointments.

MUFFLING OF MOTOR BOATS

Recent Law Provides a Fine For Not so Doing

Owners of motor and power boats will be interested in a recent act of the legislature approved by the Governor April 1. This act is in relation to the use of mufflers.

The first section of the new law reads.

"It shall be unlawful to use a boat propelled, in whole or in part, by gas, gasoline or naphtha, unless same is provided with an underwater exhaust or a muffler, so constructed and used as to muffle in a reasonable manner the noise of the explosion."

Section two of the law provides for a fine of not more than $25 for any violation of the law.

This means that the hundreds of power crafts in Quincy waters must see to it that their exhaust is underwater or that it is muffled, and the familiar noise made by this type of craft will be no more.

Another recent law of interest to the general public is in regard to flags on school buildings. Under the revised laws it was provided that the school committee may provide a United States flag for the school buildings. The law as amended makes mandatory for the School Committee to provide a flag not less than four feet in length which shall be displayed on the school building every day, when the weather permits, and on the inside of the building on other school days.

THE Y. M. C. A. EMPLOYED BOYS

Hold First Exhibition and Ladies Night

The first annual exhibition and ladies' night of the Employed Boys was held Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. gym. A large crowd attended and thoroughly enjoyed the various feats of strength and skill performed by the boys, who showed remarkable efficiency in all kinds of gymnasium work.

Mr. Maxwell, the physical director of the Y. M. C. A. had charge of the exhibition and every event on the card was run off with snap and dash. The program opened with the lockstep and circle, followed by calisthenics. This was followed by the maze run and march, relay races and hop step.

The boys were then divided into squads and various apparatus stunts were performed. Next came the game of toss-ball, the boys forming in a circle and endeavoring to keep the ball away from the boys in the centre. A basket ball game closed the exhibition, the Pinels beating the Glovers 23 to 12. Pinel and Jenkins excelled for the winners, while Glover and Dineen played best for the losers. The summary of the game:

PINELS	GLOVERS
K. Pinel rf	lb Jello
Newcomb lf	rb Dineen
Jenkins c	c Childs
J. Pinel rb	lf King
Gesburne lb	rf Glover

Score—Pinel 23, Glovers 12. Goal from floor K. Pinel 4, Jenkins 4, J. Pinel 2, Glover 4, Dineen 2. Goals from fouls K. Pinel 3. Referee Morris. Scorer Duncan. Timer Tupper. Time 20 m periods.

Marshfield had a bad forest fire this week, set by a spark from an engine. The railroads should be forced to electrify or pay for the losses. Considerable property was damaged at Marshfield and houses were saved only by hard work, every available man being pressed into service.

Hurrah for the women of Paris! They have refused to wear the inverted peach baskets called hats and the Parisian milliners are frantic because they are overstocked. They will probably unload on the Americans as judging from the marvelous hair contortions, surmounted by inverted pails and the like seen in our streets the American women care not for their looks.

It would have been a grand good thing if all the streets of the city could have been watered this morning. The unusual high wind raised havoc with the surface of unwatered streets and the dust was blown about in great clouds. Under the street watering order introduced at the last meeting of the City Council the street watering schedule is due to go into effect April 15. As the next meeting of the Council is not until April 20, the order can not be passed until that time.

The Ledger was sorry to have so much news crowded out Wednesday but there was a rush of unexpected advertising just before going to press that had to go in so that good live news was sacrificed to accommodate.

The Ledger is watching the trend of things in our city and considering the advisability of merging into an eight page daily. It has in mind a paper similar to the Boston Record or Boston Journal but wants the paper to be a local newsy sheet devoted to Quincy and its interests; a paper for everybody and everybody's paper.

Mayor Shea in his inaugural address called attention to the advisability of creating the office of Dock and Water commissioner, said commissioner to serve without salary. Again last Monday night he sent a communication to the City Council urging the creating of such an office. The Committee on Ordinances to whom the communication was referred are hard at work revising the present City Ordinances and it is more then probable that when they report the revised ordinance orders one will be found among them covering this matter.

The matter of revising the Ordinances is no easy one as the members of the committee can testify to. Meetings have been held every week and good progress has been made along this line.

Just when the committee will complete its work is hard to tell as it is an almost endless job.

It would seem wise however if the committee in view of the importance of the matter of improving our water front that this should not be held back but should be reported at once.

Quincy has a water front of almost inestimable value and now that congress is giving so much attention to inland water ways nothing should remain undone that will place Quincy in a favorable light.

The Mayor and the two business men's associations have not been idle however, and Frank F. Crane has represented the city at several conferences in Washington and elsewhere. At the recent conference in Washington he took with him a large supply of illustrated books of Quincy showing her water front and principal industries. These were contributed by the business men of Quincy and were distributed freely among the congressmen at Washington. That all who received a copy of the book were favorably impressed there can be no question.

Mr. Crane has done grand good work in this way but he would have had a better standing with congressional committees could he have handed them a card bearing his name and the title "Dock and Water Front Commissioner."

Mr. Crane is probably better posted on Quincy's water front matters than any other citizen and there is but little doubt if the office was created and offered to him he would accept although it carried no salary.

GIVEN A PURSE.

John Birnie Tendered Surprise in Doble's Hall.

John Birnie was tendered a surprise party Wednesday evening in Doble's hall, over 100 being present. After all the guests had arrived Robert MacVitie presented Mr. Birnie with a purse of $110. The recipient was taken completely by surprise but managed to say a few words.

The presentation over, the fun began. Dancing was the main feature of the evening, Thompson's orchestra furnishing the music. Between the dances there were songs and exhibition dances. During the evening refreshments were served.

WEYMOUTH

The school committee held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening. All the members were present. The resignation of superintendent A. A. Badger was accepted to take effect May 1. The applications of half a hundred applicants for the position from all over New England were considered and a choice practically agreed upon. The board will hold a special meeting Friday evening to fill the vacancy.

The resignation of Miss Katherine McEnroe of the Washington school was accepted. Miss McEnroe resigns to accept a position in the Boston schools. Miss Pauline R. Vernon of the 4th grade Athens school was transferred to the principalship at the Jefferson school at a salary of $500, and Miss Lydia S. Hopkins of Cranston, R. I. was elected to the vacancy at the Athens school at a salary of $400.

A large number of cases of whooping cough were reported at the Washington school and the local school committeeman was authorized to have the building fumigated.

Dr. Oliver Tinkham of Taunton has been visiting his parents Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Tinkham.

The Union Veteran fireman's association has placed a new piano in its headquarters on Allen street. The association has nearly a hundred members and is in a flourishing condition.

Mrs. Albert B. Sanborn is confined to the house as the result of a fall a few days ago.

PAYNE TARIFF BILL.

Washington, April 8.—If the Honorable Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee doesn't take thumb prints of the child of his labors and have it measured by the Bertillion system, he is not likely to recognize his tariff bill when it comes out of the Senate Committee on Finance. That committee, or at least the majority members of it are framing a measure, which will resemble the Payne bill only as a Kentucky thoroughbred resembles a Missouri mule.

Of course, the great body of the measure will be similar to the House bill, the same as the Payne bill is similar to the present Dingley law, but there will be such vital changes in its important features that it won't look like the same bill. It is now apparent that the Ways and Means Committee had two objects in view in drafting the Payne bill. One of these was to appease popular clamor with respect to the rates upon certain schedules, and the other was to suggest a way of raising more revenue. It now develops after the measure has been under discussion for two weeks or more that some serious mistakes have been made in attempting to satisfy certain demands on the one hand, and the effort to increase the revenue by raising the duty upon articles heretofore free, on the other hand has brought forth protests which cannot go unheeded.

It is these errors which the Senate will seek to correct. The reductions made in the steel and iron schedules which was a yielding to popular clamor has already led to a reduction in wages in a large number of plants in western Pennsylvania and Ohio. While it is probable that the old rates will not be re-established in their entirity in the metals schedule, there is likely to be a readjustment which will better meet the needs of the situation.

If tea, cocoa and spices are not returned to the free list, then the guess of every well informed man will be wrong. It is now generally conceded that a serious mistake was made in placing tea upon the dutiable list with the only excuse that it would raise eight millions in revenue.

The howl which has gone up against this tax is second only to that which is made against the countervailing duty on coffee, whereby coffee, supposedly on the free list, is subject to a countervailing duty; that is, a tax is imposed upon all coffee coming from a country which imposes an export duty. This means a tax upon 80 per cent. of the product consumed in the United States, and which comes from Brazil. Coffee speculators and valorization interests have enough coffee on hand to last two years, and taking advantage of this countervailing duty would immediately put up the price, and thus reap a gratuity of some fifty millions of dollars before the Treasury would derive a penny in the shape of revenue.

To make up for the loss of revenue in placing these articles back on the free list it has been suggested that the Senate would provide a tax on dividends of corporations and bonds, and perhaps add a stamp tax as was done to raise a war revenue.

All of these changes will make the tariff bill of the Senate look quite different from the Payne bill, and in the end it is likely to be a much more satisfactory measure, not only from the standpoint of revenue but of interest to the public.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE POULTRY ASSOCIATION TO BE ORGANIZED.

There will be a meeting of Massachusetts people interested in poultry culture in the rooms of the Board of Agriculture at the State House, Boston, Friday, April 16th, to organize a state poultry association. The movement for an organization of this kind began at a conference of poultry keepers at the rooms of the Board of Agriculture early in February. There were present at this meeting some twenty persons, representing nearly as many towns.

The idea of a state poultry association has been so favorably received by all poultry keeper the promoters of the movement have been able to meet personally, that it is expected the meeting at Boston, April 16th, will be largely attended and every part of the state fully represented in the permanent organization. The proposed state association will not in any way conflict with existing poultry associations. It will be concerned principally with educational and legislative matters affecting the poultry industry within the state. Its prime object will be to secure concert of action among the poultry keepers of the Commonwealth in such matters. Everyone interested in the advancement of the poultry industry in Massachusetts is invited to attend this meeting and join the association.

—Europe is being convinced that business in this country is on the upward movement for the tide of migration is now toward the United States, instead of from it. Now would be a good opportunity for the national government to make an effort to divert some of this stream of new comers to the south and west, and induce them to aid in developing those sections instead of concentrating in the cities which are already overcrowded.—Old Colony Memorial.

Danderine
Grows Hair
and we can
PROVE IT!

The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

It enlivens and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are continually coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has renewed the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless.
A lady from Brooklyn writes: "After a short trial my hair stopped falling, and I now have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter yards long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a small bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land; 3 sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00

SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

County of Monroe }

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1902

BRIEFS

Theodore C. Gram of Kemper street has purchased a Ford runabout.

Mrs. Howard of Boston has taken up summer quarters with the Burkhouses a Squantum.

John Chandler of Clark and Edwin streets returned Sunday from a six months stay in the south.

Miss Bertha Young of Orleans, Mass., spent the week end with her uncle, Mr. E. F. Young of Elliot avenue Belleview park.

Mrs. C. H. Reviere of Sagamore street returned Saturday from a month's stay in New York and New Jersey.

Pastors and choir leaders are requested to forward their Easter programs to the Ledger office as early as possible.

The annual meeting of the Granite City club will be held Saturday evening. Officiers will be elected and other business transacted.

George Hill of Walker street had the misfortune to injure one of his eyes quite badly by the breaking of a belt in his shop in Boston.

Friends of Reginald Sprague are glad to learn that he is convalescing from an attack of appendicitis and will leave the city hospital this week.

The Pickwick club met with Laurence Loring of Willow street Wednesday evening. "Nature in Literature "was the scheduled subject.

Mrs. Clark, formerly Mrs. Irva Bachelder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dutton of Farrington street, has moved from Brooklyn, N. Y., to Maine.

Frank W. Rich, master of the grammar school at North Weymouth, has been elected supervisor of the school districts of Vernon, Guilford, Halifax, Dummerston and Brattleboro, Vt., at a salary of $1250.

Considerable interest is being taken in the concert to be given at Quincy Music hall on April 16th by Mlle. Sigrid Westerlind, the Swedish mezzo soprano, who is filling a most successful concert season in this country.

The music committee of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Presbyterian church is preparing a good Easter program for their six o'colck meeting, consisting of solos, duets and choruses by the choir. Everyone, both young and old, are cordially invited to attend the service.

Tuesday afternoon in the State Senate the bill to authorize public landings in Quincy was passed to be engrossed after the adoption of an amendment, offered by Senator Grimes, to place the landings under the supervision of the harbor and land commissioners.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. meets tomorrow afternoon in Association hall. The directors meet at half past two and the regular meeting at three. It is hoped members will be prompt as there is important business to discuss and it is hoped to adjourn early that members may attend the Good Friday services at Bethany church.

On Monday evening members of Epworth League of the West Quincy Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of Miss Lillian Johnston for their regular monthly business meeting. The meeting opened at eight o'clock with the president in the chair. After the business of the evning was transacted a social hour in charge of Miss May Williams and Miss Hilda Francis was enjoyed by all. A rising vote of thanks was extended to Miss Johnston for her kindness in entertaining the league. The meeting adjourned at ten o'clock, all having spent a very pleasant evening.

The Rev. Joseph Wise of Boston University, occupied the pulpit at the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church both morning and evening services. Mr. Wise is a converted Jew and is a graduate of a German University, also studied in Scotland where he was converted and is now taking the Theological course in Boston University. He can preach in four or five languages. In the morning he preached a beautiful sermon on the Passover and in the evening he wore the robes which are used by the people of his father land and with the assistance of one of the young men of the church he explained the different forms of worship which have been kept up since the early Bible times. It was all very interesting as well as instructive. The large chorus choir, under the direction of Mr. Geo Dean, rendered some very fine music, among the selection were "Seek ye the Lord," and "Lovely Appear." The two violinists were a great addition. They will be with the choir every morning and evening hereafter.

CHARLES H. GRIGNON.

The funeral of Charles H. Grignon, aged 42, formerly of Lynn, was held Wednesday from his sister's home, 36 Common street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Mary's church at 9 30 by Rev. William J. Duffy. The regular choir, with Miss Rena Bizzozero at the organ, sang the Gregorian mass. Mrs. Thomas Fennessy sang the "De Profundis" at the offertory. Burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

BASEBALL NOTES.

The Bigelow Jrs. defeated the Wollaston Parks Tuesday afternoon, by the score of 9 to 4. Pug Dorley, the Bigelow Jrs. star played a good game for the winners, while McConnell excelled for Wollaston Park.

The Bigelows and Quincys will open the Ward Two season Saturday afternoon in a practice game. The Bigelows are far from being in the same class with Quincy, but there is sure to be some interesting playing.

Manager Mahoney of the Bigelows has arranged two games for Patriots' Day, both with the Fore River apprentices.

Makaria and Quincy will meet on the diamond Patriots' Day. These two teams are old rivals and a hot game is assured when they cross bats. The players on both nines are taking advantage of the good weather we are having and are already in fairly good condition.

Fred Smith, the well known local ball player, has joined the Providence Eastern league team, and is doing daily practise with Hughey Duffy and his Grays. Fred has as a catcher a swell chance to make good. Duffy says he looks good and thinks he is a comer.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

The monthly report of the superintendent of schools for March shows the total enrollment to be 5909 with an average attendance of 5492.9. It will be noticed that several school buildings are rather crowded.

A NOVEL WINDOW DISPLAY.

At all hours of the day a crowd stands staring into the windows of Murphy's drug store and seem deeply interested. The windows are decorated with scores of richly beaded moccasins, genuine Indian costumes, saddles, blankets, pipes, war clubs, arrows, he addresses, papoose carriers and a fine collection of photographs of Indian chiefs, warriors, squaws and papooses and this forms a very handsome setting for an Indian chief dressed in Indian costume of beaded buckskin, and wearing a headdress made of genuine war eagle feathers. The spectators are invited inside to receive some books and samples of The Kickapoo Remedies which are so popular all over the United States.

It is true, as one of the books given away states, that scientific medical thought is now turning to natural remedies, and that the compounds developed by science as cures of natural ills are giving way to the cures known to ancestors a generation or two past, or "Old Aunty" of the south who never called in the doctor to see the children. This is the reasons the Kickapoo Remedies are now being brought to public notice. The book recites the remarkable endurances and the rugged health of the aboriginal American Indian, and states that though as a rule the savage was healthy, he was subject to natural ills, and sought means to cure them. Nature had provided the cure in her vegetation and like the wild animals, which know by instinct what grass or herb to eat at certain periods, the Indian in the course of time, long before the coming of the white man, knew and used their medicines brewed from the plant, the bark, herb, or root. An efficient remedy was never forgotten ,and in time the Kickapoos, who have maintained their tribal distinction for over 400 years of opposition and conflict, possessed a collection of cures all the neighboring tribes availed themselves of. The Kickapoos have been famous for their cures for many generations. The efficacy of the medicines was commented on by white men long ago, but not until the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company was formed about thirty years ago were they manufactured for sale. The company began in a small way, and is now one of the largest producers of medicine in the world. The laboratories are situated at Clintonville, Conn., and their trade extends around the earth.

The medicines are few, but they ease ills that would make a long list. A mention of the preparations would not be amiss. The ickapoo Sagwa for the stomach, liver nad kidneys, Kickapóo Oil a healing family liniment, Kickapoo Worm Killer for complaints of childhood, Kickapoo Cough Cure ofr coughs and colds, Kickapoo Salve for cuts, bruises and burns and Kickapoo Pills for constipation. The Indians will remain at Murphy's drug store for several days to meet the public.

—Brockton has lost its first mayor, Zba Cary Keith dying on Monday after a few weeks illness. When Brockton became a city in 1882 he was the first mayor and in the council was ex-Governor Douglas and other well known residents. Mayor Keith served six terms, three of which were consecutive.

—Visitors to the Boston navy yard now receive tickets on entering, which they have to give up to the guard at the gate in order to get out again. If you go visiting the navy yard, be careful not to lose your tag.

CITY BRIEFS.

Hancock street through City Square was treated with an oil preparation this noon to lay the dust.

Mrs. Richards Gordon entertained the Country Club Wednesday evening at her home on Franklin street.

Miss Martha Jenkins, teacher in the Massachusetts Fields school is spending part of her Easter vacation in Wilton, N. H.

The Sunday school of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church will give an Easter concert in the auditorium of the church on Sunday evening.

George E. Thomas has the contract for a house for Walter C. Sampson to be built corner of Dimmock and Goffe streets. Mr. Sampson formerly lived on Revere road.

The annual handicap meet for the 1909 championship of the Y. M. C. A. will be held tonight in the association gym. Nine events are scheduled and some close contests are expected.

For the last two or three days the boys have been enjoying themselves bathing in the creeks along the West Quincy branch of the railroad between Atlantic signal tower and Montclair station.

Beecher H. Poquett and Miss May Young, delegates from Henry H. Faxon Memorial lodge of International Order of Good Templars are attending the state convention of Good Templars at Springfield, this week.

A hot game is scheduled for Saturday between the Fore River apprentices and blacksmith. The game will be played at the Fore River grounds and some fast ball is assured. Great rivalry exists between the two teams and both are out to win.

Placards have been posted announcing the second concert by the Wollaston Glee club, to be given Wednesday evening of next week at the Wollaston Congregational church. The club will be assisted by Marie Sundelius, soprano of Boston; Laura Marion Belden, reader and Albert L. Hayden, baritone.

Walter C. Webb of Boston who has three large three apartment houses finished with one apartment occupied and four more three apartment houses in construction, has rented four more apartments to well to do Cambridge and Dorchester people, and has good prospects for renting two more soon. Mr. Webb's houses will be the means of bringing quite a few into Atlantic.

The seventh meeting of the Belliken club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Florence Hill of Walker street. The meeting was in the form of a progressive party, the young ladies moving from table to table playing different games at each. As favors, rings were covered with blue ribbons with a small bell attached to each. Those winning points in the games added a bell to their ribbon. Miss Martha Jenkins received the prize for the most bells. After the games music and refreshments were enjoyed. The next meeting will be with Miss Cora Harding of Botolph street.

ATLANTIC

It is reported that Gerald A. Sullivan the popular young grocer of Atlantic, is to open a store in Braintree. He is wished success and the townspeople will help him out at this end.

The enthem selected for Easter, for the Memorial church are "Now is Christ Risen" E. Ernest Nichol and "Why seek ye the living among the dead," by S. E. Cooke. The quartet is making excellent headway and some splendid singing has been produced since their instruction under Mr. Snyder.

Mrs. James E. Curtin of Atlantic street entertained a few of her friends at luncheon on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. George L. Thompson left Tuesday for a few weeks' stay in Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Conners of Sagamore street are the happy parents of a baby boy, born Tuesday night.

The Rev. W. J. Heath, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Wollaston, has been appointed pastor of the Methodist church at Atlantic.

The Atlantic Betterment Society has begun improvements on the grounds around the Atlantic railroad station in the way of grading and pruning the shrubs which they set out last summer. The railroad painters are expected here next week to paint the outside woodwork of the station. It looks as if Atlantic would soon have a station to be proud of.

On the evening of May 15th a reproduction of "The Awkward Squad," revised, will be presented in Atlantic Music hall. The participants and their respective parts are: Lieutenant, David Moffat; Sargeant Drell, M. J. Singelton; Farmer, Alan Arthur; Irishman, Frank Ewen; Jew, Henry Swanson; Dude, William Rice; His Valet Dutchman, Carl Stocker.

Foolish question! Yet some people act as if a medicine could take the place of a doctor! The best medicine in the world cannot do this. Have a family doctor, consult him frequently. If we did not believe doctors endorsed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds, we would not offer it to you.

Come and Get a

FREE SAMPLE

Would you walk six or eight block to get a free sample of something that would absolutely, completely and permanently cure your Headache, or Nervousness, or Dyspepsia, or Rheumatism, or Pains, and relieve you of that tired, half-sick feeling, and make you feel cheerful, healthy and strong?

Would you accept as a gift a sample that does not cost you a cent, that is perfectly harmeless and very pleasant to the taste, and that will make you feel better from the first dose?

We have sent our representative to Quincy in order that he may meet you and talk with people who are not well, may explain the ingredients of Kickapoo Sagwa and show just what it will cure.

Our representative and the famous Kickapoo Indian Chief, Red Cloud, are now at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store, from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. every day. You are invited to go and meet them and talk with them about your ailments. You will be presented with a free sample of Kickapoo Sagwa and you can see for yourself how much good it does you.

Kickapoo Medicines are not secret, unknow remedies. The ingredients of Kickapoo Sagwa, Kickapoo Liver Pills, Kickapoo Cough Cure, Kickapoo Worm Killer, and Kickapoo Oil are printed plainly on each package. You know exactly what you are taking. Our representative will explain why, or any doctor or druggist can explain why the ingredients of each Kickapoo Medicine are remarkably beneficial for the purpose intended.

You are not asked to buy secret remedies. We invite you to buy known, standard, proven medicines of the highest class.

A free trial sample of Sagwa will be presented without charge. Every Kickapoo remedy is guaranteed to be satisfactory. The druggist from whom you buy it is authorized by us to refund your money immediately if you do not get the results that you expected from the use of any Kickapoo Medicine.

Come and get a free sample of Kickapoo Sagwa and convince yourself.

WOLLASTON

Rev. W. J. Heath, pastor of the Wollaston Methodist church for the last six years has been assigned to the Methodist church at Atlantic.

Mrs. Pettie of Providence paid a flying trip to her mother, Mrs. Frank C. Field of Muirhead street on Wednesday.

On Tuesday, at the Methodist conference which is meeting in Lowell this week, Rev. Wesley Wiggin of Whitinsville was assigned to the Wollaston Methodist church.

Residents in the vicinity of Beach street would not take it amiss if the watering cart should take a notion to come their way on one of these dusty days.

Mrs. Charles H. Bryant of Beach street is spending a few days with friends out of town.

Grass fires are at the present time a constant source of apprehension around Wollaston and hardly a field of any size has escaped. If it is not the children it is a careful resident who is taking the precaution for his own safety and the sake of green grass later on.

INSIGNIFICANT CRUDE OIL DUTY

Schedule Amended at Instance of Norris of Nebraska

HITS STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Ways and Means Committee Gets a Jolt by Combination of "Insurgents" and Democrats—Tea and Coffee Placed on Free List—Appeals to Senate Finance Committee for Upward Revision Likely to Be In Vain

Washington, April 8.—Wednesday was a bad day for the Republican organization of the house. By a combination of some Republican "insurgents" and the Democrats, the ways and means committee was bowled over and the advocates of free crude oil and its products won a signal victory when an amendment by Mr. Norris (Neb.) placing the insignificant duty of 1 percent ad valorem on these articles was adopted by a substantial majority.

A decision of the chairman that amendments could not be offered to the oil schedule other than the one covered by the special rule of last Monday, and which provided for the removal of the countervailing duty on crude petroleum and applying an ad valorem duty of 25 percent, was overturned, and not even a fervid appeal by the speaker, in an endeavor to rally the Republican forces, was sufficient to stem the tide avowedly against the Standard Oil company. The countervailing duty went out, as the committee had recommended.

On all other propositions the committee was sustained. The barley schedule ran the gauntlet without change. Tea and coffee were placed on the free list and the duty on barytes increased from 75 cents a ton to $1.50 a ton.

A colloquy at first humorous, but later developing into personalities, developed between Mr. Stanley (Ky.) and Mr. Clark (Fla.) and was terminated only upon an objection by Mr. Crumpacker (Ind.) that it was against the dignity of the house.

In the Upper Branch

Onslaughts upon the senate committee on finance by prominent members of congress have become so vigorous since it became known that the work of inserting rates in the bill soon to be reported has actually begun, that there is danger of revision being decidedly of an upward direction, it is said, unless deaf ears are turned to importunate interests.

The only persons now seen by the committee are senators and delegations introduced by senators in the forenoon. Many other delegations wait about the corridors all day seeking the ears of committeemen during the recesses.

In spite of these conditions good progress is being made and Chairman Aldrich says that he can predict that when the bill is reported it will be seen that the revision has been downward, especially upon the necessaries of life.

It is probable that the senate will be in session on Saturday in order to receive the Payne bill from the house. A session of the finance committee then will be held in order to make up the amendments that have been decided upon and send the bill to the printing office. The Democratic members of the committee will be called in and an effort made to obtain an agreement with them that will permit the reporting of the bill by Tuesday. There are many schedules that will lead to much debate in the senate.

MURDERED HER CHILDREN

Charge Against Woman For Whom Long Search Was Made

Compton, R. I., April 8.—Mrs. Anna Diduick, wanted in Sicily for the alleged murder of her two children, and Michael Piechau, said to have deserted his wife and three children so that he might accompany Mrs. Diduick, were arrested here last night.

The man and woman have been sought by the immigration officials for more than a year. The crime for which the woman is wanted in Sicily is understood in this country to have been due to her desire to be unencumbered on her trip to America with Piechau.

Chauffeur Traced to Texas

New York, April 8.—William Darrah, a chauffeur for whom a general alarm was issued by the New York police in connection with the killing by an automobile of Ingvaard Trimble, the 13-year-old son of R. D. Trimble, a Kentucky lawyer, has been arrested in Fort Worth, Tex.

Fire Destroys Ice Plant

East Waterboro, Me., April 8.—Nearly 400,000 tons of ice were destroyed by a fire which practically cleaned out the plant owned by the E. W. Clark Ice company. The damage is estimated at upwards of $50,000. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

Death of Authoress Low

New York, April 8.—Mrs. Bertha E. J. Low, wife of Will H. Low, the artist, died at her home in Bronxville after a brief illness. She was a contributor to American and French periodicals and was an authoress of merit. She was 55 years old.

HISTORY OF KNIGHTS OF MALTA

Illustrated Talk by Rev. W. H. Lannin.

The Rev. W. H. Lannin of Arlington delivered an illustrated lecture last evening in Greenleaf hall on the organization and history of the Knights of Malta. The address was intensely interesting throughout and the audience appreciative. Mr. Lannin, who is a gifted speaker and has evidently given his lecture careful preparation, began with the building of Jerusalem and then carried his audience with him through the trials and changes of that ancient city, describing with marked mastery of detail the rebellious attitude of the Jews toward their Roman sovereigns, the efforts of the latter to conciliate them, the siege of their beloved city, Jerusalem, the efforts made to save the Temple of Soloman and its destruction by the torch of a fanatical Roman soldier.

Passing over a brief space of time, the lecturer touched upon the possession of the holy city by the Saracen, the indignities to which visiting Christians were subjected, the preaching of Peter the Hermit in his endeavor to arouse the people of Europe to the necessity of wresting Palestine from the Turks, the formation of the Crusaders' army, the blessing bestowed upon it by the Pope, the weary marches, the fights with the enemy and the ensuing victories and reverses. The formation of the Orders of Knighthood was then described and their development; also the manner in which the Knights of Malta, after their remarkable military achievements, came to be divided into several branches, or "languages," and the development of the English speaking branch, from which the American Commanderies have received their authority to confer degrees; the principles and purposes of the Order today in America, and the problems to be solved in civic life.

The speaker made humorous allusion to the practice by some people of connecting themselves with certain orders of great antiquity and dignity hoping thereby to promote their own interests, social and other; the futility of such a course, the great demand for men actuated by truth and principle, that such men will obtain preferment, whether dubbed as knights or not; but the man of knightly feeling and instinct, the man of truth and honor will find much that is helpful in being associated with such an order as this.

The speaker illustrated his story with several views from famous paintings of great events in the history of the Crusades.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES.

Special Observances From Holy Thursday Until Easter.

Holy Thursday was observed yesterday with special services in all the Catholic churches of the city. At St. John's a solemn high mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament to the repository in the basement of the church, where it will remain until tomorrow morning, Holy Saturday. It will then be returned to the tabernacle on the main altar of the upper church.

This morning special Good Friday services were held. No organ is used on Good Friday, it being closed until the "Gloria" in the mass Holy Saturday. This afternoon's services consisted of stations of the cross at 3 o'clock.

This evening there will be a Good Friday sermon at 8 o'clock.

Tomorrow morning the Holy Week services will continue. The Holy Easter water will be blessed before and distributed after the mass which is at 7.30.

On Easter Sunday morning there will be a solemn high mass at 10.30, with special Easter music by the choir. The Lenten services will close with solemn musical vespers followed by benediction at 7.45 Sunday evening.

The program is the same in St. Mary's and the Sacred Heart churches, except that the time of the services may be somewhat different, as in St. Mary's when the Easter Sunday vespers and benediction are in the afternoon instead of the evening.

The members of Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, and their friends are anxiously awaiting the coming of Easter Monday when the annual ball will be held. It is planned to make this ball the most brilliant social affair of the season and the committees have left nothing undone to insure success.

TWO RECORDS ARE SMASHED

The annual handicap meet for the 1909 championship of the local Y. M. C. A. was held in the gym Thursday evening, and there were some exciting contests. There were nine events contested in all, and each one was fought out to the limit, the scratch man winning in many cases. In some of the events, however, the handicaps were too big for the scratch men to overcome.

The feature of the meet was the high dive. "Russ" Tupper captured the event from scratch with a dive of 5 feet 11 inches breaking the local record. He then did an exhibition dive in an attempt to break the national indoor Y. M. C. A. record which is 6 feet 1 1-2 inches. Tupper came within an inch and a half of the record. OHe topped the bar at 6 feet, 1-2 inches but failed to go over in three attempts when it was put up to the record mark. With some constant and faithful practice Tupepr could probably add an inch to the record, as he surely is a pretty high diver.

In the potato race Griffin clipped 2 4-5 seconds from the local record, taking the event from scratch in 35 4-5 seconds. This is not Griffin's time either for in the meet with Somerville he did it seconds faster.

No other records were broken, although good time was made in all the events. The shot put record wasn't approached at all .This is held by Harry J. Histen with a put of close to 43 feet. The best actual put Thursday night was 36 feet, 10 inches by Russ Bates, who won the event. The summary:

15-yard dash—Won by Griffin (scratch), second Sidelinger (6 ft.). Time 2 1-5s.

Pull-ups—Won by W. Cranshaw (7), second Picard (3). Number of pull-ups 25.

Dips—Won by Wicky (6), second Griffin (7). Number of dips 26.

Potato race—Won by Griffin (scratch), second Hall (6yds). Time 35 4-5s.

CARD OF THANKS.

As it would be impossible at this time to personally thank all the kind friends who remembered us with their help, sympathies and beautiful floral offerings in our hour of bitter bereavement, we take this opportunity to express onr gratitude. The many kind remembrances received during the illness and death of our little child will, in a measure, help to fill the aching void which her death has caused.

MR. AND MRS. T. J. COLLINS.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

James F. Foy of John Hancock Insurance Co. Entertains Staff.

James F. Foy, assistant superintendent of the John Hancock Insurance Company, entertained the members of his staff Thursday evening at his home on Cranch street. It was the occasion of the tenth anniversary of Mr. Foy's connection with this company and he invited his staff to help him celebrate. In the early evening a turkey supper was served, the insurance men doing ample justice to the excellent viands.

After the supper there was an impromptu entertainment consisting of solos by Max Salzberg, Bennie W. French and Clarence Falconer, and recitations by Herbert F. Binney. At a late hour the party broke up and all departed, wishing the genial Jim many more years of continued service and success with this company.

RECENT BUILDING PERMITS.

The indications are that there will be quite a boom in building this spring as the Inspector of Buildings has issued a number of permits recently. The new permits are:

FUNERAL OF MRS. SMITH.

The funeral of Mrs. Ada L., wife of John C. Smith who died Tuesday, April 6 was held Thursday afternoon from her late home at 173 Whitwell street. The services which were of a simple nature were conducted by Rev. Ellery C. Butler of the First church, assisted by Rev. C. B. Ames, assistant pastor of the same church. There were many beautiful floral tributes The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Who would believe an Indian would be so fascinating? No one gets by Murphy's drug store these days without taking a look at the chief in the window and at times the sidewalk is blocked. Even the little boys are playing at Indian and have blossomed out as young braves.

DIAMOND RING GIVEN PRESIDENT

Michael T. Walsh Remembered by Div. 5, A. O. H.

Councilman Michael T. Walsh, past president of Division 18 A. O. H. was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening when he was presented with a handsome diamond ring by the members of the Division as a mark of appreciation for the good work he has done to promote the welfare of the order during his five years service as its president.

Councilman Walsh in accepting the gift thanked the members for their very pleasing remembrance and assured them that as long as he retained his membership his interest in the order would not cease and that he should always consider it a pleasure and privilege to work for its interest. An entertainment followed the presentation.

Councilman Walsh became a member of the order eight years ago and for the past five years has been the president of Division 18.

Owing largely to his energetic work the Division has grown in membership from 50 to over 200 with a substantial amount in its treasury.

He has also served as a deputy of Norfolk County and has represented Division 18 at the state and county conventions for several years.

He is also a member of Quincy Council Knights of Columbus and has represented Ward Two in the City Council for the past three years.

It was largely due to him that Division 5 and 18 were consolidated bringing the membership up to 400.

WEYMOUTH

The 21st annual convention of the Norfolk County King's Daughters and Sons association was held at the Congregational church East Weymouth, yesterday and was attended by over 200 delegates from the Unions in Quincy, Wollaston, Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Cohasset, Holbrook, Avon, Hyde Park, Randolph and the Weymouths. The convention opened with a devotional exercise led by Rev. George S. Scrivener, which was followed by an address of welcome by the president of the local union and which was responded to by Mrs. Mary Taylor of Wollaston. The reports of the County secretary and treasurer showed a large increase in membership and a good sum of money in the treasury. A solo by Mrs. Edward Haskell followed.

At noon a lunch was served by the members of the Weymouth union, and the afternoon exercises began with a devotional service led by Rev. E. L. Bradford, followed by a roll call of the union and addresses by Miss H. A. Betts, superintendent of N. E. Deaconess hospital work, and Mrs. A. C. Clark of the Immigrants Home.

The annual meeting of the Village cemetery association was held Wednesday evening and the following officers elected: President, William S. Wallace; vice president, George P. Niles; secretary and treasurer, Francis M. Devin; auditor Charles T. Crane; directors, George H. Bicknell, Joel F. Sheppard and Edward E. Richards. The directors will meet Monday and elect a superintendent of grounds.

ELIZABETH COLLINS.

The funerai of Elizabeth Collins, aged 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Collins of 199 South street, was held Thursday afternoon from the home of her parents. Services were held in St. John's church at 3 o'clock, Rev. John J. Coan, the pastor, officiating.

The church was filled with relatives and friends of the bereaved parents, there being many city officials and newspaper associates of Mr. Collins in the throng. All feel keenly the sorrow which has come to Mr. and Mrs. Collins in this Holy Week of Easter, this being plainly evident both at the church and at the grave.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's, West Quincy.

In death, as in life, little Elizabeth was surrounded with flowers, the floral tributes being some of the most beautiful ever seen. From the full bloom of a robust and healthy life, she passed into the great beyond, being sick only about a week.

Her parents can be consoled with this, however, that though she was surrounded with beautiful lilies, she was herself the purest and most beautiful Easter lily of them all.

Spray of Easter lilies from the parents.

Basket of lilies of the valley from Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McClintock and family.

Spray of pink roses from Miss May Hurley.

Spray of white and pink roses and narcissus from Mr. and Mrs. John J. McAndrew of Brookline.

Spray of sweet peas from Edward L. Bean and Leo J. McMaster.

Pillow of roses and carnations from Walter H. Cobb, W. J. Parker, George T. Magee, Alfred N. LaBrecque and Peter M. Sullivan of the Quincy Press association and Councilman William H. Flynn.

Spray of sweet peas from Mrs. E. V. Trask, Jr.

REBEKAH DANCE.

A largely attended and very enjoyable dancing party was held at Faxon hall Thursday evening by the George L. Gill Rebekah social club. Wilson's orchestra furnished the music for dancing which was from 8 to 12.

Mrs. Richard Prout was the floor directress and she was assisted by Mrs. Charles Barron and Mrs. James S. Baker.

Between eight and half past, Thursday evening, Wollaston was pretty much in the dark. Something ailed the street lights so that they weren't on.

CHILDREN'S PARTY FIRST CHURCH

Games, Music, Supper and Dancing Enjoyed.

One of the largest and most enjoyable parties ever given for the children of First Church Sunday school was held Thursday afternoon and evening. The arrangements were made by Supt. Johnson. Mrs. Perry Lawton was chairman on the supper and Miss Georgiana C. Lane on entertainment, ably assisted by the teachers and officers of the school.

The children assembled at four o'clock in the chapel where they were amused with games and music until time to form in line and march to supper which was served in the lower rooms. A nice supper was served and thoroughly enjoyed by the children, their expressive and happy faces being a pleasant sight to look upon.

Following supper an entertainment of sleight of hand and bells was given which made a hit with the children, applause and laughter attesting to appreciation. For the small children the entertainment closed with an hour's dancing at Colonial hall after which there was a dance until eleven o'clock for the older classes which was a pretty affair and largely attended.

Still cold days are to come, but not a great many of them.

And now Gov. Hughes of New York enters the list against the boxing game. The sport seems to be finding it hard sledding in a lot of places just now.

It is said that Champ Clark reads a newspaper when a bore makes a dry speech. How would the brilliant Mr. Clark like it if the luckless bore rewarded him in similar fashion?

The French newspaper men are said to have "faked" an interview with Col. Roosevelt. Which shows that some of the men on newspapers abroad are as bad as some of the men who work on some newspapers in this country or in England.

Today, the world over, devout Christians observe one of the most solemn fasts of the Christian year. Indeed, no other day has quite the solemn significance and meaning of Good Friday. The churches are draped with insignia of mourning. In many services the organ is silent. The culmination of the 40 days of Lent, the lesson of the greatest self denial and sacrifice the world ever knew, the story of the great Passion, these represent the basis and core of the Christian religion. And it is therefore fitting that as Easter is glorious and bright, Good Friday should be observed as the antithesis, for it represents the gloom which the Easter dawn dispelled, for mankind.

The week just passed has been notable in Washington for its conference on the tariff bill and none of them is more important in its bearing on the tariff question than that held at the White House on Friday when Senator Aldrich submitted to President Taft his substitute for the maximum and minimum provision of the Payne bill. Under its terms the minimum rates will go into effect immediately and remain in force for a definite period of nine months or a year. At the end of that time the maximum rates are to become effective automatically, except on imports from those countries which have demonstrated to the satisfaction of the President that they are giving to the United States as good opportunities for trade as they grant to any other country. This new plan, which meets the views of the President, is not as drastic in its method of retaliation as the maximum and minimum provisions of the Payne bill, and it gives to the President a discretion essential in the operation of a dual tariff system.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

In spite of the tariff war there are many signs or returning prosperity. The Treasury receipts in March were $8,761,000 larger than the receipts for March 1908, and the gross receipts of the New York Postoffice in March were nearly $300,000 larger than the gross receipts for March 1908.

Much criticism is heard of Mississippi's determination to carry out her idea of having the likeness of Jefferson Davis engraved on each piece of the silver service the State is to give the battleship bearing her name. The best that can be said for the scheme is that it is in bad taste and doubtless Jefferson Davis, a gentleman by birth and breeding, would be the first to condemn it.

—The expenditure of a million dollars, and ten years of work has brought to completion a system of water ways on the Mississippi river near New Orleans, a step which will show how much more might be done all along the river.

INDIAN WISDOM.

Medicine is, and always has been, the great mystery of earth, and this fact is admitted by the most learned of those who practise it. It is also admitted that the mystery, is now, dark as ever. Still, a bountiful Providence has, since He first created the world, ever furnished vegetable remedies that would, when properly administered, relieve mankind of the ills and suffering which their own sins or their misfortunes brought upon them. In the bosom of the earth He planted them, and to the seemingly most ignorant of His creatures. He early imparted in some way instruction in the use of the healing herbs. This was in accordance with His wonderful kindness that bestows upon the least blessed with His bounties the greatest amount of care.

The Indian was never given the blessings of civilization, or power to create creature comfort for himself, neither was he endowed with any desire for such refinements. To the Indian was given almost perfect health, or a power to quickly restore it. Those who read may learn and those who have travelled know full well the wondrous physical perfection of these sons and daughters of the forest wilds ,their power of sustaining the greatest tortures, of enduring the most marvellous fatigue and famine, of performing the most astonishing feats of strength and agility, and of undergoing exposure and privation that romancers cannot rival. The braves ,and even the smallest boys, survive wounds and injuries that would quickly put to death the stoutest soldier of civilization. Their squaws perform labors and travel that would be utterly impossible to the most robust woman of the white world. All, unless taken by violence from enemies, live to an age that is unknown elsewhere on the earth. An Indian brave will follow the trail when wounded even unto death. The Indian woman will be on the march, papoose in her arms, within two hours after the birth of the little one. This is but an instance adduced, in regard to each sex, to illustrate the vitality that fills each nerve and organ of the body of the wonderful race. The facts we have recited above are so well known to scientists, historians, students, travellers, and all intelligent and well-read people, that it is unnecessary for us to enter into elaboration of proof.

It would ,however ,be false and foolish to assert that the Indian never suffers from disease—he does, and from the worst scourges that afflict mankind when they are brought upon him or her by contact with depraved whites. But it is equally true that the Indian does not suffer long. The perfect knowledge of herbs, barks, plants, and shrubs possessed by the medicine men of his tribe brings the most speedy relief known to nature, and the fact that regular and previous medication is attended to, so fits the body to throw off the disease that recovery is certain. Indeed, this system of regular medication at stated times is the grand reason of the enjoyment of perfect health, in spite of the continued exposure ,and the reason also that disease does not more often and fatally attack even when directly exposed to it.

The remedies used by the Indian medicine men are simply roots, herbs, plants, and shrubs. The proper administration and preparation of these has been traditionally handed down from one to another for ages, even before the Aborigines were inhabitants of the continent of America. Their history is all tradition ,and of all romance the most wonderful and exciting. A use of the simple vegetable preparations made by the medicine men made at certain stated intervals by all the tribe, is part of the Indian religion, to this is to be ascribed that vitality which renders them rivals of the gods of mythology. Dyspepsia ,that curse of civilization is to the Indian unknown ,though one of his vices is that of at times gorging himself with unhealthy food to an extent that would kill a white man in an hour. Headache ,to brave or squaw, kidney, or liver disease, neuralgia, female disorders, bilious attacks, sleeplessness, reheumatism, and all the curses that afflict "society" are as little feared by the red man as the bite of a single mosquito by a stout Jersey farmer.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

Boston, April 9, 1909.

A young Bostonian ,of the kind that exist in real life, not in the comic papers, was at Sunday school not long ago and listened to a preachment from his teacher on the guidance to eternal happiness which people of good lives extend to the young and thoughtless. "The life of a person whom we respect for saintliness," she said, "extends like a bridge leading across the river of life to the beautiful mansions beyond. Now, Tommy, your mother is one of the saintliest of women. Why is she like a bridge?" "I guess that's because we kids can walk all over her," was the reply of fourteen year old Thomas.

Bucket shops have been banished from Boston now it's the bucket hat that is under the ban. The most noteworthy stand taken in recent years by social leaders is unquestionably their revolt against the type of headgear designed by the Paris milliners. The refusal of leaders of the fashionable world to even try the things on will doubtless do more than anything else to nip this absurd style in the bud. It is very much to the credit of the American women that they refuse to be made ridiculous simply because it is the latest thing from Paris. One cannot but feel some sympathy, however, for the Paris merchants who must be in a sad panic as a result of the recent declaration of independence.

Illinois is not the only state in the Union which is proposing unique laws. Massachusetts is somewhat free from freak legislation but in Maine it has been proposed to tax all bachelors over 30 years old ten dollars a year, the accruing fund being used as a pension fund for maiden ladies. Among the large number of peculiar bills before the various state legislatures are those for the limitation of women's hatpins to nine inches ,the taxation of bachelors over thirty years and of gypsies, both of whom are regarded as undesirable citizens, the provision that applicants for marriage shall submit a list of previous marriages and divorces this, by the way, in Illinois, and in Utah a bill to make it a misdemeanor not to bathe at least once a week. Colorado has proposed a new law which might well be made national—that of making it a misdemeanor to give or accept a tip, except in the case of the sleeping car porter.

Spring is here, sure enough. The first open car has appeared on the lines of ,the Boston Elevated Company, and the days of trolley tripping are close at hand. There is something joyous in the sight of this harbinger of the days of fresh air and relief from the close, crowded cars which are inevitable in the business rush hours. Soon the white gowned ladies with their escorts will be gliding out beyond the city limits to the many refreshing pleasure grounds and green fields within twenty miles of the gilded dome, and the children will be returning, tanned and rosy, from the after school excursions to the secret shady nook, where peep forth the arbutus and the violet, or with their arms spread around huge bunches of lilacs and apple blossoms. Already the canoes are beginning to dot the river here and there, and the sand along the beaches is being made into miniature forts and houses. And now that the open car has come to verify the promise of spring the city man and his family prepare for the Saturday afternoon and Sunday journeyings to the woods and shore, where the dust of the office and streets may be breathed out, and the fresh fragrance of flowers or the bracing air from the ocean breathed in. Spring is all here, except the watering cart.

In the stimulating competition for leadership in the fine arts Chicago has apparently scored a point over New York and Boston in that the management of the Art Institute has been enabled to announce as one of the teachers of painting during the forthcoming spring term no less a personage than Joaquin Sorolla Bastida the Spanish painter whose works will be exhibited at Copley hall, Boston, beginning April 20. It is understood that the artist may be in Boston about the opening of the exhibtion and that he will go from here to the western metropolis.

Amidst all this furore of the "Boston-1915" movement, which aims to establish in New England the finest city of the world within the next five or six years the Boston girl hopes that above all new opportunities may be discovered that will appeal to New England boys and girls from the farms and villages to remain near home instead of going west where up to this time the chances for money making and for efficient service have been better than here. Think, for instance, what it would mean to New England business today if a certain New Hampshire boy, now called the American Harmsworth, had been impelled to start his world famous publishing enterprise in Boston instead of Chicago. Think of the big pay rolls, the great disbursements to wholesalers and retailers on account of paper and ink and type, the checks to local writers, illustrators and photographers, and all the rest, if young G. H. Currier were publishing and printing his two-million-circulation "Woman's World" in Boston or in some other city of New England. A Chicago publication reaching, as it is estimated, eight and a half million American families, the most largely circulated periodical in the world, the creation of a Granite State man who is only 33 years old! Like many another New Hampshire lad he began his career by selling newspapers when he was nine years old. Today he is a foremost figure in the American publishing business. Without envying Mr. Currier his phenominal success or Chicago the benefits that come from such an enterprise as he has built up, why isn't the conservation of such talent in New England even more important than the conservation of forests and minerals? Why don't we preach "Do it here" as well as "Do it now?"

HEEDING UNCLE SAM'S REQUEST

Powers Keeping Castro Far Removed From Venezuela

FRENCH DECREE OF EXPULSION

"Napoleon of the Andes" Cannot Remain on Island of Martinique—Will Be Prevented From Making Way to Mainland on Sailing Vessel—Ex-Dictator Has Many Partisans and Return Would Mean Reign of Terror

Washington, April 9.—The efforts of the American government to keep former President Castro out of Venezuela and away from the nearby mainland and islands have every indication of being crowned with success.

Most of the powers having possessions in that part of the world have indicated to the state department that Castro's presence is not wanted within their boundaries and that they are willing to acquiesce in the desire of the United States that he be far removed from the scene of his former prestige.

Notwithstanding Castro's deposition as president he has still a great many warm adherents in his native country, and it is realized here that his return might be made the occasion of a demonstration resulting in the re-establishment of unsettled conditions.

This government feels that Castro ought not be allowed to return to Venezuela, or to be permitted to make his headquarters at any of the surrounding ports.

France to Expel Castro

Paris, April 9.—The French government has decided to expel Cipriano Castro from the French Island of Martinique in the West Indies on the ground that his presence there is likely to forment a revolution in Venezuela.

This decision followed consideration of a cablegram from M. Jusserand, the French ambassador at Washington, giving an account of the conference with Secretary of State Knox.

It is presumed here that the government of the United States, which initiated the exchanges with foreign governments to prevent Castro from establishing headquarters close to the Venezuelan coast, will prevent him making his way to the mainland on a sailing vessel.

"The present situation in Venezuela is critical; Cipriano Castro has many partisans in high places, even among the men recently appointed to office, and all are secretly anxious that he return to Caracas," is the opinion of the correspondent in Venezuela of The Siecle, as set forth in a dispatch from Caracas published by that paper.

The correspondent continues: "Public opinion is hostile to Castro but the Gomez government is the object of a bitter campaign by the leaders of the old parties suppressed by Castro ten years ago." In conclusion, the correspondent says that unless the various factions sink their differences, Castro will profit, or anarchy will supervene. He is of the opinion that intervention by the United States is the only solution of the difficulty.

Dutch Warships on Guard

The Hague, April 9.—The newspapers here urge the Netherlands government to keep a strong flotilla in the vicinity of Curacao for the present, in view of possible activities by Castro or his friends. The Dutch warships Gelderland, Friesland and DeRuijter are now in those waters.

PRIZE MULE'S NEW HOME

Honor of Winning Major Minnemascot Falls to Esmerelda County

Lincoln, Neb., April 9.—Announcement was made at the office of W. J. Bryan that Esmerala county, Nev., having made the greatest Democratic gain in the election last November, has been awarded the prize mule.

The mule, Major Minnemascot, was presented to Bryan during the campaign by Minnesota admirers and Bryan offered it as a prize to the county making the greatest Democratic gains.

MANY COWS CONDEMNED

Result of Cincinnati's Campaign For Pure Milk

Cincinnati, April 9.—It has developed that 250 milch cows infected with tuberculosis have been found in one herd of 600 that furnishes part of the milk supply to Cincinnati.

The cows have been condemned. The campaign for pure milk has resulted in the arrest of several milk dealers.

Still No Agreement

Philadelphia, April 9.—The conference between the operators and miners here adjourned after a session lasting more than two hours, to meet today. There is no change in the situation.

Chantcleer a Champion

Monte Carlo, April 9.—In the motor boat races Chantcleer won the championship for sea-cruisers over a course of 124 miles. The time was 4:45:58.

PLAYGROUND VOTE 154,495.

Forty Towns and Cities of Massachusetts Favored the New Law.

Boston, April 8, 1909.

Final returns from the Massachusetts towns that were required to vote under the playground referendum show that forty towns and cities in the commonwealth have decided in favor of public playgrounds and recreation centres. Three towns that voted Monday yielded this result: Adams, yes 623, no 571; Southbridge, yes 1,135, no 310; Webster yes 646, no 353. The total vote of all the communities that have acted on this question is 154,495 in favor and 33,886 against.

In addition to the towns and cities required by the law to take official action, local movements for playgrounds have been started in several of the smaller towns, including: Holliston, Winthrop, Sherborn, Lexington and Ware. In the latter town land has been presented and accepted.

The towns and cities of the state that have adopted the state playground law are: Beverly, Brockton, Cambridge, Chicopee, Everett, Fall River, Fitchburg, Gloucester, Haverhill, Holyoke, Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn, Marlboro, Melrose, New Bedford, Newburyport, Pittsfield, Quincy, Salem, Springfield, Taunton, Woburn, Worcester, Adams, Attleboro, Clinton, Framingham, Gardner, Hyde Park, Leominster, Milford, Peabody, Plymouth, Wakefield, Watertown, Webster, Weymouth, Westfield, Southbridge.

In most of these places committees are at work preparing for compliance with the provisions of the law the coming summer. In Westfield land has been presented to the town and accepted. A park board has been appointed to have charge of it. A portion is to be devoted to an up-to-date playground and other means for the pleasure of children and older people.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

THE SURRENDER OF LEE

Anniversary to Be Celebrated by Big Banquet In Chicago

Chicago, April 9.—The forty-fourth anniversary of Lee's surrender at Appomattox, which marked the downfall of the Confederacy and the close of the great Civil war, will be celebrated in this city tonight by a public banquet given by the Hamilton club to General Frederick Dent Grant, son of Lee's conquerer, and other distinguished guests.

The list of speakers at the banquet includes Senator Smith of Michigan and Senator Borah of Idaho, two of the senate's best orators, besides General Grant. Among the invited guests is Secretary of War Dickinson, who promised to attend if his duties in Washington would permit of his leaving them. Senator Smith will speak on "The Integrity of the Nation," while Senator Borah will have for his subject "The Integrity of the State."

CHASE HAS SMALLPOX

Star First Baseman May Hold Up American League Games

Lynchburg, Va., April 9.—A situation unparalleled in the history of baseball confronts the members of the New York American league team. They are practically isolated in their hotel here.

Furthermore they do not know whether or not they will be permitted to play Washington Monday, when the American league season is scheduled to open in the Capitol city.

Smallpox, to which the squad has been exposed, is the cause of the trouble. Hal Chase, the star first baseman of the team, is now in a hospital at Atlanta, Ga., suffering from a mild form of the disease. The situation may not only delay the opening of the season, but it is sure to affect the chances of the team in the pennant fight.

HUGHES PROPOSITION IS KNOCKED OUT

Direct Nominations Bill Killed by New York Assembly

Albany, April 9.—Direct nominations as recommended by Governor Hughes received its death blow in the assembly, at least so far as the present session of the legislature is concerned. By a vote of 112 to 28 the assembly decided to sustain the adverse report of the judiciary committee, which had registered its disapproval of the measure.

While the bill was being defeated in the assembly Hughes was on his way to Rochester to speak on the subject of direct nominations at a meeting there last night. Already there is speculation as to whether there is a possibility of the legislature's being called back in extraordinary session by the governor because the assembly did not vote directly on the bill, but upon a motion to adopt the report of a committee.

STARTED BY CLERGYMEN

Move to Bring Long-Drawn-Out Hatters' Strike to an End

South Norwalk, Conn., April 9.—A movement was started here to bring the hatters' strike to an end. Letters were sent out to the mayors of several cities affected by the strike requesting them to appoint committees of influential citizens to meet in a body and act as intermediaries between the manufacturers and the union men.

This movement was planned by Rev. Dr. MacFarland, pastor of the Congregational church here, acting with Rev. Father Kennedy of Danbury.

The strike began two months ago, when the members of the trade left work because the manufacturers ordered the union label out of the hats.

RECEIVED FORTY BULLETS

Necessary to Put Quietus on Elephant Which Killed His Keeper

Des Moines, April 9.—Tom, an elephant in the winter quarters of the Yankee Robinson circus, ran amuck last night and, seizing his keeper, Charles Bellew, hurled him high into the air and then trampled him to death.

The excited beast than ran through the animal park, uprooted small trees, destroyed three circus wagons and demolished a bridge across a lagoon.

Forty bullets were shot into the elephant before he was subdued.

Liabilities Over $300,000

Chicago, April 9.—Developments here in the failure of John Dickinson & Co., brokers, indicate that the total liabilities of the concern will reach far above the $300,000 which was estimated at first.

Dumont's Great Flight

Paris, April 9.—Santos Dumont flew about one mile and a half with the greatest ease in his new monoplane. He alighted safely and without difficulty.

MANCHESTER'S GREAT BLAZE

Large Tenement House Section Licked Up by Flames

FIFTY BUILDINGS DESTROYED

Six Hundred Persons, Mostly Greeks Employed In Factories, Are Rendered Homeless—Aid From Other Cities Prevents Disaster From Becoming More Serious—Militia Aids In Quelling Panic Among People

Manchester, N. H., April 9.—The tenement house district just to the south of the business section of the city came near being wiped out by a fire which was stopped with the combined help of apparatus from six other cities after it had destroyed about fifty tenement buildings, sent 600 men, women and children, mostly Greeks, homeless into the world, and caused a property loss of about $150,000.

Starting in a tenement which was practically vacant, through nearly every man, woman and child being at work in nearby shoe shops, it was driven by a fierce westerly gale through two city squares.

There were many smaller fires outside the main area, but they were not only put out, but the entire district to the leeward of the fire for some distance was thoroughly wet down by the out of town firemen and the city saved from so extensive a loss as that which prevailed at Chelsea, Mass., under almost similar conditions a year ago.

The fire broke out a few minutes after 11 a. m., and within the next hour had become so threatening that help was summoned from Concord and Nashua, and later from Rochester, Dover, Portsmouth and Lowell, Mass.

In the meantime the gale drove the flames steadily eastward, but the firemen were assisted by the fact that on the north side of the fire there was a park, while on the south side there was a large cemetery.

It was into these two open spaces that the terrified inhabitants of nearly four score tenement houses dragged their belongings and heaped them in a great mass. Many, however, were not so fortunate, for being in the mills, they were unable to reach the scene until their homes were well in the grasp of the fire.

The spectacle of their homes being rapidly devoured by the fire threw the entire district into a panic, and so great was the confusion that Mayor Reed was forced to call upon the militia to assist in policing the district. Five companies of the New Hampshire National Guard turned out and cleared a large place so that the firemen could work unhindered.

Many Fires In the Bay State

Boston, April 9.—Fires in half a dozen places in this state Thursday destroyed many buildings, but no fatalities occurred at any point.

In the village of Cliftondale, in the town of Saugus, ten dwellings were destroyed, together with several abandoned barns and outbuildings on the old Saugus race track property. The loss in Cliftondale was $40,000.

Palmer was threatened with a similar blaze. Fire destroyed a stable in the rear of the Converse House and damaged several other buildings. The loss was $15,000.

On Cape Cod several dwellings were burned in the vicinity of Harwich and South Yarmouth. Forest fires were responsible for these losses, which aggregate about $8000.

Chelsea experienced a scare during the height of a gale. The Boston Whiting company's factory was burned and several buildings damaged, entailing a loss of $10,000.

In North Cambridge, Humphrey Sullivan's slaughter house was destroyed. At one time ten other buildings were ignited, but all were saved. The loss is $10,000.

Minor fires occurred in Dorchester, Newton, Malden and other places.

24 PERCENT PROFIT

Standard Oil Does Not Feel Called on to Apologize For It

St. Louis, April 9.—An annual profit of 24 percent was admitted as the harvest reaped by Standard Oil, a huge gain which the so-called trust declares it is neither called on to apologize for or defend.

This direct admission as to the long-surmised profits of Standard Oil came in the form of a declaration by Attorney Milburn of the company during Thursday's session in the ouster proceedings that have been brought in the courts here by the government.

Liquor Sellers Shaken Up

Mobile, Ala., April 9.—Wholesale raids by detectives resulted in the seizure of large quantities of liquors at prominent hotels and cafes. The search was made under the law which forbids the possession of intoxicants for barter.

Mountain on the Move

Nice, April 9.—A mountain has begun to move bodily as a result of railroad excavations in the Verdon valley. A large mass has become detached and is moving at the rate of sixty or seventy yards an hour.

Simple Vegetable Medicines Are the Best

Whenever you find people who doctor their diseases with simple herbs and barks, you will find healthy people. For instance: The Chinese. The Chinese are noted for their good health, and they treat diseases almost wholly with these vegetable medicines. The Norwegians doctor their diseases with herbs and barks. Probably there are no stronger races in the world than these. The Mormons are a very healthy people, who believe in simple vegetable medicines, and those who have been west know how healthy they are. The Indian in his natural state was the healthiest human being on earth. He believed in nature, the sun, the wind, the stars. He lived out of doors, exposed to all kinds of weather, but did not suffer from colds or rheumatism. He ate all kinds of food, but did not have dyspepsia or blood diseases. The Indians had sickness, of course, but it was of a virulent character—fevers, etc. They did not have this halfsick, tired-all-the-time feeling, with which so many are afflicted nowadays. They lived close to nature, doctored with simple, harmless remedies, and kept their stomachs and livers in a sound condition. Derangements of the stomach and liver are the cause of most of the troubles, such as: Biliousness, indigestion, sick headaches, rheumatism, colic, kidney complaints, irregular action of the heart, jaundice, etc. The above embraces a long list, and those who did not think, would naturally hesitate about accepting all these as coming from the one great cause, namely, derangement of the stomach and liver.

However, we ask the question: Do you remember of ever suffering with any of the above symptoms while you had a sound stomach and liver? Ask your neighbor the same question. If then so many ailments arise from disorders of the stomach and liver, and if those people who treat their ailments with simple vegetable medicines, are healthiest, it ought to be evident that nothing could be better for people suffering with the above mentioned ailments, and there ought to be nothing better than Kickapoo Sagwa.

Sagwa is prepared from roots, herbs and barks, especially for stomach diseases, and will put these organs in good condition in most cases, from 4 to 6 weeks.

Our representative will explain the Kickapoo Remedies, and give, free of charge, trial bottles of Sagwa to all who call at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily.

ADVERTISING FOR DONOR

Church Folks Think Mistake Was Made In Contribution of $1000

Washington, Pa., April 9.—An advertisement in a local paper announces that there was found in the collection plate of the Roscoe Methodist Episcopal church, after the services last Sunday night, a $1000 bill.

The church officers think the donor made a mistake, as the yearly collections of the church do not average much more than this amount.

The officials in the advertisement offer to return the money to the owner if he wants it back and can prove that he inadvertedly dropped it into the plate.

AMERICAN MAIL TAMPERED WITH

Official Dispatches Have Been Mutilated by Nicaragua

FAILURE OF MORAL SUASION

United States and Mexico May Soon Intervene to End Unsatisfactory State of Affairs In Central America—Zelaya Believed to Cherish Hope That He May Become Dictator of Destinies of the Republics

Washington, April 9.—The Nicaraguan mutilation of official dispatches to this government and continued grave conditions in Central America are under earnest consideration by the Washington government.

Investigations have convinced the officials here that cipher dispatches passing between John H. Gregory, the American charge at Managua, Nicaragua, and the state department at Washington, were purposely mutilated, while Nicaragua was engaged in unusual military activity.

The situation in Central America continues unsettled, due, according to reports reaching Washington, to the continued military activity of Nicaragua.

It would not be surprising, in view of the unstatisfactory conditions which prevail, if the American government should at any time take active steps to end the existing state of affairs in Central America and notify Nicaragua that henceforth peace must prevail at all hazards.

Moral suasion with Nicaragua has failed to impress her with the desire of the United States and Mexico that there be a cessation of the conditions which tend to the impoverishment of the people because of their fears of the future.

Intervention in Central American affairs has been talked of unofficially repeatedly. American war vessels are still retained in Central American waters, and only yesterday the cruiser North Dakota sailed from Magdalena Bay for Amapala, Honduras, in the Gulf of Fonseca, in which some of the naval activity maintained by Nicaragua has manifested itself.

An interesting sidelight on the political situation in Central America became known in Washington yesterday. Some time ago the dispatches indicated that Nicaragua had intentions involving Costa Rica. It now appears that an election was about to be held in Costa Rica at the time, and the inference is that Nicaragua's reported attitude was but part of the working out of the reported ambition of President Zelaya to become a dictator of the destinies of Central America.

The government has felt particularly annoyed over the mutilation of Minister Gregory's dispatches.

PROSECUTION RESTS

Sampson Case Is Expected to Go to the Jury Late Today

Lyons, N. Y., April 9.—Mildred Service, the pretty 14-year-old chum of Georgia Allyn Sampson, on trial for the murder of her husband, Harry Sampson, was called to the witness stand by the prosecution Thursday to tell the secrets of her friendship with the prisoner.

The prosecution rested its case this morning when Robert Hamilton, a gun expert, concluded his testimony. The defense's testimony will be brief and it is the general expectation that the case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

BULLET IN HIS LEG

Young Lawyer Broke Saloon Window While Prowling at Midnight

Richmond, April 9.—Ordway Puller, a former member of the legislature and a prominent young attorney of this city, was shot and slightly wounded just after midnight by a policeman after he had broken the window of a saloon.

The officers heard the crash of glass and presuming that some one was breaking into the place, ran to the scene and discovered Puller, who, they say, made an attempt to escape. Both officers fired, one of the shots taking effect in his leg.

Failed Broker Has No Assets

DID NOT ROB THE CHINAMAN

Grand Jury Dismisses Cases Against Atlantic Bnys.

There is much rejoicing among the families and friends of Arthur C. Setterland, John J. D. Gillon and Patrick J. Duggan the Atlantic boys who were accused of robbing George Yee a Chinese laundryman at Norfolk Downs, that the grand jury has dismissed the complaints against them.

At the hearing in the local court the boys admitted that they simply used sufficient force to wrest a piece of gas pipe from the chinaman's hands with which he came at them.

The cases came before the grand jury this week and they promptly found no bill.

The Chinaman claimed in his testimoney he had $15 in his possession with which he intended to pay his long over-due rent, before he had the tussle with the young men in front of his store. He would not admit that he felt their hands in his pockets during the fracas but his money was missing when the affair was over.

Subsequent evidence voluntarily given by the Chinaman's landlord is, that the landlord asked the Chinaman repeatedly for the rent many weeks previous to this affair. On the date in question March 26, after being twice approached by the landlord, the Chinaman paid $1.00 on the rent bill, saying that was all the money he possessed.

Yet he claimed he lost $15 later in the evening. This affair has caused considerable comment in the locality where these young men have an unblemished reputation. Their neighbors are pleased to know that their vindication on the eve of Easter will enable them to thoroughly enjoy the occasion among their friends and families.

WOLLASTON YACT CLUB.

Commodore Dawes of the Wollaston Yacht club went over to Bayonne, N. J., this week and bought the well-known Hauley jib and mainsail yacht Thordis. She is 5 ft. O. A., 25 fet. W. L., and about 11 ft. 6 in beams.

The Commodore sold his cape cat Stranger to a Falmouth yachtsman before leaving for New Jersey. About the middle of May the Commodore and a party of Wollaston yacht club members will go over to Bayonne and bring the Thordis home. The Thordis has been always a great prize winner and her new skipper will undoubtedly keep her at the head of the fleet.

The Harbor and Land Commission are making preparations to dredge the Wollaston channel but are not yet certain whether actual work will be started this spring or in the fall at the close of the season. The yachtsmen are naturally anxious to have the work done this spring. Senator Hultman is looking after the interests of the Wollaston club.

Thursday's gale blew off some of the flooring of one of the drops.

One float and drop has already been placed in commission and others will be added as the fleet increases.

The club premises will this year be run under the rules and regulations of the Metropolitan Park Commission.

DIVORCES GRANTED.

Among the divorces granted at Dedham yesterday were those of Ellen M. Lamphere against Charles A. Lamphere for desertation with custody of minor children and alimony of $150.

Edith A. L. Snow of Boston from Charles N. Snow of Quincy for adultery.

The drastic action of the New Hampshire legislature in passing a measure prohibiting the transportation of liquor from license to no license towns, by express companies, is a sweeping one and its effects will be far reaching and helpful from a temperance standpoint. It indicates also that the public sentiment is aroused upon this vital question and that results are certain to follow.

The Social Realm

Across the east a new-born day
Drifts in with golden light,
And birds awake and carols float,
As breaks the dawn so bright.
In steeples high the joyful bells
Ring loud their silvery song,
Hosannahs clear upon the air,
Re-echo far and long.
Oh! blessed Easter fair and clear,
Lift up each trembling soul,
When angles sing and we shall hear
The heaevnly bells sweet toil.

CASTRO MUST LEAVE AT ONCE

His Presence In Martinique Will Not Be Tolerated

FRANCE TAKES PROMPT ACTION

Former President Will Be Put Aboard First Europe-Bound Vessel Touching at Fort de France—Action of French Government Pleasing to State Department Officials, Who Are Anxious For Peace In Venezuela

Washington, April 10.—The French government has informed the state department of its determination to put into effect immediately the decision announced from Paris to expel former President Castro of Venezuela from Fort de France, Martinique, and compel him to return to Europe.

The program is to put him aboard the first vessel touching at Fort de France. If this program is carried out Castro will be on his way to Europe in a day or two unless his physical condition is such that an ocean trip at this time would put his life in jeopardy. The first steamer scheduled to touch at the Martinique port, Europe-bound, is the French line ship Versailles, due there today.

State department officials are much gratified at the manner in which the French government has acted in the matter and feel relieved that Castro is to be sent back to Europe, where he will have no immediate influence in the affairs of Venezuela, in which country his personal following is believed to be considerable and might have a tendency to unsettle the peaceable condition of affairs which now exist there.

France, the officials say, has realized the possibilities in the case, and has met the wishes of the United States in keeping the former president away from the locality where his presence is undesirable.

Some of the prominent officers of the government are disposed to look on Castro's reported serious illness with suspicion, taking the ground that it may be a clever ruse designed by him to make it appear that a return to Europe is necessary to obtain surgical aid when in fact the real purpose is to "save his face."

He realizes, they say, that conditions for him on this side of the Atlantic are against him, and that the best course for him to pursue is to go back to Europe and bide his time, hoping for a better opportunity later.

Castro Refuses to Talk

Fort de France, April 10.—Numerous requests for an audience were made upon Cipriano Castro Friday, but he refused to receive anyone. Jacques D. Schnegg, the American vice and deputy consul, thrice sought an interview with the ex-president, but without avail.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS SAIL

Rev. Anna H. Shaw and Others Going to International Convention

New York, April 10.—Sailing today on the Zeeland for Europe to attend the international woman suffragist convention to be held in London the latter part of this month was Rev. Anna H. Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage association.

Accompanying Dr. Shaw are Miss Lucy Anthony, a niece of the late Susan B. Anthony; Miss Caroline Crossett, daughter of the president of the New York State Suffrage association; Rev. Mary A. Safford, pastor of the Unitarian church of Des Moines, Ia., and Miss Wilson, assistant to Miss Safford.

Mrs. Ida H. Harper, the well known writer and suffragist, sailed today for England on the Caronia. She will remain abroad about three months.

A LEGISLATIVE DEADLOCK

It Results In an Order For a New Election In Newfoundland

St. John's, April 10.—For the second time within six months a general election campaign has been thrust upon the electors of Newfoundland. Governor MacGregor, finding it impossible to end the deadlock in the legislature, issued a proclamation dissolving that body and ordering a new election throughout the colony on May 8.

The contest is expected to be a bitter one all along the line. In the November election the Bondites elected eighteen members of the legislature and the Morris party the same number.

Britisher Wins Cup of Nations

Monte Carlo, April 10.—The English boat, Wellsley-Siddeley, owned by the Duke of Westminster, won the race for the Cup of Nations, covering sixty-two miles in 1:35:09. The American boats, Standard and Dixie II, and several other craft also competed.

Shot Wife and Killed Self

Glen Cove, N. Y., April 10.—Desperate over his inability to establish a home for her, Charles J. Dayton, a chauffeur, 27 years old, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife and then shot and instantly killed himself.

HOSANNA!

(Easter Song)

Arranged by ALEXANDER HENDERSON — JULES GRANIER

White Violets

By VIRGINIA BLAIR.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Out of the darkness Margaret said, "Then every one knows it?"

"Every one but you, my dear. Over at the Country club it is common talk."

"But, Aunt Clara," vehemently, "they gossip so at the hotel."

"This isn't gossip. I've known it for a long time, Margaret."

"Oh"—the sigh was almost a sob—"he has always seemed such a gentleman."

"He has the training of one," Mrs. Kent affirmed. "His mother is charming."

After a moment's silence Margaret broke out, "But he saved my life, Aunt Clara."

There was a rustle of skirts as Mrs. Kent moved impatiently in her chair. "Yes, and that's the worst of it."

Mrs. Kent ended the longer silence that followed by ringing for lights.

"But I must go, dear, and dress for dinner, and you will be so dreary alone in the dark."

As she rose and stood by the couch her caressing fingers touched Margaret's cheek and found tears on it.

"You'd better have the lights," she said, and there was a worried note in her voice. "I hate to leave you here alone."

Still protesting, Mrs. Kent found her way out, and after a time in the big room there came the sound of a stifled sob, and another and another, and after that everything was very quiet. The flame of the fire died down. The green eyes of the little cat, snuggled close to her mistress, glowed in the blackness.

The click of an electric button and the flare-up of lights brought Margaret's head out of the cushion where she had buried it. She shielded her face with her hand.

"You are early, Uncle Dick."

"I'm late. What's the matter with the lights? Why didn't you get somebody to look after them?"

"I like the dark."

"Queer taste." He gave her a keen glance and sat down in the chair by the couch. "How's the foot?"

"It hurts a little, but it's going to be all right."

"Everybody at the club is talking about your accident. They are making a regular hero of Ridgeway." He settled himself back in the big chair and smiled at her genially. "He must have had the strength of a Hercules to hold those horses back."

"He's awfully strong," Margaret said and sat up. "His college record in athletics is fine."

"He flunked in some of his studies, though," Mr. Kent teased.

Margaret's face flamed. "I know." She smoothed the little cat with nervous fingers. "Is—is he very ill, Uncle Dick?"

"Who—Ridgeway? Um—well, that depends. He's a mighty nice fellow, Peggy." He caught the eagerness of her eyes and pulled himself up. "That is—oh, well, your Aunt Clara wouldn't exactly approve of him, and—and—I don't know that he's just the friend for you, Margaret."

"Oh!" came in fluttering protest, and after that Margaret lay with her eyes closed, and nothing was said for several minutes.

"Tired, little girl?" asked her uncle finally, and when she nodded he stood up.

"I must go and dress for dinner." He hesitated by the couch, looking down at her until she opened her eyes and held out her hand and said, "Dear Uncle Dick," and then he patted her cheek and said a little huskily, "Cheer up."

This time there was no friendly darkness to hide the tears, so Margaret dabbed at them with her handkerchief and stared until a ring of the front door bell brought her to an upright position.

"It's Mr. Ridgeway," the maid announced.

"I'm afraid I can't see him!" Margaret said nervously.

"Please," boomed a big voice from the hall—"please don't turn me out like that."

"Oh, well," Margaret agreed, and the maid's place between the curtains was usurped by a young man as big as his voice, who came over and picked up the pussy cat and dropped a small square box in its place. "If you'll let me pet Toodlekins I'll let you have some flowers," he said, and as he sat down the little cat curled into the hollow of his arm and sang her song of contentment, unruffled by the change.

There were white violets in the box, and Ridgeway said, his big voice softened by some fine emotion, "They always make me think of you."

"Oh, don't, don't!" Margaret said with quick caught breath, and Ridgeway stared at her in a puzzled way.

"Don't you like them?" he asked.

"Yes."

"Well, it's a funny way to show it." There was so much of the boy in him that Margaret smiled in spite of herself.

"It's because I like them so well that I don't want you to bring them to me any more."

"You don't"—

"I mean it," she said faintly. "You mustn't bring me any more flowers."

"Why not?" sharply.

"Because I can't take them."

"Why can't you take them?"

"Because"—

"That isn't any reason," he flung out. "Do you mean that you don't want me to come?"

She held out one slim hand to him. "Don't," she said beseechingly—"don't speak to me like that. We must always be good friends, but you mustn't come."

He took her hand. "It's to be just—friends?"

"Yes."

"Never anything more?"

"Never."

"And yet that night after the accident you let me kiss you—Margaret."

"Yes," very low.

The fire flickered and sapped. The little cat, disturbed somewhat, slipped down from Ridgeway's arms and curled herself up on the rug.

"Would you mind," Margaret said at last, "turning off the upper light? The strong glare hurts my eyes."

The rosy halo of the lamp made dark the distant corners of the room. Margaret on her couch was a dim outline. The little cat was invisible except for her emerald eyes. Ridgeway came back and sat down; then he bent forward.

"Margaret," he said sharply, "you are crying."

"Yes," she sobbed, "I'm crying—oh, because you are such a black sheep, Justin."

He drew his breath sharply. "So that's it?" he said at last.

"Yes. I didn't know until tonight. Aunt Clara told me."

He stood up. "Then there's nothing more to say. Goodby."

He went to the door, hesitated and came back.

"Look here, Peggy," he said grimly, "if I were a story book hero I'd take my medicine and go away and suffer in silence. And it would all be very tragic and romantic, but it wouldn't be sensible."

He threw himself into the big chair and knitted his brows. "The sensible thing is to get over the difficulty. Let's begin at the beginning. Everybody says I'm a black sheep?"

"Yes," she murmured.

"Well, I am. I've wasted my time in riotous living, as the Bible says of the prodigal, and when I flunked in my studies I got what was coming to me. But that was before I met you, Peggy. I don't think my worst enemy could accuse me since the night I saw you at the junior prom in your white gown, with your hair twisted up in a big braid like a crown. You seemed the princess in a fairy tale, and I made up my mind then and there that I'd win out."

He drew a long breath and went on: "But now I know I'm not good enough, and I know, too, that I have not any right to ask you to wait for me. All I'll ask is that you don't condemn me utterly, don't shut me out from your life."

His voice broke. Then as she held out her hand to him he went on steadily:

"I'm only going to ask that you will believe in me and if, after two or three years, no one else has come into your life that you care for and I have made good, that you will let me plead my cause again."

He stood looking down at her. Her cheek was laid against the bunch of white violets. Their delicate fragrance was roundabout her.

"Dear little girl," he said, "I'll stick it out at college another year, and then I'll go into business with dad and show him what I can do. And if you will have faith in me"—

She sat up, her eyes shining. "Oh," she said, "I felt that back of it all there was a man in you, Justin—and then—when you saved my life—I felt that it belonged to you."

"I'm not half good enough," he said humbly.

She took from the bunch of violets a half dozen blossoms and held them out to him.

"They shall be a talisman," she said, "of faith and hope and love. You must let them keep you from all evil, Justin."

And as he knelt beside the couch the rapture in his eyes answered her.

It Made a Difference.

A Chinaman of noble birth had been invited to dine at William's home. His mother was very anxious that the guest should not be made uncomfortable by the little chap's curiosity, so she took him aside and explained all about the yellow skin, long braid of hair and almond eyes of the Mongolians and even showed him pictures of Chinese. She impressed upon him more than anything else the fact that the visitor was his father's friend and was to be treated with respect. Upon the Celestial's arrival William tried hard not to stare or look too curious and succeeded in being very quiet for some time, when, much to the surprise of his mother and the amusement of the Chinese, he called out, "Mamma, if he wasn't our friend wouldn't he be funny?"—Bellman.

Diving For Fish.

An Arab pilot on board an English ship becalmed in the Persian gulf had been amusing himself in diving for oysters. After several attempts his search proved unsuccessful.

"I will now," said he to the officers of the vessel he was commissioned to convoy, "since I cannot gather oysters, dive for and catch fish."

All ridiculed the idea. He went down again, and the officers were astonished to see him after a short time rise to the surface with a small rockfish in each hand. The Arab's own explanation of the feat was that as he seated himself at the bottom the fish came around him and nibbled at his skin. Watching an opportunity, he seized and secured his prey by thrusting his thumb and forefinger into their expanded gills.

PAYNE TARIFF BILL PASSED

Gets by the House on a Vote of 217 to 161

OIL PLACED ON THE FREE LIST

Pressure From the West Against Standard Company Too Strong to Be Resisted—Final Vote Demonstrates Capacity of Republican Organization to Get Together—President Expresses Great Pleasure

Washington, April 10.—After three weeks of consideration, the Payne tariff bill was passed by the house of representatives by a vote of 217 to 161. One Republican, Austin of Tennessee, voted against the measure and four Democrats, all from Louisiana, voted for it.

The bill will be received in the senate, which holds a session today, and referred to the finance committee. It will be reported with the senate committee's amendments with only a few days' delay.

The greatest change made by the house was in oil. The pressure from the west was so strong against the Standard Oil company that the house, after the defeat of Speaker Cannon in its efforts to have the duty placed at 25 percent ad valorem, decided to make oil absolutely free.

On motion of Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee, oil and its products were placed on the free list and exempted from the 20 percent duty in case any other country imposes a duty on American oil.

This action of Payne, together with an amendment which protected barley on the same plane as the Dingley bill, brought all Republicans together.

Among other important amendments that have been made since the bill came from committee were those striking out the provision for a duty on tea and the countervailing duty proviso on coffee. The elimination of the maximum duty of 20 percent on coffee, contained in the maximum and minimum section of the bill, was also significant.

The last attack was made on the bill by Champ Clark, who moved to recommit the bill with instructions to place all duties on a mere revenue basis, provide for an income, a stamp tax on stock and produce gambling, discriminating duties for American shipping, free entry to products competing with trust products of this country, free cotton bagging and ties and various other concessions.

This was as near a bill as Clark could produce, and it was defeated—ayes 162, nays 218.

The final vote demonstrated the capacity of the Republican organization to get together. The situation with respect to lumber was greatly relieved to the Republican leaders when it became manifest that the advocates of the proposition placing it on the free list were in the minority.

When the bill actually was passed the Republicans cheered lustily, some dancing up and down the aisles and patting their fellow members on the back.

After adopting a resolution that until further ordered sessions shall be held only on Mondays and Thursdays, the house adjourned.

President Taft expressed great pleasure over the prompt action of the house in passing the bill so early. He has been most solicitous that there should be as quick action as consistent with a full discussion, because he has realized that until the bill became a law there would be a hesitancy about business.

The same moral suasion that the president brought on the house will be exerted on the senate, and there is no doubt that the leaders of that body will do all in their power to pass the bill quickly, bring about an agreement between the two houses and place it in the hands of the president.

FOR ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

Farmers Act as Executioners of Young Kentucky Negro

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 10.—Ben Brame, a negro, 18 years old, was lynched by 250 farmers for attempting to assault Miss Ruth Gee, 17 years old, daughter of a farmer.

Brame attacked Miss Gee near her home on Thursday and was driven away by a sister, Sallie M. Gee. After an all night search the mob found Brame and carried him before the Misses Gee, who identified him.

Restraining the father of the girls from shooting the negro, the mob hanged Brame to a tree.

Woman Gets Fifteen Years

Boston, April 10.—Fifteen years in the woman's prison at Sherborn was the sentence passed upon Miss Naneine Estes, a negress, for shooting and killing George F. Rawson, a white man. Judge De Courcey accepted a plea of guilty of manslaughter. Jealousy was the cause of the crime.

Indicates Return of Prosperity

New York, April 10.—Precious stones valued at more than $3,350,000 were imported during March by Malden Lane dealers. The activity in the market is attributed by the importers to the return of prosperous conditions throughout the country.

ULTIMATUM ON BEEF

Situation Is Forced by the Boston Board of Health

Boston, April 10.—Unless the meat packing concerns of Boston attempt to bring about a settlement of their controversy with the Boston board of health relative to the disposition of meat condemned on account of tuberculosis, the board announces that it will order the meat destroyed.

Under the law of 1908, the flesh of animals who have suffered from tuberculosis is condemned. The health board officially believes that the law is unfair and that the meat is not infected and should not be condemned. The board desires the meat dealers to have the courts pass upon the law as it now stands or else get relief from the legislature.

The board had permitted the meat dealers to place in their refrigerators meats which had been condemned, and it was not until dealers removed some such meat for sale that the board was forced to take action.

POWDER PLANT DESTROYED

Houses Wrecked In All Parts of the Surrounding Country

Wayne, N. J., April 10.—More than 50,000 pounds of government powder exploded at the Dupont black powder mills here, instantly killing one workman, seriously injuring two other men and slightly injuring about seventy-five other employes.

The eight buildings of the plant were completely destroyed, while houses were wrecked in all parts of the surrounding country. The shock was felt in villages thirty miles away.

The exact cause of the disaster will probably never be known, as Jerome March, the man who was killed, was alone in the building where the first of the series of nine explosions occurred.

An eleven ton grinding wheel was carried nearly 600 feet through the air, finally burying itself twelve feet deep in a swamp. Fragments of machinery were found a mile away. The loss will reach $150,000.

COAL MINERS' PLEA WITHOUT RESULT

Will Be No Strike, Despite Deadlocked Conference

Philadelphia, April 10.—After conferences extending since Wednesday between the anthracite coal operators and the officials of the United Mine Workers of America, representing the miners, at which the question of a wage agreement was discussed to replace that brought about by the anthracite strike commission, the operators rejected the modified demands of the miners and the conference adjourned deadlocked.

There will be no strike inaugurated by the United Mine Workers, however, and the only danger of a suspension of mining in the near future, according to the mine workers' officials, arises from the possibility of the refusal of the operators to permit the miners to work without an agreement.

CITY SUPPORTED SON

Mrs. Lombard Found to Have Possessed Quite a Fortune

Malden, Mass., April 10.—A search of the humble apartments of Mrs. Adelia Lombard, the Malden recluse who was found dead under a bundle of rags Thursday, revealed $16,156 in gold, silver, bank notes, stock certificates and bank book credits.

When the body was found the police located $1231 in the woman's clothing. The wealth brought to light Friday was wrapped in old stockings and hidden in various places.

Mrs. Lombard died of natural causes, apparently last week. The city of Malden has been supporting her son for a year, and it was generally supposed that the woman was in straitened circumstances.

CLOSE TO DEATH'S DOOR

Chances of Governor Lilley's Recovery Are Doubtful

Hartford, April 10.—That Governor George L. Lilley is gradually growing weaker is manifested by the statements issued by his physicians.

Drs. Beach and Graves last night issued the following bulletin:

"The governor is in a semi-unconscious condition. During the last twelve hours his condition has shown a tendency to grow more serious. While we do not consider his case as entirely hopeless, we fear that unless there is a change within a very short time the chances of ultimate recovery are doubtful."

Weston Off For Toledo

Cleveland, April 10.—Edward P. Weston arrived here last night at 7:45, having walked from Mansfield, a distance of forty-three miles, Friday. He left here at 3 o'clock this morning for Toledo, where he will rest over Sunday.

Evidence of Peace

Vienna, April 10.—In an imperial decree sanction is given for the disbanding of the reserves in Bosnia. The decree indicates that it is the government's conviction that peace between the dual monarchy and Servia is assured.

AN AGITATED YOUNG MAN.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.]

Young Mr. Graham, the grandson of a grandmother who had brought him up in the way he should go, took a chair car from Philadelphia to New York on a certain date and found the chair on his right occupied by a very good looking and self composed young lady. When she dropped her handkerchief he ought to have picked it up and restored it, but he didn't. When she had trouble opening her hand bag he ought to have proffered his services, but he didn't. When her hatpin worked out and fell at his feet there was opportunity for him to prove himself a hero, but he wasn't up to it. His grandmother had warned him over and over again of the consequences of too much forwardness. He was agitated, but it went no further. Of course when the young lady realized what sort of young man he was she gave him the cold shoulder. She asked the porter to raise the window for her and to bring her a glass of water and if she would be sure to make connection with the Long Island train for Hempstead.

Young Mr. Graham felt his position keenly, but opportunity had fled. Reaching New York, he would have given worlds to warn the young lady not to take the Twenty-third street ferry by mistake for the Thirty-fourth, but he had his chance and lost. It was while he was hanging back that he discovered her purse where it had dropped while she was picking up her traps. He started to rush after her to restore it, but in his agitation addressed a stately old dame who took him for a confidence man and threatened to have him arrested. When he came to overhaul the purse he found that it contained $1.80 and a trunk key. He reasoned it out that this was all the loser had with her and that when landing on the New York side she would find herself in an embarrassing situation. How was she to cross the Island? How pay her fare to Hempstead?

Here was more agitation, and it ended in the young man taking the next ferryboat. He did not find her weeping in the ferryhouse on the other side. He was also disappointed in not finding her in the East river house.

He crossed the river to the Long Island depot, but the object of his search was not there. It was a bad night Mr. Graham put in, and it was made longer and the worse for a sudden thought that came to him about midnight. The purse contained less than $2. The young lady's dress and jewelry showed that she belonged to a wealthy family. To restore such a lean purse to her would humiliate her; it certainly would. She would probably refuse to claim ownership and look upon him with withering scorn. After turning the matter over in his mind for three hours young Mr. Graham saw his way clear. He would add $5 to the contents of the purse.

Hempstead is not an overgrown town, and a persevering young man like Mr. Graham can find lots of things if he becomes chummy with the hackmen. It wasn't two hours before our hero had the name of the young girl and her abiding place. She was living with her widower of a father less than a mile away. It took him two hours to quell his agitation and make up his mind to drive to the house, but at last the thing was done. It seemed as if luck was with him. When the carriage stopped he beheld the selfsame young lady sitting on the veranda with a book in her hand.

"Beg pardon," he said, "but I was your fellow traveler from Philadelphia yesterday, and when you left the chair car I found this on the floor."

"But—but I don't understand," replied the young lady as she received the purse. "I didn't speak to you, and how did you know where I lived?"

"Why, while I was not listening—believe me, I was not—I heard you ask the porter about the train for Hempstead."

"Yes, I believe I did. I was dreadfully afraid I'd miss it. Won't you sit down? This was only my change purse, you know. I missed it, but it was of no account, except that it held the key to my trunk. However, I thank you, and"—

And she opened the purse to view the contents. There was her dollar-eighty, and a five dollar bill besides. She looked up in a puzzled way and said:

"This can't be mine."

"But I found it under your chair, miss."

"But how did this other money come here? I'm sure I hadn't it."

Mr. Graham turned red. His tongue refused to move. He saw the yawning pit and mopped his forehead, but it was too late. The situation had become full of tacks when the young lady's father appeared. He was a stern faced old colonel.

"Sir, explain your game!" he said after a few words of explanation from the daughter.

He asked an impossibility. How could such a thing be explained? Father and daughter looked at the blushing, agitated young man for a moment, and then the father took him by the arm and led him down to the gate and put the purse into his hand and said:

"Come with the green goods next time."

And when he had returned to the veranda and they had watched young Mr. Graham down the road for forty rods the daughter observed:

"Papa, I wish you hadn't. It would have been such a novelty to get acquainted with an agitated young man."

THE COCHATO CLUB.

Entries are being made for a mixed bowling tournament which will start soon.

Some excellent scores were made on Tuesday evening in the ladies' tournament, four of the bowlers having averages of 80 or more. Points were very equally divided Team 4 winning 8 and Team 2 taking 5. The rubber string was won by 9 pins and the totals by 15 pins. The summary:

TEAM 4.

Mrs. Hobart,	74	66	75	215
Mrs. Lefavour,	81	80	83	244
Mrs. Keating,	87	87	79	253
Mrs. Morrill,	74	66	74	214
Total	316	299	311	926

TEAM 2.

Mrs. Wilder,	78	97	85	260
Mrs. Crocker,	78	78	68	224
Mrs. Thayer,	70	87	84	241
Mrs. Davis,	59	64	65	188
Total	283	326	302	911

The Cochato bowling team did not find it as easy to snatch a vistory from the Wampatuck team at Hingham on Thursday evening, when a return game was played. It was a close contest from the start, and but for the good work of Dow, W. I. Arnold and Thayer would have resulted in defeat. Cochato presented the same team as two weeks ago, but Wampatuck had almost a new team. Cochato won the first string by 22 pins. The Hingham veterans took a brace in the second, and their total of 455 gave them the string by 17, and a lead of 5. It looked for a while as though they would take the rubber, but Braintree made a grand finish and won, and the totals were 1312 to 1286.

The summary:

COCHATO.

MINUTE MEN OF '61.

Survivors of the War of the Rebellion who responded to the first call of President Lincoln for troops to go to Washington, D. C., on April 15, 1861, and who are known as the Massachusetts Association Minute Men of '61 will observe the forty-eighth anniversary of that momentous event on Thursday next, April 15, with a reunion and dinner in Boston. The business meeting will take place in Wesleyan hall, Bromfield street, at ten o'clock in the morning and at noon the veterans, accompanied by a band of music, will march across the Common to Beacon street, past the State House, where the column will be reviewed by Governor Draper; thence to School street, where Mayor Hibbard and members of the City Council will review thence to Washington street, State street to Custom House square where a photograph will be taken by a swing camera which will produce a picture large enough to distinguish the features of each face. This will be an innovation and will be greatly appreciated by the old soldiers. From the Custom House the columns will proceed through Commercial street, through Quincy Market to Faneuil hall, where the annual dinner will be served.

Another feature of the forty-eighth anniversary will be the presence of the wives, daughters and sisters of the veterans. It is expected that a large number will accompany the heroes of '61, and a table will be assigned to the ladies invited to dinner. As has been the custom for many years, the galleries will be open to the public, where persons who may wish to hear the speeches and the music may be admitted. The association expect to have as guests Governor Draper, Mayor Hibbard, Captain John L. Parker, department commander, G. A. R.; Mrs. Elizabeth P. Sawyer, department president, W. R. C.; Mrs. Mabel Gooding, department president, D. of V.; Fred F. Warren, division commander, S. of V.; Comrade Rev. Edward A. Horton, D. D. and members of various military and patriotic organizations.

—The Boston Cape Codders are to hold their fifth annual reunion and U. S. naval night on Thursday, April 15, at quarter of eight in Trinity church, Neponset.

A Hurry-up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when some thing must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped to healing. Its mission of mercy began seventy years ago. It is used in all countries and millions of bottles are sold annually. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Have you seen the new large 35c. size?

The weather sharp who predicted that April would be a more or less tempestuous month appears to have had the right idea thus far.

There are now rows going on over the beef question. Is it possible that we are on the verge of being sent back to the "infected beef" era once more?

Champion Jeffries can't beat "loaded" dice, but he is working hard to beat the people who are trying to collect the $5000 he lost. The modern prizefighter doesn't give up his money with the easy freedom of the oldtimer.

At Atlantic City the mayor has even ordered the people on the beach to stop modeling Salomes in the sands of the beach. As the naked truth is seldom told at a summer resort there will be no more against its introduction.

The newspapers laid some pretty bouquets on the bier of the late Admiral Cervera. He was a good man and a brave man, and in view of all the facts the people of the United States could afford to be not only generous, but just.

Quincy was not remembered in the allotments of the highway commission for the year 1909, although an effort was made to have the state take another slice of Quincy avenue. The Norfolk county allotments amounted to $34,257, of which Weymouth gets $3,617.

There still remains $18,344 to be alloted in Norfolk county and it is yet possible to get Quincy avenue included.

Quiny which suffered by the invasion of the gypsy moth both in the distruction of its trees and by being called upon to appropriate large sums of money for the suppression of the gypsy and brown-tail moth will be interested to know that large quantities of parasites of various kinds are all ready to be liberated against the brown tail and gypsy moths.

Interesting information of the campaign to be made against the pest is given in the annual report of L. Howard Worthley, acting state superintendent.

The report says that last summer the climatic conditions were unusually favorable to the increase of both varieties of the moths, but despite that fact they were kept under control except in certain woodland sections. The report says an appropriation of $150,000 in addition to that already provided for this year is necessary.

During the past year there was imported the following quantities of parasites or parasitized material: Brown-tail egg masses 26,000, brown-tail nests between 50,000 and 60,000, free larvae and pupae of the brown-tail moths about 178,000, gypsy moth egg masses, seven boxes, containing very many masses ;about 161,000 gypsy moth larvae and pupae, gypsy moth larvae from Japan, eight large boxes containing many thousand larvae and parasites cocoons, predatory beetles 2892.

The parasite work was continued at the Melrose laboratory all winter, and there is now on hand large quantities of various parasites to be liberated when conditions are right for such work. But while the work was successful in a large measure last year, the fungous disease which attacked the caterpillars also operated against certain species of the parasites.

Although it is known that several species of parasites have become firmly established in this section, it is not believed that any really observable decrease in the moths from their attacks will be noted for two or three years yet.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

So long as this state maintains a special commission to investigate all complaints regarding the quality or the price of gas furnished to the consumers in any city or town, it is a matter for wonder that any legislative committee will report a bill to change the price of gas in any Massachusetts community. It is not only in bad taste, but it is a poor public policy to maintain a body of experts for a certain work, at the state expense, and with admitted success, and then to consider legislation upsetting the decisions of the board for no other cause than to oblige this or that members of the legislature.

The only excuse offered, so far as the public knows for this officious attempt to upset the established policy of the state for the benefit of a few popular members who want to make a good showing with their constituents, has been the plea that the decision of the gas commission was appealed to the courts, in the Haverhill case. As the order of the legislature to the same effect could have been appealed to the courts in exactly the same way and with exactly the same delay, the excuse of course is non-sensical and probably is known to be so by the very legislators who offer so flimsy an apology for their inexcusable attacks upon the state's leading commissions. Public spirited citizens are growing uneasy over the persistent attempt to unsettle confidence in the justice of the state policy of supervision of public service corporations. And this uneasiness is well based. These attempts accomplish nothing more than to hurt business confidence, for no better reason than a petty desire to please some member of the legislature, personally, and to "Help him in his district." It is pretty poor business, from any standpoint.—Boston Advertiser.

"MASON" GIRLS GIVE SERENADE

The Mason Sewing circle held their weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Reid on Franklin street, Friday evening, and at the same time tendered her a tin and linen shower.

About eight o'clock to the beating of pans and singing the party arrived. Each young lady carried her sewing bag, but it is needless to say, little attention was paid to them. It was a "night off" and all were in good trim for a jolly evening.

The hostess was much surprised at large array of kitchen utensils, but much more so, when Miss Helen Troupe, in a few well chosen words presented Mrs. Reid with a beautiful set of table linen. She responded most fittingly and thanked her kind friends for their very useful gifts.

Then the fun began. There were solos by Miss Helen Troupe, a reading by Miss Georgie Michael, entitled "Old Home Day" and fancy dancing by Miss Jennie Grassick.

A laughable farce was given by three of the party, entitled "Life in a Flat," which was well rendered.

A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. A. Hall, which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Reid, who was Miss Margaret Hall, acted as chaperon for the young ladies on their summer outing, in Mason, N. H., last August and is very popular among them.

At a late hour all departed wishing Mrs. Reid much joy and happiness in her future path of life.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Good Friday was observed yesterday in all the Catholic churches of the city. In the morning at St. John's, mass was celebrated, followed by adoration of the cross. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there were stations of the cross.

In the evening at 7.45 there was a sermon on the Passion by Rev. Francis Houston, followed by adoration of the cross.

Services were held also in St. Mary's and the Sacred Heart churches, the program being of the same nature.

FRANCIS FAHY.

Francis Fahy, of 591 Washington street, who died yesterday, was one of the oldest and best known residents of the Point district. Mr. Fahy was 77 years old and for many years has been unable to do anything but light work on account of rheumatism.

He was an old time gardener and farmer and was employed by many of the wealthy families of Boston in this capacity. As he was growing old he bought the old estate where he died and there he lived for many years with his sister, who died a few years ago.

He will be buried Easter Monday morning from his late home and a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. John's church.

MARCH WEATHER.

Normal weather conditions prevailed throughout March, with seasonable temperatures and the usual precipitation. There were no marked extremes of temperature during the month, the highest being 52 degrees on the 31st, and the lowest 12 degrees on the 1st. The total precipitation of 4.42 inches fell on 15 different days, the greatest amount in any day being 1.84 inches on the 25th. Snow fell on 9 days and the total depth was 7 inches, the greatest amount remaining on the ground being one inch on the 4th.

There was slightly less relative humidity than usual and the total number of hours of sunshine was 2 percent more than the average. There was much more wind than is customary and the mean velocity for month was the highest in March since 1900. The maximum velocity was 87 miles per hour from the southeast on the 25th, and gales occurred on 10 days. There was a thunderstorm on the morning of the 10th and an aurora was observed on the evening of the 21st. Ice disappeared from the neighboring ponds on the 17th, eight days earlier than usual—L. A. Wells of the Blue Hill Observatory.

There will be no meeting of the City Council next Monday evening.

Weak Stomachs

We maintain that Stomach and Liver troubles are the curse of the 20th Century. We maintain that practically all of the chronic ill health of the present day Americans is caused by abnormal stomach and liver conditions.

We intend to prove these things beyond all doubt to hundreds of Quincy people, before our representative leaves the city.

The Indians, in their natural state were the healthiest human beings on earth. They were close to nature, lived out of doors, exposed to the sun, wind and rain, yet they did not suffer with chronic debility or nervous exhaustion. Their stomachs and livers were in sound condition. If at any time, they needed medicines, they doctored themselves with simple herbs, barks, gums and leaves. They were not continually tired, drowsy and half-sick, as are the people of the present day. Their perfect health was the result of their keeping their stomachs and livers in a sound condition. They were not shut up all day in the house or office, with no out-of-doors exercise. They did not stuff themselves with food, when their bodies did not have enough exercise to throw it off. The civilized race has been doing this very thing for years. Their stomachs have gradually become weaker and weaker. Look at the results. Most people are half-sick all the time.

We believe that all this chronic ill health is caused primarily by stomach and liver trouble. We believe that very few people can be sick, if their digestion is in good order. We know that Sagwa, the Indian vegetable remedy, which we are introducing in Quincy will put the stomach and liver in good condition in 4 to 6 weeks. That is why it sells so wonderfully all over the world.

Our representative will explain the Kickapoo Remedies and give free trial bottles of Sagwa, free of charge, to all who will call at Ed. J. Murphy's Drug Store, from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily.

The last meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club for the season will be held in the Unitarian vestry on Tuesday evening, April 13. Arthur A. Ballentine, of Gaston, Snow & Saltonstall who represents the "Committee of 1915" will talk on the improvements contemplated in Boston by this committee.

Mrs. Edward W. H. Nutting has received news of the death of her father William Stoddard who died March 21 at the home of his son William O. Stoddard of Kent, Washington, aged 89. Mr. Stoddard formerly lived in West Quincy and married the sister of the late Frank and Hosia Ellis of this city. His great grand son Fred G. Carlton of Maynard, engineer on the New Jersey had the pleasure of visiting him during the stay of the fleet at Seattle.

Members of the Hall Place M. E. church are pleased to have their pastor, Rev. C. H. Raupach, returned to West Quincy for another year. Mr. Raupach has just closed a successful year at this church. A man of the highest principles ,a true Christian preacher of the Gospel of Christ, a leader ,and a friend to all, he has made many friends both far and near and has endeared himself to his people. His success as a teacher of children was readily seen at a public service of the Junior League held March 30th when about thirty-five members told the interesting facts contained in the Old Testament, it's division by books, the names of the books, together with the names of all important persons who lived in the first 4,000 years, and also, gave the boundaries of Palestine, its divisions and sections, and many interesting things concerning its connection with Biblical history. His success as a pastor may be realized by the love and esteem in which the people hold both him and his family.

SINKS BARGE.

Everett, Built at Quincy, Collided With West Point.

The collier Everett, Capt. Abbott, built at Quincy bound from Everett for Lamberts Point, Va., and the barge West Point, in tow of the tugs William Sprague and Vesta were in collison near the South ferry, Boston harbor on Friday. The bow of the steamer was driven into the starboard quarter of the barge, making a hole from her rail to within 10 inches of the water line.

The vessels drifted apart and the tugs, which had let go the towlines, picked up the barge and took her to the Boston towboat company's wharf, where she sank.

The Everett moved down to an anchorage off Commonwealth flats. Her bow plates were started and she has a small hole in her port bow, through which the water from the ballast tank spurted in a stream. Lloyd's surveyor Murphy went out to the vessel and made an examination and two of her plates were found to be cracked. They were patched with cement. The Everett sailed last night, however, and upon her return will undergo permanent repairs.

NAVAL PRISONERS TAKE FRENCH LEAVE

Five Drop From Third-Story Window at Charlestown

Boston, April 10.—Five men made their escape from the naval prison at the Charlestown navy yard last night by sawing the bars of a window and dropping to the ground from the third story of the building.

The window by which the escape was made is in a bath room on the third floor. It is supposed that the bars of the window had been sawed previously and that the escape had been planned with a good deal of care.

James Robbins, the guard on duty in the corridor from which the men escaped, was placed under arrest, stripped of his uniform and locked up, pending a court martial.

NOVELIST CRAWFORD DEAD

Had Presentiment That He Would Pass Away on Good Friday

Sorrento, April 10.—Francis Marion Crawford, the novelist, died here last night. His illness had its origin in an attack of influenza. Death came peacefully and while his entire family were at his bedside. He apparently knew that the end was near and with calmness encouraged his family to bear up and cease weeping. The novelist's last words were: "I enter serenely into eternity."

F. MARION CRAWFORD.

Sadly on Thursday night he expressed the presentiment that he was soon to die, but almost immediately afterwards, when alluding to the approaching Good Friday, he said: "I die with Christ."

Mr. Crawford was born at Pagni di Lucca, a health resort in Tuscany, in 1854. His father was Thomas Crawford, noted as a sculptor.

Crawford's efforts were confined principally to the writing of novels. He wrote one play, "Francesca Di Rimini," which Sarah Bernhardt produced in Paris in 1902.

A MAINE MAN HUNT

Couple Quarrelled Over Baby, and Woman Is Killed

Bingham, Me., April 10.—Following the murder of his young wife here last night, Herbert Nottage was the object of a man hunt in which nearly two score of armed citizens and sheriffs participated, but no definite trace of the fugitive has been obtained.

Nottage's wife, aged 20, was shot four times at the Bingham House, where she had been working during the past fortnight, following a separation from her husband. The latter had stayed at their former home in Lexington when his wife left him, but came here apparently to reach an agreement over the disposition of their only child, a baby not yet a year old.

FOR CONGRESS TO SETTLE

Taft to Write Special Message on Porto Rican Difficulties

Washington, April 10.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger will soon present to President Taft a report on the present tangled condition of affairs in Porto Rico, which has brought to Washington representatives of the two branches of the Porto Rican legislature.

Information from a high source makes the inference strong that the president, after receiving this report, will send to congress a special message recommending action in the matter.

Hawaiian Banker's Philanthropy

Honolulu, April 10.—Charles B. Cook, president of the Bank of Hawaii and head of numerous business enterprises in Honolulu, distributed $250,000 among various churches and charities in commemoration of the religious significance of Good Friday.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL

INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St. Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

STATE HOUSE LETTER.

Boston, April 7, 1909.

Senator Stevens is the new treasurer of Massachusetts to take the place of Treasurer Chapin who gets the permanent berth of the bank commissionership. The story is one of much wirepulling, but not of interference with the legislature by the leaders of the party, as far as can be seen at the time of writing. Editor Lantry of Springfield was sincerely comfortable in his own mind over the prospects of his election. It looks as if his confidence were justified down to the developments of the last two days. There has been a great deal of underground work. Friends of Representative Kemp of Springfield, who felt that he was the best man for the office, are probably responsible for Lantry's defeat. Yet all they have accomplished is the defeat of Kemp by a vote less flattering than Lantry would have had, simply because the movement for Kemp came too late and those who were regarded as sure for Lantry felt that they were at liberty to get on the band wagon when the lightning change came.

Stevens has a first class reputation, has been treasury watch dog in the Senate three years and is relied upon to make a competent and honest state treasurer, who will get the regular nomination next fall, in spite of the geographical unbalancing of the state ticket.

Here is the exact statement of Dr. Mark Richardson, secretary and executive officer of the state board of health, regarding the milk policy to be pursued. "I believe that every farmer ought to be convicted in court and punished if his milk tests below the present commercial standard, regardless absolutely of its purity." Further on, he said, "I believe that is what ought to be done." These statements were made at the hearing by the committee on agriculture upon the milk standard laws. Representative Gardner of Westfield, clerk of the committee, took down the words first quoted and read them over to Dr. Richardson to see if he had them correctly and if the secretary would stand by them. The secretary said that the dictation was correct and that he would stand by it.

So that much of the policy of the state board of health is fixed. Of course this means that there will be a tremendous protest on the part of the farmers and milk producers. The regulations which have been made by the board have seemed very strict to many producers. Farmers have been feeling strongly against the board and this emphasizes the antagonism. The Senate vote of four for to 16 against the bill to permit the board to have supervision of the production, transportation and sale of milk shows how the farmers take advantage of an opportunity to put their knives into the state board. The strict enforcement of the law, whereby one man, believed to be innocent, has landed in an insane asylum because of mental distress over an arrest, even though the judge refused to prosecute the case, has stirred up additional feeling against the present standard and its enforcers, and there will be much doing before the legislature is through with the milk standard this year.

Labor men have gained an important point in the House by the vote of 106 to 84 whereby the bill giving labor unions the right to fine members in order to compel them to join in strikes was substituted for an adverse report of the joint committees on judiciary and labor. This gain will give the labor men prestige, but that is all it is possible for them to get this year, for the Senate has already acted upon the matter and by a narrow vote has defeated the labor men. It is expected that the House will send the bill over to the Senate, but there it will be killed and all that will be left will be the satisfaction of having got one branch on record for labor. Next year the fight must come again and if it fails, then again, till victory comes, if the usual course in progressive labor legislation is repeated in this instance.

Voting machines are approved unanimously by the committee on constitutional amendments, and it is not a wild prediction that the proposition will get the necessary two-thirds' majority in the House and majority in the Senate, preparatory to a similar vote next year and then submission to the people for indorsement by a majority vote. This proposition would doubtless have become law years ago, if it had not been for the decision of the supreme court that voting by machinery would be unconstitutional. The amendment as proposed says that secret voting must be preserved. That will keep the principle of the Australian ballot, and it is so evidently in line with modern improvements that the adoption of the amendment will be the most natural thing in the progress of election laws.

All of the petitions for amendment of the Sunday laws in way of further relaxation are in the House calendar with an adverse report upon them, but they are passed for debate, and it remains to be seen if any further break in Sunday legislation will be made, but probably not.

This afternoon the Senate adopted the resolutions from the House protesting against the imposition of an inheritance tax by the national government on the ground that it would interfere seriously with our state finances. It was said in debate that this tax yielded Massachusetts last year over $1,200,000 and over $600,000 the first four months of the current fiscal year, or at the rate of over $1,800,000 a year, and it is still growing. It is also to be observed that, by this vote, the Senate reversed its action defeating the resolutions for international peace and arbitration, showing how hollow was the excuse that they were addressed to Congress and that the legislature ought not to send resolutions to Congress. Gov. Draper and President Treadway made a big blunder on that matter, the public knows it, and the Senate has now affirmed it.

The merger situation keeps cropping out and it promises to make much trouble in the House before the end of the season. This afternoon it was the cat in the meal in the case of the adoption of the order of Mr. White of Brookline by 151 to 57, for asking the opinion of the attorney general regarding the abolition of the freight differentials on westbound freight. This large vote was against the joint efforts of Messrs. Bishop of Newton, chairman of the House judiciary committee, and Washburn of Worcester, House chairman of the railroad committee.

A highly important bill is that reported today for the incorporation of the Massachusetts college to have 30 centers of instruction at centers of transportation. Among the places selected are Plymouth, Boston, Worcester, Fitchburg, Greenfield, Amherst and Sprinfield. Tuition is expected to be only $34 a year and boys and girls about high school age are to be the beneficiaries.

Robert Luce, Edward Glines and several others are already candidates for Senator Stevens' seat which he leaves to become state treasurer.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

MILLINERY.

Whenever two or three women chance to meet nowadays the all absorbing topic is millinery. There has been such a very decided change in the shape of the hats this year that it is extremely difficult at first to accept the new models without a great deal of hesitation and preliminary looking around. The Easter hats are very heavy looking but in reality the materials are light. Large turbans, mushroom shapes, bowl shapes and a large variety of curious models shapes of which beggar description. But the two things most noticeable in the new millinery are the pose of the hat upon the head and the complicated and top-heavy character of the crowns. Every hat is worn low upon the head and whatever its shape the crown is invariably extremely wide, so that on a woman with a small head one of these models appears not unlike a snuffer on a candle.

popular blossoms and then come tulips, poppies, wistaria, sweet peas with of course the perenial violet and a quantity of fine flowers such as forget-me-nots, heliotrope etc. Fruit of all sorts is also a favored decoration. Many of the hats look like inverted salad bowls with perhaps a bunch of mixed fruits, most often grapes and cherries on one side, a narrow velvet ribbon of some bright color tied around it and the whole finished off with a bow in the back.

A LINEN SEASON.

To anyone in touch with the trend of present fashions it is evident that the summer of 1909 will outdo any vogue previously known in linen suitings and dress materials. Lord & Taylor is making a most enticing display of these in a wonderful range of plain colorings and in tints that rival the finest shades of the French dyers. All the fruit shades, in plums, grape and the dull rich tones hitherto found only in more costly fabrics are here in textures that vary from the fine smooth weave of French linens to the heavier self stripes and crashes. Linen duck is very popular for suits of a strictly tailored order.

COLLARLESS FROCKS.

Most of the fashionable dressmakers are making the summer frocks for young women without any standing collars at all, cut a little rounded or pointed in the neck and finished simply with a band of insertion or in lieu of this with one of the flat Dutch collars that is so becoming to the possessor of a well rounded throat. A perfect host of separate lingerie collars indescribably fine and dainty and adapted to low neck effects are now being shown in the neckwear department of all the shops.

COLORED EMBROIDERY.

A special feature of this season's fashions are embroideries wrought in colors of the most variagated shades on white cotton and linen materials. A charming summer frock of white lawn is made in the new princess effect and has the centre front panel of fine tucking outlined down each side by wide bands of pale pink embroidery worked on the lawn. The same embroidery edges the round neck, trims the sleeves and heads the flounce that starts from each side of the front panel.

SMART SHIRT WAISTS.

Cotton grenadine or as it is often called cotton marquisette is a very smart material for the dressy summer shirt waist. These are elaborately trimmed with cluny lace and hand embroidery or they are braided in cotton soutache or coronation braid and prettily trimmed with crochet buttons.

BOWLING.

As noted last week the winning team of the Cochato candle pin tournament was Team 8, composed of G. A. Arnold, Dr. H. A. Jones, W. C. Harrison, Dr. E. Bent and Dr. W. S. Davis. None of these men were on the winning team last year.

C. W. Dow of Team 5 made the highest total, his average being 88.4 plus. Second high was G. A. Arnold of Team 8, with a total of 3,141 an average of 87.2 plus.

The highest single, 127, was made by G. A. Arnold of Team 8, who also made the highest three-string total, 304.

The best gain was made by Dr. E. Bent, with W. I. Arnold second, Dr. W. S. Davis third.

It will be noted in the compilation below that all but eleven men exceeded their rating, the exceptions being largely among the 85 men, only two of whom, L. O. Crocker and G. A. Arnold made good.

Only one of the 75 men fell below his rating. W. I. Arnold led the eight, and finished fourth in the tournament with an average of nearly 86. E. E. Jameson was second with an average of nearly 80.

Some of the best gains were among the 70 men, only one being below his rating. Both Dr. Bent and E. Haskell jumped into the 80 class, the former scoring nearly 83. W. Connell and W. H. Nichols also moved into the 75 class.

In the 65 class Dr. Davis made the best score, and is now in the 75 class. Others to get a promotion were O. A. Bridgham, W. E. Dow, E. B. Bird and L. F. Small. The consolation prize of the tournament goes to H. R. Holden, who just missed an average of 60.

In the summary below the men are divided into classes as they entered. Their total pin-fall and average being given:

JURYMEN FREE MRS. SAMPSON

Come to Conclusion That Her Husband Committed Suicide

A RECEPTION IN COURTROOM

Woman Shakes Hands With Lawyers, Jurors and Press Representatives—District Attorney, Her Cousin by Marriage, Declares That He Is Satisfied With Verdict, as He Had Done His Full Duty Toward All

Lyons, N. Y., April 10.—Mrs. Georgia A. Sampson, the young woman who has been on trial for her life here since Monday on the charge that she had shot and killed her husband, Harry Sampson, was acquitted last night and was immediately given her freedom.

MRS. GEORGIA SAMPSON.

Mrs. Sampson was trembling perceptibly when the jury announced its verdict, but she recovered her composure immediately and smilingly received the embraces of her father and other relatives and the congratulations of her friends.

She held an impromptu reception in the court, thanking and shaking hands with her lawyers and each of the jurors, and also greeting and thanking the representatives of the press. Mrs. Sampson declined to make any statement for publication.

District Attorney Gilbert, in speaking of the verdict, said: "I am satisfied. I have done my full duty by the people and by the prisoner."

Mr. Gilbert, though a cousin of Mrs. Sampson by marriage, stood to his duty and prosecuted the case as vigorously as the facts would permit.

The last day of the trial was spent in presenting the defense's case and in listening to the closing addresses of the state and the defense and to the charge of Judge Rich. The testimony of the defense was brief and was confined chiefly to rebutting the testimony of Albert H. Hamilton, a gun expert, that the hole made in Harry Sampson's outer shirt was made by a bullet fired from a distance and that Sampson could not, therefore, have committed suicide as the defense alleged.

It was 6:30 when Judge Rich completed his charge to the jury and it was an hour later, after the jurors had dined, that they retired to deliberate on their verdict.

At 10 o'clock the jurymen reported to Rich that they had reached an agreement. Mrs. Sampson was brought into court and Rich, after thanking the jurymen for their service, told Mrs. Sampson she was free.

SAILING THROUGH CANAL

Roosevelt and His Party Entertained by Officials at Suez

Port Said, April 10.—Steamer Admiral with Theodore Roosevelt and the members of his party on board arrived here last evening.

Excellent weather prevailed during the three days' voyage from Messina to this port and the trip was uneventful. Roosevelt and all the members of his party are well.

The Admiral entered the canal at 6 o'clock this morning. Last evening the canal officials entertained Roosevelt at dinner at the Suez Canal residence. There was no official reception to the former president.

Shoppers From Canada

New York, April 10.—Eleven train loads of Canadian excursionists, 2000 in all, have reached New York city for a ten days' visit. The excursion is largely a shopping expedition on the part of small storekeepers and others.

Youthful Blackmailer Sentenced

Cincinnati, April 10.—Thomas Gebhart, aged 19, who confessed that he wrote a Black Hand letter demanding of Edward Reynolds $200 under penalty of death, was sentenced to thirteen months in prison.

Kent Case Goes to Jury

Rutland, Vt., April 10.—The case of Elroy Kent, charged with the murder of Miss Delia B. Congdon at East Wallingford on July 24, 1908, went to the jury last evening after a trial occupying about two weeks.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

Washington, April 3, 1909.

The resolution of Senator Bacon, providing that the minority members of the Finance Committee be permitted to sit with the majority of that committee to assist in the cross-examination of witnesses, precipitated a warm outburst from Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Finance Committee and recognized as the Republican leader of the Senate. As soon as the Bacon resolution was laid before the Senate and before any of the Democratic senators could get the floor, Mr. Aldrich was recognized and declared that "The Republican majority of the Senate will properly be held responsible by the country for the character of the tariff legislation to be enacted at this season, and also for prompt action. The business of the whole country is suffering from the uncertainty as to what will be done. Two great bodies are divided by a definite line of thought on this subject, with a few exceptions, on both sides of the chamber. The Republican party cannot evade the responsibility, and there is no disposition on its part to do so." Mr. Aldrich said he had participated in the consideration of eight tariff measures since he came to Congress, five of which were Republican and three Democratic, and that in every case the framing of the legislation was left to the party in power. In the case of the Wilson-Gorman bill, for example, Mr. Aldrich pointed out that the Democratic majority on the finance committee declined to let the Republican members have anything to do with the framing of the measure, that this was right and had been the practice for more than fifty years.

Were it the purpose of the Payne bill to cheapen the necessaries of life, it is only fair to presume that some attention would be given to the sugar schedule. That tariff on sugar, theoretically, is intended as protection to the cane of Louisiana and the beets of the northwest; actually, however, as everybody knows, its most important effect is to protect the sugar trust, whose business is chiefly the refining rather than the original production of sugar. This is accomplished by making the duty on refined sugar so much higher than the duty on raw sugar that the refining business is given a monopoly in this country. As a matter of fact, some attention has been given the sugar schedule, 28-100 of one per cent is added to the tariff tax on the most universally consumed of all the necessaries of life.

The statement of the federal Treasury for March, just out, is considered the most encouraging which it has issued since the fiscal year began. The tide of business depression seems to have turned suddenly. According to this statement the Treasury receipts have materially increased and the steady enlargement of the deficit account has been checked. There was a gain in March of $7,500,000 in customs revenues over the revenues of March 1908, and the gain in receipts from all sources was $8,761,000.

Senor Carlos Garcia Valez, the new Cuban minister to the United States, is not altogether pleased with the remarks that have appeared in the press recently attributing to him scepticism as to the stability of the Cuban government, and has made it known that he considers his government perfectly stable. At the same time he has taken occasion to express his admiration of American ideas and his gratitude to the Americans for their disinterested attitude toward the Cubans.

A well informed representative of the iron and steel industry in Washington this week, stated that wage reductions throughout that industry during the next six months will be the most sweeping and general that have been known to the industries of the country in twenty years. How much of the present and threatened reductions in wages in steel and other industries are properly attributable to tariff revision; how much to depressed business conditions following the financial disturbance which prevailed during the past year, and how much to unsettled conditions which must await readjustment to the new schedules of duties proposed, are a few of the embarrassing questions confronting the Republicans of the new administration and both houses of Congress. The announcement from Pittsburg that the Jones and Laughlin Company will make a ten per cent reduction in wages is said to be only the beginning of these troubles. By many, if not the majority, this movement is recognized as the ever ancient, ever new game of the Republican corporate interests to reduce wages in order to frighten Congress into caring for their industries. It places the Republican majority in the House in a most embarrassing position to have such a situation precipitated by the iron and steel trade at this juncture, when all their plans seemed to be shaping up right for an agreement upon a rule under which the tariff bill is to be speedily passed in the House.

Why Tailors Sit Crosslegged.

A tailor making a dress coat sat crosslegged on a table, like a Turk. "Why do tailors always work in that uncomfortable position?" asked a visitor.

"Women's tailors don't. Only men's do," was the reply. "And for men's tailors it is the most comfortable and the most convenient position possible. You see, the sewing on men's clothes is very fine. The work must be held up close to the eyes. Well, in this position I lean the work on my elevated knees, and thus it is nearer my eyes, while at the same time my back remains straight. Analyzed, the position is a fine one. It keeps the back straight and the chest out, the knees make a table close up to the face, and eye strain is avoided.

"Tailors for women sit on chairs. For one thing, the sewing on women's clothes is less fine than on men's. For another, the woman's tailor has to get up every few minutes to go to the manikin, and all that rising, if he sat crosslegged on the floor, would tire him too much in the day's run."—New York Press.

No Suffering Too Great.

Not long since a young woman suffering with an incurable disease applied for admission to a hospital in a southern city.

"I know I must die," she said simply to the attendant physician, "but do something to keep me alive for a little while for my babies' sake. In a few years they will not need me so much."

Her one chance lay in a very painful operation, but her heart was so weak that the surgeon dared not administer an anaesthetic. Very gently he explained the situation—the operation would make but a year's difference at most; it seemed hardly worth while to suffer so much for so brief a respite; she would best go home and—wait. But the little woman shook her head.

With mother love shining in her eyes, she allowed herself to be strapped upon the operating table and there willingly underwent the torture of the knife that gave her a few months to devote to her precious babies.—Delineator.

Marlborough House.

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44,000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare upon the society of her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay:

Acquainted with the world and quite well bred,
Drusa receives her visitants in bed.

In the earlier years of the nineteenth century Marlborough House was rented by Leopold, king of the Belgians. It was afterward bestowed by the crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

The Savage Pike.

There are several instances on record of bathers being attacked by pike, and an old writer, Crull, tells of a giant pike inside which was found the body of an infant. Not long ago a good sized retriever which was swimming in the Thames just above Chitty's boathouse at Richmond was tackled by a pike, which bit one of its hind legs so badly as to sever an artery. It was another Thames pike which attacked that well known naturalist and fisherman, Mr. Cholmondeley-Pennell. He had actually landed the fish, when it sprang from the ground and fixed all its sharp teeth into his leg just above the knee. The creature hung so fiercely to its hold that a stick had to be used to pry its jaws apart.—Chambers' Journal.

Force of Habit.

In reward of faithful political service an ambitious saloon keeper was appointed police magistrate.

"What's the charge agin this man?" he inquired when the first case was called.

"Drunk, yer honor," said the policeman.

The newly made magistrate frowned upon the trembling defendant.

"Guilty or not guilty?" he demanded.

"Sure, sir," faltered the accused, "I never drink a drop."

"Have a cigar, then," urged his honor persuasively, as he absently polished the top of the judicial desk with his pocket handkerchief.—Everybody's.

A Want.

"I have here a device," said the inventor, "to increase the speed of motor cars."

"But what we really want," said he, "is a device to increase the speed of the pedestrians who have to dodge them."—Exchange.

And Catches Him.

"Man," declared the old fashioned preacher, "is a worm."

"And," said a man who had been married three times and who was occupying a small space in a rear pew, "woman is the early bird."—Chicago Record-Herald.

An Impossible Man.

"Why did you marry me?"

"Because I thought you were different from other men."

"And now you want a divorce because you were mistaken?"

"No; because I was right."—Cleveland Leader.

I believe in laughter, in love, in faith, in all distant hopes that lure us on.—Groves.

Humor and Philosophy

HANDY TOOL.

I wish I had a Russian name
Of any standard brand,
The kind that no one can pronounce
And no one understand,
The brand that whizzes through the air
And busses at the sash
And zigzags as it goes about,
A verbal lightning flash.

If I had such a name as that,
I would not ever fear
To go out all alone at night
Though highwaymen were near.
I'd use the name in self defense,
And, brother, you can bet
If bad men got in range with it
They would be running yet.

When in my peaceful little cot
The neighbors I would fool
By getting it in action as
The handy household tool,
A corkscrew or a monkey wrench,
A hammer or a saw,
To do a little plumbing job
Or pound the beefsteak raw.

For ripping off the tops of cans
That name would be the thing.
To pull up carpet tacks perhaps
Or carve a turkey's wing.
For picking ice or cracking nuts
The same would nicely fit.
I wouldn't need a lot of tools,
For it would be a kit.

Couldn't Touch Him.

On a cold winter night in a northern city when the thermometer was 30 degrees below zero and moving lower two men bundled in heavy overcoats were waiting for a street car on a street corner.

As they shivered and said things about the car service two newsboys came along.

"Ain't it cold, Jimmie?" said one of them.

"Naw," said the other. "I don't notice it. I've got underwear on."

Delicate Questions.

"How did you get along in Europe?"

"All right, only the question of etiquette bothered me. I didn't know whether to address a stranger as 'me lord' or 'duke.'"

"Same with me when I was out west. It took me some time to size up a man and decide whether to call him 'jedge' or 'colonel.'"

Two of a Kind.

Some people have common sense, and others have artistic temperament.

Sweet Love.

"Would you marry for money, Maud?"

"Me? Mercy! No, indeed."

"For what, then?"

"Love, pure love."

"Dear heart, I knew it! What kind of a man could you love?"

"A rich man, Jackie, dear, and the richer the better."

Somewhat Dazed.

"Were there many present at your wedding?"

"I believe there were quite a number."

"Who were some of them?"

"Er—let's see. I think my wife was there for one."

Ordinary Fame.

"Who were some of them?"

"Oh, they were well known people, but their names have slipped my mind just at this moment."

Large Users and Small Users

A WELL DEVELOPED telephone system is the consensus of many desires, not the narrow reflection of the wishes of some individual or group of individuals.

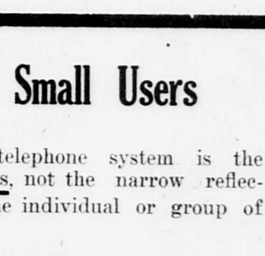

In planning such a service it is necessary to have many different classes of rates, so that it may be placed within the means of everyone. Each subscriber to the service, be he large user or small user, adds strength and value to the whole

To realize this interdependence—to emphasize the value of a service connecting all classes of users—and to offer its product (telephone service) in lots suited to the needs of all classes—this has been the effort of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

That its forecast of possibilities has been verified, that its campaign of education has been effective, and that its distribution of classes of service to meet varied requirements has been approved, needs no argument other than the repetition of this conclusive fact—310,000 telephones connected to its system.

If you are not represented among the 310,000 telephones now connected with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company's system, let us show you how a telephone would be helpful.

If you don't need one, your wife may. Count the steps it will save, the comfort it will bring the emergency service it will render, and you will say a residence telephone at our rates is an economical investment.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Castle Square Theatre.

The most famous of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's novels, "The Marriage of William Ashe" will form one of the most popular plays of the season at the Castle Square. It will be played only next week, and its English scenes and characters will be taken full advantage of in the way of fine stage settings and clever acting. The plot discloses the romance of William Ashe, a rising young English politician who later becomes prime minister of England, and Lady Kitty, whose capriciousness and frivolous spirit leads him a merry dance when he finally marries her. The play mingles clouds with sunshine, and there is much of exciting incident and emotion in its successive scenes, the action taking the leading characters to Italy for the last act. The two characters around which the action centres are William Ashe and Kitty, and they will be acted at the Castle Square by John Craig and Mary Young, both of whom are eminently fitted for such powerful and distinctive roles. The play will be staged under the direction of William Parke, and the cast will include Theodore Friebus as Geoffrey Cluffe, George Hassell as Lord Grosville, Donald Meek as Eddie Helston, William Evarts as Dean Winston, Minnette Cleveland as Lady Tranmore, Gertrude Binley as Madame D'estrees, Mable Colcord as Lady Parham and Beverly West as Mary Lyster. On Monday, April 19th the musical comedy season at the Castle Square begins with a grand production of "A Runaway Girl."

Keith's Theatre.

This is a season of big things at Keith's theatre, both in the way of exceptionally strong vaudeville acts and the number of legitimate actors and actresses who are appearing in sketches. Some of them have secured the very best writers in the entire world for their vaudeville efforts. Perhaps the most notable example of this is William H. Thompson, the veteran actor who comes to Keith's next week with a sketch written for him by Sir Conant Doyle, the author of "Sherlock Holmes." This sketch is called "Waterloo" and Mr. Thompson has made one of the greatest successes of his long career. It will be seen in Boston for the first time. There will also be another newcomer in Marie Dainton, the little English woman, who since her arrival here has been one of the biggest New York successes. She does an act that is original and she has a winning personality that goes a long way toward making it the great success that it is. Still another feature is Wilfred Clark & Company in a sketch. Mr. Clark is one of the very best comedians that vaudeville has ever had. Still another attraction will be Ben Welch, the Hebrew impersonator, who also gives Italian impersonations which have won him a place in the profession.

Orpheum Theatre.

The tremendous success attending the engagement of Julian Eltinge, the world's greatest portrayer of feminine characters at the Orpheum theatre this week, has induced the management to extend his engagement for another week. Accordingly he will next week head another all-star bill, and the big advance sale of tickets has already assured a repetition of capacity houses. Mr. Eltinge has made for himself a reputation throughout this country and Europe, that Bostonians are proud to claim him as their own. Another Boston favorite who will be seen at this popular theatre is Charles J. Ross of the famous Ross and Fenton pair. Mr. Ross is an actor of unusual ability, and never fails to please in any sketch in which he appears. This time his vehicle is an original creation "Chuckles" by Mabel Fenton, in which he will be assisted by that talented actress Anna Turner. Miss Turner's character work has won her an enviable reputation on the stage.

EASTER SERVICES DRAW LARGE ATTENDANCE

Elaborate Musical Programs Rendered At Local Churches.

CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

The holy season of Lent was brought to a close Easter Sunday with elaborate musical programs in all the Catholic churches of the city.

At St. John's church the morning masses were at the usual hours.

At 10.30 a solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. John J. Casey, assisted by Rev. John J. Coan as deacon and Rev. Francis Houston as subdeacon. Edward Sweeney was master of ceremonies. The altar presented a dazzling scene with its hundreds of candles and its masses of potted plants. The sermon was by Rev. John J. Coan.

In the evening at 7.30 solemn musical vespers, followed by benediction was sung, Rev. John J. Coan as celebrant, assisted by Rev. John J Casey and Rev. Francis Houston. The soloists were Miss Mary McConarty, Miss Helen Galvin, Thomas R. Donovan and John Mahon.

At St. Mary's church mass was celebrated on a beautiful new altar the gift of Mrs. Ann Hart, mother of Rev. Francis Hart of Canton. Mrs. Hart also donated a new mahogany altar rail and to make everything complete the ladies sodality gave a beautiful new altar carpet.

Vespers were sung at 3 P. M. Rev. Henry T. Grady officiating. Rosary and benediction followed. The soloists for the day were Mrs. Thomas Fennessey, Joseph Morrissette and Joseph Daly. Miss Rena Bizzozero presided at the organ.

The new altar is a beautiful addition to the handsome church. It is finished in white and gold, with a pale blue background. It was extremely attractive Easter Sunday with its candles and potted plants.

The morning services at the Sacred Heart church were at the usual hours, Rev. John P. Cuffe being the officiating clergyman. At 7.30 in the evening vespers was sung, followed by rosary and benediction. Miss Costello was at the organ, the soloists of the day being John McGowan and Miss Mary McGrath.

CHRIST CHURCH.

At Christ church there were services at 7.30 and 10.30 in the morning. The early service consisting of Holy Communion and the singing of Easter carols.

Rev. Frederick M. Brooks of Watertown conducted the 10.30 service and also preached at the regular seven o'clock service.

The church was attractively decorated with lilies and potted plants, which were distributed to the children at the children's service at 3 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH.

At First church which was artistically decorated in honor of Easter, the pastor Rev. E. C. Butler conducted the morning service.

At 4 o'clock a special service by the pupils of the Sunday school was held.

Each child received a beautiful potted geranium, the gift of Henry M. Faxon. All the plants were in full bloom and presented a very pretty appearance.

Elaborate musical programs were rendered at both services.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Special Easter music was sung at the morning service which was held at 10.30. The sermon was preached by Rev. C. L. Paddock, the pastor. At 7 in the evening there was an Easter concert by the Sunday school, assisted by the choir.

POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Alfred Ray Atwood, the pastor, preached a special Easter sermon at the 10.30 service, on the subject, "Easter—What does it mean to you, an Event or a Reality." There was also a special musical program by the choir. In the evening there was an Easter concert by the Sunday school.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

At the 10.30 service the pastor Rev. R. J. Davis preached on "The Importance of the Resurrection." There was a special music by the choir. At 7.30 there was a praise and preaching service the pastor speaking on "The Saviour's call from Death unto Life."

SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Swedish Baptist church was prettily decorated with flowers Sunday. Rev. A. P. Hanson conducted the morning service, which was filled with Easter spirit.

The concert given by the Sunday school children was held at six o'clock in the evening and consisted of recitations and carols. The regular evening service was omitted.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

The Easter morning worship was held at 10.45, the pastor Rev. G. W. Palmgren preaching a sermon on "Resurrection Joy." A male chorus sang special Easter hymns. An evening service, with special singing and preaching was held at 7 o'clock.

WEST QUINCY M. E. CHURCH.

Easter Sunday was observed by special music and a special sermon at the 10.30 service. The preaching was by the pastor Rev. Carl H. Raupach. There was an Easter concert at 7 o'clock given by the Sunday school.

WOLLASTON CHURCHES.

As a result of good weather and attractive programs large congregations attended the Wollaston churches on Easter.

At the morning service of the Unitarian church, a sermonette by the pastor and a varied musical program was enjoyed, assisted by instrumental selections by Miss Thomas, Mr. Moorehouse and Mr. Hill. In the afternoon the annual Easter concert of the Sunday school was held consisting of Easter carols, an address by the minister and songs and recitation by the children.

The Easter concert in the afternoon consisted of "Life forevermore" an exercise by the Sunday school, with recitations and carols by the boys and young ladies. An Easter story was also enjoyed.

An Easter message: "I know that my redeemer liveth" was preached by Rev. Joseph Walther of the Baptist church at the morning service. An orchestra supplied music.

The Sunday school held its concert in the afternoon. The usual evening service was omitted.

Easter Sunday was observed in St. Chrysostom's church with the usual impressive services and was well attended. At the 7 A. M. celebration a hundred came to pay their devotional and receive holy communion. The choir singing Easter hymns. The altar was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, hyacinths, white tulips, and ferns. At 10.30 morning prayer and holy communion, the rector Rev. A. Edwin Clattenburg preached an eloquent sermon which was filled with Easter spirit.

The text was "Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" 1 Cor. 15-57. The sermon on this text was to show that there is not salvation or freedom from the fear of death except in the name of Jesus Christ the Lord and Saviour.

The musical program by the vested choir was in keeping with the occasion Miss Louisa Allison Ross organist. The solos were rendered by Miss Susie Nichols of Neponset and Miss Nettie Parlee of Montclair.

The children's festival was held at 4.30 P. M. when every child in the Sunday school received a potted plant.

CAPT. EDWARD H. HASKELL.

Capt. Edward H. Haskell, a long resident of Quincy, died Sunday at the Boothby hospital, Boston, where he went some days ago to undergo a surgical operation.

Capt. Haskell was born in Deer Isle, Me., 64 years ago, but has made Quincy his home for many years.

He followed the sea for many years, retiring from active pursuits some time ago. He was permanently identified with the Quincy Yacht club, being one of its charter members.

His funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 o'clock from the home of Bradford Hayden on Spear street.

ON EXCELLENT FINANCIAL BASIS

Substantial Balance Reported In Granite Club Treasury.

The annual meeting of the Granite City club was held at the club rooms Saturday evening . The financial report showed the club to be better off financially than ever before.

All obligations for the year ending April 1, had been paid and there was a substantial balance in the hands of the treasurer.

The membership of the club remains about the same as a year ago, the new members admitted balancing those who had ceased their membership.

With one exception all of the officers of 1908 were reelected. The list of officers elected being as follows:

President—Henry F. Tilden.
Vice-President—Eben W. Sheppard.
Clerk and Collector—W. W. Mitchell.

WILL ATTEMPT TO LOCATE RELATIVES

Vermont Woman Sent To City Farm By Police.

A woman who said her name was Josephine Twoosh of Bradford, Vt., was taken to the police station by a hack driver early Sunday morning.

The woman said she came from Bradford, Vt., and took a carriage to the South station, Boston. Then she took another carriage for 361 Main street, Quincy, where she claimed to have a sister.

The hack driver was unable to find anyone by the name given at that address and no one who knew of such a person. The hackman then drove the woman to the police station.

City Physician Hallowell was called and pronounced the woman as unbalanced mentally. She was therefore taken to the Quincy Home. An effort is being made today to locate the woman's relatives.

FINNEMORE HELD UNDER HEAVY BONDS

Braintree Man Charged With Murderous Assault at East Milton.

Charles W. Finnemore, aged 24 years, employed by Robert Gibson of Commercial street, Braintree, as a teamster, was arrested early this morning for murderous assault on Wesley M. Grant at East Milton, Saturday night, winding up one of the best pieces of police work carried out in the state for a long time.

The murderous assault was committed early Saturday evening, when a man wearing a mask entered the store of Mr. Grant on Squantum street and demanded his money. Being refused he without more argument drew a revolver and fired point blank at Mr. Grant, the bullet entering through his eye.

An alarm immediately sent out and the police of Milton and adjoining towns worked diligently on the case until 2 o'clock this morning when Finnemore was arrested at Braintree. His wife Kittie was also arrested and is held as a witness.

One of the first clews to the assault was found by Officer Larkin Sunday when he found at the Wollaston golf links a large quantity of cartridges. He also found a new revolver of 38 calibre, two black masks a cap, coat and a quantity of cloth from which the masks were made.

The Milton police were notified of the find and at the request of Chief Pierce, Chief Burrell assigned Officer Larkin to assist. Officers Haley and Fallon of Milton and Loring of Braintree and Walsh of Weymouth were also at work on the case and all did good work.

During the investigation of Sunday it was learned that the man wanted spent part of Saturday night on Glencoe place and later went to Braintree where he and his wife were taken in for the night. It was at this house that they were arrested.

From the investigation of the police it is believed that the parties came to Milton on a train from Boston Saturday night. They were without money and were desperate. After doing the job it is believed that they made their way through the golf links where they disposed of what articles of an incriminating nature they may have had. That they then came to Quincy to the Glencoe place house where they told a pitiful story and were taken in.

Later in the day Sunday however they were thrown out and made their way to Braintree. After the finding of the articles at the golf links the police were hot upon the trail of the man wanted all day, and the hunt ended only when the arrest was made.

Finnemore was arraigned in court this morning for assault with intent to murder and upon request of Chief Pierce the case was continued until April 30, under $10,000 bonds. Finnemore's wife was also sworn as a witness and was ordered to recognize in $500 for her appearance at that time. As neither could procure bail they were committed to jail.

FIRE ON GRANITE STREET.

The alarm from Box 41 at 10.53 this morning was for a fire on the roof of a large double house at 181 Granite street owned by Otto Backman. The house was occupied in part by the owner and Charles Ashlund and Mrs. Anderson.

The fire evidently started in the attic of the house which it is said is being used as a carpenter shop.

The fire burned through the roof from which practically all the shingles were burned. It was sometime before the all out sounded.

The loss is estimated at $200.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Ellen E. Barry.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen E. Barry, wife of Michael J. Barry, who died Thursday, was held Sunday from her late home 549 Adams street, East Milton. The services were held at 2 o'clock in St. Gregory's church, where deceased was a parishioner for many years. Burial was in the family lot in Milton center.

Mrs. Barry was one of Milton's oldest residents having lived in the town for over 40 years. She is survived by a husband, two sons and two daughters. David Barry is a claim agent for a New York electric railway company. James is a carpenter and builder in Milton. Miss Mary Barry holds a responsible position in the Granite Shoe store, Quincy, while Grace is a stenographer with the Old Colony company in Quincy.

Mr. Barry was postmaster in Milton under the Cleveland administration.

Ellen M. Hayes.

The funeral of Ellen M. Hayes, aged 78 years, was held Sunday afternoon from her home in Rockport where she has lived many years. Mrs. Hayes was the widow of Patrick Hayes and was formerly a resident of West Quincy. Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy, where her husband was buried thirty-six years ago.

Francis Fahy.

The funeral of Francis Fahy, aged 77, was held this morning from his late home 591 Washington street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. John's church by Rev. Francis Houston. The regular choir sang the Gregorian mass, John Mahon presiding at the organ. Miss Mary McConarty sang the "Pie Jesu." Burial was in Old Calvary cemetery.

A meeting for the children of the Swedish Baptist Sunday school, will be held tonight in the church chapel.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The past week has been a busy one for the boys of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. Every day outings, hikes, basket ball or baseball were the attractions. It was a great week and is a sample of the work for the spring and summer. The latest addition to the work is the organizing of a baseball league for the boys of Quincy. This league is for boys between ages of twelve and sixteen. It is limited to six teams. Four teams are all ready registered and two more are wanted at once. Any team that wishes to enter the league may do so by sending a representative to the Y. M. C. A. boys' work director. A silver cup is offered to the team winning the pennant and also a banquet to the members of the winning nine.

INTEREST TO YACHTSMEN.

A series of races has been arranged for between the Yacht Emeline owned by Commodore H. W. Robbins of the Quincy Yacht club and the Almira owned by Capt. Ira M. Whittemore. Both yachts are in the Cape Cat class and were rivals last year. The owners have subscribed a cup which will be raced for under this year's rules without jibs.

The first of the races will be sailed Monday, April 19, off the Quincy Yacht club house.

The new sonder boat which is being built for ex-Commodore Charles F. Adams 2, of the Quincy Yacht club at Lawley's was planked in last week. While it has not been so announced the boat building will doubtless be sailed by Mr. Adams in defending the Quincy Yacht club challenge cup the coming season.

FOR CREATING A DISTURBANCE.

Dennis Cleary Arrested On Railroad Train.

Dennis Cleary, a Fore River workman, came from Boston on the late train Saturday night. While in Boston he drank more than was good for him and on the way out created considerable disturbance during which the glasses of the conductor were smashed. When the train reached Quincy, Cleary was turned over to Inspector McKay, who locked him up.

This morning in court he was fined $15 for creating a disturbance and $10 for drunkenness. The sentences were suspended to allow him to make restitution to the conductor.

Hurrah for base-ball.

Look out for colds and pneumonia.

Although he is merely Col. Roosevelt, a private citizen of the U. S. A., our ex-president has almost as much to say and as many so called interviews to repudiate as if he was still the President.

The problem of laying the dust in the public streets is one that is demanding the attention of all officials having streets in charge. The high winds that have prevailed during the past few weeks have raised clouds of dust filled with germs of all kinds that have been blown about in great clouds. Those persons who have been on the streets have had their mouth, nose and ears filled and it has also crept into houses ruining furniture. In fact it has been very disagreeable.

Aside from this it will probably cost the city many good hard dollars to replace the surface of streets that have been blown away.

Up to the present year Quincy has done nothing in the line of oiling its streets, the most that has been done being to water certain streets during the summer months.

During the past few days however Commissioner Bainbridge has been doing some experimenting in City Square.

The streets here have been given a coating of a dust preventative preparation. While the odor that arises from this is not pleasant at first, it soon passes off and the dust is laid permanently.

In the past it has been the custom for the city to appropriate a certain sum of money for watering the streets and under the law one half of this is assessed upon abutters of the streets so watered.

Under the present law the city can assess the abutters for oiling the streets. There is an amendment to the law pending in the legislature however which if it passes will permit the city to assess abutters for oiling the same as for watering.

The appropriation of $7,000 provided for in the annual budget will not permit the adding of any more streets than was mentioned in the schedule last year. The street watering order as reported however contains several additional streets which will probably have to be stricken out of the order.

Commissioner Bainbridge has said however that if permitted to use oil all of the streets mentioned can probably be taken care of.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The recent fires in Cliftondale, in Chelsea, and in Manchester, N. H., point to a peril which is not absent from any of our New England cities where the concentration of population has overpassed the old methods of housing.

To accommodate the increase these cities have expanded on a perilous system. Wooden shacks, closely crowded, have taken the place of buildings which, while wooden also, have been widely separated and in so much protected against the contagion of fire.

It is in such quarters, notoriously in Chelsea, that the fire peril has awakened and become destructive. It would seem that the recent awful experience of that city should have led to precautions in this regard. So long as a fire nect existed, a repetition of the holocaust was possible.

And not more seriously than in Chelsea is the warning conveyed against the congestion of wooden buildings, occupied as residences, in any municipality.

This menace should be averted. The recent gale unquestionably spread the disaster in the cities and towns affected. But whether the wind blows high or blows low, there should be provision against the propagation of the spark which endangers the entire community.—Boston Post.

GOOD ROADS.

Editors, Ledger:

Massachusetts and Rhode Island have taken the lead in good-road building; highway officials in these states have, after much work and expense, perfected types of roads that will withstand heavy traffic and the wear and tear of motor cars. These roads all require the use of bituminous (asphaltic) "binders."

If the Payne bill duties on "asphaltum and bitumens" are enacted the coming of good roads in the modern sense will be delayed for years. In the Payne bill the present duties of $1.50 per ton on crude, and $3 per ton on refined asphalt, are increased to the equivalent (according to the official comparisons) of $3.36 per ton on both crude and refined bitumens. This action was taken at the behest of California asphalt producers, and against the protest of the leading highway officials and city engineers of eastern states. The increased duties mean just so much increased taxation for roads and streets.

We cannot have good roads unless they are of moderate cost. In view of this fact and the great public interests involved, protest should be made immediately against the proposed increase in the tariff and the demand made that crude asphalt be placed on the free list.

E. U. PORTER.
Secretary Good Roads Committee.

DESTROYING MOTHS.

Uittau, Germany.—The Saxon authorities have discovered what would seem to be an excellent way to put an end to the caterpillar plague, which is having such a disastrous effect on the local forests. They have discovered a method to catch the brown moths that lay eggs from which the caterpillars come in enormous quantities. They make use of what they call the electric light trap. This consists of two large and powerful reflectors placed over a deep receptacle and powerful exhaust fans.

The whole has been erected on the top of the municipal electric plant. At night two great streams of light are thrown from the reflectors on the wooded mountain-sides half a mile distant. The moths, drawn by the brilliancy, come fluttering in thousands along the broad rays of light. When they get within a certain distance of the reflectors, the exhaust fans, with powerful currents of air, swirl them down into the receptacle.

On the first night three tons of moths were caught. It has been decided to build another trap on the Rathaus tower.

Young Man Over-Estimated the Fortune of His Wife

KILLS HER AS SHE SLEEPS

Slayer Then Snuffs Out His Own Life —Rumor That He Also Had a Wife Living In New York Added to Domestic Woes of Couple Who Had Been Married but Three Weeks

Portland, Me., April 12.—Samuel Kline, 25, shot his 20-year-old bride twice through the right temple as she lay asleep Sunday, killing her instantly. He then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

Since Ida Branz married Kline three weeks ago to a day troubles over money matters developed, culminating in Sunday's tragedy. The bodies were found some hours after the tragedy by members of the household of David Kline, with whom the couple lived.

The woman evidently was shot as she slept on a temporary bed made up on the floor and the medical examiner declared death instantaneous. The third shot from the 32-calibre gun killed Kline immediately.

Kline came here from New York recently and set up in business as a bottler. Among the people here he met his bride. Her father had died recently and rumor said he had left the daughter considerable money. On this account Kline was considered lucky in winning the affections of the girl.

According to members of the family no trouble developed for a week after the marriage, when Kline learned that his wife had been left with but little money. It then began to be rumored about the neighborhood that Kline already had a wife in New York and the bride heard the story, which was freely discussed in the neighborhood. This made more trouble between the two.

Sunday's tragedies make the second murder and suicide of a young married couple in Maine within three days. Herbert Nottage, aged 30, shot and fatally wounded his wife, Lucinda, aged 20, at Bingham, and later shot and killed himself to avoid capture by a posse who had trailed him all night through the snow-encumbered woods.

Boilers of French Battleships Will Have to Be Replaced

Toulon, April 12.—The first visits of the parliamentary investigating committee to the dockyard here have revealed a scandalous condition of affairs. The new battleship Justice has been found to practically useless, the plates surrounding the after boilers being burned through and presenting grave danger. These will be replaced. The stock of ammunition also was found to be incomplete.

On a sister ship, the Liberte, half the boilers are useless, owing to the lack of a small part which could not be procured at Toulon. The shell filling workshops are in a lamentable condition, not even elementary precautions being observed.

British Bluejackets to Protect Foreigners In Persian Town

London, April 12.—The situation in Persia is gradually developing in the direction of Anglo-Russian intervention. British bluejackets were landed from the cruiser Fox at Bushire on Saturday, after a British resident had set forth the necessity of this action because of the inability of the local authorities to protect foreigners.

It is understood that the landing of bluejackets was sanctioned beforehand by Russia, and it is expected that the latter government will be obliged to take similar measures to protect foreigners at Tabriz and Resht.

LENOX HAS BIG CONFLAGRATION

Six Persons Perish In Flames In Business Section

FOUR BLOCKS ARE WIPED OUT

Loss of Life Occurred In Old Building Where Dynamite, Oils and Paints Were Stored and Where Fire Probably Started From Spontaneous Combustion—Town's Fire Apparatus Inadequate to Fight the Flames

Lenox, Mass., April 12.—Six people lost their lives, three others were badly burned and a property loss of nearly $300,000 was caused in a fire in the heart of the business section of this town early Sunday. Four business blocks, two dwellings and two other structures were destroyed in a section bounded by Franklin, Main, Hoosatonic and Church streets. The fire is believed to have started in the Clifford building from spontaneous combustion.

A veritable sleeping volcano was beneath the slumbering occupants of the Clifford building, where the loss of life occurred.

This volcano was suddenly let loose as the result, it is supposed, of spontaneous combustion, and within a few seconds huge masses of flames, fanned by a stiff northwesterly gale, were roaring through the building and spreading on to adjacent structures.

The old firetrap burned like tinder and the hurriedly-awakened tenants fled through smoke and flames, seeking outlets of safety. Some reached the outer air with a scorching—six perished in the raging furnace.

Among those who lost their lives in the flames were the members of an entire family, father, mother and child. It was the most disastrous fire in the history of Lenox, and the worst Berkshire has experienced in fifty years.

Plans are now under way to rebuild the business section and at a special town meeting during the week the inhabitants of Lenox will formulate building restrictions to prohibit the erection of such fire traps as were destroyed Sunday.

The town will also undertake to organize a fire department with suitable apparatus. Had it been so equipped before the fire, there would probably have been no loss of life.

Seventy-five pounds of dynamite stored in the Clifford hardware establishment in the Clifford building is believed to have caused the first explosion, which was heard for six miles around. Oils, paints and varnishes were also in the place.

The flames were first discovered by George Root, who lived in the upper floor of the Clifford building, and who had a sensational escape with his mother and his brother, Walter. Horace Tirrell, an electrician, carried his sick wife to safety through smoke and flames, often having to grope on his knees with his burden in his arms.

Miss Alice French, with hair and night clothing ablaze, leaped to the street, a flaming mass, but her body could not be reached until the fire had practically burned itself out.

The Lenox fire apparatus was totally inadequate to fight the flames, and the fire burned practically unchecked until aid arrived from Pittsfield, Lee and Lenoxville.

Those driven out of the burning buildings in their night clothing shivered in a bitter northwest gale, with the thermometer at 10 degrees above zero.

The dead: Edward C. Ventres, 41; Mrs. Edward C. Ventres, 35; Miss Wilhelmina Leslie Ventres, 12, their daughter; Miss Alice French, 41; Miss Isabel M. Cook, 40; Miss Mary Sparks, 26.

Mrs. Catherine Root, George Root and Walter Root were all burned about the face, hands and neck.

GETS NATURAL SLEEP

Improvement In Lilley's Condition Leads to Hopes of Recovery

Hartford, April 12.—There is marked improvement in the condition of Governor Lilley, who is ill at his home here.

Early on Sunday he was able to recognize members of his family and slept naturally most of the afternoon.

He is now resting comfortably and there are strong hopes for his ultimate recovery.

POLICEMAN SHOOTS A BOY

Starts a Riot In Crowd Waiting to Witness a Marathon Race

New York, April 12.—A Marathon race Sunday, in which seventeen athletes competed, was preceded by a riot at Celtic park, Long Island City.

While the men were getting ready for the event boys began climbing the fence which encloses the grounds. Among them was Thomas B. Daly, 14 years old. The park was policed by special officers, and one of them, Charles Haas, fired his revolver as he ran toward the boys. Daly, who was on top of the fence, fell wounded into the park. He was shot in the left thigh and is in a precarious condition.

The 5000 persons around the track chased Haas out of the grounds to a house nearly a quarter of a mile away, where he was taken in custody by the police. As soon as the crowd learned that Haas had been arrested they returned to the park and the race was started.

The race was won in 2:48:17 by Harry Jansen of the Pastime A. C.

SUSPICIOUS OF EMPLOYERS

Lynn Shoe Workers Discover Vague Points In Peace Proposition

Lynn, Mass., April 12.—At a meeting of delegates from nearly every shoe workers' union in the city, called to consider the proposal for industrial peace, it was the expressed wish that the manufacturers give assurances that no general blacklist be inaugurated, that a standard wage scale be considered, and that the proposed arbitration be in the hands of a local board instead of the state arbitration body.

The delegates voted to ask the shoe manufacturers to appoint a conference committee to meet representative union delegates and go over the manufacturers' proposition, so that several vague and uncertain points may be cleared up.

BLACK HAND THREATS ARE UNFULFILLED

Worcester Priest Is Still In the Land of the Living

Worcester, Mass., April 12.—Easter Sunday passed in Worcester without bodily harm being done to Rev. Vincent Buckovekas, pastor of St. Casimir's Lithuanian Catholic church, as had been threatened in a letter received by him early last week.

Displaying easily visible signs of the great mental stress and excitement caused by the letter, and which was responsible for the priest's taking to his bed on Friday, Buckovekas celebrated mass at his church Sunday.

While no police were in or near the edifice, the church was watched closely by members of the parish.

AMETEUR BOXERS' EVENT

They Will Contend In Boston For Titles and Gold Medals

Boston, April 12.—Some of America's best amateur boxers are entered in the championships which will be decided tonight and tomorrow night in Mechanics' hall under the rules of the Amateur Athletic union. The bouts will be managed by the Boston Athletic association.

The tournament promises to be one of the greatest of its kind ever held in this country. Solid gold championship medals will be awarded the victors in each class. Entries have been received in the following classes: Bantamweight, featherweight, special weight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight and heavyweight.

AIM AT UPLIFTING NEGRO

Colored Baptists Holding Christian Conference In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, April 12.—A Christian conference called to consider matters affecting the welfare of the negro race in America was begun in this city today under the auspices of the negro members of the Baptist denomination.

The conference, which will last three days, has called together 500 delegates representing churches in Pennsylvania, the middle Atlantic and New England states, the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia. Some of the leaders of the negro race in the United States are in attendance.

Yale Varsity Crew Wins

Philadelphia, April 12.—The University of Pennsylvania eight-oared crew defeated Yale by two lengths over the 1½ mile course on the Schuylkill river. The time was 8:05. In the preliminary race for second eight, the Elis won by ¼ length in 8:18 2-5.

Booth Coming to America

New York, April 12.—At the celebration of the 80th anniversary of the birth of General William Booth it was announced that the founder of the Salvation Army is planning another trip throughout the United States and Canada next fall.

Disappointed In Love

Watertown, Mass., April 12.—Despondent because her lover did not want to marry her as early as she wished, it is claimed, Martha Iakuhvicski, aged 21, a Polish girl, committed suicide here by jumping into the Charles river.

IT IS NOT A DYE

A Wonderful Cure

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly, and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff. I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it and almost at once was benefited by it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. MRS. E. A. ROSS. Sharon Mercer Co. Pa.

The funeral service for Mrs. Hugh Anderson of 60 Edison street were held Saturday at 1.30. Rev. A. R. Atwood officiated. Interment was at Lowell, Mass. The service was largely attended by relatives and neighbors all of whom held her in the highest esteem. She is survived by a husband and daughter, who have the sympathy of all.

Seldom has a finer list of composers been selected for concert work than that by Mlle. Sigrid Westerlind, the Swedish-Finnish soprano, who appears at Music hall on Friday evening, among them being, Wagner, Pacius Chadwick, Grieg, Nevin, MacDowell, Strauss, Bizet, Sibelius, Sjogren, Lehmann. There will be folk songs and dances of Sweden.

Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Grant, Washington street and Ring avenue, Rev. A. R. Atwood baptized their son, Albert Alexander. Music was rendered by Effie Wordell, Jennie Gibb, Selma Thayer and Eva Forrest. Among those present were the Deaconesses Mrs. Alice Pollard and Mrs. Susan Barrows, Deacon Charles Sherburne and Rev. Hugh F. Graham.

EASTER SERVICES

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH.

Special Easter services were held at 10.45 A. M., with preaching by the pastor, Rev. Wesley Wiggin. At 6 o'clock there was a Sunday school concert.

ATLANTIC CHURCHES.

The morning service was held as usual at 10.45, there being special Easter music and preaching by the pastor Rev. W. J. Heath. At 7 o'clock the Sunday school gave an Easter concert.

Rev. Thomas W. Davison preached a special sermon on the subject "The Easter Message."

ATLANTIC MEMORIAL.

On Sunday evening an Easter concert was given in the Memorial church by members of its Sunday-school. There were thirty-five numbers on the program, starting with a prayer led by Rev. Thomas W. Davison. The church was filled to the doors and everyone thought the affair a great success.

BRIEFS

One of the most informal and jolliest parties of the season was held in Colonial hall, Saturday night when Miss Lella Smith entertained the Enigma club and their friends.

Mr. Adolph Restelli the popular tenor singer from South Quincy, is to sing at the dance given by Provost's orchestra in Hibernian hall, this evening. A large crowd is expected to attend.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

DESCENDANTS OF SIGNERS VISIT TAFT

Their Ancestors Approved the Declaration of Independence

Washington, April 12.—In the White House today President and Mrs. Taft received the members of the Society of Descendants of the Signers, who are lineally descended from the men who affixed their names to the Declaration of Independence. The reception in the executive mansion preceded a visit made by the Descendants to the state department, where they viewed the document signed by their ancestors.

Tomorrow, the 166th anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, the Descendants will visit the University of Virginia and the tomb of Jefferson at Monticello. The visitors will take part in the founder's day exercises at the university.

The signers' descendants held their first meeting at the Jamestown exposition. Several hundred members have been enrolled in the society. It is estimated that the descendants of the forty-six signers who left children now number about 5000.

GETS HOSTILE RECEPTION

"An Englishman's Home" Not Acceptable to German People

Berlin, April 12.—The German version of Du Maurier's play, "An Englishman's Home," was produced here last night before a distinguished audience. This is the play that created a sensation in England, dealing as it does with the invasion of that country by a foreign force, and originally it was thought that the play was aimed at Germany.

Its reception last night was so hostile that it is improbable the play will be repeated. Hissing, stamping and hooting began with the second act and continued almost incessantly until the final scenes, which were completely drowned in the din.

LOCAL TEAMS OPEN SEASON

Fore River Apprentices Defeat Blacksmiths at Baseball.

The local baseball season was opened Saturday at the Point when the Fore River Apprentices defeated the Blacksmiths at the Fore River grounds, Washington street. During the first part of the game the Blacksmiths were ahead, but in the eighth inning they went up in the air, the Apprentices started to bat Bergfors and when the smoke had cleared away, the score stood 15 to 7 against the Smithys. This proved to be the final score, as neither side was able to get a man across the rubber after that. Although hit hard Bergfors would have held the Apprentices to a closer score, if he had received better support. He is an apprentice himself and just filled in to help the Blacksmiths.

The Apprentices are full uniformed and are backed by the company. Although the attendance was not as large as it would have been with good weather, the receipts from the advance sale of tickets was large enough to enable the manager to purchase an entire outfit for the team.

James E. Neary is the manager and coach of the team and is taking great interest in its success. He is an old Cornell baseball and football player and instilled the Ithacan spirit in his Fore River charges, who are out every night for practice.

Next Saturday the team is scheduled to meet the fast Makaria team at the Fore River grounds. Manager Neary says he is going to work the boys hard this week in preparation for the game. On Patriot's Day a double header is scheduled with the strong Bigelow team of the Point district. The summary:

A REAL INDIAN PAPOOSE.

Lone Wolfe, an Indian Chief, his squaw Minnehaha and an eight months old papoose are on exhibition in our city and attract big crowds daily. This happy family of red folks occupy a whole display window at the drug store of E. J. Murphy.

Indians are seldom seen in Quincy in their native costume, but a tiny papoose is still more of a rarity; thus it is no wonder that scores of white folks stop every hour of the day to gaze at the trio. And it doesn't disturb the Indians a bit. They keep on with their work, weaving and braiding and chatting to each other.

The women and children are all delighted with the papoose, who sits strapped all day long in his cradle. He is much like white babies. He fusses, whines, and wants to be in motion continually. He is unusually strong for one so young.

The collection of Indian curiosities they have with them are considered by the relic hunters the most valuable and complete assortment of Indian treasures to be found anywhere except in the Smithsonian Museum in Washington. Our citizens who are interested in such things should see them.

TODAY'S COURT.

Charles W. Finnemore was arraigned for assault on Wesley Grant at Milton with intent to murder. He was held in $10,000 until April 30.

Alexander Thomas of Lynn was the week-end guest of his neice Mrs. Thomas Armstrong of Warren avenue.

The Flag of Distress

If there is any trouble in your system, the stomach is the first organ to run up the danger signal. Long before some other serious disease may appear, the stomach will wave the red flag and call for a halt. Every bit of nourishment which goes to all the tissues and bones of the body must go through the stomach. If there is the slightest trouble with the stomach, that trouble is immediately felt through the whole body. If you will study the formula of Kickapoo Sagwa, you will understand why Sagwa cures so many cases of stomach trouble, both acute attacks and chronic cases of long standing. Just see the ingredients in sagwa, which are good for the Stomach. Soda Bicarb., Gentian Root, Red Cinchona Bark, Aniseed, Coriander Seed, Cubebs, besides Dandelion Root, Burdock Root, Yellow Dock Root and Mandrake Root, are all splendid tonics for the rest of the system, so that this combination not only cleanses the stomach and bowels, and the kidneys, and the liver, of accumulations which infect the stomach, but they give an appetite, they make you hungry, they make you enjoy your meals, they remove from the system the things which disturb your sleep, and thus allow you to sleep so soundly and restfully that when you get up in the morning you feel like a new person.

The following statement by Colonel Wm. F. Cody, Proprietor of "Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show," and late chief of scouts of the U. S. A., is made in connection with the much discussed remedies now being introduced at Ed. J. Murphy's Drug Store.

"Sagwa is a remarkable medicine," said Col. Wm. F. Cody. "I have known of its virtues for a long time, and on the frontier these and other Kickapoo Remedies are considered indispensable. I have had occasion to use Sagwa for malaria, chills and stomach troubles, and have found it far superior to quinine in every way. I have also used Sagwa and Kickapoo Oil for Rheumatism and was speedily cured. You may use my name, and say that for what they claim to do the Kickapoo Remedies have no equal."

Our representative will explain about the Kickapoo Remedies—Kickapoo Sagwa, Kickapoo Oil, a healing family liniment, Kickapoo Worm Killer for ailing children, Kickapoo Pills for constipation and biliousness, Kickapoo Cough Cure for coughs, colds, etc., Kickapoo Salve for piles, burns, sores and wounds—and give free trial bottles of Sagwa to all who call at Ed. J. Murphy's Drug Store from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily.

CASTRO ENTERS VAIN PROTEST

Doctors Upset the Ex-President's Plea of Illness

FORCIBLY PUT ABOARD VESSEL

Placed on Mattress and Carried From Hotel to Pier on Stretcher Manned by Four Negroes—Great Crowd Follows Procession Through Streets—Deported Man Sees Breach of International Law by France

Fort de France, Martinique, April 12.—Prior to his being taken aboard the steamer Versailles for deportation to France, ex-President Castro prepared a written protest against the action of the French government, which has been submitted to the authorities here. It reads as follows:

CIPRIANO CASTRO.

"I hereby protest against the action of the French authorities of Martinique in having me put, by force, on board an out-going vessel: First, because I was ill at the time and because the act imperilled my life; second, because I have committed no offense against the government of France and the authorities of Martinique during the time that I was permitted to remain on that island; and, finally, because the decree of expulsion which orders my deportation out of French territory compels me to take passage aboard a vessel which will again land me on French territory.

"Moreover, these considerations aside, the case constitutes a breach of international law and a denial of the rights of individuals. That such a thing should have come to pass in the land which saw the birth of Josephine and from which came the inspiration and prestige of liberty, and at the hands of a people who shed their blood by torrents hardly a century ago to maintain unimpaired the rights and prerogatives of man, is inconceivable.

The ex-president said, just before the sailing of the Versailles, that if he was at liberty when he arrived at St. Nazarie, he would immediately proceed to Spain to take passage for Santa Cruz, Teneriffe. Castro added that he was leaving his brother Carmelo here for the purpose of receiving mail which he expects to be forwarded from Trinidad and Venezuela.

The Versailles will stop at Basse Terre, Gaudeloupe. Hardly had the steamer left port Saturday night when a party of Castro's friends arrived on the steamer Goelette from Saint Lucia. They were very much surprised that Castro had been expelled from the island, and had a long consultation with Castro's brother.

The removal of the former president of Venezuela from the hotel to the steamer was not without its pitiful aspect. Immediately on the announcement by the medical commission, who made a lengthy physical examination of Castro, that he was quite capable of making the voyage, the commissary of police, with an escort of gendarmes, invaded the hotel and proceeded to his chamber.

They found Castro in bed, and, although he still protested that he could not move and refused to dress, they carried him down stairs, the patient all the while moaning dismally, on a mattress, and placed him on a stretcher. Officers from the United States cruiser North Carolina, in civilian dress, helped to make him as comfortable as possible, and then the stretcher was picked up by four negroes and taken to the steamer dock. Gendarmes guarded it on each side and a crowd of people numbering fully 2000 followed the procession through the streets.

The entrance to the French line piers was guarded by police and no one was permitted to enter, except those who were directly connected with the transfer of Castro. Some difficulty was experienced in hoisting the litter aboard, and for a moment Castro was in peril of falling out.

The stretcher was set down in one of the cabins, and Castro at once declared that the room was too small and demanded that he be transferred to another cabin. He was promised that a change would be made during the course of the voyage.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

FAST TEAM IS PROMISED

Q. H. S. To Be Well Represented In Base Ball Field.

About 50 candidates are practicing daily at Merrymount Park for the Quincy High school baseball team and at present prospects are very bright for a fast nine. The team is under the captaincy of Frank Galvin, a former Adams Academy star and a member of the High school team for the past two years.

Galvin comes from a family of ballplayers and is a fast outfielder and a good sticker. He will make an excellent leader for the team as he knows all the fine points of the game.

The team lost several of last year's good men by graduation but there are still some experienced men in the school from which to pick a good team.

Both the Bates brothers, Russ and Stan, are fast players, the latter being a strong candidate for the box. Glover Howe, the well known football and basket ball player, is still in school and will probably take his old position behind the bat where he played last year.

Besides these there are several new men who look promising and taken all in all, everything looks good for an excellent team. A good schedule has been arranged by Manager Holbrook and includes games with Bridgewater Normal and several fast teams around Boston. The season opens as usual with a game against the alumni on Patriot's day. Following is the schedule:

April 19—Graduates at Quincy.
April 27—Bridgewater N. S., at Bridgewater.
April 30—Abington H. S. at Quincy.
May 4—Everett H. S. at Quincy.
May 7—Open.
May 11—Brockton H. S. at Quincy.
May 14—Open.
May 19—Brockton H. S. at Brockton.
May 21—Milton H. S. at Milton.
May 26—Melrose H. S. at Quincy.
May 28—Dedham H. S. at Dedham.
June 1—Rockland H. S. at Quincy.
June 4—Plymouth H. S. at Quincy.
June 7—Medford H. S. at Quincy.
June 11—Open.
June 15—Dedham H. S. at Quincy.

MUSIC HALL SCENE OF RARE BEAUTY

K. of C. Hold Annual Easter Monday Ball.

Music hall presented a gay scene Monday evening, when the annual Easter Monday ball of the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, took place. It was perhaps the most brilliant affair in the history of the council, the gowns being some of the most beautiful that ever graced Music hall.

In anticipation of this beautiful scene, the balcony was crowded, long before the opening of the ball, with those who came just to look on, not desiring to dance. From eight o'clock to nine Rockett's orchestra, concealed behind a mass of ferns and potted plants, gave a pleasing concert.

The hall was tastily decorated with flags and bunting, while the stage was one complete mass of ferns, cut flowers and potted plants. The guests began to arrive about 8 o'clock and were looked after by the following reception committee:

Hon. William T. Shea, Timothy J. Carey, Dr. George M. Sheahan, John W. McAnarney, James F. Burke, Robert E. Foy, Edward J. Parker, Michael T. Sullivan, Peter J. Cahill, M. J. L. Kennedy, Eugene W. O'Connor, John F. Burton, Daniel Desmond, John Casey, Dr. John H. Ash, Charles C. Hearn, William T. Moran, Arthur Murphy, Dr. John T. Reynolds, William J. Coleman, Thomas F. Mannex, John A. Mahoney.

Among the invited guests were Rev. John J. Coan, pastor of St. John's church, Quincy, and chaplain of the local council; Rev. Francis Houston of St. John's church, and Rev. John P. Cuffe, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

At 9 o'clock the grand march was started. Grand Knight Edward J. Murphy and Mrs. Murphy led the march, behind them coming Hon. William T. Shea and Miss Katherine Shea, Deputy Grand Knight Lawrence W. Lyons and Miss Mary Lyons, followed by about a hundred couples. The march was prettily and skilfully executed and received liberal applause from the spectators.

The march over all formed for the Cicilian circle and from then on there was no let-up until 2 o'clock except for half an hour at midnight.

During the entire evening an excellent buffet lunch was served in the dining hall, by Burleigh and Martin.

Grand Knight Edward J. Murphy was floor marshall, while Deputy Grand Knight L. W. Lyons was floor director. Charles J. McGilvray and Edward D. Barrett were assistant floor directors. The following corps of aids ably assisted the marshall and directors:

Timothy O'Connell, William Flynn, Edward P. Histen, John Heffernan, Thomas J. Shortle, Dr. J. P. Murphy, Joseph Granahan, John A. Duggan, Dr. J. H. Maloney, John P. Crane, Thomas V. Keating, Dennis T. Sweeny, George B. Gavin, John H. Heaney, George W. Berry, John J. King, Dr. D. B. Reardon, Edward J. Sullivan, Dr. C. J. Lynch, William A Carey, Thomas R. Donovan, John Mahon.

The committee of arrangements had everything well in hand and deserve a lot of credit for the successful manner in which the ball was carried out. Following is the committee:

Edward J. Murphy, chairman; Edward D. Barrett, secretary and treasurer; Lawrence W. Lyons, John J. O'Hara, Joseph A. Keating, John W. Walsh, John F. Walsh, Edward D. Larkin, Leo J. McMaster, Robert E. McDonnell, John J. Cunniff, William J. Corcoran, John A. McGowan, Richard A. Cole and Dennis Crowley.

Man Arrested at Weymouth Tells Court Hard Luck Story.

A colored man who at first gave his name as John H. Franks and later as Harold Curtis of Cambridge was arrested at Weymouth Monday by Officer Butler for obtaining money by false pretences.

When arrested Curtis was going from house to house soliciting funds for the colored orphans home, which he said was situated on River street, Quincy.

He had collected $4.50 when arrested. This morning he was arraigned in court and pleaded guilty. He said that he had been employed on a steamship line but owing to illness had been obliged to give it up.

The reason he was collecting money was that he might go to a hospital for an operation.

The court imposed a fine of $15.

WRESTLING EXHIBITION.

Carl Anderson, former amateur champion of New England member of the Olympic team and now wrestling instructor at Harvard will be one of the many attractions at the Y. M. C. A. exhibition on Thursday evening. Together with one of his best pupils he will illustrate the various holds and methods of wrestling and give an exhibition bout on the mat. The many friends and admirers of Mr. Anderson who formerly lived in Quincy will be glad of this opportunity to see his work.

Faithful practice has been put in and the exhibition on Thursday promises to be the best ever presented at the local gym.

WILLOW TENNIS CLUB.

A meeting was held Monday evening at the home of Leon D. Browne, Elm avenue to organize the Willow Tennis club. Lucien H. Thayer was elected president and J. H. Hooper secretary and treasurer. It is proposed to improve the court now in existence on Willow street and the following season will probably see many interesting games in progress. Among the other members are: Leon D. Browne, Everett Rhodes, Charles Sayward, Warren Baker, H. D'arcy Curwen, Gordon Jameson and Kenneth Smith.

CAN ASSESS TAXPAYERS.

The Legislature has passed the bill authorizing cities and towns to put dust preventatives on streets and assess half the cost of the same upon abuttors similar to the law relative to watering the streets.

Gov. Draper has approved the law which takes effect immediately. This means that in Quincy many of the streets usually watered during the summer months will this year be treated with the dust preventative preparation.

ACCEPTS CALL TO LOCAL CHURCH

Rev. James Matherson of Delarco, N. J., who was extended a call to become the pastor of the Water Street Presbyterian church has accepted the call and will assume his new charge Sunday, April 25.

HOW TO SERVE A LUNCHEON

Mrs. Hill Gives Sixth Cooking Lecture at Wollaston.

The sixth of Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill's demonstration lectures on cooking under the auspices of the Wollaston Kindergarten, was given Monday afternoon in Brasee hall, Wollaston, and well attended, over 160 ladies being present to see "How to serve a luncheon." Mrs. Hill began her lecture by saying, "I believe in more formality when serving meals than most people observe, and especially for children. They learn by example rather than precept. The current events of the day should be talked about in an intelligent manner. Everybody should be cheerful—it aids digestion." She believed in entertaining cultured and refined people. So that when children go forth in the world they seek the best.

A luncheon was essentially a ladies' meal and a nice way to pay a social debt.

Orange Shells were prepared daisy fashion, and filled with the pulp and strawberries. Chicken and Tomato Boullion, Mrs. Hill not only made, but told in detail each step and how to clarify it, and make it as clear as wine.

Halibut Steaks, baked with oysters and served with Hollandaise sauce and boiled potato balls was garnished with parsley, it was a handsome dish, and during the preparation and baking Mrs. Hill gave many valuable hints.

Jellied Relish for Fish was something entirely new—made of onion, green peppers, finely chopped cabbage, vinegar, brown sugar, celery seed and geletine. Individual timbals moulds were lined with pimentos, and when served on a lettuce leaf, was a pretty and effective dish.

The next course was Creamed Sweet breads Patties, then followed lamb chops with pea puree. The salad was lettuce with a French dressing served with cheese balls and toasted English muffins. Next was served the ice followed by Cafe Noir which after a hearty meal is very beneficial. Mrs. Hill explained the difference between the English and Russian way of serving a meal. A silence cloth was first laid on the table, then the linen cloth, centre piece, flower decorations candelabra, place cards etc., the color scheme was pink. She told how far from the edge to place the service plates, knives, forks, spoons and napkins—30 inches was the proper space to allow for each cover.

The Lady Finger Rolls were tied with pink ribbons.

The table was laid with six covers, Mrs. Seavey hostess and her guests were Miss Johnson, Miss Parker, Mrs. Blaisdell, Mrs. Linscott and Mrs. Follett. With each course Mrs. Hill explained just how the waitress should serve it in the best approved manner. The number of ladies who have signified their intention of attending the extra lecture in Pastry, April 26th is very gratifying to the committee.

Mrs. Hill will then tell how to make plain pastry, prune filling for pie, lemon fanchonettes, meringue, strawberry tarts, chou passe, chocolate eclairs, English cream, chocolate frosting for eclairs, orange strips and orange curd.

CHILDREN GIVE CONCERT.

Pupils of Dorothea Dix Hall Please Large Audience.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments of the season was held in the parish house of Christ church, Monday evening when the professional stage children of the Dorothea Dix Hall of Boston gave one of their clever concerts.

The children are not unknown, in Quincy and they were given a hearty reception by an audience which taxed the house to its utmost capacity.

The program which was well selected opened with a selection by the chorus. This was followed by eleven numbers, including dances, recitations, solos and duets also a clever sketch entitled "Barney's courtship" or "The usual way."

The entertainment was held under the auspices of the Reapers circle and a neat little sum was realized.

TODAY'S COURT.

Carl Larson was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until April 30.

Harold Curtis was arraigned for larceny at Weymouth and was fined $15.

START ON LAST SPEED TRIAL

Scout Cruisers Leave Newport On Long Ocean Run.

According to a wireless message received at Newport late Monday night, from the U. S. scout cruisers, Chester, Salem and Birmingham, now making their final test before acceptance by the naval department, the first two vessels were racing away at 20 knots or better speed at the end of the 12th hour, but the Birmingham had headed for New York because of disabled machinery.

The race has evidently caused a big surprise, as the Chester had led almost from the first. At the end of eight hours she had a lead on the Salem of three miles. It is apparent that in the next four hours she more than doubled her lead, then having a margin of 7 3-4 miles, and still moving with ease away from the Salem.

The Salem had been heavily backed to beat the Birmingham, which was looked upon as the boat to beat to win the race, and the surprising work of the Chester has set the naval station on edge with excitement. The outcome of the last half of the race will be watched with keen interest here.

The cruisers started off Block Island Monday morning at 10.45, heading south for the first third of the run, after which the course was changed to the eastward. The wireless message last night from the Chester, the flagship of the squadron, said that the weather was fair, and that the vessels would probably turn back to retrace their course to the starting point shortly after midnight.

Up to the present time the Birmingham has burned less coal on the 10, 15 and 20-knot coal endurance tests, but the test tomorrow is for speed and it will be watched with interest ashore and afloat. No one can tell how much money has been covered, but there are large sums wagered, especially between the members of the crews of the Salem and the Chester.

The scouts started on their speed before the ships left Bradford, and later, the signal was hauled down from the senior ship, the Chester about 2 miles southeast of Block island, with all ships near each other, heading on a prescribed course.

NORFOLK SUPERIOR COURT.

The April term of the Norfolk superior criminal court at Dedham came in Wednesday morning before Judge Sherman. The list is exceptionally long, containing 219 cases.

The first case on trial, that of George F. Barber of Cambridge, charged with the larceny of a check perforator from Parker Bryant at Brookline Dec. 12, 1908, consumed but a short time, the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty. He is now serving a six months' sentence for larceny at Quincy.

Louis Illager of Quincy was tried on the charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance at Quincy for six months previous to March 8, 1909. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

At 3 o'clock Joseph de Nojivi of Quincy was put on trial on the charge of assault and battery on Marionina Taddio at Quincy, Feb. 6, 1909. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty without leaving their seats.

Antonio Carto of Quincy was charged with illegally keeping and exposing liquor for sale at Quincy for three months prior to Sept. 13, 1907. The case was on trial when the court adjourned.

SONS OF VETERANS.

The new Camp of Sons of Veterans will be installed Thursday night at 8 o'clock at G. A. R. hall. The committee want all members who are going to join the new Camp to be at the hall as early as possible that evening.

All male descendants, whether through the paternal or maternal line, not less than eighteen years of age, of soldiers, sailors or marines who were regularly mustered and served honorably in, or who were honorably discharged from, the army or navy of the United States during the war of 1861-65, and whose ancestors through whom membership is claimed have never voluntarily borne arms against the government of the United States of America are eligible.

Be careful of the man who compliments you; he is probably puffing you up with a view of cutting you open.

Oh, you think the house to talking a good deal about the tariff bill, do you? Just wait until you hear the Senate

In placing a high tariff on luxuries the Ways and Means Committee forget that to the ordinary woman all the luxuries of life are the merest necessities.

Crazy Snake is mentioned as the latest possibility as a theatrical star. The only sure way to tame some of these Indians is to turn them over to a stage manager.

Evidently, young Kermit Roosevelt is in for a lot of yellow notoriety during the next few months. There are sometimes sad things incident to being the son of your father in this world.

Chancellor Day has declined an invitation to join the National Optimists' Club. There must be a pessimist in that club somewhere, else how did the chancellor get the invitation?

A Long Island Chinaman disappeared with a lot of shirts and collars belonging to his customers. Long Island will doubtless pay serious attention the next time the yellow peril is discussed.

In spite of the great depression in business in 1908, the steel trust managed to pull out a profit of $91,847,710. If any better argument could be advanced for a lowering of tariff taxes, it has escaped notice.

The Indianapolis News calls for a "party that is brave and honest enough to fight the tariff on the ground of principle." And the Democratic party, fingering its pocketbook, has quite an embarrassing time pretending that it doesn't hear.

So "Uncle Joe" thinks Mr. Taft "the greatest President since Lincoln?" With all of us, the wish is father to some such similar thought, though many people will incline to watch these mental children grow before committing themselves unreservedly.

That baseball is the only original American outdoor game, is realized every year when the season opens, by the receipts from the first game. According to the reports this year there were 30,162 paid admissions at the game between Philadelphia and Boston, played in the former city while there were 15,000 paid admission at the game between New York and Washington.

Summer residents along the north shore will undoubtedly be delighted to learn that President Taft has decided to locate the summer capitol at Beverly. Not only because of the fact that the "first family" of the land, will eat, drink, sleep and breathe among them, but also because of the fact that summer property all around Beverly will be at premium, and good rents will be realized for this summer at least.

If the wireless message received at Newport Monday night from the U. S. scout cruisers Chester, Salem, and Birmingham is authentic, the two Quincy built boats are not making half the showing that the cruiser Chester is.

According to this message the Birmingham was headed for New York on account of disabled machinery, while the Salem was trailing 7 3-4 miles behind the Chester. Local naval men have been watching the various tests the cruisers have been put through with a great deal of interest, not only because two of the cruisers were built at the Fore River works, but because the Salem was equipped with the Curtis Marine turbine engine, which some engineers have claimed is equal to the best marine turbine engines made, in point of efficiency.

The poor showing made by the Salem will be a big disappointment to these men, and also to the builders of the cruiser.

WEYMOUTH

Mr. George Robert Davis a well known citizen died at his home on Washington street Monday morning. He had been ill for the past fifteen years but his death was very sudden and unexpected. He had not left his bed for seven years. The disease being hardening of the spine. He was a son of the late Robert Davis, and was born in this town July 24, 1835. He served through the civil war in Co. H. 12th Massachusetts regiment and was a charter member of Reynolds Post 58 G. A. R., and of Delphi lodge No. 15 Knights of Pythias. July 4, 1859 he married Miss Sophia Harrison of Braintree who died about a year ago. He is survived by a son George M. Davis and sister Mrs. Emily Thayer.

The funeral will be held at his late residence Washington street Thursday afternoon at two o'clock and will be in charge of the Grand Army and Knights of Pythias. Mr. Davis was in the meat business for many years and was well known in this and adjoining towns, having ran a butcher cart for years.

ATLANTIC MEMORIAL CHURCH.

Elaborate Services Held Easter Sunday.

The Rev. W. J. Heath commenced his pastorate at the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church on Easter Sunday, preaching a powerful and helpful sermon on the "Living Christ" taking his text from Second Corinthians the thirteenth chapter and the fourth verse, "For though He was crucified through weakness, yet He liveth by the power of God."

The people of Atlantic wish to welcome Rev. Mr. Heath to their midst, earnestly believing that his pastorate in Atlantic will be as successful as was his six years pastorate in Wollaston.

The Sunday school gave an Easter Concert at six-thirty Sunday evening. The work of the infant department was especially enjoyed by all. It is seldom that one sees a finer class of small children. The class is under the management of two extremely proficient teachers, Miss Julia Barber as head teacher and Miss Lillian Sutherburg as assistant. Parents having small children whom they have not placed in Sunday school as yet, would do well to place them under the instruction of these two young ladies.

The Male quartet of the church rendered "Just as I am" very effectively and the choir sang "Magdalene." The church was decorated with jounquils, ferns and Easter lilies.

The concert program was as follows.

The Oil Stove With a CABINET TOP

The New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove differs from all other oil stoves.—It has a CABINET TOP. This means you can keep dishes and utensils within easy reach while cooking, and can keep food hot after removing it from the blaze.

From its wonderful burners to its racks for holding towels the

NEW PERFECTION
Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

is without equal. Its principle of concentrated heat means that the work can be done quickly and without the kitchen being heated to an unbearable degree. Can be lighted instantly and turned "high," "low" or "medium" at will. Three sizes. With or without Cabinet Top. At your dealer's, or write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp comes as near lamp perfection as it's possible to get. Gives a clear, bright light that reaches the farthest corner of a good-sized living-room. Well made throughout of nickeled brass; perfectly safe and very ornamental. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

EXCEPT IN CASE OF LUXURIES

Senate Recommends General Reductions In Tariff

BILL IS REPORTED TO SENATE

Duties Substantially Increased In Liquor Schedules and Dingley High Rates Restored by Amendments—An Improvement on Payne Bill, From the "Popular" or Reductionist Point of View

Washington, April 13.—The amended tariff bill is now on the senate calendar, and by an agreement reached on the floor consideration of the measure will begin on Thursday.

As reported the bill does not contain all of the changes in rates which the finance committee proposes to make. Although several important amendments, such as the restoration of the Dingley rate on women's gloves and hosiery, the placing of works of art on the free list, and the assessment of a duty on iron ore have been made, the revenue producing possibilities of the bill are little changed.

The increases are provided mainly in the schedule covering luxuries, the entire liquor schedule being materially advanced. The increase on wines and spirits is expected to bring in about $3,000,000 additional revenue.

Senator Aldrich said that the committee realizes that the increases thus far recommended will not be sufficient to counterbalance the loss in revenues that will result from the reductions and the lengthening of the free list. This shortage will necessitate further increases on certain luxuries, and the committee intends to report some changes at an early date which it will ask the senate to adopt.

No maximum and minimum provisions or administrative features, which include additional forms of taxation, were reported in the bill. These sections of the measure are to receive the joint consideration of the Republican and Democratic members of the finance committee and may not be reported for three weeks or more. Several of the revenue features are dependent upon the action which the committee will take in regard to these sections. Besides the dutiable and free lists, the only additional provision of the Payne bill reported Monday was the Philippine free trade provision.

Changes were made in the cotton and wool schedules of interest largely to the manufacturers of cotton and woolen cloths. The action of the finance committee in maintaining the high rate of duty which it placed on tops at the time the Dingley bill was under consideration, and which now stands in the present law, will undoubtedly reopen the controversy on the wool schedules. The intent of the Dingley law regarding the assessment of duties on cotton cloth has been carried out by a change in the provision for the method to be used in counting the threads in cotton cloths. The new proviso and the rearrangement of the duties on the various grades of cloths removes the ambiguity which resulted in many difficulties in the provisions of the existing law being carried out without changing the ad valorem equivalent to the specific duties.

By restoring the Dingley rates on barley and barley malt and by reducing the taxation on the "breakfast table" by cutting down the duties on coffee substitutes and placing cocoa on the free list, the senate amendments to the Payne bill present a bid for popular favor. The numerous increases in the agricultural schedule, intended for the protection of the American farmer and provided for among the amendments largely through the efforts of Senator McCumber, a new member of the committee from the west, were framed with a view to gaining favorable criticism.

Sailed From Philadelphia to Portsmouth In Fifty-Six Hours

Portsmouth, N. H., April 13.—Seldom has the trip from Philadelphia to Portsmouth been covered in faster time than was made by the three-masted schooner Eagle Wing, which arrived here Monday.

But fifty-six hours elapsed from the time the schooner was dropped by a tug off Reedy Island until she reached the outer harbor here. Favoring winds and weather helped considerably.

Must Disregard Party Lines

Washington, April 13.—President Taft has instructed Director North of the census bureau to disregard party lines in securing suitable men for supervisors and other appointive places under the new census act. The instructions, it is said, have especial reference to the south.

Alleged Slayer of Mother

Erie, Pa., April 13.—Delmar J. Young was arrested on a warrant charging him with the murder of his mother, whose dead body was found in her cellar horribly mutilated and hidden beneath a pile of old carpets. He was committed to jail without bail for a hearing.

STOWAWAYS IN SHIP'S COAL PIT

Unearthed by Vigilant Immigrant Inspector at Boston

FOUR MEN ARMED WITH DIRKS

Desperate Looking Men Had Not Suffered For Want of Food and Wine During Their Trip From Italy—Over a Hundred Passengers on the Romanic to Be Examined as "Black Hand" Suspects

Boston, April 13.—An unusually rigid inspection was made of the second cabin and steerage passengers of the steamer Romanic when she made Boston from Naples, with the result that the government officials detained four stowaways and over 100 passengers, who will be examined as "Black Hand" suspects.

The discovery of the four desperate looking stowaways, concealed in the coal bunkers of the Romanic an hour after the big liner docked, stirred up considerable excitement aboard ship and along the wharves.

The four men, almost unrecognizable from coal dust, were put in irons and removed to the immigration station at Long wharf.

Three other stowaways, believed to be criminals for whom the police of Naples have been searching, were found aboard ship when the steamer was one day out from Gibraltar. They were transferred to the steamship Canopic of the same line, which happened to be passing, and which Captain David of the Romanic had requested by wireless to draw up alongside and convey the stowaways back to Naples, where they had embarked.

The four men who were brought to Boston yesterday had all been refused passage to this country by the American surgeon in charge of immigration at the port of Naples. They were found to be suffering from trachoma, a contagious disease of the eyes. When searched all four had treacherous looking dirks.

At the risk of his life Immigration Inspector Hartland had crawled into the unlighted coal bunkers after the men.

After a quarter of an hour's search, Hartland found one of the men, Michele Pecucci, 35, wrapped up in one of the ship's blankets, concealed near the top of one of the boilers. Michele tried to get away when he discovered that he had been caught, but before he could disentangle himself from the blanket Hartland was upon him, and by means of a few deft jiu-jitsu movements had the man pinned upon the coal, shouting to his mates for assistance.

Immigration Inspector Dolan, who had been making a search of the ship with Hartland, heard the cries and climbed in after Hartland, whom he helped to get Pecucci out of the bunkers.

After a brief search Hartland found three other men hiding behind the boiler tops on the opposite side of the ship.

Dr. Meriggo Serrati, one of the commissioners of immigration ships, learned from the men that their names were Carmelo Calasce, Guiseppe Terrolino, Jan Pietro Donato and Michele Pecucci. They told him that they had paid $60 to a man who put them aboard the ship and told them that they would be landed secretly in the United States. This is $20 more than the cost of passage in the steerage.

On searching the bunkers it was found that the men had been plentifully supplied with food and Italian wines, and there was every indication that they had been coached as to what to do in case they were obliged to mingle with the other immigrants.

HEIR TO DUTCH THRONE

Queen's Subjects Beginning to Worrk Over Anticipated Event

The Hague, April 13.—The expected birth of an heir to the throne of Holland has given rise to anxiety on the part of the whole population, and in some quarters alarm is felt owing to pessimistic rumors concerning the queen's health.

It is officially announced at the palace, however, that Queen Wilhelmina is in good health and good spirits and that her attending physicians are well satisfied with conditions.

Weston Loses His Way

Bryan, O., April 13.—Edward P. Weston made the record day's walk of his present trip from New York to San Francisco, covering seventy-one miles on Monday. The distance from Toledo to here is but 56 miles, but Weston lost his way and had an extra walk of fifeten miles. Weston is in good condition.

Rumor of Crazy Snake's Death

Muskogee, Okla., April 13.—There is a rumor here that Crazy Snake, chief of the Creek Indians, who has been sought by the state militia for the past two weeks, is dead, but it cannot be verified.

Plague Aboard Steamers

Antwerp, April 13.—Three cases of bubonic plague were discovered on the British steamer Rubens, which arrived here from San Nicolas, Argentine Republic. The steamer has been quarantined.

AMATEUR BOXING BOUTS

Close Fight Between Heavyweights In the Boston Tryouts

Boston, April 13.—M. J. Carroll of New York, the national amateur champion, defeated K. Rodman of Nashua, N. H., in the 115-pound class of the trial boxing bouts of the annual national amateur championships, held here last night. The semi-final and finals will be held tonight.

The closest fight was between Phil Schlossberg of the U. S. S. New Jersey and Andrew Morris of Boston in the heavyweight class. Schlossberg received the decision after four rounds of hard fighting.

There were no bouts held in the 125 and 135 pound classes.

One of the most interesting bouts was in the 135-pound class, in which a Chinese boxer, Frank Ah Chung of Salem, was defeated by J. Morris of Boston in three rounds. Ah Chung is a star basketball player and a member of the Y. M. C. A. team of Salem.

FUNERAL OF PETROSINO

New York Pays Tribute to Memory of the Dead Detective

New York, April 13.—All New York manifested its grief and respect Monday for the memory of Lieutenant Joseph Petrosino of the New York police department, who was assassinated while engaged in secret service in Italy.

East Siders, scores of thousands in number, lined the streets in that section of the city as the funeral cortege left St. Patrick's Cathedral after the services, while the passage of the procession on the way to the cemetery was the occasion for a tremendous outpouring of citizens.

At the grave, the widow of Petrosino gave way to her grief, falling upon the coffin and weeping aloud. Finally, as the coffin was lowered, she became hysterical and would have thrown herself into the grave had not restraining hands held her back.

RAILWAY EMPLOYES' SOCIAL INTERESTS

Promoted In Substantial Manner by Receiver Whiteridge

New York, April 13.—Receiver Whiteridge of the Third Avenue Railroad company gave a reception to the 3000 motormen and conductors employed by the company.

To assist in making the affair a success, he called upon Mrs. Whitridge and his daughters, and they in turn enlisted the aid of a number of prominent society women, who acted as the road's hostess. The affair was a complete success.

The reception idea is part of a campaign to promote the social interests of the employes which Whiteridge has been pursuing since he was named as receiver. Some time ago he formed a mutual benefit association, which now has 2400 members. For the association he provided attractive quarters with a library, pool tables and a plentiful supply of newspapers and magazines.

CUSTOMS BROKER ARRESTED

Charged With Defrauding Government of More Than $5000

Boston, April 13.—Charged with defrauding the federal government of import duties said to amount to over $5000, John J. Purtell, of the firm of J. J. Purtell & Co., custom house brokers, was arrested and taken before Commissioner Hayes. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $3000 bonds for a hearing on April 26.

It is alleged that Purtell, by means of false certificates of entries at the custom house, collected the full amounts of duties from the consignees on numerous imports during the past two or three years, but turned over only a portion to the government.

MANGLED AS HE FELL

Structural Worker Killed In Sight of Hundreds of Persons

Philadelphia, April 13.—Striking girder after girder of a big department store in course of construction in the central part of the city, William Roan, a structural iron worker, met his death in sight of hundreds of horror-stricken shoppers and business men.

Roan, who was 36 years of age, was about to swing a bean into place when he missed his footing and fell six stories. His body was much mangled.

Sparks Start Meadow Fires

Brookfield, Mass., April 13.—Sparks from a passing locomotive started a grass fire in a meadow which resulted in the burning of three barns and a dwelling house in this village. The loss is nearly $10,000. Grass fires in the meadows in four places between Brookfield and Spencer on Monday are said to have been started by one locomotive.

A Desperate Drunkard

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 13.—Lewis Truhn, a farmer, after drinking heavily, dynamited a building, attempted to stab his father-in-law and four other members of his family, barricaded himself in his home and defied the posse from which he had escaped. After several hours Sheriff Johnson captured him and took him to jail.

CITY BRIEFS.

The Manet Social club holds its first annual dance tonight in A. O. H. hall, Franklin street.

The officers of Quincy lodge of Elks will be installed tonight by D. D. G. E. R. Charles Kelly and suite of Boston.

The Knights of Malta will hold a whist party and dance tonight at Electa hall. A good time is assured.

Edward J. Murphy, who recently purchased the Russell house on Russell park will occupy the house this month.

Now that the Lenten season is over, the social season will be in full swing again. A number of social events are scheduled for the immediate future.

E. Mark Sullivan, ass't U. S. district attorney, of Boston, will address the Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, Thursday evening after the regular meeting.

Mrs. George A. Bolster entertained the Country club Monday evening at her home 22 Verchild street. The club is soon to have a dinner followed by a theatre party in Boston.

Today is the last day for filing applications for Civil war examinations for the police, fire and clerical service which will be held April 21 at City Hall.

Officer Larkin rendered valuable assistance to the Milton police in running down the man who it is alleged made a murderous assault on a store keeper at East Milton Saturday night.

Miss Marcia K. Wilder of Squantum street, entertained friends from Brookline, Allston, Malden and Wollaston at a Dutch supper, Monday evening. Miss Wilder's good times are becoming very popular and her clam bakes during the summer are always looked forward to.

Commissioner Bainbridge has a gang of men at work putting dust preventative on the streets. The present work is in the nature of an experiment and is only being done on Hancock street between Neponset bridge and School street.

The South Quincy Juniors, Percy Schwartz captain are to have new base ball suits and are already on the diamond for practice. The boys are Leo Catler, Percy Lubarsky, Harry Tolpin, Percy Schwartz, Morris Asnes, Edward Berman, Harry Sherad and John Catler. Mascot, Harry Lubarsky.

L. Spooner, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. L. E. Cashman, Mack Johnston, A. D. Sylvester, George Crane, Mrs. Kearnes. The series souvenirs for highest score for five parties was awarded Mrs. C. P. Gould and James Morrison.

ATLANTIC

Mrs. Mary L. Wade of Atlantic was a week-end guest of Mrs. O. E. Upham of Keene, N. H. On Saturday she gave a demonstration decture before the Fortnightly club of Keene.

Mr. George Schiller, who has been at the Majectic theatre in "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway" for the last three weeks and who stopped with his aunt, Mrs. Wall on Hunt street, left for an engagement in New York. Mr. Schiller expects to return to Squantum where he has a summer home as soon as the theatre season is over.

Miss May Young of Prospect street spent last week in Springfield and Holyoke. This week Miss Young will spend in New York city visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Helen Grant Holbrook of Belleview Park is acting principal at the Weston School for Girls on St. James street, Roxbury, during the absence of the principal.

Mr. C. H. Reviere of Sagamore street and his son Charles M. of Newbury avenue were called to Boston Sunday morning to identify the body of a man who was killed in Haymarket square last Saturday morning by being run over by a heavy coal team. Mr. Reviere and his son saw the notice in the paper and the description came very close to that of Thomas Moore of Milton, a brother of Mrs. Charles M. Reviere, who left his home in Milton last Wednesday morning to go to work and has not been seen since. Mr. Reviere and his son could not identify the body.

Mr. David Moffat is reported on the sick list.

—A young man was noticed Sunday in Quincy square wearing a straw hat, perhaps the first one of the season. There is some speculation as as to why this fellow donned the straw sky-piece so early in the season and it was remarked that "perhaps it was all he had," or "he's crazy" or "he must be advertising agent for some hat store." Anyway the incident caused quite a laugh.

Woman.

Woman, the gentlest of all creatures is apt to become masterful and even tyrannical, this because she is a creature in whose composition emotion dominates, and emotion when highly stimulated becomes passion, and passion spurns all reasonable limitation and becomes tyrannical. Besides, there are women with more than ordinary firm will and persistent purpose. These when winged by the passion which is natural to the sex become intolerant, masterful and more tyrannical than men. Qualification to the intense action of the impassioned soul is treachery, and contradiction is treason. Like a stormy wind, they will have their sweep and ignore all contraries. And from this predominance of the emotional element it seems plain that, though woman may try many things and succeed in most, she is, with her normal outfit, materially incapacitated from being a statesman or a judge.—Daybook of John Stuart Blackie.

The State and the Individual.

The state may make it easy for a man to acquire a small holding, but it cannot give the man the energy, the industry, which are necessary if the boon is to be an abiding blessing to him. The state may help men over bad times, but it cannot give men the moral character which enables those who possess it by their energy, determination, industry, to place themselves beyond the reach of temporary disaster.—London Strand Magazine.

—The inventor who claims to have perfected a fishing rod that automatically measures and weighs each fish caught has apparently made a great invention but there isn't a market for it.

Are You Wretched in Bad Weather?

Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Quincy People Well.

Many Quincy people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back, or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it "settles on the kidneys," and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness, which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural Doan's Kidney Pills has saved Quincy people much suffering.

W. Charlesworth, living at 33 Cranch street, Quincy, Mass., says: "About five years ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble. I had pains in my back which were at times more severe than at others and colds or damp weather aggravated my suffering. I knew my kidneys were at fault and used everything I could think of in an effort to obtain relief, but to no avail. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, I finally decided to give this remedy a trial and procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. Before I had used the contents of two boxes, the backache was a thing of the past and I felt better in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement."

—We examine in our dark-room with modern instruments. If we find disease we send you to a reliable oculist. - Williams 1743 Hancock street.

STATE POLICE CALLED UPON

Will Conduct Investigation of the Fatal Fire at Lenox

DOORWAY IN CLIFFORD BLOCK

It Opened Inward and Three Women Lost Their Lives While Vainly Trying to Open It—Explosion of Barrel of Turpentine Probably Caused Wreck of Building—Bodies of Two Victims Still In Smoking Ruins

Lenox, Mass., April 13.—A full investigation has begun under the direction of the state police of the fire which cost six human lives, rendered ten families homeless and destitute, and swept away property worth about $250,000 in the business centre of the town on Sunday.

Chairman Ferguson of the board of selectmen talked over the telephone with Chief Whitney of the state police in Boston and as a result Thomas E. Bleigh, a state policeman, arrived here last night. Bleigh will conduct a thorough inquiry into the cause of the fire and the death of the victims. He will be assisted by Mr. Pope of North Adams, inspector of buildings for this district, and evidence will be taken in regard to the fatal doorway in the Clifford block, where the explosion occurred. This doorway, which communicated with the apartments upstairs, opened inward and formed a veritable trap, behind which three women who tried vainly to open it lost their lives.

The cause of the explosion which wrecked the building is still believed to be a barrel of turpentine which was in the basement. The firm of James Clifford's Sons, owners of the hardware store, which occupied the first floor and the basement, say that the dynamite in their possession was stored beyond the area occupied by tenants, that is, that it was in an annex, outside of the building proper. They say that probably not more than ten or twelve pounds of dynamite was in the structure. In the store was forty pounds of black powder and also some percussion caps used in exploding dynamite.

A committee to solicit funds for the homeless and destitute has been appointed by the authorities.

The bodies of two of the six victims of the fire, Miss Isabel Cook and Miss Mary F. Sparks, still remain in the smoking debris of the Clifford building.

A committee was appointed at a meeting of the fire district to consider the matter of better fire protection for Lenox. A petition for the abolishment of the Lenox fire district and the organization of a new district to include the whole of the town of Lenox was introduced in the house of representatives in Boston by Representative Titus of Tyringham.

KAUFMAN VS. ROSS

Pair of Heavyweights Expected to Put Up a Good Fight

New York, April 13.—The sports will have an opportunity tonight of seeing in action two good heavyweight scrappers. They are Al Kaufman of California and Tony Ross of Pittsburg, who are scheduled to go ten rounds before one of the local sporting clubs.

Kaufman has championship ideas and is credited with a desire to fight Jack Johnson in spite of Jeffries' statement that Kaufman "couldn't lick a postage stamp." Ross recently beat Jim Barry and has shown much improvement during the past year.

Fell a Hundred and Ten Feet

New York, April 13.—John McShane, a structural iron worker, was killed by falling from the unfinished structure of the Manhattan bridge over the East river. The coupling on a compressed air pipe burst directly beneath him and blew him off the structure. He landed 110 feet below in the back yard of a house.

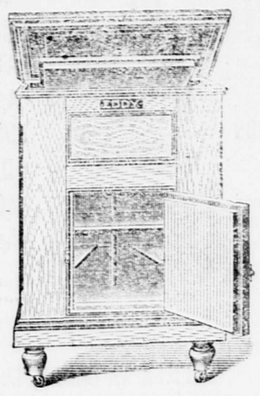

A Question of Sobriety

Washington, April 13.—Senator Johnson of North Dakota called at the White House and urged President Taft to indicate in some way that promotion to higher grades in both branches of the military service shall in the future depend upon the sobriety of the officers.

Cricket Fighting.

Cricket fighting, a national sport in the Celestial Kingdom, is odd to see. Crickets are trained. They are exercised and dieted, and daily, before a match, smaller, weaker crickets are opposed to them that they may work out for themselves good fighting systems. In matches the betting is very high. The Chinese, who are tremendous gamblers, often lose fortunes over crickets, as American millionaires lose fortunes over race horses. A good cricket fight will last half an hour. The opposing crickets, each in a tube like a box stall, are dropped into a ring with a wall around it about six inches high. A combatant to win must throw his rival over this wall clean out of the ring. Tiny bells are rung by the seconds. These bells have a peculiar timbre and excite the crickets to a very frenzy of fighting. A cricket with a good record will sell for $5 or $10, while champions often fetch $50.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Eddy Refrigerators $6.50 to $35

With the price of ice soaring high as the clouds, it is necessary to consider economy in ice consumption, when purchasing a refrigerator. Eddy Refrigerators consume less ice than any other refrigerator. We have the figures to prove this assertion. 55 years of continuous success in refrigerator manufacturing counts for something. Eddy's are the very best, that's why we sell them. Factory Prices to eveyone. A catalogue and price list for the asking.

THE SUCCESS OF THE KICKAPOO BIGGEST POSSIBLE

For the past week more people have called on the representative of the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company at Ed. J. Murphy's Drug Store than he could take care of. Hundreds have come to inquire about the Kickapoo Remedies and to get a trial bottle of Sagwa, the Kickapoo Indian Medicine made from roots, herbs, barks, berries, leaves and gums—Nature's remedies for diseases of the stomach and liver. Derangements of these organs cause most of the diseases which people suffer, such as biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, rheumatism, irregular action of the heart, jaundice, malaria, loss of appetite, and that half-sick-well feeling. We believe that chronic ill-health is caused principally by stomach and liver disorders. We believe that very few people can be sick if their digestion is in good order. We know that Sagwa will put the stomach and liver in good condition in four to six weeks. That is why it sells so wonderfully all over the world.

Mrs. F. C. Cushman of 26 Atlantic Ave., Portland, Maine, makes the following statement about Kickapoo Sagwa:

"In the interest of suffering women, I want to tell of the benefits derived by me from the use of Kickapoo Sagwa. Some eight years ago I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. I tried many doctors, but they failed to cure me, or even give me temporary relief— some of the doctors pronounced the disease consumption of the bowels, others failed to diagnose the trouble. In addition to the stomach and bowel trouble, menstruation became irregular and very painful. I had given up all hopes of being cured, but at the urgent solicitation of others, I decided to try a full course of Kickapoo Sagwa, and after taking six bottles I fully recovered my health, and I would gladly have you refer anyone suffering with stomach trouble to me, and, further— should you desire to publish this statement, I herewith give you my consent and authority to do so."

The other Kickapoo Remedies are also of the highest possible quality, efficiency and reliability. They are Kickapoo Oil, for aches and pains; Kickapoo Worm Killer, for children's diseases; Kickapoo Healing Salve; Kickapoo Cough Cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, etc., and Kickapoo Pills, the finest laxative and cathartic known.

Edward J. Murphy, our representative will explain Kickapoo Remedies and give free trial bottles of Sagwa to all who call at the Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. daily. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

A JEFFERSON BANQUET

Democratic Lights Will Shine at Celebration In New York

New York, April 13.—Most of the Democratic leaders of New York city and state, with distinguished guests of the same political faith from other sections of the country, will assemble tonight to do honor to the memory of Thomas Jefferson.

Today is the 166th anniversary of the birth of the author of the Declaration of Independence. The anniversary is celebrated each year by the Democratic club of this city with a banquet at which addresses expounding Democratic doctrines are delivered.

Tonight's speakers in the Hotel Savoy will be Governor Harmon, who will talk on "The Rights of States;" Governor Marshall of Indiana, whose topic will be "Remove Not the Ancient Landmarks," and State Senator Thomas F. Grady on "Thomas Jefferson." It was announced some time ago that Champ Clark, leader of the Democrats in the house of representatives, would speak on "The Issues of the Day," but Mr. Clark later declared that he would be unable to attend the banquet.

Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall, will act as chairman of the reception committee. More than 450 diners will sit down at the banquet.

REGRET IS EXPRESSED

Two Chinamen Were Wrongfully Arrested In Pittsburg

Washington, April 13.—Through the governor of Pennsylvania, the state department has received from the mayor of Pittsburg an expression of regret over the arrest of two Chinamen on the charge of selling Chinese bonds without license. This expression will be sent to Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister here, and the incident will be regarded as closed.

The letters received through the governor make no mention of the published assertions that eight Chinamen in Pittsburg say they received letters from Wu urging them not to testify against their countrymen. Wu has categorically denied having addressed any letters of the character indicated.

DEACON SUCCUMBS TO BULLET WOUND

Sequel to Row In Providence Negro Baptist Church

Providence, April 13.—A bullet fired into his head during a church row caused the death last night of Nelson Morgan, senior deacon of the Olney Street Negro Baptist church.

The shooting on March 16 was the culmination of a long-continued hostility between rival factions of the church. Morgan had gone into the church to prepare against an invasion by the minister and opposing faction.

Sexton Robert Russell, a member of the faction supporting the minister, tried to get into the church, but could not. After arming himself, Russell returned to the church and ordered the door opened.

The order was partly complied with and a scuffle followed, in which two shots were fired by Russell, one of which took effect in Morgan's head, over the left eye.

ZELAYA MAY BE OUSTED

Movement Against President of Nicaragua Said to Be on Foot

Washington, April 13.—An unofficial dispatch received in this city connects the name of Jose Madriz with an alleged movement to dislodge President Zelaya from his position as head of the Nicaraguan republic. Madriz was a rival of Zelaya, but was expelled about ten years ago.

Well defined rumors continue to be received in Washington of the activity of Zelaya in military matters with Salvador. The disturbing forces appear to be made up to a large extent of Salvadorean migradoes, acting under Nicaraguan auspices.

LAYMEN IN CONTROL

Will Guide Affairs of College Hitherto Conducted by Jesuits

St. Louis, April 13.—Control of St. Louis university, which for ninety years has reposed in the Jesuit order, was transferred last night to an advisory board of laymen, many of whom are not Catholics.

This change in the policy of the university, which has 1900 students, is the first move of its nature in the history of Jesuit educational institutions in the United States.

QUINCY ELKS INSTALLATION

William J. Coleman Now Exalted Ruler.

The meeting of Quincy lodge of Elks Tuesday evening was one of the largest in its history. The business of the evening was the installation of the newly elected officers.

The installing officer was D. D. G. E. R. Charles Kelly of Boston who was assisted by the following suite:

Grand Loyal Knight—C. F. McLaughlin.

Grand Lecturing Knight—C. P. Hurley.

Grand Leading Knight—Fred P. Joyce.

Grand Esquire—James H. Walsh.

Grand Chaplain—John P. Quibley.

Grand Inner Guard—Charles H. Johnson.

Grand Tyler—R. P. Williams.

Grand Trustees—Charles H. Hanley, John H. Fallon.

The work of the installing officers was especially fine and they were given an ovation.

The complete list of elective and appointive officers installed were as follows:

Exalted Ruler—William J. Coleman.

Esteemed Leading Knight—Elmer L. Paine.

Esteemed Loyal Knight—R. J. Williams, Jr.

Esteemed Lecturing Knight—Leo J. McMaster.

Secretary—E. W. Courtney.

Treasurer—Benjamin Johnson.

Tyler—Edward Desmond.

Trustee for three years—William T. Shea.

Chaplain—John D. Smith.

Esquire—Joseph A. Monahan.

Inside Guard—Emery Green.

Organist—Clarence Fouche.

Representative to the Grand Lodge—William R. Thomas.

Alternate—Daniel J. Deasy.

At the conclusion of the installation there were brief remarks by several of the grand officers.

An adjournment was then made to the Elks club where a banquet was served, the menu including escalloped oysters, chicken, salmon and potato salads, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee.

After the banquet a fine musical program was given.

FUNERAL OF CAPT. HASKELL.

The funeral of Capt. Edward H. Haskell, who died in Boston Saturday, was held Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Bradford Hayden on Spear street and was very largely attended.

The services were conducted by Rev. Charles B. Ames and the burial was at Mt. Wollaston. There were many beautiful flowers.

—We examine in our dark-room with modern instruments. If we find disease we send you to a reliable oculist. Williams 1743 Hancock street.

CLOSING PARTY.

Wollaston Class of Miss Corlew At Cochato Hall.

Miss Elizabeth J. Corlew closed her Wollaston dancing class with the customary party, which was held Tuesday evening in Cochato hall, Braintree.

The hall was very tastefully decorated with red and green, and a cosy corner provided for the matrons.

As the children marched in, led by Miss Ruth Jones and Master Westley Browne, they were received by the matrons, who were Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague, Mrs. John H. Johnson and Mrs. Clifton Jones.

Miss Corlew looked charming in a dainty white dress over lavender. Her pupils presented her with a handsome leather wrist-bag and the pianist, Miss Fearsall, with violets.

Besides the usual dances, there were two very pretty favor Germans, in one of which the girls received a basket of flowers and the boys a cane and daffodil.

The hall was filled with relatives and friends of the children, whose privilege it was to witness one of the prettiest closing parties ever given by Miss Corlew.

At about half past nine, the dancing stopped and ice cream, cake and bonbons were served.

Those who love clean amateur sport and are interested in the young men of Quincy, should visit the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night, when there will be an exhibition by the older boys and senior members of the gym. The local boys will be assisted by talent secured from the Salem Y. M. C. A. and from Harvard university. A feature of the evening will be the appearance of Carl Anderson, one of the team of wrestlers who represented in the Olympic games last summer.

LARGE PUBLIC BEQUESTS MADE

Many Societies Remembered In Wills.

The will of Miss Nancy Harding Fosdick, late of Brookline, who died March 16, was admitted to probate at Quincy this morning. The will makes the following public bequests.

Old Ladies' Home Charlestown, known as the Winchester home, $3,000; Children's Home, Charlestown, known as the Hunt Home, $3,000; Cullis Consumptive Home, $3,000; Old Couples' Home, Roxbury, $3,000; Perkins Institute for the Blind, $5,000; Kindergarten for the blind, $5,000; Salvation Army Fresh Air Fund, $3,000; Floating Hospital, $3,000; Boston Despensary, $5,000; American Unitarian Association, $3,000; Unitarian church, Brookline, $4,000.

The executors of the will are Charles H. Watson of Brookline and Henry W. Rugg of Boston, who give bonds of $100,000 each.

The will of Mrs. Rebecca J. Bell, who died at Weymouth, March 18, and which was also admitted to probate this morning, after making some personal bequests, leaves the residue of her estate to the Methodist Episcopal church of Weymouth, the income to be used for church purposes as the board of church directors may deem best. The executor is John W. Bates. The residue of the estate will amount to about $1,200.

CAROLINA HUIDOBRO.

Quincy friends of Miss Carolina Huidobro were shocked on Tuesday to learn of her death in her apartments at Hotel Clarendon, New York. Miss Huidobro had lectured in Quincy several times and was personally known to many here. Her lecture "Christ of the Andes" was one of the best ever given in our city.

She was the daughter of Mrs. Marion Holman of Boston, widow of a United States consular agent who was in Valparaiso, Chili, when Miss Holman was born. She chose the name Huidobro as a baptismal name and went to Boston to complete her education when 17 years old. When her education was completed she returned to Valparaiso and stayed there until 15 years ago. She travelled extensively through South America and Panama, and is said to have explored regions in which no other Caucasian woman has ever set foot.

Before going to New York last autumn Senorita Huidobro had passed several years in Boston, and lectured on various subjects before women's clubs and other organizations. She was a member of the Professional Women's club and other clubs. She was greatly interested in the peace movement.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS WORK.

The finance committee of the Quincy Anti-Tuberculosis Association have made the following plans to secure membership and funds to help the unfortunate and protect all against the dread disease.

Sunday, April 18th, membership cards will be distributed in every church in Quincy with some authorized person to receive funds, and before that date we wish to supply every women's and men's club in the city with cards, so we may get immediate funds. If the president of every club will send the name of the club with date of meeting to the chairman of the committee W. H. Hull, 30 Park street, Wollaston, cards will be forwarded at once.

EMERY—NEWCOMB.

Miss Lucie Frances Newcomb of 39 Gay street, Quincy, and Walter Palmer Emery of Boston were united in marriage at 12 o'clock noon today. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D., of Bethany church performing the ceremony. It was a very quiet affair, only the immediate families of the bride and groom being present.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary M. Newcomb. She was graduated from the Faelten Piano Forte school, Boston, in the class of 1906. Since graduation she has continued her studies in music as a teacher of the piano and at the present time has a large class of pupils in Quincy and vicinity.

The groom is the son of Judge and Mrs. Alfred D. Emery of Auburn, N. H. He was graduated from Pinkerton academy, Derry, N. H., in the class of 1901 and from Dartmouth college in 1905. At Dartmouth he took an active part in athletics and was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

After graduating from Dartmouth, Mr. Emery entered the telephone business at Pittsburg, Pa., where he remained two years. In the fall of 1907 he returned to New England to accept a position in the traffic department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company at Boston and is with this company at the present time.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Emery will reside at 41 Gay street, Quincy, where they will be at home to their friends after June first.

Socialists Raise Objections to an Article Published In Outlook

Newark, N. J., April 14.—Secretary Killingbeck of the state committee of the Socialist party states that at a meeting of the state organization steps were taken to secure legal advice for the purpose of securing, if possible, legal action against the Outlook Publishing company of New York for an article regarding the Socialist movement and party by Theodore Roosevelt.

Killingbeck says that the objection is not to the political character of the article, but to reflections it contained upon members of the Socialist party.

A $200,000 Blaze

Hope Valley, R. I., April 14.—A loss estimated at $200,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed a large portion of the plant of the Nichols & Langworthy Machine company and a two-story dwelling house, besides damaging about half a dozen other dwellings. The fire started from an unknown cause in the gas engine shop.

SPECTACULAR FIRE AT SQUANTUM

Illumination From Burning Buildings Seen For Miles.

The burning of two old, unoccupied cottages and a barn at Gardner's woods, on the banks of the Neponset river off the Quincy Shore reservation, about 8.30 Tuesday evening, caused quite a little excitement in Quincy and surrounding towns. The blaze could be seen for many miles and it was thought at first that a serious conflagration was in progress at Atlantic.

Thinking that the city was burning up thousands of people flocked to the scene coming from all parts of Quincy, Neponset and Dorchester. The local newspaper men made a flying trip to the fire in C. H. Penniman's speedy taxicab(accompanied by Inspector Goodhue and "Jack" Starr. They went down in record time and the fire was at its height when they arrived.

The situation was taken in at once. Being old and unoccupied, far from a fire-alarm box and situated in a place very difficult to reach, the fire had a free sweep. Box 64 from which the alarm was sounded, is about a mile from the scene of the fire. By the time the firemen reached the place, the fire was beyond control and the buildings past saving. They were burned to the ground.

The flames, fanned by the high wind, spread to the surrounding cedar trees and grass and for a time the whole place was ablaze.

At 9.15 the fire was beyond danger having burned itself out, right down to the water's edge.

The buildings are owned by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company and in the summer were occupied by summer cottagers. The exact loss is unknown, but it will not be heavy. It is thought that the fire was set by boys, as grass fires have been started in that vicinity several times in the last few weeks.

A Startling Discovery

Des Moines, April 14.—An investigation conducted by the Des Moines Tubercular association resulted in the discovery that six out of every ten children examined are infected with tuberculosis. Most of the cases are incipient, but in many the disease has progressed to a dangerous degree.

A large number of tariff speeches have been delivered in the House of Representatives lately that nobody in particular paid any attention to.

A German scientist says whale's milk is the ideal human food. And it would be so very easy to keep a pet whale or so about the house, you know.

A few more swats in respect of New England's domination of the Senate and Mr. Stephen B. Elkins may come to be known as the opposition's great southpaw.

Mr. Roosevelt will not raise a beard in Africa, it is said. He knows full well that he could never wrest the American whiskerine championship from Col. James Ham Lewis, anyway.

Now that Mr. Corbett has announced his burning desire to fight the winner of the Jeffries-Johnson go, if it ever happens, it only remains for Mr. John Lawrence Sullivan to issue his challenge, and much of the preliminary trash will have been swept aside.

The Lowell Courier-Citizen notes that many towns in Massachusetts show evidence of the generosity of former residents who, having made fortunes in other places, have remembered the site of the old homestead in some substantial way. It is a very happy surprise for a town to have a former dweller send a huge present to it, and it enables the inhabitants who have been left behind to become reconciled in a measure to the fact that their former friend has outstripped them in the race for this world's goods. As time passes and the years roll on the majority of people who have long been absent from the old home begin to feel a longing for the old scenes and old friends, and later on sentiment sometimes takes the form of a present to the town where the prosperous one started in life. The big fellows seldom care to go back to the little old towns for any length of time, but they are ready to remember them with gifts. It is, perhaps, a form of thankoffering to kindly fate that has saved the prosperous one from the necessity of spending all his life in the little and more or less desolate spot from which nearly all the people of health and real ability move early in life.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The American custom of building expensive houses of wood, when the owners could afford to use stone, bricks and iron, ought to be set aside, and structures that can withstand fire substituted for wood construction. Every large city and town has suffered from the wooden building custom, and they will continue to suffer until lumber becomes as scarce as it is in foreign countries, when we shall be driven to build with fire resisting material. It requires several centuries from the forest dwelling period before a people will realize that safety dwells in solid structures, rather than in houses built of lumber. The plan that used to prevail in factory towns of building blocks of wooden tenements was proven unwise, recently in Manchester, N. H., as it has been before in other localities where employees were to be provided for by the corporation. Manchester learned the lesson at a heavy price, and how the mill owners will profit by it remains to be seen. In countries where earthquakes are common, the people learned the lesson generations ago, and the people of th present day should not wait for disaster to drive them to the use of material that will resist the trembling of the earth's crust and prevent the spread of fire. The use of concrete is coming into popular favor, and thus a new material is added to the list of the non-destructive list. No public building of any size should be constructed of wood, and we hope to see the time when all structures owned by the city, large or small, shall be built of indestructable material.—Lynn Item.

They are agitating for a police automobile down in Quincy. The splendid work of the Milton police machine in traveling nearly 100 miles with four police officers from Milton, Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, and rounding up the man and woman now held in connection with the murderous assault upon the East Milton storekeeper, has proved an object lesson. I hear that the chiefs of police in a dozen country towns, where there is much territory to cover from one central station, are now putting in their bids for automobiles for department purposes. And in this connection the automobile is being touted for fire purposes in the districts. For instance in Quincy, to answer some boxes the horses dragging the heavy apparatus must gallop more than four miles, taking more than twice as long to arrive as would an automobile, to say nothing of the injury to the animals. Fire underwriters say that in many of these cases an automobile would pay for itself in running to one fire.—Boston Post.

and you'll save yourself a lot of suffering and trouble. If you have a sudden chill—or taken cold—if you have colic, cramp or diarrhoea, don't wait a minute. Take at once a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in half a glass of hot water or milk. You'll be safe and on the right road to quick recovery. Then you'll escape serious illness. SPEED TEST OF WAR SCOUTS

It Results In a Decisive Victory For the Chester

STEAMS 601 NAUTICAL MILES

Salem Comes Next With 589 Miles In Twenty-Four-Hour Run—Both Fitted With Turbines, While Birmingham, With Reciprocating Type of Engine, Is Forced to Drop Out Because of Accident

New York, April 14.—The scout cruiser squadron, consisting of the Chester, Salem and Birmingham, are anchored off Tompkinsville, S. I., the two former ships having completed a twenty-four full-speed test in which the Chester came out the victor.

The Birmingham was forced to drop out of the race because of a derangement of machinery. The accident was a blow to the adherents of the reciprocating styles of engine with which this vessel was fitted, while the fact that the Chester and Salem completed the race is looked upon as a signal victory for the advocates of turbines which drive these cruisers.

The Salem, it is stated, also had trouble with her engines, but it was not of a sufficiently serious nature to compel her to abandon the race.

From an unofficial source it was learned that a steam pipe aboard the Birmingham, leading from the boilers to the forward engine, blew out late Monday and five cylinders were damaged. It was also evident that the trouble extended to the forward battery of boilers, for almost as soon as the cruiser anchored her crew started to work unshipping the forward smokestack, which was discolored from burns.

Captain Howard said the trouble, briefly, was that the forward engine was badly damaged. He made port under one engine. He said that he could have kept at sea for an indefinite time had it been necessary and that the cruiser was at all times serviceable.

The Chester, it is ascertained, steamed 601.92 nautical miles in the twenty-four hours, while the Salem covered 589.12.

It was a profitable race for the crew of the Chester. The jackies made up a purse of $1000, which was covered by the Salem crew, while the engine force of the Chester won $1600.

The three cruisers will stay here until April 21, when they will sail for Liberia with the members of the commission that is to investigate conditions there, each carrying one commissioner.

SAYS DOCTOR RUINED HER

Sarah Koten on Trial For Taking the Life of Auspit

New York, April 14.—Sarah Koten, the young Russian nurse who last June shot and killed Dr. Martin Auspitz in the doorway of a Harlem apartment house, to which she had lured him by a false telephone message, was placed on trial in the criminal branch of the supreme court today.

The young woman declares that the physician, by whom she had been employed, ruined her and that she shot him in a fit of despair over her condition. Her child, born since the shooting, figures prominently in the case. She asserts that Dr. Auspit was the father of the child. She has been in the hospital on Blackwell's Island since the birth of the baby.

Kaufman Scores a Victory Over Ross In Ten-Round Bout

New York, April 14.—Al Kaufman, who has aspirations to the heavyweight fistic championship honors, met and defeated by points Tony Ross in a ten-round bout here last night.

Jack Johnson, the world's champion heavyweight pugilist, was at the ringside and simply laughed at the efforts of the men, apparently feeling self-satisfied that no danger threatened his title from this most earnest seeker for a bout for the championship.

Kaufman, according to experts at the ringside, did not show that he is in the class of the big negro.

The White Man Should Be As Healthy And Strong As The Indian

The sale of Kickapoo Remedies at Edward J. Murphy's is growing steadily larger, the people are being convinced that we are correct in our theory that stomach and liver trouble are responsible for most of the ill-health prevalent.

In earlier days when the people were closer to nature and men and women worked all day out of doors, digging their existence from the soil, the tired, droopy, half-sick people that are now so common did not exist, there was none of this half-sick-all-of-the-time condition, with which so many are afflicted.

The Indians in their natural state did not have chronic debility, or nervous exhaustion. They were not shut up all day with no out-door exercise. They did not overload their stomachs with food when their bodies did not have enough work, to justify it. They did not fill their systems with strong mineral and poisonous medicines. The civilized people have been doing this for years. Look at the results. Most people are half-sick. Our representative talks with hundreds of people. Very few know what is the matter. Some say nervousness, some kidney trouble, others liver complaint, constipation, gas in the stomach, heart trouble, or lung trouble. Some have treated for all these diseases. A very common complaint is all run down, or no appetite.

We know all this chronic ill-health is caused primarily by stomach and liver trouble. We believe that very few people can be sick if their digestion is in good order. We know that Sagwa, the Indian vegetable remedy, which we have been introducing in Quincy will put the stomach and liver in good condition in 4 to 6 weeks. That is why it sells so wonderfully all over the world.

Among those who have called and endorsed the Kickapoo Remedies, was Mr. Fred Knapton of Gorham, Me., who said, "I have had an unusual experience with the Kickapoo Remedies. Not only myself but my wife and child have been greatly benefited by these remedies. My wife had not been well for some time on account of nervous indigestion. She was very nervous and seemed to lack strength. Whenever she ate food, gas would form in her stomach immediately, and cause her much distress. I had suffered with liver trouble for some time. A friend gave us a Kickapoo Book, and we at once got a bottle of Sagwa. We have taken four bottles and are both well. We will always speak a good word for Sagwa. We also think that Kickapoo Oil is a valuable remedy for any ache or pain."

Our representative will explain about Kickapoo Sagwa, Kickapoo Oil, Kickapoo Worm Killer, Kickapoo Cough Cure, Kickapoo Salve, and Kickapoo Pills, and will give free trial bottle of Sagwa to all who call at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

TURKEY HAS A REVOLUTION

Start of Serious Move Is Apparently Successful

NEW GOVERNMENT INSTITUTED

Seventeen Killed and Thirty Wounded In Constantinople—Uprising Due to Despotism of Committee of Union and Progress and Demand of Young Turks For Freedom In Religion—Deputy Is Murdered by Mistake

London, April 14.—Turkey's pathway towards constitutional government will, apparently, not be traversed without bloodshed. Tuesday's grave news from Constantinople reports another successful revolutionary movement which, so far as the obscure nature of the dispatches thus far received allows one to judge, has been directed primarily against the new despotism of the committee of union and progress, and, in the second place, against the demands of the Young Turks party for freedom in religion.

While it is difficult to disentangle what really happened, owing to the evidently severe censorship exercised over press dispatches, it is clear that the grand vizer and the cabinet recently appointed at the dictation of the committee of union and progress has been overthrown and a new government, seemingly of military character, instituted.

From Vienna comes serious news of the murder of one minister and the wounding and arrest of others by the mutineers, and a casualty list of seventeen killed and thirty wounded as the price of the latest revolution.

At the same time the sultan, while pardoning the mutineers' promises to uphold the ancient Sheria laws, which are the civil and religious laws of the Mohammedans based upon the Koran and the ancient traditions, as opposed to the various laws of individual races of Islam and to measures instituted at various times by successive rulers.

The Sheri laws involve the principles studied and expounded by the Ulemas or Mohammedan doctors of the law, and on them the muftis base their legal opinions and the cadis their judgments.

No reliable news has yet come to hand regarding the new cabinet except that apparently Tewfik Pasha, recently appointed ambassador to Great Britain, will be grand vizer and Edhim Pasha minister of war. It appears safe to assume, however, for the present that the new constitution is safe.

That the movement was entirely against the committee of union and progress is proved by the murder of Deputy Emir Arslam in mistake for Hussein Jahid, who is a member of the committee and the editor of one the committee's organs.

The leaders of the committee of union and progress itself are in hiding. The place of the latter body has been taken by the rival organization, to which many able Ulemas, men learned in sacred law, belong.

The Jamiyet I Mohammedieh, the Mohammedian union, are now masters of the capital, and have behind them the whole rank and file of the First army corps and a large majority of the armed Moslems of the populace.

TO REVISE CONSTITUTION

Eleventh Quadrennial Session of Loyal Legion Since Civil War

New York, April 14.—The Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, generally known as the Loyal Legion, met here today in quadrennial congress, the eleventh since the close of the Civil war. The purpose of the meeting was the revision of the constitution of the order.

The Loyal Legion is composed of men who served as commissioned officers in the army, navy and marine corps during the Civil war or were subsequently commissioned in the regular army and navy service. General Grenville M. Dodge is the present commander-in-chief.

KLINE A MURDERER

Fired Shot That Killed Wife Before He Took His Own Life

Portland, Me., April 14.—That Mrs. Ida B. Kline died as a result of a pistol shot fired by her husband, Samuel, and that he then shot and killed himself on Easter Sunday was the conclusion reached by a coroner's jury last night.

It is believed that the husband's disappointment over the size of his wife's dowry led to the shooting. The couple had been married just three weeks.

Life Sentence For Killing Wife

New Haven, April 14.—James H. Hazelton, a negro, who killed his wife during a quarrel and packed the body in a trunk, was sentenced to life imprisonment, a plea of guilty in the second degree of murder being accepted.

Strike May Soon End

Pittsfield, Mass., April 14.—As a result of a conference the prospects for an early settlement of the strike of the 100 core makers at the Stanley plant of the General Electric company are stated to be particularly good.

THE
Young Men's Christian Association
OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title Incorporated 1892.)
The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.
Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.
The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL
(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)
INCORPORATED 1889
The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000 but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.
Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.
The Secretary, Timothy Reed, Adams St., Quincy, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chase, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts—exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CLUB

Arthur B. Ballentine Talks on Boston 1915.

At the meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club on Tuesday evening, Arthur A. Ballentine of Gaston, Snow and Saltonstall and who represented the "Committee of 1915" spoke on the improvements contemplated in Boston by this committee.

As last night was the first time any official public utterances have been made regarding this most interesting movement the club was extremely fortunate in having with them one of the committee by whom this movement is being launched.

Executive committee: Frank A. Page, Otho A. Hayward, Rev. Carl G. Horst.

"Some Critics, "said Mr. Ballentine, "define Boston, not as a city but a state of mind. The object of the '1915 committee' is to make it definable as a state of perfection."

The idea of a better Boston in 1915 was evolved, said Mr. Ballentine by logical development.

Beginning with the interest of every man for his own business in watching receipts and keeping down expenses, people have come to realize that little can be done by standing alone.

This has resulted primarily in the organization of the different interests as, real estate men, doctors etc who have come to see that it is to his advantage to give some of his time for the promotion of the interests for which his group stands.

The formation of these bodies has resulted in the organization of large bodies as the Merchants association and the like.

The "committee of 1915" aims to move on a broader plane still and to combine these bodies for the good of all.

What the movement aims to do is to co-ordinate all these different lines of interests and set them working harmoniously and in unison.

It aims to avoid the recognition of the identity of any one line and to work more on a general plan for the good of the whole.

The object of the committee, said Mr. Ballentine is to outline various courses of action and to find the best policy for developing the different lines of improvement.

While the committee has agreed upon no definite policy in regard to the proposed changes to the charter, those at the head of the movement agree that something must first be done to make Boston a more efficient political machine.

The present system, he said, doesn't respond to pressure as one can readily see after the investigations of the finance committee.

It is the intention of the "committee of 1915," he said, to vest more power in the mayor, do away with the present common council having instead a smaller body under the direction of a permanent finance committee and administer the affairs of Boston as a business enterprise.

He emphasized the concrete good of proper machinery for the administration of municipal affairs which would bring about positive benefits by increased enjoyment of business prosperity and help secure desired development of the city.

But, said Mr. Ballentine, the political field is but one of the interests of the committee which has a much broad field aiming to cover all lines of improvement.

It is interested in the public health and sanitary conditions and will endeavor to apply the results of scientific investigation and research which will save and husband the human resources of the city.

The committee will attempt, he said, to solve the present transportation problems and is in a good way to do this, having Brandeis, Tuttle and other prominent railroad men to rely on.

At present, said Mr. Ballentine there is a feeling of antagonism between the people who use the cars and the various transportation companies.

It will be the object of the committee to bring about good feeling and a better understanding between these two very important factors.

It is to the interest of a railroad not to antagonize the people for it is only a success when it gives the public the service it wants.

It is no easy matter to bring together these opposing factions but it rests more with a committee of this kind than with any commission which might be appointed.

The committee will endeavor to make Boston in every way an attractive place to live in, and will aim to increase its physical development although Boston has made enormous progress in the development of parks and the like.

The committee plans to develop a broad intelligence on a practical basis and will not work simply at the top but will secure the co-operation of local organizations.

It will establish neighborhood centres as a basis for the work of the committee.

Mr. Ballentine spoke of the Sunday evening lectures which have taken place in Ford hall the past winter.

It is the intention of the committee he said, to extend this sort of thing to other centres and use them as a nucleus to extend the advantages of the whole plan.

The committee, he said, aims to extend technical and trade schools in order that the community may be more generally trained in the skilled enterprises of the city.

The question of means, and the explanation of the exact manner in which all these improvements may be brought about is a hard one at the present stage and many difficulties may be suggested and many difficult questions asked.

The only hope of success is in the working out of suggestions from the people which are greatly needed at this stage.

It would be unfortunate if the committee did have definite plans as they, however good they were, would be sure to stir up opposition and this is one thing in particular it wishes to avoid.

The committee hopes to finally agree upon a plan, which will meet with the widest possible general support.

Mr. Ballentine spoke of the present railroad conditions and said that Boston should be sure of its connections with the rest of the country.

Whether this means the merger or not he would not positively say but at present he deemed it almost necessary.

The general improvement of conditions, he said, won't come by sitting still but we have got to do the work which means the permanent prosperity of this region.

"It is easy to sneer and pick flaws," said Mr. Ballentine, "but the fact remains that it rests with the people with a purpose and those who look into the future to secure greater glory and advantages for this great city."

At the close of his address Mr. Ballentine was asked questions regarding the stand of the committee regarding the merger.

A lengthy discussion of this subject followed during which Mr. Bailey, Senator Hultman, Mr. Chase and Mr. Claflin spoke.

In the course of the evening ex-senator Eugene H. Sprague brought the attention of the club to the splendid work which is being done by the Quincy Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

He said a united movement for funds had been made and a site for camps promised.

The retiring officers of the club are: president, Frederick W. Plummer; vice-president Eugene C. Hultman; treasurer Charles P. Loring; secretary Charles H. Brigham.

At the head tables beside President Plummer and Mr. Ballentine were C. A. Howland of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance company, Senator Eugene C. Hultman, Rev. Carl G. Horst, Thomas Lacey and Walter J. Wellington.

The secretary's report which gave a resume of the year showed an average attendance of 85 and a waiting list of eleven in addition to the 100 members of the club. The treasurer's report was also read and placed on file.

This closes the meetings of the club for the season.

THIRTEEN JURORS IN CALHOUN TRIAL

Defense Opposed New Departure by the Court

San Francisco, April 14.—Thirteen jurors will hear the evidence in the case of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, charged with offering a bribe to a former supervisor.

Provision for the odd juror was made by Judge Lawlor upon application of the prosecution and after the defense had opposed any such departure. The court expressed a determination not to endanger the work of thirteen weeks by neglecting any precaution that might ensure an uninterrupted trial.

To qualify the twelve men now seated in the box it was necessary to summon 2310 citizens, 887 of the number being actually interrogated by the attorneys.

JEROME ON PROHIBITION

Declares That It Is Not Practicable In New York City

Albany, April 14.—Declaring that the law prohibiting saloons from opening on Sunday cannot be enforced in New York city by local officials, because of the influence to which these men are subjected, District Attorney Jerome appeared in favor of a bill to permit saloons to open on Sunday in first class cities from 1 to 11 p. m.

"If prohibition were practicable," said he, "I would be for it. If Commissioner Bingham were removed and I were given twenty men from the state excise department I would close the saloons in New York within three months as tight as a drum."

VAUDEVILLE

The Lenten Season is now over and we feel with the advent of Easter days like dipping into amusements again and Minstrel Shows have come and gone, musicals, dramatics and picture shows have grown tiresome, but a clean, high class vaudeville show appeals to all and the show by the Men's Club of Christ church TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY EVENINGS, April 20-21st at 8 P. M. in the Parish House will just fill the bill. The bill will contain two of Quincy's favorite soloists, baritone and tenor ,a wonderful boy mezzo soprano, Dutch comedians, orchestra numbers, singing comedians and fancy dances including the new "Waltz Dog," a veteran in a monologue Skit, the finest banjo player in the country, a Lander stunt in full Highland costume, all concluding with a quick moving farce. Everyone who loves vaudeville should attend one night at least. The Men's Club have the reputation of putting up a fine vaudeville show and this year's production will eclipse all past successes. Come and bring your wives, sweethearts and sisters, come anyway if you have to come alone and enjoy a couple of hours of music and mirth.

Admission 25 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents. For sale at Murphy's Drug store, Quincy centre, Walsh's Drug store, West Quincy, and Harlow's Drug store, Doble's corner ,and by all members of the club.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

On Tuesday afternoon there was the usual large gathering of club members, which has characterized all the meetings this year of the Quincy Women's club, showing ever increasing interest in club life and work.

Mrs. George W. Morton president, called the meeting to order promptly for the business session, which included the usual reports of officers and chairmen of the various committees.

An appeal was received from the Quincy Anti-tuberculosis association for club members to join the Association and help the work financially. Membership cards were distributed.

Mrs. N. G. Nickerson asks members to send her any old rubber articles which they may find in cleaning house and wish to dispose of. A box is at the club house in which rubber may be deposited.

Plans are completed to make the May festival for the children at Quincy Music hall on Saturday afternoon April 24, a great success. Members of the Education committee and friends have been making maybaskets for weeks and several hundred are ready of every description, size and color. Other ladies have been soliciting home-made candy. The work in sewing and sloyd by the children will be exhibited and prizes awarded. An entertainment will be given the children and there will be dancing and a general good time.

Members who desire to retain their membership in the club were reminded by the president that the dues are due before May 1st. Mrs. Hunting, treasurer has the cards ready and is receiving the dues.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson one of the founders and charter members of the club was present and received a cordial greeting.

The afternoon's program was in charge of the Arts and Crafts committee, Mrs. W. E. Blanchard, chairman, and opened with the duet "Still as the Night" by Carl Gotze, sung by Mrs. Emma Schnfeldt Moore and Miss Alice Gertrude Coe, with Mrs. Chandler W. Smith at the piano. In response to an encore they sang "Like the Lark." It had been announced that Mrs. Arthur S. Wonson of Gloucester was to sing accompanied by Miss Fanny L. Story also of Gloucester, but illness prevented their coming. The club was fortunate in having as substitutes two favorite singers and club members, Mrs. Moore and Miss Coe, whose voices blend so perfectly and whose singing always gives pleasure, the present occasion being no exception as was attested by the hearty encores.

The speaker of the afternoon was Anna Seaton Schmidt, a bright woman and an energetic worker in the interests of arts and crafts. The trend of her thought was to create a love of work by making the article beautiful.

Keep the hands of a child busy and he will not have time to go wrong. In reformatories and prisons if the children and men are put to some work which excites their interest and individuality, they will come out better men and may become self respecting citizens.

When people create and think for themselves in designing or working out anything it is not work or drudgery but a pleasure and they are in love with their work, and this love of work solves the problem of the masses in making them a contented and happy useful people.

Miss Schmidt enfused considerable of her enthusiasm in her listeners and showed conclusively that arts and crafts stands for something more than mere beautiful handicraft.

The singing of "Oh that we Two were Maying," by Nevin, sung by Mrs. Moore and Miss Coe closed the afternoon's program.

Wollaston members were in charge of the refreshments during the social hour, serving delicious fruit punch and home-made cake. Mrs. Herbert Baily and Mrs. Walter Jones presided over the punch bowls.

In the arts and crafts room was an unusually attractive exhibit which called forth much favorable comment. Mrs. Capen of Wollaston exhibited several beautiful pieces of brass work, lamp shades, bowls, plates, etc., and Mr. E. B. Bird of Wollaston contributed some forty book plates of fine design.

It was a most enjoyable afternoon and many lingered longer than usual to inspect the exhibits.

The last social meeting of the season will be given over entirely to a frolic as the Program committee has planned an entertainment for April 27, which will be amusing throughout. To accommodate members and friends, the meeting will be held at Faxon hall, where the large stage will give the artists participating plenty of room to do their acts.

QUINCY ALLIANCE.

The Neighborhood meeting of the Quincy Alliance was held in the Unitarian chapel Monday afternoon with 140 present. Sixty-two neighboring branches were represented, and the spirit of friendliness and cordiality which marked the meeting, was but a sign of the strong bond existing in this great religious organization.

The music of the afternoon was a special feature, Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade sang three songs, "Agnus Dei," "Spring Flowers," and "The Soul of the flowers," accompanied by Mr. Walter Loud on the violin, with Mrs. Geo. E. Pfaffmann at the piano. Mrs. Slade's beautiful voice, supplemented by Mr. Loud's sympathetic violin, gave great pleasure to the audience.

Mrs. Isabelle Davis' fine reading of Joseph Jefferson's poems on "Immortality," closed the entertainment part of the program.

In the absence of Mr. Butler, Mr. Ames, assistant pastor, presented the speker, Miss Emma C. Low, President of the National Alliance. Miss Low's talk upon Alliance work was of vital interest to her hearers. She spoke of the aims and methods of the Alliance, but placed the responsibility with the branches. Primarily the Alliance has a religious object, making for loyalty to the church and the faith. Co-operation and fellowship have made it the success it is. The Alliance is different from all other organizations in that it has no central treasury, the running expenses being paid by the one-third dues, from the branches. In speaking of the ready response to appeals, Miss Low told of the little Icelandic branch in Winnepeg which sent one dollar, to be divided among four appeals.

During the social hour which followed, Mrs. Henry Tirrell and Mrs. Henry Wright poured, and Miss Grace Spear and Miss Miriam Marsh served fappe, the Junior Alliance assisting at serving.

Through the courtesy of the Parish Committee ,the crypt was opened to the visitors, nearly all availing themselves of the opportunity to inspect the historic tombs of the Adamses.

NEIGHBORING.

The annual children's day of the Old Colony club of South Weymouth will be held in the Fogg Opera house, Thursday afternoon. A company of children from the Dorothea Dix house have been engaged to furnish entertainment and the school children of South Weymouth invited to attend.

• • •

The annual meeting of the Milton Woman's club was held Monday, April 5, with a very large number of members present, and much interest was manifested. Interesting reports of work done during the year were read by all the officers and chairmen of committees. The club voted to increase the limit of its membership from one hundred to two hundred.

Action was taken indorsing the bill for the unification of the Mass. State Board of Education and the State Board of Industrial Training ;also, the national bill to provide for a children's bureau. Members were requested to write personal letters to their representative, Hon. Jos. F. O'Connell, asking him to vote favorably in this latter bill which is H. R. Bill, 24148, known as a bill to establish.....a Children's Bureau. It was decided to discontinue the exchange.

The following officers were elected to serve the club for one year: President, Mrs. William W. Churchill; first vice-president, Mrs. Wallace C. Tucker; second vice-president, Mrs. William A. Cross; recording secretary, Mrs. Calvin G. Hill; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Murray Ruggles; treasurer, Mrs. Sidney A. Parsons; auditor, Miss Sally P. Fletcher; directors to serve three years, Mrs. Frederick M. Hamlin, Mrs. Henry B. Martin, Mrs. W. Dewees Roberts.

GALE HINDERS FIRE FIGHTERS

Flames Lick Up $500,000 Worth of Property In Rochester

FIFTY HOUSES ARE IN RUINS

Most of the Hundreds of Homeless People Are Hebrews, Who Think Coming of the Messiah Is at Hand—No Lives Lost, Though Two Different Sections of City Were on Fire at One Time

Rochester, N. Y., April 14.—Fire, which broke out in the Palmer building, a four-story brick structure devoted to manufacturing interests, was the starting point of a $500,000 conflagration in Rochester.

The fire spread over a wide area, at one point jumping nearly a mile and starting a second series of fires of such proportions that the local fire department was for a time unable to cope with the situation.

Aid was summoned from Buffalo and Syracuse, and both of these cities rushed companies to Rochester. By the time they arrived, however, the local firemen were masters in both fire areas. The outside companies were held on reserve duty in the center of the city, every Rochester company having been called out by the long series of alarms.

Hundreds of Rochester people are homeless and are camping out near the scenes of the fires with whatever property they were able to save from their homes. Over them the local companies of militia stand guard, having been ordered out by Mayor Edgerton. Most of the homeless ones are Polish Hebrews.

Buildings which were destroyed include, besides the Palmer building and the Jewish temple Berith Kodesh, the First Reformed Church of America, the Ward apartments, the First German Lutheran Zion church and fifty residences. St. Peter's Presbyterian church suffered some damage and there was heavy loss also in the Palmer lumber yards and to several small firms adjoining the main Palmer buildings.

There was no loss of life. Several firemen were injured by falling walls or overcome by smoke, but none was seriously hurt.

The origin of the fire has not been determined. It was seen first from outside the Palmer building, sweeping across the third story, half of which was vacant. There was delay in sounding the alarm and when it came the firemen were busy at a small blaze elsewhere. Ten minutes more elapsed, it is said, before the firemen arrived, and in that time the flames had spread from cellar to garret of the Palmer building. A twenty-five-mile gale sent the sparks in a northwesterly direction over the city.

There were many scenes of panic among the residents. Among a great portion of those who lived nearby there was but one thought—the city was doomed. Women threw from windows of houses which were not in danger beds, bureaus, tables and all sorts of furniture and personal belongings. One woman, Mary Kirschnamsky, went violently insane and was removed to the Rochester state hospital. Draymen reaped a harvest moving goods to places of safety.

It was the last day of the Feast of the Passover, and many of the Jewish residents of this part of the city interpreted the situation as the outward, visible sign of the coming of the Messiah. Men, women and children tore their hair and knelt in the streets to pray.

Fires broke out so frequently in various spots in the northeastern part of the city that companies could not be dispatched to all of them. Volunteer brigades were formed and answered many of the calls, armed with garden hose or chemical apparatus.

While the Palmer fire was at its height the sparks were carried to the First Reformed Church of America, a mile distant. Little attention was paid to the new fire at first, only one company being sent to the scene from the Main street conflagration. Soon the entire district was a scene of confusion and calls for additional aid were hurried in. Three different streets in the neighborhood were dotted with flames, and Chief Little, after a conference with the fire underwriters, decided to appeal to Buffalo and Syracuse for aid.

Rochester is terror-stricken. Today's fires are a culmination of an uninterrupted series of fires lasting for weeks, many of which have been charged to incendiarism.

Executive Clemency Refused

Washington, April 14.—His first opportunity to extend executive clemency to a man under sentence of death President Taft has felt compelled to allow to go unheeded. He declined to interfere in the case of Joaquin Segrers, convicted of murder in the Canal Zone, and the condemned man must die May 7.

COST OF SAVINGS BANK INSURANCE

Rates Carefully Worked Out By State Actuary

The rates at which savings banks life insurance and old age pensions are handled in this state were carefully worked out in the spring of 1908 by State Actuary Robertson G. Hunter after a preliminary study of all the conditions involved.

It was clear at the start that with the cost of soliciting and of collecting the premiums from house to house eliminated, with no dividends to pay to stockholders and no five figure salaries of officers, the cost of industrial life insurance at the savings bank ought to be considerably lower than when secured from the life insurance companies.

At the same time it was well understood that the process would have to be made high enough to be perfectly conservative. One of the objections which practical life insurance men used to make to savings bank insurance was that a bank in one of the less healthful communities might find its insurance department bankrupted on rates that would be perfectly safe in places where the death rate is low.

To get around this objection Actuary Hunter took as his basis of calculation the death percentages of the cities where people die off most rapidly and figured the cost of the savings bank life insurance on these. Then he arranged that if in the insurance department of any bank a profit should be shown this surplus would be divided among the policy holders either in the form of cash payments or increased insurance.

All the savings insurance policies in other words are "participating" or "profit sharing." As the patronage of the banks that have opened insurance departments is scattered throughout the state to a degree that was hardly anticipated the number of deaths is likely to fall below the Actuary's conservative calculations and there should be very considerable dividends for the benefit of the policy holders.

After the rates for savings bank insurance had been decided provisionally they were referred to four actuaries of international reputation all of whom live outside the state of Massachusetts and have no personal interest in the savings bank insurance. They were unanimous in reporting the rates were safe.

These rates incidentally are about twenty-five per cent under those of the insurance companies, whose industrial policies furthermore are not participating or profit sharing. Now that one great life insurance company is urging that if allowed by the Massachusetts legislature to make special rates to groups of one hundred or more industrial insurants, without house to house collections, rates for these can be offered at prices less than those of the savings banks, State Actuary Hunter has said in an interview.

"The comparison is unfair because

(1) "The policy holders of the savings banks share in the profits. The policies referred to are not profit-sharing.

(2) "The policies of the savings banks are payable in full in case of death after the first monthly premium is paid. The other policy pays only one-half of the face value if the policy holders dies within six months.

(3) "After six months' premiums have been paid, the savings banks policies cannot be forfeited. The other policies in question are forfeited if the policy is discontinued within three years.

(4) "Under the proposed bill a man could not get the benefit of the special rates unless there were 99 or more other persons in the group with him. Savings banks insurance is open to any individual, no matter whether he is connected with others or not."

Another member of the Massachusetts Savings Insurance League has said: "While the promised competition of the life insurance companies may be an excellent and stimulating thing for everybody in Massachusetts, there is no question but that the 'savings and insurance banks' are in a good position to meet it."

The regular meeting of the Official Board of the Hall Place M. E. church was held in the vestry, Monday evening, at eight o'clock. Plans were made for meeting the financial demands for the coming year. The following officers were elected for one year:—Treasurer, Charles Jose; collector, Robert Newcomb; church reporter, Hilda Francis.

STATUE OF LIEUT. GEN. LEE

Model Completed by Sculptor H. H. Kitson.

A clay model of the first statue of a Confederate officer to be erected at the National Military park, Vicksburg, has just been finished at the studio of Henry Hudson Kitson in this city. It represents Lieut. Gen. Stephen Dill Lee, C. S. A., as he stood at a critical moment of the siege of Vicksburg in the eventful summer of 1863.

The figure is of colossal size, standing nine feet high. The attitude is one of expectancy—of momentary rest before decisive action. The left leg is raised and thrown forward, and the unsheathed sword, held in both hands, rests upon it, the scabbard hanging naturally by his side.

The accoutrements are the familiar ones of the wearers of the grey. The insignia of rank appear on the collar. The buttons, in high relief, bear the eagle and eleven stars. The sculptor has been especially attentive to the textures, showing unmistakably the quality of felt in the hat, the smoothness of the leather on the sides of the boots where they rub against saddle or horse, the character of the broadcloth of the military coat, and of the heavy leather gauntlets beneath which the strongly modeled hands are felt.

These and other details have been executed carefully, but with an evident intent not to detract from the main purpose of the work, which aims to create a faithful likeness of one of the best beloved of generals on either side of the late unpleasantness. The modeling is distinguished by a great deal of "color;" advantage is taken of deep masses of shadow to emphasize important forms in the light and half light.

In his preliminary studies for this work, which will be of exceptional interest to the whole South, Mr. Kitson has not only had access to various documents and relics of greatest value, but he has been helped by impressions formed during a personal friendship with Gen. Lee, extending over several years before his death in 1908. He had charge of the erection of the Massachusetts state monument for Vicksburg, one of the earliest to be consigned to the new National Park. Mr. Kitson practically took charge of the preliminary dedication arrangements which brought the Massachusetts Governor, and other officials down to the Mississippi city, gave them the time of their lives, and did perhaps as much as any one event in many years to promote a feeling of amity between the states. A close intimacy was formed at that time between Gen. Lee, who was a member of the Park Commission, and the sculptor.

Besides the large statue which has just been completed, Mr. Kitson has practically finished at his studio a model of a bust of Gen. Lee of which two copies are to be cast in bronze, one for the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Mississippi, of which the ex-Confederate leader was president for many years; the other for the city of Columbus, Miss., which was his home town.

"The Country Store," which will be given by the men of the Congregational club in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church Wednesday evening, is replete with local hits and burlesque. A near-symphony orchestra will render pleasing or otherwise selections during the evening and an ambitious male quartette will make its debut.

PLAN TO BUY NEW BUILDING

Houghs Neck Associates To Vacate Present Quarters.

Despite the stormy weather of last night, the members of the Houghs Neck Associates, incorporated, turned out in large numbers to attend the regular bi-monthly meeting. The meeting was one of the best held this year and a great deal of progress was made. The principal matter was the discussion on buying a permanent home.

As the Associates will be forced to vacate the building they now occupy at the end of this month, it was important for them to get a summer home. The ways and means committee reported that the old Casino building could be hired at a nominal rent for the summer months. Many of the members objected to paying rent and suggested purchasing a permanent home. Waldo L. Hutchins offered to put in one hundred dollars towards the purchase of a suitable place. After a lengthy discussion, it was voted to appoint a committee of three to get the prices on all available places suitable for the erection of a clubhouse. The chair appointed the following as members of that committee: Thomas J. Dwyer, chairman, Michael G. Coughlan and John R. S. Ross.

The secretary was instructed to write to the Mayor and the City Council for the removal of the remains of the Cape Cottage, claiming that as it stands now it is dangerous to children, decreases the value of the property in the immediate vicinity and a target for the younsters to set fire to.

The committee appointed to revise the by-laws reported many changes, the matter was laid on the table until the next meeting.

The treasurer reported that the Associates were clear from any debts and had a good balance on hand.

The following committee's reports were accepted as progressive, sewer garbage, school, streets, house, ways and means, ordinances, fire alarm, express, membership, public landings and financial secretary.

The members are enthusiastic over the idea of buying a permanent home and with the able committee appointed it will be only a question of a short time before they will move into their own building.

MANET SOCIAL CLUB.

First Grand Dance Held in A. O. H. Hall a Social Success.

The first dance of the Manet Social club was held Tuesday evening in Hibernian hall, Franklin street, there being about 150 couples present. Daniel Mahon was floor director, his assistant being William Baker, Gunnar Johnson, Sylvester Phelan and Arthur Wentworth were the aids. The following club members looked after the other details: Russell Tingley, William McCarthy, Albert Smith, Frederick Hayden, Thomas Sullivan, John Neagle, George Mullin, Walter Mattie and William Lyons.

Dancing was in order from 8 to 12, Wilson's orchestra furnishing the music. This was the Manet's first attempt in the social line, but the success of the "first is a practical assurance that the affair will be an annual thing .

WOLLASTON CLUB WINS MORE LAURELS

Second Concert of Season A Musical Triumph.

The second concert of the season was held by the Wollaston Glee club in the Congregational church on Wednesday evening.

In spite of the storm, a good sized audience assembled and every one was well paid for venturing out.

The finesse with which each piece was accompanied and the perfect subjection of the entire chorus under the baton of the leader, showed more than ordinary talent and was a striking result of the pains of the conductor, John A. Crowley.

Throughout, the singing was spirited and the pleasing harmony of the trained voices left nothing to be desired.

The soprano solos of Marie S. Sundelius of Boston was especially well received. Mrs. Sundelius saw many friendly faces in the audience as she was formerly soloist in the Wollaston Congregational church.

The solos of Edward E. Bullock, tenor, and Albert L. Hayden, baritone, which were accompanied by the club in part, were exceedingly effective.

William Weston as an accompanist, was unsurpassed, lending himself readily to the spirit of the piece whether it be a solo or full chorus.

The following program was rendered:

Up and Away — Geibel
Secrecy — Hugo Wolf
Who'll buy my Lavendar — Edward German
A Memory — Edna Rosalind Park
Mrs. Sundelius
In Picardie — Osgood
The House with the Paint wore off — Marjorie Richardson
Miss Belden
Lochinvar — Hammond
Solo by Mr. Hayden
Image of the Rose — Reichardt
Solo by Mr. Bullock
Open up de Gate ob Glory — Geibel
Spring — Leo Stern
Mrs Sundelius
How much wood would a Woodchuck chuck — Linders
The boy who was scaret o'dyin' — Slosson
An insult to the Flag — Anon
The Woodsticks — Ben King
Quit your foolin'
Miss Belden
Discovery — Grieg
Solo by Mr. Hayden

AS A STATE HIGHWAY.

City Wants Balance of Quincy Avenue Completed.

Mayor Shea is appearing before the Highway Commission today trying to get the commission to accept a part of Quincy avenue and build it as a state highway. Senator Hultman and Representative Thomas and Langeller are also appearing with him.

The state has already accepted and built a part of the street and as it is one that is used largely by other towns than Quincy, there is no reason why the state should not accept the balance of it.

The commission already has quite a sum of money unapportioned and the Mayor hopes to get an allotment from that.

The Coddington school baseball season opened auspiciously Wednesday when the Cranch nine was taken into camp by a score of 6 to 3. Gay, Walker, Tobin, Baird, Holmes and Hall played a good game for the Coddington school.

Also, there are a few Democrats in the Republican lumber-pile.

It is the opinion of some cynics that many a peach-basket hat contains a lemon.

With the Zeppelin airship it is a case of down again, up again, off again, Finnegan.

There are 30,000 reformed spellers in the United States. This does not include those who have their own private system of spelling.

By a deft application of jiu-jitsu a Chicago girl laid low a ruffian twice as big as herself. Good for the girl! Likewise for Jiu-jitsu.

It is all right to make a one dollar bill look as well as a fifty-dollar note, but the Treasury Department will greatly oblige if it will make it as easy to get.

One of our friends, who succeeded in borrowing $200. Saturday, says that he is the advanced agent of prosperity.

The latest in bargains according to the Brockton Times has been offered by a justice of the peace at Belleville, N. J. This justice agrees to make a present to the bride, he says that his daughter will play the "Wedding March" for the couple, and a property floral bell he has which he will permit the couples to stand under while the ceremony is in progress. There would seem to be good reason to expect that the marrying justice will weld a lot of couples together in the next four months. With June coming and such potent attractions for those contemplating matrimony there ought to be on the part of the single folks at Belleville nothing less than a rush to the justice shop from this time on.

Ex-Governor John L. Bates takes exceptions to certain remarks regarding Boston made by Pres. Eliot of Harvard while on his recent southern trip. This perhaps is the first time in recent years any Boston man has had the temerity to take up arms with the President of Harvard University and as to be expected Gov. Bates remarks have caused all kinds of comments.

In his criticisim of Pres. Eliot the ex-Governor said: "I read in the papers about Pres. Eliot praising Galveston, Tex., and criticizing Boston for what it hadn't done. It seems to me that it should have been the reverse."

"He ought to have gone to Galveston and said: 'Whatever your government may be, Boston and Massachusetts have worked out something that we believe is the better plan.'

"He should not have gone down there and admitted that, notwithstanding our years of experience, we have not yet devolved anything that was satisfactory."

Evidently Mr. Bates does not believe in the old saying that every knock is a boost.

There are several young men in Quincy who are very much interested in outdoor running, both at short and long distances. These men are deploring the fact that they have no suitable place to train except the public streets which really are not suitable for proper training, except for Marathon running.

It seems as though Quincy should have at least one place where such ambitious youths as these could get together and train with each other. In Boston there are numerous places for such work. In East Boston there is Wood Island park in South Boston the M Street playground; and then the famous old Charlesbank gym, where so many champions have been brought out.

Of course Boston is a little bigger than Quincy, but it is no better. If Boston can have a dozen such places, surely Quincy ought to have one. And again there are towns and cities smaller than Quincy that have excellent cinder tracks for the use of the young runners, for instance Dedham, Hyde Park and Milton.

Where can we have such a place is asked. The Ward Two playground would make an ideal training track. There is a big field there around which could be built a cinder track. This track would cost but little, as it is said that the cinders can be had from a certain local company, simply for carrying them away.

Another advantage attached to this place is the fact that the public bathhouse is close by. This could be used as a dressing room and would enable the boys to have a good shower bath and rub after their training stunts. This would then be an ideal place and would surely be welcomed by the local followers of track athletics.

There are fellows in this city who are representing clubs in other cities, simply because they want to run, but have no place to train. This should not be. These boys should be representing local clubs and perhaps bringing fame to the city and they would be if they had a good track to train on.

TAFT'S SUMMER HEADQUARTERS

Temporary "White House" Will Be In Beverly

Washington, April 15.—President Taft is particularly pleased that the problem of choosing a "summer White House" has at last been solved. The new "summer capital" will be at Woodbury Point, Beverly, Mass., which is conveniently near Manchester and Gloucester. The president is looking forward with pleasure to playing a great deal of golf on the fine links at Hamilton.

Mr. Taft is being strongly urged by western senators and representatives to make a wide trip through the west this summer. The president will be at Beverly as soon after congress adjourns as he can conveniently reach there and will remain at the summer home until late in August, for even if he goes west he will not begin the trip until that time.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE

Lynn Woman Lives to Tell of Being Run Over by an Engine

Lynn, Mass., April 15.—Miss Florence Whipple, 28 years old, was struck by the cylinder head of a locomotive as she was crossing the tracks in this city last night. She was thrown beneath the tender, and this and most of the first car passed over her before the train was brought to a stop.

An examination after the woman was taken to a hospital disclosed nothing more serious than a fractured jaw and a few bruises and scrapes.

It is believed that Miss Whipple will be able to resume her occupation of shoe finisher within a few days.

BANISH THOSE GRAY HAIRS!
Kill the Dandruff Germs—Stop Hair Falling

Thousands of mothers are looking younger.—Their gray hairs are gone. The natural color has come back, and with it a new growth of soft, glossy, luxuriant hair. Why should you look old before your time, when you can look years younger by using

WYETH'S SAGE & SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER

Dandruff Cured
Three applications removed all the dandruff and left my scalp clean, white and smooth.

It Is Positively Guaranteed to Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color

If other "so-called" Restorers have failed, don't give up hope, but give WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER a trial. You run no risk. If it is not exactly as represented, your money will be refunded.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored
My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

Grow Hair on a Bald Head
For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

AMERICAN STILL THE CHAMPION

Gotch Pins Mahmout to the Mat In Straight Falls

FAST AND EXCITING MATCH

Magnificent Test of Strength Between Great Exponents of Wrestling, In Which American's Honors Are All the Greater Because Turk Was In Bare Feet—Less Than Eighteen Minutes In Actual Action

Chicago, April 15.—Frank Gotch of Humboldt, Iowa, last night retained the world's wrestling championship by defeating Yussif Mahmout of Bulgaria in straight falls in a fast and furious match. The Bulgarian was a child in the hands of the American.

FRANK GOTCH.

Gotch won both falls with crotch and half-Nelson holds in eight minutes and in nine minutes, ten seconds. The victory of the champion is all the more notable, inasmuch as he did not use his famous toe hold in bringing about the downfall of the powerful foreigner, whose shoulders had not hitherto been put to the mat in America. Gotch was able to get almost any hold he desired.

After a conference lasting most of the day over Mahmout's determination to enter the ring in his bare feet, despite Gotch's assertion that this would lessen his chances of obtaining the toe hold, the dispute was settled by Mahmout's proposing to forfeit $500 of his end of the purse to Gotch and to enter the ring in his bare feet. Rather than call off the match Gotch agreed to Mahmout's proposal, although he contended that the rules called for shod feet.

By 9:30 every seat was filled by 12,000 persons. Hundreds were standing or clinging to girders. The aggregate receipts amounted to $35,000.

The wrestling began at 11 o'clock. For the first three minutes the two men rolled about the ring without either getting a hold. Finally Gotch got a hold on Mahmout's left leg and threw him to the mat. The American champion was after the foreigner like a wildcat and the Hungarian responded with every ounce of his strength, but could not break Gotch's hold. Mahmout bridged and used every artifice, but Gotch gradually forced his opponent's shoulders to the mat.

Gotch and Mahmout started the second fall at 11:29. After a minute of fiddling in the middle of the ring, the men mixed and Mahmout put Gotch down on the mat. After some sharp work Gotch wriggled out of the Turk's hold and assumed the aggressive. Gotch tried repeatedly for the deadly toe-hold, but Mahmout fought harder than before and the American was unable to get the bare foot. Gotch obtained a barlock on Mahmout, but the men wriggled off the mat.

Referee Smith called them to the center of the ring. Mahmout allowed Gotch his old hold. Gotch soon got a crotch and half-Nelson, but Mahmout wriggled out. The struggle waxed fast and furious, with Mahmout on the defensive all the time. Gotch then got the same hold that won the first fall for him, a crotch and half-Nelson. Mahmout, realizing the danger, fought hard to break the hold, but it was of no avail. Despite the Turk's immense strength and ability, he was pinned to the mat for the final fall in nine minutes ten seconds.

It was a magnificent test of strength between two great exponents of wrestling, but the champion finally secured a crotch and half-Nelson hold and Referee Smith gave him the fall in eight minutes. Mahmout's shoulders were pinned to the mat for the second time since he has been in this country.

Chicago, April 15.—Wheat for May delivery sold on the board of trade Wednesday at 129 per bushel, while the July option touched 118¼, both figures being new high marks for the season.

Are You Wretched in Bad Weather?

Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Quincy People Well.

Many Quincy people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back, or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it "settles on the kidneys," and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness, which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural Doan's Kidney Pills has saved Quincy people much suffering.

W. Charlesworth, living at 33 Cranch street, Quincy, Mass., says: "About five years ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble. I had pains in my back which were at times more severe than at others and colds or damp weather aggravated my suffering. I knew my kidneys were at fault and used everything I could think of in an effort to obtain relief, but to no avail. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, I finally decided to give this remedy a trial and procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. Before I had used the contents of two boxes, the backache was a thing of the past and I felt better in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement."

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

FOR CHEATING GOVERNMENT

Baltimore Collector Ordered to Seize Great Distillery Plant

CAREFUL INVESTIGATION MADE

Extended Over Period of Nearly Three Months, Disclosing Alleged Violations of International Revenue Law Sufficient to Cause Forfeiture of Plant and Contents, Including Nearly 8000 Barrels of Whisky

Washington, April 15.—As a result of an investigation into charges of violation of the internal revenue law, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers issued formal instructions to Collector Goldsboro at Baltimore, directing him to seize the Carroll Springs Distilling company's plant, one of the largest registered grain distilleries in Maryland.

The seizure, which will involve the government taking possession of nearly 8000 barrels of whisky, is based upon a long examination which has been under the personal direction of Capers, who himself visited the establishment about three months ago, when the alleged violations were first brought to his attention.

After his investigation, Revenue Agent Perkins was directed to detail special gaugers and inspectors, who have been at the distillery and the large bonded warehouses, to make a careful investigation for an extended period.

This investigation lasted nearly three months, the result being, it is alleged, that violations of the law were found sufficient to cause the forfeiture of the plant, its contents and the contents of the warehouses.

Commissioner Capers declined to give any of the details as to the charges of fraud, but it is understood that they involve discoveries of new whisky in old barrels, the substitution of new whisky for older whisky and the removal of it without the payment of $1.10 a gallon to the government; the substitution of gin for whisky in some instances, and in some of the packages excessive wantage and similar evidences of what it is claimed worked a direct fraud upon the United States in that it deprived the government of its revenues upon the product of the distillery.

PLANS ARE CHANGED

Roosevelt Will Cut Out Dinner and Reception at Mombasa

Mombasa, April 15.—A cablegram received here from Theodore Roosevelt declining an invitation to attend a public reception and a dinner makes it evident that he has decided not to stop in Mombasa. Roosevelt asks in this message that he be conveyed direct by special train from the steamer to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi river. Roosevelt will be Pease's guest for the first fortnight's stay in the protectorate.

There has been a sudden outbreak of smallpox at Nairobi. Forty deaths have occurred in the quarantine camp and three cases are reported from Juja ranch, the property of George McMillan, who will be Roosevelt's host during a portion of his stay in this section.

STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Employes of General Electric Company at Pittsfield to Return

Pittsfield, Mass., April 15.—The strike of nearly 100 coremakers and molders at the Stanley plant of the General Electric company because of a dissatisfaction with wages and hours of labor was called off last night.

General Manager Chesney issued a statement in which he said that "the company will take back into its employ any of the old men for whom it has work and whose service in the past has been satisfactory."

H. M. Donnelly, who came here as a representative of the international union, stated that he believed the strike was ill-advised.

TO PROTECT RUSSIANS

Populous Holy City of Persia Occupied by Russian Cavalrymen

St. Petersburg, April 15.—Dispatches received here say that a force of Tekke-Turkoman cavalrymen, commanded by Russian officers, have occupied the Persian city of Meshed.

Recently the Russian consul at Meshed, which is a holy city with a population of 60,000, telegraphed for troops to strengthen the guard at the consulate and protect the lives and property of Russians, against whom disorders had broken out.

Congressmen Off For Canal

New York, April 15.—A party of congressmen and their friends sailed on the steamer Panama for Colon on a visit to the canal zone. The party is not on official business, but will spend about six days on the isthmus.

Coal Miners on Strike

Johnstown, Pa., April 15.—Alleging that the company officials refused to sign the wage scale presented to them, over 800 union miners employed by the Big Bend Coal company at Twin Rocks have struck.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Boys' Leg Broken by Being Caught in Wheel.

Boston specialists were called in Tuesday to examine Richard the 10-year-old son of William W. Walsh, who was seriously injured Saturday.

The lad was attempting to board a wagon when he missed his hold and his leg went through the spokes of the wheel. His leg was terribly injured and he may lose it.

—The Wall street Journal says: As a matter of ethics and of public policy as well, it is better that the banking business and the business of merchandising should be kept entirely separate. If a department store may properly set up a savings bank and receive deposits from its patrons, any of our great savings banks might, with equal propriety, establish a huge department store as a means of acquiring closer control over business activities of its depositors. The law, of course, would condemn such an enterprise by a savings institution, for reasons which apply with equal force to the other case.

The Constipation Evil

IS RESPONSIBLE FOR MOST CASES OF PILES.

Constipation paralyzes the blood vessels of the lower bowel, and often causes piles. Women, and all other indoor workers, are the most frequent sufferers. But curing constipation alone won't cure piles. A special medicine is needed—internal treatment, to strengthen the flabby veins and start pure blood circulating.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is the only internal pile cure. Sold under guarantee. $1 at Clyde T. Cox's Quincy, Mass., or Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B. Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

ATLANTIC

Mr. George Richardson of Botolph street returned Tuesday from a two months' business trip to Europe.

One of Thomas Gurney's grocery wagons were blown over by the strong wind on Botolph street Tuesday afternoon. No one was injured.

Members of Mrs. Sarah C. Butler's Sunday school class are making arrangements for a May basket sale to be held in the annex of the church on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Miss Cora Harding of Botolph street entertained the Billiken club on Tuesday evening, April 13th. Puzzling over conundrums was the feature of the evening and Miss Ardelia Barber and Florence Hill received prizes for being most alert and accurate in the answers. Games and music were enjoyed until refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at Miss Marion White's on Billings road.

The funeral of Mrs. Marie Stein who died Saturday at her late home at 11 Botolph street, was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. W. J. Heath, pastor of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Mrs. Stein was over 78 years of age and last December fell and broke her hip. Since then she had been confined to her bed and began to fail very rapidly after that. She was a very patient sufferer. She was unconscious a week before she passed away. Her relatives and friends have the sympathy of the community.

FUNERALS.

CAPT. EDWARD C. HASKELL.

The funeral of Capt. Edward C. Haskell, aged 65, was held Tuesday afternoon from the residence of A. Bradford Hayden, 46 Spear street. Services were conducted by Rev. Charles B. Ames of the First church

The pall bearers were Chaning T. Furnald, Alfred G. Flowers, William Nash, J. Edwin Glover, Laurence Garrity and William J. Parker of the Waldorf club.

There were many floral tributes from friends of Mr. Haskell, chief among which were pillows from the Waldorf club and from the Quincy Yacht club of which the deceased was a charter member. The funeral was very largely attended, for the captain was well known about town. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mrs. Mary E. White.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. White, aged 51, wife of James C. White, was held Wednesday from her late home 22 Larry place. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church by Rev. William J. Duffy. The regular choir sang the Gregorian mass, Mrs. Thomas Fennessey singing the "De Profundis." Miss Rena Bizzozero presided at the organ.

There were many floral offerings including a beautiful standing cross from the Metropolitan Park police, a large number of whom were present. Mr. White was a patrolman in the Park service.

Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy.

William Ward.

The funeral of William Ward, aged 12, son of William and Katherine Ward, was held Tuesday from his parents' home 24 Common street. The boy died suddenly Monday. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy, in the family lot.

WAS CONSIDERED INCURABLE BUT WAS CURED BY SAGWA

The following statement was voluntarily given for publication by Mrs. H. M. Look of Bangor, Maine, who had tried different remedies and many doctors, and was a pronounced invalid, but is now a firm believer in the Kickapoo Remedies , as is evidenced by the following testimonial:

"I was a terrible sufferer from inherent canker of the stomach, incapable of performing its duties of digestion, and also manifested itself in running sores in my mouth.

"I tried all the remedies I could find, and also sought the aid of the doctors, but all to no avail—and was considered an incurable from an inherent disease—as my family had suffered from the same disease. Then I saw the advertisement of the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa for stomach trouble. I decided to try a bottle of Sagwa, as a last hope, but really without any confidence.

"After taking the first bottle the effect gave me much encouragement—so much so in fact, that I decided to give Sagwa a thorough trial, and in all took twelve bottles, which thoroughly cleansed my blood; the mouth sores disappeared, my stomach performed its functions perfectly, and since then, a period of fifteen years, I have been absolutely free from what was considered an incurable disease of the stomach.

"The beneficial effect of Sagwa led me to investigate the other Kickapoo Remedies, with the result that I found a most complete assortment of medicines for family ailments, among which I cannot commend too strongly the Kickapoo Suppositories—a sure remedy for female troubles; the Kickapoo Oil and the Kickapoo Salve are indeed a safeguard for burns, neuralgia, pains, piles, boils, etc., etc.

"I have recommended the Kickapoo Suppositories to my friends who have in turn become great believers in their efficiency in female troubles.

"The Kickapoo Remedies have become to my children what they are to me—namely, a panacea for all ailments of the human family, and I embrace the opportunity to give this my testimonial to the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company to be published and used as they may desire with my full authority and entirely unsolicited by them. (Signed) Mrs. H. B. Look, Bangor, Maine, August 20, 1908."

The following tesimonial was volunteered by Mr. A. L. DeWitt of Bangor, who was so well pleased with Kickapoo Worm Killer that he authorized the following statement:

"In August, 1908, I gave my little boy one box of Kickapoo Worm Killer. After taking one-half the box the worms began to come away in great quanities, altogether about one-half cupful.

"I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the good effects of Kickapoo Worm Killer, and authorize and permit the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company to publish this. (signed) A. L. DeWitt, August 15th, 1908."

The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company certainly have created a sensation in Quincy with the Kickapoo Remedies and the cures that they have made.

Our representative is still meeting the public at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store, explaining our theories and the Kickapoo Remedies, and giving free trial bottles of Sagwa to those who are afflicted with Stomach, Kidney or Liver Troubles, and also those who desire to try the great Indian Stomach Remedy—Sagwa.

The Kickapoo Remedies are for sale at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store, and all other drug stores in Quincy. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

Miss Mildred Huston is spending a week in the Berkshire Hills, as the guest of Miss Helen Barnes, supervisor of music at Great Barrington.

William Nolan of Yale University law school, who has been spending the spring recess at his home on Linden place, returned to New Haven Wednesday afternoon.

Wilbur D. Richardson has returned from Providence, R. I., where he has been filling engagements at several large concerts in company with his brother Chester.

Scores as a rule ran low at the whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. John H. Johnson was high man with 66 per cent and John Bell second with 64 per cent.

Ernest S. Merrill, Tufts 1911, of Fayette street is absent on a ten days' trip with the Tufts Glee and Mandolin club and will visit among other places, Detroit, Syracuse, Niagara Falls and New York.

The attendance was not as large as usual owing to the annual banquet and entertainment of the club which will be held tonight.

The Bigelows have arranged for two games on Patriot's Day, both with the Fore River apprentices. One will be played at Ward Two playground and the other at the Fore River grounds. Some fast ball is expected.

It was noticed during the rain Wednesday night and this morning that the water on the streets that had been oiled did not soak into the ground or run off as usual, and that there were an unusual number of puddles.

The Sons of Veterans Auxiliary met Wednesday evening in G. A. R. hall and are very much interested in the new corps formation. they having kept along alone since the falling through of the old corp. The Good of the Order committee have something new and novel for the entertainment.

Edward H. Stetson of Middleboro is the guest of his aunt Mrs. H. O. Studley of Washington street and is being shown the sights and points of interest by his uncle A. W. Stetson.

GREAT NORTHWEST.

Spokane, Wash., April 15.—With a view to interesting commercial bodies in New England, eastern, middlewestern and southern states in the development of new markets in the Pacific Northwest, the local board of control of the National Irrigation Congress has invited several hundred organizations to send special delegates to the seventeenth sessions in Spokane, August 9 to 14. The purpose is to impress upon these representatives that what was once the Great American Desert now offers rich fields to their merchants and manufacturers, and to show them also the economic importance to the entire country of the wonderful development through irrigation.

R. Insinger, chairman of the executive committee of the board of control, says in a letter to these organizations that the United States Reclamation Service now has plans in hand to reclaim 1,910,000 acres of lands at a cost of $70,000,000 in the Northwest, to be completed by 1911.

The board of trade of Worcester, Mass. ,has already arranged a 6,000 mile excursion ,taking in the National Irrigation Congress and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and the Chicago Association of Commerce will send 200 delegates in a special train.

Invitations have been sent to organizations in the following Massachusetts cities: Boston, Springfield, Lynn, Lowell, Fall River, Brockton, Quincy, Gloucester, Fitchburg, Lawrence and Worcester.

The importance of the new markets afforded in the Northwest to eastern and southern manufacturers probably was never better shown than in 1908, when the wealth production of the Spokane country alone amounted to $145,410,000, or $267 per capita of an estimated population of 543,710. This is $1,200 for the average family ,and does not include the value of goods imported or manufactured in the district.

ENTERTAINMENT.

The ladies' aid of the M. E. church West Quincy, held a supper and entertainment, Wednesday and although it rained very hard, a goodly number were present.

An excellent supper consisting of baked beans, salads, etc., was served from six until eight o'clock and was a credit to the ladies who prepared it. The tables were tastefully adorned with pinks and were very attractive.

Following the supper an entertainment was rendered with the following interesting program: Piano solo, Miss Estes; duet, Misses Olive Grant and M. K. Shirley; song, Miss Clara Olsen; duet, Misses Grant and Shirley; song, Miss Clara Olsen; piano solo, Miss Estes. Owing to the storm the reader was detained.

Great credit is due Miss Estes, who comes from Weymouth, for her kindness in coming to West Quincy on such a stormy night and her solos were enjoyed by all.

The duets of Miss Margaret Shirley and Miss Olive Grant, two well known singers of the M. E. church, were greatly appreciated.

Miss Clara Olsen is becoming well known among her friends as one of the sweetest little singers ever heard and although she has not yet reached her teens, she gives promise of becoming a beautiful singer.

NEW MINISTRY IS INSTALLED

Has the Effect of Relieving Tension In Constantinople

MILITARY SITUATION SERIOUS

Leaders In Present Movement, Which Has Wiped Out Committee of Union and Progress, Was Its Mainstay, While Second and Third Army Corps, Should They Remain Faithful, Would Precipitate Civil War

Constantinople, April 15.—After the stirring events of Tuesday and the early part of Wednesday in the Turkish capital, the successful formation of the cabinet and the issuance of an imperial proclamation ordaining the observance of the Sheri laws and the preservation of the constitution has served to bring about a comparatively peaceful situation here. The members of the new cabinet, of which Tewfik Pasha is the grand vizier, have been installed in office.

The formation of the cabinet, although it is not composed according to general expecations, has greatly relieved the tension. The majority of the people passed a sleepless night Tuesday, owing to the continuous discharges of musketry.

Confidence is gradually returning, although the military situation will require all the energies of the new government for its successful handling and the promulgation of wise measures so that the army may be placed on a more satisfactory basis.

One of the first acts of the government will be to supply new officers to replace those who have been rejected by the men, and this will be no easy task. Fortunately, the new minister of war, Edhem Pasha, is generally respected and trusted, and it is believed that he will succeed in restoring order.

Much anxiety is felt concerning the attitude of the Second and Third army corps at Adrianople and Saloniki. Should they remain faithful to the committee on union and progress, the result must be civil war.

It is noteworthy that while the revolution of last July was the work of officers, the present movement was carried forward by the soldiers, aided by the religious party, the leaders in the movement being the very troops, the Saloniki Chausseurs, which heretofore had been the mainstay of the committee of union and progress.

The rising has resulted in the complete obliteration of this committee and its newspaper organs, while many deputies representing the committee group have resigned or remain in their homes.

During the whole thrilling, momentous episode, the salient features of the revolution were the loyalty of the troops and the people to the sultan, whose name was frequently acclaimed, and the absence of attacks on the lives and property of citizens.

The new cabinet held a meeting last night to deliberate on the situation. The grand vizer and Sheik Ul Islam arrived at the porte in state Tuesday afternoon and were cheered by an immense crowd that had gathered there. On the approach of the cortege an intimation was sent to the troops, and the discharges of musketry ceased like magic.

The precincts of the porte were crowded in every part, and the hall where the ministry was installed was packed to overflowing. An imperial decree appointing Tewfik Pasha grand vizier and confirming Zin Eddin Effendi as Sheik Ul Islam, also ordains the strict observance of the Sheri laws and the preservation of the constitution "for the maintainance of the security and progress of the government and country and the welfare of all my people."

SOLID FOR INCOME TAX

Democratic Senators Also Want Reduction of Tariff Schedules

Washington, April 15.—For more than four hours the Democratic members of the senate conferred in an effort to agree upon a policy toward tariff legislation. At the end of that time it was announced that they had agreed to support an income tax amendment and would present a solid front against any Republican opposition to an income tax for raising revenue.

The conference also went on record as favoring a general reduction on tariff schedules, particularly those relating to the necessaries of life.

Dead Man's Fine Remitted

Washington, April 15.—President Taft has remitted the fine of $6000 imposed in the case of Fred L. Pomeroy, a freight official of the New York Central railroad, who was convicted a year or more ago of rebating and sentenced to pay the fine. Pomeroy has died, leaving his widow with little means for support.

Engine Goes Over Embankment

Colebrook, N. H., April 15.—The engine of a work train ran into a washout about half a mile north of the Colebrook station and went over the embankment. No one was hurt. Three miles south of the Colebrook station there is a washout of about 150 feet of track.

INDIAN WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Margiti the little 8-months old Indian girl now exhibiting in the window at Murphy's drug store, with her mother, is a very interesting little Miss . They are demonstrating the Kickapoo Remedies. Indian Women and children are very interesting. As soon as an Indian baby is born, it is placed in a coffin- shaped receptacle, where it passes nearly the whole of the first year of its existence. While the child, either boy or girl, is very young the mother has entire charge; almost as soon as the male child is named its control is taken from its mother and it become practically its own master. The boys growing up as it happens, without restraint of any kind, are subjected only to the wild paternal control of the father, in such duties as are necessary to supply the family with food and to watch and care for the stock. At an early age they become great horsemen, in fact, the Indian boy is a natural animal, knows nothing of right or wrong, as we understand these terms; no dread of punishment restrains him from any act that boyish fun may prompt.

The girls are early taught the lessons of subordination, and begin labor almost as soon as they can walk. The life of an Indian woman is a round of labor, before marriage her duties are generally of the lightest kind, she assists in the cooking, making and repairing the lodge, making and mending clothes, and most of the ornamental bead and feather work comes from her hands.

The hard work develops upon the married woman. The pride of a good Indian wife is in permitting her husband to do nothing for himself, she cooks his food, makes his lodge and clothing, dresses his skins, butchers the game, dries his meat, and goes after and saddles his horse. What she gets in exchange for all this devotion is impossible to say, but it is absolutely certain that a happier, more lighthearted, and more contented woman never lived. Every one should see the Indian Woman and the little Indian girl now on exhibition at Murphy's drug store.

FORE RIVER NOTES.

The works will be closed on Monday, April 19th, Patriot's Day. Only such repair work as is necessary will go on. Work will be resumed as usual on Tuesday, April 20, 1909.

Preparations are being made at the shipyard for the laying down of the new steam yacht which the company has signed a contract to build for Commodore A. C. James, of the New York Yacht Club. The new yacht will be built of steel, of the sea-going type, 216 feet, overall, 35 feet, beam, to be delivered in 10 months. The hull number will be 177, and the job order system used on the colliers will be followed.

Numerous contracts have been secured by the company for the construction complete of motor boats of the latest design. With reference to the motor boats now building, it has been decided to number them consecutively in an "A" series. The 26 ft. boat will be numbered A-1. The 25 foot speed boat will be numbered A-2. The 33 foot boat will be numbered A-3, and so on. No numbers, at present, will be assigned to the metal boats, but later on they will be given a different series of numbers and the eighth metal life boats already built will be included in that series.

James E. Neary, superintendent of the manual training division, who is acting manager of the Fore River apprentice baseball team is quite confident that his team will trim the fast Makaria team Saturday afternoon, April 17, at the Fore River athletic grounds, Quincy Point. The game will be called at 3.30 P. M.

The Sectional Rubber Company is having 40 wheel frames manufactured at the works.

NORFOLK SUPERIOR COURT.

In the session of the Norfolk Superior criminal court held Wednesday at Dedham, Charles T. Bagen of Quincy pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking and entering and was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory for an indefinite period. The break occurred the night of Dec. 27, 1908, when the store of William A. Bradford Co. of Chestnut street was entered and the safe smashed. Charles Bagen was arrested the next day by Inspector Goodhue.

When he appeared in the local court he pleaded not guilty, and was held for the grand jury.

Ida Oja of Quincy pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter in killing her infant child Jan. 19, 1909. She was sent to the reformatory in Sherborn.

George Drake of Quincy pleaded guilty to the charge of felonious assault and was sentenced to three years in the house of correction.

Antonio Carlo of Quincy was found guilty of illegally keeping and exposing liquor for sale three months before Sept. 13, 1907.

The annual dramatics of the senior class of Quincy High school will be held April 30, in the High school hall.

PARDON GRANTED AN EMBEZZLER

Former Treasurer of Haverhill Leaves State Prison

Boston, April 15.—Ex-City Treasurer John A. Glines of Haverhill, who has served all but five weeks of a five-year term for embezzlement, was granted a pardon by Governor Draper, and Glines left Charlestown last night with Mrs. Glines, who had come from their home to meet him.

The fact of Glines' arrest and trial caused a sensation throughout the commonwealth. Glines had an excellent reputation for industry and honesty.

The testimony showed that he had been led into speculation, and that at first he raised money upon his real estate and lost it, and then took the money of the city with the intention of replacing it.

AN ENDURANCE CONTEST

Race to Top of Mount Wilson by Many Amateur Athletes

Pasadena, Cal., April 15.—Crack athletes from all over the west are entered in today's race to the top of Mount Wilson, north of this city. The unique character of the event and its great success last year have aroused much interest among the sports and others attracted by endurance contests and have drawn here runners desirous of making the 6000 foot ascent in quicker time than that made by Joe King last year. There is little doubt that King's record, 1 hour 25 minutes 30 seconds, will be broken today.

Last year's race consisted of the ascent to the top of the mountain and the descent, but this year the ascent alone will count. The descent is considered too dangerous for men trying to make time. On the way up and down Mount Wilson the men cross numerous streams and wind around canyons over 3000 feet deep.

At least thirty men will face the starter and will be sent away at intervals of three minutes. Only amateur athletes are eligible to enter the race. The winners will receive medals.

DISPLAYING CIVIC PRIDE

Washington Society Women Picking Up Papers From the Streets

Washington, April 15.—Today is "clean up" day in the national capital. The women of Washington, determined to show that the littered condition of some of the streets is not their fault, decided some time ago to devote part of today to clearing up the stray bits of paper that are eyesores to the residents with proper civic pride.

Accordingly, at 9 o'clock this morning and later, the spectacle was presented of many well dressed women in some of the finest residential districts personally picking up the papers in the streets and and parks near their homes. The movement was headed by the Twentieth Century club, which embraces in its membership many women of Washington's best known families.

MINISTER KILLED BY TRAIN

Became Confused and Pitched From Platform In New York Subway

New York, April 15.—Preparatory to his first ride in the subway, Rev. Samuel W. Nesbit, a Methodist minister from Tipperary, Ire., lost his balance and fell to the track in a down-town station and was crushed by a train, dying in a few hours.

Nesbit and his 16-year-old daughter, whom he came to this country to visit, were on their way to see friends in New Jersey. It is supposed the minister became confused by the noise and pitched headlong from the platform.

The minister was 56 years old and has a son in this country, Rev. Samuel W. Nesbit, Jr., of Elgin, Neb.

MAIL DELIVERY BY AUTOS

Experiment In New York Which Is Expected to Prove Practicable

New York, April 15.—Another evidence of Yankee progress—mail delivery by automobile—the first experiment of the kind to be adopted by the postoffice department, begun in New York at midnight last night, when four high power electric machines were placed in commission in the upper part of the city.

An extension of the service will depend largely upon the success of the first experiments, although indications are that it will be practicable.

Famous Inn Burned

Asheville, N. C., April 15.—Of the once beautiful Kenilworth Inn, which had housed some of the country's greatest celebrities, nothing remains but a pile of charred and smouldering ruins. Notwithstanding the alarm of fire was sounded when all the guests were asleep, only one person was injured, Joseph M. Gazzam, owner of the hotel, who jumped from a third-story window and sustained internal injuries. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Professor—What is the matter with Mr. ——?

Voice From the Rear Seat—Aw, cut it out!

There will be an exhibition tonight at the Y. M. C. A. by the older employed boys and seniors, assisted by talent from Harvard and the Salem Y. M. C. A. This will be the closing demonstration of the physical department for the year.

Members Of Granite City Club Hold Annual Banquet

AFFAIR PRONOUNCED MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER HELD.

Clever Vaudeville Entertainment Adds Finishing Touch.

One of the best of the many good times held by the Granite City club, was the annual banquet and entertainment which was held Thursday evening.

In other years these annual events have been held at a Boston hotel, with a theatre party.

This year however it was decided to hold the affair at home. It proved a wise move for there was a much larger attendance than usual and the universal verdict was that it was the best yet.

The banquet was held in Colonial hall and the dinner was served by Anthony Thompson the City Square restauranter

The tables were very attractively arranged. Many of the handsomest of Johnson's flowering plants were used in the decorations and in addition to these were numerous large ferns while at each plate was a fragrant carnation. Goodman's orchestra occupied the platform and furnished continuous music during the banquet.

Their program included all of the popular airs and they were accompanied by the musical voices of the club members.

The members and their friends gathered in the club rooms and promptly at 7 o'clock they marched to the hall below.

President Tilden led the way with Mayor Shea who occupied seats at the head table. Others at this table were Vice President Sheppard and James H. Penniman the veteran club member, Senator Hultman, Representative Thomas, President Hobbs of the City Council, Dexter E. Wadsworth, James H. Penniman, Dr. Fred E. Jones and Dr. C. W. Garey the club's ex-president, City Solicitor, John W. McAnarney, Clerk Mitchell, treasurer Ewell and John Q. Cutworth of the House committee.

The dinner was well cooked and well served and pronounced excellent, at its conclusion the diners' faces all wore that "I am satified" look.

The menu was as follows: lobster salad, potato salad, celery, radishes, roast spring chicken, Parisian potatoes, string beans, hot rolls, assorted cake, vanilla strawberry and chocolate ice cream and coffee.

At the conclusion of the dinner envelopes containing three LaRosa de Junco cigars were placed at each plate. These were presented by J. H. Johnson, one of the club members who handles this brand of cigars.

The dinner was over at 8.30 and then the foot lights of the stage were lit for the entertainment which was to follow.

Vaudeville acts composed the program the performers being well known vaudeville stars from the Keith circuit.

There were six acts on the program and as each responded to an encore it was 10 o'clock before the curtin was rung down for the last act.

Then the only Galen was prevailed upon to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" during which all remained standing.

Galen's voice was in good tune and as he completed his selection he was showered with souvenirs.

An adjournment was then made to the club rooms where the orchestra gave a concert. Some prefered to sit and listen to this while others enjoyed themselves with billards or cards.

At 11.30 lights were out and the members and guests sought the quietness of their own homes. Thus the annual banquet and entertainment of 1909 came to an end.

E. M. SULLIVAN THE SPEAKER.

Assistant U. S. Dist. Attorney Tells K. of C. About Department of Justice.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, assistant U. S. district attorney, of Boston, addressed the local council, Knights of Columbus, Thursday evening after their regular meeting. Mr. Sullivan spoke on the "Department of Justice of the United States." He is an interesting and impressive speaker and held his audience at all times.

Mr. Sullivan is a Knight of Columbus in his home town of Beverly. He graduated from Boston College in 1900 and from Harvard Law in 1904. His rise has been rapid since and now he stands high in the legal profession. He gave an excellent talk on what the department of justice is and does and told anecdotes of real experiences before the bar.

It was announced at the meeting that the next speaker would be Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, ex-mayor of Boston, who will address the council Sunday, April 25. Mr. Sullivan was given a rising vote of thanks by the members for his interesting address.

Fred Smith, the well known local ball player, who is with Providence in the Eastern league, is making good with a vengeance, according to reports from the Rhode Island capital. Fred signed as a catcher, but is playing third base and Hugh Duffy considers him a good find.

HAS BALANCE IN TREASURY

Wollaston Baptist Society In Flourishing Condition.

ORDER TO INCREASE TRUST FUND ADOPTED.

Other Business Transacted and Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist society of Wollaston was held in the vestry on Thursday evening.

Supper was served at 6.30 by the following committee with Miss Edith Barker in charge:

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, Mrs. H. A. Rideout, Miss Marjorie Rideout, Mrs. Wellington Record, Mrs. J. L. Rand, Mrs. E. F. Goodspeed, Mrs. J. A. Sparrow, Mrs. Charles Roach, Mrs. T. A. Rippey, Mrs. C. G. Sheppard, Mrs. E. A. Sprague, Mrs. and Miss Salsman, Mrs. G. B. Huntington, Mrs. William Waring, Mrs Linscott and Mrs. Charles Goodspeed.

The tables were very prettily decorated the general scheme being cherry blossoms. These were artificially forced by one of the members of the parish and added greatly to the beauty of the tables.

The business meeting opened at eight o'clock with prayer by Rev. Thomas S. Barbour, D. D., Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor of the church presiding. There were 117 present. The membership of the society at the present time is 292 being seven over that of last year.

The church records of the past year and the clerk's report were read and placed on file.

The treasurer's report was also read. Leaving out of consideration the mortgage on the church, which is steadily being paid off, the books showed the difference between the resources and liabilities of $1.90, thus, as one of the trustees said, leaving the church with a clean sheet.

The following persons reported for the various offices and committees:

Mrs. J. P. Perry, collector; F. H. Corey, auditor; H. A. Burgess, weekly offering committee; George E. Thomas, benevolent fund; Mrs. E. L. Durgin, social and benevolent society and George F. Pinkham for the board of trustees.

With his report Mr. Pinkham handed in his resignation from the board. This was brought about by the decision of the society five years ago to have the office of trustee expire by rotation.

Since the organization of the church in 1871 Mr. Pinkham, who was nearly the first inhabitant of Wollaston, has been an interested and unceasing worker for the interests of the church.

He has been a continuous member of the board of trustees since that body was organized in 1872 up to the present time with the exception of the year 1886-7 and 1894.

With the acceptance of his resignation Mr. Pinkham was tendered a rising vote of thanks for his many years of faithful service.

The recommendation of the trustees that the trust fund be increased by $180 called forth a lengthy discussion. It was finally voted, however, to carry out the suggestion owing to the prospects of an exceedingly successful year in view.

As chairman of the benevolent committee Charles E. Goodspeed reported in favor of a new system for the collection of funds for this work. This brought about a lively discussion of the relative needs and importance of the foreign missions as compared with the home missions. Several present spoke at length on the subject.

The following list of officers and committees recommended by H. A. Burgess as chairman of the nominating committee was elected for the ensuing year:

Clerk—J. A. Sparrow.
Treasurer—C. W. Bailey.
Collector—H. D. Black.
Auditor—T. H. Corey.
Trustees—J. G. Mills, Charles B. Hall, Charles E. Goodspeed, Frank Burgess, Amos D. Albee, (George F. Pinkham, honorary member.)

Standing Committee—Pastor, deacons, clerk, Sunday school superintendent and Mrs. George A. Brown, Mrs. George B. Huntington, Mrs. F. R. Mills and Mrs. Harry A. Burgess.

Musical director—Amos D Albee.

Pianists—Miss Bessie Drew, Mrs. W. R. Dimock, Mrs. C. M. Roach, Mrs. J. P Perry, Miss Mary Critchley

Weekly Offering committee—Harry A. Burgess, Mrs. F. H. Corey, Mrs. E. B. Badger, Eben Hardy, Edwin L Gannett, Mrs C. D. Young, Mrs. J. P. Perry.

Missionary Committee—Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Walther, George B. Huntington, George E. Thomas, Charles E. Goodspeed, Mrs. George F. Pinkham, Mrs. George A. Brown, Mrs. Waring.

Ushers—Chester Gurney, James Cahill, William Bullock, Theodore Corey

MAYOR FEELS ENCOURAGED.

Conference With Highway Commission Expected To Bear Fruit.

Mayor Shea feels very much encouraged over the result of his conference Thursday with the Highway Commission, whom he urged to accept and build another section of Quincy avenue. Senator Hultman and Representatives Thomas and Langelier were also present at the conference to urge along the great work.

They put up a strong argument why the commission should accept Quincy avenue and while no promise was made, it is felt that the arguments advanced were convincing and that they will bear fruit.

BOYS DO ALL KINDS OF STUNTS

Y. M. C. A. Closing Exhibition Highly Successful

WRESTLING MATCH PROVES BIG DRAWING CARD.

Harvard and Salem Y. M. C. A. Boys Equally Pleasing.

The closing demonstration of the physical training department of the local Y. M. C. A., was held Thursday evening in the gym. It was a fitting close for a busy and successful season and the largest crowd of the winter was in attendance.

The exhibition was given by the older employed boys and the seniors, who were assisted by talent secured from the Salem Y. M. C. A. and from Harvard University. Some fancy stunts were performed by the visitors, they seeming able to do almost anything in the gym work line.

The features of the evening were a boxing match and a wrestling exhibition. In the boxing bout Edward Pitts, as James J. Jefferies, and Boyd Trask, as Battling Nelson, fought three rounds, Jefferies having a little something on his lighter opponent. The bout caused a lot of fun and the way the two boxers danced around the gym was surely laughable.

Carl Anderson of Harvard and his partner Oscar Stromm gave an exhibition in wrestling. Mr. Anderson is ex-amateur middle-weight champion of the world and went to England last summer with the American Olympic team. In the Olympic matches, however he went into the heavyweight class and was unable to win. He is now instructor of wrestling at Harvard.

Mr. Stromm comes from Boston and is a member of the Posse gymnasium. He is a new corner in the wrestling games but looks very good. He took second prize in the recent New England amateur championships held under the auspices of Armory, A. A. in Boston.

These two wrestlers first showed a few of the holds used by some of the well known wrestlers, including the famous toe hold used by Champion Gotch.

After showing these holds, the pair gave a ten minute exhibition match. Both struggled with might and main to throw each other, but neither was able to secure a fall in the ten minute go. One of Mr. Anderson's favorite holds was the combination neck and crotch hold ending with the legs locked about the opponent's head when the fall is made. He tried it several times, but his friend Oscar slipped away each time. Both got a great hand when time was called.

The complete program of the exhibition follows:

MRS. ELIZABETH R. WARREN.

Former Quincy Woman Dies Suddenly in London.

Word has been received announcing the sudden death in London, England, Thursday of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Warren widow of Benjamin H. Warren.

Mrs. Warren was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Mitchell. She was born in Quincy and resided with her parents at the corner of Hancock and School streets up to the time of her marriage.

Mrs. Warren was educated at Bradford academy and in 1877 married B. H. Warren, who had recently resigned from the service as an officer in the engineer corps of the U. S. navy to engage in business life. Mr. Warren was for some years vice president of the Westinghouse electric and manufacturing company of Pittsburg and subsequently president of the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee.

Since her husband's death, in 1906, Mrs. Warren, with her daughters, had been traveling in Europe, intending to return to America in May to pass the summer at Scarboro, Me., the country home of her brother-in-law, Arthur Warren.

Three children survive her, a son, Howard Lindsay Warren, who graduated from Harvard in 1906 and who is now in Texas, and two daughters, Helen and Margaret, who will sail Saturday on the St. Louis for New York, accompanying their mother's body to Quincy, where the funeral services will be held on probably, the 25th or 26th, the date to be announced definitely next week.

Her only near relative living in this city is Arthur L. Mitchell of Atlantic.

S. OF V. ORGANIZE NEW CAMP

Officers Installed At G. A. R. Hall Thursday Night.

ORGANIZATION TO BE KNOWN AS COL. A. B. PACKARD CAMP.

Membership of Fifty Expected To Be Greatly Increased.

Colonel Abner B. Packard camp, No. 95, Sons of Veterans, held an election and installation of officers Thursday evening in Grand Army hall, about 150 visitors being present from camps in East Weymouth, Braintree and East Milton, and from the G. A. R. posts of Quincy and Braintree. The officers were installed by Division Organizer Wellington of Weymouth.

The officers elected and installed were: Commander, George F. Philips; Senior Vice-Commander, Frank Stoddard; Junior Vice Commander, E. W. Graham; Adjutant, Leonard Hewson; Quartermaster, Harry Gould; Chaplain, J. C. McNeil; Guide, Charles French; Color Bearer, C. F. Strattard; Inside Sentinel, Arthur French; Camp Council, Parker Souther, A. C. Whitman and Warren R. Parker.

After the installing exercises were over, there were remarks by several men prominent in Sons of Veteran camp circles and G. A. R. cirles. Among these were. Division Commander Waring, Com. Geo. L. Philips and Senior Vice-Commander Thomas Ring of Post 88, G. A. R., Division Organizer Wellington of Weymouth, Secretary Strattard and Commander of Camp 74 of Milton, Commander Frank Sampson of East Weymouth camp, Past Commander Frank Chubbuck of East Milton camp, George W. Gragg of Maine camp, and Albert C. Whitman of the newly formed Abner B. Packard camp.

The camp is to meet the first and third Fridays of the month, beginning the first Friday in May.

About 50 members have joined the camp, and this number is expected to reach 200 before long. At one time it looked as if a camp would never be formed, but those who started it, worked hard and earnestly, and the new camp is the result.

Col. Abner B. Packard, for whom the new camp of the Sons of Veterans is named, was born in Quincy in 1821, and was one of a family of eighteen children, nearly all of whom lived to advanced age. On completing his education he learned the trade of currier, after which he engaged in the manufacture of boots on quite an extensive scale; this not proving quite as successful as he desired he engaged with his brothers in the Blacking business, which, in connection with the metal business, furnished employment for a large number of hands.

In 1854 a political organization resolved into a company of the State Militia, of which Mr. Packard was elected Captain. This company was merged with the regiment shortly after Mr. Packard was elected Colonel. This was one of the largest regiments in the State. There were numerous conferences with the then Governor, John A. Andrew, by the various military officers of the State Militia, and assurances were given them direct from the State House that while in all probability everything would be settled up satisfactorily,

The ideal republic will be achieved when everybody can govern and nobody will be governed.

Rockefeller believes in the conversation of reminiscences rather than in extravagant biographies.

It is almost time for the ice man to explain that last winters crop was very short and partly a failure.

During the panic caused by a mouse, an Indiana woman caught the varmint alive and has it now as a pet. All our dazzling bravery is not on the road to inky Africa just yet.

A bill has been introduced to pay Congressmen $5,000 per annum instead of $7,500. It is not expected that its consideration will interfere with an early adjournment.

Already there has been an attempt at an insurrection in Cuba, and there is every reason to fear there will be others. Governor Magoon, during his Governorship of the Island, greatly surprised, disappointed and disgusted would-be revolutionists by treating them seriously as ordinary criminals, and it will conduce to the cause of good government in Cuba if the native administration should adopt the some course.

When we attain our natural place as one of the greatest of the manufacturing and exporting nations, as a result of our developed industries, the protective duties must decrease and revenues from tariffs must diminish. Therefore, to those who are looking forward to this happy condition of national affairs, the Payne bill should be especially welcome, since in imposing a permanent federal inheritance tax it at least points the way to a gradual shifting of the basis of federal taxation.

The excellent work performed by the Wireless telegraph station at Fort Worden, on Puget Sound, is made the subject of a report from the chief officer of the army at that station. The station at times communicates with San Francisco and it has no difficulty at night in exchanging messages with the station at Cape Blanco, 325 miles distant, and with Table Bluff, California, 525 miles distant. Constant communication is maintained with stations within a radius of from 250 to 300 miles.

Announcement is made that the bronze statue of James J. Hill which is to be placed in the centre of the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, is about completed. The statue, of heroic size and to be mounted upon a granite pedestal, will be placed permanently, at the close of the exposition, on the campus of the state university at Seattle. The statue is a tribute from the people of the Northwest to the genius of Mr. Hill in the construction of the Great Northern Railroad, and has been paid for by popular subscription.

It is announced that the greatest anxiety is felt by the officers of the Navy General Board and the board of construction regarding the efficiency of the battleship North Dakota because she is equipped with the Curtis type of turbine, which has demonstrated, on the scout cruiser Salem, an ability to eat up coal at a ruinous rate. According to the tests now in progress it is found that the Salem requires 202 tons of coal an hour to make twenty knots, while the Chester, equipped with the Parsons type of turbine, makes the same speed with 157 tons, and the Birmingham, with reciprocating engines, makes the speed with less than 154 tons. It was expected the test of the scout cruisers would demonstrate that the turbine mechanism involved a greater coal consumption than that of reciprocating engines, but no such discrepancy was expected as the tests thus far have shown.

—Work on the Pilgrim monument at Provincetown has been resumed and it will be completed by Sept. 1.

MARINES LYNCH NAVAL OFFICER

Battleship Commander Killed Before the Yildiz Kiosk

PALACE GUARD IS POWERLESS

Victim Had Supported Committee of Union and Progress When Uprising Was at Its Height—Disquieting News From Saloniki and Monastir—"Only Ten" Armenians Killed In Masacre In Asia Minor

Constantinople, April 16.—The third day of the revolutionary movement in the capital was marked by some disorders, the most serious of which was a demonstration by marines, who objected to the new minister of marine, Vice Admiral Adjidmin Pasha.

The marines gathered in force and seized and conveyed to the palace Arif Bey, commander of the battleship Assar-I-Tewfik, a member of the committee of union and progress, who ordered the guns of his ship trained on the Yildiz Kiosk when the rising was at its height, with the intention of supporting the committee. Arrived at the Yildiz Kiosk, the men lynched Arif Bey, notwithstanding the efforts of the palace guard to save him.

Porte circles are extremely disquieted by news from Saloniki and Monastir, where the influence of the committee of union and progress is strong. Officials of the porte have received telegrams from these sections, demanding the re-establishment of the status quo ante, failing which the committee leaders threaten to march on Constantinople with the entire Third army corps, whose officers are now in command of the Second army corps, with a view to co-operation.

The latter corps, however, recently opposed the committee. The impression prevails here that the Third army corps is ignorant of the real object of Tuesday's rising, and may depart from its warlike intentions when it realizes that the parliament and the constitution have been maintained.

The first news from Mersina was exaggerated. Early advices stated that a massacre of Armenians was in progress at that place, which is a seaport of Asia Minor on the Mediterranean. The disturbance in reality occurred at Adana, which is about 36 miles from Mersina. Only ten Armenians were killed. Martial law has been proclaimed there.

The number of casualties during the disturbances of the last few days has not been established, but is believed to be comparatively small. It is alleged that many officers disguised as privates participated in the movement, tending to confirm the assertion that the mutiny was directed exclusively against those officers of the army who were members of the committee of union and progress.

Ambassador Takahira Will Make a Trip In Submarine Boat

Bridgeport, Conn., April 16.—This city will entertain distinguished guests today in the persons of Baron Kogoro Takahira, Japanese ambassador to the United States; Captain J.B.Murdock of the battleship Rhode Island, Representatives Hill and Moore and other government officials. They will be the guests of the local board of trade.

Among the features of Baron Takahira's visit will be a trip on the submarine boat Lake, now lying in the harbor. The diplomat is greatly interested in the development of submarine navigation and has expressed a desire to inspect the workings of the Lake.

WRIGHT FLIES IN ITALY

Spectators Delighted at Sailing Qualities of American's Aeroplane

Rome, April 16.—Wilbur Wright made his first appearance on the field at Cent Scele Thursday afternoon. Thousands had gathered there and his flight was excellent and brought forth plaudits from the assembled multitude.

The aeroplane rose almost in a straight line to a height of 180 feet. It skimmed to and fro and came again to the earth, gracefully and easily.

The spectators threw their hats in the air, waved handkerchiefs and cheered the American aeroplanist

Charges Against Naval Lieutenant

Washington, April 16.—Upon the request of Lieutenant Evans, the secretary of the navy appointed a court of inquiry to investigate the conduct of Lieutenant Osborn of the monitor Cheyenne. Osborn is charged by Evans, it is said, with having been the cause of the separation between Evans and his wife.

Bay State Liquor Legislation

Boston, April 16.—The bill to limit liquor licenses outside of Boston to one licensed place in 1200 of population in cities and towns was passed to be engrossed by the state senate.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN RATES OF DUTY

Taft Suggests Tariff Revision For the Philippines

Washington, April 16.—President Taft sent his second special message to congress Thursday. In two ways it was like the first in that it was a model of brevity and that it was on the subject of the tariff. A revision of the Philippines tariff so as to permit as much revenue as possible, while extending sufficient protection to the islands' industries, was recommended.

There will be an increase in internal revenue duties by which it is hoped to make up the loss which the Philippine Islands will sustain by the operation of the free trade provisions in the pending Payne tariff bill. The internal revenue laws for the Philippines are enacted by the Philippine assembly.

BARRETT'S BANQUET

It Brings Together Representatives of Many Republics

Washington, April 16.—Elaborate decorations, speeches by men of international prominence and the greatest of good cheer were the features which made the banquet given here last night in honor of Chairman Knox and the members of the governing board of the international bureau of American republics by John Barrett, director of the bureau, one of national and international significance.

The guests were seated at twenty-one tables, each table being named after one of the republics whose representatives are serving their country here in a diplomatic capacity.

Music, food, decorations, toasts, speeches, everything was international. The dishes were characteristic of Latin-America, most of them never having been served before in Washington.

Immediately after the drinking of a toast to the presidents of the American republics the large banquet hall was darkened and to the strains of music from the national hymn of each of the republics, upon a screen at the end of the hall was displayed the flag of the country whose national hymn was being played at that moment. Following the showing of each flag stereopticon pictures of scenes in the country represented were shown.

The object of the dinner was to emphasize the development of closer relations of commerce and friendship between the United States and her sister republics of Latin-America.

KILMER'S RESOLUTION

It Provides For Naming Our Army Regiments After War Heroes

New York, April 16.—At tonight's encampment of Lafayette post, No. 140, Grand Army of the Republic, one of the largest posts in the organization, a resolution of interest to all patriotic Americans and students of American history will be offered by Captain George L. Kilmer, a well known veteran and writer on war topics.

Captain Kilmer believes that the custom of naming forts and vessels of a certain class in the navy after soldiers and sailors distinguished in the service of the country could be followed with advantage in the army. His resolution declares that "as a stimulus to patriotic thought and feeling and for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of the many heroes of the republic every regiment, battery or corps having permanent organization in the army should bear, in addition to its numerical designation, the name of a soldier of meritorious record in war." As a beginning it is recommended that the Ninth infantry be known as the "Stannard regiment" in honor of General George J. Stannard, who commanded the brigade which repulsed Pickett's charge at Gettysburg.

Captain Kilmer's resolution has been approved by several well known veterans of the cival war, and Lafayette post is expected to recommend the matter to the military authorities. Several regiments of the British bear the names of heroes of that service.

TRIAL IS FAIRLY ON

It Has Taken Three Months to Secure Jury to Try Calhoun

San Francisco, April 16.—After three months used in completing a jury, the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, has reached the testimony taking stage.

When court adjourned Thursday, Ferdinand P. Nichols, the former supervisor who is accused of accepting a bribe paid by Calhoun through Abraham Ruef, had been ordered to answer the first vital question in the case.

Labor Measure Turned Down

Boston, April 16.—The Massachusetts senate reversed the recent action of the house on the bill to allow trade unions to impose fines on their members. It voted without debate and on rollcall to reject the bill substituted by the house.

Fulton Declines Chinese Mission

Astoria, Ore., April 16.—Former Senator Fulton telegraphed President Taft declining the appointment of minister to China. He says he wishes to resume the practice of law.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

$4.00

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

GOVERNMENT HAS BIG PLANT

Stock of Carroll Springs Distillery Included In Seizure

SIX MEN HELD UNDER BONDS

Alleged to Have Substituted New Whisky, on Which No Tax Had Been Paid, For Old Whisky Taken From Warehouses—Treasury Department Claims to Have Been Deprived of Over $16,000 In Revenue

Baltimore, April 16.—Acting on instructions from Washington, United States Marshal Langhammer and Revenue Inspector Miller, with deputy marshals, seized the plant and stock of the Carroll Springs Distillery company in this city. The whole plant is now in the custody of a special watchman.

At the same time six men connected with the distillery were arrested. They are H. J. Daly, Jr., manager; George F. Conway, bookkeeper; John Hackham, still master; Henry Weithgar and John Travers, warehousemen, and John Olix, driver.

Subsequently they were released for a hearing next Thursday before Commissioner Bond, Daly on $5000 bail and the others on bail of $2000 each. A. Kahrs, another driver, will be arrested later, he not having been at the distillery when the others were taken into custody.

The seizure and arrests were made upon charges that the men named, on or about July 1, 1908, and Jan. 1, 1909, conspired to defraud the government by taking out of the warehouse of the distillery and selling old whisky and substituting therefor new whisky on which no tax had been paid.

Daly declares that there has been no irregularities in the conduct of the distillery and that the government will be made to pay for what he looks upon as merely a temporary interruption of the work of the plant.

The property seized is valued, according to Daly, at about $250,000, of which three-fifths is given as the value of the plant. The quantity of whisky seized was 8000 barrels.

Two Courses Open to Company

Washington, April 16.—The commissioner of international reveaue has received the official report on the seizure under his instruction of the Carroll Springs distillery. It is stated at the treasury department that the government has been deprived of over $16,000 in revenue taxes.

There are two courses open to the company to get back their distilleries, either to take the case to the courts or pay the government the amount of loss it claims to have sustained.

RACE BETTERMENT

Subject of Discussion at Philadelphia Convention of Scientists

Philadelphia, April 16.—"Race Improvement In the United States" and "The Development of Physical Welfare Through Social Environment" are the principal topics for discussion at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science in this city today and tomorrow.

Among those taking part in the various discussions are men of national prominence. The exhibit on congestion in cities is in charge of Benjamin C. Marsh, secretary of the New York committee on congestion in cities.

On the program are Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor; John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers; Congressman Herbert Parsons of New York, Congressman William S. Bennet of the immigration commision, Dr. Luther H. Gulick of New York and Roy Stannard Baker, who will discuss the liquor problem in its relation to the race problem in the south.

Ketchell's Mother Certain of Outcome of Bout With Johnson

Detroit, April 16.—When Stanley Ketchell makes his attempt to wrest the laurels of the prize ring from the colored race at Colma, Cal., next October, his mother, Mrs. Kerop Arzooman, will be on hand to see the battle.

"Yes, Stanley told me to get ready," said Mrs. Arzooman. "He wants me to see him when he takes the championship from Johnson, and I want to be there too. I always did bring him luck and I won't go back on him now."

Mt. Etna Reported In Eruption

Paris, April 16.—A dispatch from Naples says that Mt. Etna is in eruption and that showers of cinders have fallen on Catania. Many of the inhabitants, the dispatch says, have fled. Stromboli, it is asserted, also is active.

Robbers Held Back Crowd

Wellsville, Mo., April 16.—Four masked men robbed the postoffice here. Citizens were held back at the points of revolvers while the robbers drove away in a buggy.

Claimed to Be 123 Years Old

Spartanburg, S. C., April 16.—Ed Sharpe, a negro, who claimed to be 123 years old, the oldest person in the state, died at Cedar Springs, near here.

WHEAT PLUNGER NEAR DEFEAT

Frantic Buying Prevents Collapse of the Fatten Corner

PRICES TAKE A GREAT TUMBLE

Purchases of "Wheat King" and Immediate Associates Within the Last Fifteen Minutes of Trading In Chicago Pit Reaches Three Million Bushels—Hoard of Many a Small Speculator Disappears

Chicago, April 16.—"Wheat King" Patten put up a fight for life during fifteen minutes of fortune wrecking in "the pit" Thursday afternoon. Several times Patten was standing in the very shadow of defeat. Each time he bought more July.

The fight will be renewed today and it is rumored that Patten has been so weakened by his losses of Thursday that he may go down with a crash.

It had been a calm day on the board of trade, and the stuff that makes bread had kept up its docile advance to a new high level. Then it suddenly dropped an extreme 4⅜ cents.

Panic followed. "Fortunes" of small speculators were swept away in a few seconds. It was only Patten's exertions that saved his bull friends from utter rout. Within the last fifteen minutes of trading Patten bought 3,000,000 bushels of wheat for July delivery.

The white he chewed the stub of a cigar and ran his fingers reflectively through his unshaven gray stubble which there had been no time to remove from his face. A carnation adorned his coat lapel, but there was a layer of Chicago dust on his coat and hat.

"Nothing but a flurry," he said, but that was after the turbulent pit had been deserted for the day.

During the final quarter of an hour he was a very busy man. Into the corridor of the Western Union building, in which the Bartlett-Patten offices are, floated the sound of high-pitched nervous voices as clerks at the telephone shot in buying orders to other clerks in the pit. "Buy 50. Buy 100. Buy 25."

These numbers referred to thousands of bushels of wheat, and there were many smaller ones—so many, in fact, that not all of them were filled. It was a physical impossibility to do so.

Patten personally visited the floor of the exchange and directed his own deals by word of mouth.

It was Patten against the field, and the final gong showed that the former, apparently, was as mighty as ever. His purchases and those of his followers, together with the profit-taking of shorts, who lost no time in securing the fruits of their bearish daring, caused a reaction of over a cent all along the line. But before this occurred the hoard of many a small speculator had gone.

Far from the maddening strife on the board, in hundreds of bakeries there was a different, although related, scene. Flour had risen and the bakers were trying to find out where their profits were coming from unless the price of bread could be raised.

According to one of the largest bakers in the city, the price of flour has doubled in the last six years; lard has done likewise; milk has advanced 33 1-3 percent; delivery charges have doubled, and yet the price of bread remains the same. Three years ago, when flour prices were on a rampage, many bakers saved their profits by reducing the weight of their loaves, and the quality of flour used.

But it is said there is no further extreme of economy to which they can go, and meanwhile they allege that their net earnings are nil. So far, however, no concerted action has been taken with regard to the situation.

$2 Rise In Flour In Minnesota

Minneapolis, April 16.—The sustained bull market in wheat has resulted in the boosting of the price of flour in Minneapolis until first patents now sell at from $6 to $6.20 a barrel, or about $2 a barrel more than prices long prevailing here.

Wealthy Man Dies Suddenly

Pittsfield, Mass., April 16.—George W. Burbank, a wealthy retired builder and contractor and owner of large real estate interests in this city, who is said to have erected more buildings in Pittsfield than any other man, died suddenly at his home. He was 72 years of age.

Taft at Yale Meeting

New Haven, April 16.—The meeting of the Yale Corporation here, which was attended by President Taft, was devoted almost entirely to a general discussion regarding the development of instruction and the location of future buildings.

Roosevelt Sees Sights of Aden

Aden, Arabia, April 16.—Steamer Admiral left here last evening on her way to Mombasa, where she is due April 21. Mr. Roosevelt took a drive through Aden, seeing the sights.

Awaiting Stork's Arrival

The Hague, April 16.—The queen mother has taken up her permanent residence in the palace to await the confinement of her daughter, Queen Wilhelmina.

CITY BRIEFS.

The condition of Beale street since its recent repairs, has been greatly improved.

Russell Jones son of George W. Jones underwent an operation for appendicitis Thursday.

A pleasant time was enjoyed at the dancing party of the Dorothy Q. lodge in Wollaston hall on Thursday evening.

A meeting of the Loyal Temperance Legion was held in the vestry of the Wollaston Methodist church this afternoon.

The Quincy Catholic club will hold a guest night entertainment tonight at Colonial hall. A pleasing program has been arranged.

Mlle. Sigrid Westerlind, the Swedish-Finnish soprano, who sings tonight at Music hall, has arrived and has been sightseeing about the city.

Chief Engineer Williams who has been confined to his home by illness due to a severe cold is convalescent and expects to be out again next week.

The Neighborly whist club met with Mrs. Thomas Hoyle Thursday evening at her home on Bay View street. Mrs. John F. Donovan and William T. Donovan won the first prizes, while the consolation prizes were captured by Mrs. John F. Bruton and David Curtin. After the whist a social hour was spent with music and refreshments.

The Junior C. E of Bethany church is to give a free missionary entertainment in Bethany chapel, Saturday, at 3 P. M. Mrs. Theophilus King will tell the story of a Heart illustrated by children in costume. A collection will be received and ice cream sold. Proceeds for missionary work among children in foreign lands.

The advance sale of tickets assures a large audience tonight at Quincy Music hall to greet the Swedish-Finnish singer, Mlle. Sigrid Westerlind, who will be assisted by the Edgecomb trio, a woman's orchestra well known and popular in Quincy. There will also be readings by Mrs. Isabelle Davis, making up a fine program.

Mr. Watts, formerly a motorman on the Squantum car, and family have moved to Squantum preparatory to opening a waiting room and store at the corner of Huckins avenue. Something of this nature has been needed for a long while and a new building for this purpose has been under construction for some time. As soon as the next warm spell comes and open cars are on, it is expected that the waiting room will be permanently opened.

there would be no war between the North and South, still, for those times our militia was put into a pretty good state of preparation. On the morning that the news came from Washington that a call for 7,500 troops was made, Mr. Packard was going along Washington street, Boston, and he was summoned to the State House "as quickly as he could possibly get there." On arriving there he was asked how soon he could get his regiment together; he said: "Every man of my regiment is already for duty at any time." He left the State House, called several trusty men to his assistance and started them with every conceivable means then known to notify the companies that were scattered over ten or twelve different towns to appear at Faneuil hall at once. We all know how the Quincy Company was notified by the ringing of the old Town Hall, and what excitement ran about that town.

It came as a great blow of surprise to most everyone in Quincy, but they were ready to start on the same day for Boston. On the following day they left by water for New York before the 6th Massachusetts left by land, making them the first regiment to leave the State. The vessel arrived off New York city waiting for orders, because at that time it was not known whether Fort Monroe, their ultimate destination, was still in loyal hands. The third and fourth regiments arrived off Fort Monroe at night and did not dare to land and waited for the morning to see whether the Stars and Stripes or the State flag of Virginia would fly from the Fortress. They were much pleased to find on the following morning that the Fortress was still in loyal hands, although within two miles there was a large disloyal force gathering with the intention of taking the Fort,—as I understand there were only about 100 garrison. By the way, this garrison saw the large vessel containing troops in Hampton Roads and they did not know for sure but that it was a disloyal force until they saw in the morning Stars and Stripes floating from the mast.

Col. Packard was Acting Brigadier-General during part of the time at Fortress Monroe until the arrival of Gen. Butler. It was decided to occupy a very important point just above in the river, Newport News, and an armed reconnaissance a few miles out at Big Bethel resulted in a battle wherein one of our Townsmen, Francis L. Souther, was killed, and I believe that he was one of the first Northern men killed in the war. The affray at Baltimore when some soldiers of the 6th were killed was not a battle; it was simply an unorganized mob without flags or commanders attacking the soldiers.

ADDITIONAL NIGHT OFFICER.

Better Police Protection To Be Given Wollaston Residents.

Wollaston people will be pleased to learn that an additional night officer has been assigned to that section and that he will go on duty Saturday night.

The officer assigned to the new beat is Officer Doran, who has been doing the latter half of the night duty in City Square.

Officer Riley, the regular Wollaston officer, who has been off duty since Jan. 11, at which time his left arm was broken while chasing a man, has now fully recovered from his injury and will also return to duty Saturday night.

GOT HIM OUT OF JAIL

Young Woman Marries Man Who Tried to Take Her Life

Providence, April 16.—Miss Christina Palmieri, an Italian, aged 20, was married to Camillo Desisto, 21 years old, who, on March 8 last, shot her in the back during a fit of jealousy.

In order to marry her, Desisto, who was held in jail because of his inability to furnish bail of $4000 in a charge of assault with intent to kill, Miss Palmieri secured a reduction of the bonds to $1500 and then furnished the sureties necessary for her lover's release.

Desisto readily accepted the girl's suggestion that they be married and the ceremony was performed by the same justice who reduced Desisto's bail.

The charge against Desisto probably will not be prosecuted. Miss Palmieri was the only witness to the affair and since her marriage to the defendant she cannot be compelled to testify against him.

A "smoker" will be held tonight in A. O. H. hall, Franklin street, under the auspices of the Quincy Old Colony league baseball team. The purpose of the smoke talk is to increase the funds to back the team. A brief outline of what the management is doing will be given and will let the people know that only the best will be given to Quincy fans.

—Thirty-four years is a long time to hold the office of Town Clerk but, Henry B. Terry Esq., of Hyde Park has rounded out his fortieth year in that capacity, and is good for many years more.

MANY QUINCY LAWYERS PRESENT

Twenty-Fourth Dinner of Norfolk Bar Asso. Well Attended.

The lawyers of Quincy and other parts of Norfolk county had enjoyable communion Thursday evening at Young's hotel in Boston, the occasion being the 24th annual dinner of the Norfolk Bar Association. There was a large attendance.

Dinner was served at 6.30 and during the next three hours and a half there was the proverbial flow of soul and feast of reason, both in abundance. Asa French who is president of the Association, presided over the postprandial exercises and introduced the speakers of the evening first calling upon Arthur P. Rugg, an associate justice of the Supreme Judicial court.

Judge Rugg's address, which was listened to with deep attention, was devoted to a discussion of some changes that had been made in the law of the Commonwealth and the methods of applying and enforcing the same during the past twenty years. He commented, on the statutory provision which now permits a judge to impose sentence upon a convicted defendant immediately after the verdict notwithstanding the pendency, of exceptions which may later be passed upon by the Supreme court. This change he thought was a great and much needed improvement on the old system. Under the law as it stood before the passage of the act in question the ingenuity of defendant's counsel in taking exceptions often served to keep the defendant out of jail long after the merits of his case had been determined by the jury. He expressed justifiable pride in the part lawyers were taking in promoting the ends of practical justice through law.

The other speaker was Samuel J. Elder a veteran practitioner. His sallies of wit and keen humor were greatly relished. In serious vein he called attention to the protracted delays of the law especially in Suffolk, Norfolk, Middlesex and Essex counties where it took a long period of time, ranging from two and a half to four years to bring a jury case to final determination. This, he asserted, was a serious evil which the Bar must remedy in the interests of justice. There are now fifteen thousand or more cases awaiting trial in Suffolk county alone.

Throughout the entire evening an orchtestra discoursed popular and patriotic airs and brought the festivities to a close with the world anthem, Auld Lang Syne.

CORRESPONDS WITH FORMER SERVANT

Couple Who Were Robbed Have a Talk With Mrs. Boyle

Pittsburg, April 16.—While they would not positively identify Mrs. Helen Boyle, now held in custody at Mercer in connection with the kidnapping of Willie Whitla, as their servant who disappeared from their home in St. Louis in 1907 about the same time that diamonds valued at $6000 were missed, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dyer, who went to Mercer and talked with Mrs. Boyle, say that in nearly every respect the prisoner corresponds with their former maid.

Mrs. Dyer seems especially confident that Mrs. Boyle and Mrs. Frank Minor, the servant who disappeared, are one and the same person. Mrs. Boyle seemed averse to talking to Mrs. Dyer.

SABBATH BALL PLAYING

Will Be Permitted In Jersey City, but It Must Be Noiseless

Patterson, N. J., April 16.—Vice Chancellor Stevenson, after a hearing here, granted an injunction restraining those attending Sunday baseball games at the grounds of the Eastern League club from making unnecessary noise.

In granting the order he said the objection to Sunday ball playing might be due to religious belief and he would not, therefore, grant an injunction stopping all ball playing on the Sabbath. If the noise complained of continued, he said, he would grant such an injunction.

The vice chancellor, when the case first came up, told the applicants that he would not enforce the blue laws but that he would protect them from any unnecessary nuisance.

Iswolsky as Ambassador

St. Petersburg, April 16.—The newspapers of St. Petersburg say that Foreign Minister Iswolsky is to be appointed Russian ambassador to Madrid, but the report cannot be confirmed.

Plague In East Africa

Berlin, April 16.—Advices from German East Africa state that sixty deaths from plague have occurred in the Muanza district, which lies south of the Victoria Nyanza.

OVER A CENTURY OLD

Aunt Betsy, the Oldest Living Indian Woman, Hale and Hearty Today. To What She Owes Her Wonderful Age.

We find around us everywhere men who are young in years, but who in body are actually old and decrepit. This premature old age is becoming more common every year. Thousands are continually dying who are scarcely 30 years of age from a complete wornout state of their systems, just as literally of old age as though they had lived to be 100, and the cause of this is due to a general demoralized condition of the great vital organs of the body — the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the blood; let any of these become impaired and the blood instead of flowing through the body and carrying nourishment to all its parts, becomes filled with poisonous secretions which generate and multiply concontinually, ceasing to build up new flesh tissue so that a gradual wasting and decay takes place until the day comes when a complete collapse is experienced and speedy death ensues.

Kickapoo Indian Woman Known To Be at Least 108 Years Old —From Her Photograph.

The Indian is noted for his longevity, due to the fact that he takes no medicine that contains poisonous ingredients, but depends upon simple roots, herbs, and barks, the same as Kickapoo Sagwa is made from. Aunt Betsy, the oldest living Indian woman attributes her long life to this cause.

Kickapoo Sagwa rectifies all disorder of stomach and liver and purifies the blood and enables it to perform its natural functions, imparting life and vigor to all parts of the system.

Let a man have perfect digestion and pure blood, and there is a continual restoration of waste tissue taking place in the body. Without there is a decline. If you feel that you have not your ordinary strength, you do not sleep as you should, your appetite is fitful, you are nervous, have dizzy spells and seem generally run down, you should not hesitate a minute, for this is the beginning of some serious decline. While you still have strength and life, take Kickapoo Sagwa. A change for the better will be experienced with the first bottle, and a speedy return to health will be the result in every instance.

The Kickapoo Remedies are for sale by all druggists. If you wish to test Sagwa before purchasing call at The Edward J. Murphy Drug store and our representative will give you a free trial bottle. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

The Copeland Juniors, which consist of well known boys of West Quincy, are to come out with a good strong lineup April 19. They have two games arranged for that day, one in the morning with one of the strongest teams in the state the Walworth Manufacturing Co. second team of South Boston. The lineup will be as follows: McDonald, c; Shea, p; O'Dowd, 1b; Martin, 2b; Thomas, ss; Hinchon, 3b; Chardi, cf; Rogers, rf; Saville, lf; R. Ash, mascot. The afternoon game will be with the Orients of South Quincy. The lineup will be about the same only a few changes will be made.

WEYMOUTH.

Charles Simmons, one of the best known contractors on the South Shore, died at his home in East Weymouth Wednesday, aged 77. He and Mrs. Simmons, who survives him, celebrated their golden wedding three years ago. A daughter Mrs. Wallace Bicknell also survives him. He was a member of Orphans Hope lodge of Masons, Pentalpha Royal Arch chapter, South Shore commandery Knights Templars and Crescent lodge of Odd Fellows.

He built many of the important buildings along the South shore, among them the masonic building in this town, from which his funeral will be held Saturday afternoon, following prayer at his late residence.

Ex-chief of the fire department Edward Fahey died yesterday after a long illness. He was chief of the fire department for many years and was obliged to resign on account of ill health. He was for a number of years and at the time of his death president of the Weymouth Firemen's Relief association.

The funeral of George R. Davis, well known along the South Shore and a charter member of Reynolds Post, G. A. R., took place yesterday afternoon. The interment was at Village cemetery.

HIS REPRESENTATIVE.

By BEATRICE TUCKER.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

A young lady drove a spick and span two wheeled cart up to a suburban station two minutes after the arrival of a train from the city. She had evidently come to meet some person expected to arrive and was a trifle late. As those who had come scattered the girl looked eagerly at them. When the last one had gone, with evident disappointment she touched her horse with the whip and drove homeward. She had not gone far before she overtook a young man who might be anywhere between thirty and thirty-five, plainly dressed in a pepper and salt suit and a felt hat.

"I beg your pardon," she said, reining in, "did you come in on the train just passed?"

"I did," raising his hat politely.

"Did you see an elderly person of scholarly appearance get off?"

"I don't remember any such."

"I suppose he didn't come." She was about to drive on when he said to her:

"Are you Miss Constable?"

"Why, yes," surprised.

"And were to meet Mr. Manning, president of Winward college?"

"Yes. What's become of him?"

"I represent him."

"Oh!" She looked for further information, but, not receiving it, said: "Since you have come in his place please get into the cart. I'll drive you to the house."

Miss Constable was curious to hear an explanation as to why he had sent this young man in his place, but she was a well bred young girl and didn't like to ask questions. However, her curiosity got the better of her.

"You're President Manning's son, I fancy."

"Mr. Manning isn't old enough to have a son of my age."

"Why, I thought college presidents were always old."

"That used to be the case. They hired some very respectable old minister for the position. Now they get a man to do the dirty work."

"What do you call the dirty work?"

"They define it building up the college. It is really begging, borrowing and sometimes cutting very close on to stealing in order to get endowments, found scholarships and establish prizes. It's a kind of a one horse business position."

"President Manning isn't anything like that, I'm sure. Father says he has one of the finest minds he has ever known."

"Pity he can't exercise it in a higher field."

"I'm astonished at you." She turned and looked him in the face with a severe expression. "You come here representing the president of a splendid university and speak of him in the most contemptuous terms."

"Do you know what this visit that has been arranged on the part of Mr. Manning is for?"

"No."

"The college corporation, always hungry for funds, told Manning to come up here and see if he couldn't get $10,000 out of your father to make over an old dormitory."

"Well, why didn't he come?"

"Ashamed of the work."

"Nonsense! Such work is nothing to be ashamed of."

"The meanest thing about the whole matter is the shuffling the work on to me."

"You?"

"Do you think me too good for the work or the work too good for me?"

"I—shouldn't think they would send so young"—

"Ordinary"—

"I would rather take you for the captain of the football team."

"I was when I was in college."

"Are you taking a postgraduate course?"

"No."

"Tutor?"

"No."

"Professor?"

"Oh, no; you don't think they'd give a man of my caliber a professorship, do you?"

"I know. You're registrar or something like that."

The gentleman laughed. It was very discomposing to Miss Constable. She felt that she might be making a mistake. "I'm not going to say another word," she said.

"Well, let's talk of something else."

"What?"

"Are you interested in archaeology?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, since we have still a little time before reaching your home I'll tell you about some diggings we college chaps did in the far west. We uncovered the ruins of a building or combination of buildings that had been used by a prehistoric race centuries ago."

"Was that when you were a student?"

"No; I was a graduate."

"Who led the expedition?"

"Manning."

"There! I told you President Manning was a scholar."

"I thought you said he only looked like a scholar."

"I didn't say 'only' at all."

She turned the horse's head into a gateway and drove up to the house. Her father came out to the porch and as the traveler alighted grasped his hand warmly, with the words:

"Dr. Manning, how do you do? I'm very glad to see you."

Fortunately for Miss Constable the president had left the cart. She gave the horse a cut and darted away to the barn. She faced Dr. Manning at dinner, but only on compulsion.

MEN'S CLUB VAUDEVILLE.

"Dick" Hussey the wonderful boy mezzo soprano of West Quincy is one of the stars in the vaudeville show to be given by the Christ Church Men's club next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Parish house. Mr. Hussey is one of the soloists in St. Mary's church, West Quincy and has a truly wonderful voice .

George L. Lansing, the banjo player and composer of the world renouned "Darkies Dream," is another star secured for the concert and he will appear both nights. Also Carlton De C. Beal, the well known comedian of Braintree, and the singers Dr. Gould and Edward Bullock, who are too well known to need an introduction to Quincy audiences.

There will also be a Dutch sketch by Rose & Smith, two local men, which promises to be a big feature. Mr. Smith will also sing some Sctoch songs 'a la Harry Lauder.

The office of the Quincy Daily Ledger will be closed all day Monday in observance of Patriots' Day.

The Social Realm

Once in a while within our own
We clasp the hand of a steadfast friend,
Once in a while we hear a tone
Of love with a heart's own voice to blend;
And the dearest of all our dreams come true
And on life's way is a golden mile,
Each thirsting flower is kissed with dew
Once in a while. —Nixon Waterman.

MLLE. WESTERLIND SCORES TRIUMPH

Swedish Soprano Makes Decided Hit At Music Hall.

One of the best treats in musical circles, offered in Quincy this season was the concert in Music hall Friday evening by Mlle. Sigrid Westerlind the famous Swedish-Finnish mezzo soprano.

Although this was Mlle. Westerlind's first appearance in this city, her fame as a songstress of unusual ability had preceded her, and she was given an enthusiastic reception by a large and thoroughly appreciative audience.

Mlle. Westerlind's program, which was unusually varied, was selected from the best compositions of the foremost composers of both American and Europe, and gave the audience a splendid opportunity to hear the artist in all her varying moods.

Mlle. Westerlind has a rich mezzo voice of great range and quality, and her splendid technique and sympathetic interpretations, mark her as an artist of the first water.

Although it is hard to say that one number was better than another particularly noteworthy was her rendition of Sibelius' Svarta rosar (Roses of Sorrow) which was given in a distinctly dramatic and vibrant manner.

Another selection that deserves special mention was Grieg's "Ved en ung Hustrus Baare" (At the bier of a young wife.) This composition which has the sad, heartrendering, harmony of the old folk song, Mlle. Westerlind sang in a manner that carried the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm.

Although the program was long the singer gracefully responded to the many encores she received. During the evening Mlle. Westerlind was the recipient of two handsome bouquets of roses, from Carl Johnson the city square florist and from Boston friends.. This latter bouquet was presented Mlle. Westerlind, by a little Miss of ten who wore a dress draped with the national colors.

In addition to Mlle. Westerlind, Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis gave three readings and there was music by the Edgecomb trio of Boston. Mrs. Davis' ability as a reader is too well known in Quincy to need any comment. She was at her best Friday night and the audience showed their appreciation of her work by compelling her to respond to encores.

The Edgcomb trio is composed of Miss Anna B. Eichborn, violinist, Miss Ethel E. Edgecomb, cellist and Miss Marion C. Whiton pianist.

The playing of these young ladies was one of the features of the evening, and did much to make the concert the distinct musical success it was.

In closing a word should be said about Mrs. H. Sharp of Worcester, Mlle. Westerlind's accompanist. Mrs. Sharp is an accompanist of rare ability following the various moods of the singer and composer with sympathy and understandings and contributing greatly to the enjoyment of the audience.

The concert was given under the auspices of the Finland Lodge No. 5 Independent Order of Good Templars. The members of the lodge deserve a great deal of praise for providing a concert of such high merit for the enjoyment of the citizens of Quincy.

George W. Jones of the big shoe store, City square, reports a good Easter sale with prospects of an increasing spring trade. He carries a smart stock of stylish foot wear also healthful, comfortable makes which are ever in demand.

MASSACRE IS IN FULL SWING

Christians Are Being Killed In Streets of Asiatic Turkey

ADENA WRECKED BY MOSLEMS

Report That Sixty Armenians Were Killed In That Town, as Well as Two American Missionaries—Disorders Are Spreading and Have Reached Town of Tarsus, Famous as the Birthplace of Apostle Paul

Constantinople, April 17.—A massacre of Armenians has taken place at Adana, Asiatic Turkey, and according to the latest telegrams from Mersina still continues.

Soldiers, powerless to control the situation, are joining in the pillage of the town. The fatalities are said to be numerous.

The riots began last Wednesday and the town of Adana has been burned and many Christians killed in the streets, the Moslems having practically wrecked the town. The foreign consuls have requested that warships be sent to that port.

No definite information is obtainable as to the number of persons who lost their lives in the fighting, though one report says sixty Armenians were massacred. Two American missionaries are said to be among the dead, but no names are given and the report as to these is unconfirmed.

It is known that the regular district meeting of the American missionaries was due to be in sesssion at Adana and that Mr. and Mrs. William Chamber, the Misses Elizabeth and Mary G. Webb, Miss Wallis and Miss Borel, missionaries, were to have been present there.

American Ambassador Leishman has instructed Vice Consul Debbas at Mersina to go immediately to Adana.

Late dispatches from Mersina say that the massacres are spreading to the Villayet of Adana. Disorders have commenced at Tarsus, the town between Adana and Mersina noted as the birthplace of the Apostle Paul, and many houses there are reported to have been burned. The number of victims at Tarsus, according to dispatches, is unknown.

SLUGGED WITH A SHOVEL

Head of Insane Asylum Has a Narrow Escape From Death

Matteawan, N. Y., April 17.—Dr. Robert T. Lamb, superintendent of the Matteawan hospital for the criminal insane and who was one of the principal witnesses in the Thaw trial proceedings, had a narrow escape from death at the hands of John Tholman, a professor of languages, who was sent to the institution three years ago after having killed a man during a saloon brawl.

Tholman, who had been installed as a "trusty," suddenly struck Lamb over the head with a steel shovel, rendering him unconscious. The blow was a glancing one and the injury inflicted is not serious in character.

Tholman, after he had struck the doctor down, drew a button hook, which he had sharpened to a needle's edge, from his pocket and plunged it into the left side of his neck. This crude weapon he then drew across his throat, inflicting a long gash. He then tried to stick the weapon in his heart, but failed. It is believed he will die.

MACKEREL LOCATED

Gloucester Schooner Reports First Catch of the Elusive Fish

Gloucester, Mass., April 17.—The first catch of mackerel of the season was taken into Norfolk by the Gloucester schooner Electric Flash, according to a telegram received here from Captain Bassett, master of the vessel. Thirteen barrels of large mackerel were caught thirty miles east of Cape Henry.

Between sixty and seventy other Gloucester fishing vessels are following the schools and the supply of mackerel is expected to be constant from now on.

MILLS IS CONVICTED

Used Mails In Scheme to Defraud Farmers In New England

Boston, April 17.—Walter Mills of Manchester, Eng., who was known to the farmers of Maine and New Hampshire a couple of years ago as the "Apple King of New England," was found guilty of using the mails in a scheme to defraud by a jury in the United States district court.

Mills was charged with securing apples from farmers by offering to pay for them a little more than the market price, and failing to remit payment after sales.

Thieving Typo Sentenced

New Orleans, April 17.—Samuel T. Stevenson, convicted of embezzling funds of the New Orleans Typographical union, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

His Game of Patience.

By Gertrude Delancey.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

Old Captain Blanding had two absorbing passions in life—his love for cards and his love for his daughter Thais.

It was wonderful how many young men were willing to pass their evenings at the captain's house playing with him. He was a wary old opponent and all but invincible.

The young men came by twos and threes in their best tailor made suits, with posies in their buttonholes. Often they brought offerings to the captain's daughter.

Thais accepted the gifts and the too evident good will indifferently. Sometimes when a fourth hand was needed at whist she lent her aid. Otherwise she betook herself to the parlor and practiced as diligently as if there was not a man in the house.

Aunt Letty, Captain Blanding's widowed sister, kept house for him and mothered his otherwise motherless daughter. She was a gentle soul, large hearted and small minded, who made the best doughnuts in town. By the aid of her smiles and her cakes she encouraged eligible men to frequent the captain's house, hoping that some one of them would prove acceptable to Thais.

Thais' name had been given her because of an early fondness of her father for Greek literature. Thais, despite her name, did not lean toward scholarly achievement. She was a butterfly, very beautiful to look at and very difficult to catch.

She had read a little poetry and very many romances where the heroines were all beautiful like herself and the heroes proved their devotion by astounding deeds of valor. These men, who sat evening after evening with bits of red and black pasteboard between them, evidently lacked every heroic quality.

When one by one these timid adorers laid his heart at her feet she promptly trampled upon it and sent him away smarting.

When after a few evenings he did not again appear the old captain would wonder mildly what kept him away. Sometimes he asked the victim and received a stammered excuse.

By the time the young man's place at the card table was filled the captain had ceased to remember him.

It was Sheldon King who brought Billy Smith to the house for the first time. Billy was a newcomer in Kensington and wholly unacquainted. He was a little fellow with hair of no particular shade of brown, a square, plain face and blue eyes behind glasses. He had no stories to tell, no jokes to raise a laugh, and he had never handled cards before in his life.

It took him the entire evening to learn to play pedro, but he applied his mind to it with a will, and when he went away the captain slapped him on the shoulder and told him he would make a player if he kept at it. The captain always said that to the defeated, who sometimes chewed their lips over it bitterly.

The captain conceived a great liking for Billy, and they spent many evenings together. By spring Billy had learned all the games the captain knew and could even beat him at some of them.

He came obviously for the captain's sake alone, for he brought no offerings to Thais. He had his own way to make and an invalid sister to maintain at an expensive sanitarium. This much he told the captain and was forever after silent about his affairs.

Sheldon King presently, having had his wings badly singed at the candle of Thais' indifference, ceased to be seen at the captain's card table. But Billy came unfailingly. The captain was delighted with him.

Here at last was a man who did not play to one's humor, who beat one unmercifully if he could or was beaten without showing the white feather.

The second winter Billy's sister died. He stayed away two months, and the captain openly fretted for him. Then one evening Billy appeared with a box of the captain's favorite cigars. The captain fairly wept for joy at sight of him and shook his hand twenty times.

He called Thais to see who had come. Thais came, startled by the clamor and a little disgusted when she found only Billy. She gave him a cool little hand and a cool little smile and a cool little phrase of welcome, then returned to the piano and Chaminade. She did not understand Billy, who brought cigars to her father instead of bonbons to her.

Two years went by. The circle about the captain's card table had changed many times and had dwindled to an occasional widower, silly Tom Pike and Billy. One by one the other young men had mended their hearts and offered them good as new elsewhere.

The votive offerings that now came to Thais' shrine were far less frequent. Billy brought her nothing at all, but it was wonderful how many little things he found to present the captain with. He even gave Aunt Letty a beautiful crochet hook with a chased gold handle.

More years passed and more slowly for Thais. Chaminade had ceased to charm her, and she missed the excitement of past adoration. Mr. Sweet had gone away, and Tom Pike, in despair of winning Thais, had married a woman easier to woo. There were no new lovers forthcoming, for Thais was now generally labeled dangerous. Moreover, she had ceased to be the beauty of the time.

She had reached a very trying period of her life, being too old to go in the young set, too young to go in the old set and prohibited by reason of her maidenhood from the married set.

Her dreams did not, as in the past, satisfy her. Her hero, the ideal of her imaginings, had not come. She believed now he never would come. She began to sigh when she looked in the glass. Sometimes she saw herself quite old, sitting at table pouring tea for Aunt Letty or playing cards with her father and having no interest in life beyond these two daily duties.

Thais' ideas of life were changing. She discovered that Billy Smith had a good forehead and mouth and that his hair looked better with gleams of gray in it.

Billy still came to the house as unfailingly as ever. He was almost the only single man who did come. Unconsciously almost she began to look forward to his visits, and he often found her shuffling cards against his arrival.

Billy had brightened wonderfully in these later years. He told stories and jokes and the amusing gossip of the town. He was earning a large salary and was much sought by mothers with marriageable daughters. But for some reason he continued to be free and to play cards at the captain's.

One evening he found Thais alone. She begged him rather shyly to stay, and he stayed. They sat down at the card table, and Billy dealt the pack for pedro. They played as for dear life, scarcely speaking. Then by means of a lucky ace Billy won.

He looked across at Thais, but her eyes were down. Something in her face, however, lent him courage, and he caught her hands, which were absently engaged with the cards.

"Thais!" he commanded. She looked at him.

"I win!" he said triumphantly.

"Yes," she faltered.

"It has taken a long time," he said presently. "Thais, I have never given you a present. But I have one for you which I have carried with me constantly for several years. May I give it to you now?"

"Yes," Thais said meekly.

When he had put the ring upon her finger he leaned forward and kissed her.

"It has been a long game," he said, "and one that required lots of patience and determination. You see, dearest, I fell in love with you the first time I saw you, and I made up my mind to have you, God willing. The only way I could make myself welcome here was to play cards. So I played. You'll never ask me to play cards with you after we are married, will you, dear?"

"Why not?" asked Thais wonderingly.

"Because I loathe them and have loathed them since the first game I ever learned."

"Oh, Billy!" Thais said.

And then and there she realized that the man of her heart was indeed, after all, a hero.

Baring Feet at Worship.

The India Hindoos and Mussulmans alike wear both sandals and shoes (slippers) and the latter boots also. The sandal (the word is Persian) was evidently the original covering for the feet over all southern and eastern Asia, while the shoe was probably introduced into India by the Persians, Afghans and Mo(n)gols, together with the "tip tilted" (Hittite and Etruscan) boot.

Both are usually made in India of leather, but never of pigskin, and, while the shoes are always colored red or yellow, the boots are generally brightly particolored, both among the upper classes being also richly embroidered in gold and silver and variegated silk thread and with bangles, bugles and seed pearls after the manner of the ancient Persian boots represented on Greek vases.

But, of however rare and costly elaboration, the invariable rule is to remove them after entering a private house just when stepping on to the mat or carpet on which the visitor takes his seat. They must be cast off, the right boot or shoe first, before the worshiper enters a temple or mosque, and it is still regarded as an absolute profanation to attempt to enter either fully shod.—London Athenaeum.

Keeps His Word.

A traveling man stopped at a little town in Arkansas, and while there he made inquiries of the postmaster as to the integrity and honesty of a certain doctor who lived in the next county.

"What sort of a man is Dr. Briggs?" he queried. "Is he a man that can be trusted—a good doctor?"

"Well," answered the postmaster thoughtfully, "that depends. He's been doctorin' roun' here for some years now—ain't doin' much lately, though. Seems he was sent for to go to see ol' Mis' Henderson, what's been dyin' for goin' on thirty year. Ol' lady had the noo-ralgy pretty bad. Doc' he gives her a dose o' laud'num, an' he says, 'Mis' Henderson, you'll go to sleep now, an' you won't be bothered with the noo-ralgy no mo'.'

"She went to sleep; that was las' May, an' it's gittin' to'rds fall now. She ain't waked up yet, an' she ain't never been bothered with the noo-ralgy either. As a doctor I guess Briggs ain't much, but he always keeps his word, sir—always."

Even So.

TAFT'S PROMISE TO LABOR MEN

Will Investigate Many Matters Called to His Attention

IMPOSING ARRAY OF PROBLEMS

Discussion During a Two Hours' Conference at White House With Delegation Headed by Gompers—Chief Executive Will Give Eight-Hour Law Special Consideration—Reiterates Desire For Anti-Injunction Law

Washington, April 17.—President Taft discussed the problems of the working man for two hours with the members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

The labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers, called at the White House to present to the president a number of matters of vital interest to organized labor. They found the chief magistrate keenly attentive and deeply interested, Gompers declared.

When the conference had reached its close the president told his callers that he would investigate such of the matters presented as seemed to him to require such action and that he would be glad to help, as far as his opportunities would permit, in arriving at a proper solution of the difficulties in which the working people find themselves, while at the same time keeping the interest of the whole people in view.

In beginning the interview with the president, Gompers said the council desired first of all to express appreciation of the action of the government in standing by the principle of the right of asylum in the United States for persons charged with political offenses in other countries, as exemplified in the recent cases of Pouren and Boudowitz, the Russian refugees. The council further expressed its appreciation of the attitude of the government in its efforts to extend opportunities for the maintenance of international peace.

With reference to convict labor, Gompers told the president that organized labor desires only that this class of labor shall be regulated, not prohibited. The idea is to prevent convict-made goods and work from coming into competition with the labor of free men. The Federation asked that the president request an additional appropriation from congress for a stricter enforcement of the child labor law in the District of Columbia. Commissioner of Labor Neil seconded this request.

The federation council urged the president to use his efforts for an extension of the eight-hour law, so that it will apply to contractors and subcontractors furnishing materials and fittings for government buildings and other government works. Mr. Taft promised to give this matter especial consideration.

Coming to the present status of labor organizations under recent decisions of the courts, the discussion widened broadly. It centered about the supreme court decision in the famous hatters' case, under which certain phases of labor organization methods were declared to be in contravention of the Sherman anti-trust law.

President Taft told the labor leaders that he regarded the matter of an anti-injunction law as one of the most important phases of his administration. He added that he felt he had made his position clear on the subject in his speech of acceptance last July at Cincinnati and had confirmed that position in his inaugural address. The president said he would be glad to consult further with the representatives of organized labor as to amendments, etc., when a bill for the next congress has been framed.

President Taft was asked if there was any truth in the report that American workingmen, principally laborers, belonging to American unions, are being laid off at the Isthmus of Panama to make room for foreigners. The president said he had not even heard of such a report and did not believe it could be true.

USED RED-HOT POKER

Woman Goes to Prison For Torturing Her Adopted Daughter

Toledo, April 17.—Under sentence of six months' imprisonment and a fine of $150, Mrs. Joseph Sager, wife of a physician of Celina, became an inmate of the Toledo workhouse.

Mrs. Sager pleaded guilty to the charge of torturing her 10-year-old adopted daughter. A few days ago the child's teacher found burns on the girl's back and legs. The child said that her foster mother had used a red-hot poker on her.

Editor For Ambassador to Mexico

Portland, Ore., April 17.—It is said that Harvey W. Scott, editor of the Portland Oregonian, has been offered the post of ambassador to Mexico, but no announcement has been made as to whether he will accept it.

Panama's Only Merchantman

New York, April 17.—The two-masted schooner D. L. Lynton, which arrived in port from San Blas, flies the Panama flag. She is the only merchant sailing vessel under that flag.

The Middle Horse.

A farmer, plowing with three horses hitched abreast, noticed that the middle horse became tired and exhausted long before either of its mates. As the animal was the equal in every way of the other two, he was puzzled as to the cause of its not being able to stand the same amount of work. He finally observed, however, that as they drew the plow along the three horses held their noses close together, with the result that the middle horse was compelled to breathe the expired air from its fellows. The farmer then procured a long "jockey" stick, which he fastened with straps to the bits of the outside horses. The device worked perfectly, for, given its rightful share of good, fresh air, the middle horse was able to do the same amount of work and with no greater fatigue than its fellows.

Many persons are like the middle horse—they do not get their rightful share of pure air. And this is why they are not able to perform as much work nor of as good a quality as they would otherwise be able to do.—Chicago Tribune.

A Ticklish Moment.

If to act cleverly on the spot is the measure of tact, then the man who figures in the subjoined New York Tribune story deserves both respect and admiration: A woman, driving through New England last summer, noticed suddenly that her horse limped a bit, so when she reached the next village she stopped at the door of the blacksmith shop. A man was holding up the doorpost, and to him she said:

"Will you please tell the blacksmith to come out? I want to see him."

After the manner of the village idler, the man did not stir, but smiled sweetly at the woman and, lifting up his voice, called:

"Bill, come out! There's a lady wants to see you."

From the depths of the blacksmith shop a deeper voice roared:

"Is she young, John, or old?"

In the words of the old poem, "she looked at John and John looked at her." Then, still without moving, he answered:

"You'll be satisfied, Bill, when you get out."

Survival of the Fittest.

Only one oyster embryo out of every 5,000,000 produced grows up through all the successive stages of youth to the adult state. Even in animals which produce a small number of young there is great destruction, and, taking all the individuals into consideration, only a single pair of young arrive at maturity to replace their parents. There is no exception to the rule that every organic being naturally multiplies at so high a rate that if not destroyed the progeny of a single pair would soon cover the earth. The elephant is reckoned the slowest breeder of known animals. It commences to breed at thirty years of age, dies at 100 and has six young in the interval. After 750 years, supposing all the offspring of a single pair fulfilled the rule and were not destroyed in an untimely way, there would be nearly 19,000,000 elephants alive descended from the first pair.—Sir Ray Lankester in London Telegraph.

When the Terror Quailed.

He would terrorize the neighbors in a most outrageous way, broke the wide world's standing records in athletics every day, while in pugilistic circles he could wipe men in the dust and show master tricks at fencing—laugh at every cut and thrust. He slew tigers in the jungle and scalped redskins on the plain. He chased lions across the mountains and harpooned upon the main. He could break a bucking broncho—yes, and rope a Texan steer; sling a bowie knife or hatchet, throw the boomerang or spear. In hairbreadth escapes he gloried, did this worthy son of Mars, and he'd lick his weight in wildcats—kick them higher than the stars. But his shoes were in his pocket, and his face was ghastly white; he was silent as an oyster when he came in late at night.—Exchange.

He Took the Chance.

"No," she said, and there was that in her voice which told him she would neither change nor falter in her resolve—"no. I have vowed to marry none save one brave and strong enough to swear that should he ever be elected president he will give the vote to woman."

De Lancy, such was his love's abounding depth, hesitated not at all.

"I swear it!" he cried and fell upon his knees before her.—Exchange.

Tibetan Test of Character.

The Tibetans have some strange tests for ascertaining the character of a man, said Sven Hedin. One is by means of a hole in a block of granite, through which the individual has to crawl. If he is an honest man he will, according to the theory of the Tibetans, creep through, but if a scoundrel he will stop in the middle.

War Play of the Future.

"What properties will we need for the battle scene?"

"None whatever. The stage will be bare. The men are supposed to be wearing invisible uniforms and firing smokeless powder from noiseless guns."—Kansas City Journal.

The Best Advice.

If you are about to do something which may cause trouble, ask the advice of a man who has tried it. His advice will be stronger than that of a moralist, and it will be backed by experience.—Atchison Globe.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

Washington, April 10, 1909.

Senator Aldrich has heeded the warning of the President that any tariff bill which did not keep faith and carry out the pledges of the national platform would be vetoed, and has assured the President that there would be no necessity for his vetoing the bill when the Senator got through with it, as the Senate substitute provides for reductions from the Dingley bill on every item which can be regarded as necessity. Mr. Aldrich took with him to the White House the draft of the Senate substitute, so far as it has been completed by the Finance Committee, and showed the President the work he and his colleagues on the committee had done. President Taft was agreeably surprised at the extent to which the substitute makes good the pledges of the party and he now believes there should be no trouble in passing the bill in the Senate. There is a material difference, of course, between the completion of a tariff bill by the Finance Committee and its final adoption by both houses of Congress, but Mr. Aldrich is convinced that the bill will so far command the support of the Republicans in the Senate that it will be difficult to obtain a majority for every schedule. Mr. Aldrich outlined to the President the views of the committee with regard to the administrative features of the bill, the methods to be employed in determining the valuation of imports, and Mr. Taft expressed his approval of all the changes which the committee purposed to make in the Payne bill.

President Taft is in receipt of an annual pass for himself and party, which can be used on all American League ball grounds in the country, and a similar pass has been presented to the Vice President. The President's pass, which is marked "No. A 1," is in the form of a handsome leather card case, with his monogram in heavy gold letters on the inside flap.

Speaker Cannon was presented, this week, with petitions signed by 250,000 persons in Chicago, requesting that the Payne bill be so amended as to decrease the duties on hosiery and gloves. They were brought to Washington by four Chicago women, selected at a mass meeting held recently in that city to protest against the increased duties on these articles, and the Speaker told them he would be glad to have the petitions presented to the House but that he could give them no encouragement.

It is predicted at the Capitol that when the Payne bill is finally passed by both houses of Congress it will carry an authorization for the President to appoint a tariff commission to investigate and report from time to time on schedules and reciprocity agreements, and it is reported, also, that Speaker Cannon is favorable to the creation of such a commission. The claim is made that the commission will consist of seven members, five to be apointed by the President from civil life, and two members to be Treasury Department experts, and the salaries will be fixed at $10,000 a year. This tariff bureau, it is claimed, will be a part of the bureau on manufacturers of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and will be subject, practically to the direction of the ways and means committee and the Finance Committee of the Senate.

President Zelaya of Nicaragua should take warning by the fate of Cipriano Castro, former President of Venezuela. At present, Zelaya is practically defying the United States, refusing to settle an American claim which this country has been pressing for two years, threatening the peace of all Central America, of which he hopes ultimately to become the dictator and is, apparently imaging that his contumacy will pass unpunished. Because the United States, like "the mills of the gods" moves slowly some of these South and Central American despots imagine that there is no motion at all. Castro defied the United States for years and because this country did not bombard his ports imagined that he could continue to do so with impunity and continuously. Now, however, Senor Castro doubtless regrets his method of treating this country. Having been compelled to go abroad to consult a physician, he has been superceeded by one of his political opponents has been indicted for the murder of one of his political opponents of former years and now finds that because of the influence of the United States he cannot establish a base of intrigue anywhere on this continent. He has landed on French island in the vicinity of Venezuela, but through the good offices of this country exercised on behalf of his successor, who thus far gives every indication of wishing to treat the claims of the United States with all proper respect, France has ordered him to leave, Great Britain and Denmark will not let him land and unless he dies in one of his fits of rage he will be compelled to return to Europe. Zelaya should take warning. He may defy the United States for a long time with no untoward results but he is playing a dangerous game and one which will ultimately bring its punishment as surely as the night follows day. President Taft has little patience with Zalaya, far less indeed, than President Roosevelt had for Castro, and if Zelaya is wise he will profit by the experience of his contemporary and cease from antagonising this country.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is extremely hard to beat sense into the head of a stupid man if you have none to spare.

There are too many women who go about the house looking like a left-over bargain from a Monday morning sale.

Poverty is said to be a blessing, but we have never heard of any one around offering a bonus for it.

When there isn't enough trouble to go around, industrious busybodies are sure to take notice.

A crop of children is often a very perplexing one to harvest.

When a woman loses her purse she immediately thinks of her husband.

A woman usually changes her name because she wants to; a man changes his generally because he has to.

It is hard to get an obstinate man on your side and probably not worth the trouble.

Common Pest.

The scold with no one
Makes a hit,
Although her words
The case may fit,
And thus her influence
Is nil,
Though as a scold
She fills the bill.

A man may writhe
Beneath her lash
And hand her out
His weekly cash,
But, all the same,
He feels as if
He'd rather tender
Her a "biff."

Though for awhile
She has her way
And man has nothing
Much to say,
Sometimes she finds,
To her concern,
That in the end
The worm will turn.

But, even though
The worm may rise,
When she recovers
From surprise
That he should say
The things forbid
She makes him sorry
That he did.

Long Winded.

"How much longer is he going to speak?"

"Not over three hours."

"What makes you so hopeful?"

"I just heard him say, 'In conclusion, brethren.'"

Long Distance Scrapper.

"Muggs claims to be something of a fighter."

"He is forever blowing about licking some one."

"Why doesn't somebody call his bluff?"

"He doesn't let them get close enough."

"Ah, I see—a safe blower."

One Developed.

"How many senses have you got, pa?"

"About six."

"Teacher says you have only got five."

"That is the number we are born with, Johnny, but after awhile we learn not to cash checks for friends."

All He Wanted.

"Why is it that the good things are so scarce, while we fairly riot in the things we don't want?"

"I hadn't noticed it."

"It is a fact, though."

"Well, a man can only have one mother-in-law."

Good Remedy.

"I have the blues."

"Know a remedy."

"Is it easy?"

"Easy to take, but hard to get."

"What is it?"

"The long green."

Which?

"I just love work."

"You do?"

"Yes."

"Well, I'll bet a disappointment in that love wouldn't break your heart."

Answered Specifications.

"What is Jenks in trouble about?"

"He has been fined for disorderly conduct."

"Has he been singing again?"

Called For a Fishing Trip.

"What's the matter with you now?"

"I've got spring fever."

"You always were in luck."

By instructing the jury, in the case of James Sullivan, an ironworker sueing to recover damages for injuries sustained by being run over by an automobile, to disregard the fact that the owner of the automobile was not an occupant of the vehicle at the time of the accident and to render a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Justice Fitzgerald of the supreme court of New York, has established a principle that will cause widespread indignation in automobile circles. By his decision Justice Fitzgerald makes an owner of a car wholly responsible for its movements, no matter who is operating it. As long as he owns the car he alone is responsible for it.

This seems hardly fair, inasmuch as an owner of a car can not keep track of what his chaffeur is doing all the time. He may caution the chauffeur to be careful and all that but he cannot compel him to show due care when on the road. This ruling of Justice Fitzgerald will undoubtedly be fought tooth and nail by autoists, if it is established as a precedent in future auto accidents.

The annual movement of families from their city homes to the beaches has already commenced in earnest and every day sees scores of heavily loaded furniture vans wending their way toward the beaches. Many of these vans pass through Quincy to towns south of us,but there is a large number who turn down Coddington street and go to Houghs Neck. Many families have already arrived there and the cottages that have been closed all winter are fast being occupied.

Monday will take down a lot of cottage owners who will open up their cottages and get them ready for occupancy. From the number of new cottages already built and the number contemplated it looks as though Houghs Neck would be more thickly populated this year than every before.

Another section of Quincy that is growing fast is Squantum. During the past few years many residences have been erected here and many more are contemplated.

This is one of the most picturesque sections south of Boston. The air in summer is delightfully cool and the view is unexcelled.

Two Million Bottles.

of Perry Davis' Painkiller sold every year . Think of it! And every bottle is lessening suffering and helping some human being to health and happiness! This wonderful household remedy stops the pain of sprains, burns or bruises. It relieves rheumatism or neuralgia. It cures colds, cramps colic, diarrhoea. There ought to be a bottle on your shelves just now, ready for the first sign of trouble. The new size bottle is 35 cents and there is also the 50 cent size. Be sure your druggist gives you Perry Davis'.

The annual meeting and dinner of the Y. M. C. A. county committee was held Tuesday evening at the Boston City club.

BOSTON GIRLS' BUDGET.

Boston, April 16, 1909.

When you meet a respected family man walking along the street, gesticulating wildly and mumbling weird cadences to himself, do not think he hopelessly unbalanced. Probably he has just been accosted by a feminine acquaintance, gowned a la mode with the general apearance of an inverted pyramid, and is simply quoting Satan's lines to Death:

"Whence and what art thou, execrable shape,
That durst, though grim and terrible, advance
Thy miscreated front athwart my way?"

The question "How old is Ann?" is liable to arise again in the near future. There is talk of erecting in Boston a tablet to the memory of Ann Hutchinson, the brilliant and remarkable woman of colonial days who triumphed and suffered in the cause of religion. She was, as it is remembered, of a charming personality, with a following that comprised nearly the whole population of Boston until she was banished for heresies which to the broader mind of today seem very little different from the orthodox principles of her persecutors. Should this project of honoring the memory of a very worthy lady be carried out it would be hailed with unanimous approval.

No yellow peril lurks in the Cantabrigian Mongols. An interesting feature of the life at Harvard is that of the Harvard Chinese club which was formed a short time ago. This club consists of 31 chinese students, selected principally from among the most advanced students of Pai-Yang University at Tientsin, and sent to America by the Chinese government, but a few of them are privately supported. The club has for its purpose the furtherance of the welfare, socially and intellectually, of its members, and many entertainments, debates and informal meetings are held in the club rooms. The majority of these young men will return to China at the end of their courses, there to teach political science, chemistry, civil engineering, law and other technical subjects.

Miss Boston is sensitive on the subject of stockings, so that it is just as well not to specify as they do in Chicago, but it is a fact that the moderately well dressed woman, statistics seem to show, as a result of the Payne tariff bill will pay enough in taxes on her wearing apparel to purchase another outfit. It is very comfortable to feel that each article of necessity or near-necessity that she buys is contributing from 10 to 35 per cent of its cost to the government, but there is a general feeling among New England women that if the gentlemanly luxuries of cigars and drinks were taxed in proportion as are the feminine fancies for perfumes and furbelows there would be rather more disturbance in the land. This is the sort of bill which helps along the equal suffrage movement. The deliberate taxation of those articles used almost exclusively by the voteless multitude is sufficient grounds for rebellion, and once the women wake up to it there will be an added impetus gained in the growing campaign. It is history repeating itself, and the cry against taxation without representation is swelling in volume as an outcome of the recent congressional debates.

Money made on watered stock is common, but a check raised on wind caused considerable excitement in Copley square on a recent gusty day. A prosperous business man left his office for the purpose of making his daily trip to the bank. He bestowed his bank book and a large check in his oevrcoat pocket, from whence the first mischievous zephyr raised the valuable slip of paper and carried it gaily out of reach. Then ensued a strenuous chase. Out into the street, in front of automobiles, cars and teams, back into a side street, around one entire block—thinking every minute or two that he had captured it—pursued this dignified Bostonian, holding on to his hat and doubtless saying things. Back to the Public Library whirled the elusive paper, and the gentleman was sure he saw it lodge in a pile of windswept papers and dirt back of the protecting building. Here he delved industriously in vain, for there was no sign of the check in the heap of debris. Finally he gave it up as hopeless, and resumed his way downtown in an unenviable state of mind. As he passed through Copley square a piece of paper fluttering out in the middle of the big grassy triangle struck him as having a familiar look, and upon investigation he found it to be the wind tossed check, battered and much the worse for wear, after its riotous escapade, but still intact. On the next windy day it is safe to say the checks of at least one business house will be more securely anchored.

Savings bank life insurance in Massachusetts has had satisfactory progress in the past few months, a total of considerably more than half a million dollars of insurance already standing to the credit of the "saving and insurance banks." It has become very evident that the plan is destined to succeed in a large way. But now watch it proceed with accelerated speed as a Savings Insurance Committee of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union gets busy. A few months ago the Massachusetts Savings Insurance League, recognizing the necessity of a special campaign among women—one that should appeal to the women's viewpoint— asked the well known Union whose beneficent work radiates from 264 Boylston Street, to take over this end of the undertaking . An executive committee has been secured that contains the names of women who are nationally known for broad interest and understanding of industrial conditions as well as for practical efficiency. There is an advisory committee that includes representation from all the varied women's interests in eastern Massachusetts. A third representation is one from firms of Boston and the neighborhood which have been willing to appoint one woman employee to attend meetings of the advisory committee and to give advice from the standpoint of the practical wage earner. It is expected that this newly organized committee will in time add to its effectiveness through the cooperation of every intelligent and public spirited group of women in the Bay State.

A. B. Robbins of Beach street is erecting a private garage on his estate.

A children's May party is to be held in Wollaston hall on the afternoon of May first.

George Hill, who injured one of his eyes a short time ago, is out again and has resumed work in Boston.

The Young People's Social society will meet in the vestry of the Wollaston Unitarian church on Tuesday evening.

The Earnest Workers Lend-a-hand club will meet with Marcia Adams on Tuesday afternoon, April 20,, at 4 o'clock.

Harry Linnell and family, formerly of Rawson road, are occupying the residence of William M. Chase on Davis street, which looks on the boulevard.

Owing to the organ breaking down last Sunday at the beginning of the service, the Easter music will be given tomorrow at the morning service of Bethany church.

Officer John Larkin is very modest about the compliments which he is receiving from all sides as a result of the capture by him of the would-be murderer of Wesley Grant of East Milton.

The Quincy baseball club of the Old Colony league will hold a smoke talk tonight in A. O. H. hall, Franklin street. The smoker was originally scheduled for last night, but was postponed until tonight.

The last sociable and supper of the season will be held by the Wollaston Unitarian church in the vestry on Thursday evening. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith is chairman of the supper committee.

Mrs. E. C. Page, Misses Carruthers, Spear and Thomas and Messrs. Fjelbeck, J. Barraja-Frauenfelder and Luce, are to give arias and overtures from grand opera of the Students' recital at Colonial hall on Wednesday evening.

The boys of St. Chrysostom's church have organized a branch of the Brotherhood of St. Paul, a national organization of boys. The local branch will meet Thursday afternoon in the parish house at four o'clock.

An event which is looked forward to with quite a little anticipation is the Boston Tea Party which is to take place at the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church on the evening of April 19th. There is to be a unique supper and an excellent entertainment.

Col. Anderson of Presidents Hill is to speak on "Recollections of my War Experience" at Tower Hill chapel, Randolph, on Wednesday evening.

The young people of the Universalist church are to organize a Y. P. C. U. Sunday evening at 6.30 o'clock. All interested are invited to be present.

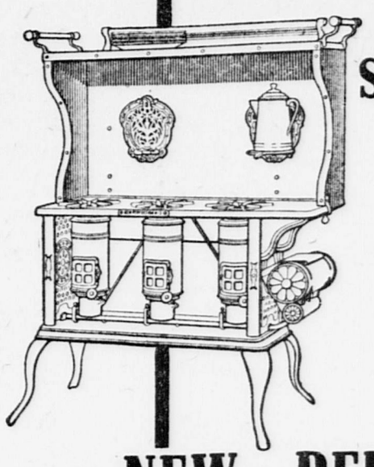

A young man was seen on Beale street about eight-thirty Friday evening. He was walking very swiftly in the direction of East Milton and at times would exclaim and wring his hands and then utter some unintelligible words . It is supposed that either his mind was affected or that he was under the influence of liquor.

R. W. Sawyer, Jr., one of the prominent members of the Massachusetts Savings Insurance league, will address the Quincy Granite Cutters' Association on April 21. Mr. Sawyer has kept in close contact with the savings bank insurance movement and will be prepared to present the latest information regarding the progress in various industrial centres.

Many couples attended the dancing party of the Wollaston Tennis club in Wollaston hall Friday evening. The new courts of the club off Beale street, which are rapidly nearing completion, will probably be ready for use shortly after May 1. A fine lot of clay has been discovered near the courts, which will be worked into them to good advantage. The club has attracted to its membership many well known local players and the coming season will probably furnish many matches of more than ordinary interest.

Among the flowers at St. Chrysostom's church, Easter Sunday were memorials to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Page, Davis R. Howe , Albert Fowler, Margaret Purdom, Ethel Abbie Baker, Roland Hyde Clark, Emma Fowler, Delia McClintock, Frank R. Gorham, "Our Baby," Edward F. Ward, George H. Penfield, Albert J. Gorham, George M. Freeman, Jane Clean, Mary A. Hamilton, Raymond Gorham, Helen Blair Simmons, S. C. Rayner, Mary Elizabeth Hamilton, Horace Carver, Edward V. Trask, Jr., Edwin Russell Price, Anne Ellis MacTear and Marion Carver.

We Wanted to Get Acquainted With You

We sent our representative to Quincy to get acquainted with you and have you get acquainted with the Kickapoo Remedies. Hundreds of people took advantage of our offer and called on our representative at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store. During his stay there he explained the merits of the Kickapoo Remedies and gave all who requested them trial bottles of the Sagwa, so they could test it before purchasing. The results have been beyond our expectation. The sale of Sagwa and other Kickapoo Remedies in this vicinity is enormous, and better still, the people have found that Sagwa will do just as we claim for it. It is not a cure-all or Quack Nostrum. Sagwa is an Indian medicine prepared from simple herbs, barks, gums, leaves and berries, and cures diseases of the stomach and liver.

We maintain that Stomach and Liver troubles are the curse of the 20th century. We maintain that practically all of the chronic ill health of the present day Americans is caused by abnormal stomach and liver conditions.

We have proved these things beyond all doubt to hundreds of people.

The Indians, in their natural state, were the healthiest human beings on earth. They were close to nature, lived out of doors, exposed to the sun, wind, and rain, yet they did not suffer with chronic debility or nervous exhaustion. Their stomachs and livers were in a sound condition. If at any time they needed medicines, they doctored themselves with simple herbs, barks, gums, and leaves—the same as Sagwa is now prepared from. They were not continually tired, drowsy, and half-sick, as are the people of the present day. Their perfect health was the result of their keeping their stomachs and livers in a sound condition. They were not shut up all day in the house or office, with no out-of-doors exercise. They did not stuff themselves with food, when their bodies did not have enough exercise to throw it off. The civilized race has been doing this very thing for years. Their stomachs have gradually become weaker and weaker. Look at the results. Most people are half sick most of the time.

We believe that all this chronic ill health is caused primarily by stomach and liver trouble. We believe that very few people can be sick if their digestion is in good order. We know that Sagwa—the Indian vegetable remedy—will put the stomach and liver in good condition in four to six weeks. That is why its sells so wonderfully all over the world.

Call on our representative at Edward J. Murphy's Drug Store, and get a free trial bottle of Sagwa. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

EAST BRAINTREE.

Rev. Edward A. Robinson of Hingham will exchange Sunday morning with Rev. R. H. Cochrane of the Union church.

The services of the Oriental Fife and Drum Corps have been secured by the Quincy Spanish War Veterans for Memorial day.

Members of the J. P. S. A. are hard at work rehearsing for a play which they expect to have ready April 30. They think they have a good attraction and an extra fine cast, which includes some old favorites and some new ones who will be favorites.

The Oriental Fife and Drum Corps has elected Harry C. Glover president, John E. Robery vice president and Edward E. Lawson secretary and treasurer for the year of 1909.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Union church held a successful sale of cake, home made candy and useful articles on Wednesday afternoon and evening. A supper was served at 6.30 which was enjoyed by about 75. Mrs. Granville Pinkham was in charge. In the evening there was a musical program.

At the vesper service at the Union Congregational Church of Weymouth and Braintree, on Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, an Easter cantata, entitled "The Risen King", by P. A. Schnecker, will be sung by a chorus of twenty voices. Solo parts will be taken by: Miss Blanche R. Wilder, soprano; Miss Anna H. Ellis, contralto; Mr. Chas. E. Leavitt, violinist; Miss Anna M. Cady, organist. The pastor will give a brief address on "Resurrection Power."

Housekeepers are kept busy these days reading the ads of H .L. Kincaide & Co., for they do not wish to miss any of the bargains, and this firm is offering so many really good trades in furniture, that customers are only prevented from buying something every day in the week because of the limit to their purse.

CATHOLIC CLUB HAS BIRTHDAY

Guest Night and Entertainment Held at Colonial Hall.

The Quincy Catholic club closed its first year with a guest night, entertainment and social hour Friday evening, at Colonial hall. There was a very large attendance of members and lady friends of the club, and the evening was one of rare enjoyment to all, reflecting great credit upon Miss Mary R. Lyons, Miss Anna J. Walsh and Miss Mary J. Dunn, the committee who had the affair in charge.

During the first part of the evening there was a pleasing program which included selections by an orchestra composed of Miss Angela McCarthy pianist, Miss Hattie Pierce, cornetist and Miss Marguerite McCarthy, violinist, and a comedy entitled "How the Story Grew."

The characters in the cast were impersonated by Emma Bigoness, Mary R. Lyons, Agnes Deasy, Anna J. Walsh, Agnes T. McGinty, Helen H. Gavin, Catherine Roche and Mary Dunn.

An event not down on the program took place at this time. This was the presentation to Miss Mary L. Gavin, the president of the club with a handsome basket of Carnations, decorated with yellow and white gauze ribbons, the club colors. The presentation speech was made by Miss Deasy who took occasion to pay tribute to Miss Gavin for the great interest she had shown in the club and for her untiring zeal in promoting its welfare. To her efforts, she said the success of the first year was in a great measure due.

Miss Gavin in accepting the gift thanked the ladies and assured them that she highly appreciated their remembrance. She spoke of the work of the other officers as well as the members of the club without whose co-operation she said it could not have been made the success that it was.

Ice cream, cake and coffee were then served and a social hour was followed.

The Quincy Catholic club was organized in April 1908 and had for its purpose the administering to the wants and relieving the suffering of the poor and sick of St. John's parish. During the year nine social events have been held in addition to the regular business and sewing meetings, and it has done a grand good work in a quiet and unassuming way.

The annual reports, which were presented to the members, at the social Friday evening in book form, showed the total receipts of the year from all sources to have been $770.75 and the expenses, the larger part of which was for charity, $605.97 leaving a substantial balance on hand with which to begin the new year.

The annual meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday evening at which time officers will be elected. The club now numbers 100.

BRAINTREE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Putman have returned to their home on Oak street, after being away all winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Folsom of Ash street have been entertaining a friend from Matfield, New Jersey.

John Harding and Herbert Simms of Wesleyan college have been spending a week at their homes in Braintree.

A new retaining wall two to three feet high is being built along Elm street where the trees were cut down.

John Tonner of Hollis avenue returned Monday from Greenwich, Conn., where he has been spending three weeks with relatives.

Mrs. Peterson of Sherbrooke avenue who has been in England about a year returned this week accompanied by her two children; one was born abroad.

There will be a notable gathering of Masons in Braintree next Saturday afternoon and evening when the degrees will be exemplified by the lodges in the 25th Masonic distict under the direction of Right Worshipful Frederick L. Putnam, grand lecturer.

George H. Wetherbee, who has been under the weather for the past week, is now quite recovered.

Letters remain unclaimed at Braintree post office for Miss Alice Kennedy, Miss Mary Nevala, Miss Aina Nurmi and E. Williams.

There was a large attendance on Tuesday evening at the second of the health lectures of William Anthony Spinney, A. M., at the Cochato clubhouse. "Healthful Inhibition" was the subject; and the talk was full of common sense. Next Tuesday evening the subject will be "Health through self control in breathing."

John O. Hall, Jr., principal of the High school at Millbury, visited the Braintree High school yesterday and was interested in the organization.

The Thayer Academy base ball team was unable to score last Saturday afternoon in its opening game with the Rindge school. The game was played on French's Common and the visitors won 6 to 0, two each in the first fifth and seventh innings. It was a chilly afternoon but there was a large attendance.

THIRTY-FOURTH ANUNAL BALL.

St. Mary's hall never looked more beautiful than it did Friday eevning at the thirty-fourth anniversary ball of the St .Mary's Catholic Total Abstinence and Mutual Relief Society, which was attended by about 100 couples. The hall was tastily decorated with flags and bunting and the blue and white of the St. Mary's Society.

A mass of cut flowers, potted plants and ferns completely covered the stage and nearly hid Kutz's orchestra which furnished the music. The gowns of the ladies were some of the most attractive of the season and altogether the 34th annual was perhaps the most brilliant in the history of the society.

From 8 to 9 an excellent concert was rendered by the orchestra, during which time the guests were arriving. The conecrt program was as follows:
Waltz—Garden of Dreams Remick
Latest Potpourri Kerry Mills
March—National Emblem Bagley
March—Yankee Doodle from Yankee Prince

At nine o'colck the grand march was started led by President Lewis A. Pendis and Mrs. Pendis followed by Hon. William T. Shea and his niece Miss Rita Lyons, and 75 couples.

The march over dancing began, and with the exception of an hour from 12 to 1, during which supper was served, there was no let-up until 3 o'clock. Lewis A. Pendis was floor marshall and he was assisted by Geo. W. Berry. Daniel E. Duggan of basket ball fame, was floor director and Joseph A. Morrissette, assistant. The aids were William E. Duggan, Captain of the basket ball team, Frank J. Egan, John J .King, Thomas J. Shortle, Walter K. Pendis, Michael J. Crowley, James A. White and Charles J. Canavan.

From 12 to 1 the following menu was served by Burleigh & Martin the well known caterers of Boston, roast turkey, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, croquets and peas banana fritters, sauce, lobster salad, potato salad, cold ham rolls, frozen pudding, sherbet, assorted ice cream, assorted cake macaroons ,lady fingers and coffee.

BRIEFS

The funeral of Mrs. McLaughlin, who died at the home of her sister at 56 Walnut street, on Thursday evening was held as the Sacred Heart church this morning.

Mrs. Ellen Carver of Atlantic now of Roxbury, came to Atlantic Wednesday to call upon Mrs. Roger Wilde who lives in the house once occupied by Mrs. Carver and her family. As she stepped upon the piazza she fell stricken with paralysis. She was put to bed and a physician called. It was found that she was in a very serious condition, one side being entirely useless and the other side partially so. She will probably be moved to the Quincy hospital.

Mr. Adam Cunningham, father of Mrs. Crawford Harvey, recently of Atlantic, now of El Paso, Texas, returned from a four months' stay with his daughter and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will be pleased to hear that Mr. Cunningham left them all well and prospering.

—In 1912 England will have fourteen battleships of the advanced types, Germany thirteen and the United States twelve. No wonder that England not only sees that her two power standard is a pipe dream, but recognizes that, even for her, a one power standard rests on a mere toss-up.

IN SEVENTY-FIVE ANNUAL PAYMENTS

Bulgaria to Pay Russia $16,400,000 For Getting Independence

St. Petersburg, April 17.—The Russo-Bulgarian settlement was signed here today simultaneously with the signing of the Turko-Bulgarian agreement at Constantinople. Bulgaria is considered to have secured good terms. She will pay to Russia, as intermediary between herself and Turkey in the settlement of claims made by the porte arising from Bulgaria's declaration of independence, $16,400,000.

A loan for this amount will be issued at par with interest at 4¾ percent and will be extinguished in seventy-five annual payments. Bulgaria reserves the right to pay the debt outright at any time.

The recognition of Bulgarian independence, which will be done by the exchange of notes, is now a matter of only a few days.

GRIDIRONS' SPRING DINNER

President Taft and Other Notables Will Be Their Guests

Washington, April 17.—The wicked tariff will cease from troubling and the weary senators and representatives will be at rest for one while anyway. Democrats and Republicans, tariff revisionists and stand patters will gather tonight at the spring dinner of the famous and noisy Gridiron club and forget their troubles.

It will be the last dinner of the season given by the organization of newspaper correspondents and other good fellows whose dinner doings are reported all over the country and in some foreign lands.

President Taft and the members of his cabinet will be guests at the dinner, and among other distinguished men who will swell the list of notables will be Admiral Sperry, who was in command of the fleet which went around the world. The postmaster general of Canada has accepted an invitation also. A number of the diplomatic corps will be present and senators and representatives too numerous to mention.

WILSON'S REFEREE BOARD

Its Legal Status Confirmed by the Attorney General

Washington, April 17.—That the referee board of the department of agriculture, whose duty it is to investigate foods and articles used in foods, is a legally constituted body, and that Secretary Wilson had ample authority to appoint the board, is the decision of Attorney General Wickersham.

The decision is of far reaching importance, because it means that the work of the referee board on the wholesomeness of sulphur, saccharene and copper salts will be continued. It had been claimed that Wilson's action in appointing such a board was without authority of law, because the duty of examining foods was vested by congress in the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture.

LONG LITIGATION ENDS

Texas to Get Nearly $2,000,000 From Waters-Pierce Oil Company

Austin, Tex., April 17.—The mandate from the United States supreme court has arrived here, ending the long litigation between the state of Texas and the Waters-Pierce Oil company in favor of the state, the corporation being denied a re-hearing in the ouster and penalty suit.

The federal court will order its receiver to turn over the company's property to the state receiver and officials of the company will then pay the fine and accruing penalties, which total nearly $2,000,000.

It is announced that the corporation officials intend paying the entire amount in cash. It will take several days and a large force of clerks to disburse the money.

SAILING OF MAYFLOWER

Historical Event Is Without a Memorial at Southampton

London, April 17.—Richard G. Oakley, mayor of Southampton, writes to the newspapers, appealing to the English-speaking people on both sides of the Atlantic to promote a fund to establish a memorial at Southampton to the Pilgrim Fathers.

He thinks it amazing that an event of such eminent historical importance as the sailing of the Mayflower has been left so long without a memorial at Southampton.

Policeman Kills a Japanese

San Francisco, April 17.—Tonijo Kawamoto, said to have been a deserter from the Japanese steamship Chiyo, now in port, was shot and killed by Patrolman Annear. The sailor fought against arrest and stabbed the policeman. The police say they were asked by the officers of the vessel to arrest Kawamoto.

New York, April 17.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says that although the movement of trade is slow, it is of large volume and steadily in the direction of improvement.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Hollis Street Theatre.

At the Hollis Street theatre, commencing Monday matinee, April 19, Marie Cahill comes for a limited engagement, presenting her newest offering, "The Boys and Betty," described as an unusual musical play, with book and lyrics by George V. Hobart and music by Silvio Hein. Miss Cahill has but recently completed a four months' engagement at Wallack's theatre, New York, with "The Boys and Betty," and succeeded in winning the universal praise of the Manhattan critics, who undividedly declared that the new play was the best musical offering of the current season, not only from the viewpoint that it was a brilliant production, but that it also marked a distinct departure in that it possessed a sane and consistent story. So great was the vogue of Miss Cahill and her associates in "The Boys and Betty," that she might have remained in New York for the balance of the season, but the calls from other cities were too strong to be ignored, and a short tour which included Boston was booked. The comedienne will have a number of new song hits to offer, the titles of which are suggestive of the Cahill style of entertainment. Among them are: "It's the Doctor, Bill," "Auf Wiedersehen," "A Little Farther," and a thoroughly characteristic one entitled "The Arab Love Song."

Boston Theatre.

Frederic Thompson's notable scenic melodrama "Via Wireless," which opened at the Boston theatre for an extended engagement last Monday evening, exhibited two examples of novel and effective stage mechanism which were in all respects the most impressive ever displayed in connection with any play seen in Boston. The first of the two great scenes is laid in the forging room of the Durant Steel Works at Pittsburg, where a huge gun is lifted from the furnace and plunged into the oil bath in full sight of the audience. In this scene stage realism, literally true to life, reaches the very acme of exemplification and the detail was worked up to an extent that roused the interest of the audience to the highest degree. The other great scene depicts a hurricane at sea with a huge liner tossing on the waves, bent on rescuing a wrecked yacht, from which has been sent by wireless telegraphy an appeal for help. The production in its entirety is an impressive illustration of the advance in stage realism. Regular matinees are on Wednesdays and Saturdays. There will be a special matinee on Monday (Patriots' Day).

Keith's Theatre.

Those who have laughed over "From Zaza to Uncle Tom," which has been played over 600 times by William H. Murphy and Blanche Nichols, will welcome something new from this pair of favorites, especially when it is an act that has been declared by all odds the funniest that this clever pair of comedians have ever produced. It is called "A School of Acting," and is built something after the style of the old favorite, but is even more funny with more ludicrous situations and enables Miss Nichols to appear in her great character, the stage soubrette. It is a satire, poking fun at stage struck youths and maidens, whose wealthy parents are willing to back them in theatrical enterprises and the finish is the biggest laughing sensation now in vaudeville. This will be the headline feature at Keith's theatre during the week of April 19th. Other big features will be Marie Dainton, "A Night With the Poets" and Gus Williams. Miss Dainton first appeared in Boston last week in her excellent mimicry and proved such a hit that she has been held over for another week when she will introduce some new songs and impersonations.

Colonial Theatre.

With an audience, to welcome them, that completely filled every available inch of sitting and standing-room in the beautiful Colonial theatre, the reunited Cohan family returned to Boston last Monday night and received an ovation that for affectionate sincerity and demonstrative cordiality has not been equalled in a local playhouse for years. The cause was threefold. Primarily everybody "Who is who" at the "Hub" had turned out to give the glad hand of greeting to George M. Cohan who has just recovered from an illness that had laid him up for five weeks. Secondly, to extend another greeting to the entire family, known from coast to coast and Canada to the Gulf as "The Four Cohans," and thirdly to witness the first Boston presentation of "The Yankee Prince," a musical play from the workshop of George M. Cohan which, they had been told was the best pen product of this gifted young author, actor, composer and playwright down to date.

Castle Square Theatre.

With the opening performance of "A Runaway Girl" on Monday, the Castle Square will ring with the merriment and the tunefulness of musical comedy. It is now two months since the run of "The Circus Girl" came to an end, but its great popularity is by no means forgotten, and the public has been clamoring for something else of the same kind. They will have in "A Runaway Girl," which equals if it does not surpass "The Circus Girl" in everything that goes to the making of a first class musical comedy. Its scenes, laid in Corsica and Venice, are of the most picturesque, its characters are a mingling of the English and Italian races that will add variety to it, and in witty lines and catchy songs it has no superior. Among its best known solos and choruses are "The Boy Guessed Right," "Soldiers in the Park" and "Follow the Man from Cook's." "A Runaway Girl" is one of the best of the many musical comedies that have come to us across from that London birthplace of the musical comedy ,the Gaiety theatre. Chorus, orchestra, scenic display, costumes, dialogue, music and last but not least the actors, will all contribute towards the success of "A Runaway Girl," at the Castle Square The cast will be made up of the entire John Craig Stock Company, with several notable additions, including Miss Louise Le Baron, the well known opera singer who has already won her laurels at the Castle Square, especially engaged for the role of Carmenita.

Orpheum Theatre.

It would seem to be an impossibility to excel the wonderful bills which have been at the Orpheum during the season, but a glance at the bill next week will easily convince any theatregoer that there has been nothing like it ever before placed before a Boston audience. To begin with there is George Primrose the most famous Minstrel of them all and conceded to be America's most graceful dancer. The name of Primrose is a by-word of minstrelsy and known intimately to the last two generations. Another headline feature will be that inimitable creator of comedy characterizations, Katie Barry. This diminutive comedienne made a reputation in the legitimate, starring in several of the most successful pieces. Lovers of animals will be delighted with the offering of Alf. W. Loyal who comes direct from the Wintergarden, Berlin with his comedy dogs. Mr. Loyal presents some original ideas in animal training and introduces the only dog in the world doing the long distance somersault. The musical end of the program will be contributed to by Eugenio Torre, the celebrated operatic tenor from the Metropolitan Opera Company. This will be one of the most notable vaudeville engagements of the season.

STATE HOUSE LETTER.

Boston, April 14, 1909.

Not till tomorrow will it be settled whether the House will send back to the committee on the liquor law the bill to prevent the exercise of fourth and fifth class liquor licenses upon the premises where licenses of the first three classes are exercised, with the exception of licensed inn holders. This bill is one to prevent the sale of bottled goods in a saloon or restaurant. It is evidently of sufficient importance to require prominent mention, even if it is still hanging in midair, because of the flurry over it. Both sides of the liquor struggle believe that it is an important measure. It was reported on a petition for a general bill. The committee which reported it believed that it was a general bill. But, but an error in punctuation that capitalization, it is limited to Boston alone. It makes an addition to the present law, the last sentence of the law to which it is added relates to Boston alone. The new part instead of beginning with a capital letter as a new sentence, began with a small letter, the period preceding being changed to a comma. Thus the new part related to Boston alone. When Mr. Grady of Boston raised the point of order that here was a special bill reported on a petition for a general one, Speaker Walker had to sustain him. Under former practice, this would have killed the bill for the session. But in recent years a motion has been entertained to recommit in order to amend so as to avoid the point of order. Therefore, after Speaker Walker had ruled the bill out, its friends moved to recommit, a motion which, at this stage of the session, requires a two-thirds' vote. A roll-call showed 135 yeas to 69 nays and two pairs. There was a Boston Democrat who voted yes on the rising vote who voted no on the roll call. If he had stood by his first vote, it would have been 196 to 88, or just two-thirds, and the bill would have been recommitted. But the next morning Mr. Cutting of Weston, in charge of the bill, moved to reconsider the refusal to recommit and to postpone that motion to Thursday, Mr. Grady of Boston made another point of order that this motion was out of order, but Speaker Walker overruled him. Postponement was carried, 82 to 51 and so the fight was on again.

Business has been moving slowly the last two weeks. About 400 matters remain to be reported upon and nearly all of them have been heard. But as long as the House has plenty to do, there is no need of bringing in more to be called every day and to run up a larger state printing bill by standing in the calendar. Delay was caused by the contest for state treasurer.

One of the best debates for a long time was that in the House yesterday afternoon over the bill to allow judges to charge juries regarding the value of expert evidence in trials. It was a lawyers' debate. They had prepared themselves . They spoke well; their arguments were well made; their delivery was fine; they held the attention of the House and it was a refreshing credit to the Massachusetts legislature, showing that the power of debate still remains. The judiciary committee was divided and the two sections locked horns finely. Messrs. Mellen of Braintree, Dorman of Lynn and Bishop of Newton, the last named being chairman of the judiciary committee, were the principal defenders of the bill, and Mr. Hobson of Palmer, one of the dissenters, was the leader on the other side. Expert evidence was scorned and flouted in fine style as the product of a lot of perjured witnesses and it was held that the bill would only bring our law back to where it was from 1780 to 1860,—when the designing Benjamin F. Butler produced a change after he had a quarrel with a judge,—that the English law allows the judge to assist the jury in determining the facts, and that United States law is just what is proposed, and is practiced every day in the courts in Boston. But Mr. Hobson and his supporters insisted that it was entirely for the jury to determine the facts, regardless of any assistance from the judge, and the bill was refused a third reading by 50 yeas to 97 nays. So Ben Butler continues to be a present power in every court room today under Massachusetts statute.

The House has gone on record for the bill to extend the civil service law to all cities and towns with over 12,000 inhabitants as far as it relates to sealers of weights and measures and their assistants. It was amended to include the state inspectors of weights and measures. It had material opposition on the ground that no head of department should come under the civil service rules.

Labor men get something out of the House this year, but they lose it in the Senate. They have passed in the House and sent to the Senate a bill to permit labor unions to fine their members in order to compel them to go on strike. It was a long debate in the House, for the Senate had already killed the proposition by a close vote. When the adverse report came down on the question of concurrence, the House make the effort and won. But, unless the Senate experiences an unexpected change of heart, it will once more kill the bill as soon as it has opportunity.

But the labor men did not fare as well in the House on the bill to permit peaceful picketing. By 92 yeas to 104 nays they refused to substitute a bill for a hostile committee report. The argument was that peaceful picketing was impossible and that broken heads were too certain to follow the presence of picketers. In vain the labormen argued that it was only right to give the representatives of labor unions, or of strikers generally, a fair opportunity to explain the situation to the strike-breakers and to persuade them not to take away work and bread from the strikers. The conservatives had the day and that bill is lost for the time.

Speaker Walker was condemned by some of the members of the House today for coming down into the debate on the 80-cent gas bill for East Boston, and he was commended equally by others, even on the side against him in the debate. Some complained that he ought not to have brought the prestige and dignity of the chair into the debate. Mr. Mellen of Worcester was in this class. But Mr. Duane of Waltham, who sided with Mellen in debate, praised Speaker Walker warmly because he had the courage and public spirit to get into the fight as a matter of principle, as it doubtless was. More than this, Walker had to face a majority which had twice gone on record against the side he represented. So it was a question whether he would win. His opening was right in line with his remarks in the House caucus and in the House after being elected. He urged every man to do what he thought right. He strikes the ethical note more than any other man has done for years at the state house, and he goes to the edge of mugwumpism in a way which is risky for a man who depends upon party votes for his continuing in public office. But his motto is that every man should follow his conscience, regardless of his party or of the majority. Thus far he has held the support of the party leaders and has grown in the respect of the House. Hence it was not strange that he won in the effort to defeat the bill, although by the close vote of 91 to 81. His presentation of the policy of the state to put the public service corporations into the hands of the commissions and that the legislature ought to keep hands off was effective.

In a few weeks the reporters' quarters at the state house will doubtless be much improved. Conditions have changed greatly from what they were 15 years ago when the extension was first used. Boston papers send up more men. Demands for telephone service by out-of-town papers have increased ten-fold. Everything has been crowded and more room is imperative. Hence the room of the committee on cities has been given up for the press. Rule.

Are You Wretched in Bad Weather?

Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Quincy People Well.

Many Quincy people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back, or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it "settles on the kidneys," and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness, which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural Doan's Kidney Pills has saved Quincy people much suffering.

W. Charlesworth, living at 33 Cranch street, Quincy, Mass., says: "About five years ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble. I had pains in my back which were at times more severe than at others and colds or damp weather aggravated my suffering. I knew my kidneys were at fault and used everything I could think of in an effort to obtain relief, but to no avail. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, I finally decided to give this remedy a trial and procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. Before I had used the contents of two boxes, the backache was a thing of the past and I felt better in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement."

JOSEPH OF OLD THE ONLY WINNER

Performance In Cornering Wheat Cannot Be Duplicated

OPINION OF SECRETARY WILSON

Says "Wheat King" Patten Has Decided Motive For Understating Supplies of Wheat In Elevators and Farmers' Bins—Smash Is Coming When There Is No More to Be Bought

Washington, April 17.—"Only one man in all the history of speculation ever operated a wheat corner and played out the game to a final success," said Secretary of Agriculture Wilson at the White House. "That was Joseph of old. I don't think there is anybody operating now who can duplicate his performance.

"To successfully corner the wheat market," Wilson is quoted to say, "you have got to keep buying, buying, and buying. Finally the time comes when you can't buy any more, and then there is a smash."

Secretary Wilson has been looking into the Patten operation in Chicago. He declares that Patten has been disseminating a good deal of misinformation about the supplies of wheat in the elevators and the farmers' bins.

"It is, of course, to his advantage," explained Wilson, "to have the public get the impression that there is a great shortage of wheat, because that makes it easier for him to hold up the prices and gather it in. But his figures about this shortage don't agree with those of our experts.

"We find that the visible supply is vastly larger than Patten has been telling the country it is, and we are positive that we are right. We haven't any motive for overstating, while Patten naturally has a decided motive for understating. I will not undertake now to give you figures, but our experts are likely to have something to say."

"Will you have comment to make on both the American and the world's visible supply?" was asked.

"We gather more or less information about world supplies, but it is not complete or so accurate as that concerning our own supplies. No other country has the facilities and information for making so good an estimate as we have."

Wheat Market Nervous

Chicago, April 17.—Following Thursday's sensational market, wheat on the board of trade was nervous at the opening Friday. Patten was said to be a buyer. Prices were depressed early, July touching $1.15⅝ and May $1.25⅝, but the close was strong with July the bone of contention 1¼ cents over the previous close at $1.17. May closed ½ cent lower at $1.27⅛.

BECOMES MRS. REEVES

Katherine Roosevelt Ceases to Be a Real Bachelor Girl

Boston, April 17.—Miss Katherine Roosevelt, Boston's best-known bachelor girl and one of the most daring horsewomen in the country, was married today to J. Stanley Reeves of Philadelphia.

The ceremony took place at the Beacon street home of Miss Roosevelt's mother, Mrs. T. J. Bowler.

Mrs. Reeves is wealthy in her own right and has passed much of her life in a fine old home mansion in Millis, Mass. There she has had her horses, her dogs and her own servants and has lived the life of a real bachelor girl.

She has now sold the place, for after her wedding she will make her home in Germantown, Philadelphia.

Rev. William Dewart of the Hyde Park Episcopal church officiated at the marriage this noon.

WATER HIGH OVER DAMS

Causes Many New England Plants to Suspend Operations

Boston, April 17.—Manufacturing plants in various New England cities and towns were shut down Friday on account of the high water in their wheelpits, and several thousand employes had a day of enforced idleness.

The freshets which caused damage Thursday about the upper portions of the larger rivers of New England reached the lower end of the streams Friday and the water was almost at record height over the dams in many of the larger manufacturing cities and towns.

No heavy damage was reported, however, the main loss being in working time where the plants were forced to shut down.

Fairbanks Starts Abroad

San Francisco, April 17.—Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, accompanied by Mrs. Fairbanks and others, sailed for the Orient on the Japanese liner Chiyo. He will stop at Honolulu, leaving there on May 17 for Yokohama, whence he will proceed to Pekin.

The Weather

Almanac, Sunday, April 18.
Sun rises—4:59; sets—6:29.
Moon rises—4:31 a. m.
High water—9:45 a. m.; 10 p. m.

Increasing cloudiness and warmer weather will be followed by showers in New England.

ST. YVES AGAINST WHITE

Gaul and Gael will Race Fifteen Miles at Clifton, N. J., Tomorrow

New York, April 17.—Henri St. Yves, the wonderful little French runner who won the Marathon Derby in this city two weeks ago, will race tomorrow against Pat White, the Irish champion. The Gaul and the Gael will get together in a fifteen mile contest on the Clifton stadium bicycle track at Clifton, N. J.

HENRI ST. YVES.

White's ten mile victory over Svanberg, the Swedish champion, in Madison Square Garden has regained for him some of the prestige he lost when Mat Maloney beat him recently. St. Yves since then has beaten Maloney in a race at Providence, R. I. He is matched to race Shrubb, the Englishman, fifteen miles at the American league park on Saturday of next week.

USUAL PRIVILEGES ARE RESTRICTED

Cape Residents Can Have Nothing From the Hall Wreck

Chatham, Mass., April 17.—The waters of Pollock Rip Slue, where the dismantled hull of the steamer Horatio Hall lies submerged, were the scene of a great commotion when government wreckers set off a charge of dynamite in the Hall's remains. The steamer's properties as a menace to navigation were not entirely destroyed by the initial explosion.

The mandate of the government that none of the steamer's parts, fittings or cargo shall be taken by any person other than a government officer has caused much agitation among the residents of this portion of the cape. This deprival of their ordinary privileges is looked upon with considerable disfavor.

DOCTOR UNDER SUSPICION

Must Answer to Charge of Having Caused Girl's Death

Holyoke, Mass., April 17.—The death of Miss Bertha D. Webb, a 16-year-old schoolgirl, was followed last night by the arrest of Dr. Odilon J. Comtois, on the charge of performing an illegal operation. Comtois was released on bonds of $5000 for a hearing in the police court.

Miss Webb's death, which occurred last Wednesday at a hospital here, was reported in the local papers as resulting from malaria. An autopsy will be held on her body by the medical examiner.

JUSTICE HAS BEEN CHEATED

No Light on Assassination of King Carlos and His Son

Lisbon, April 17.—Speaking in the house of peers, Count Farnosa denounced the failure of the criminal authorities to throw any light on the plot that resulted in the assassinations over a year ago of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luise. He said the public was as much in the dark today as when the assassinations took place.

Replying to the count, Premier Sousa-Telles defended the examining magistrate, saying this official had done his full duty.

Scouts Going to Liberia

Washington, April 17.—A scout cruiser division, made up of the Chester, Birmingham and Salem, has been formed by the navy department. Next week the cruisers are to leave the United States with the members of the Liberian commission.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gilbert Hinton, 9 years old, was killed instantly in a Providence department store, when he fell down the elevator well, a distance of four stories.

A monument to the memory of Barbara Heck, founder of Methodism in America, will be unveiled in August on the site of her grave at Blue Church Bay, N. Y.

A prominent point in the newly improved Potomac Park on the banks of the Potomac river at Washington has been selected as the site of the statue of John Paul Jones, the naval hero of the Revolution.

It is related that once a German American, growing more and more afflicted with extreme nervousness, got the impression that he was forgetting English. The impression got so strong that he refused to talk anything but German. Then he became convinced that he was forgetting that, closed up like an oyster and was led away to a sanitarium, where he spent his days in complete silence.

A course of treatment was prescribed for him in which baths played an important part. Every morning the dumb German American was thrown bodily into a tub filled with very hot water, allowed to remain there awhile and then hauled out and set to cool on the piazza.

But once the sanitarium acquired a new attendant who got his signals mixed. He was told to bathe the German American. Filling a tub with ice cold water, he threw the patient into it.

"You ——! You confounded ——!" roared the dumb man, beside himself with fury. "You ——!" Then he switched to German. "Du verfluchter Esel! Du ——!"

The doctors pronounced him cured, and he left the sanitarium the next day.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Domestic Hen.

Joe Jefferson used to tell this one: "In the spring of 1892, being in the vicinity of West Swanzey, N. H., I drove over to call on my old friend, Den Thompson. It happened that I called at an inopportune time, as the women folk were housecleaning. In fact, I noticed as I drove up to the house that the clotheslines in the yard back of the house were laden with carpets.

"Den was very anxious that I should look over his prize fowls, in which he took especial pride. We went out into the big yard back of the house. As Den was pointing out to me his favorites we noticed one old hen going through some queer antics. She was pecking away at something on the ground, lifting it in her bill and dropping it again.

"'What's the matter with the old Biddy, anyway, Den?' I asked.

"Den was silent for a minute, then drawled out:

"'Well, you see, Joe, as she's a rather domestic sort of hen I cal'late the old girl must be getting ready to lay a carpet.'"—New York Telegraph.

Daintiness In Dough.

A west side family that abhors all products of the bakeshop advertised for a maid of all work.

"Can you make bread?" was the question put to each applicant.

Of all the maids who professed to own that accomplishment the mistress chose the one with the frailest hands and arms.

"I don't know about the wisdom of that choice," ventured a male member of the family. "Wouldn't it have been better to pick out a sturdier girl?"

"Not at all," said the lady. "What we require in this family, above all things, is good bread. We half live on bread. I am confident I have chosen a good breadmaker. A girl with rather delicate hands always makes better bread than one whose fists are like sledge hammers. Bread to be good needs to be coddled in the kneading. The light fingered do that instinctively, but the heavy handed slam and bang the very life out of the dough."—New York Globe.

Philosopher and Philanthropist.

"Coquelin was very charitable," said a theatrical manager. "He did more for superannuated actors and actresses than any other man in France. I once heard him speak on charity in the French Actors' home, that he did so much for.

"'There are plenty of philanthropists,' said Coquelin. 'There are plenty of philosophers—plenty, I mean, according to the definition that too many of us accept.'

"He smiled grimly.

"'Too many of us,' said Coquelin, 'define a philosopher as one who bears with resignation the cold and hunger from which his neighbor is suffering, and too many of us define a philanthropist as one who gives away other people's money.'"

A Coy Maiden.

A girl played postoffice at a party and yelled and shrieked and howled and ran behind the door and scratched the young man's face in seven places, upset a lamp, kicked over the piano stool, and when he finally kissed her on the tip of the ear she fainted dead away and said she could never look anybody in the face again. They led the bashful, modest, gentle, sobbing creature home, and the next day she ran away with a married lightning rod peddler.—Altoona (Kan.) Tribune.

A Strong Reason.

"You always speak kindly to your wife?" said the prying friend.

"Always," answered Mr. Meekton. "I never think of giving Henrietta a harsh word."

"Because you believe in ruling by gentleness?"

"No. Because self preservation is the first law of nature."—Washington Star.

Military Valor.

I wonder is it because men are such cowards in heart that they admire bravery so much and place military valor so far beyond every other quality for reward and worship?—Thackeray.

No Such Good Luck.

HOW THE THIEF GOT IN AND OUT.

By T. ANTHONY TWINING.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

I was telegraphed to come at once to the country residence of Hugo Van Vliet, and, being a detective, I knew it meant that my professional services would be required. Mr. Van Vliet met me at the station and while taking me to his house in his runabout motor car told me what had happened. He had a number of guests in his house, nearly all of whom were, like himself, very wealthy. It was his first season there, the house having been recently finished, and he had opened it with what he considered a distinguished circle of friends. They were all high class society people with a British lord thrown in to give the party eclat.

Nearly every night some one of his guests had been robbed of either money or jewels or both. After the first disappearance he had enjoined all of them to be careful to lock their doors and had bolts put on every door. For a few nights after this there were no robberies, but then they commenced again. The Britisher's (Lord Mannerleigh) lady had been robbed of some superb jewels. The singular part of it was that after the valuables were taken, though the thief could only have escaped by the door, it remained locked.

While all were at dinner I was shown the rooms, examining the approaches, the connections with other rooms, the windows and lastly the locks and bolts. This done, I sent for the host.

"Mr. Van Vliet," I said, "I presume there are times when your guests are out of doors amusing themselves."

"Yes, both morning and afternoon."

"The maids get through putting the rooms in order in the morning, I suppose, and in the afternoon the upstairs is deserted?"

"Yes."

"Some one at such time has fixed the rooms to be entered."

"Then it must be one of the servants."

"The thief is not one of the servants. I suspect one of your guests."

"You are mistaken."

"Very well. I will accuse no one. I must either catch the rogue in the act or the case goes by default. No one has yet seen me. Tonight I will sleep in the village, and tomorrow I will arrive as one of your guests. I have my evening dress with me and can make a presentable appearance. I shall be a trifle brusque in manner, for I shall hail from the far west. My wealth will be my principal claim to your friendship. I will be John Rogers, a mine owner."

As Mr. Rogers I arrived the next afternoon, went to my room and moved the bed so that by putting out my hand I could switch on the electric lights. Then I dressed and went down to dinner. At table I talked a good deal of my mines and my taste for jewels. Speaking of the latter, I said that I had a great fancy for sapphires and was making up a lot of them to have made into a necklace to take back west to my wife for an anniversary wedding present. I said I kept those I had collected with me and would be happy to show them after dinner. At this Mr. Van Vliet frowned, the conversation was changed, and the jewels were not produced.

That night when all the others had retired I went to my room, locked and bolted my door, put a small box under my pillow, then went to bed and lay awake waiting. About 3 in the morning I heard a slight mouselike sound—so slight that it was scarcely distinguishable—at the door. Then I heard indications of some one fumbling about the room. I had left no valuables on the dresser or in my pockets, so the thief must come nearer. Presently I fancied a hand slipping under the mattress, but this might be fancy. What was not fancy was a grasp on the box under my pillow. I caught the arm of a figure kneeling beside the bed. Then I turned on the lights. I held a woman, and that woman was Lady Mannerleigh.

"Ah," I said, "I supposed his lordship was doing these jobs."

Jumping out of bed, I pushed a button. A servant on watch answered the summons.

"Stay here with this woman," I said, "and don't let her go out."

I went softly into the hall and saw a white figure slip into Lord Mannerleigh's room. Mannerleigh had evidently been watching. I locked his lordship's door and, returning to my room, stood watch over the countess while the servant went for Mr. Van Vliet. When he came he received the surprise of his life.

When the earl and his lady had been turned over to the police—he was an English valet and she a lady's maid with forged letters—I showed Mr. Van Vliet a little hole in the door of every room that had been entered, except the thief's, which had been plugged, over the lock and bolt, each end of the plug having been dabbed with white enamel like the door so nicely as to be almost unnoticeable. Through the hole a wire with a joint had been pushed. When the joint was inside the room a string attached to the inner end of the wire was pulled, and the part beyond the joint was drawn over the bolt, which was then shot. The key was turned with slender tweezers. In this way the door was again locked and bolted after the departure of the thief.

I had detected evidence of these holes on my examination and spotted his lordship for the thief because he claimed to have been robbed while there had been no hole bored in his door.

The Epworth League of the Hall Place M. E. church cordially invite anyone and everyone to attend their Sunday evening meetings at 6.15 in the vestry. Good music and excellent leaders. Come and enjoy these meetings.

A horse attached to a buggy created quite a little excitement in City Square Friday by running away. The horse started on Granite street and ran into Hancock street. He had a narrow escape from collison with several teams and the animal evaded several attempts at capture. When in front of Hall's stable however he was captured. No damage was done.

It is always a pleasure to a newspaper man to hear from the townsman who is traveling in other states. This week we received a letter from Alabama from W. Henry Dean, enclosing clipping from the Savannah News complimentary to our local sculptor Mr. Kitson, also a postal card of the Massachusetts State monument by Mr. Kitson which attracts very favorable attention in the National Military park at Vicksburg, Miss.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Paddock, acting pastor of the Universalist society, is pleased to note an increase of attendance at the Sunday morning services. At the close of the service tomorrow the young people of the church will organize a Y. P. C. U.

SUNDAY 12 TO 1—SHARP
Bethany Church, City Square

If YOU are a young man, and not associated with any other Quincy church, YOU are most cordially invited to come to our meeting.

A warm welcome — Hearty singing — A helpful hour together.

TODAY'S COURT.

William C. Nash was arraigned for arson at Randolph and was held in $5,000 for the grand jury.

William Haddon was sentenced to three months in the house of correction for drunkenness at Quincy. Case placed on probation.

E. J. Murphy makes a specialty of candy on Saturday, with a large fresh stock always on hand. Do not let the Indians in their show window frighten you away so that you have to get along Sunday without your sweets.

MILTON.

Wesley M. Grant of Mechanic street who was murderously assaulted at his store Saturday night is reported as out of danger. At the Massachusetts General hospital it is reported that he is able to sit up and that his sight will be saved. His assailant Charles W. Finnemore of Braintree is in Dedham jail awaiting a hearing at Quincy on April 30.

The Public Library will be closed Sundays from May first until November.

Dr. Isaac H. Halevy who died at his home in East Milton on Wednesday after a two weeks' illness, was buried on Friday in the Milton cemetery. He had been a resident of the town for about fifteen years and was a dentist. He was born in Philadelphia and lived there until coming to Milton .

Dr. Wylie has started a popular subscription for a clock on the Unitarian church on Richmond street to replace the old one. It is the only clock tower on the direct route from Quincy to Boston.

The athletic association of the High school is arranging for an entertainment on April 23d.

Selectman Jesse B. Baxter spoke to the children of the Consolidated school on Friday, his subject being "Town Government."

The new pulpit furniture and furnishings having been put into the East Congregational church this week, the Sunday morning service will be in the nature of a dedicatory service.

A heavy rainstorm did not prevent the fair held Wednesday night by St. Catherine's Guild of the Church of Our Saviour, from being a great success socially and financially.

A conference of the anti-tuberculosis committee of the Milton Woman's club and the physicians of the town on Wednesday was well attended and will result in future good to the town.

At Colonial hall, Wednesday evening, April 21, at 8.15 will be held the 8th Students' recital. Arias and overtures from grand opera. Tickets 25 cents at the door.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ATSOCIATION OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys o four city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class o classes, the Boys' Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) Incorporated 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000 but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams Street, Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

ASSETS, $410,000.

CAPTAIN DERRY.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Derry the veteran Capt. Derry of Sharon did not observe his birthday on March 10th by keeping open house and welcoming all his friends as usual but tribute was not lacking for relatives and friends sent loving greetings, some two hundred being reecived. Capt. Derry has relatives and friends in Quincy who sent greetings.

Aside from his failing sight, Capt. Derry enjoys excellent health and despite this handicap he attends his office daily. In these strenuous modern days it is not so easy to find business men in the harness still at 81 years of age. The Captain enjoys it, however, and it seems probable that several more birthdays will find him still at his desk unless his eyesight forbids. Capt. Derry is a living illustration of the truth of the statement that right thinking, right living and right acting as a rule, reap their own reward in a long and honorable life.

MRS. WARREN W. SPEAR.

Viana Moore, wife of Warren W. Spear died in Somerville Tuesday, April 13, in her 76th year. She leaves three sons and a daughter. Mrs. Spear was a devoted wife and loving mother. Mr. Spear formerly a well known citizen of Quincy, and brother of Mrs. Joseph F. Berry and Mrs. Emily E. Blake of this city.

The funeral held in Somerville Friday was attended by relatives and friends in Quincy. Burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery in the family lot.

The Granite Shoe store is not advertising this week as the clerks have had to rest up a bit after the rush of Easter trade. Their ad brought such good returns that it was almost impossible to look after the wants of their customers especially on the Saturday before Easter.

CITIZENS UP IN ARMS.

Residents of Stoughton Indignant Over Action of Water Com.

The citizens of Stoughton according to the Stoughton Sentinel "are deeply stirred and indignant over the recent action of the majority of the Water Board in voting to raise the salary of the Superintendent $200 over that paid last year. Inasmuch as the Superintendent is a member of the Water Commissioners and it was only by his own vote that he could get the raise, Mr. Goward of the Board voting against it. There is a question of legality of the vote by reason of the fact that at a town meeting held Dec. 11, 1897, the town voted "that the power of the Board of Water Commissioners be restricted and the following rules and regulations established for the conduct of said Board. The Water Commissioners shall not sell or issue any bonds, notes, or other obligations of the town, make any purchase or taking any land, water rights, machinery, or other property, or enter into any contract or undertake any work involving an expense exceeding $1000 without a vote of the town and the warrant for the meeting shall set forth in general terms the plans for which authority is asked."

TODAY'S COURT.

The first bunch of automobile speeders from Milton were in court this morning, five being arraigned for exceeding the speed limit. John McCourt of Boston, George A. Patten of Chelsea, Frank J. Nelson of Chelsea were fined $15 and Harley G. Burke of Boston $20 for exceeding the speed limit. A complaint against John W. Padden of Quincy was continued until Friday.

Joseph Mercurio was arraigned for larceny at Quincy. Case continued until Saturday.

Peter Coppletti was fined $10 and Joseph H. McLaughlin $10 for drunkenness at Quincy. James Gallagher of Quincy had his case placed on probation until May 29, for the same offence.

George M. Keefe was fined $10 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

WEYMOUTH.

The base ball season opened at Garfield Park Monday forenoon with a game between the Weymouth High school team and a team made up from the school alumni. The latter won by a score of 6 to 4. The batteries were Carter and Kennedy, Cate and Wall. A game followed between the Hunt grammar school team and the Bates grammar school team of South Weymouth. The Hunt team won by a score of 10 to 0. In the afternoon the Dewey Juniors defeated the Mt. Pleasants 7 to 4.

The alarm at an early hour Sunday morning from boxes 53 and 55 were for a fire at the barn on Pond street, South Weymouth, owned by Mr. Peters. It was totally destroyed causing a loss of several hundred dollars. It is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN.

The Hancock A. A. held a cross country run Monday morning, the course being from the Quincy Point bridge to the home plate in Merrymount park, a distance of 2 1-2 miles. The competitors all ranged from 8 to 12 years of age and the winner was J. F. Hyland, who ran the distance in 17 minutes, excellent time for a youngster.

S. H. Alexander was second and R. J. Larkin third. The other boys finished as follows: Lloyd Ganzel, E. Bates, T. Larkin and D. Crane. There were three prizes, a $1.25 ball, a $1.00 glove and a $.75 bat. The prizes were awarded before the start of the Makaria—Quincy game, the boys receiving their prizes from Charles Ganzel, the famous National league ball player and coach of the Makaria team.

The promoters of the affair were Charles Ganzel, Gustavus B. Bates, J. Alexander and Delcevare King.

"BOSTON TEA PARTY."

Novel Concert Presented by Members Atlantic M. E. church Sunday School.

The Sunday school of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church gave a "Boston Tea Party" and concert at the Methodist church Monday evening.

Tea was served in the vestry of the church from six until seven-thirty. There were three tables at which Mrs. Anna Barber, Mrs. Olin A. Holbrook and Mrs. Celia Goodwin acted as matrons. Before sitting down they all stood up around the tables and sung a blessing.

After the supper they adjourned to the auditorium of the church where the concert was given.

Program as follows:

Selection by the Sunday school orchestra.

Piano solo by Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook.

Reading by Miss Anna Bjyorkman.

Cornet solo by Mr. Critchley.

A Japanese Fan drill by four young ladies from the Weston school for Girls of Roxbury.

Reading by Miss Bjyorkman.

Dialogue by six young men of the school.

Selection by Sunday school orchestra.

Closed by singing "America."

Mr. and Alexander Horton of Marlboro street spent Sunday and the holiday with Mrs. George Daniels of Montello.

QUINCY DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE

Every Section of County Represented at C. E. Convention.

The annual county Christian Endeavor convention was held at Norwood on Patriots' Day. There were about 800 delegates present from all sections of the county. A special train was run from Boston at 9.30 A. M. to accommodate delegates from Quincy, Weymouth, Braintree, Hingham and Rockland.

The morning session was devoted to Junior work and proved very interesting and profitable.

Luncheon was served during the noon intermission at the headquarters of the local Boys' Brigade.

The afternoon session opened with a song service followed by devotional exercises. The principal address was by Miss Margaret Slattery of Fitchburg. Her subject, "By the Wayside," was developed in a way that held the attention of all present from beginning to end and left a permanent impression upon the minds of the entire audience.

The Question Box, conducted by Dr. Hardy of this city, was participated in by many of the delegates and a large number of perplexing questions were disposed of to the satisfaction of all.

At six o'clock a banquet was served in the church dining rooms, about 400 being present.

At the evening session there were addresses by President Voorhees of the State C. E. union and Rev. James Alexander of Boston, followed by the installation of officers conducted by Rev. John Reid of Franklin and a consecration service conducted by Rev. Arthur H. Gordon of Cambridge.

Music, which was a feature of the convention, was furnished by a male quartette and a girls' vested choir.

At the close of the evening session the delegates from this section returned by a special train, the time between Norwood and Boston being devoted to singing again some of the convention hymns.

The next convention is to be held at East Weymouth and plans are already being laid to make it even better than Quincy 1908 and Norwood 1909.

COFFIN WINS QUARTER MILE RUN

The annual quarter-mile run of the Y. M. C. A. was held Monday morning at 10 o'clock, the course being from the railroad bridge on Adams street to Adams Academy. There were eight starters in the race, which was won by Albert G. Coffin in 53 1-5 seconds.

This time was one second faster than that made by "Joe" Elcock the winner of last year's race. Bertie Coffin was looked upon as a "dark horse," but came out ahead after a game race with Pearly K. Griffin, who finished about two feet behind the winner. Charles Hull, who was considered a possible winner, crossed the finish line behind Griffin in third place.

YACHT ELMIRA TRIMS THE EMELINE

First Race of Season Held Over Quincy Y. C. Course.

The first yacht race of the season in Quincy waters was held Monday over the Quincy Yacht club course. It was a special race between two of the fast cat boats of the club. The Emeline owned by Commodore Robbins and the Almira owned by Capt. Ira Whittemore.

The boats raced under this years rules which call for mainsails only. The course was a triangular one of seven miles.

The starting gun was fired at 11.10. The Emeline was on the line and when the gun was fired she had to put about and again make for the starting mark. The Almira was just poking her bow to the mark when the gun was fired.

The Emeline lost half a minute at least and this little distance told in the rest of the race. The Almira rounded Bunkin island buoy at 11.19 and was followed within a minute by the Emeline.

Then came the long beat to Jackknife ledge buoy, in face of a strong wind two points southwest of south that was made doubly severe by a strong ebb tide. The Almira carried two reefs and the Emeline one. As the boats beat by the mouth of the Weymouth Back river, where the outgoing tide had twice the velocity that it did anywhere else in the Fore River, the yachts had a brave tussle.

It took 22 minutes for the Almira to make the ledge after deaving Bunkin, and she rounded at 11.41. She was followed three minutes later by the Emeline, and both boats showed great speed as they squared away for the romp home.

On the run from Jackknife to the starting line the boats maintained their exact positions, the Almira crossing at 11.49 and the Emeline at 11.52. On the run to Bunkin the second time and the beat back to Jackknife the Almira did a trifle better than on the first leg and had increased the lead at Jackknife by more than a minute.

The run home from Jacknife did not alter the relative positions of the boats and they finished as follow. Almira 12:31:00; Emeline 12:35:03.

As the Emeline came across the line Commodore Robbins assembled his crew on the side and cheered the Almira, and the crew of the later returned the compliment.

LOCAL SPORT ENTHUSIASTS HAVE GREAT DAY

Baseball, Road-Race and Athletic Events Kept Every One On the Go.

The third annual field day of the Atlantic Athletic Association was held at nine-thirty o'clock on Botolph street and in Holbrook's field, the morning of the holiday April 19th. The participants had been in practice for some time and the work on the part of Alan Arthur and John McClure showed excellent training. The winners of the events are as follows:

Standing Broad Jumnp won by John McClure, second Norman Cook, third Harold Hill.

40 yd. Dash won by Alan Arthur, (time 7 1-5 seconds) second Herbert Ward, third John McClure.

100 yd. Dash won by Herbert Ward (time 11 1-5 seconds) second Alan Arthur, third John McClure.

Running Broad Jump won by Alan Arthur, second, Norman Cook; third, John McClure.

220 yd. Dash won by Alan Arthur (time 26 seconds) second, Herbert Ward; third, Lyons.

440 yd. Dash won by Alan Arthur, second, Clapp; third, Poland, time 53 1-5 seconds.

Three legged race won by Hendrie and Clapp; second, McClue and C. Hill; third, Leslie Arthur and H. Hill.

Running High Jump won by Cook, second, Poland; third, Harold Hill, height 5 feet.

Running Hop, Step and Jump won by J. McClure, second, N. Cook; third, A. Arthur.

Shot Put won by J. McClure; second, Poland; third, Clifford Bean.

Mile Run won by William Geekle, second, A. E. Stenberg, time 5 minutes and 46 2-5 seconds.

A cup was awarded to Alan Arthur for receiving the most points in the events, and honorable mention for John McClure who came second. Blue, red and white badges were awarded respectively for each event. The meet closed at noon and the crowd that gathered and filled the street was soon broken up.

16 YEAR OLD CHAMPIONS.

The sixteen year old championship of the city is claimed by the Iroquois club and they are booked to produce the future heroes of the diamond. Dan Driscoll has shown already his ability as a manager and claims to have the pitching find of the season in captain Tom Elcock. Hard practice is now on for the coming season though there was no chance for a game Monday as most of them went to see the Marathon race. The club has several open dates and would like to hear from teams desiring games.

ORIENTS 10—RAILERS 7.

The Orients of South Quincy travelled to West Quincy Saturday, and on the Emmett playground defeated the Railers 10 to 7. With the score 7 to 1 against them the Orients began to make things hum by knocking out 9 runs in their half of the eighth. Bradley held the Railers safe after he was put on the firing line. "Runt" Markham demonstrated that he is entitled to a regular berth on the team by connecting safely every time up. O'Brien was the star for the Railers.

PARKER VS. GARFIELD STS.

The Parker A. C. defeated the Garfield Streets Saturday at Merrymount park, by the score of 8 to 7. Walter Neagle and Capt. Fred Porter of the Parkers got two-base hits. This is the second time the Parkers have defeated this team.

COPELAND JRS. FORFEIT.

The Orients with a large gathering of fans went to West Quincy Patriots' Day and owing to the inability of the Copelands to put a team in the field, the game was forfeited to the Orients. The Orients were a disappointed crowd after travelling to a team's own playground, only to have the home team squeal. The Orients will play the Railers at Ward 3 Saturday, April 24.

ADAMS A. A. WIN TWO.

The Adams A. A. of South Quincy started the season with two victories on Patriots' Day. In the morning the Chester A. C., of Roxbury was defeated 9 to 8 in a fast game, the features of which were the pitching of D. Dacker, the batting of Knight and O'Neil and the fielding of Mitchell. The score by innings:

In the afternoon it was easy for the home team the Glenwood A. C. being taken into camp 22-5. The fielding of O'Neil, Collins, Smith, Reid, and Brown and the batting of Tinney Higgs and Milne were the features. The score by innings:

The Adams A. A. would like to arrange games with Makaria and Quincy. Address Peter W. Dackers, 355 Water street, Quincy.

WALNUT A. A.—SOUTH QUINCY JR.

The Walnut A. A. of Quincy defeated the South Quincy Jrs., at Bigelow Park, Saturday by the score of 28 to 0. The features of the game were the pitching of Connor and the batting of Moynihan. They wish to challenge any 13-14 year old team in Quincy. Address Allen Connor, 86 South Walnut street, Quincy.

BIGELOWS WIN TWO GAMES.

The Bigelows opened the season on Patriots' Day with brand new uniforms and two victories over the Fore River Apprentices. Both games were close and interesting, especially the game in the afternoon when the result was in doubt right up to the end. The scores were 5 to 0 in the morning and 7 to 6 in the afternoon.

"Lefty" Ford pitched both games for the Bigelows and twirled good ball, although he looked tired at the end of the day's work. Two nine innings games are too much for a lad of Lefty's size. He was game though and even when things seemed to be going against him, he worked hard and never let up.

In the morning game at the Fore River field, the whitewash brush was used by the Bigelows, the score being 5 to 0. Neither side was able to do much with the stick, three hits being garnered off each pitcher. However Ford received better support than his opponent Bergfors and hence was able to hold the 'prentice boys safe. Cain, Mahoney, Sweeney and Ford excelled for Bigelows, while Oliver, Crewell and Newcomb played best for the Apprentices. The summary:

In the afternoon the two teams met at the Ward Two playground before a crowd of 500 royal rooters. Both teams were on edge and were out ot win the Bigelows to make it a double victory, the Apprentices to get an even break. Bigelows started the scoring in the very first inning getting one run. The Apprentices tied it up to the second and were one ahead after the third was over.

Then the Bigelows started to play an uphill game. The score remained 2 to 1 until the sixth when the Apprentices got two more and led 4 to

As usual the house owner was out with rake and hoe yesterday.

The weary Willies were out in full force on the country roads yesterday.

The oldest tree in the world, it is believed, is a plantain on the Island of Cos, off the Asia Minor coast, under which Hippocrates taught his pupils over twenty centuries ago.

According to the Boston Advertiver it is "announced in New York that what is probably the most determined effort that has even been attempted to control and confine the legitimate trade in cocaine to medicinal purposes only and to suppress the illegitimate use of this drug is now being promulgated by the very manufacturers themselves of the drug in this country, and in this effort they are having the able support of various organizations throughout the country which have been waging war against those who furnish the drug to the unfortunates who have become victims to the cocaine habit. The manufacturers have found that it pays to respect public sentiment and that honesty is the best policy. It is a pity that milk producers in Massachusetts have yet the lesson to learn. They are now trying to debase the state standard for milk, with the certain effect that they will have to sell their milk cheaper at the very time that grain and other supplies will be higher. And by making the public suspicious of the debased milk, they will decrease the demand for it. The lesson is certain to be costly, but before long they will be back to the legislature, asking to have the milk standard raised again, as their only hope of doing business at a fair profit."

Sunday and Monday were two ideal spring days . Sunday was the little cooler of the two but it was beautiful weather . The street railway put out its open cars for the first time this season and there was a large number of people about.

Monday the weather was decidedly warmer and summer like. Top coats and outer wraps were quickly discarded as being uncomfortable and there was a grand rush to the sea shore. In Quincy there was but little doing outside of the base ball games but there were thousands of people about.

During the morning a band advertising a land sale paraded through the streets and then disappeared down Sea street.

The street railway was alive to the situation and ran extra cars on all of its lines and carried thousands of people. Open cars were in general use and everything looked like summer.

At times during the day it looked a little showery but it was not until the early evening that there was any rain. There was quite a smart shower about 6 o'clock a few flashes of lightning and a little thunder. It was also showery all through the evening.

By this time however most of the excursionists had arrived at their homes although there were some ladies who got their peach basket hats wet.

As a whole the day as far as Quincy was concerned was rather uneventful.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

A. RUSSELL JONES.

A. Russell Jones only son of George W. Jones died Monday morning at the City Hospital aged 32 years. Mr. Jones was taken ill last Thursday and it was decided the only hope of saving his life was an operation. He was taken to the City Hospital and an operation for appendicitis performed that afternoon.

Saturday he was apparently doing well but that night he began to fail. From that time on until his death early Monday morning but slight hopes were entertained for his recovery .

His business was that of an electrician and he had been employed for some time at the Fore River .

He was much interested in fire department matters and there were few alarms of fire he did not answer when his occupation permitted him to do so. At the exhibition and trials of the Quincy apparatus he was always on hand to act as time keeper.

He was married some months ago and at the time of his death resided on Cottage street. His funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the home of his father 37 Saville street at 2.30.

LYNCHERS DO WORK QUICKLY

Break Into Jail and Drag Out Four Wealthy Men

STRING THEM UP IN A LINE

All Were Landowners and Were Accused of Murdering a Deputy Marshal—One Who Had Killed Many Men Displays Remarkable Nerve—County Attorney Sees No Chance of Prosecuting Members of Mob

Ada, Okla., April 20.—Two hundred citizens of Ada, nearly all of them of the better class, thoroughly disgusted with the "justice" meted out to criminals in the smaller towns of Oklahoma, took from jail and hanged four wealthy land-owners for the murder of Deputy United States Marshal Bobbitt. The lynched men were G. B. Miller, Fort Worth, Tex.; B. B. Burrell, Duncan, Okla.; Jesse West and Joseph Allen of Canadian, Texas.

Shortly after 3 o'clock in the morning the lynchers shut off the electric street lights, cut the telephone communication and quietly gathered near the jail.

A high board fence surrounding the jail was partly thrown down and the crowd entered the enclosure. The leader advanced and pounded on the jail door. Only Guard McCarthy was on duty.

"McCarthy," said the leader, "open this door at once. We mean business."

"You might as well go home, boys," responded the officer, "this door will never be opened from this side."

After a conference, three of the mob threw themselves against the frail jail door and the mob rushed in. McCarthy was knocked senseless with a revolver butt.

The mob led the four men to a barn, a few hundred feet away and the prsoners were carried to a beam and strung up in a row.

Just before the rope was placed about his neck, Miller calmly removed a diamond from his shirtfront, and requested that it be sent to his wife in Fort Worth. From his necktie he drew out a diamond scarf pin, with the request that it be given to Guard McCarthy for his kindness to him.

When the mob removed the men from the jail they dd not molest Oscar Peeler, 17 years old, who was implicated in the murder, but who had turned state's evidence. The boy said that Miller killed Bobbitt and that Jesse West paid Miller to commit the murder.

A coroner's jury returned the following verdict:

"We find that Jim Miller, B. B. Burrell, Joe Allen and Jesse West met their death by being hung up by a rope and that the death of each was caused by strangulation produced by the ropes placed about their necks by parties whose names to the jury are unknown."

The county attorney declared that he would investigate the lynching, but asserted that there was no evidence of identity, and that there probably would be no prosecutions.

Miller Is a Man Killer

Fort Worth, Tex., April 20.—While he bore the reputation of a "bad man," J. B. Miller, one of the four men lynched at Ada, was popular among the best class of citizens. Reports vary as to the number of men Miller killed, estimates placing it anywhere from ten to thirty. He was one of the last of the old time Texas cattle "kings," among whom it was a custom to use the six shooter in defense of personal and property rights.

Burrell, while his home was at Duncan, Okla., had many relatives in Texas. He owned many cattle.

Joseph Allen and Jesse West were wealthy and owned large tracts of land and numerous herds of cattle. There was an old feud existing between these two men and Marshal Bobbitt.

JAPANESE GRAFTERS

Members of Diet Mixed In Sugar Scandal Will Be Punished

Tokio, April 20.—The official scandal disclosed by the arrest of nine members of the lower house of the diet in connection with the alleged misconduct of the officers of the Japanese Sugar company, is steadily growing and more arrests among the legislators are expected.

The department of justice announces that it is determined to press the investigation, not only of the Japanese sugar company, but of every similar concern in the empire and to allow no guilty person to escape.

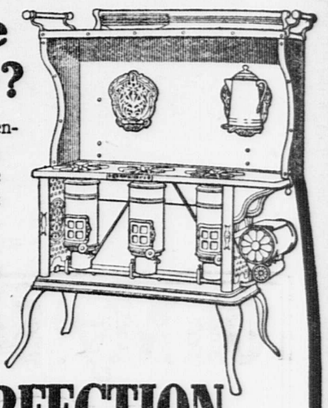

A New $1,000,000 Theatre

San Francisco, April 20.—The new Orpheum theatre, on the site formerly occupied by the old place of amusement of the same name, was opened last evening. The new building and the ground it occupies represent an investment of $1,000,000.

Muster of Boys' Brigade

Whitman, Mass., April 20.—Nearly 900 boys took part in the muster of the Massachusetts division of the United Boys' Brigade of America held here. There was a parade, which was followed by a sham battle.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

OVERTHROW OF ABDUL HAMID

Question of a Short Time, If Not Already Accomplished

A REPORT OF HIS ABDICATION

Advance of Constitutional Forces Steadily Continues—Have Reached the Very Gates of Constantinople, the Envelopment of Which Will Soon Be Complete—No Preparations to Resist the Saloniki Troops

Constantinople, April 20.—The most important feature of the situation in the Turkish capital is the report that Sultan Abdul Hamid has abdicated. It caused the greatest excitement in the lobbies of parliament, and spread with lightning-like rapidity throughout the city. A rumor of the flight of the sultan on a warship followed closely on that of his abduction, but neither could be confirmed.

ABDUL HAMID.

Large crowds gathered at the British embassy, where, other reports had it, the sultan had taken refuge, and there were also scores of inquiries at the Russian embassy concerning the truth of the rumor that the sultan was under the protection of Russia on one of its guardships.

At both of these embassies all knowledge of the sultan's movements was denied, and the Turkish foreign office also gave a strong denial to these rumors.

The abdication of Abdul Hamid, however, appears not to be improbable, and it is believed that within a day or two the constitutionalists may accept as his successor Prince Yussof Izzedin, the eldest son of the late sultan, who is second in line, since they are strongly displeased with Abdul Hamid's attitude. The palace is under strong guard, and even high officials are not permitted to enter it.

The advance of the constitutional forces began Monday afternoon. Small parties were sent out to reconnoiter, and at 7 o'clock in the evening they were within sight of the gates of Constantinople. They encountered no resistance, nor does any resistance seem likely unless at the palace. The headquarters of the constitutionalist army are at Dedeagathch, and General Husni Pasha's forces, which now number between 20,000 and 30,000, occupy a range of hills about twenty miles from the capital. Every hour reinforcements are adding to their numbers.

It is not likely that the entire army will reach the capital for some little time, as Husni Pasha and his military associates deem it advisable to withhold their advance until they are strong enough to win success by overwhelming numbers. They hope that the so-called reactionary opposition will yield without fighting.

There have been practically no preparations, so far as can be observed, to resist the advance of the Saloniki troops.

It is announced officially that the deaths at Adana during the rioting numbered 400, among the killed being many Turks. The telegraph lines to the provinces, however, are badly interrupted, and details of the massacre at Adana, Tarsus and other places are lacking.

Even though the rumors of the Sultan's abdication are unconfirmed they seem to produce a feeling of distinct relief in Constantinople, and the advance of the Saloniki army, which is slow, but steady, makes the settlement of the question of administration a matter of hours. The general belief is held that the enveloping movement will be completed by tonight or early tomorrow morning. The soldiers of the garrison appear to be thoroughly cowed by the advance of the Third army corps, and the only cause for apprehension is the attitude of the fleet, which is held to be doubtful.

Business of all kinds is practically suspended and the civil and military officials appear paralyzed, waiting for the outcome of events.

The consensus of opinion is that if the abdication of the sultan is brought about, his overthrow and the proclamation of his successor will be accomplished peacefully.

MAD BULL CREATES PANIC

Charges Through Two Miles of Streets Before Career Is Ended

New York, April 20.—Jersey City was wildly excited over the running amuck of a splendid black bull, which became frenzied at sight of the red shirtwaist of a young woman and spread terror along two miles of crowded streets before he was killed by the police.

The animal was being led to a slaughter house at the time. Breaking away from his keepers, the bull charged at the young woman. But the animal's horns were short and when he struck her, she was merely thrown across the sidewalk and bruised.

The bull charged through a group of schoolchildren, three of whom were injured, bowled over two men and dashed into a fish shop, demolishing the plate glass windows and overturning the counters.

Two miles from his starting place, the animal turned upon a red patrol wagon full of policemen who had been sent after him. The policemen scrambled out of the wagon and shot at and killed the animal from cover.

CANOE OVERTURNED

Three of a Party of Four Meet Death During a Severe Storm

Danvers, Mass., April 20.—The wild lashings of a heavy thunder squall on the usually placid waters of little Middleton pond were responsible last evening for the deaths by drowning of three persons, when a frail canoe was overturned with its four occupants. Ernest Norton of Salem, cashier of the Merchants' National bank in Boston, was saved.

The dead are: Mrs. Ernest Norton, wife of the man rescued, 28 years old; Victor Durgin of Salem, automobile editor of the Boston Traveler, 26 years old; infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Norton, 2½ years old.

Matthew Merritt, from his piazza, saw the mishap, which happened not more than twenty-five feet from shore, and rescued Norton, but by the time they had reached the bank the other persons had sunk for the last time and when their bodies were recovered a short time after, life was extinct.

BROTHERS TRIED TO BRIBE A JUROR

Wanted "Benefit of the Doubt" In a Banker's Case

Pittsburg, April 20.—Charles Colbert and Herbert Colbert, brothers, were convicted by a jury of conspiracy to bribe in connection with an alleged attempt to bribe a juror in one of the recent councilmanic graft trials.

Testimony was presented to show that the accused men offered B. F. Carpenter, who had been drawn on one of the juries, $100 and a suit of clothes if he would "give the benefit of the doubt" to a banker in whose case he was summoned and who was charged with giving $17,500 to John F. Klein, a councilman, to secure part of the city deposits for his bank.

NEGRO RUNS AMUCK

Knocked Out by Policeman After Ineffectual Attempts to Kill

Richmond, April 20.—Everett Royster, a negro, crazed by cocaine, felled James B. Lacy and his son with a stick of wood in the former's wood and coal yard and fired three shots at Dr. James P. McDonough.

After being wounded by the latter he jumped in a carriage and at the point of a pistol compelled the driver to race madly down Broad street in an effort to escape to the country. He was thrown to the ground by the vehicle overturning and was only subdued after a desperate fight with a police officer whom he attempted to kill and by Officer Perkinson felling him with his night stick, which was broken by the blow.

All of the injured will recover.

DID A BIG BUSINESS

Man Who Hired Livery Horses and Then Disposed of Them

Kingston, R. I., April 20.—Charged with having stolen seventy-three horses in as many cities and towns, and actually identified as being responsible for thirty-five of these thefts, Albert Fuller, 60 years old, with many aliases and no known permanent abode, was indicted by the grand jury here and held for trial.

Fuller's scheme was to go into a livery stable and hire a horse. Once out of the town, the rig was disposed of and Fuller pocketed the proceeds.

A "Championship" Bout

Lawrence, Mass., April 20.—In what was announced as a fight for the welterweight championship of New England Billy Rolfe of Boston and Tim Sullivan of Newburyport went eight rounds to a draw here last night. The first round was so tame that the referee started the fight over again.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Fire at Pittsfield, Mass., burned a one story brick school building and a tenement house, causing a loss of about $13,000.

Four buildings were burned and a total loss of $25,000 caused by a fire which started in the woods at Newton Highlands, Mass.

FINISHES NEAR A MILE AHEAD

Young French-Canadian Captures Boston Marathon Run

CORRIDOR WITH HUMAN WALLS

Vast Crowd Turns Out to See Race In Which Seven Score Men Were Entered—Victor's Challenge Five Miles From Tape Accepted by Veterans, but Without Avail, and He Finishes Perfectly Fresh

Boston, April 20.—No Greek runner ever gained the laurel crown under the torrid conditions in which Henri Renaud, a French Canadian weaver of Nashua, N. H., struggled to victory in the Boston Athletic association's thirteenth Marathon run of twenty-five miles over a crowd-lined highway between Ashland and this city.

From a poor start, and elbowed by a small army of struggling competitors, he worked his way past the veterans and the favorites, pushing up from twenty-fifth place at the half way mark to first place two miles from the finish, from obscurity to fame.

The time, 2:53:36 4-5, has only been exceeded twice.

Five miles from the finish, Renaud, in third place, challenged P. F. Grant of Brooklyn and Henry Jensen of New York, and the race of the three heat-stricken men through the long, cheering lane, was the feature of the big contest. Renaud caught Jensen and the pair overhauled Grant in Brookline, a little more than two miles from the finish.

For a few hundred yards the trio ran side by side. Then Renaud sprinted and gained rapidly on the way into the finish, opening up nearly a mile over his competitors at the finish, Jensen beating out Grant for second place by one minute and twenty-four seconds. Behind came James F. Crowley of New York, a hot favorite in the event, while the fifth man over the line was Samuel A. Mellor of Yonkers, N. Y., the winner seven years ago. Joseph P. McHugh of Boston was sixth, E. J. Ryder of Boston finished seventh, Carl J. Schlobaum of Yonkers in the eighth place, E. J. McTiernan of Worcester in the ninth position, while Robert A. Fowler of Cambridge, another favorite and third man last year, captured the tenth prize.

From Brookline to the finish the course was a two-mile corridor with human walls. In the last mile Renaud was cheered at every step and as he saw the glimmer of the red yarn at the finish, thousands acclaimed his coming and threw up their hats as he broke the thin red line.

Renaud was so fresh at the finish that he made the last hundred yards like a short distance runner and walked jauntily into the clubhouse, where he received a beautiful silver bowl, as his emblem of victory.

Renaud is a member of the Montcalm Athletic club of Nashua, and is 20 years old. He is employed as a weaver and his first long-distance effort was in a Marathon run at Manchester, N. H., a year ago. Until the present Marathon craze set in he gave little attention to long-distance running, confining his athletic efforts to baseball.

AUTHORITY ON BASEBALL

Unveiling of Monument In Memory of Henry Chadwick

New York, April 20.—In the presence of baseball men of high and low degree and others interested in the national game the monument to the late Henry Chadwick, the "father of baseball," was unveiled today in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Today is the first anniversary of Mr. Chadwick's death. In the greater portion of his life of eighty-four years he devoted much time to advancing the interests of baseball. He was a newspaper writer and was looked upon by many persons as the final authority in the decision of questions relating to the early history of the game.

Prisoner Under Murder Charge Tries to Commit Suicide

Meadville, Pa., April 20.—John Cronin, a jail prisoner awaiting trial for the murder of Harry Winters, has been trying to kill himself by punching his body full of needles.

He has pushed seven ordinary needles into his abdomen and one just below his heart so close that the lining was perforated.

He is in a critical condition and is suffering the most intense agony.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Most Quincy People have a Weak Part And Too Often It's The Back.

Everyone has a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.
Tells you the kidneys need help—
For backache is really kidney-ache.
A kidney cure is what you need.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys,
Cure back ache and all urinary ills.
Quincy people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. F. Olsen, living at 197 Whitwell street, Quincy, Mass., says: "For some time my back was weak and gave me a great deal of trouble. I could not sit up in a chair no more than a few minutes at a time without having severe pains in my loins. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells and at times was very nervous. I was becoming discouraged when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store, began their use, and received immediate relief. I did not expect to be speedily cured as my condition was so serious, but I can say that the results could not have been more satisfactory. In a few weeks' time my health was restored and I felt better generally. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly have my highest endorsement."

An adjourned meeting of the City Council will be held tonight. The meeting is likely to be an interesting one as there are several important matters pending that may come up for action . Among these is the order for the Houghs Neck school lot and the street watering order.

Miss Lizzie Waldron, who has been at the City hospital for two months, returned to her home on Hancock street last week and her many friends are pleased to see her improving, but it will be several weeks before she will be able to attend to her regular duties at D. E. Wadsworth's & Co.'s store.

Thousands of automobiles passed through Quincy Sunday and Monday. Quincy is one of the places where there are no police traps to catch speeders. As a rule, therefore, the automobile drivers endeavor to keep within the law and there is but little speeding and reckless driving. Some of the cars, however, run very close to the limit of safety.

Mrs. C. P. Gould of Adams street was given a surprise party Saturday evening by a few friends members of Paul Revere W. R. C. No. 103, and in appreciation of her many with a handsome traveling bag. All deeds of kindness was presented present enjoyed a very pleasant evening and when the time came for their departure to their several homes none had to do any walking for Mr. Gould kindly conveyed them in his Ford touring car a pleasure much appreciated.

1. In their half of the same inning the Bigelows put two across the plate and were with stricking distance of their opponents. Again in the seventh the Apprentices scored one, but the Bigelows were there with two more and tied the score.

In the eighth the Apprentices took the lead again by one run .About this time the crowd was getting excited. The boys were cheering on both sides and it reminded one of the Fourth of July. Bigelows needed one to tie and two to take the lead and they got two. Sweeney led off with a single, and scored on a clean hit by "Mart." Mahoney, who took second on the throw to the plate in a vain attempt to catch Sweeney.

Mahoney then scored on a hit by Costello, who was out at second trying to stretch the hit into a double. This ended the scoring and gave the Bigelows the game, for the Apprentices were unable to get a run across the plate. Delory, Mahoney and Costello played well for the winners, while Kerr and Oliver excelled for the losers. The summary:

MAKARIA 9—QUINCY 0.

A crowd of over a thousand gathered at Merrymount park the morning of Patriots' Day to witness the game between the old rivals, the Makarias and the Quincys. The Quincy team was not the Old Colony league team as some thought, but the Quincy Independent team which played last year.

It was a walkover for Makaria, the score being 9 to 0, Quincy being unable to score in the entire nine innings. "Jimmy" Michael pitched for Makaria and twirled masterly ball throughout the whole game. He had his old Quincy friends at his mercy, six hits being the total gathered off his delivery.

Quincy had Maloney the Boston College star pitcher in the box, but he received poor support and was away off form. At that he pitched a good game and if his team had hit and fielded the ball better the score might have been different. Maloney pitched for B. C. against the New Bedford team of the N. E. league Saturday and held them to six scattered hits and three runs, which is pretty good.

Neither side scored in the first inning, but in the second and third Makaria got six runs on four hits, two of these being of the scratchiest order. Maloney settled down then and for three innings no one scored. But in the seventh Makaria got two more hits and these coupled with a few errors gave them three more runs. This ended the scoring.

Although Makaria got most of their runs on errors, they must be given credit for playing a good fast inside game, for they hit, fielded and ran the bases in a manner to make the Quincys look like kids . There was no doubt about the result of the game, the only speculation being the size of the score.

For Makaria "Wes" Ganzel on first base played a star game and got two hits. "Russ" Bates and McKenzie also played well. Fallon, Rogers and Elcock excelled for Quincy, Jack Duffy being the star at the bat. The summary:

Makaria 14, Fore Fiver Apprentices 2.

The Makaria baseball team opened its season Saturday with a 14 to 2 victory over the Fore River Apprentices at the latter's grounds, Quincy Point. The Apprentices were outclassed from the start by the superior all round work of the Makaria. "Rus" Tupper started in the box for the visitors and for five innings not a hit was made off him, only one man reaching first base.

This man, Dolan, received a free pass and never reached second, as Troupe's arm was working fine and Cozy was nailed by a swell throw. Tupper then retired in favor of "Stan" Bates who worked two innings. During this time one man scored, a wild pitch being the cause of the run. "Honey" Curtis then took a turn in the box and the Apprentices got another run. The features were the playing of McKenzie and R. Ganzel and the batting of Russ Bates for Makaria, while Buckley and Oliver excelled for Fore River. The summary.

SMUGGLERS CANNOT "BUY" COLLECTOR

Make an Offer of $260,000 to Drop an Investigation

New York, April 20.—The smuggling syndicate which first offered Collector of the Port Loeb $100,000 to drop the government's investigation of the smuggling of "sleeper" trunks containing $55,000 worth of Paris gowns yesterday increased its offer to $260,000, according to Loeb.

"The amount now offered the government to drop the investigation and probable prosecution is $260,000," said Loeb. "The amount represents what would be penalties of fully $200,000 above the appraised value of the goods. All offers have been refused. We want the smugglers."

FOR JURY TO DECIDE

Defense of Captain Hains Will Be Insanity, Pure and Simple

Flushing, L. I., April 20.—That the "unwritten law" will not figure in the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., for the murder of William E. Annis was the positive statement made by John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the defense, at the opening of the trial in the supreme court here. "Our defense is one of insanity, pure and simple," he said. He added that he would not call any alienists to show that his client was insane, but would leave it to the jury to decide as to his mental condition at the time of the shooting.

District Attorney DeWitt announced that he had retained three alienists to combat any testimony of insanity which the defense might offer.

The first day's session closed after some fifty talesmen had been examined, with only two jurors in the jury box.

The prisoner appeared nervous and weary after his first day's experience in court. He showed indifference during all the proceedings.

NEW DESTROYER LAUNCHED

The Smith Will Be the Fastest Boat In United States Navy

Philadelphia, April 20.—A little vessel, which will be, when she is completed, the fastest ship in the United States navy, was launched here today. She is the torpedo boat destroyer Smith, the first of a new type. She is expected to have greater speed and a wider steaming radius than any other destroyer on the naval list.

The Smith is named after Lieutenant Joseph B. Smith, who was in command of the warship Congress when that vessel was sunk in Hampton Roads by the Confederate ironclad Virginia, March 8, 1862. Lieutenant Smith was killed in the action. Mrs. Edward B. Richardson of Brookline, Mass., a relative of Lieutenant Smith, acted as sponsor at the naming of the little vessel when she slid off the ways.

VIGOROUS PROSECUTION

It Is Said to Have Alarmed the Counsel of Mrs. Boyle

Mercer, Pa., April 20.—A legal contest between the courts of Ohio and Pennsylvania over the right to try Mrs. James H. Boyle, charged with the abduction of "Billy" Whitla, seems to be in prospect.

J. H. Miller of counsel for Mrs. Boyle left last night for Cleveland. After his departure it was said that he went to institute habeas corpus proceedings in the Ohio city to get the woman out of the custody of the Pennsylvania courts.

It is said that the former feeling of assurance which the defense manifested in the case of Mrs. Boyle has disappeared and that the vigorous prosecution begun by the state has alarmed them.

M'CARREN WON'T TESTIFY

Settles Account Against Him on Failed Brokers' Books

New York, April 20.—Senator Patrick H. McCarren, at a conference with the receiver for the insolvent stock brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani, agreed to turn over at once the sum of $124,000 which the books of the failed firm show on the debit side of his account.

The receiver agreed to deliver to McCarren a number of stocks which the latter purchased through Ennis & Stoppani, but on which delivery was not made. As a result of the settlement McCarren will not have to appear in the bankruptcy proceedings.

Senate Begins Tariff Debate

Washington, April 20.—The tariff debate was opened in the senate Monday, when Senator Aldrich discussed at length the pending measure which had been reported from the committee on finance. His remarks were listened to not only by every senator, buy by Speaker Cannon and members of the house of representatives who visited the chamber for that purpose.

Important Business Transacted At Council Meeting

Order To Purchase Cavanagh Lot Passed By Bare Majority

A large amount of new business was introduced in the City Council at its meeting Tuesday evening and there were a large number of matters reported upon by the committees. There was but little debate however upon any of the matters. Councilman Cherrington was the only absent member.

A venire was received for the drawing of jurors and the following were drawn by the Mayor, City Clerk and Councilman Flynn: John W. Burke, William J .Williams, Charles F. West, Michael T. Sullivan and Thomas B. Davenport.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Mayor appointing H. S. Brown a constable. Confirmed.

From the Mayor calling attention to the fact that the appropriation for grade crossings was nearly exhausted and asking for a further appropriation of $1,500. Referred to Finance Committee.

From the Houghs Neck Associates asking for the removal of a partly burned cottage on Sea street known as the Cape cottage. Referred to Executive.

The Mayor forwarded a communication relative to the lot of land adjoining the Coddington school lot. The letter contained a proposition from Henry M. Faxon to sell the city a lot containing 45,700 square feet for 16 cents per foot or $7,312. The proposition to remain open until June 30. Referred to Committee on Public Buildings .

A communication was received from the Board of Trade relative to numbering of streets. Referred to the Executive Department.

BASE BALL LEAGUE.

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Commonwealth relative to the incorporation of the Old Colony Base Ball League. Laid on the table until later when an order was adopted approving the certificate of incorporation.

A large number of applications for minor licenses were received including one from the Quincy Women's club to permit children to go on the stage at Music hall Saturday at a children's entertainment. The necessary permission was granted.

A public hearing was held at 7.45 on a petition of the Electric Light Co. to change the location of a pole on Glendale road. There was no opposition and the order was recommitted.

PETITIONS.

From the Electric Light Co., for a location for poles on Fayette street, Sea street, and Greenleaf street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

From the Telephone Co., for attachments on Canal street and Kendrick avenue. Referred to Committee on Streets.

That Clairmont avenue be accepted as a public way. To Street Committee.

Councilman Nowland presented a petition for lights on Butler road and Park lane. Referred to the Executive Department.

Councilman Carey presented a petition for the acceptance of Newcomb place. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

FARRINGTON STREET.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $4,200 for Farrington street construction. Order passed.

OLD CODDINGTON BUILDINGS.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported an order authorizing the Mayor to sell the old Coddington buildings at auction.

Councilman McDevitt moved to lay on the table. It might be possible to use the buildings for industrial purposes.

Councilman Nowland thought it might be possible to use the building for a school house at Houghs Neck.

Councilman Gilson said he had consulted the Commissioner and that it would not pay to move the building.

Motion to lay on the table lost.

Order adopted.

RAILROAD FARES.

Councilman McDevitt offered a resolve that the street railway should issue special school rates for children in the summer and also issue working mens' tickets and that the Mayor be requested to confer with the railway company in regard to the same. Adopted.

GRANITE STREET.

Massasecum Club Dance.

A very pretty dancing party was held Tuesday evening in Electa hall, Johnson building, under the auspices of the Massasecum club. About fifty couples attended and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed. Mrs. Charles W. Purdy and Mrs. Malcolm A. McDonald acted as matrons. The floor was in charge of the following young ladies: Margaret E. McIntosh, Jennie M. Walker, Edith F. Elrick, Lillian McIntosh, Jennie S. Norrie and Nettie Denton. Frappe was served during the evening. Music was by Thomson's orchestra.

NOVEL SOCIAL AT NORFOLK DOWNS

Birthday Social Nets Tidy Sum For Cong. Church.

A birthday social and entertainment was held in the vestry of the Park and Downs Congregational church Tuesday evening. To gain entrance to this novel affair each person brought as many pennies as he or she was years old.

Around the vestry were booths, each representing a season upon which were laid presents done up in mysterious packages which were distributed later in the evening. At the booth representing spring, presided over by Miss Virginia Knowlton and Miss Ruby Hunter, peach blossoms formed the decoration. Poppies were the flowers chosen at the summer booth which was in charge of Mrs. Arthur Capen and Miss Edith Chapman. At the autumn booth, artificial pumpkins were strung, giving it a strikingly autumnal effect. Mrs. Burpee Banks and Mrs. C. H. Bryant presided at this table. Green and white were the colors at the winter booth at which were Mrs. Knowlton, Sr., and Mrs. A. S. Thompson. At another booth, Mrs. Frank Knowlton and Mrs. Podbury in fetching Japanese costumes served light refreshments.

A clever play entitled the "Sniggles Family," formed a part of the evening's entertainment. In the cast were. Mrs. Frederick Northrop, Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Mrs. Cruikshank, Mrs. C. Hunter, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs Seth Crocker, Mrs. Barstow and Miss Tobey.

Solos were contributed by Ray Fowler and piano selections by William C. Northrop and Louis Coombs were enjoyed. Walter Jackson mystified those present with clever tricks of slight hand and legerdemain.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIAL

The Wollaston Young People's Social society held its monthly meeting in the Unitarian vestry Tuesday evening. An old-fashioned spelling bee began the evening, over which a great deal of fun arose. An exciting potato race was held between several of the young married couples, which brought out much applause. Refreshments were served and several other interesting games were played.

At the business meeting Dr. B. F. Bowles presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. E. Rowe. G. Ernes: Carr, Frank Bishop and Miss Marion Barker were appointed a nominating committee to propose officers for the ensuing year.

In charge of the evening's entertainment were: Mr. and Mrs. Seaverns, the Misses Foster, Miss Ruby Bates, Miss Howe, Miss Bulah Hatch and Mr. Ernest Arnold.

Tickets for the new show, "The Highflier," of the Pi Eta Society of Harvard University, are on sale at Clyde T. Cox's, in the square. 1t

WILL NOT BE TRIED IN OHIO COURTS

Counsel For Alleged Kidnappers Fails In His Efforts

Mercer, Pa., April 21.—The effort of Mr. Miller, counsel for Mrs. James F. Boyle in the Whitla abduction case, to have the Ohio courts claim jurisdiction over the woman has failed. The Ohio authorities expect to take no action in the case unless the woman should not be convicted in Pennsylvania.

A capias from Ohio for the woman and one for Boyle are in the hands of Sheriff Chess of this county, however, to be served if either of them should be released here.

While Boyle is reputed to be almost penniless, Mrs. Boyle appears to have plenty of money. No one but her attorney, it is said, knows where it comes from, but it is taken as evidence of the truth of a report that she is from a prominent and wealthy family.

BY A TUNNEL ROUTE

Robbers Enter and Rob Bank After Long and Tedious Job

Suffolk, Va., April 21.—Tunnelling their way under four other buildings to reach the vaults, robbers gained admission to the Bank of Suffolk and escaped safely, carrying away with them a large amount of loose currency, gold and silver, and leaving no clue as to their identity.

It is thought that the thieves must have spent at least ten days in reaching the bank by their underground course. They attemped to break open the vault but did not succeed in this. They secured about $1500.

Inside the tunnel were found empty bottles, cigar stumps and bits of food, which makes it evident that the robbers must have spent considerable time in the tunnel.

JURY AQUITS BOXERS

Were Charged With Assault and Battery at Sparring Exhibition

Boston, April 21.—The seven men recently arrested after an exhibition of boxing in which they took part were acquitted by a jury in the superior criminal court.

Following the sparring exhibition the men were arrested on the charge of assault and battery in having struck each other during the bouts and, being brought into the district court, were fined $10 each by Judge Fallon. The men appealed to the higher court, by which they were acquitted.

BASEBALL NOTES.

The Walnut A. A. defeated the Thomas Sawyer club Tuesday afternoon by a score of 10 to 8, in a well contested game. The Sawyer Boys were bigger and older than the Walnuts, but in spite of this fact the latter played a plucky game. Jennings and Pfaffman excelled for the losers and Burke and Thompson for the winners. Mr. Blackmur umpired.

A base ball team composed of Quincy Point young men went to Weymouth on the holiday and defeated the Baraca class of that town by a score of 11 to 9. Hayden and Foster were the battery of the local boys.

FIRST NIGHTERS FILL PARISH HOUSE

Men's Club Vaudeville Show Delights Large Audience.

The vaudeville show of the Christ church Men's club was held Tuesday evening in the Parish house and was largely attended. The house was crowded to the doors with an audience that liberally applauded each number on the excellent program. The show was under the direction of George W. Holden, who was assisted by John King and William A. G. Andrews.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the concert opened with a selection by the Men's Club orchestra, under the direction of Robert D. Smith, with Prof. Frank Wrigley special accompanist. This was followed by a refined singing act by "Dick" Hussey, the West Quincy boy with the sweet soprano voice. This boy has a wonderful voice and if he appeared in a female costume his voice would never betray his identity.

"A Dutch Concoction" was the title of a little skit given by Rose & Smith the next number on the program. Alexander Rose and Leslie W. M. Smith are both local lads and made quite a hit as Dutch comedians. These were followed by a clever monologue given by Carlton DeC. Beal, the most versatile member of the club. After singing a few songs and cracking a few jokes Mr. Beal danced the new waltz clog and received a great hand for the clever steps.

The next three men on the program were performers who have been before the footlights many years. Geo. L. Lansing, the prince of the banjo players, George C. Beal, a professional monologue artist and Edward E. Bullock of Wollaston, the peerless tenor of the Temple quartette of Boston. All three men took the house by storm, each in his own original way.

First came Mr. Lansing with his banjo, the banjo that first played the world renouned "Darkey's Dream" which Mr. Lansing composed. This performer first played several selections accompanied on the piano by Prof. Wrigley. Then accompanying himself on the banjo in good old darkey style, he sang several catchy songs with funny parodies that made a big hit. He was encored several times.

George C. Beal, who lives in Braintree, is an old professional, and he gave a little monologue skit entitled "A Telephone Chase," which kept the audience in laughter all the time. It certainly was funny to listen to Mr. Beal telephoning "all over the country" to wish an old childhood friend a "Happy New Year," only to find that she was right in Boston, a few miles away.

Edward E. Bullock was greeted with a burst of applause when he appeared, for his ability as a singer is well known in Quincy. His first song was a semi-classical composition and was well rendered in Mr. Bullock's inimitable style. He ended with two or three short catchy songs and was recalled repeatedly.

The next on the program was Leslie W. M. Smith singing Scotch songs in imitation of the famous Scotch comedian Harry Lauder. Mr. Smith appeared in full Highland costume and sang three of Lauder's popular songs,

Mayor Shea has signed the order amending the building ordinance which places a restriction on the class of buildings that can be erected at Houghs Neck. This means that no more ramshakle buildings will be permitted to be erected in this section hereafter and it is therefore a good move.

Anticipating the passing of the new ordinance there has been a rush of applications for building permits for this section in order to get them before the order was signed. As far as possible the Inspector of Buildings has it is understood, held up such applications as did not meet the requirements of the new rules.

According to the Boston Advertiser a protest has gone up, in New York, against playing by children in the public streets. "In nine cases out of ten," says one critic of the street-playground, "it is more their own fault when they are run down. If they were not on the street they surely would not be hit." Which is unassailable logic, to be sure. However, how many public playgrounds are there in those districts where the children overrun the streets? Children must play somewhere."

Therefore it is the duty of every large municipality to provide suitable playgrounds in the congested districts where the children of the poor can play without fear of accident . The death rate in summer in a place like New York is large enough, but the number of children killed by being run over is still larger.

The new police ordinance as reported in the City Council by the Ordinance committee covers a number of points not covered by the Ordinance now in force. In fact much of the dead matter in the present ordinance is eliminated and it is made up-to-date.

The changes from the existing ordinance briefly stated are as follows: The number of permanent men of the department instead of calling for a certain number, reads as many as the City Council may from time to time determine. The number of Reserve men instead of being a certain number reads as many as the laws of the Commonwealth permit.

The duties of the Chief are more clearly defined as well as that of patrolmen. Patrolmen are by the new ordinance obliged to report all accidents or injury to person or property with names of witnesses to the Chief who in turn must report the same to the City Solicitor.

It provides that an officer injured while in the performance of duty shall be paid his salary for a period of six weeks . Also that regular patrolmen shall receive a two weeks vacation in each year .

Under the present ordinance permanent men receive $2.25 per day for the first year . $2.50 per day the second year and thereafter $2.75 per day.

The new ordinance provides that the salary of permanent men shall be $2.50 per day for the first two years and $2.75 per day thereafter. This places the permanent men on the same basis as the salary paid the Reserve and Special police.

The salary of the Chief is eliminated from the ordinance and placed under the Salary ordinance with other department heads.

The paragraph relative to the officer in charge of the department in the absence of the Chief is more clearly stated and more emphatic in the matter of his being obeyed as such.

Then there are two clauses to cover the matter in the orders recently offered by Councilman Flynn in relation to preference being given officers on the reserve list when there is occasion for an officer to do the work of a regular man and in relation to a regular officer doing police duty for hire for private parties during the hours he is not on regular duty.

—Philadelphia has always had a prosperous and self-respecting negro population, and hence it is not surprising that a new hospital to be named after Frederick Douglass, the finest institution of its kind in the world built and managed by colored people, is to be dedicated next week. It has cost $100,000, and was founded in 1895 by Dr. Nathan F. Mossell, and will contain 100 beds, as well as a training school to equip young negro women to be nurses.—Milford Gazette.

QUINCY GAS.

Editor of Ledger:—

Our City Council in requesting his honor the Mayor to ask for lower rates on gas at this time are surely barking up the wrong tree. The Citizens Gas Co., three years ago, took over a plant that to our city was worse than useless, furnishing an inferior supply at exorbitant rates. The old company in its poor financial condition could do no better. The new company in three short years has not only reduced our rates but given us an excellent service and at present are nearly up to a paying basis.

We should all hail with joy the day when we can have $1.00 gas but let us be fair and give the gas company a chance. As consumption increases competition will take care of the rate. At present rates it costs but little more to do our cooking with gas than coal, with no ashes, dust or labor.

If our City Council wish to pick a bone with meat on it I would advise that they turn their attention to the Quincy water department and request his honor the Mayor to back up his agreement of a year ago to give us lower water rates Jan. 1st, 1909. This plant was bought in a prosperous condition more than twenty years ago and because of mismanagement has not only failed to pay expenses but our present minimum metered water rates are fifty per cent. higher than sister cities that are competing with us for would be real estate purchasers. Modern houses are paying the largest part of the cost of water to our city. Then when the water is paid for we take it from our hydrants to water streets and charge abutters over for it. I wonder how long we would stand such treatment from the gas company?

If our committee on water supply will look the matter up I am quite sure they will find a large proportion of the water we are paying for passes through our pipes at night while the people are asleep. What are we paying inspectors for that they do not hunt out these leaks and meter supplies where the largest waste occurs. There is but one right way to sell water, and other cities have found it, make one minimum rate to all and let consumers pay for what they use.

WEALTHY MAN THREATENED

Unsigned Letter Called Upon Him to Deliver $5000

SUPPOSED SENDER ARRESTED

Held as Suspicious Person After Calling For and Receiving Dummy Package Left In Hands of a Woman —Head of Big Mills Was Told That Child Would Be Kidnapped or House Blown Up

Lowell, Mass., April 21.—In the arrest in Westford, near here, of Ward Eaton, 24, the police officials of that town and private detectives believe they have the man who last week sent a blackmailing letter to Julian A. Cameron, a wealthy resident of the town and head of the Abbott Worsted Mills there. Eaton is held as a suspicious person.

Last Friday Cameron received a letter demanding that he leave $5000 with a Mrs. Sullivan of Forge Village, on penalty of having his home blown up or one of this three children stolen. The letter was unsigned and was mailed on a Lowell and Ayer train. Cameron and his wife were greatly wrought up over the communication and immediately put the matter in the hands of a detective agency.

A dummy package was put in Mrs. Sullivan's hands and on Monday night Eaton called for it, presenting as his credentials a letter which asked him to take it across Forge pond to the cottage of a Mrs. Lyons.

Eaton took the package, but returned with it in about an hour with the seals still unbroken, and told Mrs. Sullivan that Mrs. Lyons was not at home.

Shortly afterward Eaton was arrested by the town officials, and Tuesday afternoon was put through a stiff "third degree" without result. He will be arraigned in the Ayer court charged with larceny, a warrant having been sworn out by Cameron.

Eaton, who is married, has a police record. He lives at Forge Village, and was formerly employed by Cameron. He has worked only intermittently of late.

BALLOTING ON STRIKE

Employes of Pittsburg Street Railway Dissatisfied With Present Wages

Pittsburg, April 21.—While the old scale of wages ended at midnight last night and the Pittsburg Railway company and its employes are at variance as to a new one, probably nothing will be known as to whether there will be a strike before tonight.

By a vote of 2125 to 35 the employes of the company decided last Friday not to accept the company's offer of the present scale, after an increase of ½ cent an hour had been demanded. The company was notified and several conferences have been held without an agreement.

Meetings of the employes were called last night to vote on the question of calling a strike, but the last of the votes will not be cast until today.

KILLED HER FORMER LOVER

Woman's Revenge Upon Actor Who Broke His Engagement

Jacksonville, Fla., April 21.—Following the announcement of the approaching marriage of Earl P. Adams, an actor and stage director of a company now playing here, to Miss Elizabeth Bagley, Miss Jessie Brown, to whom Adams had been previously engaged, shot and killed him at her home, where Adams went to explain to her his approaching marriage to Miss Bagley.

Adams was shot several times and he died instantly. Miss Brown was placed in jail. She is the sister of May Brown, who was killed here in 1905 by her fiance, who at the same time shot her mother, Mrs. Freeman, and Detective Cahoon.

AN APPEAL TO THE WOMEN OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Interested persons are urging Congress to pass a tariff bill which will compel consumers to pay more for the necessities of life in order that their own particular manufactories or business may have special privileges. Special pleas are presented to them to hoodwink the public into believing that by increasing employment this bill will benefit the whole country.

We, the undersigned, believe that, on the contrary if the Payne bill is passed a gross injustice will be inflicted upon persons in moderate circumstances; inasmuch as the schedules increase the taxes upon some of the cheaper grades of goods much more than upon the more expensive kind.

Under the proposed tariff many of the necessities of clothing and food are to be taxed, and this will not be done so much to increase the revenue at to give special privileges to a few. A tariff for protection is very different from a tariff for revenue.

We believe that not only every householder but every consumer and every patriot should be alert to the injustice contemplated, whether or not he or she belongs to the class which would most suffer. We feel it our duty to protest and urge all others to protest against a revision of the tariff which sets at naught the pledges of the party of the majority in its platform. We protest against a revision which has not been carefully considered by a commission of disinterested experts instead of by men, each interested to placate particular constituents rather than to consider the good of the whole country.

We call upon all women's organizations in this state to present protests to our Senators and Congressmen directly and to see that petition blanks are placed in stores and other convenient places in their towns and that all are asked to sign them. Whatever is done should be done quickly. We suggest the following as a suitable form of protest:

"To the Massachusetts members of the United States Senate and House of Represenatives.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Massachusetts, herewith protest against the proposed increase of tariff upon the necessities of life and especially against those features of the Payne bill which by taxing cheaper goods proportionately more than expensive goods, press the burden most heavily upon those least able to bear it."

We urge you to give this matter your prompt attention.

GIVES TALK ON INDUSTRIAL WORK

J. E. Neary Tells High School Boys About Fore River Co.

The boys of Quincy High school were called to the school hall Tuesday to hear Mr. James E. Neary, superintendent of apprentices at the Fore River Ship building Co., talk on the "Modern Apprenticeship System." It was a very interesting subject and well received by the boys who gave close attention. Mr. Neary said in part:

The growing importance of industrial education, especially in a manufacturing community like Massachusetts, makes the modern apprenticeship system, properly carried out, of great importance. Most any day you will notice articles and discussions on the subject in the newspapers. A national society for the Promotion of Industrial Education has been formed with branches in a great many states. The Massachusetts branch has among its members a number of its most prominent business men. The subject is at present being discussed in the state legislature. The principal topic at the last important dinner of the Merchants Association of Boston, was industrial education. I could mention numerous other instances which would all emphasize the fact that the great cry of the country at the present time is more skilled mechanics.

There are various ways of acquiring an industrial education but the high school with its manual training course is the essential stepping stone. The two natural paths to such a course are the trade school or the apprentice system, both of which in turn fit the boy for work in after life. There is a vast difference between the old apprentice form of service, where the boy was only taught to use his hands like a machine, and the modern apprenticeship system, where the brain is developed as well as the hands. Kindly allow me to quote from the Government report on the apprenticeship system by the late Carrol D. Wright; "Manufacturers are establishing their own apprenticeship schools, where a youth is not only taught all that he would be taught in an independent industrial institution, but where he is given the equipment he would have acquired under the old apprenticeship system, with the faults and objections of that system quite fully eliminated."

The General Electric Company at West Lynn, The Yale & Towne M'f'g Co., at Stamford, Conn., the New York Central Lines and the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. are recorded to be among the leaders in this branch. As an example of modern apprenticeship system, I will briefly outline the method employed by the Fore River Company:—

We teach the boys in the following trades: Blacksmiths, who make the small steel fittings for the ships. Coppersmiths, shaping copper piping for engines, drainage and other services. Steamfitters and plumbers, a united trade, embracing steam heating, sanitary, fresh and salt water, fire and other services. Electricians, which includes piping, wiring, repairing motors and other electrical equipment, and generally some electrical drafting. Brass Foundry, comprises coremaking, molding, furnace work, melting and pouring etc. Ship Carpenters, learn blocking, lining up, horning, fairing, shoring, ribbanding, deck work, stage building, launching, spar making, etc. Patternmaking, learn care and use of tools and woodworking machinery, lathe and bench work, all sorts of patterns and core boxes. Joiners, learn to build all sorts of furniture, the wood work on the boats, etc., and generally some joiner drafting. Machinists, learn to operate drills, planers, grinders, lathes, boring mills, etc., and may specialize in erecting and installing engines and auxiliary machinery, either of these machinists trades may include some mechanical drafting. Pipe Coverers, including fitting of insulation, canvas coverings, asbestos etc. Anglesmiths, shaping angleiron in all sorts of different forms to fit the structure of the ships. Shipfitters, are taught the making of templates, marking, punching, erecting, lining off on ships, laying out work in the mold loft, etc. Riveters, learn heating, passing, sorting, and handling rivets, also hand and machine work. Chippers and calkers, chipping, cutting and calking on various parts of the ships. Sheet iron workers, making all sorts of shapes out of sheet iron, laying out work, drawing, etc.

This makes 16 trades in all, each being distinct from all others, which gives the boy an opportunity to choose the trade that most appeals to him. We have a regular school room in the yard, where all the first year boys attend class four hours each week, during working hours. The boys are taken, a few at a time and taught to apply the mathematics and drawing that they have learned in the public schools. The practical problems are generally fairly complicated, so for a boy to get the most out of his apprenticeship it is necessary to have a good mathematical training.

The class room work is made very interesting because both the drawing and mathematics refer directly to the work that the boy is doing in the shop.

We are always anxious to secure the services of boys who have had the high school course and in most cases can make special inducements for high school graduates who intend learning a trade. A boy must be not less than 16 years old and in most cases not more than 17 years. He must come to us well recommended and must be bright as well as physically able to do work in hand.

There are 165 apprentices at present in the various trades, some of them high school graduates, but the majority have had to leave in their sophomore year. We find it is a special advantage to a boy to graduate if possible before choosing his life career.

We are just beginning to develop the social side of the system this spring. We have organized a base ball team among the boys. They have good suits, shoes, and all the paraphernalia that the game calls for, and we all hope they will have a good record. The boys intend holding a track meet, and this fall some sort of an apprentice social club will be organized.

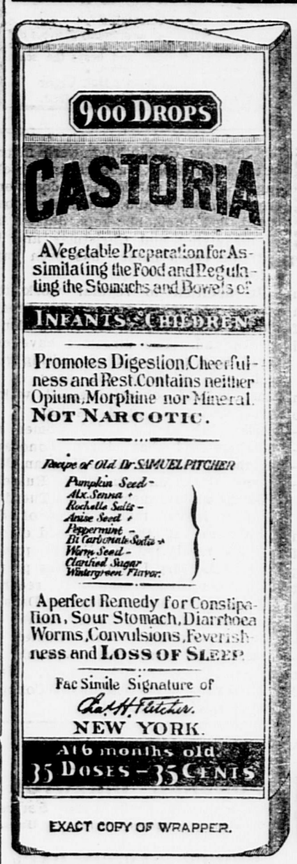

Thus I have tried to show you the growing importance of industrial education and the relation modern apprenticeship system bears to it. Many of you boys are just entering high school while some are about to leave. To the former I would advise good earnest endeavor both in the class room and on the athletic field. In my opinion it requires all the energy you have in both lines in order to succeed in after life. To the boy leaving school, consider your next step well before taking it. There are great possibilities in most vocations, but probably the greatest field for a boy with mechanical ability is to have some trade as a stepping stone. Remember nearly all the foremost men in mechanical pursuits, both in this country and abroad, have had to master a trade as a means to the end. It may be hard for the first year or so but it always pays in the long run.

In conclusion I wish to thank Mr. Cleveland for the opportunity he has given me to talk to you. I also want to thank you for the attention which you have given me and I hope I will have the pleasure of knowing some of you better in the near future.

EDUCATION NEEDED.

The National Association declares that consumption will never be wiped out until the prevalent ignorance concerning this disease is overcome. To combat successfully this lack of knowledge, immense amounts of literature of various sorts are being distributed constantly. Within a year's time thousands of tons of leaflets, aggregating over one hundred million pages, are distributed by the various organizations engaged in the warfare against tuberculosis. But more than all of these individual agencies, the National Association believes that the press is the greatest means of educating the masses concerning this disease. If the present rate of interest on the part of the newspaper world continues, it is estimated that within a few years every man, woman and child in the United States will have learned the simple doctrines of tuberculosis.

—We examine in our dark-room with modern instruments. If we find disease we send you to a reliable oculist. Williams 1743 Hancock street.

MAY MAGAZINES.

Unusual interest has resulted from the announcement that the two Ouida papers, which Lippincott's bought while the author was in the prime of her life with the stipulation that they were not to be printed until after her death, are now to appear in magazine form as follows: Part I. "Shall Women Vote?" a study of feminine unrest—its causes and remedies. Part II. "Love vs. Avarice," a frank analysis of the causes which make for social evil. Part I appears in May LIPPINCOTT'S. The Pomegranite Seed, by Katherine M. Roof, is the complete novel for May. It is a story of present-day stage life and powerfully real. Mary Roberts Rinehart, author of that delightfully entertaining novel, "Seven Days," Maarten Maartens, Elsie Singmaster, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Minna Thomas Antrim, all contribute in their usual good style and go to make the May issue a good round number of very exceptional interest.

While the National Magazine always fulfills its policy of embodying the national spirit and giving information concerning all national affairs each month, every issue breathes the special spirit of the month named on its cover page. The keynote of the May number is sounded on the back of the frontispiece in the eloquent tribute by the editor to Mother's Day, which is celebrated on May 9th, the second Sunday in the month, when it is suggested that every human being wear a white flower in honor of "The best mother who ever lived—your own." Administrations at Washington may come and go, but the inimitable Joe Chapple, editor of the National Magazine, always adjusts his Washington department to the men and the times, and never fails to give those intimate touches and interesting bits of information in a chatty vein, which reveal a veritable moving picture, and do more to inspire interest than would seem possible at a first casual reading. The short stories are attuned to the merry month of May; "The Strike at Putney," by Miss Montgomery, author of "Anne of Green Gables," is a unique skit of real life. "Blub" the Porto Rico story, is well illustrated by Kirkpatrick and the author is to be congratulated on the keen interest sustained throughout this tale. Every one of the stories has a touch of the real natural life in them.

Justice to Wall street is the keynote of the May EVERYBODY'S. Taking up a stand between the radicalism of "Frenzied Finance" days, and the conservatism of Wall street's present defenders, Frederick Upham Adams and the publishers of EVERYBODY'S offer the calmest and most complete exposition of the case of the People vs. the Stock-Gambling Game that has yet been heard. Mr. Adams gives in incontrovertible form "The Cost of the Wall Street Game"—the price that the amateur has to pay for keeping up the great gambling system of America. Thomas W. Lawson tells why it is that his followers sometimes lose—it is not a defense of himself, but a statement of fact. The publishers of the magazine round up the discussion conclusively, and answer their critics in thorough and explicit terms. In fiction, the May EVERYBODY'S is strong. Emily Post's story, "The Title Market," continues with increasing interest. Samuel Hopkins Adams has a big, terrible story in "Grimsden House," Joseph C. Lincoln a rollicking New England yarn entitled "As He Thinketh;" while Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd's "The Courting Tree," Charles Buxton Going's "The Fires of Youth," and Inez G. Thompson's "Straight Down the Crooked Lane," offer as varied a selection of stories as can readily be imagined.

It is expected a goodly number of young people from the Quincy and Wollaston Unitarian churches will attend the meeting of the Boston Federation of Young People's Religious unions to be held in All Souls church, Roxbury on Sunday afternoon and evening, April 25.

Roy (who has been out to tea)—Mrs. Freeman's cake is better than ours, mamma.

Mamma—I hope you said "Thank you," nicely.

Roy—Oh, yes, mamma; I said it five times.

Mamma—You need only have said it once, dear.

Roy—But I had five pieces of cake, mamma.—Punch.

WOLLASTON

Miss Marguerite Elliott of Dorchester entertained her whist club on Saturday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Elliott, Marlboro street.

At the Wollaston Unitarian church on Sunday Mr. Walter M. Hatch was unanimously elected a life member of the American Unitarian Association.

mingling in a bit of snappy talk between the songs. He gave a very clever imitation of the only Lauder, the lad from the "Land of the Heather and the Broom."

The program was concluded with a fast, furious, funny, farce by the Men's Club Dramatic company, entitled "A Little Tiff." This sketch created a lot of fun and showed lots of practice. Each one in the cast played his part well and made a big hit. In the cast were:

Edith Burtow—George M. Hanson.
Nancy—her maid—Arthur L. Thomas.
Teddy Ronalds (Engaged to Edith)—Merton A. Turner.
Finnegan, (Ronald's farmer)—William Walker.
Gubbins, (Ronald's gardner)—Alexander Rose.
Dusty Rhodes, (a tramp) —L. White Morrison.

The ushers were: Herbert J. Dickie, head usher; Walter I. Holmes, A. W. Walker and William Webb. The show will be repeated tonight in the same hall, the program being the same except in one place where Dr. Arthur R. Gould, the South shore's most popular baritone, will appear in place of Edward E. Bullock.

SCIENCE OF SCALP TAKING.

Running Elk is a man of fine physique and a great capacity of doing things. His mind has taken a shoot toward the artistic since ghost dancing is barred, and his clothes and blanket are covered with hand work very beautifully arranged in handsome colors.

Judging from Running Elks thoughtful brow, he is a man of correct views on subjects coming within his range.

"What in your judgment is the best mode of taking a scalp?" he was asked.

Authorities differ on that," he replied, and it is now largely a matter of speculation. It is up in the air, so to say ,and I doubt much whether we shall ever definitely settle the question. You see, the custom of scalping has fallen into disuse. There was a time when every man of the Kickapoo nation could give an excellent off-hand talk on the subject, and not go outside of his own experience for instances to support his views. It is now different. You can't find a warrior with the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company's outfit who will admit having taken a scalp in the way of business in his whole life.

"The reason why Indians grow a scalp lock and shave the rest of the hair during war time, is to the end that the enemy may not get too strong a record from one man. I have heard of cases of long haired white men from whom twelve or fourteen trophies of war were obtained. This is eminently unsportsmanlike, and in one case, the offender who nearly reached a chieftainship by this dishonorable means, was severely disciplined."

Running Elk would not talk any more but gazed at the hundreds of people who stood watching him as he sat in the window of Murphy's Drug store.

"COMELY WIDOW" WANTS A HUSBAND

Will Give Reward to Church Which Furnishes Her One

Chicago, April 21.—Any Methodist church in Chicago which will furnish a good husband for a "comely widow" will receive a reward of $200 from the woman, according to an announcement made by Rev. James Rowe, secretary of the City Missionary association of the Methodist church.

"Recently," said Rowe, "I raised several thousand dollars for a church. A woman came to me and said: 'Dr. Rowe, you are so successful in raising money for churches, maybe you can help me find a husband. I'll give you $200 for the church if you do.' She assured me that the offer was bona fide. Her name for the present must be kept secret."

Rev. D. D. Vaughan will act as go-between, receiving the petitions of suitors.

HAS TWO WIVES

Bigamist May Have Third Whom He Wedded While Drunk

Gallipolis, O., April 21.—William Parsons was held here to answer to charges of bigamy. It is asserted that he was married in 1904 in Gallipolis, in 1907 to another girl in Huntington, W. Va., and last September to a third woman in Mansfield, O.

Wife No. 1 complained and wife No. 3 produced her marriage certificate yesterday. Parsons said he did not know whether he was married to No. 2 or not, as he was drinking at the time of the alleged marriage.

Large Tannery Burned

Bethel, Vt., April 21.—The leather tannery of E. A. Fisher & Co., the largest in New England outside of Massachusetts, was razed to the ground by a fire of supposedly incendiary origin and 150 persons are thrown out of employment. The loss is about $150,000.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Falling Hair
Ayer's Hair Vigor promptly destroys the germs that cause falling hair. It nourishes the hair-bulbs, restores them to health. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly.

Dandruff
Ayer's Hair Vigor just as promptly destroys the germs that cause dandruff. It removes every trace of dandruff itself, and keeps the scalp clean and in a healthy condition.

We wish you to positively and distinctly understand that Ayer's Hair Vigor does not affect the color of the hair, even to the slightest degree.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

The season of the Quincy Women's club is drawing to a close after months of pleasant and profitable meetings. After listening to good lectures, good music, and discussed many phases of club life the program committee decided that the club was entitled to play a while and so arranged a mystery program for the meeting on April 27. The afternoon is a mystery in so far as the committee has not given out what each number of the program is to be, although it is known that several of the small local clubs are to contribute as well as special star performers in the Quincy Women's club. Interest is keen and Faxon hall will be taxed to accommodate all who will wish to attend.

The annual meeting this year will be of special interest for it is the year to vote for officers and that is always exciting, even if there is no contest. The meeting will be on May 11th and will be followed by a social tea.

Club dues must be paid before May 1st and in voting the new blue membership tickets must be shown.

This week Saturday the annual Children's Festival given by the Education Committee, will be held at Quincy Music hall. The children are saving their pennies in anticipation of a good time and also to buy May baskets and candy ready to hang on May night. Work in sewing and sloyd will be exhibited and prizes awarded.

QUINCY CATHOLIC CLUB.

The Quincy Catholic club a body of women which has been doing a good work so quietly that one hardly knew of their existence, has issued a most attractive club book. It contains reports of the officers and a list of members.

The club is a charitable society composed of Catholic women organized in April 1908 for the purpose of administering to the wants and relieving the sufferings of the poor and sick of St. John's parish. Business and sewing meetings have been held regularly throughout the year also entertainments for raising money.

Financial receipts for the year from dues, donations. and entertainments were $770.75 and expenditures $205.97 leaving a balance April 1, 1909 of $164.78.

During the year 44 cases were investigated and 44 cases assisted. Over 500 articles of clothing were distributed, also shoes, rubbers and stockings. Other substantial donations were groceries and provisions, coal, wood, bed linen, blankets, dinners at Thanksgiving and Christmas and in extreme cases money has been supplied.

In addition to regular work the society has taken care of five tuberculosis cases, paying for two patients at Rutland. The directors have entered into the work of visiting the sick and relieving the poor in a most helpful, cheerful spirit which accounts for the good results.

The club numbers 100 women as members and has three honorary members: the Rev. John J. Coan, Mr. Joseph Dasha and Mr. W. L. Russell.

At the annual meeting held Tuesday evening in the music room of St. John's church, the old board of officers were elected as follows: president, Miss Mary L. Gavin; vice president, Miss Eliza C. Sheahan; recording secretary, Miss Agnes M. Deasy; financial secretary, Miss Sarah E. Dunphy; treasurer, Mrs. Daniel J. Deasy; directors: Mrs. Joseph A. Dasha, Miss Sarah A. Mundy, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. Timothy O'Connell and Mrs. W. L. Russell.

THE
YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ATSOCIATION OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys o four city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class o classes, the Boys' Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL
(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)
Incorporated 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000 but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully rece ived.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams Street, Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

WILL RE-ENTER ROPED ARENA

Jeffries Declares His Willingness to Fight Johnson

MAKES SEVERAL CONDITIONS

Black Giant Must First Defeat Ketchel, Fight Must Occur In This Country and Must Be Unlimited as to Rounds —Money a Secondary Consideration, as He Has All He Will Ever Need

New York, April 21.—"I will fight Mr. Jack Johnson. I will defend my title as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world."

Before a great audience which packed the American Music Hall, and in which there were as many women as men, James J. Jeffries last night made this formal announcement.

It was a signal for great joy. Excited men leaped from their seats, shouted and cheered, and the many women in the audience applauded. Their shrill and excited cries of approval, as they stood up and waved their handkerchiefs, and even their peach-basket hats, to the ponderous, bowing and blushing "undefeated champion," added picturesqueness to a remarkable scene.

There are several conditions attached to Jeffries' re-entry in the prize ring. First, Johnson must defeat Ketchel. Then Jeff cannot sign articles for possibly ten months and he insists that the fight shall take place in this country and that it shall be unlimited as to rounds.

He made these conditions known orally to the newspaper men when he handed out the following written statement:

"I will say that I never felt better. I have held off making the announcement until I became sure that I was absolutely the same Jeff as when I retired four years ago. I did so then after defeating every possible contender for the title. There was no one left for me to meet.

"The present heavyweight situation is the only thing that could have brought me from retirement. I have all the money I will ever need and there is no monetary consideration that could tempt me into the ring if I was not sure that I could easily defeat any challenger for the championship.

"At the expiration of my contract with William Morris, which positively forbids my signing any contract, pugilistic or otherwise, I will be ready to discuss terms for an unlimited round contest.

"All I will ask after that is sufficient time to thoroughly condition myself, and should Johnson care to challenge me for the title I will do what I think I owe the public; that is, to defend my title of undefeated champion of the world."

Jeffries' theatrical contract has five months yet to run, with an option of five months more.

ON THE DIAMOND

ARGUING FOR NEW TRIAL

Counsel For the Coopers Charge Errors on Part of Court

Nashville, April 21.—The motion for a new trial in the Cooper case is being argued before Judge Hart in the criminal court here today. Colonel D. B. Cooper and his son, Robin J. Cooper, were convicted of the murder of E. W. Carmack and sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary.

The defense filed a motion for a new trial, alleging forty-six errors on the part of the court. Judge Hart announced that the attorneys must conclude their arguments within two days.

Counsel Was Indiscreet

Cambridge, Mass., April 21.—Because Arhur P. Stone, associate justice of the Cambridge district court, appointed by the superior court to conduct the defense of Mrs. Mary Kelleher, who is under indictment for poisoning several members of her family, gave to the newspapers a written statement bearing on the case, Judge Sherman of the superior court has revoked Stone's appointment.

Steamer and Five Men Lost

Mackinaw City, Mich., April 21.—Five men were drowned when the steamer Eber Ward collided with a heavy ice floe and sank five miles west of here. The boat went to the bottom in one of the deepest spots of the Straits of Mackinac and will be a total loss.

Yaks Brought to Canada

St. John, April 21.—Five yaks sent out by Ernest S. Thompson, the naturalist, from England to the Canada department, to try the experiment of introducing them into Canada, were brought here on the steamship Montezuma and will be sent west.

—It's bad enough to have to pay $8.25 for a barrel of flour, but it's a good deal worse when you have the feeling that the rise in price is chiefly due to speculation.

GIRLS GET SPIDERS.

Members of Billiken Club Are Not Afraid However.

Miss Marion White of Billings road entertained the Billiken club on Tuesday evening in a very unique way. Every young lady was presented with a small web containing a spider all different colors, fifteen in number, in the first part of the evening and respective to each girls spider were ten small pieces of paper hidden in every nook and corner to be found by the different girls. Miss Ella Robinson a guest of the evening was the first to find all of her bits of paper and was awarded a prize for so doing. After this the game of Quiero Sabe was enjoyed with cards and conundrums, answers to which were names of trees, followed. Refreshments were served and rounds of laughter and jokes concluded the evening. Miss May Buckley will entertain next Tuesday night in the form of a straw ride, if the weather permits.

FOR VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW.

Two Quincy Men Given Stiff Punishment at Dedham.

Two Quincy men received stiff punishment in the superior court at Dedham Wednesday for violation of the liquor law.

Lewis Slagger who was found guilty in the lower court and appealed was fined $75.

Antonio De Carlo was fined $100 and sentenced to 2 1-2 years imprisonment.

The judge in imposing sentence on Carlo said it was a sad case of perjury. Not only did he get others to commit perjury but he tried to make the police out committing perjury.

SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Ladies of Universalist Church Hold Most Successful Affair.

A largely attended supper and entertainment was held Wednesday evening at the Universalist church by the Ladies' Aid Society. An appetizing supper was served at 6 o'clock and was followed at 7.30 by an entertainment.

The program included a selection by Hearn's orchestra, piano duet by Chester French and Mrs. G. R. White, vocal solos, Miss Edith Hyland; reading by Miss Elizabeth Wheeler; cornet solo, Chester Brown; vocal solo by Miss Mattie Holton and a piano duet by Catherine Hyland and Mabel Brown.

This was followed by a farce entitled, "No Cure, No Pay." In the cast of characters were: Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Robert Read, Mrs. Arthur C. Merritt, Mrs. George E. Sprague, Mrs. George Wheeler, Mrs. Fannie Huke and Miss Martha Reed.

HOLDS QUARTERLY ELECTION.

The Henry H. Faxon Memorial lodge No. 159, International Order of Good Templars, at its regular meeting in Music hall, Atlantic, Wednesday evening, held its quarterly nomination and election of officers. The following officers were elected:

Chief Templar—Helen Grant Holbrook. Vice Templar—Arthur R. Poquett. Secretary — Miss May Young. Financial Secretary—Mrs. Arthur Keeler. Treasurer—John F. Sutherburg. Marshall—Fred Moffatt. Superintendent Juvinile Work—Miss Marion Adams.

Trustees for the year, John F. Sutherburg, Mr. Patterson and Mrs. John C. Ward.

At the next meeting the Chief Templar-elect will appoint a chaplain, pianist ,and registrar the Vice-Templar a guard and sentinal; the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary; the Marshall, a Deputy Marshall, after which all of the officers will be installed.

The chairman for the good of the order, Miss Marion Adams, called on each member for a riddle and nearly all responded. Those who did not "Sing, speak or play, had a nickle to pay."

The lodge voted to hold a union meeting of the Suffolk District lodges at their second meeting in June next. The lodge was favored with a large visitation from the Home Circle lodge, Boston, also by the presence of District Counsellor Ford who gave a short but interesting talk in which he paid the Henry H. Faxon Memorial lodge many compliments.

A new member in the person of Miss Violet Dean of Wollaston was initiated.

PARENTS' NIGHT AT Y. M. C. A.

Another one of the big events of the year for the boys' department of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. is to be held on Tuesday evening, May 4th, at 8 P. M. It is a parents' night, to which all the people of the city are invited. The program consists of a gymnasium exhibition, orchestra, refreshments and an address, "The Young Men's Christian Association and its relation to the Home, School and Church in regard to the Boy," by Mr. H. D. Hervey, Superintendent of Malden public schools. A most interesting and helpful time is expected.

LOCAL HITS KEEP AUDIENCE LAUGHING

Wollaston Cong. Club Entertainment a Huge Success.

"The old country store" which was presented by the Wollaston Congregational club on Wednesday evening was replete with local hits and pleasantries.

A record audience which entirely overflowed the seating capacity of the vestry was kept on the qui vive by the continuous fire of local jokes.

The scene was that of a typical country store, combined with a post-office, with its loafers, checker players, horse traders and story tellers.

Various characters of the town dropped in to get their mail or to barter their goods. The "cash system" of the store as operated by the proprietor assisted by his clerk was the cause of considerable amusement.

Mr. F. L. Eastman as Ben Blowhard, a farmer with some rather "big" yarns, was perfect both in costume and acting.

C. H. Moulton as Lemuel Lightfinger, a person who "needs watching" caused plenty of excitement, at last coming to grief by the melting of some stolen butter which he had hidden in his hat.

The feminine impersonations of Percy Hull and Dr. Bowles were very cleverly taken and were much enjoyed by the audience.

The village quartette composed of S. F. Howard, C. J. Hogue, C. A. Randall and James Falconer was well received and rendered several selections among them a topical song hitting the minister, the present feminine styles and the grocers which are members of the club.

A "near symphony" orchestra which furnished instrumental selections was composed of Messrs Hogue, Randall, Howard, Falconer, Lupton and Gourlie.

Included in the cast were:

Timothy Trustem, a merchant—W. A. Poore.

Sam Singleton, his clerk—R. B Locke.

Squire Lawson, a justice—C. F. West.

Baxter Birchrod, the schoolmaster—O. A. Blaisdell.

Bill Peters, a loafer—H. Poore.

Ben Blowhard, a farmer—F. L. Eastman.

Rube Snow, a young farmer—C. N. Godfrey.

Lemuel Lightfinger, who needs watching—C. H. Moulton.

David Dosey, a laborer—C. L. Seavey.

Johnnie Dosey, his son—Master Seavey.

Tom Flanders, a horse jockey—A. T. Leavitt.

Sam Jones, a horse jockey—B. H. Bain.

Ransom Ramrod, who "fit" for his country—H. W. Hatfield.

Eugene Blossom, a stranger—C. A. Randall.

Goody Simkins, a ""leetle deef"—Dr. B. F. Bowles.

Molly Ann Oldgirl, an old maid—Percy Hull.

Mrs. Peters, who rules the roost—Ralph Blake.

FUNERALS.

A. Russell Jones.

The funeral of A. Russell Jones, who died Monday, was held Wednesday afternoon from the residence of his father, George W. Jones, at 37 Saville avenue.

There was a profusion of beautiful flowers sent by the many friends of the young man, who, although quiet and unassuming, had the happy faculty of making friends.

These tributes included a fitting tribute from the Quincy Yacht club, of which the young man was a member and from Ex-chief Engineer Amos L. Litchfield.

The services were conducted by Rev. William E. Gardner, formerly rector of Christ church.

The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

COMING TO QUINCY.

"The Highfliers," the bright and catchy musical comedy chosen by the Pi Eta Society of Harvard for their annual theatrical presentation, was given a first performance to a capacity audience in Jordan hall, Boston, Tuesday afternoon. Society, as usual, liberally patronized the play, which in plot and rendition proved worthy of patronage. The plot centres about the search of a senator from Montana for a long lost daughter. Performances are to be given in Lowell, Quincy, Haverhill and Cambridge.

OVER ONE HUNDRED COUPLES PRESENT

Bachelor Girls Hold Dancing Party at Hibernian Hall.

The first dancing party of the Bachelor Girls was held Wednesday evening in Hibernian hall, Franklin street, and proved to be a great success both socially and financially. Although the rain kept many people at home, it did not for a minute put a damper on the good time prepared by the Girls, and 100 couples present thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

At 8 o'clock the fun began, and with the exception of a half hour intermission at midnight, lasted until 2 o'clock this morning. Thompson's orchestra furnished the music, the beautiful strains coming from out a mass of potted plants which covered the stage. Other parts of the hall were decorated with flags and bunting and the club colors yellow and black.

The officers of the club are Miss Mollie Starr, president ;Miss Margaret Hastings, vice president; Miss Josephine Burns, secretary; and Miss Alice Galvin, treasurer. Miss Jennie Malcolm was the floor directress being assisted by Miss Josephine Burns and the following aids. Miss Carrie Blanding, Miss Ella Blanding, Miss Mae Curran, Miss Jane Dillon, Miss Alice Galvin, Miss Margaret Hastings, Miss Ella Regan, Miss Katherine Regan and Miss Mollie Starr. The matrons were Mrs. John T. Starr, Mrs. James Hastings and Mrs. John Galvin. During the entire evening frappe was served and at intermission an excellent buffet lunch was served in the dining hall by the McIntosh, Driscoll and Elcock Catering company of Quincy.

ALL KINDS OF MAY BASKETS.

Over Three Hundred Dainty Creations Sold at May Festival.

The annex of the Memorial church was the scene of a pretty May festival Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The affair was in charge of Mrs. Sarah C. Butler's Sunday school class with the assistance of Mrs. Welcome G. Young, Eldene and Clifton Young and Mrs. Anderson. Over three hundred May baskets, the most elaborate and finest assortment ever seen in Atlantic were made, and covered two large supper tables.

These tables were in charge of Gladys Willey, Winifred Cole and Eldene Young. Grace DeWolfe and Jean Arthur had the candy table, Corinne Ratcliffe the punch, Alice Waterhouse and Hazel Davison the ice cream, Majorie Young sold cornucopias which Clifton Young filled with ice cream. These appealed to the school children and were very popular as well as college ices and plain ices, which Mrs. Anderson served. Very attractive butterfly festoons were hung from every corner of the room and gathered into a knot, in the centre and carried to the ceiling, the effect being an inverted umbrella.

—No greater contrast can be found between the pomp and state of an European court and the democracy of America than to see the wife of the President driving her own automobile in the streets of Washington.

MAYOR APPOINTS NEW OFFICERS

One Regular and Two Reserves For Police Department.

Mayor Shea this morning dismissed John Bowton Jr., from the police force for conduct unbecoming an officer.

Chief Burrell preferred charges against Bowton last February and the Mayor promptly suspended him.

Over two weeks ago the Mayor sent a special delivery letter to the last known address of Bowton, notifying him that he would be given two weeks in which to ask for a hearing. The letter was returned. The time for the hearing expired Wednesday night and this morning Bowton was dismissed.

This morning the Mayor appointed Daniel J. Ford from the reserve list to fill the vacancy caused by Bowton's dismissal.

The two vacancies in the reserve list have been filled by the appointment of David L. Farrell and Henry F. Corbett, the two men on the civil service list having the highest percentage.

ARMOR PLATE DELAYED.

Completion of North Dakota Blocked For Three or Four Months.

It was stated at the Fore River shipyards Wednesday afternoon that owing to a delay in delivering the armor plate for one of the turrets and part of the casements of the battleship North Dakota, the completion of that big war vessel will be delayed form three to four months.

The keel of the North Dakota was laid Dec. 16, 1907, and the company had three years to finish the ship. At the present time the ship is 80 per cent completed and it was the hope of the Fore River company to deliver the North Dakota Jan. 1, 1910, nearly a year ahead of time. It was arranged to have the trial trips Oct. 1 this year, but the delay in delivering the armor plate will necessitate a postponement to December.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Copeland Jrs. of West Quincy would like to state that their manager had no game arranged with the Orients on April 19. "If the manager of the Orients will just wake up," says Manager Rogers of the Copeland Jrs., "he might get a game." He also says that his team will no play a gang of kids." Come on Orients ,arrange a game and play it before you say you have defeated the Copeland Jrs.

The Quincy baseball association of the Old Colony league held its first smoke talk Saturday evening in Hibernian hall. There was a large attendance and ag odod time was enjoyed by all. The directors of the club wish to thank those who so kindly offered their services as entertainers during the evening.

The Copeland Jrs. defeated the Walworths at Ward Four play ground April 19, in a fast and exciting game. The score was 2 to 0. Shea pitched a strong game for the winners fanning 18 men, while his opponent sent seven down by the air line. O'Dowd and Gillis were the batting stars.

On Saturday at Ward Four playground, the Copeland Jrs. will play the Harrison A. A.

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael Ahern was fined $10 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Thomas Sullivan was sent to the state farm for being a tramp at Holbrook.

—During the blue ribbon temperance campaign twenty-five years ago, good use was made of a story concerning a keeper in a reformatory who to test the mental ability of newcomers, set them to empty a watering-trough into which the water was running. He said, "Them as isn't idiots turn off the tap." The parable applies in all our dealings with the defective, delinquent, and dependent classes. Much of the effort to relieve distress and work reform is labor wasted, because it is applied at the wrong place. It is difficult to cure small-pox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, tuberculosis and many other forms of disease, poverty, and crime. But to prevent them is often easy. Within the lifetime of this generation some of the most virulent diseases have lost their terror. Some of them could be rooted out, once for all, if everybody would act according to laws of health and healing, now well attested.

MARRIED UNDER FLORAL BELL

Miss Minnie G. Carbis Becomes Bride of W. J. Dunstan

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Carbis, 63 Garfield street Wednesday evening, when her daughter Miss Minnie Gertrude Carbis was united in marriage to Mr. William John Dunstan son of Mrs. George King of 7 Station street.

The house was handsomely decorated with screens of white and green with a profusion of electric lights. In the centre of the parlor a huge bell was suspended under which the couple were married.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. A. E. Clattenburg of St. Chrysostems church Wollaston, the double ring service being used.

Miss Edith May Spargo was maid of honor and Arthur H. Dunstan a brother of the groom was best man.

The bride's gown was of Brussells net over white silk, with a necklace of pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore lavender, and carried a bouquet of pinks. As the couple entered the parlor the Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Margaret Kirby of Everett. The bride was given in marriage by William Loftus Buckley of Atlantic.

After the ceremony a reception was held from 8.30 until 9.30. At the reception Mr. and Mrs. Dunstan were assisted in receiving by the best man, the maid of honor, Mrs. Mary Carbis, Mrs. George King and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Buckley.

The following young ladies acted as ushers the Misses May and Nellie Buckley of Atlantic, nieces of the bride, Miss Sadie Summers of Quincy a cousin, and Miss Alice Bradley of Woburn.

At the close of the reception Mr. and Mrs. Dunstan left for New York where they will remain for two weeks.

The bride's present to the maid of honor was a gold pendant, and the best man received a handsome watch fob from the groom.

BROWNE—FAXON.

Miss Mary Frederick Faxon of Longwood was married to Percy Corbett Browne in the Church of Our Saviour, Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. Reginald Heber Howe, D. D., rector of the parish, assisted by Rev. Lucian W. Rogers, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and rector at Central Falls, R. I. The bridegroom is the son of the late Rev. Percy Browne, for many years rector of St. James"s Episcopal church, Roxbury.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Horace Frederick Spear of Quincy, wore a gown of white satin. The waist and the front of the skirt were covered with old rose point lace, an heirloom in the bride's family, and the veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Lucian W. Rogers, who wore pale blue satin embroidered with silver and a large pale blue hat trimmed with pink roses. Her bouquet was of pink Killarney roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Browne will make their home for the present in the apartments at 364 Longwood avenue, which have been the home of the bride.

ARBOR DAY.

Gov. Draper in his Arbor Day proclamation said in part: "At no time in the history of our country has the great value of trees been appreciated as it is now. In the days of the pioneer, when the land was heavily wooded, trees were considered the enemies of the settler, because they interfered with his tilling the ground to obtain food.

"In these latter days, when trees are being ruthlessly and recklessly destroyed for purely commercial purposes, the situation has changed, and it is necessary not only to save them, but for many reasons which were not important in earlier times, to increase their number.

"Trees are of value in every way and should be planted in large numbers, properly protected and cared for; and I urge all the people of the commonwealth, who are so situated that they can do so, either to plant a new tree, or properly care for some existing one, on Arbor day."

Paris has followed the splendid example set by the United States and has set apart one day each week for the hearing of charges against children of both sexes who have been arrested by the police of the capital.

Poor old Abdul Hamid is reported as sitting calmly in his palace awaiting whatever may happen with calmness and fortitude. Something unusual for the "sick man of Europe" if previous accounts of his courage and fortitude are to be believed.

Artillery for attacking airships is now coming to be regarded as an essential feature of German army manoeuvres. In current accounts of preparations for its use no mention is made of extra ambulances and surgeons. Possibly the ordinary recources of the army hospital are deemed adequate. The chances are, however, that only the facilities for a decent burial will be required when the new gun is tried on military aeronauts.

The Canadian authorities appear to have concluded to accept the Canadian Boundary Waters Treaty with the amendment put on it in the State. Such a decision demonstrates that the authorities at Ottawa have displayed an unusual amount of common sense. They could not possibly have secured a treaty which would be fairer to Canadian interests than that negotiated by Secretary Root and Ambassador Bryce, and even the Senate amendment does not jeopardize any existing Canadian interest.

The decision of the President and Mrs. Taft to lease a summer home at Beverly, on what is known as the North Shore of Massachusetts, has promptly started a tremendous real estate boom in that vicinity and already two companies are negotiating for property with a view to erecting summer hotels. It is somewhat surprising, in view of the fact that Mr. Taft's lease may be terminated at the end of a year, that capitalists should be willing to make such permanent investments on the strength of it. The effulgence of Beverly seems to have left Oyster Bay in total eclipse.

The Brockton Enterprise views with alarm the recent prediction of James J. Hill that "wheat will never be much cheaper than it is now," and "possibly he is right" says the Enterprise . "Sad experience is teaching the American that once a man has decided to raise his price on a commodity, it is hard to get him to let go of his grip on the public purse and come down to anything like the old prices and reasonably easy conditions. There is often found some excuse for putting on the screws—lightning might strike a wheatfield next July, or there may be a scarcity of cars in which to draw the wheat, or a war may break out and the farm workers may be drafted, leaving not enough men to get in the crop. Any excuse will do; in fact in the case of some citizens they don't even make an excuse, but whoop up the price and in dumb show ask you what you are going to do about it. Still, for all that we can't believe that the sellers of wheat will quite have, the sublime nerve to keep it up nearly to wheat corner and panic prices. If they do a good many people, in addition to suffering amid the cold of winter and the heat of summer, will learn also what suffering from hunger means; and it is not wise in any country for a small body of people to expose a large body of people to too much unnecessary pain. Sometimes evil results follow for all hands."

Although the order to purchase the Cavanagh lot at Houghs Neck has passed the City Council and gone to the Mayor it is said by those who have followed the matter that the end is not yet.

Mr. Cavanagh it is said has stated emphatically to several parties that under no consideration will he accept the proposition as called for by the order passed.

The order as passed calls for the appropriation of $6,000 for 50,000 square feet of land which is at the rate of 12 cents per foot. Mr. Cavanagh declares that he told the committee that his lowest price was 12 1-2 cents per foot.

This is not the only thing however that he objects to about the order. He says that the plan takes a strip of land from Sea street to a proposed street and is laid out in such a manner that it ruins his remaining land for building purposes.

Just what the outcome will be is all in the air at present.

Much of the present confusion over the selection of a site is due to the Houghs Neck Associates themselves. When the matter was first broached they would do anything to get a school building and most any lot would have been satisfactory. When it was found last year that satisfactory terms could not be made with Mr. Cavanagh for his land other lots were presented.

Among these was the so-called Norteman lot and there was a largely signed petition in favor of this lot. After the Council Committee had reported an order for this lot many of those who had been favoring the Norteman lot had a change of heart and flopped to the Cavanagh lot.

Several warm meetings were held by the Houghs Neck Associates on the matter and it is reported that some members were almost openly accused of graft.

Petitions were freely circulated and the City Council became flooded with them. Then the Council Committee held a hearing and there was a great flow of oratory.

The sentiment at this hearing was for the Cavanagh lot and the order for this lot was passed last Tuesday evening.

If the Mayor approves the order and Mr. Cavanagh refuses to accept, two courses are open, to take the land by light of eminent domain and have a commission fix the price or to start all over again and purchase some other lot.

Taking everything into consideration it does not look much like a school building at Houghs Neck this year.

The agitation may result in Houghs Neck being side tracked and a new school building erected in the Dublin district. This would help out the Coddington school and incidentally Houghs Neck.

WALTHER MEN'S CLASS.

Monthly Social Held at Wollaston Baptist Church.

The monthly social of the Walther Men's class was given in the chapel of the Wollaston Baptist church on Wednesday evening.

Rev. F. M. Gardner of South Boston who was to have spoken on "The value of a man" was unable to be present owing to illness.

His place was ably filled by Rev. E. N. Hardy of the Bethany Congregational church who addressed the class on "The square deal."

This Mr. Hardy said is the coming American principle. He paid a glowing tribute to ex-president Roosevelt and governor Hughes of New York as living exponents of this great principle.

One must he said take this subject in three phases: the square deal with the other fellow, the square deal with the best that's in us and a square deal with God.

Following the address of Dr. Hardy a social hour was enjoyed during which refreshments were served.

CONSUMPTION FATAL TO LABORER.

That tuberculosis is particularly fatal to the workingmen may be clearly seen from the fact that at least one-third of the deaths during the chief working period of life are caused by pulmonary tuberculosis. Every other workman who becomes incapacitated, must ascribe his condition to consumption. Dr. Lawrence F. Flick says: "Tuberculosis is peculiarly a disease of the wage-workers, and this is so for the very good reason that one of the causes of the disease is overwork." In some trades, such as the metal polishers, brass workers, and stone workers, from 35 to 50 per cent. of all deaths are caused by tuberculosis. Dusty trades are particularly dangerous.

WEYMOUTH

Worster Bryant arrived home Monday from Jamaica where he has been spending the winter and he had quite an experience on the trip home. He came on the steamer Admiral Schley and when the ship was about 700 miles from Nantucket lightship she encountered a very severe electrical storm. A bolt of lightning struck the steamer foremost reducing it to splinters. It put the dynamos out of commission, the compasses were affected and the captain was forced to resort to dead reckoning to steer his ship for port.

WOMEN ARE VICTIMS

INDOOR LIFE AND LACK OF EXERCISE CAUSES PILES.

More women than men have piles. It is because they take so little outdoor exercise and are so often constipated. There is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel, and no amount of cutting or treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove this cause.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, an internal, tablet medicine, will permanently cure any case of piles, removing the cause. Price $1 at Clyde T. Cox's. Quincy, Mass. Fully guaranteed. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR
and we can
PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

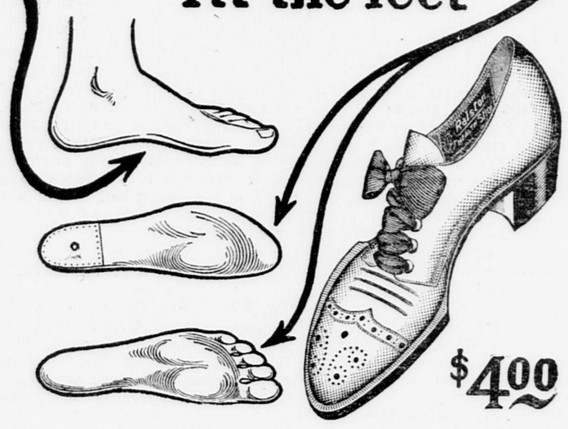

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts—exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

SHOTS RIDDLE YANKEE SHIP

Fired Upon by a British Cruiser In Canadian Waters

ILLEGAL FISHING IS ALLECED

Captain of Schooner Formerly Engaged In Fishing Trips Out of Gloucester Surrendered Only Out of Consideration For Lives of His Crew —American Consul at Vancouver Will Investigate the Matter

Vancouver, B. C., April 22.—Swept by bullets from the machine guns of a British patrol cruiser, the American fishing schooner Charles Levi Woodbury, hailing from Seattle, was forced to surrender.

She was towed into this port in the wake of her captor, the cruiser Kestrel.

The Woodbury, which was out after halibut, is stated by the British cruiser's captain to have been poaching in Canadian waters. The affair took place off Cape Scott, which is the northermost point of Vancouver island.

Four rounds were fired from the Kestrel's guns, the sails and part of the woodwork of the American schooner beng riddled. The captain of the fihsreman would not surrender until driven to do so by consideration of the lives of his crew, as he feared the cruiser's shots would sink the craft.

The seized schooner was built in Essex, Mass., in 1888, and was until 1897 engaged in fishing trips out of Gloucester, Mass.

Captain Sinclair, master of the Charles Levi Woodbury, visited the United States consul and lodged a complaint with Colonel West, the American consul.

West will take the sworn depositions of Sinclair and members of the crew of the schooner and investigate the case. If he thinks the seizure was not justified he will lodge a complaint.

Until the matters are straightened out the crew of the schooner will remain on board her. She is owned by the Standard Fish company of Seattle.

D. A. R. ELECTION TODAY

Chirps of English Sparrows Are Silenced With Air Rifles

Washington, April 22.—The election of officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution occurs today and the chief contestants are concentrating their forces and each claiming a victory. Both Mrs. Scott of Illinois and Mrs. Story of New York are confident of the outcome.

The English sparrows, which infested the hall since the congress convened, have been destroyed. During Wednesday afternoon's recess men armed with air rifles picked off one by one the "little doves of peace," as they had come to be known, and their merry chirps sound no more. No official of the congress was willing to admit that she gave the order of execution.

RUSSIA HAS FREE HAND

Is Preparing For Military Occupation of Northern Persia

St. Petersburg, April 22.—The situation in Persia engrosses the attention of the Russian foreign office. Despite the prompt compliance by the shah with Russia's ultimatum that a six day armistice must be declared at Tabriz for providing food for the foreigners and non-combatants in that city, it is felt that intervention in Persia cannot long be postponed.

This armistice will be utilized by Russia in adequte preparations for the military occupation of northern Persia for a considerable period. All steps have been taken in full accord with Great Britain, which has given Russia a free hand.

STRONG STRIKE SENTIMENT

But Employes of Pittsburg Street Railway Will Not Act Hastily

Pittsburg, April 22.—Whether Pittsburg is to undergo a strike of the street railway employes will depend largely upon the advice given to the men by W. D. Mahon of Detroit, national president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes, who is expected here today to confer with them.

The vote of the men stood 2288 to 123 in favor of striking. No strike was ordered, however, the arrival of Mahon and the result of a further conference with the Pittsburg Railway company being awaited.

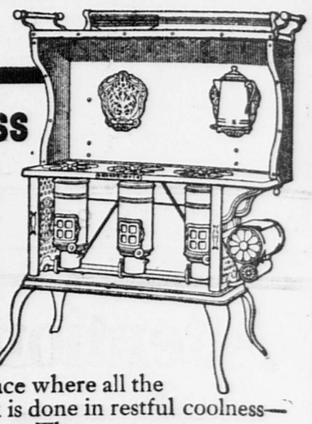

Italian Strikers' Places Filled

Rockland, Me., April 22.—Seventy Italian kilntenders employed by the local lime syndicate struck for increased wages. They have been receiving $1.50 a day and demand $1.87. The company is filling the strikers' positions with native workmen at $1.75 a day.

Congratulations to Ferdinand

Paris, April 22.—President Fallieres and Foreign Minister Pichon telegraphed Emperor Ferdinand of Bulgaria today congratulating him upon the successful termination of the Turco-Bulgarian difficulties.

DEATH'S CALL IS ANSWERED

Governor Lilley Passes Away After Four Weeks' Illness

WAS BROUGHT UP ON FARM

Struggle For Education Had Its Reward In Active and Remunerative Business Life, Which Was Crowned With High Honors by State of Connecticut—Health Undermined by Submarine Boat Episode In Congress

Hartford, April 22.—Governor George Leavens Lilley died last evening after battling with disease for four weeks. The end came peacefully, as the patient did not regain consciousness from the coma in which he had lain for many hours and which was the result of acute nephritis and its attendant complications.

GOVERNOR LILLEY.

There were at the bedside Mrs. George L. Lilley, the three sons, Frederick, John and Theodore Lilley, Mrs. John A. Lilley, Dr. Graves, Dr. Beach, Executive Secretary Goodwin and two nurses.

As soon as the news was spread the fire bells of Hartford sounded the age of the dead governor, forty-nine, and a detachment of the First company, Governor's Foot Guards, immediately was mustered to go on duty at the executive mansion.

According to Dr. Beach the governor's illness began four weeks ago Monday, and when he arrived home his case was almost hopeless. He was as near death as any man could be and yet recover. His wonderful vitality enabled him to rally, but it was not sufficient to pull him through and the forces of disease quickly undermined his strength and constitution and the end came through the development of specific causes.

Governor Lilley's parents came from Woodstock, this state, but he was born in Oxford, Mass., and as a boy worked on the farm, struggling to get an ordinary education. His industry led him into employment which eventually set him on his feet and enabled him to work out his carrer.

Governor Lilley entered politics after a long period of a driving business life, in which he accumulated considerable means, in the wholesale beef trade as the Waterbury partner of the Swift company, the Chicago packers. He had also gone into real estate, investing heavily in communities which have had large industrial growth.

A little more than a year ago Lilley, while a member of congress, brought about an inquiry into the submarine boat situation, during which he bore the brunt of a fierce attack. This undermined his health and he came home last May. The committee of inquiry found against him.

Lilley did not return again to Washington. He had long desired to be governor of the state and the situation had shaped itself so that his friends had control in the state. After a vigorous campaign in the primaries, in which he won overwhelmingly, he was nominated in the September convention. The pre-election canvass was the most bitter in the state history. Lilley went through it unflinchingly and was elected by a majority less than half that given to Mr. Taft.

WYETH'S

SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER

Grew a Full Growth of Hair On a Bald Head

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

WIDOW HAD MANIA FOR GAMBLING

Lost Fortune on Race Tracks and Then Began Stealing

New York, April 22.—Mrs. Anna Trafford, a strikingly handsome widow, whose husband, a Peruvian silver miner, left her $75,000 three years ago, was held by a Brooklyn police magistrate for trial on a charge of stealing bread and milk from door steps.

The hearing brought out that she lost all but $500 of her fortune on the race tracks, which she frequented daily. Half of the $500 was lost in a bank failure and the balance went quickly for living expenses. She said she had lived recently only on her pilferings of milk and bread in the early morning from door steps.

In court she said she was unable to resist the temptation to bet on horse races, and that in one day alone she wagered and lost $1500.

GETS A WARM WELCOME

Roosevelt and His Party Land on the Shore of East Africa

Mombasa, April 22.—Theodore Roosevelt arrived here last evening on board the steamer Admiral. He was in the best of health, as were all the other members of his party.

The people of Mombasa were in a great state of expectancy throughout the day. The Admiral, however, came slowly up to the harbor and it was dark when the ex-president, accompanied by his son and the captain, made a landing.

The former president seemed highly pleased when he observed the military guard drawn up. He replied to the guard's salute by doffing his hat and smiling broadly. The crowds on shore pressed eagerly forward to see the noted American. They were composed of Europeans, Indians and natives, and presented a picturesque appearance. While hearty in their welcome of Roosevelt the people were not in any way demonstrative.

The acting governor of the protectorate, Frederick J. Jackson, entertained the ex-president and later they proceeded to one of the clubs.

LIGHT ON MYSTERY

Prosecuting Attorney Knows the Full History of Mrs. Boyle

Mercer, Pa., April 22.—Mrs. Boyle, the alleged wife of James H. Boyle, abductor of Willie Whitla, is a mystery no longer. Stories to the effect that she is a member of a prominent and wealthy family, it is said, are without any foundation whatever.

Attorney Cochrane, representing the prosecution, says without qualification that Mrs. Boyle was Helen McDermott. Her family resides in Chicago.

An attorney of the woman, J. P. Stranahan, confirmed the identification.

Attorney Cochrane has had possession of the history of the woman for some time. Facts in regard to her alleged visits in Kansas City, St. Louis, Denver, East St. Louis, Louisville, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Joseph, Mo., and Brooklyn, are to be made public by the prosecuting counsel.

AS IN DAYS OF '75

Fort Ticonderoga to Be Restored at an Estimated Cost of $500,000

New York, April 22.—Old Fort Ticonderoga, on the west shore of Lake Champlain, will be restored and made to appear exactly as it did on May 10, 1775, when Ethan Allen, at the head of his Green Mountain boys, swooped down on it from the Vermont side of the lake and took it for the continental congress. This announcement was made by the representatives of Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell, wife of a New Yorker whose family has owned the fort property for over a century.

Historical data and sketches from England and France have been accumulated. All appearance of newness will be eliminated. The work will take ten years and will cost $500,000, it is estimated.

ARGUMENT FOR COOPERS

Counsel Claims That Court Ordered Conviction of Defendants

Nashville, April 22.—That the court, by its instructions, commanded the jury to convict D. B. Cooper and his son, Robin Cooper, of the murder of E. W. Carmack, was the contention of Mr. Anderson of counsel for the defense in his argument for a new trial. Anderson read the instructions of Judge Hart as to the right of the Coopers to seek Carmack.

Anderson concluded his argument last evening and court adjourned until today. The forenoon session was taken up by the argument of Mr. Washington for the defense.

French Labor Demonstrations

Paris, April 22.—The general federation of labor has called upon the unions throughout the country to join in a general demonstrative strike on May day.

Wright Flies In Rome

Rome, April 22.—Wilbur Wright made three successful flights in his aeroplane here Wednesday. He had a passenger each time.

AUTO MOUNTAIN CLIMB

Drivers to Guide Machines Up Steep Slope of Historic Lookout Mountain

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 22.—Up the steep slope of Lookout mountain, where Union and Confederate soldiers struggled for mastery back in the sixties, automobile drivers will contest for prizes today, tomorrow and the next day. The conditions of the contest call for drives to the top of the mountain, 2000 feet above sea level, along a path five miles in length and abounding in sharp turns. It is not at all a hill climb, but a genuine mountain club calculated to test the nerve and skill of the most experienced drivers. The road is a stone pike in fine condition.

While the climb is difficult, arrangements have been made to have government troops guard the course, and it is certain that both contestants and spectators will be protected. The events have been sanctioned by the American Automobile association. They are held under the auspices of the Lookout Mountain Automobile club of this city.

There will be eight events, six for automobiles and two for motor cycles, The first will be a free for all contest for automobiles, without restriction as to make, weight or construction.

KILLING OF MRS. JORDAN

Jury Visits Scenes In Connection With Incidents In the Tragedy

Cambridge, Mass., April 22.—The government has completed the work of setting up the scenic background in the trial of Chester A. Jordan for the murder of his wife by taking the jury to the different places in Somerville and Boston where it is claimed certain incidents took place in connection with the death of the woman and the finding of her dismembered body.

With these points in mind the jury came back to the courthouse and listened to an elaborate synopsis of the case from Assistant District Attorney Wier, who declared that Jordan intended to kill his wife and that he choked and strangled her and beat her head with a flatiron.

Wier did not state what the government's theory was regarding the motive for the crime, although he said that Jordan confessed. A couple of witnesses were heard before the court adjourned.

TORNADO STRIKES NORTHERN OHIO

Three Lives Lost and $1,000,000 Damage In Five Minutes

Cleveland, April 22.—Three persons were killed, six fatally hurt and at least fifty were injured and property valued at more than $1,000,000 was destroyed by a tornado which swept through Cleveland and northern Ohio.

The storm rose suddenly and lasted only five minutes. At 12:30 o'clock the sun was shining brightly. At 12:33 Cleveland was shrouded in darkness. From the northeast, off the lake, came a gale blowing sixty-six miles an hour. In its wake rain and hail fell with great force.

In the blinding rain, pedestrians were blown off their feet and hurled against buildings, while in many cases they were struck down by flying bricks and timbers which filled the air. Roofs were lifted off houses, walls were hurled down and smokestacks and chimneys were demolished. Porches were stripped off houses and small buildings were carried away.

FRIENDS OF WAIFS

Conference Discussing Needs of the Homeless and Friendless

Pittsburg, April 22.—National leaders in the movement to save homeless and friendless children assembled here for a three days' conference on the best methods to be adopted for the work. The chamber of commerce and other civic organizations of this city have joined the charitable societies in furthering the movement.

Among the men and women who have come here for the conference are Mrs. Martha P. Falconer, superintendent of the house of refuge of Philadelphia, and Hastings H. Hart of Chicago, who has charge of the children's department of the Russell Sage Foundation For Social Research.

A $25,000 CRADLE

One of the Numerous Gifts Awaiting Heir to Holland's Throne

The Hague, April 22.—When the stork arrives at the palace he will find ready and waiting, a $50,000 cradle to house the heir of the throne.

The cradle is a most elaborate example of the goldshimth's art and is now installed in the palace, waiting the auspicious event.

It is estimated that gifts totalling well up near the million mark await the coming of the baby.

Protection For Nurserymen

Albany, April 22.—A more rigid supervision by the state department of agriculture to prevent bringing diseased nursery stock into this state from other states is provided in a bill signed by Governor Hughes. The new law also seeks the extermination of plant diseases and insect pests infecting trees, shrubs and vines.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Most Quincy People have a Weak Part And Too Often It's The Back.

Everyone has a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.
Tells you the kidneys need help—
For backache is really kidney-ache.
A kidney cure is what you need.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys,
Cure back ache and all urinary ills.
Quincy people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. F. Olsen, living at 197 Whitwell street, Quincy, Mass., says: "For some time my back was weak and gave me a great deal of trouble. I could not sit up in a chair no more than a few minutes at a time without having severe pains in my loins. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells and at times was very nervous. I was becoming disocuraged when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store, began their use, and received immediate relief. I did not expect to be speedily cured as my condition was so serious, but I can say that the results could not have been more satisfactory. In a few weeks' time my health was restored and I felt better generally. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly have my highest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

BRIEFS

The City Council Committee on Finance meet Friday evening.

Quincy fans were present at the opening league ball game in Boston Wednesday.

Sergt. Hanson of the police department is confined to his home by illness.

Miss Martha Jenkins has pneumonia and is quite sick at her home on Billings street.

Charles R. Safford of Clive street has been confined to his home for the last ten days with a serious case of tonsilitis.

Timberlake & Small of Atlantic are glad to have Al Madden back with them again. He used to be in their employ for years.

Miss May Young returned yesterday afternoon from a two weeks stay in Springfield, Holyoke and New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes and son Bradford of Wollaston avenue have returned from a trip to New York.

The annual childrens' May party will be held at Music hall Saturday afternoon. A pleasing program has been arranged for the entertainment.

J. Warren Nightingale and Dr. H. C. Hallowell secured the highest percentages at the Granite City club whist tournament Wednesday evening and were awarded souvenirs for their skill.

The annual concert and ball of the local union of street railway employes will be held in Music hall Friday evening. No efforts have been spared by the committee to make the affair eclipse all previous events.

Mrs. John Carver, who was stricken with paralysis at the home of Mrs. Roger Wilde on Billings street on April 14th and is now at the Quincy hospital, is reported as improving, which her many friends are glad to hear.

Gerald A. Sullivan is doing a splendid business in Braintree since his opening on Saturday last. Mrs. John Ramsdell demonstrated Chase & Sanbornes coffee for him the first few days and was a drawing card. Mr. Sullivan never leaves things half done when he undertakes them.

A meeting of the Managers and Captains of the boys baseball league will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday April 23d, at eight o'clock. Every team will be represented and the schedule for the season made out. The prospects for a lively league are bright and the interest shown is encouraging.

The grand chorus of the Mikado to be presented next month by the Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, are practicing faithfully under the direction of Daniel E. Bowen of the Boston Dramatic Society. If faithful rehearsing and a good director are any criterian, the Mikado will be a grand success.

It appeared in the papers a day or so ago that "George Thompson was sentenced to the State Farm at Bridgewater." As George Thompson the well known musician of Glencoe place, has been belabored with questions regarding the affair whether in fun or in earnest, he wishes to state that he is still at liberty and not confined in any penitentiary.

SULTAN WILL HAVE OWN WAY

Various Turkish Factions Are Quarrelling Among Themselves

CIVIL WAR CLOSE AT HAND

Radicals Insist on Deposition of Abdul Hamid and Cleansing of Whole Administration—Conservatives Urge That Such Action Can Only Be Accomplished After Severe Fighting—Politics vs. Religion

Constantinople, April 22.—The conflict between Mussulman piety and the political ideas of the west has brought the Turkish people to the verge of civil war. Zeal for the faith has been unloosed and the adjustment of the sultan's relations to the Committee of Union and Progress probably will only postpone the armed struggle between the deliverers of the ancient teachings of the prophet and those who are urging the teaching from western Europe.

With another of the sudden changes characteristic if the present Turkish crisis, public opinion now seems to incline to the belief that the sultan will, after all, be retained on the throne, with proper precautions to safeguard the constitution, and the delay in the occupation of the capital is attributed to the negotiations which are now going on to this end between the government and the leaders of the Young Turks.

The cabinet debated the situation for four hours Wednesday, giving special attention to the negotiations which the ministers have taken in hand on behalf of the sultan with the military members of the committee.

The sultan's primary demand is to remain the constitutional sovereign, with all the spiritual powers of the califate, with liberal allowances for his household, while he also asks for a variety of minor guarantees, which it would not be difficult to grant.

The demand of the Committee of Union and Progress is that the sultan shall offer no resistance whatever and submit unconditionally.

The Saloniki committee, which is the backbone of the whole progressive movement, is largely military and its most important civilian members are with the army. Some of the members of the cabinet, including Rifaat Pasha, the foreign minister, are active constitutionalists.

"The committee"—a vague term to represent influential men of modern spirit—is without definite limits. Its adherents who have a right to a voice in its affairs are divided among themselves. The radical faction insists that there shall be no compromise; that the sultan must be deposed and a reasonable prince should be named as his successor; that the whole administration be cleansed; that no promise of Abdul Hamid's can be trusted, and that to re-establish the system of ten days ago would be to settle nothing.

The conservatives urge that the deposition of the sultan would only be possible after severe fighting; that it is uncertain whether the troops under the control of the committee would uphold such an act with their bayonets; that the wavering soldiers of the First army corps, to the number of 25,000 to 30,000, now garrisoning the city, would be inflamed and break out into open revolt and that to demand too much means the failure of all.

"The sultan has got them to quarrelling among themselves," said one of the ambassadors, "and he will have his own way yet."

GOLFERS OUT IN FORCE

Players of Note Gather For Match Play on the Lakewood Links

Lakewood, N. J., April 22.—Following the successful winter and spring golf season on the southern courses, the opening of the match on the local links today marks the beginning of the northern competitions.

The golfers will play here three days. The army of returning players from the south is well represented, and to the number are added many players of note from New York, Philadelphia and other nearby cities. The Lakewood tournament will be followed by the spring events at Atlantic City from April 29 to May 1.

Against State-Wide Prohibition

Jefferson City, Mo., April 22.—Business men of several cities of Missouri appeared before the committee on constitutional amendments and spoke against the submission by the senate of the state-wide prohibition constitutional amendment, which has passed the house.

A Fruitless Congerence

Philadelphia, April 22.—President Lewis of the miners and the three anthracite district presidents, who were in conference for four hours with the committee of operators, adjourned last evening without reaching a final settlement.

Impossible to be Well

It is impossible to be well, simply impossible, if the bowels are constipated. Waste products, poisonous substances, must be removed from the body at least once each day, or there will be trouble. Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Probably fortune favors the brave because being favored of fortune makes a man brave.

Discipline is good for anybody, which is tantamount to saying it is what everybody squirms under.

The boy who doesn't like to wash his face grows into the man who has to have a patient and long suffering wife in order to keep him presentable.

The man who has no friends either has too much or too little money.

Anybody is penitent once he is convinced that he can't make good in his sinful career.

The Gala Day.

Hip, hurrah!
The day's
At hand
When Athwart
The blooming land
Every idiot
In sight
In a frenzy
Of delight
Will arise
And work
By rule
As a blooming
April fool.
April first
Will fit his case,
And
You'll find him
There in place.
Innocent
And free of guile,
Kicking at
A battered tile
That was loaded
With a brick
By
Your college chum
Sam Slick.
Going on
A goose chase wild
Like a simple
Little child,
Running blithely
Here and there
For an auger
That is square
Or perhaps
To bring Your wife
A left handed
Carving knife.
Oh, the blooming
April fool!
Did he never
Go to school?

No Use For It.

"She certainly lacks tact."

"Oh, but she is clever enough to know it."

"Well, why doesn't she cultivate it?"

"Says she does not need it; has a substitute."

"I wonder what it is."

"Just plain money."

Untouched.

"How are your New Year's resolutions?"

"In fine shape."

"None broken?"

"Guess not. How could they be? I haven't used them yet."

Cheaper.

"Do you have an auto?"

"No; I have no time for it."

"Indeed! I did not know that you were working so hard."

"It isn't that. You see, all my friends have autos."

Was He?

"I am looking for the boss."

"He isn't in; he is away from home."

"I just wanted to know if he will sign this petition, madam?"

"No, he won't."

"Will he succeed as a humorist?"

"No; he just misses success."

"Not quite up to the mark?"

"No; he is not quite bad enough to be good."

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court

TO the heirs-at-law and all other persons interested in the estate of
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, James F. Burke, administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said County, on the twenty-eighth day of April, A. D. 1909, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least, before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine.

The Obliging Reformer.

By STELLA CADMUS.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

There was no use denying that Sydney Gerald was a dawdler. He had wealth, good looks, youth, and was a society favorite. Now and then he went hunting or yachting, but most of the time he simply dawdled. That meant his club, the races and society.

He was accounted a catch, but no one caught him. He didn't really try to dawdle, but pursued his lymphatic way simply because there seemed nothing else to do.

"See here, you good-for-nothing," said the widow of the late Hon. Charles Spofford one evening at a reception as she drew him down to a seat beside her. "I have a duty to perform."

"I wish I had," he replied.

"People are saying you have no energy, no ambition, no aim in life. You have too much money—too much time on your hands. You are throwing your years away."

"Tell me what to do," replied Sydney, yawning.

"Get married."

"Too much trouble—too many emotions."

"Take a 'rip around the world."

"Too much change of scenery."

"Ah, I have it!" exclaimed Mrs. Spofford after a moment's thought. "You are rich. Why not turn philanthropist? Not in the way of hospitals or asylums, but go among the poor and give a few of your dollars to alleviate distress and misfortune. You don't know the real people as I do. There is no day that I am not feeding the hungry and giving out alms. Only this afternoon I gave a one legged man half a dollar, and you ought to have heard his words of gratitude."

"Just so," replied Sydney Gerald, with a bit of a smile as he thought of the many one legged men he had tossed quarters to.

"Try it for a few weeks—for three months. It may lead to your becoming a reformer. At any rate, it will rouse you up and give you something new to think of. It is positively sinful for you to be dawdling along this way."

"Yes, I think so."

"If you should turn out to be a reformer I shall take most of the credit to myself. Three months, Mr. Gerald—try it for three months, and at the end of that time I will arrange for a little gathering to hear your report. It cannot fail to be interesting. You will have a hundred different incidents to relate. Don't you feel a new and strange ambition already?"

"Yes, I think I do. Yes, I think I will turn reformer. I may not make a success of it, but I'll make a try."

The relict of the Hon. Charles spread the news. As Sydney Gerald did not entirely drop society while fitting himself for a reformer, he was lauded and quizzed on numerous occasions by numerous people.

Only a scanty few credited him with the necessary energy to pursue the object, and the most that was predicted of his efforts was the depletion of his purse without corresponding gain. There was a great deal said about the unthankfulness and ingratitude of the world in general, but it didn't seem to affect him much.

"You know you must not look for too much gratitude," cautioned Mrs. Spofford.

"No, I shan't."

"You will feel that you have done your duty, and your conscience will reward you."

"Just so."

"Many and many a time I have given pennies and got never a word of thanks. In fact, I have got black looks as the wheels of my carriage happened to throw a little mud, but I drove on feeling that I had made the world a trifle better. That feeling must be your reward."

"Yes, I shall look for it."

When the three months had expired Sydney Gerald announced his readiness to report. A score of ladies gathered in the drawing room of the Hon. Charles' widow. There were no men among them. Charity and reform did not touch that sex.

When he was ushered in it was remarked that he seemed to have acquired energy and gained ambition, and there was great curiosity as to what he would report.

"Ladies, I beg to say," began Sydney, "that in my ignorance of how to go to work I began my investigations in the house of a wealthy lady. It came about almost by accident. I found that she was in arrears to all her servants and that tradesmen were clamoring for their bills. I relieved the distress. I gave each servant two months' back pay and paid each tradesman something on account. I have a memorandum of her name."

Here Sydney Gerald paused. Mrs. Spofford turned pale, but her nerve was with her, and she managed to force a smile.

"By accident again," resumed Sydney, "I turned a corner one evening and bumped against a young woman in tears. I was a stranger, but when she understood that I had taken up the business of reformer she told me the cause of her distress. She was a seamstress.

"She had worked a week on a gown for a well known lady and on carrying it to the house had been told that she must wait a couple of weeks for her pay. She was going home penniless, hungry and the rent unpaid. The lady in the case bought a diamond tiara next day that was mentioned in all the papers. She could have paid the bill a thousand times over, but she needed the diamonds first. I paid the seamstress."

There was an uneasy movement up and down the room, and for some reason all eyes were directed on Mrs. Somerville. She was conscious of the fact, but with a sang froid that did her credit she put up her lorgnette and stared at a picture on the wall.

"I happened in at a milliner's," said Sydney, with a smile. "Queer place for a man to be, but I happened. Can't say that I was looking for a hat, but in searching out subjects for reform you have to drop into various places. Milliner a nice little widow. All her capital in the business. Just received a letter from a wholesale house threatening suit on bills overdue. Her customers all rich, but they didn't pay cash down. Don't pay in three or six months. In fact, they didn't pay for a year or so and only when forced to. I have seen many of the hats that were bought there that way. Relieved the distress and passed on."

Every lady in the room except the Hon. Mrs. Spofferd had on an expensive hat. Each lady started to look at the other, but gave it up and cast down her eyes with proper modesty. They might not all have known the milliner referred to, but they had thoughts. After a painful silence Mr. Gerald continued:

"Happened to meet the butler of a house where I frequently call. Just happened, you know. Down in the mouth; looked bilious. As a would be reformer I spoke to him and got his story. Lady of the mansion hadn't paid his wages for five months and had borrowed his savings besides. He dared to speak to her about it, and she had sent him packing. Saw the same lady buying a $600 ruby ring the other day."

Every lady in the room helplessly glanced at the hands of every other lady. A poodle dog belonging to one of them seemed to be the only thing in the room at ease.

"Happened to call on a florist," said the obliging reformer when the silence had endured to the painful point; "just happened so. One of his statements of accounts sent out to a lady had been returned with a very sharp note. The account was two years old, and because he sought to collect it the debtor informed him that she should take her patronage elsewhere. It was only one case out of a score. Sympathized with the florist and passed on. Happened across a discharged coachman, discharged for hinting that he wanted his wages. Helped him out with a five dollar bill. Happened to run across a governess in the same fix. That's all. Good evening, ladies."

For two minutes after the reformer disappeared no one spoke. Then one lady after another rose up to go and, turning to the honorable widow, worked up a smile and said:

"Isn't Sydney Gerald just too charming for anything! And how awful of people not to pay their bills!"

Balzac's Refuge.

Admirers of Balzac who visit Paris will be interested in a museum specially devoted to souvenirs of the writer. It consists of the quaint old house and garden in the Rue Raynouard, at 47, which he inhabited many years and where he wrote a number of his best works. Curiously enough, the house recalls one of the most difficult periods of his life, when, it is said, he was hunted and persecuted by debtors to an alarming extent. He selected the house, it is stated, purposely as a sort of harbor of refuge from duns. It has no direct refuge from the Rue Raynouard, and one has first to pass through the hall of another house and go down two flights of stairs to a courtyard below. The house, which is a small building and which the French would only call a "pavilion," is entered from this courtyard and has a little garden at the back. At one side of the garden there is a steep wall down the side of the hill, giving the place the appearance of a little fortress.

The Thumb.

The disparagement of the usefulness and importance of the thumb implied in the expression, "His fingers are all thumbs," seems undeserved in view of the important part the thumb formerly played in the social customs of the people and the very important part it plays in our own lives.

Lord Erskine, in his "Institutes," states that among certain of the lower ranks in Scotland the final settlement of a bargain was always signalized by the licking and joining of thumbs.

Selden, in "Titles of Honor," says that kissing the thumb was a mark of servility. The clergy, the rich and the great, were in receipt of this honor from their tradesmen.

From the remotest days of antiquity the practice of licking the thumb has been regarded as a solemn pledge or promise, existing, according to Tacitus and other authorities, among the Goths, the Iberians and the Moors, and it may also be traced through successive periods down to our own times.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A Tipping Tip.

How to avoid tipping the waiter at a restaurant: When the bill comes, pay it exactly. A certain involuntary expression of astonishment will be visible on the waiter's face, well trained though it may be. You should then rise, saying to him, "I have made an excellent dinner; you manage the establishment much better than the preceding proprietor did." During his rapture at being mistaken for the owner of the restaurant you escape.—Argonaut.

TELLS OF SCHOOL CONDITIONS IN U. S.

Member of Sage Foundations Addresses Boston Club

During the second day's meeting of Boston's great Campaign for Boys and Girls at the banquet by the Fathers and Mothers Club at the Hotel Vendome Mr. Leonard P. Ayres of the Russell Sage Foundation made further announcements of the findings of the investigation conducted by the Foundation into school conditions in American cities. Mr. Ayres said in part:—

Our studies have shown that in every school system there are a certain number of children who are too old for the grades they are in. These children are known as backward or retarded children. There is enormous variability between cities in respect to the proportion of backward children in their schools. In Medford, Mass., only 7 per cent are retarded; in Waltham, Mass., we find 10 per cent of the children retarded; in Boston 18; in Springfield 23; in New York 30; in Philadelphia 36; in Cincinnati 58; and way down at the foot of the list we find Memphis with 75 per cent of her children in that class.

Wherever we find that retarded children constitute a large part of the school membership we find that many of the children do not stay in school, until they complete the elementary course they drop out without finishing. The educational importance of this fact is great. We are apt to think that everyone should have at least the education of the common schools, but the fact is that at present thousands of children are only getting the education of the first four or five grades.

The falling out of children before graduation is termed elimination. Here again there is great variability between cities. In Quincy, Mass., for every 100 children who start 82 continue to the final grade. Waltham carries 73 in every 100 entering pupils through to the final grade. Boston, 50; Springfield, Mass., 56; New York 42; Cincinnati 41; Philadelphia 32; and Camden only 17 the other 83 fall by the wayside. The general tendancy of American cities is to carry all of their children through the 5th grade, to take one-half to the 8th and one in ten through the high school.

Investigations in New York City have shown that late entrance is responsible for less than one-third of the backward children. The others are backward on account of slow progress. The average conditions found in our city schools show for every child who is making more than normally rapid progress there are more than 10 making abnormally slow progress. These conditions mean that our courses of study are fitted, not to the slow child or to the average child but, to the unusually bright child.

The proportion of backward children, the percentage of beginners who continue until they graduate and the number of children in the system who repeat grades are significant measures of school efficiency. In all of these respects there seems to be two general rules. first, if you wish to find a locality making a good showing take any city in Massachusetts; second, if you wish to find one making a poor showing take any city in New Jersey.

Our studies of the New York records have been shown that there are decided differences between the different races in the matter of school progress. There the Germans made the best records, followed by Americans, Russians, English, Irish and Italians in that order. Everywhere that investigations have been made it has been conclusively shown that ignorance of the English language is a handicap that is quickly and easily overcome and has little influence on retardation.

MAY FORM GOOD GOVERNMENT ASSO.

Project Discussed at Meeting Of Congregational Club

A special meeting was held in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church on Thursday evening to consider the advisibility of forming an organization along the lines of a Good Government association.

The meeting was held under the auspices of a special committee of five of the Congregational club appointed at its last meeting to consider the wisdom of such a step.

The committee will make its report at the next meeting of the club which occurs on Tuesday.

It was for the guidance of this committee and to attempt to ascertain the general sentiment of such a step that the meeting was called by the president of the club, Chester J. Hogue.

Mr. Hogue said that the ends of the object might be a accomplished in two ways—either by a federation of the men's clubs or by a large separate organization of individual members with a small executive committee.

James G. Brown said that he would be in favor of a separate organization not affiliated in any way with the Congregational club.

In response to a call from Rufus B. Tobey, Ernest G. Gay of the Quincy Y. M. C. A., who was present said a few words.

There has been, said Mr. Gay, for a long time a sentiment in all parts of the city for such a movement as this but it never seemed to be the right time and there never seemed to be anyone to shoulder the responsibility. He spoke of the federation of men's clubs organized in Boston at the present time and the effective work it is doing.

This organization is composed of a small committee from the men's club of each church and one or two representatives from each church which has no club, in the latter case being appointed by the minister.

He considered it a good idea to hold a meeting and invite representatives from the various men's clubs in Quincy and Wollaston to be present.

Mr. Hogue asked whether it would be wiser to have such a movement start in Wollaston or Quincy.

Mr. Campbell thought there might be a certain prejudice against the movement if it were started in Wollaston.

C. F. West asked if such a federation of men's clubs had not been suggested by the Wollaston Methodist club and not met with general approval.

W. H. Hull said that the idea of the Methodist club was to sink the individuality of the men's clubs and merge them into one large organization.

In the federation now contemplated the individuality of each club would be maintained.

Dr. Record spoke of a church club in Dorchester which is working simply along moral lines affecting the community.

Mr. Tobey asked if it would not be wise to have the movement start in Wollaston. He said a little work accomplished a great deal more than a lot of talk.

He said one could attain what he desired and quality and strength of purposed availed more than numbers.

We have been in the habit, he said, of taking what is put before us and voting along certain lines.

The time has now come to assert our independence and form an organization which may at first only do a small work will in the end accomplish great results.

Mr. Hull moved that it be the sense of the meeting that a federation of men's clubs be formed including all the church clubs and churches of Quincy.

Mr. Tobey moved that this movement be confined to Wollaston.

Mr. Gay said that it would defeat the ends of the plan to confine it to Ward Five as the idea is to unify rather then divide the whole city.

It was voted to recommend that representatives from the various churches and church clubs be invited to meet and discuss the question.

It was decided to leave it to those present at this meeting to decide whether the movement should be a federation of men's club or an individual organization.

The special committee will make its report at the next meeting of the Wollaston Congregational club on Tuesday.

LAST SOCIAL SUPPER.

Ladies Alliance of Wollaston Closes Successful Season.

The last sociable and supper of the season was held by the Ladies Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church in the vestry on Thursday evening.

The tables were prettily set and unique paper napkins of red or green were found at each place.

A supper consisting of vegetable salad, rolls, baked beans, brown bread, cold slaw, coffee and pie was served.

The committee which was in charge of Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, consisted of Mrs. J. N. Smith, Miss Louise Waterman, Mrs. George Bennett, Mrs. Roy C. Baker, the Misses Foster, Mrs. F. A. Page, Miss Elsie Snow, Mrs. Alfred Richards, Mrs. Ernest Carr, Miss Thomas, Miss Totman and Miss Gertrude Brennan.

In the evening a guessing game composed of pictures of various celebrities was enjoyed besides other informal games.

MAYOR SIGNS ORDER.

Mayor Shea affixed his signature Thursday to the order passed by the City Council Tuesday night appropriating $6,000 for the purchase of 50,000 square feet of land of the Cavanagh estate for a school lot at Houghs Neck.

The question now is will Mr. Cavanagh accept the proposition.

NEW PASTORS ARRIVE.

Rev. Richard E. Armstrong of Boston the new rector of Christ church and Rev. James Mathuson of Delanco, N. J., the new pastor of the Water street Presbyterian church have arrived in Quincy to accept their charges. Rev. Mr. Armstrong assumes his charge the first Sunday in May and Rev. Mr. Mathuson will preach his first sermon as pastor next Sunday.

BIGELOW NINE TO PLAY BEACHMONTS

Hot Games Scheduled For Fans Saturday

The strong Bigelow baseball club of Quincy Point will cross bats with the Beachmont A. A. tomorrow afternoon at the Ward Two playground. If you want to see some fast inside ball playing the place to go is Ward Two, because these Bigelows, although youngsters, certainly play the game all the time. Each one knows the fine points of the game and they work together like veterans.

In fact they are veterans, for they have been together now for four seasons, and each one knows the other's weak point. These boys can bunt or hit it out, run the bases in a daring but not foolish manner and lastly they can field in a classy fashion. In the box they are strong also, as will be seen, when it is remembered that "Lefty" Ford the diminutive twirler, pitched and won two games Patriots' Day both from the Fore River Apprentices. It is no idle talk to say that these boys will be heard from before long in semi-professional and professional ranks. Fred Lake better send a scout out here to look over the promising material.

Ground has been broken in the field for the new Quincy Old Colony league team, which will open the league season on Memorial Day with the Taunton pennant winners. The grounds are located on the north side of Water street just beyond Quincy street and when they are all fitted up will make an ideal baseball park.

Manager Patterson has already got lines out for some good players and indications point to a fast team. In fact the best is all Quincy fans want and if they don't get it, goodby to a successful team. Manager Patterson stated at the recent smoke talk that no old-timers would be seen in the line-up. He said he was after the young, fast talent and felt assured that he could get together a team that would hold its own against the best.

"Jack" Finn, the well-known local pitcher, who is now at St. Anselm's college, Manchester, N. H., held the Lawrence New England league team to four scattered hits on Thursday, when the college team and the leaguers met at Manchester. The men behind Finn were stage-struck and made nine errors, losing the game 5 to 3. With good support Finn would have got away with the game.

The Makaria baseball team goes to Winthrop tomorrow to play the fast Winthrop A. A. team of that town. The local boys are playing a strong, steady game for so early in the season and should take the North Shore nine into camp without much trouble.

The Orients wish to take issue with the statement of Manager Rogers of the Copeland Jrs. when he states that his team had no scheduled game with the Orients. If he will wake up and look over the Patriot of April 17, he will find there a paragraph stating that the Copeland Jrs. would play the Walworths in the morning of Patriots' day and the Orients in the afternoon. The real reason they never played was because they had an attack of "cold feet," The Orients know when they are going to play and they have never squealed out of it, by trying to say that they never had a game scheduled.

The Makaria baseball team will leave for Winthrop tomorrow afternoon on the 1.13 train from the Quincy station, taking the 2.05 boat on the East Boston ferry and thence to Winthrop.

FOR TRANSPORTING LIQUOR.

Council Will Probably Act Upon Permits at Next Meeting.

The adjourned meeting of the City Council next Monday evening will be known as license night as it is probable that the question of granting permits to expressmen to transport liquor will be acted upon at that time. There are now 32 applications for permits pending. Last year but 13 permits were granted.

In addition to the liquor transportation permits there are also many applications for licenses as common victuallers, junk collectors, pool table and other licenses pending. Many of these parties already hold licenses all of which expire on May 1.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

Editor of the Quincy Daily Ledger:

Dear Sir:—I desire to place myself right before the citizens of this city and I therefore ask you to be kind enough to publish this letter from me with facts obtained from the City Auditor's office this morning. I wish to convey proper interpretation of an article, appearing in the afternoon edition of the Boston Globe that placed me in a wrong light before the public.

With these figures the public will see things in a different light. Payroll sewer department, week of September 28 to October 3, 1908, 80 laborers at $1.75, 20 laborers $2.00, 35 laborers at $2.25, 3 at $2.50. Street department, Grove street, November 9, to 14, 14 laborers $1.75, 2 laborers $2.00, 1 $2.25, 1 $2.50. East Elm avenue, week of November 23 to 28, 23 laborers at $1.75, 5 at $2.00, 2 at $2.50.

It can be easily seen from the figures I give above that the great majority of the laborers employed by the city are getting less than $2.00 as I have always claimed. The statement in the Boston Globe of Wednesday April 14, is wrong and has a tendency to belittle me before the public. In all fairness to myself and my supports in the City Council elsewhere I ask you do put this matter before the public in the right manner.

Very respectfully yours,
John J. McDevitt,
Councilman from Ward Four.

FAKE RUNNER.

The Marathon runner who went part of the way in an automobile and then jumped from it and ran like mad down the road as though he was the winner of the race, getting applause till the trick was discovered, seems to have achieved a new niche in fame's gallery. There is at last something new under the sun. One writer has said that it would be charitable to say that the young fellow lost his head. He must have in a measure, for he must have known that his trick would be speedily discovered. Still, when we wonder at this young man running into a stone wall we ought to remember other people who speculate and speculate, and yet have ten thousand examples before them to show them how likely they are to be caught; and we ought to remember some of those who follow every delirious form of "getting rich quickly," and those who know every new nostrum will cure their ills, and others who rob and assault when the job is so plain that capture is practically inevitable. People by millions have had the feeling at some time in their lives that they could beat a sure game and have tried it, usually to regret long and hard. The New Bedford boy was a foolish citizen who thought a barefaced trick could win, and for a time, as in a lot of other cases, it looked as though he might; and then came the crash and the hero became merely a mark for jeers and execration. But don't blame the New Bedford lad too strenuously. Some of your friends may be up against a similar game of deception later in life and may be losers, too.—Brockton Enterprise.

NO MORE DUST FOR QUINCY

Carload of Dust Preventative To Be Spread on Streets

A car load of tanks of dust preventative arrived Thursday and the Commissioner is getting ready to spread the same upon the streets.

This preventative which is a combination of oil, tar etc., is mixed with water at the ratio of one gallon of preventative to 5 gallons of water. The water is used to spread the preventative.

The method of mixing the two is an ingenius one. A small cylinder is used into which a pipe from the barrel of the preventative is connected on one side. One end of the cylinder is connected with the sprinkling cart by a hose and the other end to a hydrant by a hose.

As the stream of heavy preventative enters the cylinder the force of the hydrant stream strikes it and separates it and the whole is carried by force into the sprinkling cart.

The material used some of which has already been applied to a section of Hancock street is the same as used by the city of Newton about which so much favorable notice has been made.

It is claimed that after a street is once thoroughly coated with the preventative only one additional application will be necessary late in the summer.

PAY OF LABORERS.

Only Twenty-Two Receive Less Than $2 Per Day.

A statement was made at the Council meeting Tuesday evening that two-thirds of the laborers of the city were being paid but $1.75 per day. The laborers of the city are paid on Wednesdays and an inspection of the pay roll shows that there were 164 laborers.

Of this number 22 received $1.75 per day. The remaining 142 were paid from $2 to $2.50.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings, Warren S. Parker has issued the following building permits.

To D. R. McLeod for a cottage on East Squantum street.

To Maurice E. Kilpatrick for a house on Henry street.

To James Hickey for a cottage at Squantum.

To F. W. Neal for an auto house on Summit street.

To M. W. Cummings for a bungalow on Elm avenue.

To Herbert D. Gross for a cottage on Pawsey's farm.

—"Proof of the value of a wife":—A new proof came to my ears today. It was told me as happening in a Scotch court. A widower with four children testified that he was unable to support himself and family and therefore he must have help. While his wife was alive she was so able and so good a business woman that she could "make both ends meet" with what the husband earned; but he could hire no one to do the same. It is more than probable that this is also true of a majority of wives whose husbands might be inclined to think that they were the only money-earners in the family. The average American man earns enough, but the careful expenditure is a "lost art." Just here the good housewife earns her salary.—Sciolus of Milford.

WHEAT SLUMPS STILL FURTHER

Prices Are Nine Cents Under Those of Last Week

BULL CAMPAIGN ABANDONED

Patten Betakes Himself to Ranch of His Partner In New Mexico—Large Hole In Paper Profits and Heavy Actual Losses, Many a Fortune Being Wiped Out—Bulls Are Disappointed at Crop Reports

Chicago, April 23.—That James A. Patten, hailed throughout the country as the "Wheat King," has withdrawn from the market after disposing of his heavy holdings of May and July wheat, is asserted in many quarters here. To this assertion verisimilitude is added by the fact that prices have tumbled over 9 cents during the last week and that Patten himself has sought to rest in the fastness of a New Mexico ranch.

Whether he has removed himself from the so-called "deal" and if so, whether he came out with profit or loss, are questions which can be answered only by Patten himself.

The session of the board of trade was a sensational one Thursday. Bulls had expected that after the 6 cent decline of the two previous sessions a recovery would ensue. Taking the Patten view of a big crop shortage as correct and that wheat is intrinsically worth all that has been paid for it in a purely speculative way, the reaction was due.

But the first quotations were a disappointment to the bulls. From nearly every point came reports of normal, or even bettetr, crop reports. Liverpool prices were down and the shipments from Argentina, Australia and other foreign countries were said to be greater than usual at this time of the year.

Bears filled the wheat pit in a mass, and like an eruptive volcano poured forth a swollen stream of wheat. Longs liquidated all along the line, and the execution of stop-loss orders added to the confusion.

The Patten vortex of other and more bullish days was not in evidence. It was a tremendous liquidating market and Patten might have been buying secretly through others than his own house. From him there has come no word that he has changed his views as to the value of wheat. He called May wheat cheap at $1.29 and if he still thinks so, it is pointed out, the same option at $1.21 Thursday was an excellent investment. The same was said of July at $1.09⅝. These prices are approximately 9 cents under the high price of last Friday.

While Patten, quoted as saying he was fleeing from reporters, was making for the ranch of his partner, W. F. Bartlett in New Mexico, dejection was pictured on the face of many a small speculator haunting the ticker in various broker houses.

Many a fortune has been wiped out by the decline this week, and many a man who had a handsome profit on paper, but still hung on for more, now confronts a deficit. The wide publicity given the market brought into it many a man who ordinarily walked in quieter paths. Even the "regulars" for the most part followed the bull leader with unusual enthusiasm and until Thursday saw nothing further in the previous declines but a flurry. Patten so characterized it and his word was accepted. They held to the limit of their resources and they were wiped off the speculative slate when their margins became exhausted and there was no longer a reserve to draw on.

They would have liked very much to know whether Patten left orders secretly for further purchases at the concession in prices. In the absence of such information, however, Patten's departure for a section of the country where he will not be much troubled by either reporters or quotations, and the utter weakness displayed by Thursday's decline gave rise to gloomy hints that "Patten was well out of it." They went so far as to declare that the present slump was due to the liquidation of the big Patten line of wheat, rather than to improved crop conditions. It is admitted that this supposition may be wrong.

TRAINS TRAPPED ON LONG BRIDGE

Ends of Structure Weakened While They Were Crossing

Plattsburg, N. Y., April 23.—Two passenger trains of the Rutland railroad are trapped on the long drawbridge over the northern end of Lake Champlain at Rouse's Point. The east end of the bridge was swept away by wind and high water and the west end was also badly wrenched.

The two trains went on the bridge, which is a mile long, and stopped before reaching the center, owing to the unsafe condition of the trestle work. Before they could back off the end of the bridge behind them had given way. The passengers were taken off. It will be some days before the necessary repairs can be completed.

"ABSOLUTELY FALSE"

Dry Goods Men Object to Statements Made to Payne

New York, April 23.—A number of the leading dry goods firms of this city who were specifically mentioned by Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee in his tariff speech before the house of representatives on April 6 have adopted and forwarded to Payne and President Taft resolutions in reply to the statements directed at them in that speech. The resolutions addressed to Payne state:

"The information supplied you that we maintain large establishments in the city of Chemnitz, Germany, with a full force of help organized to buy and obtain foreign hosiery at the least possible cost, and advance money to small manufacturers to purchase yarns, receiving the unfinished product and sending same to public finishers, etc., is absolutely false in every particular. We do none of the things charged. The only establishment we maintain in Chemnitz are offices where, in most cases, one individual does all the work required."

The resolutions state that Payne was misinformed in other matters.

"SKY" GOT HIS LETTER

Blind Address Did Not Prevent It Reaching Its Destination

Washington, April 23.—That there are some first class "blind readers" in the postal service besides those in the dead letter office was evidenced when a letter, mailed at Abbeyville, Ga., and bearing no other address than "Sky of Tufts, U. S. A." was delivered promptly to the person for whom it was intended.

The postmaster at Abbeyville sent the letter through to Medford, Mass., where Tufts college is situated. The postmaster of the college postoffice knew that "Sky" was the nickname of Irving Tolles, a junior. The letter reached Tolles and he admitted at once that the letter was intended for him.

AN ILLINOIS HOLIDAY

Schoolchildren Take Active Part in Celebrating Arbor Day

Chicago, April 23.—By proclamation dated March 1 Governor Deneen designated today as Arbor day for the state of Illinois and asked that the day be appropriately observed with exercises and the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers around schoolhouses and homes.

Arbor day is being generally observed through the state. In this city and elsewhere the schools were closed early in order to permit the children to take part in the exercises. The women's clubs, the Women's Outdoor Art league and other organizations of women have interested themselves greatly in the holiday.

18,500 MILES IN 104 DAYS

Clipper Ship Makes Record Time In Trip Around Cape Horn

Norfolk, April 23.—Making the fastest time ever recorded by a sailing vessel on a trip around Cape Horn, from Seattle to the Atlantic coast—104 days—the clipper ship Erskine M. Phelps, Captain Graham, arrived with a cargo of canned goods.

The ship made the fastest time for the 18,500 miles ever recorded, it is said, and the cargo of canned goods was the largest ever brought around the Horn.

COMPROMISE IS ARRANGED

Young Turks Gain a Victory Over Sultan of Turkey

ABDUL HAMID MAKES PROMISES

Will Withdraw From Administrative Activities and Accede to Other Demands—Uncertainty as to Whether He Will Remain Ruler of Empire—Hundreds of Soldiers Stationed at Capital Are Deserting

Constantinople, April 23.—The Young Turks have won another victory over Sultan Abdul Hamid, but whether the sultan will remain as sovereign of the empire is yet to be decided, although he has offered to place the affairs of government entirely in the hands of the ministers responsible to parliament.

Tewfik Pasha, the grand vizier, arranged a compromise with certain influential Constitutionalists and this was approved by the sultan personally, but doubts exist whether this agreement will be accepted by the majority of the Committee of Union and Progress or by enough of the military group to carry it into effect.

Besides promising to withdraw himself from administrative activities, the sultan agrees to a change in the personnel of the troops guarding the palace and the replacing of the Constantinople garrison by troops from the corps which has practically been investing the city for four days.

The chamber of deputies and some of the senators met at San Stefano and are now discussing the question of the deposition of the sultan. The warships have gone to that place and officers and men have offered their services to the Constitutional party. Mahmout Schefket Pasha, commander of the Third army corps, has arrived at that place, and the concentration of the investing army is now complete.

Doubtless the next twenty-four hours will decide the fate of the sultan, who remains passively at his palace awaiting the issue.

The authorities are closing their eyes to the great numbers of desertions from the units stationed in the capital. Hundreds of soldiers, uniformed, but without arms or munitions, are slipping out, bound for Asia Minor. Their old battalions will be freshly recruited and shifted to the provinces, which will make the introduction of the Constitutionalist soldiers an easy matter.

Fewer white or green turbaned priests are seen on the streets. Many of them also have left the city for places in Asia, threatening to raise the country and return with the faithful to rescue the grand caliph and save the religion from the unbelievers.

The sultan, or those acting in his behalf, have supplied the Constitutionalists with a list of the principal members of the palace group who brought about the events of last week. Some, or possibly all of these, have left the capital.

The members of the cabinet offered their resignations to Grand Vizier Tewfik Pasha, but he declined to accept them. All of the members of the cabinet later consented to remain. As a matter of fact the cabinet is practically a Young Turk cabinet because the ministers who were appointed since April 13 are in no way disposed to do anything in opposion to the wishes of the Committee of Union and Progress.

THE ADANA MASSACRE

Thousands of Armenians Slain by Fanatical Moslems

Adana, April 23.—The immediate pretext for the disorders here was the shooting by an Armenian of three Turks, one of whom died on April 10. The following evening a Moslem crowd beat an Armenian to death. Uneasiness greatly increased among the Armenians and several of the most prominent of them urgently demanding that the governor take adequate measures to preserve order.

On the 14th the situation became critical. The Armenians closed their shops and later the Turks did likewise. The Armenians repeated their demand and the governor gave assurances that there would be no disturbances, whereupon the leaders of both sides went through the streets urging the shopkepers to reopen their places of business. At noon, however, Moslem crowds, armed with clubs, filled the market places and the streets and soon the massacre began, with the looting and burning of shops and houses.

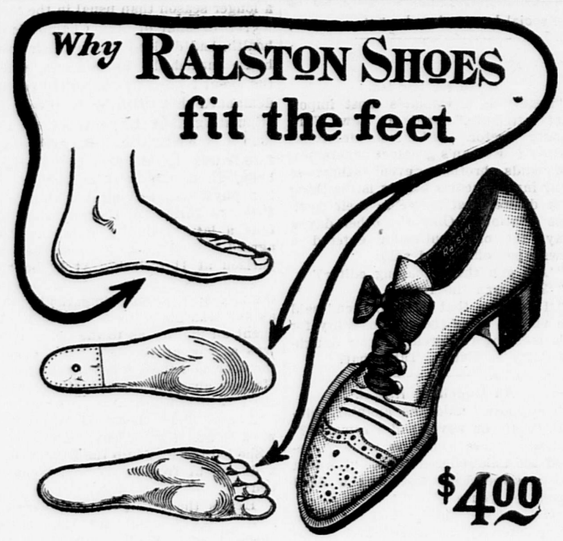

The reign of terror continued for three days. The two American missionaries, Messrs. Rogers and Maurier, were killed early in the fighting. The Armenians defended themselves with as much bravery as possible and killed many of the Moslems. It was not until the afternoon of April 16 that the government afforded protection.

It is estimated that thousands of Armenians were killed and thousands more are homeless, penniless and starving. The devastation in the outskirts of the city is inconceivable. Large relief measures have been undertaken by four hospitals, but enormous relief is necessary.

A Tonic Free from Alcohol

Talk with your doctor about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. Ask him if he prescribes it for pale, delicate children. Ask him if he recommends it when the blood is thin and impure, and when the nerves are weak and unsteady. Ask him if it aids nature in building up the general health.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

HAIR-RAISING EVENTS

Auto Drivers Take Lives In Their Hands In Chattanooga Contests

Chattanooga, April 23.—With 50,000 people lining the course, the daring drivers in the automobile hill climb made some swift records. Lewis Strang of the Buick team won three of the events.

The tires of the flying machines were often on the very edge of the roadway, where a swerve would have sent them to the bottom of deep ravines.

Strang's time, 6:45, was the best made, aside from Chevrolet, in a special trial against time, who made the four and nine-tenths miles in 6:30 2-5.

George DeWitt went into the ditch at the "hairpin" curve and, though his machine was smashed, DeWitt escaped with a few bruises.

In the seventh event two cars were ditched at the "hairpin." Louis Doerhoefer's mammoth Locomobile skidded from the roadway, turning a complete somersault. The car was demolished and Doerhoefer's hands and face were badly mutilated, but no bones were broken.

HAINS EXPERT'S BLUNDER

Shocks Defense by Declaring the Prisoner Now Sane

Flushing, N. Y., April 23.—A commotion was caused among the defense at the trial of Captain Hains for the murder of William E. Annis by Dr. L. S. Manson, an alienist retained by the defense. He declared that in his opinion Hains was not insane at the present time and that the defense did not intend to raise such an issue, but would rest with the proof that the defendant was insane at the time of the shooting.

The physician was severely censured by the Hains lawyers for expressing this opinion and afterwards partly denied having made the statement credited to him.

Two new jurors were added Thursday to the five already in the jury box. Nearly fifty talesmen were examined.

ROOSEVELT BEGINS HIS INITIAL HUNT

Changes Plans and Goes For Game on Kapiti Plains

Mombasa, April 23.—Theodore Roosevelt will make his first attempt to bag African game today. As a result of changes in the hunting plans of the Roosevelt party, the ex-president will spend a week in camp on the Kapiti plains before proceeding to Nairobi and the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease.

When the special train departed Thursday afternoon for Kapiti station Roosevelt rode upon the cowcatcher of the engine, waving his hat and smiling in response to the noisy sendoff.

The hunting on the Kapiti plains will begin today. Antelopes, ostriches and other small game abounds all over the Kapiti plains.

LIMBS OF THE LAW

Experts In International Questions In Session at Washington

Washington, April 23.—The American Society of International Law, composed of lawyers and others interested in the questions that arise between nations, holds its third annual meeting in this city today and tomorrow.

The president of the society is Elihu Root, senator from New York. Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor, is chairman of the executive committee, and Charles H. Butler, reporter of the United States supreme court, is the corresponding secretary. Among the vice presidents of the society are President Taft, Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Day, Andrew Carnegie, Joseph H. Choate and Justice Brewer.

EXPERTS ARE PUZZLED

Herring Make Their Reappearance In Goodly Numbers

Taunton, Mass., April 23.—Nothing like the run of herring up the Taunton river during the past week has been known in a quarter of a century, notwithstanding reports of recent years that the species was gradually becoming extinct. The catch for the present week, which closed by law Thursday, numbered over 1,000,000.

The return of the fish this year is puzzling to the experts who have made a study of the species. For some time the runs have been gradually diminishing and the privileges had become of small value, but this year the herring have returned in large numbers.

Arcanians In Session

Boston, April 23.—Sixty new representatives were admitted to the Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum, which opened its annual two days' session here. The reports of the officers showed the organization to be in a flourishing condition.

If youth were not so dead certain and cocksure of itself enthusiasm would die of sheer inanity.

It always seems so much easier to do something else and do it some other time.

BOYLE TRIES TO KILL SELF

Whitla Kidnapper Obtained Possession of Powerful Drug

DOCTORS HAVE A LONG TASK

Succeed In Improving His Condition, but He Is Still Very Sick—Friends Outside of Jail Succeed In Reaching Prisoner's Window In Effort to Liberate Him, but Well Laid Plan Is Frustrated

Mercer, Pa., April 23.—The Mercer county authorities are greatly worried over an alleged attempt by James H. Boyle, the Whitla kidnapper, to commit suicide and later a well-planned attempt by supposed friends on the outside to liberate the prisoner from the jail here.

While both affairs were frustrated, their successful conclusion seems to have been averted by the narrowest margin.

It has been learned that early Thursday morning Boyle suddenly became ill. He was found lying on the floor of his cell in convulsions. Doctors were hurriedly summoned and worked over him until late at night, when his condition improved. Boyle is still a very sick man, but no danger of serious consequences is feared. Excepting that his illness was such as would have resulted from some powerful drug nothing can be learned.

A few minutes after midnight an attempt to liberate Boyle failed on account of the prisoner's illness. At that hour guards found a twenty-foot ladder in position at a window in Boyle's cell. The supposition is that the men who were to free Boyle climbed this ladder and then found his cell empty, the prisoner being in the jail hospital because of illness.

A letter was found on Boyle's person, addressed to Sharon, Pa., in which he describes to parties not generally known the best way to effect his liberty. It is alleged Boyle wrote this letter some time ago, but could find no way to mail it. The authorities are investigating the matter and developments are expected at Sharon. At nearly every turn Sheriff Chess is said to uncover suspicious traces of an attempted escape of Boyle and for this reason extra guards are now on duty.

Indictments against Boyle and his wife were presented to the grand jury this morning. The indictment charging kidnapping against Mrs. Boyle also contains an extra count charging her with being an accessory before and after the fact. There is little doubt that true bills will be returned.

A FURTHER CONFERENCE

Question of Strike of Pittsburg Railway Men Not Decided

Pittsburg, April 23.—National President Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes arrived here from Detroit, called by the imminence of a strike of the employes of the Pittsburg Railway company.

After a general review of the situation with local representatives of the employes Mahon had a conference with President Callery of the railways company. After this meeting it was announced that no further steps would be taken by the men until after another conference between representatives of the company and the men, which has been set for Saturday.

BODY LYING IN STATE

Mourning Emblems Show Hartford's Respect For Late Governor Lilley

Hartford, April 23.—Emblems of mourning to show the grief of a state stricken by the loss of Governor George L. Lilley are to be seen on every hand, flags being lowered to half staff on all buildings and business houses draping their fronts in black and purple.

The body of the governor was removed to the Capitol today, where it lies in state. Both branches of the general assembly, after passing the necessary measures by which committees were raised and means provided for a state funeral, adjourned out of respect.

Canoeist Probably Drowned

Henniker, N. H., April 23.—The Contoocook river was searched for the body of Theodore S. Watson, a Boston insurance man, who is believed to have been drowned in the rapids of the river while canoeing. Watson's canoe with a hole in the bottom was found lodged on a rock in the middle of the river.

Great Supply of Lobsters

Boston, April 23.—A record breaking consignment of 160,000 lobsters was landed here Thursday by the steamer Boston from Yarmouth, N. S., and shortly after the steamer A. W. Perry delivered about 60,000. These two shipments approximated 270,000 pounds.

Balloon Made Fast Time

Byfield, Mass., April 23.—After having traveled nearly a mile a minute for over two hours at an elevation of around 7000 feet above the earth, the balloon North Adams No. 1, which ascended from North Adams, landed in this town.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is as hard to raise a child as it is to raise a dog and oftentimes quite as satisfactory.

Everybody claims to sympathize with the under dog. Still it is noticeable that he remains just the under dog.

It takes an expert to tell whether a woman means it or not, and after he has told he doesn't know.

Don't find fault; there is no credit to such discovery and no reward out for it.

The man who is worth while makes enemies, but has no time to notice them or worry about them.

Don't hold it up against a man that he is rich. Maybe he can't help it.

It is easier to tell how to do a thing than it is to do it if you don't know anything about either.

Still, we just can't understand why other people can't take us on the basis of what we mean to do.

Least Resistance.

Teach your boy by precept.
Practice is so hard.
'Stead of an example
Bring him up by card.
Tell him that the only
Way to struggle through
Is the way you tell him,
Not the way you do.

Posing as a model
Every blessed day
Isn't easy sledding
Nor exactly play,
But it isn't very
Straining, you'll allow,
Or fatigue inducing
If you tell him how.

And if he depended
For his etiquette
On your daily conduct
He would lose the bet,
But if you will only
Point to him the way
Plain and clear he cannot Greatly go astray.

Being prim and proper,
That the boy may see
Isn't easy going,
As you will agree,
But it is a trifle
Small for any one
To inform the youngster
How it should be done.

Just Her Way.

"How you getting along with Mabel?"

"She never would take me seriously."

"No."

"Gave her a pair of gloves once, and she told me to quit kidding her."

Frank Anyway.

"What would you do if you found $100?"

"Look for the owner."

"To give it to him and receive a reward?"

"No; to dodge."

Enforced.

"He seems to be a level headed fellow."

"Still, he never looks at the moon over his left shoulder."

"Superstitious as that?"

"He is blind in his left eye."

For Safety.

"What is your business?"

"I am a book agent."

"What do you consider the most necessary qualifications in that business?"

"To know how to hypnotize dogs."

Results to Show.

"You look as though you were all in."

"I was in a collision this morning."

"With a street car?"

"No; with my wife's disposition."

Found a Way.

"Had your maid long?"

"Dear me, yes. A year."

"How can you keep a girl so long as that?"

"Because she is no good."

For Others.

"Do you believe in punishment?"

"Sometimes."

"For instance?"

"When I am sure I am not going to be found out."

Modern Millinery.

"What is all of this flurry about?"

"I can't find the waste paper basket."

"Probably one of the girls is wearing it."

Further Along.

"He can paddle his own canoe."

"He can do still better."

"What's that?"

"He can run his own motor boat."

Josephine's Many Names.

Josephine, empress of the French, was Yeyette to her intimate friends. Her name in reality was Marie Josephe Rose. Napoleon after the marriage exacted that she should be known as Josephine. He had a mania for re-baptizing the women of his entourage. He made his sister Marianne an Elise, of Annonciade a Caroline, of Paulette a Pauline.

Among her numerous friends Josephine remained Yeyette. Barras never called her otherwise.

The pope was so unfamiliar with her name that when he sent his benediction the letter borne by his legate was addressed to "Our Sister In Jesus Christ, Victoria Bonaparte."

In 1814, on the departure for Elba, the Debats designated Josephine under the paraphrase "the mother of Prince Eugene."

At Ruell her tomb bears this simple inscription, "A Josephine, Eugene et Hortense, 1825." The restoration did not permit her recognition as empress. —Cri de Paris.

What Was the Matter.

E. A. Sothern once told a dilemma he got into:

"I was acting in a comedy when I had to speak the words, 'What's the matter?' Well, one night I was rather slow about taking my cue and was prompted. I forgot myself for the moment, and when the words came, 'What's the matter?' I thought something or other had occurred out of the common. I paused and looked round. Everything seemed normal, and the stage waited. Then came another 'What's the matter?' from the O. P. side. They were all getting anxious behind the scenes, and so was I, for that matter. I looked myself up and down and then scanned my fellow actor, but for the life of me couldn't see anything wrong. At last an audible whisper came: 'Go on with your lines, you idiot! What's the matter with you?' Then it suddenly dawned on me where I was, but the house had tumbled to the situation and came down in convulsions."—Minneapolis Journal.

The Substitution.

It is a well known fact that both Sir Arthur Sullivan and Sir W. S. Gilbert had a horror of the titles of their operas becoming known until the very night of their performance. This fear that they might be forestalled created considerable confusion at the initial production of "Iolanthe; or The Peer and the Peri." The opera was rehearsed for weeks under the title of "Perola." It was only at the dress rehearsal that the company was instructed to substitute the name "Iolanthe" for that of "Perola" wherever it occurred in the text or lyrics. It was no easy task to replace vocally and in the dialogue a name of three syllables for one of four. Sullivan, however, said (maybe aside) to one or two of the actors who were nervous: "Go ahead and sing the music. Gilbert won't be in front" (Gilbert never attended the first night), "so use any name that you think of first if you are rattled. No one in the audience will be any wiser."—Boston Post.

Young's Impromptu.

To most persons Edward Young is the author of "Night Thoughts" and nothing more, but he was also a man of the world and a shrewd and caustic wit as well as the rector of St. Mary's church at Welwyn.

It was there in the garden of the rectory that he composed some of the best impromptu verses known. He was walking with two ladies when some one summoned him to the house. His companions were agreeable, and he was in no haste to leave them. Turning as he reached the gate, he said:

Thus Adam looked when from the garden driven
And thus disputed orders sent from heaven.
Like him, I go and yet to go am loath;
Like him, I go, for angels drove us both.
Hard was his fate, but mine still more unkind;
His Eve went with him, but mine stays behind.

The Alternative.

"If the window had been eight feet from the ground," pouted the young wife, "instead of eight stories, I'd have thrown myself out when you quarreled with me. Then you'd have had to be sweet to me when you picked me up. A lot of wives attempt suicide, they say, just to be petted when they come to."

"Yes," said he, "but sometimes they don't come to, remember."—New York Press.

"I've been reading about one of them rich men wot's got er suit of clothes for every day in the week," said one tramp to another.

"That's nothin'. So 'ave I. This is it I've got on now!"—London Globe.

His Precaution.

CHANGE OF HEART.

Oh, tailor man,
I'd like you better
If you would let me
Be your debtor,
For it is always
Such a pleasure
When you are fitting
Me to measure!

But when the garment
Has been finished
I find your friendship
Much diminished,
For you insist
Upon the payment
Before you let me
Have the raiment.

But if I can
With much persuading
Secure some credit
In my trading
For payment straightway
You go gunning,
And there is never Ending dunning.

Oh, tailor man,
You want your money
And will not stand
For business funny!
If I am slow,
You kick like thunder,
Though not to shreds
Is worn your plunder.

Accident by Design.

"What do you mean by putting my marriage announcement under the head of death notices?" demanded the angry bridegroom of the shrinking editor.

"Very sorry, sir. We owe you an apology, but the fact is the foreman of the composing room is a married man himself."

Poor Fellow!

"He has dyspepsia."

"What does he take for it?"

"Advice."

Breaking Her In.

"Where is your dolly, Ethel?"

"Over in the corner."

"But you haven't played with her all day. Poor dolly will feel bad."

"Oh, no. We are playing we are married and I am her husband."

Might Conflict.

"What would you say if I were to ask you to marry me?"

"When?"

"Oh, about next fall."

"Excuse me while I look in my date book."

The Octopus.

Watch the tobacco trust's smoke.
Is the oil trust smooth? Is it?
Does the smelter trust sell smelts?
Is the watch trust ahead of its time?
Does the ice trust cut any in summer?

Their Way.

"I see the absconding bank cashier has been captured."

"I thought he was going to evade the police."

"They only got him at a pinch."

Tender Spot.

"How did Lawyer Blank come out in that case he was struggling with?"

"He got knocked out."

"Did it hurt him?"

"Only in his legal education."

As Seasoning.

To live for pleasure is not all
For those who true success would win,
But it's no harm to mix a small Amount of quiet pleasure in.

Looking Ahead.

"What are you studying now, Johnny?"

"The geography of Africa."

"You should pay particular attention to that."

"Why, papa?"

"Some day you may be an ex-president."

NEIGHBORLY WHIST CLUB.

The Neighborly whist club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William T. Donovan of Upland road. Mrs. William McMullen and William Keenan won the first prizes, while the consolation prizes went to Miss Sarah A. Malone and John F. Donovan. After the whist refreshments were served and social hour enjoyed.

Then He Landed.

"Beauty is a woman's most important attribute," said a New York beauty doctor. "She who increases beauty is woman's greatest benefactor. Husbands, brothers, even fathers—in their inmost hearts beauty is the thing they desire most to see in their feminine relations. Only the other day a gray, fat old gentleman entered a newspaper office and said:

"'Are you the managing editor?'

"'Yes,' was the reply.

"'I suppose that on you, then,' said the visitor, 'rests the responsibility for this morning's reference to my daughter Patty as Fatty. Take that!'"

An Ungallant Rascal.

"I suppose," said the angular spinster, "that you never had a romance?"

"Dat's where youse is wrong," replied the unlaundered hobo. "I wunst had a sweetheart wot wuz a dead ringer fer youse."

"And did she die?" asked the angular spinster as she helped him to another hunk of pie.

"No, ma'am," answered the hobo. "When leap year come round she asked me t' marry her—an' I run away from home."—Chicago News.

THAT INVENTORY
WHAT CAME OF A HURRY

By LEAH INGERSOLL.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

The Chamberlains, desiring to spend a longer season than usual in the country on account of Mrs. Chamberlain's health, had decided to rent their town house furnished. The tenants, whom the agent reported to be an old couple, demanded that there be an inventory, stipulating that they would send a man to compare it with the articles before it was signed. Mrs. Chamberlain, being an invalid, was hurried off by her physician, leaving her daughter, Belle, to turn over the premises and take a later train. The tenants had agreed to send a man to make the comparison at 11 o'clock. At 12 he had not appeared. Belle, desiring to leave the city at 4, became impatient. Just as she was about to telephone to the agent an inquiry as to the delay there was a ring at the bell. She opened the door, and there stood a young man. He was about to say something when she forestalled him:

"You're late. There is two hours' work to do. I must leave here at 3."

"Here's the inventory and here's a pencil. As I point out the articles check them. We'll begin with the drawing room."

The man took what she offered him and followed her. Once in the drawing room she began to call off in a businesslike tone: "One rug 8x10, one rug 2x4, one rug 6x5, one piano, one sofa," and so on till she had enumerated every article in the room. Then she started for the next apartment. Before beginning the checking again the young man said:

"Have you ever attended a business college?"

"No. Why do you ask?"

"I never knew a girl so businesslike."

"One easy chair, one lounge, one mahogany desk"—

"I beg pardon! Are you sure that desk is mahogany?" he asked.

"Of course I am."

"I did not understand that the material in the articles was to be specified. Suppose I were to certify that the desk is mahogany and it should turn out to be black walnut?"

"Suppose the tenants," said Belle, with an ominous flash in her eye, "were to send a dunce to compare the list."

"That depends upon what constitutes a dunce. My definition of dunce is one who certifies to that which he doesn't know."

"Do you mean to tell me that you don't know mahogany from black walnut?"

"I question if I could tell mahogany from rosewood."

Belle was rapidly getting out of patience. She glanced at a clock on the mantel.

"Are you quite sure you could tell the difference between a rose and a thistle?"

"Quite sure. I would no more blunder between a thistle and a rose than I would mistake myself for you."

Belle gave him another quick glance—a somewhat different one.

"Are you aware that I have just so much time and no more to get through this work?"

"The more reason why you should not spend it at such a ridiculous task."

"Well, upon my word! Did Mr. and Mrs. Riddleton send you here on this business to spend your time criticising them?"

"It is Mrs. Riddleton who has insisted on this inventory. She is a nervous, fitful, fretful old woman."

Belle stood ready to burst with irritation and indignation.

"Well, I declare!" she said. "What am I to do? An inventory to be compared, and the person sent to compare it thinks he knows more about its necessity than"—

"You wish to leave at 3. It is now 1. Suppose we put the inventory on the floor and walk over it. That will enable me to report to Mrs. Riddleton that we have 'gone over it.' We can then sit down and spend the time from now till 3 in a quiet chat."

Belle was so full of astonishment, not to say contempt, for this method of evading a duty that she could not find words for some time. Then she said:

"You are so clever at inventing subterfuges perhaps you can invent some way to let me out of this business. If asked about the matter I shall tell the truth, you may be sure of that."

"You will not be asked about it, for it shall cease to exist." He threw the inventory into a fire burning on the hearth.

"Upon my word! Did ever any one see such impudence in an"—

"A what?"

"Understrapper."

"Where are the leases?"

"Here on the desk. Father has signed them. The tenant is to sign and forward them."

He went to the desk, took up one of two leases and wrote opposite the seal "Walter B. Riddleton."

"Is it you or I," she said presently, "that has been making a"—

"No fool killer required in this instance, I assure you. I am the lessee. My mother simply lives with me. You were in a hurry and didn't give me time to tell you who I was."

"The agent reported"—

"The agent was mistaken."

They consumed the two hours chatting and eventually spent their lives together.

Railway Employees Have Merry Time At Annual Ball

The hard storm Friday afternoon made it look as though the street railway employes' union would have a stormy night for its seventh annual concert and ball. The weather cleared however in the early evening and by the time the participants were ready to start for Music hall, where the party was to be held it was all that could be desired.

The committees in charge had been at the hall during the greater part of the day getting the decorations in place and completing arrangements so that everything was in readiness by 8 o'clock the hour at which the concert which preceded the dancing commenced.

The floral decorations were unusually elaborate. These were furnished by Edward Arnold the florist, Music hall block. The front of the platform was one mass of potted palms and ferns and behind these Wilson's orchestra was stationed.

In the centre front of the platform was a large floral street car. This was composed of daffodils, pinks, pansies and asparagus vine and was very handsome. On each end of the car was a lay figure representing a conductor and motorman and as the grand march started the car was illuminated by electric lights. This car was also a piece of Mr. Arnold's handiwork.

The special invited guests of the evening included President P. F. Sullivan, General Manager H. E. Reynolds, and Superintendent John Conway of the Old Colony Division. Superintendent Thomas Gammon of the Quincy division, Mayor Shea, President Hobbs of the City Council and the foremen of the several car barns.

Many of these were present and occupied the front row of the balcony from which place they watched the gay scene being enacted on the floor.

From 8 until 9 o'clock Wilson's orchestra gave a concert rendering the following program:

March "Electric" Losey
Overture "Poet and Peasant" Suppe
Concert Waltz "Vienna Tales" Strauss
Duet—Cornet and Trombone "Misere" from "Il Trovatore", Messrs. Crowley and Howard Verdi
Finale "Old Acquaintance" Repp

At 9 o'clock the announcement was made of the grand march and a few minutes later it was in motion. The march while not participated in by as many as usual was a very pretty affair. It was led by Thomas Joyce and Miss Anora McIssacs.

Miss McIsaacs wore a handsome gown of white silk and carried a large bouquet of violets.

Following them came Mayor Shea and Miss Christina McIsaacs. Frank Sampson, the floor director and Mrs. Sampson the other officers of the ball and their ladies.

Owing to the illness of his young son President Walsh of the Association did not take any active part in the march other than to be its director.

Well deserved applause was accorded the marchers as they came down the hall sixteen front.

Although the number in the march as stated above was not as many as usual there was an unusual large number who watched it from the balcony and the seats along the side of the hall.

The march over the ball proper was in motion. The order of 22 numbers contained a number of square dances but it was soon evident that the more modern affairs were the favorites. Every number of these was encored and on nearly every one the orchestra in compliance with the applause gave two encores.

The several numbers were also dedicated the opening being "Welcome to our seventh" and the closing "Welcome to our next."

At midnight there was an intermis-

Washington Concerned Over Americans In Near East

NOTES TO CHRISTIAN NATIONS

England and Russia, Whose Ships and Soldiers Are Near Scene of Massacres and Ready For Active Operations, Depended Upon to Safeguard Lives and Property—Two Cruisers Leave Cuba For Turkish Waters

Washington, April 24.—Realizing the impotency of the Turkish and the Persian governments to adequately safeguard American lives and property in the present disturbed conditions in those countries, the state department has intimated that it will welcome any assistance in this direction from the governments of Great Britain and Russia.

Diplomatic representations having this object in view have already been made to the foreign offices at London and St. Petersburg, whose ships and soldiers are at or near the scene of the masascres and ready for active operations.

At the same time efforts are being made to learn whether the European powers, on whom rests responsibility for an application of reforms undertaken by Turkey in the provinces inhabited by Armenians, according to the Berlin treaty of 1878, have taken steps to check the horrors now being perpetrated against those people.

Inquiries also have been directed to London with a view of learning whether the warships dispatched by the British government to the vicinity of the trouble in Asia Minor will afford adequate protection to all foreigners and intimating that the United States hopes that everything feasible will be done to safeguard human life.

Russia has been told that the United States will have to rely upon her for the humanitairan work of saving our citizens in Persia if their lives are in jeopardy. The latter statement is based on the newspaper reports that a military expedition from that country is about to be sent to the relief of Tabriz.

President Taft is deeply stirred over the reports of atrocities which have reached him regarding the Armenians, and is anxious that no stone be left unturned to afford relief wherever possible.

It is realized that American diplomatic officers in Constantinople and in Teheran have made the demands of this country that our citizens receive the fullest protection possible, but at the same time the officials here know the difficulty in the present disorganized conditions of having these demands fully complied with. For these reasons this government has practically invited the co-operation of other Christian nations of Europe in protecting life and property.

READY FOR BUSINESS

Cruisers North Carolina and Montana on the Way to Turkey

Guantanamo, Cuba, April 24.—The armored cruisers Montana and North Carolina are now on their way to Asiatic Turkey, under orders to proceed as swiftly as possible. They left here looking spick and span and ready for a record-breaking run.

These two cruisers, which are among the swiftest and most formidable of the service, no doubt will be a welcome addition to the warships of other nations now assembling in Turkish waters, and will be quite able to represent American interests in every way. It is expected that they will reach Alexandretta by May 8 at the latest, the distance from Guantanamo being about 5700 miles.

Both ships carry large forces of marines, who can be utilized, if necessary, in helping to preserve order in the disaffected districts.

"WAITING AT THE CHURCH"

Crowd Disappointed at Disappearance of Prospective Bride

Newburgh, N. Y., April 24.—With several hundred guests waiting at St. Patrick's church for the coming of Miss Kitty Maher and Charles L. Keeman to be wedded, it was announced that the wedding had been postponed, as the prospective bride had disappeared.

The groom made a fruitless search for the young woman and learned that she had gone to Brooklyn. The young couple live in Newburgh, Keenan being a railroad man.

Heavy Penalty For Kidnapping

Albany, April 24.—After Sept. 1 next, kidnapping in this state will be punishable by imprisonment for not less than five years, nor more than fifty years, instead of not more than twenty-five years as provided in the present statutes. Governor Hughes has signed a bill providing for the increased penalty.

The Weather

Almanac, Sunday, April 25.

Sun rises—4:48; sets—6:36.

Moon sets—12:24 a. m.

High water—3 a. m.; 3:45 p. m.

The weather will be fair in New England; warmer in west portion.

Avalanches.

There are avalanches of different kinds, but when the term "avalanche" is used it is generally supposed to apply to falls of great bodies of snow or ice, says Mr. Edward Whymper in the London Strand Magazine. One of the first occasions of this kind which attracted attention took place in 1820, upon Mont Blanc, and it is commonly called the Hamel accident. Dr. Hamel, a Russian, set out on Aug. 18 to go up Mont Blanc, accompanied by two Englishmen and eight guides. They had ascended to a height of more than 14,000 feet, with five guides in front, who were cutting or making steps, when all at once the snow above them gave way, and the members of the party were carried down a thousand feet or more over the slopes up which they had toiled. Snow again broke away above and more or less covered them. Some of them struggled out, but three of the leading guides were hurled into a crevasse and buried under an immense mass of snow. The bodies of these men reappeared at the foot of the glacier thirty years afterward.

Two Bits of Wood.

Importance cannot be reduced to a matter of size. The success of a piece of work may depend on a tiny detail. Such is the case in regard to that marvel of construction, the violin. Rev. H. R. Haweis in his "My Musical Life" tells of the care and labor expended on two little pieces of wood which go to make up the perfect whole. The sound bar is a strip of pine wood running obliquely under the left foot of the bridge. A slight mistake in its position, looseness or inequality or roughness of finish will produce that hollow, teeth on edge growl called "wolf." It takes great cunning and a life of practical study to know how long and how thick the sound bar must be and exactly where to place it in each instrument. The sound post is a little pine prop, like a short bit of cedar pencil. It is the soul of the violin, and through it pours all vibrations. Days and weeks are spent in adjusting the tiny sound post. Its position exhausts the patience of the maker and makes the joy or the misery of the player.

Moving on Short Notice.

I was lying on the floor of an old country log house one summer day near a big open fireplace when I heard a peculiar, frightened squeak. I got up to see what looked like a huge mouse moving at a very rapid walk across the room. When I got a closer look I saw that it was a mother mouse moving her whole family. At least I hope there was none left behind, for very soon a small snake, but large enough to put into a panic the mother of four less than half grown children, came through the empty fireplace and after the little fugitive. The mother mouse had two in her mouth, and fastened to either side of her, apparently holding on with their mouths and for "dear life," were the other two. I killed the snake and watched the moving family disappear through a hole in the corner. I do not know whether they returned after awhile or whether the father mouse put up a "To Let" sign and joined them in a foreign country, but I do know that I saved a happy family.—St. Nicholas.

The Creditor's Letter.

Here is an interesting letter received by a well known English tailor in reply to a "final" application for settlement of a long outstanding account: "I have much pleasure in informing you that I have placed you on the list of my creditors, your number on the roll being 103. In view of your name appearing so far down my list and in common fairness to my other creditors who have been on my books now for some considerable time, I am afraid I cannot hold out the slightest hope of the 'early' settlement which you ask for. I think it will be well, therefore, if you discontinue forwarding your frequent 'reminders,' which can do no possible good and which are a constant source of annoyance to me."—London Pick-Me-Up.

A Doubtful Outlook.

"What's the matter, Mrs. Brown?" inquired a neighbor.

"Oh, I don't know what to do!" was the reply. "Bill's away at the football match."

"Well, what about that?" said the other.

"Ah," responded Mrs. Brown, "you don't know Bill! When his side wins he gets on the loose, and when they lose he comes home and whacks me. They've played a draw today, and I'm sure I don't know what he'll do this time!"—London Express.

Variety.

"I can't see why you don't like hotel life," said Mrs. Gramercy. "It relieves a woman of all her cares and gives her so much spare time. Now, honestly, don't you find that home cooking becomes rather monotonous?"

"Not at all," replied Mrs. Park. "Why, my dear, we have a new cook every few weeks."

Fair Offer.

"Can you tell me how to live 100 years?"

The philosopher stroked his beard thoughtfully. "I will try," he said, "if you can give any good reason for wanting to live 100 years."—Philadelphia Record.

NO DANGER.

Although Mr. Hobbs was taken at his face value by his son and heir, there were times when the youthful William's admiring tributes embarrassed his parent in the family group, relates the Youth's Companion.

"I had quite an encounter as I came home tonight," the valorous Mr. Hobbs announced at the tea table. "Two men, slightly intoxicated, were having a quarrel on the corner. As usual, there was no policeman in sight, and they were in a fair way to knock each other's brains out when I stepped between and separate them."

"Weren't you afraid, father?" asked Mrs. Hobbs, in a quavering voice.

"No, indeed, why should I be?" inquired Mr. Hobbs, inflating his chest.

"I guess there isn't anybody could knock any brains out of my father!" said Willie, proudly.

LIONS PROWLING ABOUT

Prospects of Roosevelt Getting Big Game on Kapiti Plans

Kapiti Plains, British East Africa, April 24.—Theodore Roosevelt has reached the hunting grounds and last night spent his first night in Africa under canvas. A big camp has been established near the railroad station here for the Roosevelt expedition, and lions were prowling about in the vicinity of the tents.

The country is green, owing to the recent rains, and there is every prospect of good sport. The commoner varieties of game are plentiful, and the huntsmen will lose no time in getting started on their shooting trips.

The camp established for Roosevelt is most elaborate. The caravan will have a total of 260 followers. There are thirteen tents for the Europeans and their horses and sixty tents for the porters.

Mr. Roosevelt was on the cowcatcher of the engine when the train pulled in from Mombasa, having occupied that position for the seventy-nine miles between Makindu and Kapiti Plains.

IN FIFTEEN-MILE RUN

St. Yves and Shrubb Will Contest Under Glare of Electric Light

New York, April 24.—Finding the indoor long distance running game a little too wearing on the contestants at this season, the promoters of tonight's fifteen mile race between Henri St. Yves, winner of the Marathon Derby, and Alfred Shrubb, the English runner, have made arrangements to have it run outdoors, on the grounds of the local American league baseball team.

The park has been equipped with a lighting system that will make not only the stands, but every inch of the ball field as light as a sunny afternoon. The spectators will see a splendid race unless it rains tonight.

St. Yves holds the British champion in supreme contempt and says he can beat him at a distance from ten to fifty miles. Shrubb is just as confident. A special prize will be hung up by the promoters of the race for a new record. The professional record for the distance is 1 hour 22 minutes and was made by J. Howitt at Islington, March 22, 1852.

PORTUGAL AND SPAIN FEEL EARTH SHOCKS

Populace Terrified by Ground Rising and Falling

Lisbon, April 24.—A series of violent earth shocks occurred here last night and seismic disturbances were felt throughout the whole of Portugal. The populace fled in panic to the streets.

No material damage was done, although the ground rose and fell in wave-like motions; buildings swayed and the walls of a number of old houses were broken. No one was hurt, but in various parts of the city fires broke out and a condition of great alarm prevailed. Several of the broken walls threaten to collapse.

Shakes In Spain

Madrid, April 24.—The seimic disturbances caused a small amount of damage here. After the first shock the people rushed into the streets and for a time there was something of a panic, but the shocks that followed the first consisted merely of a far-away rumbling and a gentle undulatory movement.

Dispatches received from other cities report shocks, but little or no damage.

'PENNSY'S GREAT MEET

Representatives of Many Colleges Are In Attendance

Philadelphia, April 24.—Almost every college and school in the eastern and middle sections of the United States is represented in the great athletic carnival of the University of Pennsylvania taking place today.

The list of institutions with men entered in the games contains 57 colleges and universities, 44 preparatory schools, 48 high schools, 44 grammar schools and 16 parochial schools, a total of 209, by far the largest that has ever been obtained for an athletic meet of this character. Some of the men entered come from as far away as Wisconsin.

PIMLICO RACING BEGINS

Track Followers Who Wish to Bet Can Do So Unmolested

Baltimore, April 24.—The running of the first race on the Pimlico track today is the beginning of the racing season in the east. The Pimlico meet will last until May 12.

Unusual interest attaches this year to the meet. Pimlico is the only track in the United States at which open betting is permitted, and followers of the racing game have come here from all parts of the United States.

Taft Reverses Roosevelt Order

Washington, April 24.—President Taft has ordered that unclassified laborers in the civil service may be assigned incidentally to classified work, but not as part of their main work, where such work can thereby be done more conveniently and economically. This order reverses one by President Roosevelt on March 30, 1905.

Why the Judge Paid.

A physician, says a medical journal that vouches for the truth of the story, was once summoned in haste to attend the child of a family that lived in two rooms in the heart of a large American city—not New York. The child had been seized suddenly and seriously and just at election time. The mother was in despair, and when the doubtful prognosis was given she broke into wailing and violent self condemnation for some horrible sin of the family to which she said the child's illness was due—a direct punishment for their crime. She would go and curse the magistrate for it all, her husband should resign from "the force," and such evil ways should be renounced forever.

Curious to know how the magistrate could be held responsible for the child's illness, the doctor finally secured the confession that the crime of the poor, conscience stricken woman consisted in allowing the names of many fraudulent voters to be registered as residing in her house, in swearing to the lie, etc. The magistrate also had demanded this of all the neighbors in return for indescribable political favors.

The child recovered, and the magistrate paid the physician's bill.

Carrying a Watch.

"After carrying a watch for thirty years I have just learned something new in watch lore," said the city salesman. "I don't know whether this is true or not, but an old watchmaker told me. I bought a watch of him the other day. It was a cheap watch. He said:

"'What pocket are you going to carry your watch in—the right or left?

"I told him the left.

"'Then,' said he, 'I will regulate it for the left.'

"I asked what difference it made, and he declared that a watch runs faster on the left side than on the right, so to keep it from gaining time he regulates it accordingly. In fine watches the difference is hardly worth considering, but in watches of cheap make like mine it is very noticeable. I asked for a scientific reason for this variation. He could give none; said he only knew it was true, and then, whether he was faking or not, he pretended to regulate my watch for the left pocket."—New York Sun.

Chinaware of the Big Hotels.

The only china used at private dinners at the Knickerbocker in New York is the bleue de sevres, which was made in France especially for this hotel, with blue and gold pattern and the monogram of the hotel on the rim of each piece. There are seventy-two pieces to a set, and each piece cost $6. At the Plaza and Astor the cost of each piece is $4 and $5 respectively, and designs are white and gold and plain white with border of asters. Great care has been taken and large expense incurred in obtaining the choicest china for the Waldorf-Astoria. For select private dinners the "crown" set is used, consisting of specimens from the sets of royalty dating from the time of Napoleon to the present. The pattern is a blue and gold border with a picture in the center of each piece of the king and queen to whom that particular piece belonged. The set could not be duplicated for $1,000,000.—Good Housekeeping.

A Dangerous Subject.

Professor Henry Drummond when a boy discovered that he could hypnotize people. At a birthday party a little girl declined to play the piano. Drummond happened to catch her eye and said, "Play." To his surprise she rose at once, went to the piano and played. At another time he hypnotized a boy and gave him a poker for a gun. "Now," said Drummond, "I'm a pheasant. Shoot me." The boy did so, and Drummond fell to keep up the illusion, whereupon the boy, seeing the "bird" move, was about to hit it over the head with the poker. The hypnotizer had just time to stop the magnetized sportsman.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Woman's Smile.

"Strange what a little thing will turn the whole current of a man's life!"

"What's the matter now, Jones?"

"Up to thirty days ago the young lady of my choice was taking my attentions seriously and our marriage seemed a foregone conclusion. Then I met her on the avenue, lifted my hat, made my best bow and dropped through a coal hole. Now she can't keep her face straight a minute while we're together."—Detroit Free Press.

Trouble Ahead.

It was in an electric car coming from Streatham one day last week. The loquacious lady seemed greatly perturbed and fully prepared for the strenuous life.

"Yes, I don't usually go into town at this time of the morning," said she, "but I rang up my husband on the telephone, and I heard him tell the office boy to say that he wasn't in, and that's what I'm going into town for."—London Tatler.

DISCOVERY OF CURE FOR WHITE PLAGUE

To Be Subjected to Severe Test by English Physicians

London, April 24.—Some of the most eminent physicians of England have agreed to make a very severe test of what the discoverer, William Doig, claims is a cure for tuberculosis.

The Doig treatment endeavors to draw the disease from the lungs to the surface, it is said. A ray of inflammation is set up from the surface of the skin to the lung by means of chemical heat. The pus travels to the surface through this ray, which is kept open, and the pus is drawn out until the lung is clear.

REFUGEES PARDONED

Clemency For Men Charged With Complicity In Goebel Murder

Frankfort, Ky., April 24.—Governor Willson has granted pardons to former Governor W. S. Taylor and former Secretary of State Charles Finley, both refugees in Indiana, charged with complicity in the murder of William Goebel in 1900.

GOVERNOR WILLSON.

In addition to the pardons granted to Taylor and Finley, similar pardons are issued to all others remaining under indictment and not yet tried in connection with the Goebel murder.

This leaves Henry E. Youtsey, now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, the only person to suffer for the assassination of Goebel.

BINGHAM VS. WALSH

Welterweight Wrestlers Will Try For Championship Honors

New York, April 24.—A wrestling match of international character will take place in this city tonight, when Will Bingham of London, champion at jiu jitsu and catch-as-catch-can, will wrestle Jim Walsh, champion of New York and the New England states, for the welterweight championship.

The men will compete at the catch-as-catch-can style, two out of three falls to decide the supremacy, a side bet of $500 being at stake. George Bothner, the lightweight champion, will wrestle the winner of the bout.

MARRIED MEN PREFERRED

Difficulty In Filling Jury Box For the Trial of Hains

Flushing, N. Y., April 24.—After five days of grinding work, productive of only seven men in the jury box, the trial of Captain Hains for the murder of William E. Annis was adjourned until Monday by Justice Garretson in the supreme court.

Three hundred and forty-eight talesmen have been examined so far and a new panel of 150 men has been drawn for Monday. There has not been an unmarried man taken as a juror. The preference for men of family has been shared by both sides.

So positively convinced is Counsel McIntyre of his client's insanity that he announced that it was likely he would place Hains on the witness stand early and let the jury judge for themselves of his mental condition.

DEMPSTER WINS HIS SUIT

Judgment of $40,000 Against Mann For Publishing Certain Article

New York, April 24.—The jury in the libel case of Samuel Dempster, a Pittsburg business man, against William D. Mann, of Town Topics, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding a judgment of $40,000.

The suit, which was tried before a jury in the United States circuit court, grew out of the publication of an article in Town Topics which, it was alleged, reflected on the plaintiff.

Students Must Cut Out Side Issues

Utica, N. Y., April 24.—An investigating committee of the faculty of Hamilton college has abolished basketball, the sophomore hop and the freshman frolic, intercollegiate tennis, and will otherwise restrain the too strenuous ones, no matter what their class standing may be.

Death of Peter Collier

New York, April 24.—Peter F. Collier, founder and publisher of Collier's Weekly, died suddenly last night of apoplexy at the Riding club.

For the Ledger.

STATE HOUSE LETTER.

Boston, April 21, 1909.

Taxation reform to a degree not probable in any previous legislature for a time is probable this year. Two measures from the taxation committee this week give much promise. One of them was proposed last December at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Assessors' Association at the Quincy House. It proposes that the day for the annual assessment of taxes be put earlier, so that it will come April 1, instead of May 1. The states to the north of us have April 1, and the way our tax-dodgers work it is to have their domicile in Massachusetts on May 1, for the purposes of the New Hampshire assessors say, so of course they are not liable to assessment up there on April 1. But by the time May 1 gets along in Massachusetts, their domicile is in New Hampshire, and of course their personal property cannot be assessed in Massachusetts. By making the day for assessment here the same as it is to the north us, these men will be caught somewhere. Furthermore, Boston is likely to get taxdodgers who remove out of the city, but not out of the state before May 1, but are here April 1. The Boston assessors have voted unanimously to approve the bill, and they have sent a circular to the legislature saying so and inclosing another circular by the president and secretary of the Massachusetts Assessors' Association approving the change. If that scheme works, they will get millions of taxable property.

But the second proposition is much greater. It grows out of the work of the legislative recess commission two years ago, of which Prof. Charles J. Bullock of Harvard was the expert statistical member, and it is an effort to get the $1,500,000,000 more or less of personal property in the state which is guessed to escape taxation. Precedent is found in other states, and it is proposed to levy a so-called three mill tax, or $3 on $1,000 on this sort of personal property. It works well in some states and has brought on the lists hundreds of millions otherwise elusive of the assessors. The fact is proved to be that many men are willing to pay their fair share of taxes, but our present law which taxes double an immense quantity of foreign corporation stocks is simply so intolerable, as these men see it, that they will not stand it, and the assessors are not sharp enough to find their property. When a conservative stock is yielding 4, or 4 1-2, or 5 per cent ,and the tax takes off at a slice 1 1-2 per cent. as it does, reducing a 4 per cent, stock to 2 1-2, most holders refuse to see the justice. But this proposition of taking off only one-fifth as much will permit many men to face the assessor and tell what they really have. Very likely the assessors will oppose the bill, for, on its face, it is a compromise which abandons an essential point. But the fact is that similar propositions in other states have brought much relief and have materially helped the situation. Every expedient has been tried in this state only to fail, and now the taxation committee believes it is time for something else. Hence it has reported the constitutional amendment which will permit the proposed law. It strikes out the requirement that taxation must be proportional and empowers the General Court to make laws which are reasonable for the purpose.

Another report of the week is of high importance to all the citizens,—that of the committee on education for a reorganization of the state board. Nominally there is only one dissenter, Mr. Mellen of Worcester. But Messrs. Gardner of Westfield, Barry of Chicopee and Senator Evans are not in favor of the plan and have reserved their right to dissent. Nominally the bill concedes the control of the situation to the present state board of education, for it says that four members of the present board shall be appointed on the new board, one member of the industrial commission, and four new persons from outside. But really the bill makes possible and almost certain a complete revolution in the policy of the state, and such would doubtless be the consequence if the bill should pass. Gov. Draper is a very pronounced advocate of industrial education as distinct from the so-called broad culture which the state has made the basis of specializing. Here is how the bill would work out in practice under a governor committed to that idea. One member of the industrial commission, as the bill provides, plus the four new outsiders to be appointed, with Frederick P. Fish, one of the present members of the board who is strongly on the industrial side, would make a practical standing of the proposed new board of six industrials to three broad culture men, or a working majority of two to one. That would insure, a radical departure from the policy of the state and would amount to a formed condemnation by the legislature of the recent educational history of Massachusetts, in spite of the fact that Secretary Martin, the executive officer of the board, is friendly to industrial development, side by side with the broad culture and he was the man who proposed the industrial commission to Gov. Douglass, whose creation seems to be worked for the overthrow of the state board of education itself. So queerly do forces operate in this topsy turvy world.

For the first time, this week there has been a debate and vote on one of the many proposed amendments of the Sunday observance law, and it went in favor of the relaxation by 82 yeas to 43 nays. The bill voted upon provides that ice cream, soda water, confectionery and fruit may be sold on the Lord's day. The only article new on the list is fruit. The others have been sold since 1902 by authority of the law, by common victuallers, licensed innholders and druggists. It was said as one reason for granting the wider right that regular dealers in these articles, in order to get the advantage of the law, set up a little cook stove with apparatus for serving meals and so came under the common victuallers' head. One of the arguments for the bill was that Rev. Herbert Johnson of Boston, a member of the Sabbath Protective League, favored it. The argument against the bill did not turn upon any special regard for the sacred character of the day, which would be violated by any form of commercial business, but it was put upon the ground that such extra Sunday work would be an injury to the persons who were required to do such additional work on Sunday and therefore they ought to be saved from the necessity. The bill has had only one voting stage in the House and has yet to finish the passage of the House and go to the Senate and governor before it will become law.

This afternoon, for the second time this year, the House has acted like boys in dropping the public business in order to go to a base ball game. The Senate met the emergency by beginning its session at 12.30 so as to be through in time for the game. The House held its usual forenoon session and stayed till about 2.30 trying to get a quorum in the afternoon. But it would muster only 103, when 121 were necessary, and so they adjourned. They did not put the absentees on record by roll call, or send the sergeant-at-arms to the ball ground to bring the absentees back, because it would have seemed to be mean business, would have exposed the mover to constant efforts during the remainder of the session to pay him back by defeating everything he wanted, and would have led to so many reconsiderations that little time would have been gained.

Gov. Draper's special message to the legislature this forenoon, recommending the formation of a peculiar corporation to buy and hold the Boston and Maine railroad stock now held outside of the state, is the most remarkable step of the kind ever taken in the legislature and is without precedent. It would seem, at first sight, to show that the situation is far more critical than the average citizen had supposed, and that there was not such absolute cocksureness of the soundness and strength of the anti-merger position as has been assumed for the last three years that the matter has been an acute issue. This is a thing which will be watched closely.

State Forester Rane wants $150,000 for the gypsy moth work this year, including $15,000 for parasites, and he has put his case before the committee on agriculture today. The real hope of relief is in parasites, but much money must be spent to save us from being eaten alive while the parasites are growing and becoming acclimated.

Rule.

LORD ROBERT'S HORSESHOES.

A man more absolutely governed by pure reason than Lord Macaulay could not well be found, but in his diary, he refers to an after dinner talk about the feeling which Johnson had—of thinking oneself bound to touch a particular rail or post and to tread in the middle of a paving stone, and he adds: "I certainly have this very strongly." In one of his Hibbert lectures Max Muller said to the students: "Many of you, I suspect, carry a ha'penny with a hole in it for luck. I am not ashamed to own that I have done so myself for many years." Charles Dickens refused to lie down unless his bed was placed due north and south. He gave notice of the rule before arriving at a friend's house or a hotel, but a compass was always handy in his baggage to make sure. Mrs. Justin McCarthy has told how Parnell gravely checked her stirring coffee "the wrong way" and insisted that she should take another cup. A gentleman of Portrush sent Lord Roberts an old horseshoe when things looked ill in South Africa. Gratefully acknowledge it, the general added that he would keep this horseshoe in company with one picked up the day I entered the Orange Free State and another I found at Paardeburg the day before General Cronje surrendered."—Pall Mall Gazette.

ALL IN THE BRAND.

Prosecutor Scovel of Camden tells a story which he says happened at Goose Egg Cove, on the New Jersey side of Delaware Bay.

Last summer among the crowd was one Camden county man who had drunk too much Salem county applejack. He made himself obnoxious by going to the men as they were with their womenfolk and shaking his fist under their noses, saying: "I can lick you. Come on out and fight." No one would fight, because he was evidently drunk.

Finally an inoffensive little family man, standing with a group, jumped into him and beat him into submission. When he was finally allowed to get up ,the Camden man struggled to his feet and, looking around at the crowd which had gathered, said defiantly:—

"Me and this little feller can lick any man on the beach."—Philadelphia Times.

Weak? Tired? Run-down?

These conditions come from overwork, a weak stomach, overtaxed nerves or feeble blood. When you feel "all in"—hardly able to drag about, no energy, no ambition, easily exhausted and can't sleep—take and note what a difference they make in your condition. The stomach is the first to feel the good effects. Food tastes good, the digestion is strengthened; bowels and bile work regularly, the blood is cleansed, and the nerves rested. The whole system responds to the tonic action of Beecham's Pills. Soon there is the buoyant feeling of returning health,

BEECHAM'S PILLS

J. T. CONWAY, Supt.

AN ORIGINAL LOVE AFFAIR.

By LUCY MAY SAWIN.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Eben Storm for a time worked his farm without the aid of any woman. "They're dreadful onsarten creatures," he said. "Y' can't calc'late jist what they're goin' to do. Most o' my friends as hes gone into matrimony hes had trouble from the time they married and wished they was out of it. There's Joe Biglow fit with his'n and livin' a cat and dog life, Tom Tinker divorced, Bill Andrews drev to drink. The wimmin don't show their real selves till after the ceremony. I don't intend to put myself where they kin get at me."

But as his farm lands and crops and stock increased he felt the need of women's help. He no longer had time to do the cooking or the washing or milking, and he took in a housekeeper, the ugliest and oldest he could find. It was not long before he had others. Since he had made a break he might as well rely on his resolution to protect him and took in several maids, one of whom—Mary Baker—was quite pretty. When Mary came he felt that she had brought danger, but considered himself equal to the task of keeping out of her toils.

One winter morning something happened. Mary was going out to do her milking; he, walking directly behind her, to feed the stock. Mary slipped on a bit of ice and fell right into his arms. He turned her face up toward his and kissed her. Then he pushed her away. Mary blushed and went on.

It had all come about so quickly that he couldn't understand how he had done such a thing. He didn't look at Mary all that day, and when she asked him what she should "do with the black and white cow, she kicked so," he turned away without answering her.

A few days later Mary was brought into the house badly injured by a kick from the black and white cow. Eben scolded her for not having taken precautions against such a result, intimating that if she had told him the cow kicked he would have milked her himself. Mary made no reply to this. Perhaps she knew with woman's intuition that he was not scolding her, but himself. Perhaps she felt aggrieved at his unjust treatment. He didn't go near her while she was recovering.

Next a fractious bull gored Eben and came pretty near killing him. Mary asked him if she could do anything for him. He said "No" very shortly, but when she went away called her back and told her she might put a pillow under him. She did most of the nursing till he was out of danger, then ceased her visits to him. He called for her and asked if she was so inhuman as to let him die all alone when every one on the farm was busy. She made no reply to the question, but asked him what he wanted. He mentioned several things, which she got for him, then left him again. This irritated him, and he called her back.

"Mary," he said gruffly, "what did you slip for the other day—a-purpose?"

Mary walked out of the room with her nose in the air.

He recovered slowly and, all the while having nothing at all to do but think, thought of what was on his mind—Mary. He was sure she was trying to marry him, but he was losing the power to protect himself against her. When he got well he went to her when she was churning and said:

"Mary, I suppose you want a home. Most women do. I don't want to disappoint you. Will you marry me?"

"No, I won't," she said angrily.

She went on pounding the churn, and he went away astonished.

Nothing occurred in this peculiar courtship for several days, when he met her coming from the barn.

"Hev you thought better of it?" he asked.

"Of what?"

"Marryin' me."

"You don't want to git married," she said.

"Waal," he replied musingly, "I don't know as I do."

This made Mary furious. "I'm goin' when my month's up," she said.

"Goin'?"

"Yes. You'd better git another girl."

This knocked the bottom out of Eben's theory that Mary had been trying to marry him. But he didn't give it up entirely till he learned from a neighboring farmer that she had asked him if he wanted help. Nevertheless he was puzzled. He thought that if he could do something to convince Mary that he loved her she would yield. He finally hit on a plan.

The Weekly Eagle came out Saturday morning. One Saturday afternoon when Mary, dressed for a half holiday, started to go out she saw all the occupants of the farm gathered about her employer shaking him enthusiastically by the hand. Several were reading the Eagle over the holder's shoulders.

"La' sakes," exclaimed Mary, "what's the matter?"

A faint terror seized her that something important had occurred to her singular lover that might affect her interest in him. All rushed to her, holding out the paper and pointing to an item in it. She read:

Our fellow citizen Eben Storm permits us to announce his engagement to Mary Baker. This removes from our bachelors the best catch in the county. We congratulate him on his approaching nuptials.

Mary looked at him with fire in her eye. Then, suddenly breaking into a smile, she said:

"You silly gawk!"

There was another editorial in the Eagle when they were married.

T. R. the mighty hunter and incidently ex-President of the United States is at last encamped on the hunting grounds of Africa. Now for the quick downfall of Leo and all the other mighty beasts of the desert.

The Lynn Item says "the house fly is not yet a burden, but it soon will be as the weather becomes warmer, and the nasty little insect comes out of winter quarters and begins its warfare on humanity." Everyone knows this, but how shall we exterminate the little pests. If the Lynn Item can answer this satisfactorily, it will be doing a great benefit to humanity.

There are those who say that 16 cents a foot is an exorbitant price for the low land wanted for a play ground for the Coddington school. There is land with good street frontage in that vicinity that does not sell for any where near that price. The lot would have to be filled in to be sanitary and suitable for a playground for children.

Big hats are at present taking up the time of Illinois Legislation, and likewise the ladies of the state. The reason for this is that big hats and those ornamented with the skins or bodies of "birds or reptiles or insects" are prohibited under heavy penalties in a bill introduced in the house by Rep. Hilton.

The bill provides that it shall be unlawful to sell or to expose for sale any hat more than 18 inches in diameter or with plume, aigrette, pin or other ornament projecteing more than six inches beyond the rim ,or bearing the dead body or stuffed skin of a bird, lizard or other animal, reptile or insect subject to decay and likely to become a breeding place for germs.

The bill provides that it shall be unlawful vent the display of freakish types and models for the purpose of education or amusement. Wearing hats contrary to the statute is prohibited in public places or thoroughfares. The penalties are from $100 to $200.

If the bill passes no more merry widows or peach baskets for the ladies of Illinois.

RESIGNATION REQUESTED.

Mayor Shea Sends Notice to J. Winthrop Pratt.

J. Winthrop Pratt one of the Board of Assessors has been requested by Mayor Shea to hand in his resignation. Mr. Pratt informed the Ledger this noon that the request for his resignation came Friday in the form of a registered letter.

Mr. Pratt said that he did not care to say anything for publication at the present time other than he did not intend to resign as he had been requested.

Mr. Pratt was appointed by Mayor Thompson for three years and his term of office expires in February 1910.

THE HIGHFLIER.

The new show of the Pi Eta society of Harvard, "The Highflier," written by Henry B. Sheahan '09 of this city, and Allen S. Olmstead '09 also well known here, promises to make a sensation. At the graduate's night, last Friday, the show made the biggest hit for years. The lyrics and music were declared to be the best ever presented by any Harvard undergraduate show. The famous song "Amble with me in my Aeroplane" will probably go on the professional stage. ""The Highflier" is distinctly a Quincy show, as Mr. Sheahan is a well known Quincy man, and Mr. Olmsted has many friends here, Mr. W. P. Owen the heroine, and designer of the scenario, formerly lived in Quincy. Mr. F. Morton Smith '09 of Quincy is the stage manager.

MINSTREL SHOW AT HOUGHS NECK

Associates and Ladies Give Clever Play

All roads at Houghs Neck leadto the Palms where the Houghs Neck Associates held their second annual minstrel show, last night. The big theatre was crowded to the limit and many were forced to stand up. The performance was the first night one, held exclusively for the residents of the beach. Tonight the show will be witnessed by nearly all out of towners. The Dorchester Catholic club have chartered three special cars to bring their members, returning the compliment of the Associates who travelled to Dorchester this year to their show.

The show is under the direction of Henry W. French, who can honestly feel proud of his efforts as they were not profitless. Miss Florence L. Brown was the musical director, while Addison R. Hammond made a fine interlocutor. The ends were George O'Brien, Clement R. Rose, Charles O'Brien, John R. S. Ross, Frank Catarius, Clara Catarius, Lillian Towne, Lottie French, Edna Catarius and Alice Stewart.

In the circle were John Mahan, Bertram Brown, Leo Noonan, Hiram Darrow, H. Hutchinson, A. Medros, Joel Osterman, George Pennington, Elmer Piper, William P. Taylor, Abel Brown, George Ferris, Josephine Taylor, Lillian Stackpole, Mrs. J. Osterman, Mrs. Hiram Darrow, Mrs. Archie Baird, Mrs. George McEwan, Mrs. Slaunwhite, Mrs. Henry W. Thorne, Mrs. Frank O. Curtis, Lucy Noonan, Harriet Baird, Annie Morey, Louise McEwan, Agnes Coughlan, Mrs. P. F. O'Brien, Theresa Slaunwhite, Mrs. Leonard and Fred Noonan.

The program was as follows. Opening chorus by the entire circle, Saturday Boys; William Acorn, Martin Delaney, Fred Baird, Stewart Baird, W. Wallace Coughlin, Norman Saylor and Francis Noonan; Bathing Girls, Augusta LaBrecque, Odille LaBrecque, the Misses Piper, Irene Harvey, Sylvia Tessier and Margaret Cavanagh; Sylvia, Maud Brown and Unice Brown Sailor Girls; Lucy Noonan, Agnes Coughlan, Theresa Slaunwhite, Harriet Baird and Louise McEwan; Let's Go Home, Margaret Maloney, Charles Walthars; Soldiers, Hiram Darrow, Bertram William P. Taylor, H. Hutchson, John Mahan, George Pennington and Leo Noonan.

The ten ends were perfect and about the liveliest bunch of humans that ever tread across an amateur stage. Each were encored two and three times. About the funniest specialty was the stump speech delivered by Charles F. Cook. The main portion of the program was as follows: End song, "I rather be a minstrel man than a multimillionaire" Frank Catarius, end song, "Beautiful Eyes," Alice Stewart, end song, "Strawberries" John R. S. Ross assisted by "Ab" Brown and Leo Noonan who did a buck and wing dance, Topical song by the five girl ends, end song, "Never No More," Clement R. Ross, end song, "Bullfrog and Coon" Lottie French, solo, "Be Good , Elsie Cooper, Ballad, "Roses" Fred Miles, solo, "Roses of my life' Stewart Mullin, solo, "Meet me in Rose time Rosie," Wallace Higgins, end song, "Ada My Sweet Potato" Charles O'Brien, ballad, "I wish I had a girl" William Acorn, boy soprano, end song, "Lovey" Lillian Towne, end song, Dusky "Salome Clara Catarius, end song, "Pay More Attention to Me," George O'Brien assisted by George Ferris.

The grand finale was very good the entire company singing manp naair. Many clever formations were made by the soldiers and the nation girls.

NOTICE
—TO—Milk Dealers

Attention of Milk Dealers is hereby called to an extract from Ordinance No. 21, Section 3:—

"Every person who conveys milk in carriages or otherwise, for the purpose of selling the same in the city, shall annually, in the month of May be licensed by the inspector in accordance with the provisions and subject to the penalties of the Public Statutes, to sell milk within the limits of the city, and shall pay the inspector fifty cents to the use of the city.

Every person who sells milk, or offers it for sale, in any store, booth, stand or market place in the city shall register in the books of the inspector and shall pay him fifty cents to the use of the city."

Persons desiring a license may fill out and sign application blanks and deposit the fee of fifty cents at the Board of Health Office, City Hall.

SKULL CRUSHED IN BY TRAIN

Domestic Instantly Killed Near Wollaston Station

While crossing the tracks of the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad near the Wollaston station at 7.25 Friday evening, Fennie Lenoean, employed as a domestic at 8 Berlin street, Wollaston, was struck and instantly killed by an express train leaving Boston at 7.13 and due at Braintree at 73.4.

Miss Lenoean in company with Lenie Rene, who is employed in the same capacity at 4 Berlin street, were crossing the track, going from the steps at the Boston end of the platform toward the stores.

The local train, scheduled to leave Wollaston at 7.21 and due in Boston at 7.38 which was about three minutes late had just pulled out of Wollaston.

The women crossed in the rear of this train which accounts for their not having seen the express.

Miss Rene just got across safely when she saw the express but before she could warn her companion the express had hit Miss Lenoean.

The body was thrown about six yards and was lifeless when picked up, the only mark being a gash in the head.

The body was taken to the depot until Dr. Jones of Quincy, medical examiner arrived when it was transferred to Fay's undertaking rooms on Newport avenue.

The express train was in charge of Conductor Martin McGurn of Braintree.

Ernest Kiesewetter, an eye-witness of the accident, when interviewed by a Ledger reporter on Friday evening at his home at 13 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston said, "I had just got off of the 7.21 and after it had pulled out of the station I started to cross the tracks behind these two women."

"I saw the express train coming and shouted. The foremost woman and got across when she saw the express and threw up her arms as if she was going back to help her companion."

"But she was too late and the express struck the woman she was with before either of us could do anything."

"They probably didn't hear me shout until after it was too late."

THE
YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ATSOCIATION OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class o. classes, the Boys' Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL
(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)
Incorporated 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000 but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.

Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams Street, Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

BRIEFS

Rev. Henry Megathlin of Wollaston preaches at the Point church on Sunday evening.

A fine group picture of the men participating in the "Highflier," to be given at Music hall next week by the Pi Eta society of Harvard, will be found on an inside page.

This morning the Makaria A. C. played the School Street A. C. and defeated them 7 to 6 in an eleven inning game. Head, Barsell and O' Donald played the best.

The Wollaston Cooperative bank has issued its twentieth annual report which shows a most properous condition. Starting with assets of $1,005 the bank now has a showing of $568,249.

Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander of the Cambridge Theological school preaches at the 10.30 service at St. Chrysostom's church Sunday morning and the venerable Samuel G. Babcock, Archdeacon of the Diocese at the 4.30 P. M. service.

The Tuberculosis Relief Committee will meet at the home of Frederick W. Plummer, Greenleaf street, Monday at 3 o'clock. The proceeds of the Bertha Cushing Child concert were $58.00 which sum has been divided between the Hospital Aid Association and the Tuberculosis Relief Committee.

The Quincy Council Knights of Columbus have a treat in store for them tomorrow afternoon, when Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, ex-mayor of Boston, will address the members. The talk will be given in Colonial hall at 3 o'clock and it is expected that the hall will be filled, for the doughty ex-mayor's ability as a speaker is well known.

The Washington Social club held its regular weekly whist party last night at the clubhouse on Washington street. These parties have proved to be a great success this season and it is the intention of the club to run a series every winter in the future.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Bissett of South Quincy in the loss of their little one. Ill but a week her pure little spirit fled with the ebbing of the day Thursday. Funeral services were held from the home of her parents, 21 Caledonian avenue, this afternoon. Interment at Mt. Wollaston.

MRS. WILLIAM A. OSBORNE.

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Jane A. Osborne, widow of William A. Osborne, who died at the home of her son, at Hyannis, Mass., April 15, were held at St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston, Saturday, at 11 A. M. The Rev. Carlton P. Mills of Winchester, formerly rector of St. Chrysostom's and the Rev. A. Edwin Clattenburg, present rector conducted the services.

There were many beautiful flowers, as Mrs. Osborne had lived in Wollaston for over twenty-five years, and was loved by all who knew her.

The music, beautiful in itself, was doubly so because rendered by two dear friends, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, at the organ, and Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade, who sang "Abide With Me," and "Lead Kindly Light."

Mrs. Osborne was 74 years old and was the daughter of the late Rev. John C. Fifield. She leaves a son, William A. Osborne of Hyannis, a daughter, Mrs. George P. Keith of Hudson, Mass., a granddaughter, Grace Osborne Parks of Denver, Colorado, and a sister, Mrs. Samuel F. Howard of Wollaston. The burial was at South Hanson, Mass.

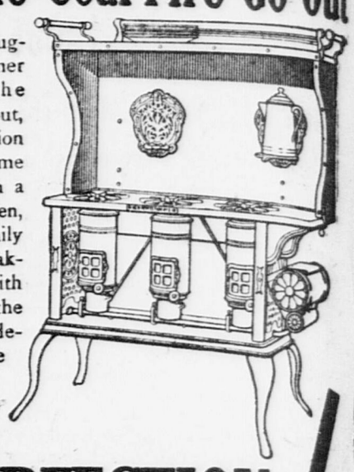

TO APPEAR IN QUINCY.

Arthur Foote, the composer and pianist, who is to appear in concert in Quincy, received much deserved praise in a recent press notice of the Symphony orchestra in the Boston Transcript, which says in part: After the overture followed for a first performance in any concert, Mr. Foote's new suite for strings, and the audience justly took such joy of it that it twice called the composer to his feet from his modest place in the hall. The applause was deserved return for the pleasure the fine-spirited and finely written music had given; but it seemed no less as deserved recognition of the honorable and diligent place Mr. Foote has occupied these many years, and still holds, in the musical life of Boston. It is long since a new piece by him has been played at the Symphony Concerts, and the audience was quick to seize the opportunity to compliment the composer."

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

$4.00

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

Oldtown Lady's Experience Convincing

Mrs. C. E. Babcock, for several years a resident of Dexter, but who now lives in Oldtown, makes the following statement for publication regarding her experience with Kickapoo Sagwa, which is now being sold in all drug stores in Quincy, and surrounding villages.

"While a resident of Dexter, Me., 15 years ago, I was troubled with stomach disease—could eat nothing but white of egg and whiskey . I tried all of the doctors in town, none of whom could do me any good . My attention was called to Kickapoo Sagwa ,and I found relief after the first bottle. However, I continued taking it for a length of time, resulting in my stomach being cured completely and no return of the trouble since. It is my desire to tell others of my cure and prevent suffering, and I would gladly do so to any one who desires to interview me. I also authorize the Kickapoo Medicine Co. to publish my testimonial as they may desire. Mrs. C. E. Babcock, Academy Hill, No. 2 Centre St."

The above testimonial—only one of many we have from reputable people living in Bangor and surrounding villages who have been cured by using Sagwa, should convince any one suffering with stomach or liver disease that Sagwa will cure. However, if you are suffering with a diseased stomach, or liver, and have any doubt about Sagwa curing you, we ask you to go to any druggist and purchase a bottle of Sagwa. If you can honestly say that you did not receive any benefit from it after you have used the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you. We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you. We know that Sagwa will cure diseases of the stomach and liver. If you wish to test Sagwa before purchasing, call on our representative at E. J. Murphy's Drug Store and he will give you free a trial bottle. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn .

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of and pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Thomas McGrath and Catherine McGrath, his wife, in her right, to Mary A. Timberlake, dated November 7, 1881, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 532, Page 503, which mortgage has been assigned by said Mary A. Timberlake to Philip F. McGrath by assignment dated March 3, 1894, and recorded with said Deeds, Book 709, Page 137, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on MONDAY, the seventeenth day of May, 1909, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and described as follows, to wit:

A certain lot of land with all the buildings thereon situated near the Westerly side of Willard Street, in the Westerly part of said Quincy, and bounded and described as follows, viz: Easterly by a driftway, one hundred (100) feet; Northerly on land formerly owned by Samuel Ela, about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet; Westerly by an old stone wall about eighty-two (82) feet; and Southerly on land formerly owned by said Ela, about two hundred and ten (210) feet. Containing eighteen thousand two hundred and ninety-one (18,291) square feet. With the right to the free use of the well of water on the Southerly side near said premises. Also one other small strip of land, nearly triangular in shape and adjoining the above described premises in said Quincy, bounded as follows, viz:—Easterly about thirteen and one half (13 1-2) feet on the track of the Quincy Granite Railway Company; then Southwesterly and running Northwesterly on land of one Nutting or by whom now owned, about one hundred and twelve (112)) feet to a stone post in the wall, and to land of C. F. Adams, here turning an angle and bounded Northeasterly by land first herein described, and partly on land of one Keenan, to the point of beginning, containing seven hundred and thirty-six square feet, more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to said Catherine McGrath by R. Augustus Duggan, administrator of the estate of George W. Tarbox, by deed of even date and recorded with said mortgage.

Said premises will be sold subject to any existing restrictions of record, all unpaid taxes, tax titles and municipal assessments, if any. Terms at sale.

RECITAL A SUCCESS.

In spite of the unfavorable weather Wednesday evening, Colonial hall was filled with a large and enthusiastic audience. The occasion was the Grand Opera Recital given by several members of the Quincy Choral Society and their friends.

The program was opened with piano duets consisting of Beethoven Polonaise and Minuet by Bizet executed very brilliantly by Misses Carruthers and Dahlberg.

The celebrated Cavatina from the Barbiere di Siviglia, "Largo al factotum" was sung by Mr. Barraja-Frauenfelder, and was given with so much spirit and ease of execution, that it called forth a very spontaneous applause. Mr. Barraja-Frauenfelder followed with a "Madrigal" written by his brother Henry, a very delicate and charming composition. The accompanist was Miss Edith Randall who deserves great praise for the cleverness and the technical perfection of her execution.

Mr. Lawrence Fjelbeck then gave a violin selection from Der Freischutz assisted at the piano by Mrs. Merrill. Mr. Fjelbeck played admirably, and was ably supported by Mrs. Merrill.

Miss Bertha Carlson's rendering of the Ave Maria adapted from Mascagni's Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana, was enthusiastically received by the audience. The violin obligato was played by Mr. Fjelbeck with very much taste and feeling.

Miss Carrie Follett Spear's interpretation of the aria from the Marriage of Figaro, "Voi che sapete" was also warmly received.

Mr. Fjelbeck again appeared in a violin selection from Il Trovatore and Mr. Barraja-Frauenfelder closed the program with the soldier's song from the same opera. Mr. Barraja-Frauenfelder was recalled and responded with "The heart bow'd down" from the Bohemian Girl.

It was expected that Mrs. Edith Cary Page would appear, but much to the disappointment of the audience she was not present.

Mr. Wendell Luce was to have assisted Miss Spear, but was called out of town at the last moment and Miss Edith Randall very kindly substituted at the piano.

Much praise is to be given to the members of the Quincy Choral society who gave their friends such a delightful evening.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Most Quincy People have a Weak Part And Too Often It's The Back.

Everyone has a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.
Tells you the kidneys need help—
For backache is really kidney-ache.
A kidney cure is what you need.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys,
Cure back ache and all urinary ills.
Quincy people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. F. Olsen, living at 197 Whitwell street, Quincy, Mass., says: "For some time my back was weak and gave me a great deal of trouble. I could not sit up in a chair no more than a few minutes at a time without having severe pains in my loins. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells and at times was very nervous. I was becoming disocuraged when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store, began their use, and received immediate relief. I did not expect to be speedily cured as my condition was so serious, but I can say that the results could not have been more satisfactory. In a few weeks' time my health was restored and I felt better generally. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly have my highest endorsement."

EDWARD J. MURPHY, Druggist

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

To the Editor of the Ledger:

It is always a good policy when discussing matters of public record to state facts. The letter of Councilman McDevitt in last night's Ledger, in which he says the Boston Globe of the evenin of April 14 was wrong in an item concerning an examination of the city pay rolls by the city treasurer and which he says has a tendency to belittle him before the public calls for a reply, although it is not generally the custom for a newspaper man to answer criticisms made on the manner in which he presents news items in his paper.

In the first place there was no item concerning Councilman McDevitt in any way or manner in the Globe of the evening of April 14. If he means the Globe of April 21, I will admit the fact but what was said in that item was simply a statement of fact. This item said that City Treasurer Curtis examined the pay rolls of the city laborers Wednesday morning in view of the fact that Councilman McDevitt had said at a meeting of the council the night before that two-thirds of the city laborers were getting $1.75 a day. This statement was absolutely correct. The second statement was that the city treasurer found 22 men out of 164 getting $1.75 a day. This, also, was correct. If these two facts had a tendency to belittle the councilman it certainly was not the fault of the paper that printed the facts.

The subject which caused the discussion was a resolve introduced into the council by Mr. McDevitt of Ward 4. His resolve read that the mayor be requested to furnish in writing the names of "all employes" who, during the month of March and the first two weeks in April, received less than $2 a day. In explaining the purpose of his resolve Councilman McDevitt said he knew that two-thirds of the city ployes had been getting $1.75 a day. In defence of his position, Councilman McDevitt challenged Councilman Bryant to go to the city treasurer's office and examine the pay rolls and offered to resign his seat in the council if the books proved him wrong, provided Councilman Bryant would resign if Mr. McDevitt was proved to be right.

Presumably Mr. McDevitt was speaking to his order and as this order embraced a period covering March and two weeks of April, it seems a little far fetched for him to quote last year's pay rolls as he did in the Ledger last night to prove that his order covering March and part of April of this year was correct. When one makes a statement that two-thirds of the city employes are getting under $2 a day and tries to prove it by singling out a street here and there where a majority of the men on that street were getting less than $2 a day last year, it is a new way of maintaining a logical position. It is a fairly well defined principle of logic that correct conclusions cannot be drawn from false premises.

ARE FAITHFUL TO THE SULTAN

Constantinople Army Corps Will Not Uphold Constitution

CIVIL WAR SEEMS INEVITABLE

Leader of Constitutional Troops Strengthening His Army While Allowing Abdul Hamid to Remain Upon Throne to Lull All Parties Into Tranquility—Ruler Faces His Subjects With Remarkable Calmness

London, April 24.—"I saluted the sultan with great respect. He was the only person showing perfect calm; the others were very nervous."

The foregoing is the comment of an Englishman who witnessed the Selamlik ceremony and points in a word to what appears to be the pivot of the bewildering situation at Constantinople. The history of the latest phase of the crisis is about as follows:

Nazim Pasha, commander of the Constantinople army corps, visited San Stefano Friday morning and reported to Mahmoud Schefket Pasha, in command of the Constitutionalist troops, that a considerable body of the garrison was still faithful to the sultan and refused to take the oath to uphold the constitution; that this fact and the sentiments of the populace itself would, in certain circumstances, render bloodshed extremely probable.

Nazim Pasha's report, with the fears spread by the fanaticism in the provinces, appears to have decided Schefket Pasha to take the prudent course of retaining the sultan on the throne to avoid civil war and in the meantime to strengthen his army.

On the other hand, the army of occupation is clearly advancing upon the capital and a significant dispatch from Contantinople says:

"The advance upon Pera and the coast appears to have been begun. Suspicion is current that today's events and announcement were merely feints intended to lull all parties into tranquility. It is believed action against the Yildiz Kiosk may perhaps be taken today."

A special dispatch from Saloniki declares that after a consultation between Schefket Pasha and the assembly with Mohammed Rechad Effendi, heir apparent to the throne, it was decided to demand that the Sheik ul Islam, head of the Mohammedan church, must proclaim Mohammed Rechad Effendi sultan. The dispatch adds that an assault on the Yildiz Kiosk was arranged to take place at midnight.

These reports cannot, of course, be confirmed, and the only thing that comes with any distinctness out of the perplexing situation is the fact that the sultan, who has not a reputation for personal courage, faced his subjects at Friday's Selamlik with a calmness that betokened the conviction that the throne was still unshaken.

HAD LACES AND RINGS

Two Alleged Smugglers Indicted by New York Grand Jury

New York, April 24.—Maurice Barnier, second officer of the French liner La Savoie, and George E. Voisin, a clerk in the French consulate in New York, were indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of smuggling.

Barnier was arrested when customs officers found two boxes of laces and three diamond rings, avlued at $3000, in his stateroom. Voisin was later arrested on a charge of attempting to smuggle these goods ashore.

Getting Back to Prosperity

New York, April 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says that faith in the future is more pronounced than satisfaction with immediate conditions. There is steadily growing confidence that, with the tariff discussion out of the way and with the year's principal crops assured, the progress toward a full industrial prosperity will be rapid.

WEDDING PRESENTS AND PRETTY FURNISHINGS

New York, April 20th.

So many novel and pretty things are shown in the shops this spring that it is difficult to make a selection for wedding presents or household furnishings. Fortunately or otherwise most people have a price limit in such purchases that does away with some of the embarrassment of choosing, but even at very modest figures there are lovely things to be had.

NOVEL LAMPS AND SHADES.

If the house is supplied with electricity there are particularly fascinating lamps with the umbrella shades, closed at the top, that are possible with this illuminant. Daintily colored glass that looks like rock crystal with natural flowers embedded in it, is one form shown. Very new lamp and candle shades are made of fine square meshed curtain lace in pure white put on plain over the wire frame, which is first covered with thin white muslin. Very small white ball fringe finishes these shades at the bottom. They are very pretty for a wedding gift or to grace the wedding breakfast or supper. Lamps with crystal pendants like those on the old time Hirandoles are quaint and attractive and a high brass porch lamp with its candles protected by engraved glass globes of an oblong form are the very latest novelty.

NEW JARDINIERES.

Flower holders or jardinieres were never seen in so many different forms as this Spring shows. For the table cut glass with silver linings is popular while crystal baskets delicately engraved vie with those of china for flower and bonbon holders. For growing plants there are wicker stands made of the regulation chair seat patterned cane, and very artistic receptacles of ivory colored plaster, or concrete with sculptured figures.

ENAMELLED WOOD AND WICKER.

Wicker furniture enamelled in soft lilac or gray with cushions of flower printed cretonne is selected by people who like prettiness combined with comfort and durability ,and the same demand finds Crex the softly toned grass carpet that blends harmoniously with any color scheme an ideal floor covering. It stands the most trying wear and comes out bright, clean and sanitary, and is unrivaled for porch or veranda use since a wetting rather improves than injures it.

OLD TIME WEAVES REVIVED.

It is wonderful what modern methods have done with old time weaves and styles. Rag carpet in its preesnt colors is pretty enough for any use, and the old time cane seats and backs are a veritable craze, used with the most expensive frames, as well as with enamelled wood. A settle in white enamel had the seat upholstered in cretonne in rose pattern. The back was in cane in the natural color and the price $67. In many instances the cane is gilded as was the case in a miniature kennel for a pet dog. An oblong box with frame of wood and sides of cane imported from France and costing $20.

CRETONNES AND GOBELIN NETS.

Cretonnes are more popular than last year, if that is possible, and the English fashion of having the slip coverings for furniture made of dainty flowered chintzes instead of plain or striped linen, has taken root here to the great improvement of Summer interiors. The new Gobelin curtains of dark colored net in attractive patterns are selling well and curtains of plain rather heavy scrim with embroidered borders in color in braided designs are also attracting favorable attention.

ENGLISH SETS .

The better grade brands of English Spode-ware are being used by many housekeepers who formerly confined their selections to French china. The latter is so fragile and the porcelains have made such wonderful improvement in form, texture and finish that they are nice enough for any use however fastidious the requirements.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY LEDGER.

No Time For Retreat.

In an Irish garrison town a theatrical company was giving performances, and some soldiers from the local barracks were engaged to act as supers. Their duties included the waging of a fierce fight in which, after a stirring struggle, one army was defeated on a given signal from the prompter. For a few nights all went well, but on the Friday evening a special performance of the piece was to be given under the patronage of the colonel and other officers of the garrison. The two armies met as usual at the end of the second act, when they fought and fought and kept on fighting, regardless of the agonized glare in the eye of their (actor) general, who hoarsely ordered the proper army to "Retreat, confound you." But the fight still went on, and soon the horrified manager saw the wrong army being driven slowly off the stage, still fighting desperately. Down came the curtain amid roars of laughter, and the fuming manager hastened to ask the delinquents why they had failed to retreat on hearing the signal.

"Retraite," roared a burly fusileer whose visage had been badly battered, "and is it retraite ye'd have us, wid the colonel and all the officers in the boxes?"—London Scraps.

Mind Your Own Business.

An old custom once prevailed in a remote place in England of giving a clock to any one who would truthfully swear that he had minded his own business alone for a year and a day and had not meddled with his neighbors. Many came, but few, if any, gained the prize, which was more difficult to win than the Dunmow flitch of bacon. Though they swore on the four gospels and held out their hands in certain hope, some hitch was sure to be found somewhere, and for all their asseverations the clock remained stationary on the shelf, no one being able to prove his absolute immunity from uncalled for interference in things not in any way concerning himself. At last a young man came with a perfectly clear record, and the clock seemed as if it was at last about to change owners. Then said the custodian, "Oh, a young man was here yesterday and made mighty sure he was going to have the clock, but he didn't." "And why didn't he get it?" "What's that to you?" snapped the custodian. "That's not your business, and you don't get the clock."

The Chinese Sampans.

In Canton 400,000 people spend their whole existence in boats, which are there called sampans. They are born in them, live in them from infancy to old age and finally die in them. Collectively these boats form a floating suburb to the city proper, one of the most amazing human settlements in the world. Every creek is crammed with them. Along the main banks of the river they are huddled twenty deep—so close together that the covering of mats appears continuous as far as the eye can reach. And each sampan houses a separate family, with its own big brazier lamp, which serves for heating, lighting and cooking the evening meal. The scene when a really serious conflagration once gets a proper hold in the midst of these floating wooden homes may be imagined. Escape is impossible except for those moored at the outermost edge. In one of these conflagrations over a thousand persons lost their lives.

Wanted Her.

"An old couple from the east," says the Detroit Free Press, "are visiting their son in this city. If the mother gets out of sight of the father, he is constantly asking for her and is not content till they are together again. The other evening she went to another part of the house while he was in the parlor and after he had asked for her a half dozen times the son said, rather curtly:

"'It seems as though you couldn't be without mother five minutes at a time.'

"'You're right,' said the old gentleman slowly. 'That's the reason I married her.'"

A Suit of Ratskin.

A thrifty Welshman at one time exhibited himself publicly in England attired in a costume composed from top to bottom of ratskins, which he had spent three years and a half in collecting. The dress was made entirely by himself. It consisted of hat, neckerchief, coat, waistcoat, trousers, tippet, gaiters and shoes. The number of rats required to complete the suit was 570. Most curious of the garments was the tippet, composed entirely of rats' tails.

Worst Place For It.

Small Johnny had been ill for several weeks when one day an aunt from a distance came to visit the family. "Why, Johnny," she exclaimed, "how thin you are! Have you been sick?" "Yes'm," replied the little fellow. "I had the brain fever and right in my head, too, the very worst place I could have had it."

MRS. SCOTT WINS BY EIGHT VOTES

Illinois Woman Is President-General of the D. A. R.

CHOICE NOT MADE UNANIMOUS

Motion of Defeated Candidate In Behalf of Successful One Greeted With Cries of "No" From Adherents of Mrs. Story—Practically a Clean Sweep by "Insurgents" In Election to Other Important Places

Washington, April 24.—After twenty hours devoted to counting and recounting the ballots, the Daughters of the American Revolution found the honors of the biennial election of their society divided between the administration and the anti-administration forces. The big fight of the congress was won by the administration in the election of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott of Illinois to be president-general.

The second office in point of honor, that of vice president-general, in charge of organizations, went to the anti-administration followers by the election of Mrs. Miranda B. Tulloch of this city.

With a majority over Mrs. William C. Story of New York of only eight votes out of 873 ballots cast, Mrs. Scott's victory goes down on the records of the society as one of the closest in the history of the organization. Scarcely had the first wave of disappointment at the narrow defeat of Mrs. Story swept over her followers, before action was being taken to renew the fight two years hence, when Mrs. Scott's term of office will expire.

So close an election stirred the congress beyond the experience of years. It was characterized by a bitterness that prevented the adoption of a motion of Mrs. Story to make the election of her rival unanimous.

Mrs. Elroy Avery, chairman of the committee of tellers, announced that 873 ballots had been cast at the election, but only 864 votes were recorded for president-general. "The number necessary for an election is 433," announced Mrs. Avery impressively. "Mrs. Matthew T. Scott of Illinois received 436."

The Scott followers did not remain to hear how many votes Mrs. Story had received. Applause became commonplace in the pandemonium that followed. Gray-haired women waved whatever they could seize and some of the Daughters shouted.

Scarcely had Mrs. Avery announced that Mrs. Story had received 428 votes before the New York candidate had found her way to the platform. In a few words she thanked those who had voted for her and asked that justice and support be given to Mrs. Scott. She then moved that the election be made unanimous. Cries of "No, No" greeted her.

After several gifts to retiring officers had been presented, Mrs. Scott arrived in the hall. Her reception was almost as hearty as that which had greeted the announcement of her election. She responded briefly to her introduction as the next president-general.

Half an hour later another dramatic feature of the session occurred. Mrs. Story, as state regent for New York, was called upon to make her report. As she faced the assembly her followers vied with one another in impressing on the meeting that Mrs. Story had barely fallen short of the presidency-generalship.

The "insurgents" candidates for offices below that of president-general made practically a clean sweep, capturing almost all of the more important places. The tellers made their report to the congress at last night's session.

CANAL LABOR PROBLEM

It May Become Serious Because of Outflow of Laborers

Colon, April 24.—Steamer Solent, which brought 700 Barbadoes laborers here for work on the canal, took out 400 Spaniards and Italians for Manaos, Brazil, where they have contracted to work on the railroad under construction.

This is the first outward shipment of canal laborers, and if it continues it is likely seriously to affect the labor question on the Isthmus.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The resignation of George L. B. Fisher, professor of natural history at Harvard university and director of the botanical garden, is announced.

Mrs. Bertha Bensch of New York, aged 65, died of a self-inflicted bullet wound at her summer home in Newfane, Vt. She was suffering from melancholia.

The engagement of Miss Nora Iselin, daughter of C. O. Iselin, the New York banker and yachtsman, to Count Ferdinand Colloredo-Mansfield, an Austrian diplomat now stationed at Rome, is announced.

Nathan P. Towne, chief engineer of the Cramp Ship Building company and formerly an engineer in the United States navy, died at Philadelphia. He was 65 years old.

Despondent because he was out of work, Cleophas Fortin, a wool carder, aged 50, committed suicide at his home at Biddeford, Me.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

Boston, April 23.

"Physician, heal thyself!" might seem to be self-prescription given Dr. Elwood Worcester, rector of Emmanuel church, who evidently intends to direct his practice of psychotherapy toward his own ailments. He intends to run away from overwork. The Emmanuel movement has benefited all except the mover who certainly has earned the right to remove temporarily to some place where the nervous cease from bothering and the psychos are at rest.

Now is the time to see art in the Hub. Social and artistic Boston is all agog owing to the presence of the exhibition of paintings by ten American painters in conjunction with the Spanish paintings by Sorolla which are being viewed at Copley hall. Despite the remarkable popularity which attended the Sorolla exhibition in New York and which bids fair to be equalled if not surpassed here in the days preceding May 11 when the works will be removed, no fears are felt for the reptations of our best American artists. Where Tarbell, Benson and DeCamp appear there gather the notables among the art lovers of Boston and New England. Comparisons between Sorolla's sun illumined canvasses and the most striking examples of American art of today are the popular subjects of discussion at present.

As through a looking glass we may be able to flash intelligence through space. Professor William H. Pickering of the Harvard Observatory has certainly stirred things up with his statement that if he had sufficient funds he could signal Mars by means of a mirror a quarter of a mile in extent. It may comfort us to note that a prominent professor in New York thinks the Martians are undoubtedly much plainer than the earth people. According to one description the Martian is probably tall and spindle shanked, with a huge head and eyes like saucers. He thus resembles the Bostonians of the joke-smiths. They are not suspected of wearing such hats as feminine humanity sports this season.

The Hub is now in both the throes and the throws of the base-ball season. Cars bearing the familiar "To the ball ground" sign are rumbling out to the game, the mortality among grandmothers is reaching its annual proportions with appaling rapidity, and the hard worked, rushed-to-death business man finds his business suddenly letting up to such an extent that he feels safe in leaving it to take care of itself for an afternoon. From now on the baseball fan is in his glory, the morning coffee cools until the head of the house further digests the details of yesterday's game, and the masculine population is as mad as a March hare.

No more the wind-blown puff will greet us in the gutter. The glory of the big head departs. Once more feminine fashion changes. Now the simple little maiden with her hair parted and gathered low at the neck appears beneath the great hat, which in its turn shows a tendency toward decreasing in size and ornamentation. By the time summer is really here, the indications are that the pompadourless, puffless, bucketless damsel, with her hair waving softly down over her ears will turn the style of the modern Athens back to that which prevailed before the epidemic of false adornment broke out. Several young girls of the fashionable circles have recently appeared wearing their hair in the old time style of bangs, but it is doubtful if this idea meets with universal approval. A poke bonnet is also under way, as is a delightfully old-fashioned type of girl.

Where and how to house students is becoming a main issue in most of the colleges and other schools of higher education in this community. The solutions which various institutions have worked out have given rise to the distinct systems which mark each of the great schools of the neighborhood. Next fall the rush of Boston, so advance indications make evident, will be the greatest in the history of New England and officials are making plans to deal with the question. At Harvard the students have long since taken all the valuable room in the college yard, or the dormitories proper, and a system of private dormitories outside the yard has grown up. In town the important institutions gathered about the Fenway all have to face the housing problem. When the New England Conservatory, the largest of these great schools in point of attendance, erected three commodious dormitories for young women students on the edge of the attractive reservation it was supposed that the future was pretty well taken care of. Now, however, it is becoming evident that before many years either the first buildings will have to be enlarged or new ones provided. Fortunately the accommodations outside the dormitories in well conducted homes which the Conservatory management can recommend are improving all the time, so that the music students are on the whole very well taken care of and are more comfortable in Boston than in any other city of the world. Simmons college for women in the same district has also developed a dormitory system. It remains for the authorities of the Museum of Fine Arts, whose school has just moved in, to meet this question.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

Washington, April 17, 1909.

President Taft desires to establish some form of organization, quasi-official in character, to act as a medium between the railroads of the country and the federal government, and it is characteristic of him that, before instituting any radical changes of administration, he should avail himself of the best legal talent at his command to prepare a thorough analysis of existing conditions and recommend such changes as are deemed advisable. The attorney general, the secretaries of the interior and of commerce and labor, and the solicitor general have been confided with the responsibility of working out the President's plan with regard to federal control of the railroads. The President has called the attention of this executive committee to the existence of such quasi-official bodies abroad and their usefulness in promoting cooperation between the government and public service corporations. For instance, in Great Britain boards of trade prepare certain data regarding the service rendered by such corporations and submit recommendations concerning the reasonableness of rates, etc. The President has called the attention of his advisers, also, to the fact that a single body charged simultaneously with quasi-judicial and administrative functions, as is now the case with the interstate commerce commission, is constantly hampered in its efforts to ascertain the facts by the antagonism which is inevitably engendered as a result of its being compelled to conduct prosecutions. Members of the commission, for instance, when seeking information from railroads, cannot avoid arousing the opposition which is the natural result of the fact that ultimately they may be compelled to sit in judgment on the acts of the very men from whom they ask information . The President deems it possible that some semi-official body, such as a national chamber of commerce or similar organization, might be able to relieve the Interstate Commerce Commission of a part of its duties as an investigating and prosecuting body, and he considers it essential to divorce the administrative and judicial functions of the commission. In short, he thinks it might be feasible to leave the commission with only judicial functions. The evils from the present system have been seriously considered by Mr. Taft, and he has indicated the trend of his views on the subject, but he desires that the officials named above shall study the subject carefully in order that when he comes to write his annual message he may be in possession of all the facts and in a position to make practical recommendations if legislation is needed.

The Phillippine tariff bill which the President submitted to Congress this week is expected to prove of material value to the American exporter. Features of the old Spanish and Cuban tariffs which were vexatious and annoying to both exporter and importer, have been eliminated and every effort has been put forth to make the administrative features simple and in conformity with United States tariff decisions and the decisions of the courts.

Mr. James J. Hill was a capitol visitor this week and he declares that his visit had nothing to do with the tariff, that he was here for the sole purpose or arranging for a trip through the United States of thirty representative Japanese business men with a hope that a more definite knowledge of America and American business conditions will increase the commercial friendship between the two nations. The business men are expected to leave Japan in time for the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, and afterwards will make an extensive trip in the United States, and representatives of commercial bodies from the larger cities of the northwest will accompany them in this tour. Mr. Hill consulted with the President regarding the visit of the foreigners.

The creation of a tariff bureau, presumably as a part of the treasury department, is already a part of the Aldrich scheme for the administrative portion of the tariff bill, and it is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that the amendment offered in the Senate this week by Senator Beveridge to create a tariff commission of seven members, etc., will be adopted, in so far as it is in accordance with the views of the chairman of the Finance Committee. The disposition of this committee is to make such a bureau purely clerical, without authority to take any steps which would promote tariff changes or that could be used as a basis for unfavorable criticism of the action of Congress. Mr. Beveridge's amendment provides that the commission shall procure all available information regarding foreign customs tariffs and prepare such data in suitable form for the guidance of the President in the administration of the maximum and minimum features of the new tariff act, and this is in accordance with the views of President Taft.

sion during which a supper was served by Westover and Foss.

Three o'clock saw the end of the ball and then special cars were found in waiting for all points to take home the dancers, who while perhaps, were somewhat tired, had that look which told more than words of how much they had enjoyed the evening.

J. Ashton was chairman of the committee of arrangements, Richard Little secretary, with Thomas Joyce, F. Pitts and George Sprague and to them great credit is due for the success of the affair.

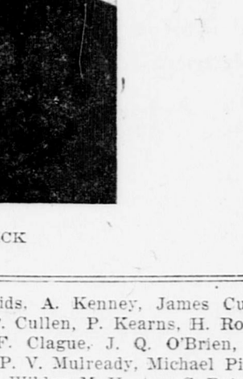

The reception committee were likewise very diligent in looking after the comfort of those present. BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Keith's Theatre.

In the bill at Keith's theatre for the week of April 26th there will be two well known stars of the legitimate. The first is Andrew Mack, the Irish comedian and singer, who will appear in a sketch supported by an excellent company, which will give him an opportunity to sing some of his latest Irish successes. The other is Ben Johnson, who made one of the greatest hits of recent years in "Paid in Full." Mr. Johnson will do a monologue which is entirely original and more or less of a departure from those who have preceded him in this line of work in vaudeville. He has already made a distinct success of it in New York, in fact created a sensation there. His appearance at Keith's will be be an event of interest for tousands of friends who have admired him in his legitimate work there. Others on the bill are the Bellclair Brothers in their wonderful casting act; Butler and Bassett, that remarkable team of sketers who use real ice on the stage, and who do all sorts of fancy stunts under the most picturesque conditions; Barnes and Crawford; John C. Bowker, who has just returned after several years' travel in Africa; Annie and Effie Connelly and the Marlo Trio.

Boston Theatre.

No theatrical attraction in recent years has attained such a sensational success, both from a dramatic and box office standpoint, as has Frederic Thompson's great scenic and dramatic triumph "Via Wireless," which is turning hundreds of people away at every performance at the Boston theatre. In addition to wonderfully realistic mechanical effects, "Via Wireless" is a tremendously absorbing melodrama, with a number of cleverly drawn characters and well written in detail. There is a strong love interest and known actors. The run of "Via Wireless" at the Boston is positively limited, for on Monday, May 3, comes the popular actor Chauncey Olcott in his new play, entitled "Ragged Robin." As usual, Augustus Pitou will make the production of Mr. Olcott's play and Mr. Olcott will have several new songs to sing, such as "The Eyes That Came From Ireland," "The Laugh With a Tear In It," "Sweet Girl of My Dreams" and "I Used to Believe in Fairies."

Castle Square Theatre.

"The Runaway Girl" is here for another week. Her reception at the Castle Square has been a hearty and enthusiastic one, and there is every outlook for as great a triumph as was "The Circus Girl." This latest musical comedy is even better than its predecessor. Its tunes are brighter, its humor is merrier, its scenes and costumes are at least as brilliant, and in variety it is fully up to the greatest expectation. And best of all the John Craig Stock Company, with a chorus of forty, an orchestra under the leadership of Joseph Marr, and several additional leading singers, including Louise LeBaron and Bert Young, was never better or more warmly welcomed in this production. Mary Young as Winifred Grey is as lovely as ever, and it is merely necessary to mention the fact that the cast includes Mr. Craig, Mr. Friebus, Mr. Meek, Miss Binley, Mr. Evarts, Miss Colcord and Mr. Hassell. Performances of "The Runaway Girl" will be given every evening at the Castle Square, and also every afternoon with the exception of Monday.

Orpheum Theatre.

Eddie Foy the great Metropolitan favorite and perhaps the most popular comedian in America will be the big feature of the bill of the Orpheum theatre next week. Mr. Foy has seldom been seen outside of New York, where he has won an enviable reputation in creating the leading parts in musical comedy and comic opera. He has had a host of imitators, in fact together with George M. Cohan he is said to have had more imitators than any other artist on the stage, but no imitator has ever just succeeded in doing justice to the original Mr. Foy's jump into vaudeville will be by way of a new version of "Hamlet." His entrance on the stage is made from a freight car and Foy has considerable bother in persuading the yard master of the railroad that he is an actor and not a tramp. Ample opportunity is offered for a full display of his talents and strength is added to the production by a selected company and by special scenic effects. The Five Juggling Jordans will make their first appearance in Boston and it is safe to say that their like has never before been seen in a local theatre. Harvey & Lee clever Hebrew entertainers and other all star acts will complete the remarkably strong bill.

SOMETHING NEW IN GO-CARTS

The newest style of go-cart is more roomy than the little run about cart—so common today. It is lighter and easier to push than the regulation go-cart or carriage. It combines comfort for baby in every detail—and is attractive in appearance. Novel colorings such as blue body and yellow running gear—green body with red running gear—and other equally as trappy combinations. Our line of up-to-date go-carts is very complete and popular priced.

This Cart $15.00.

MAY FESTIVAL A GRAND SUCCESS

Over 200 Children Unable to Gain Admission to Hall.

PRIZES AWARDED IN THE SLOYD AND SEWING CONTEST.

Delcevare King Furnished Disappointed Ones With Ice Cream.

The annual May festival, under the auspices of the Educational committee of the Quincy Woman's club, of which Mrs. Charles R. Safford is chairman was held Saturday afternoon at Music hall. With Mrs. Safford on the committee were Mrs. Geo. W. Morton and Mrs. Wilson Marsh. The affair was very largely attended, so much so that it was necessary to close the outer doors early thereby shutting out upwards of 200 children. The money paid for their tickets was promptly refunded and they were made happy by Delcevare King who personally treated them to ice cream.

Tables for the sale of ice cream, candy and may baskets were arranged about the hall as were also tables upon which were shown the exhibition of sewing and sloyd work. Seven hundred May baskets were supplied and these met with a ready sale.

During the first part of the afternoon there was an entertainment, the program of which included cornet solos by Lester H. Clee, skaters schottische by Beatrice Rogers, Gladys Glover, Ruth Jones, Helen Alden, Marion Stocker, Edith Stocker, Anna Witham and Barbara Johnson; gymnastic exhibition by boys from the Y. M. C. A.; fancy dance by Constance Fryer, piano solos by Adelaid Figenbaum and flag and gun drill by the signal corps boys of Atlantic. Miss Ruth Penniman and Mrs. Purcell were the accompanists at the entertainment. The committee in charge of this part of the afternoon's affair were Mrs. E. E. Jameson, Miss Georgiana Lane and Miss Eliza Sheahan.

After the entertainment the centre of the hall was cleared and there was general dancing until 5 o'clock.

The ladies in charge of the May basket table were Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. John F. Welch, Mrs. Otho Hayward, Mrs. E. E. Jameson, Mrs. W. F. Cummings, Mrs Edward Bixby, and Mrs. Wilson Marsh.

At the candy table were Mrs Charles M. Bryant, Mrs. J. C. Morse, Mrs. N. G. Nickerson, Mrs. F. J. Peirce, Mrs. W. O. Wellington, Mrs. Joseph Dasha, Mrs. E. E. Davis, Mrs. George Badger, Miss Lillie Taber, Miss F. S. Cummings, Mrs. Charles E. Monroe and Mrs. H. D. Gearwar.

In charge of the children's garden seeds were Miss Mary E. Griffin, and Miss Elizabeth F. Duran.

At the ice cream booth were Mrs. R. R. Freeman, Mrs. F. H. Smith, Mrs. C. L. Arnold, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Catherine Freeman.

Mrs. John Downs was in charge of the water table.

At the sloyd work table were Mrs. William O. Wellington, Mrs. Percy Holman, Miss Eliza Sheahan, Mrs. Harry McDonough, and Mrs. Charles Alden. The judges of the sloyd work were James N. Nowland, Isaac Goddard and Lester H. Clee.

The prizes for the sloyd work were awarded as follows:—First prize of $2 each to Carl E. Chilstedt, and Edmund Taylor; second prizes of $1.25 each to Harold Fraser, Ralph Alden, Everett McLaughlin, and Weldon Pratt ;third prizes of seventy-five cents each to Gustaf VonColln. Theodore Higgins, Eaton Chase, Sydney McLaughlin, George Round and Roland Canicchi; fourth prizes of fifty cents each to Willet Safford, Clifton Young, Edward Nelson and Oscar Frisk.

The ladies in charge of the sewing were Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Mrs. W. F. Cummings and Miss Abbie Wood. The prizes for this work were awarded as follows:—

Fancy work, Erna Schlenker, Adelaide Figenbaum and Anna Johnson first prizes; Helen M. Bishop, Mary Kenley and Frances Calabro second prizes.

Plain sewing, Agnes Froulund, first prize, E. Ingles and Nettie Dean Coombs, second prizes; Grace Goodhue Annie Schlenker third prizes and Katherine Adams and Madeline Parsons fourth prizes.

Garment sewing, Mary Goodhue and Ruth Reynolds first prizes; Eleanor Frisk and Margaret Markham second prizes; Milliment Chapman and Margaret Shyne third prizes and Mary A. Myatt fourth prize.

COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT

Hon. J. F. Fitzgerald Addresses K. of C. Club

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, ex-mayor of Boston, addressed a large audience of Knights of Columbus men Sunday afternoon in Colonial hall. Mr Fitzgerald talked on the back of commercial development of greater Boston and particularly that part which bordered on the ocean.

He deplored the fact that so many of the manufacturing industries had gone to the West and stated that here in the East we should wake up to the fact that the West is fast going ahead of the East in every branch.

Mr. Fitzgerald was given an enthusiastic reception as he entered the hall and the deafening applause that followed his address lasted for five minutes. He was given a rising vote of thanks.

After the address the members adjourned to the K. of C. quarters upstairs where an impromptu entertainment was given. There were songs by Dennis S. Sweeney of Quincy council, Daniel Looney of Weymouth council, and piano solos by George Powers, organist of Quincy council. There were also some recitations by Prof. Edward Abner Thompson of Brighton, a brother Knight, who is a well known physical culture and elocution teacher and a brother of Principal Thompson of the Commercial High school of Boston.

CITY OFFICIALS PRESENT.

Mayor and Councilmen Attend Minstrel Show.

The second and last performance of the Houghs Neck Associates Minstrel show was held Saturday night at the Palms, Houghs Neck. The Mayor accompanied by City Solictor John W. McAnarney Principal Assessor Adams and Councilmen Whiton, Moir and Beale occupied seats in the first row and enjoyed the show immensely especially the Mayor who was the target for a bunch of knocks from the end men and girls.

Fully five hundred people witnessed the show and apparently were well satisfied. The show itself was considerably better than the first night performance. Many extra numbers were given and the ends were not so shy as on the first night.

The proceeds of the show are to be used by the association towards a permanent home.

NEW PASTOR WELCOMED

Rev. James A. Matherson Comes to Water St. Church

PREACHES ELOQUENT SERMON BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE

Church Has Been Without a Pastor For Some Time.

Rev. James A. Matherson the new pastor of the Water Street Presbyterian church preached his first sermon as such, Sunday, taking for his text the words found in John IV 35—"Lift up your eyes and look on the field, for they are white already to harvest."

He said in part:

"Christ emphasized three truths—that we must sow for a harvest, that we must gather in from unexpected places and that there was a time of harvest. These same truths should be emphasized today. This is true of the material husbandman and also as to business life. Men sow today for a moral harvest. Light punishment for crime and winking at the law are a premium upon wrongdoing. A profane and intemperate man cannot awaken a moral influence in the minds of those around him. We sow for an intellectual harvest; we likewise sow for a spiritual harvest.

"The best kind of seed to sow is love true as a mother's, sympathy like an eternal spring, generosity whose hand cannot be closed, loyalty surpassing devotion to country, purity that vies with the mountain snow-whiteness, truth as sure as the rising sun and as rich in helpfulness, charity that dispenses its gifts as the flowers its fragrance, sacrifice that counts no cost and keeps near the cross, friendship that knows no superior save in Christ.

"We gather from unexpected places. Peter saw no harvest outside of the Jews until his vision on the housetop, then he gathered quickly.

"Our Savior found guests for his supper in the lanes and the hedges. The tables were filled with the blind and the infirm. We gather constantly in the open field; we must gather in the home ;the neglected must be sought and the weak brother found.

"In times of disappointment and discouragement man often finds a new start. Disappointment is but an empty cup to be filled with a sweeter draft. Our burdens are but the grain ripening for the harvest. Invested money yields daily. Every moment brings its harvest of grain of some kind. One plants, another waters, but God giveth the increase. The fields are now white."

WILL MAKE A STATEMENT LATER

J. Winthrop Pratt Writes Concerning His Removal

J. Winthrop Pratt in reply to a request for a statement on his removal from the office of Assessor writes as follows:

Quincy, April 26th, 1909.

Editor Daily Ledger:

Replying to your request for some statement concerning my removal from the Assessorship of Quincy, I will state that I have written Mayor Shea asking him to explain his apparently unwarranted action and shall wait a proper time for the same which I trust he will give me.

You shall have the full benefit of the same, and possibly some few lines from me, both of which I trust will be of interest to the taxpayers and your readers.

Very truly yours,
J. W. Pratt.

TAXATION AMENDMENT.

From present indications it seems that the proposed taxation amendment to the Constitution will come up for consideration in the House this week. It was reported unanimously by the legislative committee on Taxation, and has the support of many leading commercial organizations. The Massachusetts Forestry association is also strongly favoring it, for the reason that the present system of taxation tends to cause destruction for the forests. The amendment as reported gives the legislature power to classify property in a reasonable manner for the purpose of taxation.

One of the most active supporters of the amendment has been the Boston Merchants association. This organization has been acting in cooperation with other bodies and was represented at the Legislative hearing by leading members of its Taxation and Forestry committees. There was no opposition at the hearing, and since then the Association has received a large number of letters offering their support. Some of these bodies have appointed special committees to act with the Merchants' association in the endeavor to make it possible for the legislature to adopt whatever changes in the present system of taxation seems necessary to promote the commercial and industrial welfare of the state. Other organizations have arranged to have their taxation committees confer with the Association's committee. Several have asked that speakers be sent them who can explain to their members the object of the movement. Already a number of conferences and meetings have been arranged, and as requests for more are coming in daily, the Association has had to draw upon other sources for speakers.

The Merchants' association has taken no position as to the adoption of a special system of taxation, but in common with all other bodies that have considered the matter, believes that the present system is unsatisfactory and retards the development of the resources of the state, and that if the amendment is obtained, forest lands can be so classified as to aid in their preservation, and machinery so taxed as to promote industry. The letters received indicate that this feeling is general throughout the state.

PRESENTED WITH RING.

Miss Katherine Sullivan of Atlantic Surprised in Electa Hall.

A surprise party was tendered to Miss Catherine J. Sullivan of John street, Atlantic, on Friday evening in Electa hall. There were nearly 250 present, coming from Boston, Neponset, Milton, Dorchester, Cambridge and Quincy.

Miss Sullivan, who is one of the most popular young ladies of Atlantic, was taken completely by surprise when she found out the nature of the party, for she thought she was going to a ball.

The Pleasure Bay Associates of South Boston arrived about nine o'clock and John Quinn, the president, made the presentation speech, while he presented Miss Sullivan with a beautiful ruby ring. Miss Sullivan responded gracefully, although she acknowledged that she was in an embarrassing position. Dancing was the feature of the evening, while between times there was a pleasing entertainment. The affair was in charge of Miss Florence Jones, Miss Elizabeth Sullivan and Miss Annie Sullivan.

MAYOR REMOVES ASSESSOR PRATT

Formal Notice Served On Him By Constable This Noon

EX-COUNCILMAN FALCONER APPOINTED TO FILL VACANCY

New Assessor Well Qualified For the Position.

J. Winthrop Pratt, who was requested by Mayor Shea to resign from the board of Assessors today, did not do so, and this noon he was removed. A notice of his removal was filed with the City Clerk and a copy served upon Mr. Pratt by a constable. The notice said that he was removed for the good of the service.

As soon as the notice had been served by the constable upon Mr. Pratt, the Mayor appointed Alexander Falconer of South Quincy to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Falconer, the new assessor, is probably one of the best known men at South Quincy. He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1853 and was educated in the public schools of his native place, being graduated from the Mechanics Institution, a branch of the South Kensington school of Science and Art, London.

He came to this country in 1875, landing in New York, from which city he came to Quincy in 1881, where he has since resided. He followed his trade of a stonecutter for several years. At the same time he took a course in business training at Comer's business college. In 1886 he formed a partnership with the late Alexander Marnock as a granite manufacturer. Later he associated himself with J. S. Swingle in the same business. This firm continued until several years ago, when it was dissolved. The firm was one of the best known in the city. A few years ago Mr. Falconer purchased a quarry which he now carries on under the name of Falconer & Co.

Mr. Falconer served in the City Councils of 1907 and 1908 and proved a valued member. He has always stood for the best citizenship and good government and as he is thoroughly conversant with the granite business should make a valued member of the board of Assessors.

He is a director of the Y. M. C. A. and a trustee of the City Hospital. He is also affiliated with the Masonic fraternity and the Clan McGregor and is a large real estate holder.

There has long been a demand among the granite men for a representative of that trade on the Board of Assessors as it was felt that such a man would be better conversant with the value of granite property. Mr. Falconer therefore, is certainly the right man in the right place and should satisfy the granite men.

The removal of Mr. Pratt had its amusing side which was that the notice of removal was served on him by Constable Charles H. Johnson who a year ago was removed from the office of Principal Assessor by Mayor Shea under the same process.

QUINCY MAN PRESIDENT.

Convention of Federation of Catholic Societies.

The Norfolk county branch of the Federation of Catholic societies held its annual convention Sunday afternoon in Holy Cross cathedral, Boston. James F. Burke of Quincy was re-elected president and asked for the cooperation of all the delegates. He promised he would do all in his power to bring into the federation all those organizations that were not already affiliated.

Dr. John H. Ash of West Quincy was elected one of the vice presidents and Frank J. Lavery of Atlantic treasurer. Miss Catherine O'Brien and D. J. Nihan of West Quincy were elected delegates to the archdiocesan federation, while James F. Burke of West Quincy was named as one of the County delegates to the advisory board of the archdiocesan convention.

The Middlesex branch met also on Sunday afternoon and were addressed by the Chaplain of the branch Rev. Fr. Ambrose F. Roche of Watertown, formerly pastor of St. Mary's church. West Quincy.

The last meeting of the Wollaston Congregational club will be held in the vestry Tuesday evening. Dr. Tupper, immigration secretary of the State Y. M. C. A. will speak on "The newer brotherhood." The annual election of officers will take place.

As far as known there was no general planting of trees in Quincy on Arbor day.

In calling them peaches do they mean the hats or the girl under the hat?

The three-decker strawberry shortcake is a sign that spring has landed on both feet.

The prohibition wave in Missouri appears to be a Democratic device to get even with the brewers.

In New Jersey they are getting the idea that Easter doesn't happen anywhere except in Atlantic City.

Boston observed Arbor day on Saturday by setting out four elm trees on the Common. What did Quincy do this year?

The law in regard to the number of person allowed in Music hall prevented many children from attending the May festival Saturday.

And now they have machines for testing the quality of poetry. They should come into general use before the spring poets begin their work.

The weather man's advice to farmers is to hold off a little longer before planting their gardens as it will be some days before danger of frost is over.

Just as soon as the Great Traveler got out of the way, Vesuvius began to smoke and sputter. It knew better than to make a noise while he was around.

It is urged that the way to levy a tariff tax is "in a roundabout way, so the consumer will not notice it." Of course, and even if he does notice it, coak him, nevertheless.

The wants of Houghs Neck are many. No doubt but all are merited but with the shortness of the finances of the city it will hardly be possible to give this section all it desires.

Over 150,000 women in greater Boston are wanted to sign a monster petition to the next congress for an amendment to the constitution of the United States which will allow women to vote.

We are afraid the new Secretary of the Navy is not quite on to his job. In more than six weeks he has failed to discover any new plots aboard as an excuse for doubling our fighting strength on the sea.

Next Saturday is the first of May the day upon which the Assessors put on their war paint and march about the city to see how much property they can find to assess in order to raise the funds necessary to carry on the government of the city.

It is a broad question if much of the property has increased in valuation during the past year as the general opinion seems to be that it was assessed then for all it was worth.

Of course more money is needed this year than a year ago to run the city and it is up to the assessors to find it.

Many new buildings have been erected during the year but it is doubtful if the assessment on these will be sufficient to give the increase desired. If it does not but one course remains open. That is to increase the present valuation of real estate or to jump up the tax rate.

It is an open question which is the best a high valuation and a low tax rate or a high tax rate and an equitable valuation.

It hardly seems fair to place a valuation on an estate far above what could ever be hoped to be obtained for it if the owner was obliged to dispose of it.

About the only people who do not grumble at a high valuation is the man who wants to raise money by a mortgage. With him the higher valuation the more money he is likely to get.

There is much vacant land held in Quincy that would be utilized for building purposes if it could be purchased but it is not on the market. If however the assessors would tax it for something like the value the owner places on it, it would soon be available.

A striking example has recently been found at Houghs Neck where land assessed for one cent per foot for farm land increased to 12 and 15 cents per foot when it was found the city wanted it for a school lot.

All sensible people are putting their furs and winter wraps away this year safely protected from moths with because they are the most reliable and convenient to use and only need to be placed in the folds of the clothing, furs or flannels and placed in Bureau Drawers, Trunks or Closets, or even wrapped in paper, and your worry is over. Their increasing sale from year to year with us has proved them to be absolutely reliable and dependable.

You will do the sensible thing by putting your goods away this year with

Twenty-Five Thousand Massacred in Villayet of Adana

OTHER DISTRICTS ALSO SUFFER

Efforts of Powers to Restore Normal Conditions Hardly Felt, So Widespread Are the Disorders—Inhabitants of Places In State of Siege Suffering For Want of Food and Water—Christians' Property Lost

Beirut, April 26.—The situation in Asiatic Turkey is one of extreme gravity. How many thousands have been massacred cannot even be estimated, because the disturbances have been so widespread that it is impossible to secure details of the happenings during the past ten days.

The latest estimates of the number killed in the villayet of Adana reaches approximately 25,000, and thousands have been done to death in the towns of other districts.

The state of siege which several of the places are undergoing has brought the inhabitants to the verge of starvation, and each day brings its tales of further atrocities and the depths of misery and despair to which the savagery of the fanatics has brought the people.

Several warships are now in these waters, but the disorders are so far reaching that the efforts of the powers to restore normal conditions have as yet hardly been felt. The French cruiser Jules Ferry arrived here Sunday, and left almost immediately for Latika, where swarms of refugees are pouring in. British, French and German warships are at other ports, and marines have been landed to quell disorders as far as possible at the more important points.

One of the missionaries at Alexandretta, Mr. Kennedy,, with 450 Turkish troops has gone to the relief of Deurtyul, an Armenian village on the coast, where 10,000 people within the walls are besieged by immense bands of Kurds and Circassians. Only two days ago a British warship returned from that place, the governor having refused the commander permission to land a relief party. The water supply has been cut off from the town and the besieged are suffering greatly on that account. The children are drinking out of animal tracks after a shower. There was incessant firing on Greek subjects sent out under an escort Saturday.

Confirmation has been received of the burning of the Armenian village of Kessab. All the men and many women and children have been slain. The American property at Kessab was destroyed. Miss Chambers, an American missionary, is safe.

A British warship has been ordered from Alexandretta to Suediah, where conditions have become worse. All the property of the Christians at Djebet Bereket has been destroyed.

Reports state that Hadjin, in the villayet of Adana, is on fire. There are five American women quartered here, including Miss Lambert, who has been sending out appeals for help, Miss Virginia A. Billings and Miss Bowman. The authorities have refused permission to Messrs. Lawson and Chambers, also American missionaries, to go to their relief.

Frantic appeals for protection and for food are coming in from all sections. Beirut is quiet.

HUB TEXTILE EXHIBITION

Of Great Interest to Men Concerned In Cotton Mill Industry

Boston, April 26.—Opening today and remaining open until May 1, an exhibition of textile machinery, mill supplies and general mill products will be held in Mechanics' building in this city. The National Association of Cotton Manufacturers are greatly interested in the exhibition and will hold their annual business meeting and convention in the building this week.

The convention will bring together the leaders of the cotton manufacturing industry from all parts of the country, as well as the makers of mill machinery.

Accomplished Purpose by Thrusting Needles Into His Body

Meadville, Pa., April 26.—Jack Cronin, in jail awaiting trial for the murder of Harry Winters last Christmas eve, died last night from the effects of thrusting half a dozen needles into his abdomen and chest several weeks ago.

Cronin wished to plead guilty, but the court would not accept the plea and he was held for trial.

TABRIZ ARMISTICE IS PROLONGED

Russian Intervention Is Feared by Persian Ruler

Teheran, April 26.—The shah has consented to an indefinite prolongation of the armistice at Tabriz and the entrance of unlimited supplies to the city, which for a month has been in a state of siege, defended by 5000 Nationalists or Constitutionalists, against 6000 soldiers of the shah. Many persons of both sides have been killed and the inhabitants of the city have been reduced to abject want.

The "generosity" of the shah is ascribed officially to be the result of negotiations with the besieged, but it is believed to have been due to fear of Russian intervention.

The announcement that a Russian expedition has left Julfa to restore order at Tabriz has caused great uneasiness among the Nationalists.

SUFFRAGISTS GATHER

Sixteen Nations Represented In Convention In London

London, April 26.—In this city, the scene of the militant activities of the English suffragettes, delegates representing the woman suffragists of sixteen nations met today in convention to report on the progress of the work and make plans for the furtherance of the movement. The International Woman Suffrage alliance will remain in session until May 1.

The president of the alliance is Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, the first vice president is Dr. Anita Augspurg of Hamburg, and the secretary is Rachel Foster Avery of Swarthmore, Pa. The National American Woman Suffrage association is represented by its president, Rev. Anna Howard Shaw of Philadelphia, Mrs. William M. Ivins of New York, Mrs. Lydia A. Coonley Ward of Illinois, Mrs. M. La Reine Baker of Washington, Rev. Mary A. Safford of Iowa and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont of New York. Their alternates are: Miss Lucy E. Anthony of Pennsylvania, Miss Katherine Ivins of New York, Mrs. Mary A. Wilmarth of Illinois, Mrs. William Parsons of New York, Miss Kangley of Washington and Miss Caroline Crossett of New York.

The public meetings of the congress will be addressed by men and women of international reputation. The English suffragettes, represented by the Women's Social and Political union, of which Mrs. Pankhurst is the president, have invited the delegates to a mass meeting in Royal Albert hall during the week, and this invitation has been accepted by the International alliance.

A SECRET SERVICE RAID

Bogus American and Italian Money and Counterfeiting Outfit Found

New York, April 26.—Thousands of dollars in counterfeit currency, both of the United States and Italy, were seized by the police and secret service agents at New Rochelle in a house formerly occupied by three alleged counterfeiters who, with a woman, were arrested. With the spurious money a complete currency counterfeiting outfit was discovered, including presses, dies, engravers' stones and colored inks.

The presses, dies, etc., were nearly all tightly boxed up, as if they had been in transit recently, while in other cases was the counterfeit money. The United States counterfeits were of $5 silver certificates bearing the Indian head, totalling $16,000. Its circulation in the neighborhood resulted in the investigation and arrests.

COURTSHIP INTERRUPTED

Girl Dangerously Wounded In Scuffle Between Two Men

Monson, Me., April 26.—During a quarrel in a boarding house here Miss Ethel Stean, a household, was shot, probably fatally, and Griff Jones, a slate quarryman, is under arrest. He is 47 years old, while the girl is only 16.

Miss Stean was in the parlor of the boarding house with Fritz Poulsen, a youthful boarder, about 1:30 Sunday morning, when Jones burst suddenly into the room and grappled with Poulson. In the scuffle the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering the girl's hip and causing a dangerous wound.

The motive of Jones' alleged attack on Poulson is not clear.

Aged Woman Burned to Death

Saco, Me., April 26.—Mrs. Ann Scamman was found burned to death in the ruins of her home, where she had lived alone. She was 82 years old. It is supposed that the fire was due to the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The loss on the building is $5000.

BASE BALL SEASON OPENS WITH RUSH

Five Good Teams Assure Local Fans Plenty of Sport.

The local baseball season is now going full blast, all the teams with the exception of the Quincy Old Colony league team, having games scheduled regularly every week. Patriot's Day was the opener for the majority of the teams, the Makaria playing the Quincy Independent team, while the Bigelows and the For River Apprentices met for two games.

This is only the beginning of what promises to be a busy season in Quincy. There are five good teams in the field and the fans should have no chance to kick because of the lack of games. Besides the Quincy Old Colony league team, there are the Quincys, Makarias, Atlantics and St. Mary's, besides countless other amateur nines.

May 30, is the date set for the opening of the Old Colony league in Quincy, when the Taunton team, last year's pennant winners, appear for the first game in the morning. After that, games will be played by the Quincy team every Saturday afternoon through the summer, with double headers on holidays. All the final arrangements for grounds have been made and the field must now be laid out and the grandstand erected.

The Quincy independent team under the able management of Joe Ford intend to put a championship nine on the field this year and opened the regular season Patriot's Day with the Makaria team at Merrymount park. Some new faces will be seen in the line-up this year, but all of last year's stars will be retained in their old positions. They are out for the championship of the city this year.

Another team to be reckoned with is the Makaria Fraternity team. Under the tutelage of Charlie Ganzel, the old National league star, these boys have developed into a fast team.

The Atlantic team "champions of Quincy," will come back strong again this year. They played a steady consistent game last year and captured the series played with Makaria for the championship of the city.

St. Mary's, after defending the city all winter in basket ball, will put a strong nine in the field this season and intend to have something to say about the championship.

This gives a brief outline of the prospects for the coming season, with no really definite ideas as to who will actually play on these teams. It is not as yet known by the managers who will play the different positions, the first game being kind of a try-out for the men.

As the different teams get a fair line on their men, the Ledger will take each team in turn and print a story about the nine, its players and prospects for the season.

Also from day to day in order to create more interest in the game, the Ledger will print articles on baseball, taking up the different positions in order. Here is the first.

THE CATCHER.

The one man on whom the bulk of running the game falls, is the man behind the bat. He is the "man behind" in more ways than one, for his work varies with every play of the opponents, with every man that comes to bat and every man that gets to base. First of all he must be strong and sturdy, with a cool head, never getting excited, and playing the game all the time. These qualities are found in the star catchers of the big leagues today. The catcher must know each batter, remember his weakness, if he has one and most of them do, and signal to the pitcher what to throw. He must take a chance on having his signals crossed and getting the ball on the fingers or the shins. Again he must watch the men on the bases like a hawk, signal to the pitcher whenever a baserunner has too big a lead and be ready himself to snap the ball down to first, second or third if a man is playing off too far. A strong throwing whip is the most important requisite in a catcher, but he must also be able to hit the ball to some extent. If he isn't he soon gets told to hand in his uniform.

Now these abilities to throw, bat, run bases, coach a pitcher, and at all times keep a good cool head are perhaps best exemplified today in Johnny Kling, of the Chicago "Cubs," Champions of the National league and the world. Kling is an example of an ideal backstop, and showed up to great advantage in the 1908 world series, when his rival catchers on the Detroit team were made to look like minor leaguers. Kling is about the best the game has ever known. If the catcher is off color, the whole team as a rule goes bad, and that is why the big league managers are always on the lookout for catchers. Good catchers are scarce nowadays and whenever a manager has the chance to pick up a good one, he grabs him quick.

It may be said that there are plenty of good catchers in the game today. There are plenty of good ones but they are not stars and the stars are the ones that are wanted. A man may be a swell catcher and not be able to catch a man stealing second or third. This pulls his stock down.

Again a man might be a star catcher and thrower, but on the bases and at the bat he might be useless. And so to be a real catcher a man must combine all these things mentioned above. When you see a man with requisites, just watch for he will make good sometime.

Some of the greatest backstops the game has ever known, have been members of the Boston teams. "Mike" Kelly one of the $10,000 beauties of years ago and Martin Bergen, one of the stars of more recent times were both members of Boston teams. "Lou" Criger, of our own time, the former Red Sox's mainstay now of the St. Louis Browns, also ranks among the best ever, but "Lou" is gradually getting old, and has not the old-time ginger of a few years ago.

And so if a man has any ability as a catcher he should develop it, for the time has come when a good man behind the bat is not found every day. If a young player of today wishes to make good as a baseball player let him learn to be a good catcher, and he will command the greatest attention.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

Hollis Street Theatre.

Marie Cahill, in her latest successful musical comedy. "The Boys and Betty," will be the attraction for the next fortnight at the Hollis Street theatre. It is the general opinion of those who have witnessed the new play that in "The Boys and Betty," Miss Cahill has secured the very best vehicle for the dispensation of merriment that she has yet had, the verdict being that George V. Hobart has provided a book of more than ordinary merit with a sane and consistent story and one in which the interest does not lag and even had it been played without music at all it would still be an entertaining and worthy offering. In addition to this, however, the music by Silvio Hein is of rather a high order and at the same time whistleable and lends much to the popularity of the musical comedy. Not in years has there been a comic opera or musical play mounted in better style than "The Boys and Betty." The three scenes are exquisitely done and the costumes ,all of which are modern, are of the richest material and strictly up-to-date. There is an exceptionally large orchestra of picked musicians under the direction of Silvio Hein, the composer, who himself acts as conductor.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

$4.00

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts—exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

VESSELS TAKEN FROM RUSSIA

Are Now Doing Duty as Japanese Training Squadron

ON A VISIT TO PACIFIC COAST

Special Demonstration of Welcome by Federal and State Officials and Our Pacific Fleet Reserved Until Mikado's Warships Arrive at San Francisco—Admiration For Americans Is Expressed by Foreign Admiral

Los Angeles, April 26.—For the first time in ten years, warships of Japan entered a Pacific coast port of the United States when the cruisers Soya nad Aso, comprising the Japanese training squadron commanded by Rear Admiral Ijichi, steamed into San Pedro Sunday. The Aso and Soya are on a visit of some weeks' duration, which will take them to all of the principal ports of the Pacific coast.

The two ships are prizes of the Russo-Japanese war. The Aso is the former Russian cruiser Bayan, found in the harbor of Port Arthur after General Stoessel surrendered. The Soya was formerly the cruiser Variag, which was captured in the harbor of Chemulpo. They are comparatively modern warships, carrying heavy batteries and equipped with high speed engines.

The Aso is the flagship of Ijichi, a veteran of the war with Russia. "We shall visit Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Victoria and possibly other ports," said the admiral. "We must return to Japan by Aug. 1. We of Japan have great admiration for Americans, and I am glad of this opportunity to return here for even so short a stay."

Neither the federal or state government officials made any special demonstration of welcome. That is reserved for San Francisco, when the warships arrive there about May 1. Then the Pacific fleet and the federal and state officials will extend an elaborate greeting.

However, representatives of the 10,000 Japanese living in southern California met the vessels. Hundreds of Japanese journeyed to San Pedro and four steamers were chartered by them. Later, with passengers and with flags of the United States and Japan flying, these vessels steamed out to welcome the warships. A committee presented to Admiral Ijichi an address of welcome. Gifts of hundreds of boxes of fruit were presented to the officers and men.

BOMB IN CATHEDRAL

Ancient Edifice In New Orleans Is Damaged by Explosion

New Orleans, April 26.—The famous old St. Louis Cathedral in this city was shaken by an explosion believed to have resulted from a bomb placed in the south tower of the building. A priest, a woman and a child were the only occupants at the time and none were injured. The damage is $2000.

A riot call brought many detectives and policemen to the cathedral. A number of arrests followed.

The police believe that dissentions among Italian workmen engaged in repairing the south tower were responsible for the explosion. The cathedral was built more than 100 years ago during the Spanish regime in Louisiana.

POLICE WIELDED CLUBS

Irishmen and Italians Engage In Fierce Conflict In New York

New York, April 26.—Fifty or more Irishmen and Italians were involved in a fierce race riot at Tenth avenue and Thirty-Second street last night and order was not restored until an Italian saloon and an Italian grocery store had been wrecked. Thirty combatants were clubbed by the police, and eighteen arrests were made.

The trouble is said to have started in the grocery store over an argument between the Irishman and three Italians. One of the combatants, Angelo Palo, received a bad wound on the forehead, and was removed to a hospital.

POLICE SHOTS WENT WILD

Revolvers Used In Trying to Check Automobile "Joy Ride"

New York, April 26.—Rather sensational methods to check a supposed "joy ride" were adopted by the police early Sunday when they fired on an automobile, containing three men and three women, which had knocked down and fatally injured Frederick Warnecke, a waiter, in Third avenue.

The occupants of the car crouched low and the bullets whizzed by without doing any damage.

Increasing its speed the machine quickly disappeared and the identity of the men and women is unknown.

Conried Is Near Death

Meran, Austria, April 26.—Heinrich Conried, the former director of the Metropolitan opera house in New York, suffered a stroke of apoplexy, with paralysis on one side of the body. He has been unconscious for the past four days, and there is little expectation of his recovery.

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE.

Good Job by District Chief Packard on Chestnut Street.

District Engineer Frank C. Packard and some call firemen who happened to be handy did a good job Sunday morning in extinguishing a lively blaze at the residence of Dr. E. E. Davis on Chestnut street.

A gas radiator had been lighted to warm a room and it is supposed that the match used must have started the fire. The house was filled with smoke and a sewing machine and carpet were ruined and the woodwork burned somewhat entailing a damage of $100.

When the fire was discovered word was sent to District Chief Packard who resides opposite who with the aid of some call firemen who were near put out the flames without an alarm.

ASSAULT WITH KNIFE.

Jacob Koski was arrested late Saturday night by Officer Crooker for assault on John Hokkanen with a knife. It appears that both men had been at a dance at Farnums hall West Quincy and that quite a party of them walked to Brewer's corner together. Here they separated and Koski and Hokkanen started up Smith street together. When near the corner of Arthur street it is alleged that Koski drew a knife and stabbed Hokkanen twice. One of the cuts was on the shoulder and was three inches long and an inch deep. The other cut was in the breast.

Koski then ran with the wounded man after him. Both ran into the arms of Officer Crooker. After hearing the story Koski was sent to the police station and Hokkanen was attended by Dr. Ash. The wounds while serious are not considered particularly dangerous. Koski was arraigned in court this morning and held in $500 until Tuesday.

SATURDAY GOLF.

SULTAN'S MEN LAY DOWN ARMS

Loyal Troops Surrender to the Army of Investment

ABDUL HAMID IN HIS PALACE

His Fate Depends Upon Action of Parliament and Result of Inquiry Into His Alleged Complicity In Mutiny—Last Garrison Surrenders After Invaders Threaten to Blow Up City—Capital Under Martial Law

Constantinople, April 26.—The Yildiz garrison surrendered Sunday to the Constitutionalist forces. The commanders of these battalions began sending in their submission to Mahmoud Schefket Pasha Saturday night and the whole of the troops protecting the palace gave their formal and unconditional surrender shortly after dawn. Naiza Bey is now in command of the garrison.

Sultan Abdul Hamid has been permitted to remain within the walls of the Yildiz Kiosk, where on Saturday with his ministers he awaited the outcome of the struggle between his loyal troops and the army of investment, each hour bringing to him word of a fresh disaster. The casualties on both sides are exceedingly heavy for the length of time the engagement was in progress.

It is estimated that 2000 men were killed in the fighting in the capital Saturday and that the losses were heaviest on the side of the Constitutionalists, who did all of the attacking in-chief of the Constitutionalists is authority for saying that the sultan will be dealt with by the parliament and that there will be an adequate inquiry into the sovereign's alleged complicity in the recent mutiny. Up to the present the ministry has not been dissolved, but Constantinople and a number of other places have been declared in a state of siege. Martial law prevails and while there is some uneasiness among the people, order has been maintained with a strict hand.

The last garrison to surrender was the Selimieh artillery barracks, in Scutari, opposite Stamboul. Four thousand men stationed there with a hundred guns threatened to blow the city into ruins, but on Sunday General Schefket ordered up sixty big guns and several batteries of machine guns to positions which commanded the barracks and the cruiser Medijieh steamed out of range of the field pieces and prepared for action. The commander of the barracks thereupon submitted and the artillerymen marched out as the troops of the other garrisons already have been treated, and made temporary prisoners without arms, to await transfer to outlying districts.

Following Saturday's terrific fighting, the city took on an aspect of strange quiet towards evening. There was some fear that there would be further fighting during the night, for the forces of General Schefket were strongly posted close to the palace. But beyond a few scattering shots there was nothing to disturb the peace of the city.

The investing troops were reinforced, however, in the fear that the Yildiz garrison would remain loyal to the sultan and continue the struggle to the end. The officers in command of these soldiers saw the hopelessness of resistance and there was no opposition when various commanders laid down their swords and gave over their detachments to the strongly entrenched "enemy."

Coloned Galib, inspector-general, has been made responsible for the preservation of order and placards have been posted about the city, requesting the people to continue their business, open the shops, on which the shutters are still up, and to avoid accepting as true and repeating rumors prejudicial to tranquility of mind.

The evacuation of the quarters around the Yildiz Kiosk begun early Sunday morning. The soldiers of the garrison were made prisoners and their places were taken by Macedonian battalions.

The sultan summoned his grand vizier, Tewfik Pasha, and the minister of war, Edhem Pasha, to come to him, when the guns first began to sound Saturday morning. They remained with him throughout the day and received bulletins of the disaster from time to time.

The sultan's bearing is described as troubled. He was silent and outwardly calm, and was considerate and courteous toward his aides and others who came in contact with him.

HUNDREDS CAME

An Immense Throng of Seekers for Health Called on the Kickapoo Representative

LAST WEEK of Demonstration At MURPHY'S Drug Store

Our success in Quincy has been remarkable. A thousand people have called on our representative at Murphy's Drug Store to get free trial bottles of Sagwa, and information about the Kickapoo Remedies. The sale of Sagwa was beyond our expectation 5 hundred bottles of Sagwa have been sold in Worcester since we started our demonstration. People call each day and express surprise and satisfaction at the results from using Kickapoo Sagwa and the other Kickapoo Remedies. Among those who called for this purpose was Robert Peterson, 86 Pleasant street, Worcester, Mass. Mr. Peterson said:

"I called recently in Worcester at your demonstration, and met an old and tried friend in Kickapoo Sagwa. About twelve years ago I suffered untold miseries with indigestion, and after consulting with two physicians and using their prescriptions for a long time without getting any benefit, I began taking nearly everything recommended for indigestion that was on the market, with the same result. I did not get relief from my suffering. It was a lucky day for me when I heard of your Sagwa, for I decided to give it a trial. After taking the remedy a month, I found I was greatly benefited, and so continued to use the medicine until I had taken six of the large bottles, and found myself completely cured. I cannot praise the remedy too highly,or recommend it too strongly, to anyone suffering with indigestion or stomach trouble, and I very willingly authorize the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., to publish this statement for the benefit of others."

Phillipe Brandt of 166 Bradford St., Fall River, Mass,, made the following statement:

"26 years ago I was in a general weak, run down condition with a weak stomach, suffering from stomach stroubles, having no appettite. This condition continued for a long time. I consulted different doctors and took their medicine. Sometimes they helped me, but my condition in general remained the same. I then had my attention called to Kickapoo Sagwa. Within two weeks after starting it, I noticed a change. When I had completed two bottles, by appetite had improved so that it seemed as if I could not eat enough. My stomach troubles disappeared. I was completely cured. Altogether I used six bottles of the Sagwa. You have the right the publish these statements if you so desire."

The above testimonials are all from people living nearby—live. cured people, not somebody far away who has been dead for some time. Do not be governed by prejudice. Keep your mind open to everything good and beneficial. The above are true honest testimonials from people in your own section. If you will not close your mind to proven facts, but will listen to our representative at Murphy's Drug Store, as he explains our theories, and describes the Kickapoo Remedies, what they contain, how they act, what they accomplish, how they benefit you, how they cure diseases, and will accept without obligations, a free trial bottle of Sagwa, especially if you are afflicted with stomach, kidney or liver troubles, then we invite you to come and meet our representative and learn more about the great Kickapoo Indian Stomach Remedy—Sagwa. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Clintonville, Conn.

MAKARIA DEFEATS WINTHROP A. A.

"Honey" Curtis Elected Leader of This Year's Team.

Makaria kept up her winning streak Saturday by defeating the strong Winthrop A. A. team by the overwhelming score of 11 to 3. The game was too one-sided to be interesting. Makaria having the game well in hand at all time. Jimmy Michael was on the firing line for the local team and held his North Shore opponents to seven hits, pitching a steady game all through. He didn't pass one man while he fanned nine.

McKenzie and Belcher were the batting stars of the game each getting three hits, the former getting a two singles and a triple and the latter two singles and a double.

The features of the game were the playing of Troupe, Nicoll and McKenzie for the winners and of Belcher, Fisher and Williams for the losers.

After the game the boys got together and elected "Honey" Curtis to lead the team this year. Curtis plays left field, but can go behind the bat or play the infield if necessary. He has played with the team for the past two years and when in High school caught and played the outfield for the school team. He will make an ideal leader as he is energetic and is in the game all the time. The summary of the game:

—The merchants of Plymouth did a very courteous thing last week when they contributed their space in the Old Colony Memorial to the committee on a monster benefit concert and ball in aid of the Jordan hospital and Ryder home. This gave the committee several columns of advertising space in all parts of the paper and was a great help to the cause.

FUNERAL MRS. WARREN.

Body Arrived In Quincy from England Sunday.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Warren, formerly of Quincy, who died in London, Eng., April 15, was held this noon from Christ church, services being conducted by Rev. William E. Gardner of Cambridge. The burial was in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Mrs. Warren was the daughter of the late Charles R. Mitchell of School street.

She married Benjamin R. Warren, a well known naval officer, who died some years ago. Mrs Warren has made her home in England for a number of years.

WEYMOUTH.

Mr. Patrick Casey one o f the town's leading business men had a narrow escape from death Saturday morning and as it is he will be confined to the bed for some weeks. He was having his house shingled and went up on the roof to see how the work was progressing when the ladder slopped and he fell a distance of 40 feet to the ground. His escape from death is considered marvellous. He was picked up in a dazed condition and taken into the house and medical aid summoned. He sustained a broken rib and other injuries that will confine him to the house for some weeks.

Patrick Burns a well known young man of this place died suddenly Saturday forenoon at his home on Common street. He was 38 years old, unmarried and was a son of John Burns. The funeral took place from the church of the Sacred Heart this forenoon, Rev. J. B. Holland celebrating mass . Interment was at St. Francis Xavier cemetery.

BECOMES MRS. PHIPPS

Youngest of Beautiful Langhorne Sisters Wedded In New York

New York, April 26.—Society families of New York, Virginia and Great Britain were united today by the marriage of Miss Nora Langhorne, the youngest daughter of Chiswell D. Langhorne of Albemarle county, Va., to Paul Phipps of England. The ceremony was performed in St. James' Protestant Episcopal church of this city, Bishop Courtenay, rector of the church, officiating. The wedding ceremony was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson.

Today's bride is the youngest of the beautiful Langhorne girls. Besides Mrs. Gibson, whose husband is the famous artist, there are Mrs. Waldorf Astor of England, daughter-in-law of William Waldorf Astor; Mrs. Reginald Brooks of New York and Mrs. T. Moncure Perkins, also of this city. The Langhornes are well known in the society of Virgina, New York and Great Britain for their beauty and charm.

Mr. Phipps, who is a young architect, is a grandson of Mr. William Butler Duncan of New York. He is well known in the hunting set in Virginia.

SMALLPOX AT NAIROBI

Roosevelt and Party Break Camp After a Day's Hunt

Nairobi, April 26.—After a brief hunting expedition at Kapiti Plains, Theodore Roosevelt and his party broke camp and started for the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi river, Sunday.

Mr. Roosevelt's first hunt was favored by fine weather. He bagged two wildebeestes and a Thompson's gazelle. In one respect Roosevelt was somewhat disappointed, as he had been anxious to secure a Grant's gazelle, whose massive horns are much sought after for trophies. The hunt lasted several hours.

Smallpox is prevalent at Nairobi, and two cases have developed among the porters at Kapiti. These have been quarantined and the strictest precautions are being observed to prevent a spread of the disease among the Roosevelt party. The danger of this is now considered slight.

MANY VILLAGES ARE WIPED OUT

Others Badly Damaged by Earthquakes In Portugal

Lisbon, April 26.—The seismic disturbances have now ceased throughout Portugal. Everyone is greatly impressed with the courage and energy of King Manuel, who, after directing the firemen in the city when the first and most violent shock occurred, set out with physicians and supplies for the districts where the destruction was the greatest.

A number of villages have been wiped out. Salvaterra and San Stefano were badly damaged. Thirty-nine bodies have been taken from the ruins and 120 persons are missing. Hundreds were injured. It is reported that in other villages churches collapsed.

Parliament has voted $100,000 for the relief of the sufferers. The officials of the observatory of Coimba university place the center of the phenomenon in the sea, close to the coast.

TRAINERS OF LITTLE ONES

Kindergarten Experts of Many Countries In Buffalo Convention

Buffalo, April 26.—The kindergartners of the United States, Canada, Australia, Germany, Japan and other countries represented in the International Kindergarten union began today a week's convention in this city. The convention will comprise an exhibition of the work of the kindergartens, sessions for the reading of papers on kindergarten work and their discussion and social sessions. Miss Patty Hill of New York, president of the union, presides over its sessions.

The exhibits will be shown in the parlors of the First Universalist church, the sessions of the convention being held in the church proper.

GIRL STRANGELY MISSING

Father Offers $5000 Reward For News Regarding Her Absence

New York, April 26.—Five thousand dollars is now offered by Arthur E. Bons, a thread manufacturer, for information leading to the recovery of his 13-year-old daughter, Adele, who strangely disappeared last Friday. This is $4000 more than was at first offered.

William Rose, an attorney, who is conducting the search for the missing girl, is having placards prepared on which a photograph of the child is reproduced. These will be posted conspicuously throughout the city and at all railroad and ferry terminals.

The Cook's Declension.

The cook picked up an egg. She looked at it doubtfully.

"It's bad," she said.

She dropped it.

"It's worse!" she hastily added.—Exchange.

Vol. 21. No. 97 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 27, 1909. PRICE TWO CENTS

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

THE WIRELESS FAKIR.

Never has an invention of real merit been given to the world but a fakir rushes in with a devise which is an infringement, from a moral and at times from a legal viewpoint. This has been the custom from the times sages have been written, and the more perfect and useful the new devise the more persistent and aggressive is the buzzing of the insect who evades as long as possible the direct legal issue, yet foists upon a confiding public either a Chinese copy of the real thing, or a fake, pure and simple, designed primarily to deceive.

Recognizing the superior ability, and acknowledging the premier position in the world of wireless held by Dr. Lee de Forest, the Society of Wireless Telegraph Engineers at the recent meeting in the headquarters at Boston, Mass., elected him President of the organization for the ensuing year. The growing importance of wireless as shown by recent events, has given this organization a peculiar position in the commercial as well as the scientific world. As Dr. de Forest's energies have been devoted for almost a generation to the invention and exploitation of wireless devices, he is peculiarly fitted to fill this important office.

The eminent position held by Dr de Forest has naturally been a pinnacle toward which the eyes of imitators and charlatans have been raised. It has been impossible heretofore to stop every charlatan who has designs upon the blank balances of a too credulous public and who has surreptitiously stolen ideas which have been evolved in Dr. de Forest's laboratory.

The presidency of this organization carries with it the highest honors that can be conferred upon a worker in the wireless art.

—To those who are prone to criticise a paper because it is not up to their ideas of what a paper should be, we invite attention to some of the things a writer is expected to do: To say something new and at the same time true; to say many things in a little space and keep them all clear; to talk long and not get anything out of place. Never to say the same thing twice; to say something weighty and at the same time interesting; to say something true without any truism; to say something good without any platitude; to say exactly what one means and all that he means; to say exactly what is true with no admixture of the false. To these few things might be added, to write so as to please everybody—not a few, not the majority, but everybody.

CITY COUNCIL GRANTS 21 LIQUOR PERMITS

An Increase of Eight Over the Number Granted Last Year

Monday night's meeting of the City Council might properly be named license night as the greater part of the three and one half hours it was in session was devoted to the consideration of granting licenses for common victuallers, to collect junk, transport liquor etc. Every member was present and a roll call was taken on the liquor permit order.

COMMUNICATIONS.

APPOINTMENTS.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing Francis Abele, Jr., inspector of animals. Confirmed.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing the following assistant assessors: Ward One, James F. Dunn, Ward Two, Joseph A. Delory, Ward Three, Leo J. McMaster, Ward Four, Edward T. Manahan, Ward Five John T. Cain, Ward Six, Eben Stocker Placed on file.

A comunication was received from the Mayor appointing Alexander Falconer as assessor until the first Monday in February 1910. Placed on file.

NO SUMMER HALF FARES.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the street railway saying that it would be impossible to give half fares to children and workingmen during the summer months. Placed on file.

STREET WATERING.

Under unfinished business the annual street watering or oiling order was passed to be ordained.

Many petitions for minor licenses were received and referred.

Councilman McDevitt presented a petition for a public hearing on behalf of the 22 city laborers who receive $1.75 per day. Referred to committee on Streets.

Councilman McDevitt presented a petition for a public hearing on the removal of Assessor Pratt. Referred to Committee on Legistative matters.

LICENSES.

The Committee on Licenses reported orders granting 35 common victuallers licenses also licenses to collect junk etc. Adopted.

An order granting L. Grossman & Son a junk shop license which was adopted. Later the vote on this was reconsidered and the order laid on the table.

LIQUOR PERMITS.

The Committtee on Licenses reported leave to withdraw on the application of Cataldo Coletti, Louis Luciano, John J.Connors, Gerardo Capo-Bianchi, Jerry J. Bizzozero, Mary Monti, C. Marti, Luigi Romeri, Daniel Sheehan and Boston & Houghs Neck Transportation Co.

Upon motion of Councilman Flynn the application of John J. Connors was laid on the table.

Councilman McDevitt claimed it no: just to the Italian people of West Quincy that some of their own nationality should not have a license. He moved the application of Colletti, Marti and Capo-Bianchi be laid on the table.

Councilman Whiton moved the remainder of the list be laid on the table. Voted.

The Committee on Licenses reported orders granting permits to transport liquor to the following expresses. Abbott & Miller, New York & Boston, N. S. Murphy, J. P. Flannigan, John J. Maloney, Frank A. Gerry, N. DiPanfilio, John Callahan, Bruce & Myatt, Boston & Quincy, S. F. Barker, Andrews Express, N. E. Alley, Michael Connelly, S. V. Gerdman, Carl Lilja, Scribner & Campbell, H. H. Lowe, Timothy W. Cashman, Frederick Evans, Boston & Houghs Neck Steamboat Co.

All of the orders granting permits to transport liquor contained the following conditions.—

1st. He shall bring said liquor into this city between the hours of 12 noon and 5 P. M. only.

2nd. He shall bring said liquor intended for persons in Ward Six over Hancock street at least to River street. In Ward 5 over Hancock street at least to Billings road; in ward One over Hancock street at least to Bridge street ;in Ward Two, over Hancock street at least to Washington street; at least to Granite street; in Ward at least to Granite street ;in Ward Four over Hancock street at least to Squantum street.

3rd. Every driver transporting liquor into this city for use herein shall file with the police officer who shall be stationed at some convenient point on Hancock street, a list of each load of liquor so transported, containing the name of the consignor, the amount of liquor and kind, and the name of the consignee.

4th. All liquor brought into this city on the railroad shall be delivered only between the hours above named, and the driver shall file with some officer designated by the Chief of Police a list of the liquors as above.

Councilman Gardner and Richards offered a minority report that the above applicants be given leave to withdraw.

Councilman Walsh hoped the minority report would not be accepted. There had been less trouble last year than ever before. He disliked to do anything to turn the city to a license city which he believed to refuse any permits might do. He also objected to the regulations.

Councilman Gardner. It is the wish of all temperance and church people that no licenses be granted. Several towns have already refused to grant any. Let us give it a trial.

Councilman Whiton opposed. He hoped no one would take the last speaker seriously. The people who make the city go no, are the people who take a drink occasionally. You will find liquor in the majority of houses in Quincy.

He believed it would increase the yes vote to refuse any permits.

In reply to a question by Councilman Freeman the Chief of Police said grocery houses of Boston could deliver liquor in Quincy.

Councilman Richards said the committee gave this matter much consideration. He did not believe in discrimination. For that reason he signed the minority report. He did not think the refusal to grant permits would stop people from getting liquor

Councilman Flynn did not believe in discrimination.

Councilman Gardner said in increasing the number from 13 to 21 we are growing worse and not better.

Councilman McDevitt believed that liquor was sold in Quincy. He would have to vote against the minority report.

Councilman Nowland believed it would be a mistake to refuse to grant any permits. It would increase the yes vote.

The minority report was rejected and the majority accepted.

Councilman Walsh moved to strike out certain parts of the conditions.

Councilman Nowland argued in favor of the conditions. The committee did not agree to all of them but did agree there was some virtue in them.

Councilman Cherrington did not see how a case of beer could be delivered at his house under those conditions.

Councilman Freeman, the best way is for the Council to pass an ordinance covering the points it desires.

Councilman McDevitt thought it would be unjust to the people of West Quincy to make expresses come by the way of Squantum street.

Councilman Whiton did not believe in the conditions.

City Solicitor McAnarney said in reply to a question that he did not believe that a violation of those conditions would convict a man of illegal transportation. You can attack conditions the violation of which might make good grounds for revoking the license.

In reply to Councilman Bryant the City Solicitor said he had grave doubts if a whim of the Council would revoke a license. He had grave doubts about the effect of them.

Councilman Bryant did not think it fair to state certain hours.

Councilman Nowland offered an amendment striking out sections 1, 2 and 4 of the conditions and the words Hancock street in the third condition. This made it read that expressmen should furnish an officer stationed at some convenient place with a list of his load etc. This amendment was adopted.

The orders were then taken up separately and passed by roll call. The vote on the several permits was as follows:

Abbott & Miller	18 yes	3 no
J. J. Maloney	14 yes	7 no
New York & Boston	18 yes	3 no

DEMONSTRATION LECTURE ON PASTRY

Should Only Be Used On Occasions, Says Mrs. Hill.

Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill gave an extra demonstration lecture on pastry under the auspices of the Wollaston Kindergarten committee Monday afternoon in Brasee hall. Mrs. Hill said in part, pastry should be only for occasions but when served, have it of the best,—light, flaky and tender, pastry that is tough should never be eaten. Pastry that is light, dry and flaky is more easily separated by the gastric juices than that which is heavy. A pie crust of lard makes the more tender crust but butter should always be used for Puff Paste.

A pie should be eaten the day it is baked, the remaining crust can be put in a bowl and covered to make it as air tight as possible, and use a few days later. As Mrs. Hill was making the crust she explained how essential it was that pastry flour and shortenings should be thoroughly chilled and in summer made early in the morning. Its lightness depends on the amount of air enclosed and expansion of that air in baking. The flakiness depends upon the kind and amount of shortening used. It is necessary to work rapidly and with a light touch, and she showed how it should be rolled. She used the Magic cover to roll her crust and proved conclusively that it is all it is claimed to be. While making the Prune filling for the pie, she gave the ladies a new receipe for cooking rhubarb which could also be used for pie.

Mrs. Hill showed and told in detail how to make Chow Paste for Eclairs which after baking were allowed to cool and then split after which the centres were filled with English cream and then covered with a chocolate frosting which was especially nice and easy to make. It could also be used for cake. A lady was heard to remark that "to be told how to make Eclairs successfully was worth the price of the lecture."

Lemon Fanchonettes, were made in small tins lined with pastry covered with meringue and baked, and useful hints were given regarding the making of meringues so that they would not be watery or tough.

Strawberry Tarts were a delicious concoction. Pastry was cut in rounds placed on a baking sheet then piped with Chow Paste, and backed, after which the centres were filled with cream and covered with sliced strawberries mixed with sugar.

These lectures have been especially instructive and Mrs. Hill's personality and kindness in answering questions has been much appreciated. Mrs. Pinkham spoke for the Kindergarten committee under whose auspices the lectures had been given and told how they had enjoyed and appreciated Mrs. Hill's lectures. Mrs. Hill was given a hearty cheer to which she replied expressing her thanks for the interest and attention accorded her.

Councilman Beal, Gardner and Richards were faithful to their convictions Monday night and voted no on every order granting a permit to transport liquor.

The City Council in refusing to pass the loan order providing money for the purchase of the Cavanagh lot has probably killed the prospects of a school building at Houghs Neck this year.

The opinion of the majority of this years Council seems to be no discrimination in the matter of liquor permits and that one legitimate express was as much entitled to a permit as another. As a result 21 permits were granted Monday night as against 13 last year.

As ex-assessor Pratt was not under the protection of the Civil service laws and as the sole power of appointing or removing is by the City Charter vested in the Mayor it is hard to see what good a public hearing, as asked for by a petition introduced by Councilman McDevitt, would do.

The Harvard boys are coming to town tomorrow night and the girls are beginning to take notice having secured some of the best seats where they will dazzle or bedazzle the Highflier cast so that they will need the full support of their society, the Pi Eta, to weather the onslaught.

A copyrighted article in a Boston Sunday paper on a proposition for a giant dock in Hull bay was read with interest by citizens of Quincy who are vitally interested in any scheme to utilize its unsurpassed water front.

The Mayor, Board of Trade and Citizens Association have been thoroughly alive to the importance of any scheme that would develop Quincy's water front and Frank Fessenden Crane representing the city has done good work before the River and Harbors Congress.

The scheme outlined by the article in question is a new one which if carried out would make the proposed New York, Brockton and Boston canal even more desirable.

The plan proposes an immense dock in Hull bay where it would have a water frontage of over 13,000 feet on deep water.

It would be backed by adequate railroad terminals and bonded warehouses.

The site proposed is shielded from all the fury of northeast gales and offers the best docking facilities in the world to the largest steamers afloat, which would also escape a half hours sail through a winding channel.

Atlantic liners could steam through Hull Gut a natural channel with a depth of 42 feet at low water, and tie up to a pier that could be easily reached by every steam road.

Passengers and mail could be quickly transfered to express trains, saving at least 18 hours of time needed for unloading in New York city.

Another feature would be the opportunity offered foreign steamers to come to this port with raw material for Cuba and South America.

The plan as outlined is the work of Edward L. Burwell and is the result of years of observation on the part of his father, brother and himself who have sailed from Europe to the New England coast for years.

TUBERCULOSIS DIRECTORY.

A tuberculosis directory for Boston and vicinity has been published by the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis, together with suggestions on what to do with one who is believed to have consumption. The pamphlet gives a list of dispensaries, State Institutions, sanatoria and hospitals, Boston institutions and culture stations and private places where tuberculosis patients may be treated. It also gives a list of organizations which are interested in the question, and a summary of the health laws affecting the campaign against tuberculosis in Massachusetts.

LAME EVERY MORNING

A Bad Back is Always Worse in the Morning. Quincy People are Finding Relief.

A back that aches all day and causes discomfort at night is usually worse in the morning. Makes you feel as if you hadn't slept at all.

Can't cure a bad back until you cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—make you feel better, work better, rest better and sleep better.

Richard Smith, living at 4 Main Street, Quincy, Mass., says: "I suffered from backache and kidney trouble for a long time. I had dull pains through the small of my back and on arising in the morning, I would be so stiff and lame that I could hardly dress myself. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store, and in a short time after beginning their use was relieved. After I had taken the contents of two boxes of this remedy, I was in good health and have had no trouble of the kind since. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for this great change in my condition and gladly recommend them.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

TEN THOUSAND ARE STARVING

Armenians Trapped In Deurtyul by Fifty Thousand Moslems

WARSHIPS CLOSE AT HAND

Commanders Consider Landing of Force to Relieve Besieged Town, but Find It to Be Impracticable—Thousands of Refugees Pouring Into Latakia, Which Has Been Relieved—Hadjin Reported In Flames

Alexandretta, Asiatic Turkey, April 27.—Refugees who have made their escape from Deurtyul, which is a small town not far from Alexandretta, bring most alarming accounts of the situation there.

They affirm that 10,000 Armenians are beleagured by 50,000 Moslems. The besieged are half starving and the conditions within the walls of the city are painful.

It is believed that there are no Americans at that place.

The commanders of the British and other warships at this port have had under consideration the landing of a force to relieve the besieged town, which is within one day's march of Alexandretta, but they finally decided that this was wholly impracticable, because they had no right to interfere in a purely internal affair, and the governor declined to permit the landing of an armed force.

The town of Hadjin, about 100 miles to the north of Alexandretta, where the residents have withstood the assaults of the fanatics for the past week, was in flames Sunday. According to reports received here, several of the quarters escaped, and up to midnight Sunday all the Americans were safe.

At this place there are five American women missionaries.

Latakia, in Syria, has been relieved, thanks to the unceasing efforts of the American consul-general at Beirut, Gabriel B. Rovndal, who secured the co-operation of the French cruiser Jules Ferry, which arrived at Latakia Monday morning.

Thousands of refugees have been pouring into Latakia, and the presence of the French warship there will have much influence in controlling the situation.

An Appeal For Funds

Worcester, Mass., April 27.—An appeal for funds to aid the survivors of the massacre in the province of Adana has been issued by the National Armenia and India Relief association. The association has been actively engaged for the past twelve years in caring for Armenian massacre and India famine orphans, furnishing to the children industrial training and education.

GRANT'S BIRTHDAY

President Taft and General's Son Participate In Celebration

Philadelphia, April 27.—President Taft and members of his cabinet, with other well known Americans, will be the guests tonight of the Union league at the annual celebration of Grant's birthday by the league. General Grant was born eighty-seven years ago at Point Pleasant, O.

President Taft was met at the railroad station by the First City troop, Philadelphia's ancient organization, which claims the honor of escorting the city's distinguished guest. His progress through the city was marked by cheers. He was accompanied by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Among the other guests at tonight's banquet will be General Frederick Dent Grant, son of the general. Vice President Sherman was expected, but an engagement to speak to the Grant day celebration in Brooklyn will prevent his attendance.

MISTAKEN FOR FUGITIVE

British Guiana Asked to Give Brooklyn Man $100,000 Damages

New York, April 27.—George W. Gibbs, a Brooklyn man, who was mistaken for a fugitive Spaniard from Cuba and detained for twenty-three days at Georgetown, British Guiana, has filed a claim for $100,000 against the British colony with the state department at Washington.

Although he had an American passport at the time Gibbs failed to convince the Georgetown police of his innocence and he was held for nearly a month despite his protest and the efforts in his behalf by the American consul.

Depew's Birthday Dinner

New York, April 27.—A great birthday cake, a-glitter from seventy-five candles and garnished with an equal number of new pennies, was presented to Senator Depew at a dinner in honor of his 75th birthday. Depew was the only speaker, a custom which has been rigidly observed at his birthday dinners.

Cereal Food Concern Fails

WEEKS HAS BECOME "YOUR EXCELLENCY"

Legal Status of Lilley's Successor Definitely Settled

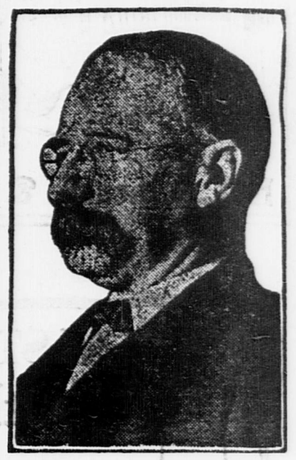

Hartford, April 27.—In an opinion handed down by Attorney General Holcomb, the legal status of Governor Frank B. Weeks, who succeeds the late Governor Lilley in the administration of the state government in connection with the office of governor, is definitely settled.

Mr. Weeks is authorized, in the exercise of the powers and authority appertaining to such office, to use the title of the office and to sign the title of governor after his name, this carrying with it the right to be addressed as "your excellency" instead of "your honor."

PACIFIC ROAD MERGER AGAIN

Attack on Reported Combination of Harriman Lines Renewed

Salt Lake City, April 27.—The suit of the federal government to dissolve the alleged merger of the Harriman railroads, the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific, which was begun in this city Jan. 28, 1908, was resumed here today before Special Examiner Sylvester G. Williams.

EDWARD H. HARRIMAN.

Hearings in the suit have been held in New York, Chicago and St. Louis, as well as here. In the suit Edward H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff, Otto H. Kahn, James Stillman, H. H. Rogers, William A. Clark and Henry C. Frick are charged with conspiracy to restrain competition among western railroads over which Mr. Harriman and his associates are alleged to have gained control.

Medical Man Will Go Against Gotch on Mat In Kansas City

Kansas City, Mo., April 27.—Benjamin Franklin Roller, M.D., the Seattle physician who uses his knowledge of anatomy to help him find the weak points of the men he meets in the prize ring or on the wrestling mat, will grapple in this city tonight with Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world.

Roller and Gotch are not strangers to each other, having met in a bout in Seattle a couple of years ago. Gotch admits that the doctor gave him the hardest fight of his long career. At that time Roller weighed 190 pounds. Now he is twenty-two pounds heavier and has gained much experience. While sports generally do not think that he can pin down Gotch, who has had many more years of experience and recently defeated Mahmout, the Bulgarian, there will be lively times when the two get together tonight.

The men will wrestle for a purse of $5000, of which the winner is to get 75 per cent. Roller who is well fixed 75 percent. Roller, who is well fixed, financially, wants the championship title more than he wants the money.

"SMOKE" CASE IS ENDED

Farmers Lose Suit to Cause Closing of Large Smelting Plant

Butte, Mont., April 27.—Judge Hunt, in the federal court, dismissed the bill in the action brought against the Anaconda and the Washington companies to close down the large smelting plant at Anaconda. Each side will pay its own costs, which are said to aggregate about $500,000.

This order disposes of the famous "smoke" case begun three years ago by the farmers of the Deer Lodge valley, who declared they were damaged by fumes from the smelter and demanded that the smelter be closed.

Boas Girl Is Once Again In Home of Her Parents

HAD MADE TRIP TO BOSTON

Prompted by Childish Desire to See the World and Earn Her Own Living —Accepted Position In Restaurant at $2.50 a Week, but Decided to Return Home When Nearly All Her Money Was Spent

New York, April 27.—Adele Boas, the whimsical 13-year-old daughter of Arthur E. Boas, a wealthy thread manufacturer, and for whom a reward of $5000 had been offered for information as to her whereabouts, is with her parents and relatives in their home. The mystery of her disappearance on Friday last has been dispelled and the case resolves itself into nothing more than a naive childish escapade with no other explanation than a sudden desire to see the world, Boston in particular, and a wish to be independent and to work for a living.

Aside from the natural relaxation that has set in, she is little the worse for her wandering. Dr. Seibert, the Boas family physician, spent half an hour with the girl last evening and announced afterward that she was in perfect health. He said her trip was merely the result of a childish whim.

"She is growing," he said, "and she was seized with one of those inexplainable notions children have, and followed the fancy. She had been thinking of going to Boston for some time. For two weeks she had been saving her money for the trip."

With the first shock of the meeting with her parents over, the child told more of her movements in Boston. The position she had in a restaurant there was to have brought her $2.50 a week, with board and lodging.

Saturday night and Sunday she spent in the room which she had rented. Her money by this time was practically exhausted—all but enough to get back to New York—and Monday morning she decided to return. She went to the South station and was approached by an elderly man.

"The police are looking all over for you, Adele Boas," he said.

"My name is not Boas," she replied defiantly, and boarded the train for New York, only to be identified at Stamford, Conn., after she had tried in vain to dodge the persistent questioners, even resorting to the ruse of speaking broken English.

The first clue to the missing girl came when Mrs. E. M. Upton telephoned from Boston and said she had seen a girl answering the description of Miss Boas, while on a train between Boston and New York. Mrs. Upton did not make it plain to the police whether the train was en route to Boston, or coming to New York.

But with this to work on, the Boston police were notified and later Boas received a telephone message from Adolph Helther, a Boston bookbinder, who told of having seen a girl answering the description of Adele boarding a train for New York. This started so much police machinery in motion that it was impossible for the girl to pass unnoticed.

TRUCK PASSED OVER BODY

Beloved Nun In a New York Convent Is Instantly Killed

New York, April 27.—There is grief in the Dominican convent of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary here over the death of one of the nuns, Sister Angela, who was run over by a truck in Third avenue last evening. Both wheels of the truck passed over her, causing instant death.

The body was taken to the convent between rows of children who loved the nun and who stood aside bareheaded and wept. The driver of the truck, Isidor Wolf, was placed under arrest, charged with homicide. Wolf's horse had become unmanageable.

FAMINE DRAWS NEAR

Earthquake Has Made Twelve Thousand Portuguese Homeless

Lisbon, April 27.—Official figures give 12,000 homeless persons as a result of the recent earthquake. They are camping on the Couride and, despited the efforts of the authorities, are beginning to feel the pinch of famine.

In addition to hunger, hundreds are suffering from serious injuries, which the physicians have not as yet been able to attend to.

Neil Outclassed by Moran

New Haven, April 27.—Frankie Neil of San Francisco fought twelve hard rounds with Owen Moran of England here. No decision was given, but Neil was outclassed from the start. Moran finished without a scratch, but his opponent was badly cut up about the face.

Exclusive Presidential Train

Washington, April 27.—If a bill introduced by Representative Dwight (N. Y.) becomes a law, the United States will own a complete railroad train, consisting of a baggage car, a sleeping car, and a private car for the exclusive use of the President of the United States.

All of the players are to receive a supper at the close of the season and a silver cup is offered to the club winning the pennant.

Great enthusiasm is being shown and some hot games are expected.

GENUINE INDIAN PRINCESS.

In these days when millions court royalty it is interesting to know that an American Princess, representing one of the oldest families living on this Continent, is now amongst us. No young scions of the American aristocracy of wealth have sued for her hand, no courtiers surround her, and the newspapers do not print lengthy inventories of her numerous charms and acomplishments; her name is Princess.

A member of the once powerful tribe, the Kickapoos who once owned and ruled large portions of our country, she is a woman of tall and majestic appearance, and clad in her bravest Indian finery and wearing a crown of beads and feathers upon her head, is every inch an Indian Princess.

She has the beautiful hair, the rich brown skin, the high cheek bones, the flashing eye, and the straight, lithe, graceful figure that distinguished the Kickapoos for centuries. With the Princess is her little son, two years old, who is every inch an Indian boy. They are giving exhibitions of beadwork in the window of E. J. Murphy's drug store for a few days.

RIFLLING BIRDS' NESTS.

The season is almost at hand when the small boy—and often the big boy— turns sleuth and tracks the mother birds to the nests in order to add new prizes to his birds'-egg collection. It does not need even a second thought to realize that this is downright pernicious activity. The necessary encroachment of business and commerce upon outdoor life is bad enough; it becomes too bad, indeed, when we add to the trouble voluntarily.

We are not blaming the small boy particularly; we blame those in charge of him. It is the same old story of poor training and a lamentable lack of responsibility of parents and teachers. Either many of those intrusted with the training of our boys and girls do not perceive intellectually the need of helping our valuable birds in their struggle to live and to adorn our trees and please our ears, or else they are too indolent to point out the trouble that egg collecting must finally bring.

As we say, we do not blame the small boy. He is impelled by youthful energy and love of exercise as well as by the temptation of the opportunity to hunt and find something concealed. It appeals to him as a sort of hide-and- seek game. The fun he finds in hunting birds' eggs is not the pleasure of acquiring knowledge usually; it is the fun he finds in shinning up a difficult tree, the fun of tracking the wary wren to his home in the woodshed or the smoke house, the fun of watching the flight of the melodious bobolink as it approaches its nest in strategic and spiral circles just before it drops like a bullet to its home in the meadow.

This impulse is wholesome enough, but the direction the boy takes to work off his natural inclinations is what should be put under the ban.

It is not enough that law be passed to prevent this rifling of nests. A law that is meaningless to the small boy must have feet as nimble as Mercury to follow him through the woods and fields. The cure must go deeper. The boy must be taught to understand that in robbing nests he is thereby committing a sin even more serious that if he went out and stole the fruit from his neighbor's pet tree.

The Outing Magazine has some suggestions to make, and we trust that our readers will join in the effort to improve the juvenile point of view.

First, let the parents make clear to their children that for every egg they take they are subtracting one from the number of future birds which are doing their best to make the outdoors a pleasant place to be in. Then let the teachers in our schools, not only the principals and instructors in natural history, but also every enthusiastic member of the teaching staff, make the youngsters realize what the birds mean to our American outdoors.

The wren, the bobolink, the robin and the thrush give of their abundance of song cheerfully to a world that needs melody in its scheme of life.—Outing Magazine.

BRIGHT SAYINGS

One of the bright children of this town is included in the list of clever little ones whose odd sayings, published daily in The Boston Journal, are attracting so much attention.

Following is the item in The Boston Journal:

Did She Get a Lemon?

"Little Muriel, aged 2 1-2 years, upon hearing that her grandmother was going to bring her something nice from the South, was speculating as to what it might be and finally said, 'When me puts my hand in nanna's pocket and takes it out den me know what 'tis.'"

Mrs. W. C. Batchelder,
587 Hancock street, Wollaston, Mass.

A Wollaston woman writes:

"One afternoon our two little girls, aged respectively 6 and 5 years, were playing school. Constance, the elder, the teacher: "'Tention, 'tention,' she said to which the younger indignantly replied, 'My name ain't 'tention, it's Julia.'"

D. M. Wetmore.
122 Franklin Ave., Wollaston, Mass.

—The declared purpose of the Russell Sage Foundation, is "The improvement of social and living conditions in the United States of America." This large program might be pursued in many different ways, for it is the improvement of social and living conditions that is sought by all modern organizations of civic, industrial, social and moral betterment in our cities. Mrs. Sage, who has given evidence of sound judgment and ability to choose competent counsellors, has wisely decided to give the trustees the liberty of co-operating with organizations and institutions already existing, or of creating instruments of their own for the better accomplishment of the purpose of the foundation; or of combining the two methods of procedure, if that seems most practicable. It is a true note of high civilization, says the Universalist Leader, when great fortunes are devoted in philanthropic spirit to such worthy ends. This also is a way of saving the world.

—A graded tax on autos based on horse power is the reasonable and proper way in which to get back pro rata some of the incessant and destructive wear and tear on the roads that we pay so much to build and keep up. A square deal for all usrs of the highways calls for its enactment.

Your Hair is Worth It

Afraid to use hair preparations? Don't know exactly what to do? Then why not consult your doctor? Isn't your hair worth it? Ask him if he endorses Ayer's Hair Vigor for falling hair, dandruff, a hair tonic and dressing. Have confidence in his advice. Follow it. He knows.

BRIEFS

Mrs. L. S. White is quite ill at her home on Beach street.

Pi Eta theatricals tomorrow night at Music hall.

The oil put on the street car tracks Monday did much to lay the dust.

The order of the Eastern Star opens its annual fair tonight.

Mrs. William Patterson of South Central avenue is in New York for a few days.

W. R. Lofgren has staked out the ground for a house to be erected on Whitney road for Hazen E. Ricker.

The applicants for licenses to run pool tables will line up before the License committee tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flaherty of West Quincy announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Alice Flaherty to Mr. Albert Ghiorse of East Weymouth.

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, pastor of the Bethany Congregational church, led the devotions at the monthly meeting of the Boston Congregational club held Monday evening in Ford hall, Boston.

The funeral of John Carrigan was held from the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic, at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The whist tournaments that have been held at the Granite City on Wednesday evenings during the past winter, will come to an end with Wednesday evening's games.

Monday night's meeting of the City Council was the longest session this year's body has held. It was nearly 11.20 before the meeting adjourned. A regular meeting will be held next Monday evening.

Fred Smith of the Providence Eastern league team spent Sunday at his home in Quincy. Fred was formerly with the Makaria team of this city and is now making a big hit with the Providence fans.

Rev. Dr. E. N. Hardy, pastor of Bethany church, gave an illustrated lecture Sunday evening in the chapel on "The Most Wonderful Book of the World." The lecture was very interesting and was attended by a large audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Wheble announce the engagement of their daughter, Stella Andrews, to Mr. Everett Eugene Wheeler, of Lynn, Mass.

A large number of the members of Henry H. Faxon lodge number 159, International Order of Good Templars, attended in a body a meeting of Everett lodge of Good Templars on Monday evening. Cake and coffee was served and a good time enjoyed by all.

The part of lieutenant to have been taken by Dave Moffat in "Awkward Squad," to be given at Atlantic May 15th, has been transferred to William Harding. Mr. Harding has proved himself quite a star in dramatics and masters his parts well.

The thirty-first annual convention of the Ancient Order of United Workmen opens today at Springfield. This is the first time in the history of the order that the convention has been held outside of Boston. Merrymount lodge is represented by Past Master John Cain and others.

Miss Gertrude Jones of Grand View avenue was a week-end guest of Miss Elizabeth Hathaway of New Bedford.

The annual concert by the music pupils of the High school is planned for Friday evening, May 7.

Mrs. Sage of Hartford, Conn., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Jameson of Beach street.

M. W. Cummings is building a bungalow on Elm avenue, corner of Willow street, Wollaston Park.

A large congregation was in attendance at the Point church Sunday morning. Several additions have recently been made to the choir. The pastor, Mr. Atwood, preached on living the life of reason.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lockhardt of Squantum street who have been residents of Atlantic for twelve years moved Monday to Dorchester, N. B., where they will make their home.

Miss Marguerite Holbrook has severed her connection with the Memorial church as organist. The position has been filled by Miss Hazel Davison.

George E. Brown of Willow street took part in "Old Acre Folks," a rustic drama in two acts, given by members of the Unitarian church of Melrose, on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. He was a guest of Earle Boyce, formerly of Wollaston.

Miss Mary Thompson of Maine street is receiving the congratulations of her many friends and acquaintances on her winning the European trip, given by the Boston American, having secured 850,000 votes, coming in number one in the district. She will leave on May 29th and be away four weeks.

Several young people of the Point accompanied the chaplain, Rev. A. R. Atwood, to Germantown Sunday morning and gave a concert at the Sailors' Snug Harbor from the Alexander Song book, singing "The Fight is on," "There is a Fountain," "Softly and Tenderly," and "Serving Jesus." Miss Manitte Davis, the soloist, sang "Pass It On" and James Davis sang "All for Jesus."

The Senior dramatics of the High school, which come on Friday evening, promise to be a greater success than in previous years. The young actors and actresses are being coached by one of the teachers, Miss Mary G. Brown, who distinguished herself on the Radcliffe stage.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company unloaded a train load of loam in front of the Atlantic station and has graded up along the picket fence, which at present looks like the fences used around jail yards. The Atlantic Betterment society was instrumental in having this done and under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitcher of Webster street, shrubs and vines will be set out along the fence and cover it before the end of the summer if they do well.

PRESENTED WITH CHECK.

Former Parishioners Gift to Rev. J. E. Johnstone.

A committee of parishioners from St. John's parish, this city, tendered a reception Monday evening to Rev. Julian E. Johnstone, for 13 years a curate in St. John's, but recently transferred to St. Theresa's parish, West Roxbury. The reception was held in the United States hotel, Boston, and during the evening, Fr. Johnstone was presented with a check for $1325 as a token of the love and appreciation of the people of St. John's parish. Edward J. Lennon, chairman of the committee, presided and with a few well chosen words presented the gift. Rev. Fr. Johnstone responded briefly, being too overcome with surprise to make any lengthy answer. Each member of the committee then said a few words of congratulation and wished Fr. Johnstone every happiness and success in the future.

Those who had charge of collecting the testimonial were: Edward J. Lennon, chairman; Michael T. Sullivan, treasurer; Peter M. Sullivan, secretary; Philip Cook, Joseph Gallagher, Henry F. Corbett, Thomas Butler, James Grant, Neil J. Regan, John Lynch, Edward Powers, Timothy J. Carey, John Harkins, Joseph E. Dorley, William A. Carey, John Delorey, James McGovern, Hugh P. Tracy, William H. Flynn, Daniel Desmond, Michael T. Walsh, Daniel Driscoll, David Warner, Harry McGrath, Frank McGrann, Joseph Elcock, Peter I. Manning, Edward J. McGinty, Patrick Driscoll, Patrick J. Mitchell, Edward Larkin, Patrick J. Ferguson, John T. Cain, Jr., and Michael Cook.

TODAY'S COURT.

John Allman was fined $5 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Daniel F. Mahoney was sent to the state farm for being a tramp at Holbrook.

Houghs Neck Steamboat Co.
19 yes 3 no

A table will be published Wednesday showing how each Councilman voted on each order.

Councilman Cherrington moved to adjourn. Motion lost.

The Committee on Finance reported no legislation necessary on the order for the Mayor to advertise for consumers of gas to send to the City Clerk the amount of gas they used.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for a public hearing June 3, on petition to accept O'Connell avenue, Hill street, Norfolk street, Taber street part of Merrymount road Birch street, Barry's lane, Curtis street Clairmount avenue and Newcomb place.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $200 for advertising ordinances. Order adopted.

HOUGHS NECK SCHOOL LOT.

The committee on Finance reported a substitute loan order for $10,200 for the purchase of the Houghs Neck school lot and resurfacing Farrington street.

The rules were suspended and the order put on its final passage and rejected by a vote of 11 no and 10 yes.

Councilman Bryant moved reconsideration which was voted.

He then offered a substitute order for $4,200 for Farrington street which was passed.

The Finance Committee reported ought not to pass on the order providing that the receipts from the sale of the old Coddington school be applied to street lighting.

WATER EXTENSIONS.

The Finance committee reported a substitute order for $40,000 for water extensions. The original order called for $72,000 of which $32,000 was for water meters.

The amendment was accepted after some debate. The rules suspended and the order passed.

Adjourned at 11.16 until May 3.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Ladies of Universalist Church Meet And Elect Officers.

The ladies of the Universalist church held a missionary meeting in the vestry Monday afternoon and organized a Home Missionary society. Mrs. E. J. Holton was elected president, Mrs. Marjorie Sprague, secretary and Mrs. Theresa Hobart, treasurer.

There were addresses by Mrs. E. L. Houghton superintendent of the Massachusetts Home Missionary society and by Mrs. L. W. Atwood of South Weymouth. The meeting was largely attended and all those present were enthusiastic over the formation of the society.

☞Tickets are now on sale at C. F Pettengill's for the Arthur Foote concert to be given in Music Hall, Saturday afternoon May 8, by twenty-five ladies and gentlemen and the composer, at the piano. April 27-1t

—The ladies of the Universalist church at Plymouth are to serve their annual dinner as usual on May day but anticipate that it will be enjoyed by more local people as excursionists will not be as plenty as there is to be no reduction on the railroad this year.

ABDUL HAMID'S REIGN NEAR END

May Be Compelled to Abdicate Under Ecclesiastical Law

THE PARLIAMENTARY PROGRAM

Will Be Discussed at Public Sitting Before Demand of Highest Court of Church, National Assembly and National Chiefs Is Made—Heir Apparent to Throne Is Inexperienced In World's Affairs

Constantinople, April 27.—The deposition of Sultan Abdul Hamid appears now to be certain and the 101 guns saluting Mahemmed Rechad Effendi as the new ruler of the empire probably will be heard before the next selamlik on Friday.

The dignitaries of the church care as little for Abdul Hamid as does the Committee of Union and Progress, but the higher clergy are seeking to curb the agitation of the enthusiasts of the Mohammedan league. Senators and deputies who have inquired among the ulemas find them favorable to the sultan's removal.

A caucus of senators and deputies Monday determined to make an effort to compel him to abdicate under the ecclesiastical law, by the terms of which a decree may be issued by the Sheik-Ul-Islam, the highest authority of Mohammedanism next to the sultan, pronouncing the sultan as incapable of ruling.

The grounds upon which the issuance of a canonical rescript will be demanded are that the sultan's supremacy is harmful to the church, contrary to the sacred law and unjust to the Turkish people. The program as agreed upon at the caucus is that a demand shall be made for the abdication of Abdul Hamid simultaneously from the highest court of the church, from the national assembly and from the military chiefs. The sultan will be offered a palace and liberal allowances.

The parliamentary leaders wish to discuss this program at a public sitting before they approach the Sheik-Ul-Islam on the subject, for it is with this man, who lives a secluded life of a mysterious, semi-holy character, in the popular belief, that the difficulty lies. He is not likely to act without giving serious consideration to this important matter, taking counsel with the principal ulema and seeking the opinion of the wisest and most powerful men in the church.

Mehemmed Rechad Effendi, the heir apparent to the throne, who would probably be selected for the accession, has lived practically a prisoner for twenty-five years in the large palace and gardens not far from the Yildiz Kiosk. Since the July revoultion, however, he has often been in the streets of Constantinople, looking from the carriage windows upon the scenes in the thoroughfares which must have been strangely interesting to him.

He is gray-haired and not very strong, to judge from his appearance. He is 65 years of age and well educated, although inexperienced in the affairs of the world.

Monday afternoon witnessed the final act in the siege of the Yildiz, General Schekfet, commander of the Constitutionalists, overawing the Albanians into surrender. This force, which was composed of 200 men, was stationed in the imperial palace. The Albanians were not engaged in the fighting on Saturday, but they persistently refused to lay down their arms.

General Schefket sent up a strong body of Macedonians and six field pieces were placed in a prominent position above the palace. Other guns were disposed on the neighboring heights, while troops commanded all the approaches.

The red flag continued, however, to fly defiantly until 2 o'clock, when the watchers saw it dropping slowly down the flagpole, making place for the white token of surrender. A few minutes later a crowd of fugitives were seen pouring down the dusty road leading to Beshimtash, where they were fastened together with ropes and conducted under military escort to the headquarters of the commission of inquiry.

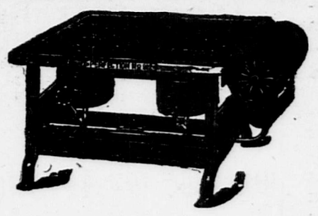

The prisoners included domestics, eunuchs, pages, secretaries and practically the entire male staff of the palace, as well as the famous fusilleers, the spoilt proteges of the sultan. Their commander was arrested in disguise at Galata and severely handled and subjected to indignities.

The Salonikins show great severity. Many of the arrested Softas, credited with being reactionaries, have been brutally treated.

Too Chummy With Sultan

St. Petersburg, April 27.—M. Zinovieff, the Russian ambassador to Turkey, has been recalled, and General F. F. Palitzin has been appointed to that post. Zinovieff's retirement is due to his old age and to long associations with the sultan and the members of the old rule, with whom he sympathized. The recall of the ambassador has aroused rumors that he was connected with the rising which has just been put down at Constantinople.

THE SUCCESS OF THE KICKAPOOS IMMENSE

Saturday is the Last Day of the Demonstration at Murphy's Drug Store.

For the past week more people have called on the representative of the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., at at Murphy's Drug Store than he could take care of. Hundreds have come to inquire about the Kickapoo Remedies and to get a free trial bottle of the Sagwa—the Indian medicine made from roots, herbs, barks, berries, leaves and gums—Nature's medicines for the diseases of the stomach and liver. Derangements of these organs cause most of the diseases with which people suffer, such as gas in the stomach, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, rheumatism, irregular action of the heart, jaundice, malaria, lack of appetite, and that half-sick-half-well feeling. We believe that chronic ill health is caused principally by stomach and liver disorders. We believe that very few people can be sick if their digestion is in good order. We know that Sagwa will put the stomach and liver in good condition in four to six weeks—that is why it sells so wonderfully all over New England.

The following are what peoplesay who have taken Sagwa and other Kickapoo Remedies.

Mrs J. A. Goodnow of Worcester, Mass., makes the following statement and gives the right to us to publish it.

"Severay years ago I suffered a very severe sprain of my ankle, and was obliged to have the attendance of a doctor, but he did not give me any relief, and I consulted with several without any benefit. I tried many kinds of remedies recommended to me. Some gave me temporary relief, but still the ankle continued badly swollen and sore to the touch and very painful to walk upon. Kickapoo Oil was recommended to me and I determined to give it a trial, and after using one bottle the ankle showed marked improvement, and the trouble gradually disappeared after using four bottles.

"I also can highly endorse your Cough remedy, as I always use it whenever any of the family have a cough or a cold, and I always keep it in the house. I am now taking the Sagwa as it has been so highly recommended to me, as a spring tonic, and a cleanser of the stomach, liver kidneys."

Among those who called on your representative was W. H. Dubois, 938 Main St., Waltham, Mass., who madethe following statement:

"I have many times testified verbally to the great benefit derived from the use of your wonderful remedies—The Kickapoo Sagwa and Kickapoo Oil.

"I suffered until misery with Rheumatism and Kidney trouble for about six years. I consulted with several of the best doctors of Goffstown, where I then resided, and too their medicines, without obtaining relief. I also took Electric treatment and Vapor Baths, and tried everything recommended, but still continued to be racked with pain, sometimes not being able to stand the jar of a carriage, and not often being able to arise after sitting a few minutes. I also took on a great amount of unhealthy flesh, and life became a perfect burden to me.

"About this time the Kickapoo Remedies came to my notice, and I decided to give Sagwa a thorough trial. I had taken about five bottles before I noticed any change for the better, but determined to persevere and give the medicine a chance to cleanse my system. In all I took about 15 bottles of the Sagwa, and gradually and surely recovered, and for eighteen years I have never had a return of the Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble.

"I was surely and permanantly cured, and I cannot express by gratitude too highly. If people who are similarly troubled, will give the medicine a thorough trial, I know they will be cured as I have been. It is with gratitude I authorize the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company to publish this, truthful statement of my case."

The above testimonials are all from people living nearby—live, cured people—not somebody far away who has been dead for some time. Do not be govered by prejudice. Keep your mind open to everything good and beneficial. The above are true, honest testimonials from people in your own section. If you do not close your mind to proven facts, but listen to our representative at Murphy's Drug Store as he explains our theories, and describes the Kickapoo Remedies, what they contain, how they act, what they accomplish, how they benefit you, how they cure diseases, and will accept without obligations, a free trial bottle of Sagwa, especially if you are afflicted with stomach and liver troubles, we invite you to come and meet our representative and learn more about the great Kickapoo Stomach Remedy—Sagwa. LIVELY MEETING.

Houghs Neck Ladies Discuss Many Matters.

The Houghs Neck Lady Associates held a very lively meeting Monday night in the Houghs Neck Associates' clubhouse. Many matters were taken up, principally the matter of a summer clubhouse. This matter was discussed pro and con for over an hour and a half.

A committee appointed at the last meeting reported in favor of the Casino building. Many of the members objected to the rental asked and thought that a place could be obtained at a cheaper rate. The old Head House located at the corner of Winthrop and Sea streets was suggested as a suitable place. After much discussion the chair appointed two committees, one to see about the Casino and the other to see about the Head House.

The Casino committee consists of Mrs. Edna Catarius, Mrs. Alexander Boutilier, Mrs. Jason L. Harvey and Mrs. Archie F. Baird. Mrs. Oliver G. Fosdick, Mrs. Edward Smeedy and Mrs. Edna LaBrecque make up the Head House committee.

The by-laws committee reported a set of by-laws as amended at the last meeting and they were accepted. The committee that was in charge of the salad supper reported that they had a balance of thirty-three dollars after all bills had been paid. It was voted to turn the money into the treasury to help the building fund of the Houghs Neck Associates.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

Mystery! Mystery! How much it may mean. So thought members of the Quincy Women's club for very few missed the meeting on Tuesday afternoon. It was the last one of the year excepting the annual which comes in May, so the Program committee decided on a light and entertaining program but made no announcement of its character, calling it a "mystery" afternoon. Members have been much interested, with the result that every seat in Faxon hall was filled. Faxon hall was selected on account of its stage and seating capacity and was found very satisfactory.

Preceding the afternoon's program the usual business session was held the president Mrs. George W. Morton presiding. Mrs. Wilson Marsh gave a report of the last meeting. Mrs. F. H. Bishop spoke of the club dues which should be paid before May first to retain membership. She hoped none of the members would drop out notwithstanding there was a waiting list of over a hundred. If any desired to drop out it would simplify her work if they would send their resignation to her or to the treasurer Mrs. Hunting. Mrs. Abele for the election committee asked that a limit be placed on the time for voting at the annual meeting so that the returns could be announced at the meeting. It was voted to close the polls at three o'clock. Mrs. Blanchard for the Arts and Crafts announced an exhibition of class work in the committee rooms at the annual meeting.

Mrs. George W. Morton, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Mrs. Wilson Marsh were elected delegates to the State Federation meeting at Springfield May 19-20 and it was hoped other club members would also go as interesting sessions would be held.

For the afternoon's program arranged by Miss Edith Randall, chairman, Miss Etta M. Prescott, Miss Elizabeth Hubbard and Miss Abigail Wood of the Program committee, local clubs as well as club members were asked to assist, each to do a specialty. The well known Friday club had the first number on the program which was announced as "A session of the Friday Club" by the members. It was a burlesque and full of hits. Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth was hostess with Mrs. Chandler W. Smith as her guest. Mrs. George G. Saville, president, presided and Mrs. Wilson Marsh gave the secretary's report under difficulties. Members had various articles of clothing to mend as is customary at their meetings. The session was not very parliamentary and members were hazy as to what was to be the afternoon's subject so until some one could enlighten them, members were called upon to fill in the waiting by songs, etc. Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. Frank A. Page sang, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, receiving not only the applause of the Friday club but of the audience. Mrs. Z. S. Arnold read a most learned paper which was received with marked approval by the club although no one seemed to know what it was all about or what the point was. The hit of the session was made by Mrs. Morton in her impersonation of Samuel Lover the Irish poet, who came to call on the club, and was induced to favor the club with a song and one of his original poems. The song "Some Folks Likes the Country" was capital and enthusiastically applauded as was the poem "St. Patrick's Birthday" both calling for a repetition. The last member of the club, Mrs. Alden, arriving and not knowing the subject for the afternoon it was decided to adjourn and the act closed with the president and Samuel Lover heading the procession to the tea room. The whole act was replete with witticisms and hits and was loudly applauded.

The character sketch "Bridget's Soliloquy" in costume by Mrs. Isabelle Davis was finely done and although the applause was loud and long Mrs. Davis could not be induced to respond.

Junior Friday club for their act gave the colonial minuet which they gave last season at their closing meeting. Those participating were, men: Miss Randall, Mrs. Litchfield, Miss Lane, Miss Baxter; ladies: Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Lawton, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Whitney. Miss Randall substituted for Miss Prescott who was unable to take her part owing to illness in the family. Mrs. Charles A. Price at the piano played for the dance. The graceful movements and colonial costuming were given appreciative applause.

"The Mascot of the Troop" by Victor Herbert was sung with spirit by Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clarence Burgin, with Miss Alice L. Claflin as drummer. In response to the encore

THE NEWER BROTHERHOOD

Dr. Tupper Addresses Wollaston Congregational Club

The monthly meeting of the Wollaston Congregational club was held in the vestry of the church on Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. J. Hogue, president; C. N. Godfrey, vice president; R. B. Locke, secretary; F. L. Eastman, treasurer; George Fleming, benevolence committee; C. P. Hutchins and O. A. Blaisdell, public improvement committee.

An address on "The Newer Brotherhood," was delivered by George W. Tupper, PhD., of Boston, Immigrant Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

As guests at the head table were: Rev. Wesley Wiggin of the Wollaston Methodist church, Rev. Joseph Walther of the Wollaston Baptist church and President George Taylor of the Methodist Men's club.

"Each age in the history of the world," said Dr. Tupper, "has its distinct problem to be solved. The era in which we now live is no exception. There has always since the world began" he said, "been a certain idea of brotherhood. In prehistoric times this idea was narrow and limited to the family. As time went on this idea was broadened and spread, taking in first the clan, later the nation and then the race.

"It was not until the words of the Master had gone forth that this idea sprang into flourishing existence until now the whole world is beginning to be looked upon as a universal brotherhood.

"We are fast coming to this idea and newer phases of brotherhood are coming up. Great as these ideas have been in the past there is now fast approaching a larger idea which is much greater in scope.

"Brotherhood in the past has been after the fact. We are now dealing with it before the fact, as a means of prevention rather than cure."

Dr. Tupper spoke of the meeting of the governors recently called in Washington by Theodore Roosevelt for the protection of the natural resources of the country and the conservation of the forests. "Behind all this," he said, "is a subject which has far greater meaning and in which we should take a far greater interest.

"Not because of its wide acres, not because of its business, not because of its streams, not because of its treasures dug from the earth, is this nation great, but because of the manhood which exists in it.

"It is possible that manhood be depleted. Would it not be wise to call a conference in order that the

It will not need much dust preventative on the streets today to keep the dust down.

Nearly all of the City Council meetings thus far this year have been strenuous ones. They will probably keep it up all the year.

The question now is, how does the Houghs Neck school lot stand. An order to purchase a lot has been passed, but no money has been given the Mayor to make the purchase.

Unless Mayor Shea signs the orders granting liquor permits by Friday, no expressman can legally transport liquor into Quincy Saturday and some people may have to go dry Sunday. There is plenty of water, however, in the city water supply pipe.

It may be some hardship on the expressmen to furnish the police with a copy of their load of liquor, but it will enable the police to keep in closer touch with what each express is doing. It will also enable the officer, if he has any doubt about the correctness of the list to jump into a wagon and check up the load.

The street watering order as passed by the City Council Monday night contains several more streets than in last year's schedule for the same money. It is a question if the Commissioner can do all required with the money appropriated.

The City Council acted wisely when it refused to pass the order for water extensions and water meters in its original form without further and careful consideration. The order as it came from the Committee on Water Supply called for $72,000 of which sum $32,000 was to be expended for the purchase and installation of water meters.

Under the law the city has a certain time in which to meter all services. The Water Supply Committee evidently considered it would be a wise policy to take the matter in hand and meter all services immediately.

In the argument at Monday night's meeting of the Council it was stated that in purchasing the large number of meters that would be required at one time a saving of $1 each would be made.

It was also stated that in Melrose where the city made a quick job of metering services the consumption of water was cut in half.

What Melrose has done could probably be done in Quincy but before that time the rules of the Water department would need a general revision, as they would not fit the new condition of affairs.

While it is generally admitted that if all services were metered and the water rates so arranged that a taker should pay for what he uses, the same as with gas and electricity it would be a just solution, it is an open question if the city is in the condition at the present time to take such a step.

It is probable however that now the subject has been taken up the Council will investigate the matter thoroughly.

RECEPTION.

A reception was tendered Rev. Wesley Wiggin in the Wollaston Methodist church on Monday evening.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by Rev. E. A. Chase of the Wollaston Congregational church, Rev. A. Edwin Clattenburg of St. Chrysostom's church, Rev. Joseph Walther of the Wollaston Baptist church and Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church. Both the church and vestry were prettily decorated with flowers. Miss Stone presided at the organ.

Following the reception in the church, a social hour was held in the vestry, at which Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Epes poured. Refreshments were served by a bevy of the young ladies of the church.

On the committee of arrangements were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Samuel Kay and Herbert Cassidy.

Rev. Wesley Wiggin came to Quincy from Whitinsville and takes the place of Rev. W. J. Heath, who accepted a call to the Methodist church in Atlantic. Mr. Wiggin is the third minister to be welcomed to Wollaston since the new year. The other two are Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Unitarian church, formerly of West Upton, and Rev. Joseph Walther of the Baptist church, who held the pastorate at Keene, N. H.

THE
YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ATSOCIATION OF QUINCY, MASS.
(Legal Title Incorporated 1892.)
The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.
Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class o classes, the Boys' Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.
The Treasurer, WILLIAM F. CUMMINGS, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. GAY, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OUR HOSPITAL
(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy)
Incorporated 1889
The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000 but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed.
Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.
The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams Street, Quincy, or the Treasurer, RICHARD D. CHASE, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad to confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

WASHINGTON IS SATISFIED

Will Give Prompt Recognition to New Turkish Government

HAS BEEN VERY SATISFACTOY

Rehabilitation of Relations With Countries of the World When Young Turks Are In Full Power—Troublesome Missionary and Many Other Irritating Questions Likely to Reach a Speedy Settlement

Washington, April 28.—Prompt recognition will be given to the new government of Turkey by the administration when official news of the new order of things in the Ottoman Empire reaches Washington.

While speculation is rife as to what will happen under the reorganized government, the universal opinion is that if the Young Turks party is equal to the trust imposed a new era with bright prospects is in store for Turkey.

It is recognized generally in diplomatic circles that although the Young Turks' following is by comparison numerically small, and that its administration will be beset constantly by the machinations of the reactionaries, yet, by the selection for sultan of Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, the party has gained prestige and will reap the benefits of the support of the Mohammedan religion by the action.

The personal qualities of the new sultan, which are well known to officials in Washington, are considered an important element to be reckoned with in the administration of the affairs of state. His incarceration for so many years has removed him from the suspicion of taint with despotism, corruption and cruelty that attached to his predecessor, and leading officials believe his better qualities will be a predominating feature in his career as sultan.

Beyond all other considerations the opinion is expressed that with the new sultan on the throne and with the Young Turks party in full power, there will be a rehabilitation of the relations with the countries of the world and opportunity offered for a more satisfactory treatment of the missionary question, which has been a troublesome one, due to the fanaticism of the followers of Islamism and which on many occasions has led to diplomatic representations to the Turkish government from the state department.

In many little things, which in the aggregate are considerable, the administration of the Young Turks government has been very satisfactory to the state department. Annoyances affecting travelers in Turkey, irritating questions touching the Armenians, and those of naturalization, have disappeared, and in other ways a more liberal application of the local and general laws has prevailed.

To American missionary interests in Turkey, a new government there based on liberal institutional lines is considered of great importance. Many of the newer element are men of more modern views, educated in the universities of Europe and America and imbued with ideas far in advance of those held by Sultan Abdul Hamid; and their influence, it is hoped, will go far towards moulding the attitude of the government towards missionaries. To the foreign missionary workers it is believed the new movement will be a help instead of a hindrance to them.

According to a prominent diplomatic view, Turkey is not in a position warranting the establishment of a full-fledged republic and better results may be obtained by a continuation of the present form of government, with an intelligent, conscientious, honest man at the helm of state.

KURDS IN PATHWAY

Russian Expedition May Not Reach Tabriz Without Opposition

St. Petersburg, April 28.—A dispatch from Julfa, Persia, says that the Russian expedition has encountered opposition, Kurds skirmishing with the Cossack vanguard and compelling a halt.

The Russian foreign office admitted that the troops are advancing very slowly and will not arrive at Tabriz before tonight at the earliest.

Reassuring advices, however, have been received from the consul at Tabriz, who reports that the famine has been relieved in a measure by the grain sent by Russian merchants.

Taft Praiess Grant

Philadelphia, April 28.—President Taft was the principal speaker at the Grant birthday dinner of the Union League in this city and paid a striking tribute to the soldier-president. He took advantage of the opportunity to express anew his admiration for General Grant as a man, as a soldier and as chief executive of the United States.

NEW STEAMBOAT LINE.

To Ply Between Boston, Houghs Neck and Quincy.

A rumor was circulated in Houghs Neck Sunday that a company of Boston men were considering the idea of running a boat from Boston to Houghs Neck this coming summer. In fact the rumor gets considerable weight by the reason that an application for an express license has been made by a Boston and Houghs Neck steamboat company.

The tradesmen are sincerely hoping that the rumor is true as they suffered a large loss last year by the pulling off of the steamer "Houghs Neck" which was run to Nantasket Point instead of to Boston. As a result of the boat being bulled off last year, many of the property holders on Great Hill sold their houses.

A representative of the Ledger managed to locate a member of the new company and had a long talk in which the steamboat man said, that the company intends to open up the water front of Quincy. "The city of Quincy has one of the best water fronts on the Atlantic coast" said the man, "and it is a shame that it has been neglected as it has. Our company will start to run boats from Houghs Neck to Boston and in the near future will have an all-the-year-round boat plying from Quincy Point to Boston. We think that we can make money out of the scheme and also develop the immense water front of Quincy."

When asked if the company intended to run the boat strictly as a passenger boat the official said that it intended to do freight business mostly but would run boats suitable for passenger trade.

POET AND PHYSICIAN

The Latter Was the Chief Function of Oliver Wendell Holmes

Cambridge, Mass., April 28.—The small auditorium of Saunders theatre was crowded to overflowing last night by friends and admirers of Dr. Wendell Holmes, whose 100th birthday anniversary was celebrated.

President Eliot's tribute in abstract follows:

"Dr. Holmes was cheerful, gay and animated, and always an excellent entertainer. We think of him as one who entertained and regard this as his chief function. But there was an altogether different side to Dr. Holmes. His main interest in life was to teach anatomy and physiology at the Harvard medical school, and that he considered his chief accomplishment.

"Dr. Holmes was a pioneer in the introduction of new instruments in the medical profession. He was one of the first to make use of the microscope. In this connection he was not only a pioneer, but also a prophet, as this instrument is today probably the most used in laboratories."

Reminiscences and papers constituted the larger part of the program.

HAINS JURY COMPLETED

Only One of the Men Who Will Occupy Box Is Unmarried

Flushing, N. Y., April 28.—After seven days of tedious examination of talesmen the jury was completed for the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., for the murder of William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht club last August.

All but one of the jurymen are married men with families. Two are 63 years of age. The others range in age from 30 to 50 years. The defense has fought all along for married men and peremptorily challenged the few bachelors who have qualified.

Hains remained silent throughout the proceedings, without even consulting with his lawyers. But while the defendant has offered neither suggestion nor advice, his father and his brother have passed upon each man who entered the jury box.

CATHOLIC CHURCH BARS CEREMONY

No Protestant Service at the Wedding of Muriel White

Paris, April 28.—The action of the authorities of the Catholic church in forbidding a Protestant service in connection with the marriage of Count Hermann Scherr-Thoss and Miss Muriel White, daughter of the American ambassador, is causing much gossip in diplomatic circles.

No attempt was made to secure permission to hold a Protestant service. It was simply desired, following numerous precedents of mixed marriages, which were cited, that the dispensation for the marriage should not contain an express inhibition against the groom attending another religious ceremony.

The archbishop of Paris, it is understood, declared that Catholics in America were too liberal, and the opportunity to make an example in the case of the American ambassador should not be neglected.

THREE YEARS OF PEACE

Agreement Between Coal Operators and Employes Is Prepared

Scranton, Pa., April 28.—The tri-district convention of the anthracite mine workers which today will ratify the proposed agreement that is expected to be signed Thursday in Philadelphia by the representatives of the men and the mine operators, met here, organized and adjourned until today.

There has not been a hitch in the plans of the leaders of the union thus far and none is anticipated by them. They fully expect the agreement to be signed by both sides on Thursday, thus ensuring industrial peace in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania for another peirod of three years.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A VOTE

Colorado Will Contribute That Amount Toward Campaign Expenses

Denver, April 28.—Governor Shafroth has signed the campaign expenses bill and the unique measure becomes a law in ninety days.

The bill provides that the state shall contribute for campaign expenses every two years 25 cents for each vote cast at the preceding general election, the sum to be divided among the political parties according to the vote cast by their respective candidates for governor.

No Mercy Shown Embezzler

Havana, April 28.—Miguel de Latorre, the former treasurer of the fiscal zone of Havana, charged with the embezzlement of nearly $200,000 from the treasury funds, was sentenced to fourteen years and eight months imprisonment. He must also make restitution of the stolen funds.

An Artist's Sudden Death

THE SUCCESS OF THE KICKAPOOS IMMENSE

Saturday is the Last Day of the Demonstration at Murphy's Drug Store.

For the past week more people have called on the representative of the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., at Murphy's Drug Store than he could take care of. Hundreds have come to inquire about the Kickapoo Remedies and to get a free trial bottle of the Sagwa—the Indian medicine made from roots, herbs, barks, berries, leaves and gums—Nature's medicines for the diseases of the stomach and liver. Derangements of these organs cause most of the diseases with which people suffer, such as gas in the stomach, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, rheumatism, irregular action of the heart, jaundice, malaria, lack of appetite, and that half-sick-half-well feeling. We believe that chronic ill health is caused principally by stomach and liver disorders. We believe that very few people can be sick if their digestion is in good order. We know that Sagwa will put the stomach and liver in good condition in four to six weeks—that is why it sells so wonderfully all over New England.

The following are what people say who have taken Sagwa and other Kickapoo Remedies.

Mrs J. A. Goodnow of Worcester, Mass., makes the following statement and gives the right to us to publish it.

"Several years ago I suffered a very severe sprain of my ankle, and was obliged to have the attendance of a doctor, but he did not give me any relief, and I consulted with several without any benefit. I tried many kinds of remedies recommended to me. Some gave me temporary relief, but still the ankle continued badly swollen and sore to the touch and very painful to walk upon. Kickapoo Oil was recommended to me and I determined to give it a trial, and after using one bottle the ankle showed marked improvement, and the trouble gradually disappeared after using four bottles.

"I also can highly endorse your Cough remedy, as I always use it whenever any of the family have a cough or a cold, and I always keep it in the house. I am now taking the Sagwa as it has been so highly recommended to me, as a spring tonic, and a cleanser of the stomach, liver and kidneys."

Among those who called on your representative was W. H. Dubois, 938 Main St., Waltham, Mass., who made the following statement:

"I have many times testified verbally to the great benefit derived from the use of your wonderful remedies—The Kickapoo Sagwa and Kickapoo Oil.

"I suffered until misery with Rheumatism and Kidney trouble for about six years. I consulted with several of the best doctors of Goffstown, where I then resided, and too their medicines, without obtaining relief. I also took Electric treatment and Vapor Baths, and tried everything recommended, but still continued to be racked with pain, sometimes not being able to stand the jar of a carriage, and not often being able to arise after sitting a few minutes. I also took on a great amount of unhealthy flesh, and life became a perfect burden to me.

"About this time the Kickapoo Remedies came to my notice, and I decided to give Sagwa a thorough trial. I had taken about five bottles before I noticed any change for the better, but determined to persevere and give the medicine a chance to cleanse my system. In all I took about 15 bottles of the Sagwa, and gradually and surely recovered, and for eighteen years I have never had a return of the Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble.

'I was surely and permanantly cured, and I cannot express by gratitude too highly. If people who are similarly troubled, will give the medicine a thorough trial, I know they will be cured as I have been. It is with gratitude I authorize the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company to publish this truthful statement of my case."

The above testimonials are all from people living nearby—live, cured people—not somebody far away who has been dead for some time. Do not be governed by prejudice. Keep your mind open to everything good and beneficial. The above are true, honest testimonials from people in your own section. If you do not close your mind to proven facts, but listen to our representative at Murphy's Drug Store as he explains our theories, and describes the Kickapoo Remedies, what they contain, how they act, what they accomplish, how they benefit you, how they cure diseases, and will accept without obligations, a free trial bottle of Sagwa, especially if you are afflicted with stomach and liver troubles, we invite you to come and meet our representative and learn more about the great Kickapoo Stomach Remedy—Sagwa. LEGITIMATE HEIR ON THRONE

Mehmed V Is Proclaimed Ruler of Turkish Destinies

DEPOSITION OF ABDUL HAMID

Document Making It Effective Recites Long List of Crimes by the "Great Assassin"—New Ruler Says He May Be Relied Upon to Do His Best—Predecessor Glad to Escape With His Life

Constantinople, April 8.—The reign of Abdul Hamid II ended Tuesday with his deposition and the accession of his brother, Mehemmed Reschad Effendi, as Mehmed V, a variation of "Mahomet," it being considered inappropriate to assume the precise name of the Prophet.

Mehmed V was the legitimate heir to the throne and the thirty-fifth sovereign of Turkey, in male descent, of the house of Osman, the founder of the empire, and the twenty-ninth sultan since the conquest of Constantinople.

The two houses of parliament, meeting as a national assembly in the forenoon, approved the decree of deposition, which was read by the Sheik Ul Islam, chief of the ulemas and supreme judge on ecclesiastical questions.

The document recited that Abdul Hamid's acts were contrary to the sacred laws, and set forth a long list of crimes, the whole making a terrible indictment. The assembly chose Mehemmed Reschad as sultan and appointed committees to notify the dethroned sovereign and his successor of its action. The firing of 101 guns announced to the waiting people that a new sultan had been proclaimed.

The ceremonies connected with the transfer of the power were simple. The newly chosen ruler came from his palace in Galata through streets lined with troops and cheering thousands and took the oath at the war office. He then proceeded to the parliament and later went to the Top-Kapou palace to kiss the prophet's robe, returning to the Dolmbagsche palace, where for so many years he had practically been a prisoner, as the head of the empire.

Martial law was relaxed last night and the people gave themselves over to celebrating the victory of the Young Turks party and the end of Abdul Hamid's reign. Many buildings were illuminated, and thousands of rounds of ammunition were fired by the soldiers for joy.

The question of the new cabinet has not been settled, but it is thought that Ahmed Riza will be grand vizier.

The Sheik Ul Islam, supported by all the principal personages of the higher church administration, issued the fetva, as the decree of deposition is called.

It informed Mehemmed Reschad Effendi that he was chosen sultan by the will of the church, the will of the parliament, the will of the army and the will of the people. It admonished him to serve God and to keep the sacred law as communicated by the prophet. This Reschad humbly promised to do.

In receiving a deputation from the national assembly, Mehmet V said:

"I am pleased to become the first constitutional sovereign. Doubtless my successor will improve upon me, but you may rely upon my doing my best. I also have suffered oppression and therefore enter into the feelings of my fellow sufferers. Let us endeavor to work together for the welfare of the country."

When the assembly deputation arrived at the Yildiz, the fetva was handed to Ali Djevad Bey, first secretary, for communication to Abdul Hamid, who, in an inner apartment, was guarded by fifteen eunuchs. Djevad Bey tried to gain admittance by knocking, and after this was continued for some fifteen minutes the door was opened and Abdul Hamid appeared. He accepted the fetva without comment.

The deputation was then ushered into his presence, and the spokesman said: "You no longer reign over us."

Abdul Hamid gave a deep sigh of relief upon being informed that no designs were entertained against his life. He was transported across the Bosphorus to Asiatic Turkey as a prisoner.

ELEVEN MEN KILLED

Disaster on Italian Submarine More Serious Than First Reported

Naples, April 8.—Eleven men were killed and eleven others injured as a result of the explosion here on board the Italian submarine Foca.

The American gunboat Scorpion, although only ninety feet distant from the Foca, suffered no damage. Launches from the Scorpion helped in the work of refloating the Foca.

Ferguson and Langford Draw

Boston, April 28.—By superior physical condition, Sandy Ferguson of Chelsea was able to finish strong in the last two rounds of a twelve round match with Sam Langford of Boston here last night, thereby winning a draw. Little championship form was shown by either of the heavyweights.

—Plans are under way, says the Scientific American, for providing an unusually attractive electrical illumination during the Hudson- Fulton celebration next fall. It has been proposed to light up Washington, Union, and Madison squares and Riverside Park by means of lamps placed in the foliage. Mercury vapor lamps could be used to advantage so as to produce a remarkable effect. The Hudson River will be illuminated with search lights, while prominent buildings on Broadway and Fifth avenue will be outlined with small electric lamps. The city has appropriated $300,000 for this celebration.

—In spite of the rapid increase in the number of automobiles and trolley cars, the horse continues to more than hold his own says the Scientific American. According to figures published in the last report of the Department of Agriculture, the number of horses in the United States increased from 13,537,000 in 1900 to 19,992,000 in 1908, the total value of the same having risen from $603,000,000 to $1,867,000,000. The fluctuations in the average price of horses have been remarkable. In 1893 it was $61 ;in 1897, $37; $4 in 1900, and $93 in 1908.

More Bloody Days Are Likely In Asiatic Turkey

ADANA IN PITIABLE CONDITION

Corpses of Armenians Lie Scattered Through the Streets—Even Babies Are Suffering From Severe Wounds—Fanatics Careful Not to Kill Foreigners—Missionaries In Danger Only When In Midst of Conflicts

Beirut, April 28.—Latest advices received here show little improvement in conditions throughout the disturbed regions of Asiatic Turkey. Every day adds to the sufferings of the refugees and to the death list.

A dispatch from Adana says that the fires have been extinguished, but there is great fear of incendiarism. The American mission buildings, the Catholic sisters' school and one Gregorian church have been saved. The Jesuit and Armenian Catholic and Protestant churches and schools are burned. Twenty thousand persons are destitute and there are few supplies of any kind. Doctors have been sent to the town from Beirut and Tarsus.

Rev. Robert A. Gibbons, a missionary of the American Board of Foreign Missions, stationed at Adana and at Tarsus, was an eye witness of the scenes of terror and destruction at the centre of the Moslem uprising. He says:

"Adana is in a pitiable condition. The town has been pillaged and destroyed, and thousands of homeless people are without means of livlihood. It is impossible to estimate the number of killed. The corpses lie scattered through the streets. Friday, when I went out, I had to pick my way between the dead to avoid stepping on them. Saturday morning I counted a dozen cartloads of Armenian bodies in one-half hour being carried to the river and thrown into the water. In the Turkish cemeteries graves are being dug wholesale.

"The condition of the refugees is pitiable and heart-rending. Not only are there orphans and widows beyond number, but a great many, even babies, are suffering from severe wounds."

Hadjin is still besieged. It has withstood several attacks made upon it from the mountain tops. All of the American missionaries in that town were safe up to Monday night. No direct word has been received from them since then.

Thousands of refugees have arrived at Latakia, but the governor, with the few soldiers at his command, is doing his utmost to prevent disorders. But the Moslem community is strong and he is meeting with much opposition.

The British warship Diana will arrive at Latakia today, as the presence of a ship at that place is absolutely necessary.

Unless the disturbances are immediately checked they will extend into the interior of Mesopotamia, which section is bitterly reactionary.

There is a total of thirty-three American missionaries in Syria and the Cicilian district of the vilalyet of Adana, where the conflicts between Mohammedans and Armenians are raging the fiercest.

The Mohammedans indulging in massacres and incendiarism are apparently very careful to avoid killing foreigners. When in the midst of the fighting and pillaging at Adana it became known to the Mohammedans that Messrs. Rogers and Maurer, the missionaries who lost their lives while attempting to put out a fire in the house of a Turkish widow, were Americans, the fanatics ran away in alarm and practically deserted that quarter of the town.

The missionaries appear to be in danger only from accident arising from the fact that they are in the midst of frightful conflicts in which they bravely seek to protect Christian refugees and conciliate their assailants.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION

Meeting In Buffalo of Leading Women of Baptist Denomination

Buffalo, April 28.—The National Baptist Women's foreign missionary convention, which began a two days' session today in this city, has brought together some of the leading members of the denomination.

The convention began with an informal reception to the members of the national board and returned missionaries and will close with a general missionary rally tomorrow night.

New York, April 28.—The assets of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani were increased by $12,000 by the turning over to the receiver of three automobiles and a steam yacht, the property of Stoppani.

Do Children Need Alcohol?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

BRIEFS

Closing whist tournament of the Granite City club tonight.

Applicants for license to run pool tables appeared before the License Committee of the City Council Tuesday night.

Someone dropped a pair of gold spectacles at City Hall Monday night which were picked up by the Overseer of the Poor, who is looking for the owner.

W. G. Shaw and family of Butler road who are on a trip south write from Fortress Munroe, Virginia that they are having a delightful trip and fine weather.

Ladies of the Fragment society of First church announce a May luncheon for Wednesday afternoon May 5th in the chapel of the church, for which they are planning a tempting menu.

Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern of South Braintree lectures this evening at the meeting of Bethany Church Reading club at 7.30 on "Great men and great epochs."

The South Quincy Juniors would like to arrange games with teams whose ages average about twelve years. Sidney Litchman 303 Water street is the business manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Estabrooks of Wollaston announce the engagement of their daughter Isabel, to Harry Dean Smith of Albion, New York.

Probation Officer Francis A. Spear is arranging to celebrate his birthday early in May in a manner fitting his position as president of the Knocker's club.

Owing to the rush of news it was found necessary at the last moment to crowd out the table showing how the Councilmen voted on the granting of liquor permits. The table will appear tomorrow.

The railroad book of the South Quincy Juniors was won by Hon. William T. Shea much to the delight of the young base ballists. Percy Schwartz is captain of this team and Sidney Litchman, manager.

J. C. Maxwell of East Milton, who has been connected with D. E. Wadsworth & Co., for several years, is very proficient at sign painting, as is attested by several attractive signs recently placed by him on the Ledger building. The signs are in blue with white lettering.

The Tuesday Whist club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Sturgis of Littlefield street, Houghs Neck. Those who captured the souvenirs were Mrs. Walter Sturgis, first; Mrs. John Keenan, second; Mrs. Charlotte Winnett, third and Mrs. Albert Acorn, consolation. After the play tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Tuesday afternoon the Y. M. C. A. baseball league started in earnest. The games were interesting and at times exciting. The most interesting of the three was the game between the Bigelow Jrs., and Highland Red Sox. The games and results were as follows:—Wollaston Park vs So. Quincy Club 15 to 6 in Ward 3. Bigelow Jrs., vs Highland Red Sox 2 to 0 in Ward 2. Christ church vs Hancock A. C. 16 to 4 Merrymount. The next series will be on Saturday morning at ten-thirty. Pictures of the teams are to be taken at ten o'clock Saturday morning at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The Newer Brotherhood

manhood which exists in the community might be preserved?

"The newer brotherhood," continued the speaker, "has brought out a different idea in regard to health. This is a reason for a person looking into the matter of his neighbors' health. Under the old regime we sympathized with a man who was sick. Now we go behind this and ascertain the cause. Formerly we looked at these things from an individual standpoint, now from that of the community.

"In the same way, ideas of education have changed in which the community standpoint is taken rather than the individual."

Dr. Tupper said that the present system of education in force, does not fit a child for his struggle with the world. He spoke of those things which are noticed in the employment bureaus when the general reply as to what special thing a person can do is, nothing in particular. He spoke of a summer school which might be established for backward boys, which would fit the boy to go ahead with his class at the fall term. This would cost the city five or ten dollars per pupil in contrast with the thirty dollars it would cost to have a boy go over his studies a second time in the customary way.

"The newer brotherhood" he said, "takes up the question of the immigrant from three standpoints, the health or sanitary, the civic and moral.

"Life is now being construed from a community rather than an individual standpoint.

The condition of the immigrant is of community importance. Ignorance of English is an economic loss. The civic isolation of the immigrant is a municipal liability and health is a national assest."

Dr. Tupper spoke also of the distorted idea the immigrant holds by his coming in touch with the money changers and other unscrupulous agents the minute he sets foot in this country. "The immigrant needs to be taught," said Dr. Tupper, "that all people are not bank robbers."

He suggested work which might be done by individuals in teaching the immigrant the elements of good citizenship. He told of how the immigrants were influenced for the good by getting in touch with the "key men" of each community. These were almost always suspicious, he said, not understanding why any one should be interested in such a thing if they could not gain themselves by so doing.

Dr. Tupper said that this question of the "new American" touched the moral and educational life of our community and is here for us to solve. There are in this country 3 1-2 million foreigners, he said, who cannot speak the English language and by far a greater number who are in ignorance of civic affairs. The yellow journals speak of the menace of the foreigner. We cannot rely on the state but must do as much as we can individually.

"To sit down and instruct these foreigners, who are all willing to learn," concluded Dr. Tupper, "will do a far greater amount of good than preaching at arm's length."

At the close of the address, Rev. E. A. Chase spoke of the situation in Lawrence and telling from personal observation, how from the lowest order of civilization, in one or two generations, some of the descendants of the immigrants in this country come to take their place among the highest in the land.

The Rev. Wesley Wiggin and President Taylor were called upon to speak and replied in well chosen words.

In the business meeting the question of the good government association was brought up.

C. R. Sherman spoke at length very strongly against an organization of this kind, saying there was no need of one in the community.

It was, however, voted to continue the committee in order that some action upon this subject might be taken in the fall.

The report of the treasurer, F. L. Eastman showed good financial returns from the entertainment recently held and was received with applause.

C. N. Godfrey then read the report of the benevolence committee, which was followed by a chicken supper, served by the young men of the church. This concludes the meetings for the season.

Quincy square was alive with sailor boys this noon from the U. S. scout cruiser Salem, which is at the Fore River works having her engines overhauled. Many of the jackies received shore leave today and took the opportunity to make a hurry trip home those who live anywhere near here.

BASE BALL.

Quincy High journeyed to Bridgewater Tuesday afternoon and easily defeated the Normal school nine by a score of 9 to 2. This is two straight wins for team, the Alumni having been defeated 7 to 4 on Patriots' day. "Stan" Bates and Tabb were the battery for the High school team and both worked well. Tabb was also there with the bat getting three clean hits.

The team played a fast fielding game and gave evidence of developing into a good combination with some faithful practice. Wheeler and Pickett did the battery work for Bridgewater, but they were unable to hold the Quincy boys. The next is scheduled for Friday afternoon when the Abington team is booked to come to Merrymount park.

CRUISER SALEM ARRIVES.

Developed 25 Knots on Speed Run From New York.

The scout cruiser Salem arrived at the Fore River Tuesday from New York. Her boiler castings will be renewed and the company will open her starboard turbines in an attempt to determine the reason for the recent disability of the engine.

It is expected that she will remain at the yard three weeks.

During the trip from New York the cruiser had a two hours full speed run and is reported to have easily made 25 knots.

LIEUT. F. V. McNAIR, U. S. N.

Assigned To Duty on Submarine Work At Fore River Works.

Word comes from Washington, D. C., that Lieut. F. V. McNair has been detached from duty in command of the reserve torpedo flotilla at Norfolk, Va., and assigned to the works of the Fore River shipbuilding company for duty in connection with the construction of submarines. Lieut McNair will have charge of submarines Nos. 13 to 19.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

"O Listen to the Band" was given with a snap and go that thoroughly pleased the audience.

What was announced as a specialty proved to be a whistling solo by Miss Claflin, who also played her own accompaniment. This was most favorably received as was evinced by the hearty applause.

"The Mouse Trap" as acted by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Miss Randall was capital. Miss Hubbard behind the scenes enacted the part of Bridget. The plot centred about a poor little mouse running loose in a flat, an attractive widow afraid of the mouse and an enamoured lawyer also afraid of a mouse. The situations were ludicrous and the clever acting made them more so. Applause was frequent and deserved.

The program closed with the Shakspere Minstrel ladies written especially for the club by Mr. Emery L. Crane who also gave the production his personal attention. This specialty was in charge of Mrs. Hunting and the characters were taken as follows: Juliet, Mrs. Ferguson, Portia, Miss Lane, Ophelia, Mrs. Hunting, Desdemona, Mrs. Ryder, Lady MacBeth, Mrs. Isabelle Davis, Mrs. Charles Sampson was at the piano.

The stage settings were a table and chairs arranged for a game of bridge with Juliet as hostess. To the right was a table upon which was a very small bust of Shakespeare to which was attached a large placard reading W. Shakespeare, Atlantic, which was appreciated by the Shakespeare society of Atlantic. The game did not progress as a fifth caller Lady MacBeth rather upset things. The ladies were all bankrupt as Shakespeare did not seem to be appreciated by theatre goers as in days of yore so they decided to leave the legitimate stage and go into minstrelsy and replenish their pocket books. Chairs were arranged in a semi-circle with Lady MacBeth as interlocutor, Portia as bones and Juliet as tambos. Some very good local and club hits were made also clever puns. The show closed with the recitation of the "Bargain Sale" during which a figure in domino appeared in the aisle bearing upon its head an immense hat of the bee-hive variety labeled "Marked down to $1.99" for which all the minstrel ladies made a rush and last seen of them they were still in pursuit amid hearty and appreciative applause.

Miss Abbie B. Wood was stage manager and to her active cooperation behind the scenes,supplemented by the stage assistants Miss Hubbard and Mrs. Park, was due in a great measure the smoothness and success of mystery afternoon.

The club is indebted to Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Ryder, Miss Claflin and Miss Baxter, non members for their cordial assistance and to Mr. Crane whose kindness was fully appreciated by the Program committee.

For the Program committee was heard words of praise not only for the afternoon's entertainment but for the past year's program.

Of all the different acts on the program and those taking part Mrs. Morton, president of the Quincy Women's club carried off the honors. On every hand were heard praises of her impersonation. Club members were proud of the versatility of their president and were not slow in expressing their approval.

NEIGHBORING.

The Braintree Philergians hold their annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon May 4th, at Cochato hall followed by a club tea. The closing meeting of the season will be on May 18.

The annual meeting of the Old Colony club of South Weymouth was held April 22. The president, Mrs. Gordon Willis, presided. After the reading of the annual reports the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Fletcher W. Howe; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Louis A. Cook, Jr.; 2d vice-president, Mrs. L. Weston Attwood; recording secretary, Mrs. Mason C. Easterbrook; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eugene S. Webber ;treasurer, Mrs. P. Webster Loud; directors, Miss Frances Wheeler, Mrs. Walter R. Field, Mrs. Alfred Richardson, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Miss Helen A. Reed; auditors, Miss Minnie B. Joy, Mrs. Leslie Poole; custodian, Miss Florence Howe. The president for the past two years, Mrs. Gordon Willis, took leave of her duties in a graceful speech and received an enthusiastic vote of thanks for her services. The incoming president, Mrs. Fletcher Howe, gave a short address.

* * *

The annual meeting of the Monday club of Weymouth, was held April 19. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Jennie B. Worster; first vice president, Miss A. Lillian McGregor; second vice president, Mrs. Walter E. Thompson; recording secretary, Mrs. Harriet B. Voorhees; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Martin E. Hawes; treasurer, Mrs. Walter W. Hersey; executive committee, Mrs. Frank A. Pray, Miss Mary A. Fogg, Mrs. Frederick Cate, Mrs. James Ford, Mrs. J. Herbert Walsh; auditors, Mrs. William H. Wilde, Mrs. Lester E. Thompson, Mrs. William C. Earle; custodian, Mrs. Wendall T. Dizer.

The report of Mrs. James B. Jones, chairman of the Stamps Savings Committee was received with much interest. It showed that in the year in which the system has een inb use the children of our schools have saved over nineteen hundred dollars. Two hundred and thirty-nine bank books have been iven ogut which means that two hundred and thirty-nine children have saved at least three dollars and of this two hundred and thirty-nine, ninety-seven have become regular contributors.

Mrs. Jennie B. Worster, Mrs. Ella C. Richards and Mrs. W. M. Tirrell were chosen as delegates to the annual meeting of the State Federation to be held in Springfield in May.

The sum of fifty dollars was voted for the benefit of the Pond Home for Aged People.

Vagaries of a Cold.

You can never be quite sure where a cold is going to hit you. In the fall and winter it may settle in the bowels, producing severe pain. In the summer it may give you colic with diarrhoea or summer complaint. Do not be alarmed nor torment yourself with fears of appendicitis or inflammation of the bowels. At the first sign of the pain or cramp take Perry Davis' Painkiller in warm, sweetened water and relief will come at once. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. It is now put up in a large 35c size as well as the regular 50c.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

$4.00

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

THE PI ETA THEATRICALS

Musical Comedy "The Highflier" given at Music hall

It was a very select audiance that greeted the Pi Eta theatricals at Music hall Wednesday evening to witness the presentation of "The Highflier" a musical comedy in two acts. More than usual interest was taken by Quincy in this year's theatricals from the fact that Henry B. Sheahan '09 a Quincy boy with Allen B. Olmsted '09, wrote the book of lyrics. The tuneful music was by Arthur C. Tilton '10.

Morton Smith '09 another Quincy boy was the stage manager.

It was a thoroughly up to date musical comedy. Its hero was an Italian count, who is an operator of a flying machine.

The scene of the comedy is laid in sunny Italy and the story involves a search by Senator Tanner of Montana for his daughter Marietta, who had been stolen in her infancy by members of the famous Black Hand society.

The senator carries about with him in his search four tutors for his remaining daughter who, as is the senator, a low comedy actor.

In the meantime the nobleman has fallen in love with the missing daughter.

This daughter has been brought up as a sort of slave in a country tavern. On her real identity being revealed she and the count are married and live happily together afterward.

The play abounded in special hits and all of the special characters came in for a generous share of applause.

There was a very large chorus representing men and women who showed notable natural ability and excellent training.

H. F. Boynton and W. D. Owen as the two daughters received a good share of the applause. W. B. Day the senator was particularly amusing, and B. C. Voschell and P. C. Squire the abductor and abductress put heart and soul into their characters.

J. R. Benton, the count, was very clever, as were also the four tutors, L. H. Baker, R. D. Morse, H. D. Tomlin and D. S. Hays.

FINCH—SLAUNWHITE.

A very pretty wedding Wednesday evening was that of Miss Azalia C. Slaunwhite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Slaunwhite of 45 River road Houghs Neck to Mr. James Harry Finch, Jr. of Roslindale.

The ceremony took place at the parsonage of the Bethany church and was performed by Dr. Edwin N. Hardy Miss Teresa Slaunwhite, a sister of the bride was the bridesmaid and Mr. Sydney A. Ludlam of Roslindale the best man.

The bride wore a gown of messelaine silk with insertion of Irish lace and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid's gown was pink batiste.

Miss Eva Slaunwhite and Miss Mary Finch were the flower girls and they were gowned in white. The bride was given away by her father.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride on River road from 8 to 10 o'clock, where a wedding supper was served.

The reception was very largely attended, guests being present from Roslindale and Quincy. The ushers were Horatio Finch and Francis Finch of Roslindale, brothers of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Finch left immediately after the ceremony for a brief wedding trip returning from which they will reside at 5 Bird street Houghs Neck where they will be at home after July 1.

The groom is engaged in the electrical business with his father.

SOCIAL AND DANCE.

Granite Lodge Sons of St. George Have Pleasant Evening.

A very successful social and dance was held at Doble's hall last night, by Granite Lodge 193 Sons of St. George. The President, Arthur Newton, was in the chair, and an entertainment was provided between dances by the following talent. Songs by Messrs. W. Warmington, W. Walker, Roy Prout, J. Wardle and Col. White, and duets by Mrs. E. Beard and daughter. Steve Tinney was an efficient prompter for the square dances and Gilbert Booth presided at the piano.

Ice cream and cake was served by the entertainment committee during the evening. The participators wended their way home at midnight after a most enjoyable evening.

QUINCY ALLIANCE.

Quincy Alliance held its annual meeting on Monday afternoon in the parlor of First church, Mrs. George W. Morton, president in the chair. The meeting opened with the usual devotional service followed by a piano solo by Mrs. Samuel Curtis.

During the business session monthly reports were given followed by the annual reports of the officers. The president, Mrs. F. S. Davis, Mrs. E. C. Butler, with Mrs. Wilson Marsh as alternate ,were elected delegates to the Alliance meeting in Brookline May 3; Mrs. W. B. Nichols, Miss Mary Nightingale delegates to neighborhood meeting in Randolph May 4; Mrs. Edward B. Marsh to South Boston, May 8 and there were also members to attend the Junior Alliance meeting and the neighborhood meeting at Wollaston.

In her yearly report the Recording Secretary announced a membership of 91 showing a steady growth over 73 the previous year. Two members had died Mrs. Charles B. Tilton and Mrs. John A. Holden. The fine program presented this year was entirely due to the interest and personal efforts of the president who had been most faithful and untiring.

Corresponding Secretary had no report.

The Treasurer reported receipts as $153.77, expenditures $149.27 and balance as $4.50.

Committee on barrels to the south reported several barrels packed and sent to colored school.

Mrs. E. C. Butler reported over 500 tracts distributed to church attendants during the year. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Butler for selecting and distributing the tracts and also for her hospitality and kindness in entertaining the speakers at the Alliance meetings.

For the Music committee Mrs. Tirrell said she was indebted to many singers, pianists and accompanists for the good music of the year. Mrs. Tirrell's efforts were appreciated and she was given a vote of thanks as was Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann who contributed the services of Walter E. Loud, violinist at the Neighborhood meeting.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh reported the Alliance basket as well filled and all appeals answered. There were still articles on hand to cover any appeals there might be during the summer.

Mrs. W. B. Nichols for the Cheerful Letter committee said much good had been accomplished by the sending of letters, books and magazines; good literature and letters were appreciated.

Mrs. Thomas Fenno said the work of the Post Office mission had been established and was ready for the next committee to go on with.

Junior Alliance sent in a report which was read by Mrs. E. B. Marsh. This Alliance does its work on the same lines as the regular Alliance. It also is flower committee for the church and sees that there are flowers in the church every Sunday and that they are afterwards distributed to the sick of the parish. The money for their work was raised by dues, and sales and entertainments.

Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Butler were elected delegates to the N. E. Associate Alliance meeting.

The election resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Edward B. Marsh.

1st Vice President—Mrs. Henry Tirrell.

2d Vice President—Mrs. N. S. Hunting.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. W. B. Nichols.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. John Christiansen.

Treasurer—Miss Mary Nightingale.

Directors—Mrs. Thomas Bixby, Mrs. Isabelle Davis, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon Miss Sophie M. French, Mrs. W. F. Hodgkinson, Mrs. Ralph Lovell, Mrs. George T. Magee, Mrs. George W. Morton, Miss Emeline Newcomb, Mrs. Alfred R. Remick.

The retiring president Mrs. Morton said she had made no report but she was brimful of gratitude to all the members for their hearty support through her term of office and she extended her congratulations to the new president, Mrs. Marsh who responded briefly.

A vote of thanks was extended to all the retiring officers for their two years of faithful service, after which the closing hymn was sung and the usual social hour and tea enjoyed.

The meeting of Monday not only marked the close of Mrs. Morton's two years of faithful service as president of the Quincy Alliance but was also her birthday so that she was the recipient of many expressions of good wishes and congratulations.

WOLLASTON ALLIANCE.

The annual neighborhood meeting of the Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church was held on Wednesday. Invitations were extended to twenty-three other Alliances including Braintree, Newton, Cohasset, Brighton, and other surrounding towns. The meeting was an all day affair and nearly one hundred attended.

The morning session, presided over by the local president, Miss Harriet E. Turner, was taken up with reports from the various Alliances and discussions of the branches of their work including missions and cheerful letter work.

Miss Jones of the Bulfinch Place church, Boston, spoke very interestingly of the manner in which children in that part of the city are interested in church work.

At noon the meeting adjourned to the vestry, where a delicious luncheon was served by the following committee, with Mrs. Frank A. Page in charge: Mrs. E. J. Cummings, Mrs. William H. Boynton, Mrs. C. E. Barker, Mrs. H. C. Seymour, Miss Florence Hall, Mrs. E. Tyler Brigham, Mrs. C. S. Comins, Mrs. Gorham Nickerson, Mrs. James H. Geddes and Mrs. George Thompson. The vestry was attractively decorated with ferns and daffodils, the work of the president.

In the afternoon, an address entitled "A plea for loyalty" was delivered by Mrs. Caroline S. Atherton of Boston. Mrs. Atherton, who was formerly president of the N. E. Associate Alliance and is now vice president of the National Alliance, is a most inspiring and delightful speaker. In her address she referred principally to the young people and the reasons they had for being loyal to their church. After a short discussion of some of the questions affecting the Alliance, indulged in by a number of those present, the meeting adjourned.

BIBLE READING CLUB.

Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern of Braintree gave an interesting address Wednesday evening before the Bible reading club of Bethany church on "Conflicting Religious Tendencies and their Results."

Previous to the address Dr. Hardy gave a talk on the Bible. His special subject was the theme, plan and purpose of Isaiah, Micah and Nahum. With a map he told of Palestine in the eighth century.

A Hurry-up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when some thing must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped to healing. Its mission of mercy began seventy years ago. It is used in all countries and millions of bottles are sold annually. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Have you seen the new large 35c. size?

The Daughters of the American Revolution have been given a new name by the comedian in a Washington society play, recently acted in that city.—"Daughters of the Annual Rumpus."

The order for $40,000 for water extensions passed by the City Council Monday night will furnish the Commissioner with the necessary funds to extend the water mains to Rock Island and to Squantum.

Mayor Shea retired to a private room Wednesday with his clerk to study the big bunch of orders granting licenses of various kinds. If he approves them all, he will have to sign his name nearly two hundred times. He may have the writer's cramp when he gets through.

The children who attend the Coddington school are anxious to have the library trustees lay out a path diagonally across the lawn from the main walk to Coddington street. If such a walk were laid out it would save the children many steps in the course of a year.

The disturbance expected in the foreign financial markets as a consequence of Turkish developments failed to develop last week, and European interests not only bought stock on balance in the New York market, but took large amounts of American railway mortgage issues for permanent income yield.

The most important development of the sixth week of the tariff Congress was the semi- official announcement at the White House that the President was not disposed to urge the adoption of any special form of taxation. The President, it is announced, has let it be known that he is satisfied with the Aldrich plan of testing the revenue producing powers of the Senate bill during the six months intervening between its passage and the beginning of the actual work of the next regular session, with a view, however, to urging additional revenue producing legislation at that time if the Aldrich estimates proved oversanguine. It is to be hoped that the bill will fulfill all of Mr. Aldrich's expectations for it—but, like the President, we doubt it.

Japan's gigantic work of administering the affairs of Corea has been not only severely criticised, but denounced as oppressive, cruel and iniquitous to the last degree. As a matter of fact, however, the work accomplished under the direction of Prince Ito has been one of the most beneficent ever performed in that part of the world. Not only in the general government has reform been instituted but currency and taxation systems have been created, the former conditions having been chaotic; railroads, telegraphs, telephones and a postal service have been provided; the coasts have been provided with lighthouses and buoys; waterworks, sewers, hospitals have all received more attention in the past five years than formerly in as many centuries. Altogether Japan has spent about $72,500,000 out of her own treasury, of which $7,500,000 is invested in railroads, from which some profit may be expected. Because the entire work and expenditure will prove of pecuniary profit to Japan, in no way destroys the merit of the vast achievement.

Quincy has long been proud of its public schools which are looked upon by educators everywhere as among the best. From the time of Col. Parker they have been constantly advancing and are today recognized to be among the best.

Bearing this in mind it will be a source of gratification to learn that among 56 cities in the different parts of the country, Quincy stands at the head of the list in percentage of new pupils, in the elementary schools, who reach the eighth grade.

L. P. Ayres speaking on the "Survival and Morality in the Grades" at the meeting of the great educational campaign for boys in Boston Monday said:

"During the past year ,the backward children investigation of the Russell Sage foundation has been conducting extensive investigations of the school records of American cities. One study has had for its aim to determine the proportion of the children who enter school who continue to the final elementary grade. Among 56 cities studied in the different parts of the country, Quincy makes the best record.

"There, of every 100 who start, 82, reach the eighth grade. In Boston, which makes a better showing than any other large city, the number of survivors in the ninth grade is 59 in each 100.

"In New York it is 43; in Philadelphia it is 32; in Baltimore, 29.

"In the matter of continuation to the high school the best record is made ni Newton. There out of every 100 children who enter the first grade 38 complete the high school course.

"No other city approaches this record. In Boston only six get to the fourth year in the high school; in New York, Philadelphia and Camden the number is three."

COLEMAN—LINNEHAN.

John William Coleman, a popular young man of East Braintree and foreman for W. B. Hollis & Son of this town and Miss Nora T. Linnehan, daughter of Mr .and Mrs. Maurice Linnehan of Hingham, were married at the parochial residence in that town Tuesday evening by Rev. Fr. McCall.

The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of white silk with veil and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of pink silk and she carried a bouquet of forget-me-nots. The bride was attended by Miss Catherine Howley of East Weymouth and the best man was Mr. Joseph McDonald of Weymouth.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Fort Hill street and was attended by a large number of the friends of the couple from Weymouth and East Braintree. The couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly gifts. On their return from the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will reside on Hersey street, Hingham.

—In order to do away with the bother attending to exhausted batteries of doorbell systems, a transformer has just been put on the market which enables one to obtain the current from the city mains. The transformer will operate on the ordinary lighting circuits, and can be installed by anyone with a slight knowledge of electricity. As it has no moving parts once installed it will thereafter require no attention. It is adapted to operate on circuits running from 100 to 130 volts, and is provided with taps giving 6, 12, and 18 volts, so as to meet the requirements of various styles and sizes of bells and buzzers.—Scientific American.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS

Do Not Endanger Life When a Quincy Citizen Shows You the Cure.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Quincy testimony:

Charles Somers, living at 17 Newcombe place Quincy, Mas., says: "It is a pleasure for me to make known to other kidney sufferers, the benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills. I had a lame back as the result of weak kidneys for about ten years. I found no relief from the many remedies I tried until Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store and before long this remedy completely cured me. I shall always praise Doan's Kidney Pills and I know this testimonial only voices the sentiments of other Quincy people."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

GRAND OLD MAN OF VERMONT

Holbrook Answers Death's Summons at Age of Ninety-Six

DEAN OF FORMER GOVERNORS

Was Chief Executive of Green Mountain State During Civil War and One of Lincoln's Closest Advisers—Equipped Many Regiments of Troops—Devised Plans For the Care of Injured Soldiers

Brattleboro, Vt., April 29.—Frederick Holbrook, former governor of Vermont, the oldest ex-governor in the country, and one of the last of the Civil war governors, died at his home here last night, aged 96 years.

Death was due to exhaustion, brought on by a recent attack of bronchitis. He retained his faculties to the last moment, and before he died gave his final instructions as to the disposition of his household affairs.

His death was so unexpected that time was not available to summon to the former governor's bedside his only living child, Franklin S. Holbrook of Boston.

Mr. Holbrook was one of the closest of President Lincoln's confreres among the state governors, and his advice at a personal interview was followed by the final call for troops which brought an end to the war.

Frederick Holbrook was born at Warehouse Point, Conn., Feb. 15, 1813. His parents were from Brattleboro, Vt., and they returned there in his infancy. His education was finished at Berkshire Gymnasium, Pittsfield, Mass.

In 1834 Holbrook married Miss Harriet Goodhue of Burlington. He had three children, but one of whom is now living.

His interest in embryonic military affairs led to his election as captain of the Floodwood Militia company at the age of 18 years, and the experience gained in this capacity proved of use in his later duties as governor during the Civil war.

Mr. Holbrook was a Republican in politics. As a member of this party he was elected to the Vermont senate in 1849-50, and was governor of the state in 1861-63. During his term as governor he floated $1,500,000 of bonds at a premium, and equipped many regiments of troops.

His most notable act in office was to devise means for the care of injured soldiers, and it was through him that Vermont was the first state to provide hospitals for its soldiers.

UNION NOT RECOGNIZED

Miners Waive Demand In Their Agreement With Operators

Scranton, Pa., April 29.—The final stage in the work of settling the differences existing between the anthracite mine workers and their employers has been reached.

The tri-district convention of the union miners unanimously approved the three-year agreement reached by their representatives with the operators and authorized them to sign it today in Philadelphia. The agreement is practically identical with the one signed three years ago in New York.

The United Mine Workers' union, under the agreement, is not officially recognized, the miners having waived this demand. The agreement will be signed by the miners' representatives without any official reference to the organization.

GOLF ENTHUSIASTS

They Gather at Atlantic City For the Spring Events

Atlantic City, N. J., April 29.—Golfers from Philadelphia, New York and other cities began play today in the spring event on the local links. Play will continue three days.

The popularity of the links near the ocean always attracts a large number of golfing enthusiasts to Atlantic City, and there is much good natured rivalry between the Gotham and Quaker City players. Other parts of the country are also represented in the tournament.

A Skyscraper Indeed

New York, April 29.—New York is to have the highest hotel in the world, if plans filed with the bureau of buildings are carried out. They call for a thirty-one story structure at the southwest corner of Madison avenue and Forty-second street. From curb to roof the building will be 376 feet high. A local real estate company is behind the project.

Loved Art More Than Life

Denver, April 29.—Herman Linde, an art instructor who came from New York in 1906 and said he possessed art works valued at $500,000 stored in New York, is dead. Linde refused all offers to purchase his paintings, it is said, and he died in poverty as to necessities of life.

Retired Manufacturer a Suicide

Philadelphia, April 29.—William G. Knowles, a retired textile manufacturer, committed suicide at his home by shooting. It is believed ill health led him to suicide. He was 63 years old and was a member of the Union League and other prominent organizations.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward"
SAGE AND SULPHUR
Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK } ss. Rochester, N. Y.
County of Monroe }

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Taft Extends Congratulations to New Sultan of Turkey

FAVORABLE IMPRESSION EXISTS

Faith and Capacity of Young Turks Will Be Tested In Dealing With Massacres of Armenians—Cruisers North Carolina and Montana Will Be Joined by the New York In Mediterranean Waters

Washington, April 29.—Mehmed V, the new sultan of Turkey, has been officially recognized as the reigning ruler of that empire by the Washington government. This action followed the communication of the fact of the accession to the throne of the new sultan to the state department by H. Kiazim Bey, the Turkish ambassador, and similar information from American Ambassador Leishman at Constantinople. A dispatch according recognition, signed by President Taft, was forwarded to Constantinople for presentation by the ambassador there.

MEHMED V.

President Taft's congratulations to Mehmed V were in the following words:

"I offer to your imperial majesty my congratulations on your accession to the throne with such universal acclaim, voiced by the people's representatives, and at a time so propitious to the highest aspirations of the great nation over which you rule as the august head of an excellent government. I assure you of the friendship of the government and of the people of the United States, who earnestly wish for your majesty's happiness and for that of the people within your dominions, and I add my own wishes for your majesty's health and welfare."

A favorable impression has been created in Washington by the remarks attributed to the sultan in his public utterances and the confident hope is expressed that Turkey is about to enter upon a new era of successful constitutional government. This was the view of H. Kiazim Bey in his talk with the state department officials. He is also very optimistic touching the troubles which beset Turkey in the provinces, where the fanaticism of the Mohammedans has resulted in such dreadful slaughter.

From the American standpoint, the permanent improvement in the conditions in Asia Minor and other portions of Turkey where massacres of Armenians occur is the most important duty that confronts the new government. It is in dealing with this question that the faith and capacity of the Young Turks party will be put to a severe test.

Meantime, to meet the situation in Asia Minor, the state department is arranging to put to the best use the American war vessels now gradually approaching Gibraltar. In a measure the disposition of these ships will be left to the American embassy at Constantinople.

The vessels soon to be available are the armored cruisers North Carolina and Montana, now on their way across the Atlantic, and the revenue cutter Tacoma, which arrived at the Azores Wednesday and which was directed to proceed with all haste for Gibraltar.

Announcement is made of the intention of sending the cruiser New York to eastern Mediterranean waters about the middle of next month. The three cruisers, therefore, will form an emergency Mediterranean squadron. The state department is determined that there shall be an adequate naval representation in Turkish waters, to the end that as far as possible American lives and property shall not be sacrificed and destroyed.

INDICATIONS OF MURDER

Mystery In Connection With Death of New Bedford Woman

New Bedford, Mass., April 29.—The body of Hattie Carter, a negress, about 30 years of age, was found in an upper room of a tenement on Water street, the circumstances pointing to murder. From the progress of decomposition it is thought that death occurred at least two weeks ago. The woman had recently paid a fine of $50 on a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

Decomposition had set in to such an extent that the police were unable to say positively that the woman was murdered. The fact that the head was covered with a sheet tightly wrapped about it, that the body was between two mattresses and that the bed had been broken as if in a struggle, made it very improbable that the woman had taken her own life. Nothing was found in the room, however, to furnish a clue to the identity of her supposed murderer.

POWER OF HIGHBINDERS

Interpreters Quail Before Threats of the Chinese Society

Pittsburg, April 29.—Chinese highbinders are interfering with the trial of six Chinamen arrested here recently in a raid made by officers on what was supposed to be a branch of a lottery in San Francisco and a postponement of the case was found necessary.

When a local interpreter failed to give satisfactory testimony, Joseph T. Lee of Philadelphia was brought here under guard. For five minutes his guard left him and when he was called to testify he trembled, began a rambling conversation and asserted that the documents secured in the raid were extracts from the Chinese "Second Reader."

It developed that both interpreters had been threatened with death by a highbinder society if they gave testimony against the accused.

CHILDREN CHAINED IN CENTRAL PARK
In Tow of Nurses to Prevent Serious Accidents

New York, April 29.—"Children on Leash" is a novelty which is attracting considerable attention in Central Park. The little boys and girls are connected to the nurses who have them in charge by means of chains not unlike those used for dogs.

The innovation has been adopted here because of the danger of children running out beyond the curb under the wheels of vehicles which crowd the park drives.

The chains are about twice the length of an ordinary dog chain. One end is fastened to a belt around the waist of the child, while the other end is held by the nurse. The children seemed to enjoy the novel captivity.

ALIENISTS CALLED IN

Make a Three-Hour Visit to Jordan In His Cell

Cambridge, Mass., April 29.—The mental peculiarities of Chester S. Jordan, on trial for the murder of his wife, were set forth by relatives and friends Wednesday as bearing upon the basis of the defense, which is that Jordan was not responsible for the crime.

That Jordan was a backward child, subject to fits and "tantrums," was the main part of the testimony offered by the defense.

Four alienists, two each representing the defense and the government, were closeted with Jordan in the jail last night for three hours. The defense had agreed to allow the district attorney to have two representatives at such an interview.

CHINAMAN MADE A J. P.

EX-SULTAN IN PRISON FOR LIFE
Abdul Hamid and Four of His Wives Sent to Saloniki
IS GENEROUSLY PROVIDED FOR

New Government Would Like to Lay Hands on Part of Fortune Estimated at Over $25,000,000—American Ambassador First of Foreign Representatives to Extend Good Wishes to Mehmed V

Constantinople, April 29.—The former ruler of the empire, Abdul Hamid II, is to be kept a prisoner in a large house with walled grounds on a height overlooking Saloniki, which has lately been occupied by the Italian commander of the International gen d'armerie.

He is not to be put on trial, for he is considered to be above the law. It was thought wise to keep the deposed sultan in European Turkey, remote from the capital. His household will be administered for him upon a generous scale and his life will be safeguarded, as he earnestly besought when notified of his dethronement.

Abdul Hamid, with four wives, five daughters and two of his younger sons, two eunuchs and a comparatively large number of femal servants, was taken from the Yildiz palace Tuesday night and started under an escort to Saloniki. The party proceeded by steam launches to the landing near the railway, and a special train, on which they were placed, left at 3 o'clock in the morning.

The Constitutionalists would like to get back part of the great sums of money that the former sultan is supposed to have abroad, not only because the government is in need of money, but because it is desirable that he should be deprived of the resources for another coup d'etat. Speculation places Abdul Hamid's wealth at anything between $25,000,000 and $200,000,000.

It was mentioned with pleasure at the palace of Mehmed V that the American ambassador was the first of the foreign representatives to communicate his good wishes to the newly proclaimed sultan. The sultan sent his compliments and thanks to Mr. Leishman, expressing pleasure that the representative of the United States was the first to congratulate him.

Although Wednesday was a holiday, courtmartials were held and several of the principals in the mutiny of the troops were condemned to death. Later they were taken outside the walls of the city and shot.

The huge square inside the railings of the war office presented an unusual scene yesterday afternoon. Thousands of soldiers of the late garrison were seated, cross-legged, in companies in a great semi-circle, while officers made the rounds and picked out those suspected of active complicity in the mutiny. The men, however, were cheerful. They chatted and smoked and appeared to bear their disgrace lightly.

Mahmoud Schefket Pasha, commanding the forces, has intimated his intention to purify the capital of all subversive elements and to establish a salutary example to the army. For this purpose the state of siege will be prolonged for probably a month, although it will be relaxed somewhat in the European quarter very soon.

Mehmed V is attending to his court duties, receiving various officials at Dolmabagtsche palace, where he has taken up his quarters in a plain and unceremonious manner. Access to the palace is easy and the sultan's conversation is familiar, the whole being in striking contrast with the conditions that prevailed at the Yildiz. The absence of troops at the palace is marked, and only a few policemen are on duty at the entrance.

Most of the volunteers will leave for their homes today after being entertained at a farewell banquet outside the city walls.

SLAUGHTER CONTINUES

Number of Dead In Adana Province Estimated at Thirty Thousand

London, April 29.—A special dispatch from Mersina says:

Two Turkish regiments, which landed here Saturday, proceeded to Adana, where they resumed, late Sunday night, the wholesale murdering of Armenians and the burning of their property. Thousands were burned to death, while those who attempted to escape were shot down by the troops. The destruction of the town of Adana is complete.

The loss of life in the whole province of Adana is estimated at 30,000. The losses of Europeans in property are enormous. The British and foreign warships here are inactive.

An Alleged Embezzler

San Francisco, April 29.—Eugene Parson, chief clerk of the United States army transport service in San Francisco, was arrested on a charge of having embezzled $1145.

Amnesty For Persian Rebels

Teheran, April 29.—The shah has granted amnesty to the Tabriz revolutionists and has ordered that no opposition be offered to the advance of the Russian troops.

BIG GUNS PRESENT

Deliver Addresses on Occasion of Carnegie Institute Celebration

Pittsburg, April 29.—This city entertained distinguished guests today in the persons of Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States; Joaquin Nabuco, the Brazilian ambassador; Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York city, and Alfred East, the famous English painter. The occasion was the founder's day celebration of the Carnegie institute.

At the exercises the first speaker was Count von Bernstorff, who spoke on "The Constitution of the German Empire." Mr. Nabuco's topic was "Social and Political Relations Between North and South America." Director Clarke talked on "Art and People," and Mr. East delivered the final address on "Art Tendencies of the Carnegie Institute."

WEALTHY "BOY" OF 29

Must Answer to Charges of Burglary and Arson

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 29.—Herbert R. Clark, a wealthy young resident of Rhinebeck, was acquitted by a supreme court jury here of burglary in the third degree. There are five other indictments against Clark, charging burglary and arson. One of them charges Clark with setting fire to the handsome mansion of Robert Huntington at Rhinebeck, which was destroyed, the loss being $50,000.

According to the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution, Clark and his alleged accomplices had been reading dime novels previous to the robbery.

Clark's attorney referred to his client as an "unsophisticated city boy in the country." Clark, who is 29 years old, is married and has a son.

WOULD ESTABLISH HAINS' INSANITY
Father and Brother of Captain Giving Testimony Today

Flushing, N. Y., April 29.—General Peter C. Hains, the defendant's father, was the first witness called this morning, as the defense for Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., continues its attempts to establish the insanity of the army officer who shot and killed William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht club last August.

After General Hains leaves the stand he will be followed by Major Hains, the captain's brother, and then by some thirty witnesses, all of whom will testify concerning Hains' irrational acts following the revelation of his wife's alleged infidelity and her association with Annis, as contended by the prisoner's lawyers.

WOMEN TOILERS

Matters Relating to Their Welfare Discussed In Washington

Washington, April 29.—The executive committee of the women's department of the National Civic federation, of which Mrs. William H. Taft is honorary chairman, met in the Willard hotel today.

The first session of the committee was devoted to business and was directed by the chairman, Mrs. Horace Brock of Philadelphia. The second session consisted of a discussion of welfare work for women toilers and was addressed by Attorney General Wickersham. Women from several sections of the United States who are interested in the federation's work attended the meeting.

The fact that the head was covered with a sheet tightly wrapped about it, that the body was between two mattresses and that the bed had been broken as if in a struggle, made it very improbable that the woman had taken her own life. Nothing was found in the room, however, to furnish a clue to the identity of her supposed murderer.

POWER OF HIGHBINDERS

Interpreters Quail Before Threats of the Chinese Society

Pittsburg, April 29.—Chinese highbinders are interfering with the trial of six Chinamen arrested here recently in a raid made by officers on what was supposed to be a branch of a lottery in San Francisco and a postponement of the case was found necessary.

When a local interpreter failed to give satisfactory testimony, Joseph T. Lee of Philadelphia was brought here under guard. For five minutes his guard left him and when he was called to testify he trembled, began a rambling conversation and asserted that the documents secured in the raid were extracts from the Chinese "Second Reader."

It developed that both interpreters had been threatened with death by a highbinder society if they gave testimony against the accused.

CHILDREN CHAINED IN CENTRAL PARK

In Tow of Nurses to Prevent Serious Accidents

New York, April 29.—"Children on Leash" is a novelty which is attracting considerable attention in Central Park. The little boys and girls are connected to the nurses who have them in charge by means of chains not unlike those used for dogs.

The innovation has been adopted here because of the danger of children running out beyond the curb under the wheels of vehicles which crowd the park drives.

The chains are about twice the length of an ordinary dog chain. One end is fastened to a belt around the waist of the child, while the other end is held by the nurse. The children seemed to enjoy the novel captivity.

ALIENISTS CALLED IN

Make a Three-Hour Visit to Jordan In His Cell

Cambridge, Mass., April 29.—The mental peculiarities of Chester S. Jordan, on trial for the murder of his wife, were set forth by relatives and friends Wednesday as bearing upon the basis of the defense, which is that Jordan was not responsible for the crime.

That Jordan was a backward child, subject to fits and "tantrums," was the main part of the testimony offered by the defense.

Four alienists, two each representing the defense and the government, were closeted with Jordan in the jail last night for three hours. The defense had agreed to allow the district attorney to have two representatives at such an interview.

CHINAMAN MADE A J. P.

Believed to Be the Only One In the United States

Boston, April 29.—Charles K. Shu, probably the first Chinaman to be vested with the authority of justice of the peace in any state in this country, was invested with that authority by the commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Justice Shu is a native of Seattle and is 32 years old. He is a member of a large Chinese importing firm and proprietor of a Chinese restaurant.

"The Conquest" a Failure

London, April 29.—"The Conquest," in which Maxine Elliot and Lewis Waller have been starring jointly in London, will be withdrawn tomorrow. The play has been a failure. The critics said of Miss Elliot's work that she was feeble as an emotional actress.

Old Government Employe Dead

EX-SULTAN IN PRISON FOR LIFE

Abdul Hamid and Four of His Wives Sent to Saloniki

IS GENEROUSLY PROVIDED FOR

New Government Would Like to Lay Hands on Part of Fortune Estimated at Over $25,000,000—American Ambassador First of Foreign Representatives to Extend Good Wishes to Mehmed V

Constantinople, April 29.—The former ruler of the empire, Abdul Hamid II, is to be kept a prisoner in a large house with walled grounds on a height overlooking Saloniki, which has lately been occupied by the Italian commander of the International gen d'armerie.

He is not to be put on trial, for he is considered to be above the law. It was thought wise to keep the deposed sultan in European Turkey, remote from the capital. His household will be administered for him upon a generous scale and his life will be safeguarded, as he earnestly besought when notified of his dethronement.

Abdul Hamid, with four wives, five daughters and two of his younger sons, two eunuchs and a comparatively large number of femal servants, was taken from the Yildiz palace Tuesday night and started under an escort to Saloniki. The party proceeded by steam launches to the landing near the railway, and a special train, on which they were placed, left at 3 o'clock in the morning.

The Constitutionalists would like to get back part of the great sums of money that the former sultan is supposed to have abroad, not only because the government is in need of money, but because it is desirable that he should be deprived of the resources for another coup d'etat. Speculation places Abdul Hamid's wealth at anything between $25,000,000 and $200,000,000.

It was mentioned with pleasure at the palace of Mehmed V that the American ambassador was the first of the foreign representatives to communicate his good wishes to the newly proclaimed sultan. The sultan sent his compliments and thanks to Mr. Leishman, expressing pleasure that the representative of the United States was the first to congratulate him.

Although Wednesday was a holiday, courtmartials were held and several of the principals in the mutiny of the troops were condemned to death. Later they were taken outside the walls of the city and shot.

The huge square inside the railings of the war office presented an unusual scene yesterday afternoon. Thousands of soldiers of the late garrison were seated, cross-legged, in companies in a great semi-circle, while officers made the rounds and picked out those suspected of active complicity in the mutiny. The men, however, were cheerful. They chatted and smoked and appeared to bear their disgrace lightly.

Mahmoud Schefket Pasha, commanding the forces, has intimated his intention to purify the capital of all subversive elements and to establish a salutary example to the army. For this purpose the state of siege will be prolonged for probably a month, although it will be relaxed somewhat in the European quarter very soon.

Mehmed V is attending to his court duties, receiving various officials at Dolmabagtsche palace, where he has taken up his quarters in a plain and unceremonious manner. Access to the palace is easy and the sultan's conversation is familiar, the whole being in striking contrast with the conditions that prevailed at the Yildiz. The absence of troops at the palace is marked, and only a few policemen are on duty at the entrance.

Most of the volunteers will leave for their homes today after being entertained at a farewell banquet outside the city walls.

SLAUGHTER CONTINUES

Number of Dead In Adana Province Estimated at Thirty Thousand

London, April 29.—A special dispatch from Mersina says:

Two Turkish regiments, which landed here Saturday, proceeded to Adana, where they resumed, late Sunday night, the wholesale murdering of Armenians and the burning of their property. Thousands were burned to death, while those who attempted to escape were shot down by the troops. The destruction of the town of Adana is complete.

The loss of life in the whole province of Adana is estimated at 30,000. The losses of Europeans in property are enormous. The British and foreign warships here are inactive.

An Alleged Embezzler

San Francisco, April 29.—Eugene Parson, chief clerk of the United States army transport service in San Francisco, was arrested on a charge of having embezzled $1145.

Amnesty For Persian Rebels

Teheran, April 29.—The shah has granted amnesty to the Tabriz revolutionists and has ordered that no opposition be offered to the advance of the Russian troops.

BIG GUNS PRESENT

Deliver Addresses on Occasion of Carnegie Institute Celebration

Pittsburg, April 29.—This city entertained distinguished guests today in the persons of Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States; Joaquin Nabuco, the Brazilian ambassador; Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York city, and Alfred East, the famous English painter. The occasion was the founder's day celebration of the Carnegie institute.

At the exercises the first speaker was Count von Bernstorff, who spoke on "The Constitution of the German Empire." Mr. Nabuco's topic was "Social and Political Relations Between North and South America." Director Clarke talked on "Art and People," and Mr. East delivered the final address on "Art Tendencies of the Carnegie Institute."

WEALTHY "BOY" OF 29

Must Answer to Charges of Burglary and Arson

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 29.—Herbert R. Clark, a wealthy young resident of Rhinebeck, was acquitted by a supreme court jury here of burglary in the third degree. There are five other indictments against Clark, charging burglary and arson. One of them charges Clark with setting fire to the handsome mansion of Robert Huntington at Rhinebeck, which was destroyed, the loss being $50,000.

According to the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution, Clark and his alleged accomplices had been reading dime novels previous to the robbery.

Clark's attorney referred to his client as an "unsophisticated city boy in the country." Clark, who is 29 years old, is married and has a son.

WOULD ESTABLISH HAINS' INSANITY

Father and Brother of Captain Giving Testimony Today

Flushing, N. Y., April 29.—General Peter C. Hains, the defendant's father, was the first witness called this morning, as the defense for Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., continues its attempts to establish the insanity of the army officer who shot and killed William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht club last August.

After General Hains leaves the stand he will be followed by Major Hains, the captain's brother, and then by some thirty witnesses, all of whom will testify concerning Hains' irrational acts following the revelation of his wife's alleged infidelity and her association with Annis, as contended by the prisoner's lawyers.

WOMEN TOILERS

Matters Relating to Their Welfare Discussed In Washington

Washington, April 29.—The executive committee of the women's department of the National Civic federation, of which Mrs. William H. Taft is honorary chairman, met in the Willard hotel today.

The first session of the committee was devoted to business and was directed by the chairman, Mrs. Horace Brock of Philadelphia. The second session consisted of a discussion of welfare work for women toilers and was addressed by Attorney General Wickersham. Women from several sections of the United States who are interested in the federation's work attended the meeting.

FAILED TO SHOW UP

Chinamen Who Put Up Bonds of $500 Each Have Disappeared

New York, April 29.—Seven Chinamen, who were found in a freight car at Morristown, N. J., last February, half dead from cold and hunger, have in effect paid $500 each for the privilege of remaining in this country.

Each forfeited bail in this amount by failing to appear before a United States commissioner yesterday in Hoboken. When captured in the freight car all put up cash bonds. The $3500 will be sent to Washington.

Cordial Welcome Pleases Admiral

Los Angeles, Cal., April 29.—Admiral Ijichi, commanding the Japanese training squardon, reiterated his surprise and gratification at the cordial welcome extended. The squadron is scheduled to sail today for San Francisco.

BRIEFS

Dr. Ross K. Whiton and family left Quincy today for Bradford, where they will make their future residence.

Although there has been no formal opening thus far of the Quincy Yacht club, the club house is open every day and janitor Pray is on duty.

Pupils of the Quincy Mansion school are to present two French plays Friday evening, under the direction of Professor Marceau.

The George H. Yorks, formerly of Phillips street, are now occupying their new home at 277 Newport avenue.

Mrs. Harry B. Wells, who has been suffering with grip for the last few weeks and in care of a trained nurse is boarding in Winthrop for two weeks. Little Miss Barbara is staying with Mrs. William Lambert.

The weekly whist tournaments of the Granite City club closed Wednesday night until next fall. Six tables were in play, the highest percentages being secured by W. O. Wellington and J. H. Johnson.

The Richmond house on Winter street has been closed on account of the lack of boarders. The proprietor Mr. Spence left Wednesday for California whence his family will follow shortly.

George L. Gill Rebekah lodge has invited the members of Mt. Wollaston lodge to help them celebrate the ninetieth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship at Odd Fellow's hall Thursday evening.

The Laicos club holds its next meeting Saturday evening at the home of Leon D. Brown on Elm avenue. The question, Resolved that billboards should be abolished, will be discussed, William Northrop taking the affirmative and Everett Rhodes the negative.

Charles M. Thompson of Berlin street has accepted a lucrative position with William & Rudoff, wool, located on Summer street, Boston. This concern is one of the largest wool houses in the city.

Quincy Court, No. 76, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters will hold its annual concert and ball tonight in Music hall. The committee in charge of the affair have worked hard completing arrangements for the ball and hope to make this the most successful in the history of the Court.

The Bonita club will hold a May party Saturday evening in Electa hall. The club is made up of young ladies who spent the summer on the shores of Town river and they are taking this way of keeping up friendship during the winter. This is one of a series that have been held during the winter.

Some fast baseball is assured for Saturday afternoon when the Makaria team crosses bats with the crack Page class team at Merrymount park. Page was the runner up for the pennant in the Boston Church league last year and always plays a fast game. Makaria has yet to lose a game this year, having won the three games she has played so far. The manager also wishes to state that the "Makaria A. C." has no connection whatever with the team that represents the Makaria Fraternity of Bethany church.

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 95 March 22, 1909.

ORDERED:

That the ordinance establishing fire districts and regulating the construction and inspection of buildings be amended as follows:—

Strike out the second paragraph of Section 5.

Strike out the first paragraph of Section 7 and insert in place thereof the following:—

Section 7. Every person intending to erect any building or to raise, move or make any additions or alterations in any building or its foundation, already erected or hereafter to be built within the limits of the City of Quincy, except necessary repairs not affecting the foundations, external partition walls or party walls, chimneys or stairways, before proceeding to make or erect the same or to lay the foundations thereof, shall file an application for a permit with the Inspector of Buildings on forms furnished by him giving a description of the building or additions, alterations or repairs, number on and name of the street, or if unnumbered the precise location of said property, and the name of owner or owners thereof, and shall submit plans of said work or buildings for examination and approval .

Add the following section to be numbered Section 12:—

Add the following to Section 2 of the rules and regulations:—

Whenever piles are required to be driven for a foundation they shall be of suitable stock driven to a firm and solid bearing, and the tops shall be cut off on a level to insure constant immersion, there shall be not less than two rows under all external and party walls and they shall be spaced not over three feet on centres in the direction of the length of the wall.

All piles shall be capped with granite block levellers not less than sixteen inches thick, each stone to have a firm bearing on at least two piles in each row or concrete not less than two feet in thickness. Any wooden building erected on soft and marshy ground for use as workshop or other like purposes or as a temporary structure may, with the aproval of the Inspector of Buildings be constructed on mud sills, concrete or piles.

Add the following paragraph to Section 10:—

No opening shall be made in any wall separating a store, either from a habitation or stairway leading to a habitation.

Add the following paragraph to Section 17:—

All roofs hereafter to be constructed or renewed within the limits of District No. 1 shall be covered with slate or other incombustible material; also all gutters within the said district hereafter constructed shall be of metal or covered with metal.

Add the following words to paragraph 2 of Section 18:—

In no case shall a chimney be built more than 4 inches out of plumb, unless the same is attached to a brick wall, the outside of all chimneys to be plastered from the first floor to the roof boards .

Add the following paragraph to Section 18:—

The builder in charge of construction or the owner of the premises shall give notice to the Inspector of Buildings whenever any parts are ready for inspection. If those parts are to be covered in the further construction of the building, the Inspector shall respond promptly and in no case shall he delay more than twenty-four hours after such notice has been received.

Strike out paragraph 2 of Section 25 and insert in place thereof the following:—

2. All wooden partitions about the stairway shall be filled in between the studding and floor joist with brick and the spaces between stringers or carriages of all wooden staircases, unless said stringers or carriages are left exposed, shall be closed at intervals not exceeding three feet by a fire stop of two inch stock.

In Section 26 add the following word after the word " buildings" in the first line:— "in districts No. 1 and No. 2" so that said section shall read:—

Foundations of wooden buildings in districts No. 1 and No. 2 shall rest upon solid ground or suitably driven piles and shall be built 3 feet below frost.

Also add the following paragraph to Section 26:—

In District No. 3 wooden structures for dwellings, manufacturing or business purposes, not exceeding two stories in height, may be built on stone or brick foundation or on suitably driven piles as aforesaid in Section 2, of the ordinance or on piers or posts each set on a hard bottom but to a depth of not less then four feet below the surface of the ground. Said piers, posts and piles to be spaced not more than eight feet on centers or said structures may be built on mud sills resting on cross pieces of plank three inches or more in thickness not less than four feet long and ten inches wide placed at intervals of not more than three feet on centers.

Section 31. All wooden buildings and their projections having a floor area of or more than 300 square feet, or over one story in height, used as dwellings, stores, stables or for manufacturing purposes, shall have sills not less than 6 x 6 inches or 4 x 8 inches and if over one story and a half high, girts and posts not less than 4 x 6 inches and if three stories high posts 4 x 8 inches shall be used, posts, girts and sills mortised and tenoned and pinned together, and wherever ledges are used in dwelling there shall be fire stops cut in tight of the same size as wall studs.

All buildings of over three stories in height or where the third floor in two story buildings is used for dwelling or tenement purposes, shall have a staircase from street level to top floor with a scuttle to roof for at least every three families occupying the building, or front and rear staircases not opening into the same corridor but connecting with all floors, or shall be provided with suitable fire escapes connecting each floor. The Inspector may require that proper fire stops shall be provided in floors, walls and partitions of such buildings and make such further requirements as may be necessary or proper to prevent the spread of fire therein or its communication from any steam boiler or shop or heating apparatus.

Add the following paragraph to Section 36:—

Every building shall have, in reference to its height, condition, construction, surroundings, character of occupation and number of occupants, sufficient means of egress in case of fire, and such means of egress shall be satisfactory to the Inspector of Buildings.

Add the following paragraph to Section 37:—

All roofs of buildings abutting on any street or sidewalk shall be so guarded as to prevent snow, ice or water from falling on said street or sidewalk.

In all buildings hereafter built or remodelled within the limits of the City of Quincy, all water-closet compartments must have a window opening upon the street or yard or upon a court or vent shaft.

Ordinanee No. 20 is hereby repealed.

Mrs. Robert P. Sinclair had charge of the entertainment and provided an excellent program both evenings of the fair.

MONTHLY MEETING.

Woman's Missionary Society, Park and Downs Church.

The monthly meeting and supper was held in the vestry of the Park and Downs Congregational church Wednesday under the auspices of the Women's Missionary society.

C. Ralph Taylor, principal of the Wollaston and Massachusetts Fields schools gave an interesting talk on "The school." The Sunday school was spoken of by Mr. Burpee Banks and the infant department by Mrs. James MacDonald. Mrs. William Thompson represented the Women's Missionary society and Miss Geraldine Scott, the Christian Endeavor. Warren Humphrey, president of the Excelsus class, a boy's organization but recently formed, spoke of the good work it is doing among the young men of the community.

Those present were favored by a vocal solo by Mrs. J. L. Hill, accompanied on the piano by Miss Nettie Gram. The evening closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne by the entire company. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. Charles Bryant, Mrs. Northrop, Mrs. A. M. Barstow and Mrs. Arthur Capen.

DIPLOMAS AWARDED.

Five Y. M. C. A. Boys Successfully Pass First Aid Exams.

The First Aid class No. 229, at the Y. M. C. A. which held its final examinations April 13, have received notice of the result of the examintion. Five competitors were successful in passing and their diplomas have been sent from the Medical department of the First Aid Association.

The diplomas, signed by Clara Barton the national president, are on exhibition at the Y. M. C. A. building and will be presented on May 4, at the Parents' Night and gym exhibtion.

Great credit is due Herman Ulrich the instructor of the class, for the excellent work done. The successful students were Louis Hirschy, Ralph G. Merritt, William J. Childs, George H. Ellis, and Joseph W. Pinel.

CITY COUNCIL CONDEMNED

Houghs Neck Associates to Take Action on School Lot

The Houghs Neck Associates, held their regular bi-monthly meeting in their clubhouse at Houghs Neck, Wednesday evening. The principal matter discussed was the action of the city council relative to the school house question.

The action of the council was condemned in pretty strong language by many of the members. The school committee were instructed to call a special meeting of their committee to take immediate action. The ways and means committee reported that nearly $150 was realized from the minstrel show. A vote of thanks was tendered to Ben Johnson for his kindness in presenting the lumber of the stage to the association and also to the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co. In fact a vote of thanks was extended to everyone that participated in the show from, Henry W. French, the director to the kid that passed the programs.

The following committees made reports that were accepted as progressive, public landing, sewer, garbage, auditing, house, ways and means, school, street and building ordinances

The committtee appointed to amend the by-laws reported recommending that the majority of the by-laws be amended. Each article was discussed and accepted.

The chair appointed the following to comprise a committee to look after the matter of water service extensions, Ernest Norteman, Burtis E. Dunn. Charles F. Cook and James P. S. Purcell.

Several complaints were made about the failure of the garbage wagon to call at certain houses, the chairman of the garbage committee was instructed to see the Mayor and the chairman of the Board of Health to see if the matter could not be settled.

The committee appointed to secure a suitable site for a permanent home for the association reported back four sites. It was voted that the report be laid upon the table until the next meeting.

As the association were forced to vacate the building they now occupy at the end of this month and that they had no place to meet after that date it was voted that a special meeting be called for Friday night for the purpose of taking action.

The question of street watering for the summer was brought up and the present street committee were instructed to wait upon the Commissioner of Public Works to see what streets were to be watered or oiled at the Neck this coming summer.

The meeting adjourned at 12.35 until Friday night this week.

$2.25 Worth
OF KICKAPOO MEDICINES
For $1.00
For Two Days Only---
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
APRIL 30 and MAY 1st

Since our representative has been at Murphy's Drug store, the sales of Kickapoo Sagwa, of which he has been giving free trial bottles, have become enormous. It seems as if almost everybody in Quincy and vicinity had bought Sagwa. They evidently have all been satisfied. So many of them have returned and told us of the splendid results received from Sagwa that we are more than gratified. Practically no one has reported disappointment in the results obtained.

However, we have a special offer that we wish to make. We believe that our other Kickapoo medicines are equally as good as Sagwa. We want to have all the people of Quincy and vicinity know about them also, and use them as much as they use Sagwa. We have so much confidence in all of our remedies that we believe that when people have once used them, they will become regular family remedies in every household . In order to get everyone to using all of our Kickapoo medicines, we have thought of the following proposition which, we are now making to every person who reads this paper.

In order to give you an opportunity to try our other Kickapoo medicines without cost, and in order that you can be convinced of their remarkable virtues, we will give free of charge one only to every one who buys a dollar bottle of Sagwa, a regular siz 25c package of each of the following remedies:

Kickapoo Oil, regular price 25c
Kickapoo Pills, regular price 25c
Kickapoo Healing Salve, regular price 25c
Kickapoo Cough Cure, regular price 25c
Kickapoo Worm Killer, the best Children's Medicine, regular price 25c

Regular $2.50 worth for $1.00.

In accepting this special offer which is given for two days only, you do not pay one cent for all five of these standard household highest quality medicines . You pay only the regular price, $1, for a large size bottle of Kickapoo Sagwa, the finest medicine for stomach and liver troubles and for rheumatism and other diseases of the kidneys.

Cut this advertisement out and bring it with you to our representative at Murphy's Drug Store, and upon the purchase of one dollar bottle of Sagwa, you will be presented with the five regular 25c packages of the above five medicines. This offer cannot be taken advantage of more than once by the same person. Do not wait or you may be too late. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company, Clintonville, Conn.

"GOD HELP US I SHOT THE MAN"

Finnemore Admits To Police He Shot Grant At Milton

A hearing was held before Judge Avery in the district court this morning in the case of Charles W. Finnemore who it is alleged shot Wesley M. Grant at his store on Squantum street East Milton on the night of April 10.

The defendant was represented by Philip H. Sullivan.

Mr. Grant the victim of the assault was the first witness. He testified that on the night in question he was getting ready to close up about 9.20. He had blown the lights out when a man appeared at the door and said "Am I too late?" Witness said he replied "Pretty near so." The man asked for a piece of tobacco and witness lit the lamp and went behind the counter.

As he turned to hand him the tobacco he placed a revolver in his face and said "Give me every cent you have got." Witness replied "I guess not." The man then put the revolver in my face and fired. Witness said he was able to stagger to the door and shout for help. Witness said he could see indistinctly.

When asked if he could recognize the defendant Mr. Grant asked that the defendant be brought from the cage Wnen Finnemore was brought out Mr Grant said "there is no doubt this is the man."

Under cross examination Mr. Grant said he did not know whether the man was under the influence of liquor or not. The revolver was held within a few feet of his face.

Walter M. Bates who resides near Grant's store said he was in bed and was awakened by a muffled report. The next moment he heard a holler. Jumping from bed he ran to the window and heard cries for help. His wife then shouted "Wesley, Walter is coming."

Witness then went down and found Mr. Grant on the steps.

Witness then ran to telephone the police. As he did so he saw a woman in a dark corner of the street 100 feet below the store. Thought at first it was one of his neighbors. Witness saw man run down side of hill toward the woman who was waiting for him.

Dr. Rowe who dressed the wound described the course of the bullet.

Officer Maley told of the incidents that led up to the arrest of Finnemore at Braintree. At the police station the coat, cap and other articles found were shown him and he claimed that all belonged to him except one pair of stockings.

Chief Pierce said to Finnemore, "Did you shoot the old man?" "No I did not," replied Finnemore.

After some further questioning Finnemore said "I might as well make a long story short. God help us, I shot the man."

Asked why he did it Finnemore replied, "I could not see my wife starving."

George P. Bertram testified to finding a coat, mask and hat 300 yards from the store Sunday morning. There were bullets in the overcoat.

James A. Bavis testified to finding two boxes of cartridges, a revolver and doctor's bill on the Wollaston golf links and giving them to Officer Larkin.

Bertie Perkins of East Braintree testified that he went to Manchester, N. H., with Finnemore the latter part of March and came back April 5.

As they passed Grant's store, Finnemore said "that is a good place to break in."

No evidence was offered by the defence and Finnemore was held in $5000 for the grand jury.

PRESIDENT BOWLES RETURNS.

Arrives Home After Extensive Tour Of European Countries.

Francis T. Bowles, president of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, returned Wednesday from an extended tour through England and Europe. President Bowles arrived in New York on Tuesday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II and came to Quincy the day following. Nothing definite can be learned concerning the rumored contracts procured by the company, as it will be several months before the contracts are awarded. When President Bowles left Europe all the bids were not in, but probably are by this time. They must then be sent to Buenos Ayres, where they will be examined. The contracts will then be awarded. While in Europe, President Bowles was given a private hearing in regard to his bids and was allowed to explain them and give information not therein contained.

President Bowles is looking fine after his trip, during which he visited England, France, Germany and other European countries.

PERMIT NOT WANTED.

Had Rather be a Policeman Brave and True.

There is a humorous side to almost everything. So it was with the matter of granting permits to transport liquor. Among the applicants was one who turned out to be a hostler in a City Square stable.

He had seen Quincy's brass buttoned blue coats pass and repass and had reached the conclusion that they had a snap and that he would also like to be one of them. He imagined to himself doubtless how he would look in uniform and his breast swelled with pride.

A civil service examination was to be held for policemen and he determined to make a try.

City Hall was visited and an application blank asked for. Through some misunderstanding instead of getting a civil service blank he got a blank application for a permit to transport liquor.

He was not sufficiently familiar with the blanks to understand that a mistake had been made. The blank was filled out and in due time it reached the City Council instead of the Civil service examiners.

The day for the civil service examination passed and he wondered why it was he was not notified to appear, or to receive a notice that he was now a policeman.

The City Council Committee on licenses with Chief of Police Burrell learned that the man had no intention of going into the express business but that he wanted to be a policeman brave and true.

FELL IN STREET.

George Gray Overcome By Illness In City Square.

Quite a little excitement was aroused in City Square shortly after 5 o'clock Thursday evening, when an unknown man fell to the street as though dead.

The man had just stepped from a Brockton car and started toward the depot, when without warning, he dropped.

Officer Murray summoned Medical Examiner Jones and the man was rushed to the City Hospital in the Police ambulance.

It was later learned that the man was George Gray of 13 Melville street, Boston, and that he was subject to acute attacks similar to that which seized him in City Square. The man had recently been released from the hospital at Brockton, where he was taken, suffering from a similar attack.

ODD FELLOWSHIP ANNIVERSARY

George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge Entertains Mt. Wollaston Lodge

Members of Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows were present at Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening as guests of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge to help them celebrate the ninetieth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship. The celebration was very largely attended the deputy Mrs. Ivonetta White and suite of Hyde Park being among those present.

During the first part of the evening there was a short entertainment.

The program opened with a selection by the I. O. O. F. orchestra.

Other numbers included readings by Mr. Houghton, and Mrs. Morris; vocal solos by Miss Douglas, Dr. F. E. Dawes and Miss Ewell cornet solo by Mr. Critchley and piano solo by Miss Barron.

The Noble Grand then read the following poem written for the occasion:

An Odd Fellow grand
Some ninety years ago
In roaming o'er this land,
Found Quincy out
And set about
A lodge to institute.
Nor long did it take
For at two-forty rate
'Twas formed without a dispute.
The boys were positive, they said,
That they had within their heads
The business of that Order, see!
All the way from A to Z.
But they changed their little tune
When eleven years ago
The Rebekahs began to boom
And they found it was just so
Without the ladies there's no show
For a man in good old Quincy town.
And now together they are working
With not a single duty shirking
But always have a new story to relate
About bringing in a candidate.
For in war or in peace they are always the same,
Working for honors and upholding their name.
And so till life itself be gone
Until the end our one glad song
Shall keep us with a firmer hold
And with stronger love than that of old
We will work together year by year
Trying some burden to lighten and some heart to cheer.

At the conclusion of the entertainment ice cream and cake was served and there was dancing in the banquet hall until midnight.

INDIAN PRINCESS TALKS.

In these times of woman's advancement, a word or two from an aboriginal person of the sex on certain living issues should prove interesting. Princess is the wife of White Horse and is a woman of pronounced opinions. She is the high authority in White Horse's tepee. Among his fellows, the Chief is a person of some function, but in the wigwam his wife takes the centre of the stage and holds it. She is competent to maintain her rights and make her position good.

"These equal rights discussions," said Princess, when her views were craved, "have a varying effect on me. Why women should care to abate their priviledges in any degree, why they should get up and absolutely clamor for the abragation of the great natural contract which was drawn in our favor, is beyond my capacity to perceive. White Horse," she said, "would make a fine figure of a housekeeper, wouldn't he? The horses would want grass a long time, and one would count their ribs, poor things, if they waited for White Horse to mow the stake. We would have much wood for fire, and our clothes would be in a fine decorative state, if White Horse were to take to woodcutting, or doing head work.

"I am not criticising White Horse, understand," she went on. "He is all right on the hunt, or to represent the family needs at the agency on ration day, and you can't find a man in the whole Indian country who can come nearer to getting the better end of the pony trade than he, but you can see yourself, he is not built for corn hoeing—he is too tall—he could not reach down.

"There is a general misconception of the affairs in our nation," she said. "It seems to be the prevailing opinion that the Indian woman is oppressed and down- trodden. Don't believe it. I know who is chief of staff in the homes of the Kickapoos. It is the woman. We have nothing to equalize White Horse in a big Chief among men, but personally I conduct affairs at the fire-side. Our duties are wholly different, and I should smile to see White Horse, or any other kind of a horse, mixed up with my affairs. I have said enough."

Princess smiled brightly, and returned to her work in the window of Murphy's Drug Store.

It gives one the blues to look at that newly painted building on Hancock street near Hall's stable.

The prophet who said the weather in April would be like that in March hit the nail on the head.

Quite a few citizens have purchased new automobiles to be delivered the fifteenth of May. By that time they will escape having to pay taxes on them this year.

Ex-Assessor J. W. Pratt called at the Assessor's office Thursday and delivered up some books and papers belonging to the board.

In comparing the speed tests between the scout cruiser Salem equipped with the Curtis turbines and the Chester equipped with the Parsons turbines some things should be considered.

The Salem has two turbines, one of which was disabled and two propellers, while the Chester was equipped with four turbines and four propellers.

Yet with these the Chester was only able to beat the Salem one-half a knot which is something remarkable. Had the Salem been in good working order the Chester would probably not have been in the race.

When the matter of a school building at Houghs Neck was brought up a year ago the residents of that section said they would be satisfied with almost anything for a school building. Not a few even being willing to accept the remodelled old Coddington building.

At best but a four room building was wanted. As time went on however their ideas have changed for now the residents are asking for an eight room brick building with assembly hall.

This means the expenditure of a large sum of money, much larger than the city should be called upon to expend when it is considered that grammar and primary pupils are the only ones the school committee contemplate sending to that school.

At the outside there are not 200 children of these grades in the Houghs Neck district and it is hard to understand just why an eight-room building with assembly hall is needed.

With the pressing needs of school accommodations in other districts the Houghs Neck people should be a little more moderate in their demands.

It is an old saying that you can drive a horse to water but you can not make him drink. So it is with Houghs Neck. A little diplomacy may assist them in obtaining their desires while to pursue the policy of condemning the members of the City Council for voting on the school lot appropriation as thought best might lead to their getting no school building this year.

NORTHFIELD SUMMER SCHOOLS.

The recent Commencement at Mount Hermon, Mr. D. L. Moody's preparatory school for young men, was the opening event of the summer activities at the Northfield schools. A declamatory contest, which set a new tide-mark, a remarkable class day, and a commencement address by Dr. J. H. Denison, of the Central church of Boston, were the principal events of the week itself, while a fitting conclusion was the grand chorus concert given by the combined choruses of Mount Herman and Northfield seminary, under the leadership of Lewis S. Chafer. The program included selections from Costa's "Naaman" and Handel's "Messiah."

Mount Hermon's school year is by no means over, as the four months summer term, offering even greater advantages than the other two, will shortly be in session. Northfield seminary, however, closes with other schools in June, and its beautiful campus and buildings become the seat of the well-known Northfield conferences.

The dates of the different sessions follow: Young Men's Conference, July 2 to 11: Young Women's conference, July 13 to 20; Women's Home Missionary Conference, July 14 to 20; Summer school for Women's Foreign Missionary Societies, July 22 to 29; Summer school for Sunday School Workers, July 22 to 29; General Conference of Christian Workers, July 31 to August 15; Post Conference, August 17 to about October 1.

WHOLESALE EXECUTIONS

Two Hundred and Fifty Conspirators Are Put to Death

INSTIGATOR PUBLICLY HANGED

Nadir Pasha's Name Was a Terror Under Abdul Hamid—Intensely Ambitious and Insensible to Sufferings of Others—Former Sultan Pleaded In Vain Not to Be Taken to Saloniki—Fairly Stunned by Fear

Constantinople, April 30.—The Constitutionalists have lost no time in bringing the conspirators in the recent rising to trial. The military court, sitting in the war office, condemned about 250 prisoners to death and they were executed.

Nadir Pasha, the second eunuch of the palace, under the regime of Abdul Hamid, was hanged on the Galata bridge, the great thoroughfare that connects Stamboul with the quarters of Galata and Pera. The body was allowed to swing many hours.

Several thousands of the people stopped to look at the great Nubian whose name was a terror under Abdul Hamid. The dead man's face showed an undershot jaw and thick, heavy lips. In life he had been fully six feet four inches tall.

Nadir was executed after a trial by courtmartial, on the charge that he instigated the mutiny of the troops on April 13. He was reputed to be intensely ambitious, subtle-minded and insensible to the suffering of others. Nadir Pasha came to the imperial palace as a slave and grew up in that hothouse of intrigue.

It is alleged that the chief authors of the recent mutiny were Abdul Hamid's favorite son, Prince Mehmed Eddine, Rear Admiral Said Pasha, son of Kiamil Pasha, the former grand vizier, and Nadir Pasha, who was engaged for a long time prior to the rising in corrupting the troops. The two former have fled.

Asni Bey, inspector general of the Saloniki police, who was charged with the transport of the former sultan to Saloniki, relates that when he arrived at the palace at 1 o'clock in the morning he found Abdul Hamid in a large salon, which was illuminated as though for a gala occasion by every candle and torch that could be found in the building. This was because Abdul Hamid dreads darkness; he has always been in fear of the assassin. He sat quite alone, with the exception of two eunuchs, in a corner in the same negligent attire as on the previous day, when the deputation from the national assembly notified him of his deposition.

On being informed that he must depart he beseechingly appealed not to be taken to Saloniki. He wanted to go to the Cheraghan palace. Finding his supplications in vain, he resigned himself to his fate. He entered the carriage in a dejected manner and spoke not another word.

On arriving at the railway station he appeared to be stunned by fear and was obliged to steady himself by grasping the railing leading into the salon, which, by the irony of fate, was a splendid carriage, bearing his own monogram, which he himself ordered built, but had only ridden in once—a short ride which left him with a hatred for railways. This, therefore, was his first long journey in the imperial car.

The government has decided to send a commission to Adana to try by courtmartial the instigators of the massacres,

WROTE THREATENING LETTER

Whitla Summoned to Appear Against Two Young Men

Boston, April 30.—A summons for the appearance of James P. Whitla of Sharon, Pa., as a witness at the hearing of the two young men arrested in this city on Tuesday last, charged with sending a letter to Whitla demanding $10,000 and threatening to kidnap his son, Willie, has been sent to the United States marshal at Scranton, Pa., for service.

The two men, John W. Wright and Ernest H. Martin, will be taken before Commissioner Hayes on Wednesday next. They are now in jail in default of $2000 bail each. Postmaster Ewing of Sharon also was summoned to appear as a witness.

Takes Poison and Repents

Boston, April 30.—James O. Bugbee, a professional nurse, took poison with suicidal intent, then repented his act and telephoned for an ambulance. When the ambulance arrived at his lodgings the erstwhile suicide was sitting on the front steps awaiting the vehicle. He will recover.

Meets Death In Shafting

Brockton, Mass., April 30.—Albert J. Erickson, 28, was instantly killed in the basement of the George Keith shoe factory. His clothing caught in one of the rapidly revolving shafts and his neck was broken.

Prosperity Is Increasing

Washington, April 30.—An increasing wave of prosperity is sweeping over the United States, according to that usually accurate barometer of prosperous conditions—the gross postal receipts.

SCOUT CRUISER SALEM'S DISABILITY

Buckets of her Turbine Found To be Badly Battered

The cause of the lack of speed of the scout cruiser Salem was revealed when the starboard turbine was opened at the Fore River yards.

Removing of the casing showed the first row of buckets of the fifth row to have been battered down and entirely closed to the passage of steam.

The turbines consist of twenty-four circular rows of buckets. These are arranged in groups for each stage of the expansion of steam which passes through the engine.

The wear on the first row of buckets of the fifth stage was apparently caused either by some piece of metal projecting from a steam nozzle on the forward side of the row of blades which banged against the revolving blades; or, perhaps, by a loose piece of metal, such as a nut, which was rolled around in the space between the buckets and the nozzle. In the course of the next two days the rotor will be lifted clear and the lower part will be examined. This may show the exact cause, which cannot be determined by merely inspecting the upper part of the engine now exposed to view. The damaged row of blading had been closed to the passage of steam until the edge of each blade was hammered to the top of the blade next to it. The battered surface is marked by hundreds of minute dents like tiny hammer marks. The result of this closing of the row of buckets was that steam passing through had to squeeze its way, making two right-angled turns around the first row, and it is considered not a little remarkable that the engine lost only fifteen rotations a minute.

An added injury to this turbine appears to be the result of the motor behind adjusted too far aft within the casing. The result of this misadjustment was that the revolving blades rubbed against stationary buckets when they ought to have swung clear. The base and binding shrouds of buckets have been worn down nearly an eighth of an inch by this improper friction. The buckets and blading show no signs of erosion by steam and it is apparent that the metal used is equal to the demands upon it. While it is not known whether there is similar trouble with the port turbine, the casing will be removed and the machine examined. In the starboard turbine all the buckets and blading will have to be renewed. This work will require two weeks .

—Orders were issued April 24th releasing from federal quarantine all cattle, sheep, swine, etc., as the foot and mouth disease has been entirely eradicated throughout the country.

—There is no well-populated country in the world which has so many well-wooded towns as Holland. Most of our streets and canal banks have avenues of trees. These abundant growths in thickly populated cities are highly useful and hygienic as well as ornamental. The great European capitals should follow this example. —The Hague Handelsblad.

—The world has a right to look to the United States for leadership in the movement for universal peace. This nation ,secure against foreign aggression, happily exempt from Old World jealousies, free from entangling alliances and from a desire either to rob or embarrass other peoples, could perform a notable service by taking a definite stand against a further continuance of the barbarities of war.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FIRST WITNESS FOR DEFENSE

Aged Father of Captain Hains Goes on Witness Stand

A SEVERE STRAIN UPON HIM

Says His Son Had Tendency to General Excitability During His Earlier Years—Years of Unbroken Happiness With Wife Until Annis Appeared Upon Scene—Alienist to Rescue When Testimony Was Blocked

Flushing, N. Y., April 30.—An affecting scene occurred at the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., when General Hains, retired, the aged father of the defendant and first witness for the defense, related, with suppressed emotion, the chief incidents in his son's life from byohood to the time when, driven frantic by his wife's alleged infidelity, he shot down the man whom, the defense contended, was the cause of it.

GENERAL PETER C. HAINS.

Beginning with the boy's excessive nervousness, tendency to nightmares and general excitability during his earlier years, the general traced his career through the campaigns of the Spanish-American war, when he fought under his father in Porto Rico and was "always in the way on the firing line."

In 1900, while detailed at Boston, the captain wooed and married Claudia Libby, the general said, and spent years in unbroken happiness with his wife until they came to New York in 1906 and met William E. Annis.

The harrowing scenes which ensued at the family conference held after the captain's return from eight months of service in the Philippines were depicted by the general in a trembling voice.

The old soldier but once lost his military bearing. When the strain was most severe and he seeemed likely to break down, he squared his shoulders and went on.

Things looked doubtful for the defense earlier in the day, when the testimony of General Hains was temporarily blocked by a ruling by Judge Garretson that the general could not testify as to irrational conduct by the captain until it had been shown that insanity existed at the time of the homicide.

Dr. L. S. Hanson, an expert on mental and nervous diseases, was rushed to the stand and testified that as a result of mental tests made upon the captain shortly after the shooting he believed that he was insane for an indefinite period before he killed Annis. This opened the way again for General Hains' testimony.

Thornton Hains, the brother, who was tried and acquitted of complicity in the same shooting, appeared in court during the afternoon, but left almost immediately upon being told that he would be sent for when wanted.

Several alienists who will testify for the defense were in court.

District Attorney DeWitt cross-examined Hains. The witness said that his son had to pass a physical and mental examination when he entered the United States naval academy at 17 years of age. He passed all the examinations after completing the course at the academy, the witness said, but was not admitted to the navy because his eyesight was defective.

Golf By Lantern Light

Atlantic City, N. J., April 30.—Playing golf by the light of lanterns in weather which strongly suggested mid-winter was the unusual scene at the close of the first day's play in the annual spring tournament here. Just 130 men started, but it was so cold and windy that play was interminably slow.

Prefers Prison to Bench

Paris, April 30.—A royalist student named Hubert was condemned to one year's imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100 for disorderly conduct. When judgment was pronounced Hubert cried at the judge: "Thank you; I prefer my place to yours."

Perhaps Murdered by Robbers

Rockford, Ills., April 30.—Mrs. Margaret Grippen, 65 years old, was found murdered at her home in Winnebago. Robbery is believed to have been the motive. Mrs. Grippen was a cousin of General Lew Wallace.

QUIET PREVAILS IN ASIA MINOR

Reassuring News From Women Missionaries In Hadjin

STOOD SIEGE FOR MANY DAYS

Arrival of Troops Saves Refugees From Swords of Moslems—New Governor-General of Adana Ordered to Take Energetic Measures to Restore Order and Relieve Sufferers—Quiet Is Now Said to Prevail

Constantinople, April 30.—A welcome message was received from the town of Hadjin, in the province of Adana, where five American women missionaries have been alone with thousands of refugees who sought safety there from bands of savage Moslems seeking to put them to the sword.

Hadjin has stood a siege for the past eight days, and the missionaries have been sending out frantic appeals for help. A message reached here from Miss Lambert, the daughter of Bishop Lambert, timed 10:22 a.m., Thursday, which said:

"With the arrival of the troops, the disorders in and about the city have ceased and we are all safe and well."

The Turkish cabinet has taken up the consideration of the situation in Adana and the neighboring districts. The new governor-general, Mustafa Zihni, is due to arrive at the town of Adana today. He has been instructed to take the most energetic measures to re-establish order and to relieve the sufferers.

Adil Bey, permanent under-secretary of state in the ministry of the interior, says that the government will make a searching investigation into the cause of the disorders and punish the instigators.

Reports received at the ministry of the interior indicate that quiet now prevails everywhere. Asked particularly about Hadjin, Adil Bey said that as orders had been issued for troops to proceed wherever needed, he assumed that a force was already on its way from Mersinato to Hadjin, or had arrived there. This was prior to the receipt of Miss Lambert's message.

The secretary said further that the government recognized the necessity of providing food, medicines and shelter for the sufferers, and had taken steps to provide these and to inaugurate other measures of relief. In reply as to what connection existed between the masacres and the political events in Constantinople Adil Bey replied that that, too, was being investigated.

Thousands Are Starving

Beirut, April 30.—The telegraph lines are interrupted, and little news was received here from the districts where the terrible disorders have prevailed for the past two weeks.

Although an enormous number of refugees have reached Latakia, the governor, who has been getting troops together, claims that he is perfectly able to protect the city. This is doubtful, particularly if the British warships there should be withdrawn.

Refugees are flocking to all the cities and it is imperative that they receive aid, for thousands are starving.

MARCHING ON TO TABRIZ

Russian Vanguard Overcomes Opposition of Shah's Followers

St. Petersburg, April 30.—The Russian column now on its way to the relief of Tabriz has passed Daradiz defile, where it was held back for a time by small bands of the shah's followers, and is rapidly pushing towards the beleagured city. The main body is some distance back of the vanguard.

Although the futility of opposing the advance has been strongly impressed upon the shah he apparently has failed to instruct the provincial authorities as to their attitude towards the expedition, and it may be that the Russian troops will have to resort to energetic measures.

THREE THOUSAND IDLE

Strike of Canadian Miners Results In Shortage of Coal

Winnipeg, Man., April 30.—The coal strike situation in western Canada is growing more serious. The only districts where coal is being mined is at Fernie and Michel, controlled by the Great Northern railway.

Three thousand miners are now idle. Many towns are suffering from coal shortage. Not in ten years have there been so many idle trainmen.

Carpenters Demand Higher Pay

Haverhill, Mass., April 30.—A general strike of the union carpenters in this city will go into effect tomorrow unless the contractors and builders agree to the union demand of an increase in pay from 37½ cents an hour to 41½ cents an hour.

Freight Train Burned

Elmira, N. Y., April 30.—A freight train was wrecked at Chemung. One of the cars derailed was filled with oil and the wreckage took fire. Car wheels and the iron work of the fourteen cars were reduced to molten metal.

You pay only the regular price, $1, for a large size bottle of Kickapoo Sagwa, the finest medicine for stomach and liver troubles and for rheumatism and other diseases of the kidneys.

Cut this advertisement out and bring it with you to our representative at Murphy's Drug Store, and upon the purchase of one dollar bottle of Sagwa, you will be presented with the five regular 25c packages of the above five medicines. This offer cannot be taken advantage of more than once by the same person. Do not wait or you may be too late. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company, Clintonville, Conn.

Why RALSTON SHOES fit the feet

Ask any man who has ever worn a pair of RALSTONS what he thinks of them. He will tell you they're the most comfortable shoes he has ever worn. Try on a pair yourself and you'll say the same.

The secret of the exceptional fitting qualities of RALSTON SHOES lies in the fact that they're made over foot-moulded lasts — exact replicas of human feet, following the graceful foot curves on top and sides and moulded on the bottom in conformity with the mounds and depressions of the natural foot. RALSTON SHOES—for this reason—need no "breaking in."

We shall be pleased to show you how perfectly we can fit your feet.

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 95 March 22, 1909.

ORDERED:

That the ordinance establishing fire districts and regulating the construction and inspection of buildings be amended as follows:—

Strike out the second paragraph of Section 5.

Strike out the first paragraph of Section 7 and insert in place thereof the following:—

Section 7. Every person intending to erect any building or to raise, move or make any additions or alterations in any building or its foundation, already erected or hereafter to be built within the limits of the City of Quincy, except necessary repairs not affecting the foundations, external partition walls or party walls, chimneys or stairways, before proceeding to make or erect the same or to lay the foundations thereof, shall file an application for a permit with the Inspector of Buildings on forms furnished by him giving a description of the building or additions, alterations or repairs, number on and name of the street, or if unnumbered the precise location of said property, and the name of owner or owners thereof, and shall submit plans of said work or buildings for examination and approval.

Add the following section to be numbered Section 12:—

Whenever piles are required to be driven for a foundation they shall be of suitable stock driven to a firm and solid bearing, and the tops shall be cut off on a level to insure constant immersion, there shall be not less than two rows under all external and party walls and they shall be spaced not over three feet on centres in the direction of the length of the wall.

All piles shall be capped with granite block levellers not less than sixteen inches thick, each stone to have a firm bearing on at least two piles in each row or concrete not less than two feet in thickness. Any wooden building erected on soft and marshy ground for use as workshop or other like purposes or as a temporary structure may, with the aproval of the Inspector of Buildings be constructed on mud sills, concrete or piles.

Add the following paragraph to Section 10:—

No opening shall be made in any wall separating a store, either from a habitation or stairway leading to a habitation.

Add the following paragraph to Section 17:—

All roofs hereafter to be constructed or renewed within the limits of District No. 1 shall be covered with slate or other incombustible material; also all gutters within the said district hereafter constructed shall be of metal or covered with metal.

Add the following words to paragraph 2 of Section 18:—

In no case shall a chimney be built more than 4 inches out of plumb, unless the same is attached to a brick wall, the outside of all chimneys to be plastered from the first floor to the roof boards.

Add the following paragraph to Section 18:—

The builder in charge of construction or the owner of the premises shall give notice to the Inspector of Buildings whenever any parts are ready for inspection. If those parts are to be covered in the further construction of the building, the Inspector shall respond promptly and in no case shall he delay more than twenty-four hours after such notice has been received.

Strike out paragraph 2 of Section 25 and insert in place thereof the following:—

2. All wooden partitions about the stairway shall be filled in between the studding and floor joist with brick and the spaces between stringers or carriages of all wooden staircases, unless said stringers or carriages are left exposed, shall be closed at intervals not exceeding three feet by a fire stop of two inch stock.

In Section 26 add the following word after the word "buildings" in the first line:— "in districts No. 1 and No. 2" so that said section shall read:—

Foundations of wooden buildings in districts No. 1 and No. 2 shall rest upon solid ground or suitably driven piles and shall be built 3 feet below frost.

Also add the following paragraph to Section 26:—

In District No. 3 wooden structures for dwellings, manufacturing or business purposes, not exceeding two stories in height, may be built on stone or brick foundation or on suitably driven piles as aforesaid in Section 2, of the ordinance or on piers or posts each set on a hard bottom but to a depth of not less then four feet below the surface of the ground. Said piers, posts and piles to be spaced not more than eight feet on centers or said structures may be built on mud sills resting on cross pieces of plank three inches or more in thickness not less than four feet long and ten inches wide placed at intervals of not more than three feet on centers.

Section 31. All wooden buildings and their projections having a floor area of or more than 300 square feet, or over one story in height, used as dwellings, stores, stables or for manufacturing purposes, shall have sills not less than 6 x 6 inches or 4 x 8 inches and if over one story and a half high, girts and posts not less than 4 x 6 inches and if three stories high posts 4 x 8 inches shall be used, posts, girts and sills mortised and tenoned and pinned together, and wherever ledges are used in dwelling there shall be fire stops cut in tight of the same size as wall studs.

All buildings of over three stories in height or where the third floor in two story buildings is used for dwelling or tenement purposes, shall have a staircase from street level to top floor with a scuttle to roof for at least every three families occupying the building, or front and rear staircases not opening into the same corridor but connecting with all floors, or shall be provided with suitable fire escapes connecting each floor. The Inspector may require that proper fire stops shall be provided in floors, walls and partitions of such buildings and make such further requirements as may be necessary or proper to prevent the spread of fire therein or its communication from any steam boiler or shop or heating apparatus.

Add the following paragraph to Section 36:—

Every building shall have, in reference to its height, condition, construction, surroundings, character of occupation and number of occupants, sufficient means of egress in case of fire, and such means of egress shall be satisfactory to the Inspector of Buildings.

Add the following paragraph to Section 37:—

All roofs of buildings abutting on any street or sidewalk shall be so guarded as to prevent snow, ice or water from falling on said street or sidewalk.

In all buildings hereafter built or remodelled within the limits of the City of Quincy, all water-closet compartments must have a window opening upon the street or yard or upon a court or vent shaft.

Ordinanee No. 20 is hereby repealed. Passed to be ordained April 5, 1909

PRISONER WAS "COACHED"

Opinion of Government Attorney Who is Prosecuting Jordan

Cambridge, Mass., April 30.—District Attorney Higgins, in open court yesterday, branded the defense of Chester S. Jordan, accused of murdering his wife, as a frame-up. Higgins accused the New York lawyer hired by the Livermores of having for six weeks past prepared Jordan for the part in the line of defense.

Dr. McDonald, who opened the murder trial in the morning, was permitted, notwithstanding objections, to repeat his Wednesday story. After he finished he was submitted to a three-hour cross-examination. He was on the witness stand all day long.

The district attorney secured an admission from him that it was remarkable that if Jordan was a victim of "epileptic insanity," as contended by his counsel, he had not had a seizure since being incarcerated in the East Cambridge jail.

PEACE IN THE COAL FIELDS

It Is Assured by Signing of a Three-Year Agreement

Philadelphia, April 30.—Peace between the mine workers and operators in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania is assured for another three years. The agreement continuing in force until March 31, 1912, the awards of the anthracite coal commission was signed here by a committee of seven on behalf of the mine owners and a similar committee representing the workers.

Except for five added stipulations suggested by the miners, the agreement is identical with the one signed in New York three years ago. The mine workers' union is not officially recognized. The conference was a harmonious affair and ended with "everybody happy," as one of the committeemen expressed it.

Fresh Revolution In Venezuela Predicted by Castro

Paris, April 30.—Cipriano Castro, the deposed president of Venezuela, who arrived here recently from the West Indies, is rapidly recovering his health. He predicts a revolution in Venezuela within six months, but he declares that he has no intention of profiting thereby.

Castro probably will leave France for Spain in a fortnight, as soon as his wife arrives from the West Indies, and there is reason to believe that he intends to make his way to Colombia.

WEATHER OUT OF JOINT

Storm Plays Funny Pranks In Many Parts of Country

Washington, April 30.—The country at large was treated to as complete an assortment of weather yesterday as could be asked for. Snow, thunder showers, tornadoes, sleet storms and fair weather prevailed in various sections of the country.

The storm centre was at St. Louis during the greater part of the day, making little eastern progress. It played funny pranks, dealing out a snow storm here and a thunder shower there. Very nearly all of the cities in the northern half of the country had rain or snow, Providence, Albany, Hartford, Worcester and Block Island getting snow last night, while New York, Scranton, Buffalo and Cleveland got thunder and lightning.

CLOSE TO A LYNCHING

Greek Admits Having Criminally Assaulted a Young Girl

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 30.—George Atochansion, a Greek brickyard employe on strike at Duchess Junction, narrowly escaped being lynched by a mob after he had criminally assaulted Sadie Matta, 13 years old.

The child was attacked by the Greek as she was walking on the railroad track to her home. A woman heard the child's cries and she notified some men nearby. Atochansion was captured and narrowly escaped being hanged to a tree. He was finally brought to the county jail in this city. He admits the crime.

Real Daughter of Revolution

Quincy, Mass., April 30.—Mrs. Emily P. Collins, a Daughter of the Revolution, an army nurse during the Civil war and one of the original woman's suffrage champions of the country, died at her home here, aged 94 years. She was born in Bristol, N. Y., the daughter of James Harmley, who served with General George Washington.

Two Years' Repairs Completed

Boston, April 30.—Equipped with a new armament and thoroughly overhauled, the armored cruiser New York will re-enter active service on May 15 at the Charlestown navy yard, where she has been undergoing repairs for the past two years.

Boston Priest Honored

Rome, April 30.—At the consistory Thursday the pope announced the appointment of Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, vicar general of the archdiocese of Boston, as titular bishop of Myrina and auxiliary bishop of Boston.

BRIEFS

Miss Augusta Lahman is teaching in a primary school at South Hanover.

The date of the Japanese Fete has been changed from May 5th to May 6th.

William Moffat of Atlantic has returned from a successful business trip, lasting four months, through all of the western states.

The winners of the monthly prizes at the Granite City club whist tournament for April were Mark L. Read, Jr., John H. Johnson and Frank W. White.

If the last Friday in the month is a sample of what may be expected the following month, it looks as though May would be cold and stormy for the most part.

There was a large attendance at the auction sale of the granite plant of the J. J. Craig Co., Thursday. After some bidding C. H. Johnson the auctioneer announced the plant sold to F. T. Collins of Brookline for $3,900.

City Hall will doubtless be alive with expressmen Saturday morning looking for permits to transport liquor. Under the law the Mayor can not sign any of them until after midnight tonight.

The Neighborly Whist club met Thursday evening at the home of Miss S. A. Malone on South street. The scores were high and close, Miss Julia Duffy and John F. Donovan capturing the first prizes . Mrs. John F. Bruton and Russell Sullivan got the consolation prizes. After the whist refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed .

The rehearsals for "The Mikado," the opera to be presented by the local Knights of Columbus, give evidence that a treat is in store for the music lovers of Quincy. Daniel E. Bowen of the Boston Dramatic society, who is the director, has the chorus and characters drilled like professionals and the play should make a big hit. It will be presented two nights in the second week of May.

The finding of a manx cat in the rear of Harry Read's residence in Atlantic on Thursday morning caused quite a good deal of excitement. The animal was dead and it is believed now that it either jumped or fell from some passing steamer on its way from South America. Whether the fur is of any value or not it is not known, however the animal was taken to Squantum and taken care of.

Members of the Billiken club had a delightful night on Tuesday for their long looked for straw ride. Miss May Buckley furnished a large hay wagon filled with hay and straw and the girls with their horns and cow bells nestled in to keep warm. They went through the best Blue Hill reservation section, Milton and Mattapan and kept neighborhoods well stirred up until after eleven, when they returned to Miss Buckley's. A supper was served at a late hour and a very merry party broke up about midnight. The next meeting will be held at Miss Georgianna Priests.

A REAL DAUGHTER OF THE REVOLUTION

Mrs. Emily Peltier Collins Passes Away at Atlantic.

Mrs. Emily P. Collins the oldest person in Quincy passed away early Thursday evening at the home of her grand daughter Mrs. Florence Peltier Pope on Newbury avenue, Atlantic.

Mrs. Collins was born Aug. 11, 1814 and had she lived until next August would have been 95 years of age. Her death was due to infirmaties incident to old age.

Although she had reached an age attained by but few Mrs. Collins was keen of wit and could recite poems and essays quite as glibly as when she was younger. She retained her faculties almost to the last.

Aside from her splendid attainments, Mrs. Collins was a remarkable woman. She was a real Daughter of the Revolution, as her father enlisted from Connecticut as a drummer boy in Capt. Mill's company, of Col. Webb's regiment. His service during these years is given in his pension papers. James Parnley was fifty-seven years old when Mrs. Collins was born, and being the youngest of six children was, of course, the pet. She grew up in the midst of books and histories and from early childhood was a lover of vital things.

In 1835, she married Charles Peltier, a merchant and they made their home in Detroit. On July 4, 1841, left a widow by Mr. Peltier, she was married to Simri Collins.

During the Civil war Mrs. Collins was a nurse in Virginia, her two sons, one a surgeon and the other a lawyer, accompanying her. She served as a volunteer nurse through the campaign of 1864 at the front in the Shenandoah Valley.

Mrs. Collins, after the death of her second husband, devoted her time to great movements for better things. She was the first woman in the world to start the woman's suffrage question and the first woman to ask any body of men for the privilege of voting. It was through her aid that seats were put in large stores for the salesgirls. For many years, even before the general anti-slavery agitation, she was an ardent abolitionist she was familiar with political questions throughout her whole life.

She was a member of the Massachusetts Referendum League and of the Woman's Relief Corps. Her writings for the press, under the pen-name of "Justitia," were always in support of human rights.

At the age of 80, while visiting in Hartford one season she became temporary editor of one of the local papers owing to the illness of the present editor, and carried on her paper for several months, making it bright and clever as was everything that came from her pen. As a speaker she ranked among the most brilliant.

For many years Mrs. Collins was an honorary guest at the birthday observances of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, and among her friends were Elizabeth Stanton and Susan B. Anthony.

FIFTH ANNUAL.

Atlantic Baseball Club Entertains at Music Hall.

The fifth annual dance of the Atlantic baseball club was held Thursday evening in Atlantic Music hall and was largely attended, about 150 couples being present. Wilson's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing which lasted from 8 to 2, with the exception of a short intermission at 12.

The floor was in charge of William J. Barry, who was assisted by James Fay and Patrick J. Duggan. The following acted as aids: John Dolan, Henry Granahan, James Brennan, Stuart Armstrong, Timothy Keohane, Thomas Colligan, Daniel Fitzgerald, William Granahan, Orin F. Leach and Patrick A. Stanton.

The Ames Hardware Co. placed a large order early in the season for galvanized poultry netting, etc., and it came to Quincy direct from the factory. Note his prices in another column.

RAN DOWN A BOY

Reckless Chauffeur Charged With Murder In First Degree

New York, April 30.—William Darragh, the chauffeur who ran down and killed Ingvaard Trimble, aged 13, son of a prominent attorney of Covington, Ky., was indicted by the grand jury for murder in the first degree. Darragh speeded away after running young Trimble down and fled to Texas, where, after several weeks, he was arrested by detectives sent from New York and brought back to face trial.

The indictment is believed to be the first of its kind ever handed down by the grand jury of New York county for alleged reckless automobile driving. It was urged, among other things, that had Darragh stopped after running down the boy, and rushed him to some hospital in his car, death might not have resulted.

FOR FRAUDULENT WEIGHING OF SUGAR

Over $2,134,000 Paid Into the United States Treasury

New York, April 30.—The American Sugar Refining company of New Jersey and the New York corporation of the same name paid into the treasury of the United States $896,000 Thursday, completing a payment aggregating over $2,134,000 in settlement of all civil claims arising out of the fraudulent weighing of sugar on the docks of refineries in Brooklyn and Jersey City.

According to the terms of the settlement, the companies pay in full the judgment of $134,000 awarded the government in the case tried in March and pay also the sum of $2,000,000 more, representing duties which have been unpaid during the past twelve years as a result of the fraudulent weighing. The companies further agree to give up their rights of appeal.

The settlement was made upon the advice of the companies' lawyers, who say that the settlement seemed wise because the government threatened otherwise to bring further suits for amounts reaching nearly $9,000,000.

HEADQUARTERS IN BOSTON

Building to Be Erected by World's Christian Endeavor Union

Boston, April 30.—Officers of the World's Christian Endeavor Union late Thursday completed the purchase of a plot of land at the corner of Huntington and Longwood avenues for the site and erection of an international headquarters building.

The Union, which is a religious organization of over 4,000,000 people, has its headquarters in Boston, one of its leading members being Rev. Francis E. Clark, founder and head of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

It is hoped to begin work on the foundations of the new building early in the fall.

SHOT IN CARD GAME

Boston Man's Alleged Assailant Must Answer Murder Charge

Boston, April 30.—Lorenzo Aronica, 42 years old, who was shot during a quarrel that followed a card game at 20 Charter street, Wednesday night, died last evening.

His alleged assailant, Severino Di Rella, 36 years old, was held in the sum of $10,000 until May 5.

The charge against Di Rella will be changed to murder.

"Heroines" Get Badges

London, April 30.—The woman suffragists last night were the guests of the English suffragettes at a grand rally. The feature of this gathering was the presentation of special badges to each of the 150 women sitting on the platform who suffered imprisonment "for cause."

A Barbarian.

D. D. Mann, the Canadian railroad builder, had a sensational career, beginning as an axman in the Canadian lumber woods.

Early in life Mann visited Europe on a business mission and at a dinner one night became involved in a quarrel with a Russian nobleman. Next day he received a call from one of the nobleman's friends, bearing an invitation to a duel. "If he doesn't like what I said to him, let him come up and tell me so," said Mann. "He can come a-running, too, and carry any size gun he likes."

The friend explained that would never do. Nothing but the regular thing on the field of honor would do.

"Oh, all right!" said Mann. "I've been fighting duels all my life. But I'll have to insist on using my national weapon—a sixteen pound double bitted ax."

The friend went away holding up his hands at the barbarian. That night the nobleman met Mann. He was about the size of a grasshopper. Mann is something over six feet high and four wide, with no fat. "I fight you, m'soo," said the nobleman, "with the weapon of any civilize nation, but I be hanged if I commit suicide."

A Curious Ear.

The catfish uses his lungs as an organ of hearing. The needless lung becomes a closed sac filled with air and commonly known as the swim bladder. In the catfish, as in the suckers, chubs and most brook fish, the air bladder is large and is connected by a slender tube, the remains of the trachea, to the esophagus. At its front it fits closely to the vertebral column. The anterior vertebrae are much enlarged, twisted together, and through them passes a chain of bones, which connects with the hidden cavity of the air. The bladder therefore assists the ear of the catfish as the tympanum, and its bones assist the ear of the higher animals. An ear of this sort can carry little range of variety in sound. It probably gives only the impression of jars or disturbances in the water.

Not Acting.

Actor—All the newspapers say my impersonation of Caesar last night was absolutely real. Rival—Perhaps that's so. Everybody I've met says it certainly wasn't acting.

PROMINENT GUESTS IN ATTENDANCE

Annual Ball Quincy Foresters Great Success

Quincy Court, No. 76, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters held its annual concert and ball Thursday evening in Music hall and it proved to be a grand success socially and financially. Among the invited guests were Rev. John J. Coan of St. John's church, Mayor William T. Shea and John H. Murphy, chief ranger of Neponset court No. 180.

74th Reg. Band March — F. H. Losey
Overture—American Fantasia — Theo. M. Tobani
Concert Waltz—Sweet Smiles — E. Waldtenfel
Misere from Il Trovatore
Duet for Cornet and Trombone
Messrs. Crowley and Howard — Verdi
Finale—Among Friends — J. Strauss

During the concert the guests were arriving steadily and were looked after by the following reception committee: John Heffernan, Hugh P. Tracy, John W. McAnarney, Michael Burns, C. J. Lynch, M. D., John H. Dinegan, John A. Avery, John A. McDonnell, Joseph A. Dasha, Conrad Mischler, Edward J. Parker, Patrick K. Ward.

The grand march was formed shortly after 9 o'clock and was led by Chief Ranger David R. Frazier and his daughter Eva. Immediately following were Mayor William T. Shea and Miss Margaret E. O'Hara, Vice Chief Ranger Michael Dorley and Mrs. Dorley and about 60 couples. The march was under the direction of Leo J. McMaster and was skilfully executed. At the conclusion of the march the participants formed for the circle and then the dancing continued until 2 o'clock.

David R. Frazier, chief ranger was floor marshall, while the floor director was Michael Dorley, vice chief ranger assisted by Mary E. Thompson and William Taylor. Alside Carron was chief of the following corps of aids: John H. Dorley, John J. Avery, Mrs L. G. Howard, Margaret E. O'Hara, Mary A. Sullivan, John S. Pitts, Katherine T. Donovan, Andrew Mischler, Thomas DeCoste, David R. DeCoste, R. E. Foy, Annie J. Igo, John J. Feeley, Mrs. Brogan, Elizabeth Flynn.

Gordon G. Trowbridge was arraigned for assault at Weymouth. Case continued until Saturday.

Edward T. Burns was fined $50 for seining smelts at Weymouth.

Patrick Murphy was arraigned for neglect of family at Quincy. He was directed to pay $6 per week for the support of his minor children.

Mary Conroy was fined $20 for being idle and disorderly at Quincy.

Poor Richard's Almanac.

Dr. Franklin himself in one of the last numbers of the almanac gathered together all the best sayings of Poor Richard, which for twenty-five years had amused and edified the country. These sayings are in constant use at this day. For example, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise;" "Drive thy business—let it not drive thee;" "Help hands, for I have no lands;" "No gains without pains;" "Constant dropping wears away stones;" "Three removes are as bad as a fire;" "He that by the plow would thrive must himself either hold or drive;" "A fat kitchen makes a lean will;" "Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other." It was such homely maxims as these inserted in all the little gaps of the almanac that made it so popular. Franklin said he sometimes sold 10,000 copies in a year, a wonderful sale for that day. The first number of Poor Richard's Almanac appeared in 1732.

Norfolk SS. Superior Court.

Helmi Hendell, Libellant vs. Alfred Hendell, Libellee. Libel for Divorce.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court next to be held at Dedham within and for the County of Norfolk;

Respectfully libels and represents your libellant Helmi Hendell of Quincy in our County of Norfolk that she was lawfully married to Alfred Hendell of said Quincy but now commorant of the city and state of New York at said Quincy on the fourth day of March 1906, and thereafterwards your libellant and said Alfred Hendell have lived together as husband and wife in said Quincy until on or about the first day of January A. D., 1909; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations but the said Alfred Hendell being wholly regardless of the same, and being of sufficient ability did grossly, wantonly and cruelly refuse and neglect to provide suitable maintenance for your libellant, and further that on or about the first day of January 1909, and at sundry other times prior thereto he did cruelly and abusively treat your libellant.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Alfred Hendell and that she may be allowed to resume her maiden name of Helmi Flinkman.

Dated this twelfth day of April A. D. 1909.
